UTILITY OF SPARROWS.

Mr. Bradley, in his general treatise on flusbandry and Gardening, shows that a pair of sparrows, during the time they have their young to feed, destroy on an average, every week, 3360 caterpillars. This calculation he tounds upon actual observation. He discovered that the two parents carried, to the nest forty caterpillars in an hour. -He supposed the sparrows to enter the nest only during twelve hours each day, which would cause a consumption of 480 caterpillars. This sum gives $360 caterpillars extirpated weekly from a garden. But the utility of these birds is not limited to this circum-stance alone, for they likewise feed their young with butterflies and other winged insects, each of which, if not lestroyed in this manner, would be the parent of hundreds of caterpillars.

Remarkable Instance of Fidelity in a Servant.

In the winter of the year 1776, the Count and Countess of Podotsky being on their way from Vienna to Cracow, the wolves, which are very numerous in the Carpathian mountains, and when the cold is very severe, are more bold and savage than usual, came down in hordes, and pursued the carriage be tween the towns of Osweik and Zator, the latter of which is only a few leagues from Cracow. Of two ser vants, one was sent before to bespeak post horses; the other, whom the Count particularly esteemed for his fidelity, seeing the wolves came nearer and nearer, begged his master to permit him to leave them his horse by which their rage would in some measure be satisfied, and they should gain time to reach Zator. The Count consented ; the servant mounted behind the carriage, and let the horse go, which was seized by the wolves, and torn in a thousand pieces. Meantime the travellers proceeded, with all the speed they could in hopes to reach the town; from which they were not very distant. But the horses were tired, and the wolves becoming more savage now that they had tasted blood, had almost over, a short time since, delivered of four taken the carriage. COMMUNICATED. Mr. CLARKE,

Please tu insert the following in the Whig, and oblige every lover of female

Female piety and benevolence exemplified with a fine literary taste; extrac ted from the first annual report of the Female Bible Society of Anapolis and its vicibity.

" If the bibles which have already been distributed, and those which remain on hand, should be found sufficient to supply the demand in our own neighbourhood fur some time to come, yet even in this case we have accomplished a very inconsiderable part of our object. As an auxiliary to rlie . American Bible Society," that great and wonderful institu non, which inay well be termed the glory of our country, we have engaged tu use our exertions to provide for those who are destitute of the bible in ('very part of the world and who can calculate the number of human beings which ave never seen the word of God, arid who without the said of bible societies, have nu means of procuring it? Millions of biles have already been circulated by hese excellent institutions, but many millions more are yet required to sup-ply the wants of those who have never tasted " the bread of ble." How greatly then does this view of the subject enlarge the sphere of our society's influence ! It estends it even to the "uttermost parts of the earth." And shall e tor a moment think of relaxing our exertions, when so many millions of bur fellow creatures are still walking in the "valley of the shadow of death," and when so many benighted regions of the earth still remain to be enlighted by the rays of the gospel? No, Christ-ian friends! we feel assured this will sert the cause we have undertaken-not be the case-we will not basely dethe cause of our God aid Saviour." At a period like the present, when bible societies abound in almost every part of the world, when their reports furnish the most interesting information respecting the anxiety 'which is every where manifested among the destitute, to obtain a copy of the scriptures, when this information is almost daily circulating amongst us, few can remain uninformed upon this point. It s therefore deemed unnecessary to en ter into any minute details of this kind, But let esch individual who wishes tu feel the force of such representations is these, make an appeal to her own heart. Let her who has been accus. tomed to tile daily perusal of her bible, who has found it to be a soluce to her sorrows, comfort and support under her afflictions, ttie delight of her heart, and the rule of her life, who, with feelings of pious gratitude has read and meditated upon the wontltrful redemption wrought out for her by her Saviour, let such an one conceive herself transpored to some dark corner of the earth. where the light of revelation has neve: dawned, and there deprived of lier bible, and surrounded by those who nevev heard of it, let her fancy with what feeling of joy, love and gratitude she would hail the pious missionary, whu should once more briiig to lier "the word of life." With feelings such ...s these then, may we brlieve that the gift of a bible is often received by the pour penighted Heathens And who would forego the pleasure of imparting such by and gladness to a fellow creature? Who would not wish to have lier share in doing such great and extensive good? Although, in the circulation of the biie, we are riot called upon to leave our homes, and traverse continents & seas, yet the aid which we can impart, will be no less beneficial?nu less effec-(ual, In casting our mite into the treasury of God, we send it abroad with his blessing; and we know not, and until that day when all our good and evil misfortunes of Spain

Our readers have doubtless in no lew instances observed, the preposterous meaning given to sentences and words, by a small omission. The slightest mistoke has often produced important consequences. The want of a letter i~a nord hap frequently occasioned as loud a laugh, as could that legitimate son of Momus (Matthews,) himself. But the omission of a word would be suilicient, inder certain circumstances, to set the. world in a flame, and make one half of it whet their swords to cut the throats of the other.' In our last number, a small omission, made by our compositor, has given a very different sense in a paragraph, to that which it was intended to do. In the remarks of our correspondent from Washington, where he says, * Those who per-Formed the requisite service in the revolutionary war, and who are really poor, and who have fraudulently, &c. the word " not" should have preceded " fraudulently," to have given the sense and the words of the writer. This is an important mistake, and we request our readers to correct it.

Fire in Philadelphia.-It fell to our lot on Monday morning last, to witness one of the most awful spectacles we have ever beheld-the conflagration and destruction of the WASHINGTON HALL, and the adjoining. Hotel, in Third street, Philadelphia. In the morning, about half past 3 o'clock, we were aroused form our bed by the appaling cry of fire! fire! The bells rang peals, and in a few minutes, engines, hose and people, were in motion. On arriving at the scene of desolation, we found the whole roof of the great not only the city, Sot the surrounding country for many miles. There was a smart breeze from the south by west, which carried the burning shingles and cinders over the city, threatening destruction to all around. Several houses in the immediate neighborhood caught fire, and the Merchants Coffee House, which is about three squares off, was twice en fire. Of that superb edifice, the Washington 'Hall, nothing now remains but the dilapidated walls. The roof and upper story of the adjoining Hotel was consumed, but by the indefatigable and persevering exertions of the fire-men, little other dam.

and the Hotel for 5,000 dollars. The Mayor of the sity was observed on this, as on all similar occasions, to be the most persevering and active. The loss is estimated at, from 150, to 200, 000 dollars! It was the work of an INCENDIARY,-If there is any country on the globe that contains more of these wretches than ours, we know not where its location is - perhaps the faeulty, may be able to discover the cause among human diseases; if not, our nation must endure a calamity which is as discreditable to our morals, as terrible in its consequences.

The Cumberland County Agricultutoral Society was organized on the 15th and the spirit of its citizens, we trust of February last. On the morning of the 15th, two days after, having been unimproved. We hail with joy every given to understand that 500 copies of the Constitution and Bye-Laws were ordered to be printed, which, under the most favourable circumstances, is S00 more than' will ever be wanted; we addressed a note to the Secretary of the Society, informing him that we would execute the printing and stitch ing of the work gratis, if the Society would furnish the paper. In a few hours after we received the following note in answer. February 15, 1823.

JOHN CLARKE.

The reason, fellow citizens, why we have introduced this subject is, because we have just been informed that the Board of Managers of the Society met on Wednesday last, and on motion of the Secretary of said Society, which was hastily brought forward and carried, it was ordered, that a sum amounting nearly to nine dollars be paid for the paper and printing of that work-A specimen of " moderate prices" indeed, perhaps made to shew the consistency of puffing and performing. In the whole work there was sixteen Church for upwards of 20 years; dur quires of Cap paper, at about three dollars per ream. Deducting for part. of a ream not used, the paper cost about 82 75. About six dollars, therefore, has been lost to the Society by the very first official act of its Secretary! If, fellow members of this Society, this first act cost us so much, ness through the merits of the Reidee- Britain, and in contravention io the (and if we are urged, we will in future mer. The statement of our friend will in due time be noticed.

We perceive that the Salem Messen. ger and Woodbury Herald have both erroneously copied the age of the great Hog, lately killed in this town-perhaps through inadvertance. They make him two months older than we do and yet give our paper as their authority. If such information be interesting to the public, let it be correct. Two months is one tenth his whole age, and old, and large for his age-had a leatha corresponding additional weight for that time would leave him netting nearly 1000lbs. and perhaps according to the ratio of his increase for the last

PROPOSALS

For publishing the 2nd Volume of RELIGIOUS IN A ELLIGENCER.

To publish a periodical work which shall merit general acceptance, is allowed by all persons to he a task of great difficulty, though the benefit resulting from Religious papers of this family, when judiciously con-ducted, are universally acknowledged. Of the articles presented tu the public in the appreciated; and we are happy to state, that our means of commanding such a variety as our means or commanding such a variety as will enable us to present our readers with original anti selected matter of a respectable character, are ually increasing. Under these encouraging characters, it is not proba-ble that we should be accused of either vani-ty or presumption, when our p trons are as-sured, that from the known abilities of our Comparinghents the articles which we chail Correspondents, the articles which we shall introduce into our second volume, will not decline in value as they increase in nuniber and variety. Certain difficulties which have attended the semi-monthly publication of the first vol-ume, have suggested to the publisher the propriety of new arrangements. It is desira-ble, for the purpose of presenting a greater variety at one view, to increase the number of pages to forty; we also design to obviate the necessity of publishing articles b_{Λ} con-tinuing them from one Aumber to its succession. Cedarville, Sor, We also design to enlarge the depart-ment devoted to Religious Intelligence -Therefore, each number of the second vol-ume of the Repository will appear on the
