From a New Lork Paper BALLAD,

Oh! lady muy these budding flowr's, Forel am sad, and wet, and weary, I gather'd them e'er break of day when all was lonely, sad and dreary; And long I've sought to sell them here To purchase clothes, and food, and dwelling, For valor's wretched orphan girl-Poor me, and my young sister Ellen.

Ali! those who tread life's thornless way, In fortune's golden sunshine basking, May deem my wants require no aid, Because my lips are mute, unasking: They have no heart for woes like mine, Each word, each look is cold-repelling, Yet once a crowd of flatt'rers fawn'd, And fortune smil'd on me and Elien!

Oh! buy my flow'rs they're fair and fresh Asining and morning's tears could keep them To-morrow's sun shall see them dead, And I shall scarcely live to weep them! Yet this sweet bud, if nurs'd with care, Soon into fullness would be swelling; And nurtur'd by some gen'rous hand So might my little sister Ellen.

She's sleeping in the hollow tree, Her only home—it's leaves her bedding; And I've no food to carry there To sooth the tears she will be shedding. Oh that those mourner's tears which fall, That bell which heavily is knelling; And that deep grave, were meant for me And my poor little sister Ellen

When we in silence are laid down, In:life's last fearless, blessed sleeping; No tears will fall upon our grave Save those of pitying heaven's own weeping Unknown we've liv'd, unknown must die, No tongue the mournful tale be telling, Of two young broken hearted girls—Poor Mary and her sister Ellen.

No one has bought of me to day, And night is now the town o'er shading.
And I like these poor drooping flow'r,s Unnoticed and unwept am fading; My soul is struglling to be free It loa hes its wretched earthly dwelling; My limbs refuse to bear their load Oh God! protect lone orphan Ellen.

QUANTUM EST QUOD DESIT. (Ovids Metam, Lib. ix. v. 554.) Twas a new feeling—something more Than we had dared to own before, Which then we hid not; We saw it in each others eye And wish'd in every broken sigh.

To speak—but did not.

She felt my lips impassion'd touch 'Twas the first time I dared so much And yet she chid not; But whisper'd o'er my burning brow "Oh! do you doubt I love you now!" Sweet soul-I did not.

Warmly I felt her bosom thrill, I prest it closer, closer still, Tho' gently bid not; "Fill Oh! the world hath seldom heard Of lovers who so nearly err'd,
And yet, who—did not.

A CURIOUS COURTSHIP.

A young Gentleman and Lady happening one Sunday to sit in the same pew.—During the verse of the sermon, the youth read something in the eyes of the fair, which made a much deep-er impression on his soul, than the pious lecture of the parson: as love is seldom at a loss for an expedient, he presented her with the following course in the second epistle of John: "And now I beseech thee, Lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another? After perusal she in answer, opened at the first chapter of Ruth, and 16th verse—" And Ruth said entreat me, not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee, for whither thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest; I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God." Thus was the treaty proposed, which in a little time was fully ratified by the parson.

One day, after addressing a number of natives on the banks of the Ganges, Mr. Thomas the first baptist minister, who ever preached in Ben gal, was accosted by a Branin as follows:
"Sahib don't you say that the Devil tempts me to sin'?"" Yes" answered Mr Thomas—"Then" said the Bramin" certainly it is the Devil who is in fault; the Devil therefore, not man, should suffer punishment." While the people discov ered by their looks, their approbation of this mode of reasoning, Mr. Thomas observed a boat with several men on board sailing on the river and with the facility of reply for which he was dintinguished, answered :—" Bramin do you see yonder boat?" "Yes? said he, " suppose" added Mr. Thomas, "I were to send some of my friends to destroy every person on board, and bring me all that is valuable in it; who ought to suffer the punishment, I for instructing them, or they for doing the wicked action?"-" Why" answered the Bramin with some emotion, " you ought to be to put death together." "Yes Bramin" said Mr. Thomas, " and if you and the Devil sin to gether, the Devil and you will be punished to gether."

THE BAY FOX.

Lady Morgan says "that the friends of the Old Regume in France accuse England of all their misfortunes; of originating the revolution sending the emigrants to be slaughtered at Qui beron, and of letting loose Bonaparte from Elba Even still they consider the Ex-Emperor, as a sort of Bay Pox, to be let loose whenever the English ministry may be inclined to show sport to Europe.

... ADDRESS

Of the Board of Managers of the United Foreign Missionary Society, to the three Denominations united in this Institu-

The period of harmony and evangelical exertions has at length arrived. It will give pleasure to the friends of Zion to hear, that the three great denominations in America who are allied to each other by the form of their ecclesiatical government, as well as by a common faith, have entered, unitedly and in earnest, on the business of foreign missions. The Presbyterians, the Reformed Dutch, and members of the Associate Reformed Church, with perfect harmony, and under the sanction of their highest judicatories, have formed an institution which they have denomin ated The United Foreign Missionary Society. This memorable event took place in the city of New-York on the 28th of July, 1817, a day second to none which this city has ever seen, except that which gave birth to the American Bible Society. The Constitution, which was formed by a joint committee of the three judicatories, and afterwards approved by the judicatories themselves, is as follows:

[Here follows the Constitution, List of Offi

ers, &c. which are omitted for want of room.] The Board of Managers, thus constituted, beg leave to call the attention of their brethen of the three denominations to the great object of their appointment. They extend their address no further because they are unwilling to thrust themselves into the field of another; but they are happy to state that the Society which they represent is open to individuals of all denominations who may choose to join them. To their own brethren they appeal with confidence, and congratulate them most sincerely that now at length a treasury is opened to receive the charities which they may design for the heathen and the destitute We have been too tardy in this matter. We have suffered other denominations to run before us in this work of the Lord. For more than twenty years Christians in Europe have been setting us a noble example. They have shed a light through Asia and Africa, and taught intutored lips to sing the songs of salvation in the islands of the Southern Ocean. Our brethren in New England have lately made an honourable beginning. They have done much to redeem the American charac ter, but their exertions could not supercede the necessity of ours. A small section, containing scarcely more than a fortieth part of the territory belonging to the United States, could not be expected, however populous and respectable to ma age the missionary concerns of the whole These three denominations, who hold so conspicuous a standing on all the ground south and west of that single section, could not answer it to God or their consciences should they relinquish this work to others, or leave it altogether undone. The Indian tribes lie within our own borders and are fairly cast upon our care. As soon as the southern forests yield to the hand of cultivation, our limits will extend to Mexico; and the whole region of death from the river Del Norte to Cape Horn, including more than one quarter of the circumference of the globe, will reach from our own door. Who on earth, rather than ourselves, are the people to pour the river of life through that desolate region. On what plea can we turn off this honourable toil upow others? Can we allege poverty? We own a large share of the property of the whole country, and are daily advancing in wealth with unparalleled rapidity A small part of what is rusting on our hands, would be sufficient to convey the Gospel to eve ry cottage and every aching heart in America.

Dear brethren, with no ordinary pleasure we acknowledge the zeal and liberality with which ou have lately come forward in support of B ble Societies. In this you have cone well, and some of you may be tempted think that you have done enough. But suffer us to say, that one thing more remains to be done to give efficacy to your benevolent exertions. The Bible will have little effect among rude nations without a living preacher. Your efforts thus far have supplied materials for a Missionary Society to employ; support Missionary Institutions or your labours will be half in vain. The American Bible Society will soon furnish editions of the Spanish and Portuguese Scriptures for Mexico and South America; in vain, unless you raise up missionaries to carry them forth, and to explain and inculcate their sacred contents. With what prodigious influence these institutions may aid the operations of each other! With both, the whole system is complete; with one alone, it is defective and will prove ineffectual. If you are the friends of the one, be the supporters of the other Brethren, have you considered the extent of the divine claims on your charity! Have you studied the laws given to the Hebrews on this subject? It has been affirmed that with the rates fixed in the statutes of that nation, and with the free-will offerings required, a generous and con-scientious Hebrew would not get through the year vithout giving away one half of his income. We shall not stop to settle proportions, but we are persuaded that the extent of God's demands not been sufficiently studied. The age is opening when this subject is to be better understood, and when Christians will look back to the contractedness of former years, as we do to the ignorance of the dark ages. Let those who wish to please God begin the examination at once, and anticipate the wisdom and holiness of their posterity.

Dear brethern, have you surveyed the greatness of the work which the providence of God has cast upon your hands? There are in the world, at the lowest calculation, 550 millions of Pagans and Mahometans, comprehending more than two thirds of the human family. Besides these, there are a hundred millionsiattached to the Church of Rome, and many millions more, belonging to other Christian communions, who are sunk in deplorable ignorance, their knowledge in many instances scarcely transcending that of the hea-then. The Protestant world, on which devolves the chief labour of enlightening 700 millions of benighted beings, is comparatively small. And when the calamitous state of many of the Protestant churches on the continent of Europe is considered, a very large part of that body in which dwells the spirit of efficient missions is really found in the United States. If the thirty millions on our own continent who are sunk in pagan or papal darkness, were a signed to our three denominations, it would not be one half, probably not one quarter, of what would fall to our lot in a fair division of the world among the sound and active parts of the Protestant Church

Brethren, we have slept too long over this immense interest. This mighty task laid upon us by the plan direction of heaven, and we just preparing to begin the work! By all our tears we cannot recall the years that are past; but if the love or fear of God be in our hearts, we must train every nerve to redeem the time that is lost. It is calculated that 20,000 of those who have come to years of discretion, die daily from the pagan and Mahometan world, besides the vast numbers which go from popish countries, and other benighted regions nominally Christian. It is not for us to limit the operations of the divine Spirit, and pronounce that none are saved without the Gospel, but from the concurrent voice of Revelation and modern travellers, we voice of Revelation and interest was of the are compelled to believe that the mass of the heathen live and die grossly wicked. Such a current discharging itself into the burning lake and one half of Christendom asleep! O that our heads were waters, and our eyes a fountain of tears! In the name of God, dear brethren; awake. By the blood and tears of Calvary by the sorrows. of a soul that has no God, we beseech you breth-

We entreat you also by the value of your own spiritual interest and that of your children. Of all the means of exalting and ennobling the hu-man character these benevolent exertion for the salvation of others are among the most effectual. Why should these three denominations, raised to heaven in other respects, lose so intestimable a means of advancing the holiness and happiness of themselves and their posterity?

Our long slumber over this infinite concern has too much resembled the sleep of death. Is it not high time for us all to awake together? Without this we must still resign the mass of the heathen to everlasting despair. What will avail the tears and struggles of a few! There is need of a general and simultaneous motion through all our churches. Has not that hour come? Will you not all arise up to the work as one man? Will you not without delay cast in your prayers; your counsels, and your contributions? Will not the societies formed among you to support for eign missions, become auxiliary to this? Will not your associations for the education of pagan children, remember the children on their own conti-nent and cast in their offerings here? Will not new institutions, expressly in aid of this, be rais-ed up in every tawn and village within our bounds? ed up in every town and village within our bounds! to call upon the governors of the neighborers and sisters come forward to a work so suited to their tenderness and benevolence, and so fitted to spread a new loveliness around the female character? Will not the generous emulations of Shall not our dear chilthe young be awakened? dren learn in this school the noblest of all lessons, to relieve the miserable and please their Saviour,-and acquire the richest legacy that we can leave them,—the habit of doing good! Shall not our whole population thus combine in one great and continued effort to give the gospel to a perishing world? By order of the Board, STEPHEN VAN RENSSELAER, Pres't. PHILIP MILLEDOLER, Cor. Sec'y. New-York, August 6, 1817.

* The ministers of the three denominations re respectfully requested to read the above Address from their pulpits, to introduce the subject into their sermous, and to take such measures to rouse and combine the people as their wisdom may suggest.

Extract of a letter to the editor of the Baltimore Patriot, dated Washington, Jan. 30.

" It is reported that advices have been received ed at the war department from Amelia Island that a Spanish fleet has left St. Augustine, with 2000 troops on board. Whether these troops are to be employed against the Americans at Ame lia, is yet to be ascertained, or whether the go vernment of the United States intends to hold that post longer than a Spanish force sufficient to hold it is sent to occupy it, is not known out f doors.

"General Jackson is taking efficient measures to chastise the hostile (Seminole) Indians. He has called for 1000 mounted volumeers from Tennessee, which, it is to be presumed, have been raised before this time, and are now on their march to fort Scott. There is such a "maic in a name," that it is presumable the campaign will soon come to a close.

The following intelligence was communicated to the keeper of the Steam Boat Hotel Reading Room Books, by a passenger in the currer Fly ing Fish-Just before the cutter left St. Thomas which was the 10th just a gentleman arrived there from the Maine, bringing accounts of a recent engagement between the Patriots and Roy. alists on the plains of Valencia, in which the former were totally defeated. Another battle was expected to be fought in a few days at Torredos, which it was supposed would decide the fate of that province.

[From the N. Y. Mercantile Advertiser, Feb. 3.] A letter, Oct. 22, from Coquinbo, Chili, men tions the capture of the Spanish ship Perla, from Cadiz, bound to Lima, by the Patriot government brig Aguila, on the 9th of that month, and being carried into Coquimbo, with a cargo worth $350,000. The British frigate Amphion, from Buenos Ayres, arrived Coquimbo 15th Oct. and was to proceed for Lima. The ship Packet, Hill, 105 days from Philadelphia arrived at Coquimbo

Several letters were received in town yester day from Buenos Ayres, brought up by the Viper arrived at Newport. They concur in stating that the market was very bad; munitions of war, were a complete drug. There were seven privateers fitting out of the port. A prize to the brigformerly the Regent of New-York, arrived on the 30th of November with 40,000 dollars in specie, and a cargo of copper involced at 200,000 dol-

INDIAN WAR.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Jan. 20.

Latest from the army. - By an intelligent gentleman, direct from the south, we learn that the detachment of militia under the command of Gen. Glascock, arrived at Camp Cumming, (five miles from the nearest settlement of Chehaws on the 11th inst. and it was thought would proceed immediately to a place opposite the first settles ment, there to await the orders of Gen. Gaines. An engineer had been dispatched to superintend the building of a fort, it was conjectured, at Blackshear's works, (five miles in the rear of Camp Cumining) or at the most eligible situation near there on the Flint river, to which place the army will be innuediately marched when erect ed. Gen. Gains was still at Hartford on Thursday last.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in the army to the editor, dated Camp Cumming, Jan. 14: " We arrived here after a fatiguing march of 12 days from Hartford, 10 of which it rained. The whole of our march has been through a poor, flat, pinewoods glades, where I have seen eight frequently to a wagun, which they moved with difficulty. This detachment has had constant, various, and almost insuringunfable disticulties to encounter. We have had many false alarms, but no fiting; nor need there be any apprehension of an attack. A hostile party, however, is scouting in the neighbourhood, consisting of about thirty men, and have rifled the house of a friendly Chechaw chief."-Reflector.

KNOXVILLE, Jan, 20.

On good authority we learn that Gen. Jackson has written to the governor, that "he had just received orders from the president of the United States, to repair to Fort Scott, Georgia, with instructions Shall not every individual who has a sonl to save and an account to render; feel that he has a part to act in this great concern? Will not our moth-with all the disposable regular troops of with all the disposable regular troops of the souther division against the Seminoles." That " he had immediately on the receipt of these orders, addressed circulars to several of those brave officers who served with him during the Creek campaign, under a hope that a timely address to the patriotism of our citizens would enable him to effect, by voluntary enlist ment, what would otherwise have to be done by draft." That "he had called for one thousand mounted men, and, should the appeal prove efficacions, he would embrace the earliest oppertunity of making a requisition on the governor for a similar number of drafted militia."

That the general will succeed in procuring the volunteers he wants we have not the smallest doubt—and with them. the regulars on the frontiers, and the militia of Georgia already on the march, hewill produce a speedy adjustment of our diffe. rences with the Seminoles.

The Arkansas delegation of Cherokee Indians, which has been here for some days past, has been clothed and eduipped under the superintendence of Governor McMinn, for a visit to Washington City for which place they left here on the 16th inst. The object of this delegation, we understand, is to have an interview with the president of the United States with a view to obtain his permission to establish a separate and distinct government for them? selves in the Arkansas country, and to dissolve all obligations which they have heretofore been under to the Cherokees who reside east of the Mississippi. This object, should it be effected, will the emigration of the Cherokees and hasten the extinguishment of their claim to the country in which they now reside. This event has long and anxiously been looked for, and cannot be less desirable to the citizens of Tennessee than to the officers of the General Government, whose promptitude and zeal in carrying the treaty into effect is highly characteristic of the rulers of a free people.

Gov. McMinn, who has been instructed. by the president of the United States to superintend the delivery of the property stipulated to be given to the Arkansas emigrants, will leave here, we understand, to-morrow for the Cherokee Agency.

On the 20th of last May, a detachment of Dutch European and Javanese troops, assisted by some European sailors, from the ships of the line Nassau and admiral Evers. (in all about 210 men) under command of Major Batjes, landed at Saporana, (Island of Java) to chastise the natives, but the latter fired on the party from behind the trees, so effectually, that they were compelled to retreat precipitately. Of the whole party sent to quell the insurrection, only two officers, a doctor, two midshipmen, and, 10 or 12 Europeans, get safe back to Amboyna, Of these killed, were maj. Patjes (of the engineers;), capt. Stalwan, of the infantry; heuts. Munter, Schuldras, and De Young, of the royal navy, and midshipmen Aneman and De Jend, of do. In the retreat to the beach, a party of the sailors, amounting to be tween 40 and 50, got into one of the boats, which Two Portuguese Indiamen, valued at 5 millions of dollars, had been brought in, but were given swamped, in consequence of being overladen up, and sailed with the Portuguese fleet for Rio and they all perished. BRIDGETON, FEBRUARY 9, 1818.

New Jersey Legislature.—The judiciary bill we understand has passed both branches of the legis ature. This bill provides for dividing the state into three judicial districts, and authorizes the appointment of three gentlemen to preside in the courts of Common Pleas. It is said this act also invests the county courts with jurisdiction in cases of Cortiorari,—This is an important act, and will doubtless give very general satisfaction The subject of the revision of the constitution which has under jone discussion in the house, it is not likely will be decided upon this session. The legislature will probably rise in the course

Legislature of Pennsylvania.—Two resolutions are now before the Legisature of Pennsylvania, the one, expressive of their disapprobation of a law on the part of Congress, making appropria-tions for Internal improvements, and requesting their Senators and Representatives to use their endeavours to effect an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the right:—the other in favor of an amendment, by which the privilege of establishing a National Seminary by Congress

CONGRESSIONAL

Extracts of letters to the Editor, dated Washington, Jan. 31st, 1818.

"THE bill concerning fugitives from justice, and slaves escaped from the service of their masand slaves escaped from the service of their masters, after the disposition of a great number of proffered amendments, most of which were rejected, and a protracted debate, was yesterday passed by the House of Representatives, 84 to 69.—From the ten slave holding states lying south of Penns Ivania, and east and south of the Ohio river, but two members, viz. Mr. Culbreth of Maryland, and Mr. Ball of Virginia, voted gainst the bill.—The principal object appears to be to give masters additional facilities in the recovery of their slaves, which, perhaps, ought not to be objected to, provided the law affording it does not endanger the personal liberty of freemen.—This is the danger apprehended, and the ground of objection entertained to the bill in question. In addition also, constitutional diffi ulties have been raised and urged with consi derable force, masmuch as services are required under heavey penalties, for the refusal of officers chosen by the state authorities, &c.

Your readers will recollect the awful calamity that visited the city of Richmond some years ago, in the conflagration of the theatre, on which event a great number of persons, some of them very respectable and valuable citizens of Virginia, were devoured in the flames.—Since then a Monumental Church has been erected on the spot Mr. D. Thompson reported on the petition of Doct Jabez Camfield, that by the act of March 1795 and Febuary 1797 the Treasurer is authors settle his claim and march 1896. where the theatre formerly stood; in the course referred to the committee of ways and means; who have reported against the prayer of the petitioners. Mr. Tyler who succeeds Mr. Clapton, deceased, in the representation of the district in which Richmond is situate, yeste day endeavour ed to obtain a reversal of the report. Mr. Tyler is a tall man, between 30 and 40 years of age, possessing respectable oratorial powers, but if I am not mistaken, of an indolent disposition. He was seconned in his efforts by Messrs. Hon kinson, Holmes of Massachusetts and Mercer: Me srs. Smith of Maryland, Poindexter and Lowndes, supported the report which was ultimately sanctioned by the house.

The bill providing for certain officers and soldiers of the revolutionary army has not yet been returned by the senate. I understood that it has been the subject of considerable discussion in that body, and that if it passes at all, it will probably be with several alterations

The following resolution has been submitted to the Senate by Mr. Wilson of N. J

Resolved, That the president of the United States be requested to cause to be laid before the senate, a statement of all the arms and accourte ments, which have been manufactured at the dif-ferent armories of the United States, with the cost of each stand, and the number delivered to each state, respectively, under the act for arm-ing the whole body of the militia.

It is contemplated, I learn, by the committee of commerce and manufactures, to report a bill for the imposition of twenty dollars a ton on inported iron.-The present duty is but nine dollars a ton or 45 cents per cwt; the effects are

$5,000 for the relief of Major General Arthur St. Clair.

Washington Feb. 4, 1818. GENERAL ST. CLAIR.

"Since my last, the bill for the relief of gen St. Clair, has been largely debated, the discus sion having occupied nearly the whole of the son having occupied hearly the whole of the two preceding days.—The bill as reported by Mr. Ogle, proposed to give him the round sum of $5,000; afterwards, on motion of gen. Harrison, an annual allowance of $1,000; of which half yearly $500 to be paid in advance was moved; which being negatived. Mr. Forsyth proposed to refer him to the Treasury Department, with directions that his claims should be settled. with directions that his claims should be settled according to the principles of equity and justice, the statute of limitation to the contrary not withstanding .- In the course of the consideration of the subject, it has been difficult for me to decide, whether the greater reliance has been placed on the justice, or charity of Congress, some of the speakers occupying the one, and some the other.

If the claim is recommended by sheer justice as Messis. Ogle, Johnson of Kentucky, and others insist, it must be considered matter of surprize, that it has not long since been settled.

If the object is to succeed on the scorce of liberality and compassion, and induce pity

"For the sorrows of a poor old man" his personal attendance, and appearance may be calculated to favor the application-Between the two inducements, some feeling the force of one, and perhaps all of the other, I think it probable that we will obtain something-The discussion was arrested last evening in consequence of the motion of Mr. Cobb, which was sanctioned to call on the Treasury Department, for all the informa-tion in their possession, in relation to his claim and will not be resumed I presume, until a report is received.

BREVET OFFICERS.

The bill which passed the House of Reprentatives, providing for the expenses of the army establishment for the current year, received sun-dry amendments in the Senate; the most important of which was the insertion of a clause appropriating 20,000 dollars for the pay of Brevet officers of the army, thus disagreeing with the House on that subject.

The amended bill from the Senate was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means of the House, who reported a disagreement to the Senates amendment, which was to day after ano ther long debate, agreed to by a large majority so that the House determine to adhere to their principle.

Albion K. Parris, a representative from Mas sachusetts, having been appointed District Judge for the District of Maine, has resigned his seatin the House of Representatives.

TO all my kind friends, in the country or town And to all in the world—for ten miles around, To every one of my very kind patrons, Gentlemen, ladies, belles, beaux or matrons, To each one who shall this advertisement meet Who these presents shall see, I most kindly would

Now know ye, that I, Thomas Woodruff, keep

At the place where I've kept it for three years or He thanks you, for all the past favours you've shown, Wh ch have ever been great he would thankfully

And if ever you pass under T. Woodruff's sign, He will take it quite kindly, if you will walk in, And if you dont purchase, he will not complain, But will thank you, whenever you call there again. The goods he's on hand, he will sell very low,

If your wish is to purchase, the best time—is now. That business be brisk, and trade turn in a trice, He will sell all his goods, at a fair city price, And tho he's not certain, he'll candidly guess, Some things, he will sell for a price rather less, Such as Superfine Cloths, of different shades, For grave aged persons, or genteel young blades! The handsomest hues, in which the city beaux dash.

And colours, for those who say fashion's-all

I have black, blue, and bronze, and some handsome dark green. And some beautiful colours exactly between

I've quite an assortment of cas'meres superfine, With some colours plain, and some that combine The best and the brightest of different hues, Which have been often purchas'd for gentlemen's

'Mong which are both brown, black, blue and blue mix'd,

And some that have colours exactly betwixt. I have many more goods, too tedious to mention, Which I really think to be well worth attention; If you've no objection, I'll now change my metre, Just saying I've got good salt, and salt-petre.

I've fancy goods, for such my trade is. To try my best to please the ladies; I have some handsome Cashmere shawls, Thimbles and scissors, cotton balls, I've habit cloths, and good Pelisse Made of wool from the finest fleece And girls you may depend upon it I've handsome ribbons for a bonnet, Of almost every width, and hue Plain, plaid, and strip'd, and handsome blue; And all so fine, so cheap and nice,
I know you'll say they're worth the price.
I've handsome stuff for fine cravats, Whisker-brushes, India hats, Stockings made of the wool of lambs, Bees-wax, tobacco pipes and hams.

Besides a number of miscellaneous articles, which I do not know very well how to jumble together, but I will mix up a few of them in this way.

I've Hinges, and Screws, with Men's Coarse Shoes, And Slippers, that 're made of Leather;

Remnants and Strips, some good Chair Whips, Come buy, you'll find them quite clever:

Wash-tubs, and Pails, with the best of Cutnails. And a quantity of good Firkin-butter;

Hard-soap and Rice, with the finest of Spice And Candles, I believe that wont splutter:

Pots, Pans and Dishes, to meet all your wishes, ith a good little Wheel for Spinning,
And Shovels and Tongs, and Forks with three Prongs

With these might be made—a beginning:

A variety of Mugs, and diff'rent sized Jugs, With the best of old Cogniac Brandy, Brushes for Scrubbers, and Shoemakers' Rub-I'm sure these things must be handy:

Rum, Gin and Wine, that 're tolerably fine. Some Mack'rel which I think are quite bonny, Some Mackret which I think at Some Coffee, Green-Tea, Young Hyson, Boliea, And some Spices from old Barcelona:

Some fine-glazed Powder, which I think will

Than any around you can hear, And diff 'rent sized Shots, to sell in small lots, Well suited for Birds, Duck or Deer.

I have Shovels and Spades, with some crooked Awl Blades, And some Pork, you will say is the dandy;

Some Wheat, and Rye Flour, neither musty, nor sour, Which will make your teeth go pretty handy

Pins, Needles and Tapes, with some fine color d

Crapes,
And a beautiful piece of Long Lawn;
Some Callicoes, Cambricks, and wide Apron-Checks, With some Dimities, white as a swan

I have Calicoes plain, and some fine printed Jean,

With fine Bombazetts, and good Bobbin; Some Copperas, Cloves, and Ladies' Kid Gloves, And Bells, Bitts and Bridles for Dobbin.

Some diff rent sized Hose, to fit small or big foes And to suit either June of December; And goods of each kind, to suit ev'ry mind, Which if told you would not remember.

Now if you would all, young and old, great and small, Call in, seea bargain and strike it; t Right gladly he then, would throwdown his pen,

And believe me he'd very well like it. But do not believe, that he means to deceive, But call in and see for yourself;
If you purchase what's nice, and pay down the

He gladly will pocket the pelf.
Thomas Woodruff.
