LAWS OF THE UNION.

BY AUTHORITY.]

AN ACT providing for the sale of certain lands in the district of Marietta, and for the location of claims and sale of certain lands in the district of Vincennes.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity, and providing for the sale, of the lands belonging to the United States, within the limits of a tract of one hundred thousand acres, granted to Rufus Putnam, Manassah Cutler, Robert Oliver, and Griffin Green, in trust for the persons composing the Ohio Company of Associates, in pursuance of the third section of an act, entitled "An act authorizing the grant and conveyance of certain lands to the Ohio Company of Associates," passed on the twenty-first of April, seventeen hundred and ninety-two, it shall be the duty of the Surveyor General and he is hereby authorized, to require of the said Rufus Putnam, and other surviving patentees, in trust as aforesaid, to make a report to him of the quantity and situation of the lands by them conveyed as bounties to actual settlers, according to the conditions of the said third section and grant aforesaid, and also a duly attested copy of the field notes and plat of the surveys of the lands, by them conveyed to actual settlers as aforesaid.—And the surveyor general, on receiving a satisfactory report of the quantity and situation of the lands so conveyed, shall cause the residue of the lands within the said tract to be surveyed in the same manner as the other public lands; or, if he shall deem it more convenient, into tracts of one hundred acres, conforming as far as practicable to the plan on which lots granted to actual settlers were laid off; and he shall make return of the surveys to the General Land Office, and the register of the land office at Marietta.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That every person, or their legal representatives, whose claims were confirmed by any of the several acts for confirming claims to land in the district of Vincennes, and which claims have not been located, shall be authorized to enter their locations with the register of the land office at Vincennes, on any part of the tract set apart for that purpose in the said district, by virtue of an act, entitled "An act respecting claims to land in the Indiana Territory, and state of Ohio," and in conformity to the provision of that act, and shall be entitled to receive certificates and patents in the same manner as provided by former laws, respecting locations in the same tract: Provided, That the locations authorized by this act, and those authorized by an act, entitled "An act for the relief of certain claimants to land in the district of Vincennes," passed on the sixteenth of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, shall be made before the first day of September next; and, after the surveys thereon completed, the Surveyor General shall cause the residue of the said tract to be surveyed, conforming, as far as practicable, to the plan for surveying the other public lands, and he shall make a return of the surveys to the General Land Office, and to the register of the land office at Vincennes.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That such part of the tract, described by the first section of this act, as shall appear to belong to the United States, shall be offered for sale at Marietta, and such part of the tract described by the second section of this act, as shall not have been located under confirmed claims, shall be offered for sale at Vincennes. The said lands, in the said respective tracts, with the exception of the usual proportion for the support of schools, shall be offered for sale to the highest bidder, under the direction of the Register of the land office, and the receiver of public moneys for the said districts, on such days respectively as shall, by proclamation of the President, be designated for that purpose: the sales at each place shall remain open six days, and no longer; the lands shall not be sold for less than two dollars an acre; and shall, in every other respect, both as to public and private sales, be sold on the same terms and conditions, as other public lands in the same districts, and patents shall be obtained in the same manner and on the terms provided, in case of other public lands sold by the United States.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the superintendents of the public sales directed by this act shall each receive four dollars a day for each day's attendance on the said sales.

March 18, 1818—Approved.

JAMES MONROE.

AN ACT for the relief of Israel Smith.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the proper accounting officers of the War Department be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to place to the credit of Israel Smith, of the state of Vermont, four hundred dollars, which sum has been paid by the said Smith to a detachment of the troops of the United States; and for which payment the vouchers have been lost, without any fault or negligence on his part.

March 18, 1818—Approved.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the members of congress, the delegates from Territories, the secretary of the State, and the clerk of the House of Representatives, be and they are hereby authorised to transmit, free of postage, the message of the President of the United States of the fourteenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, and the documents accompanying the same, printed by order of the Senate and by order of the House of Representatives, to any post office within the United States, and the territories thereof.

March 19, 1818—Approved.

JAMES MADISON.

AN ACT making appropriations for the support of the Navy of the United States for the year one thousand eight hundred and eighteen.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, for defraying the expenses of the navy for the year one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, the following sums be, and they are hereby respectively appropriated, viz: For pay and subsistence of the officers and pay of the seamen, one million, one hundred and thirty-five thousand five hundred and ninety-five dollars. For provisions five hundred and eleven thousand dollars. For medicine, hospital stores, and all expenses on account of the sick, including the marine corps, twenty-five thousand dollars. For repairs of vessels, three hundred thousand dollars. For contingent expense three hundred thousand dollars. For repairs of navy yards, docks, and wharves, one hundred thousand dollars. For pay and subsistence of the marine corps, seventy-three thousand dollars. For military stores for the same, eleven hundred dollars. For contingent expenses for the same, sixteen thousand dollars. For the purchase of medals and swords, directed by different resolutions of Congress, fifteen thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the several appropriations herein before made shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

March 18, 1818—Approved.

PATRIOTIC EFFUSIONS.

Upon Saturday, 5th October, 1816, one of the most numerously attended, and respectable meetings, that ever was held in Paisley, assembled for the purpose of taking into consideration the distresses of the country, their causes and their remedies, and the propriety of petitioning His Royal Highness the Prince Regent to turn his attention and the attention of his Council to these interesting subjects.

It is customary and according to law, previous to calling any meeting of this kind, to present a requisition to the Magistrates, signed by some of the inhabitants, in which they state the purposes for which they design to meet; and request the liberty of the magistrates to call the people together.

After reading the requisition, Mr. JOHN WILKINSON proceeded as follows:

TOWNSMEN,

In relation to this requisition, it is necessary to observe, that a deputation waited with it, upon both the Sheriff and the Magistrates; that they were very politely received, but made to understand that neither would attend the meeting, though both acknowledged the right, which we have of calling our townsmen together. When speaking of the present distresses of the country, all allowed them to be great. The magistrates, in particular, spoke at considerable length, and with great feeling upon the numerous instances of individual distress, within their knowledge; upon what they had done, and intended to do, in order to alleviate, as far as in their power, the prevailing misery. They referred us to a document, which purports to be a memorial of the Provost, Magistrates, Council, and principal merchants, and manufacturers of Paisley, a copy of which shall now be read to you.

To the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury,

The humble memorial of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council, and principal merchants and manufacturers of the town of Paisley, subscribing:

That the trade and manufactures of this large commercial town, comprising, with its suburbs, a population of nearly forty thousand, have, during the present crisis, suffered a degree of depression almost unprecedented; and the consequent want of employment, or low rate of wages, has reduced numerous industrious operatives, and their families, to great difficulties and distress.

That the operatives of this community continue to exercise, during these severe privations, that patience and submission, for which they have been uniformly remarkable. But amidst this commendable conduct, the memorialists cannot contemplate the extent and duration of their present sufferings, without deep concern for this relief.

That for this, however, any voluntary subscriptions, which the memorialists could possibly raise, would be totally disproportionate; and the memorialists, in supplicating government to take into consideration the means of alleviating the distress, cannot refrain from humbly suggesting to the wisdom of your Lordships, that if employment were to be afforded by government, in the completion of the Glasgow, Paisley, and Ardrossan Canal, the importance and utility of which to the public, promises to be so great, not only would immediate and ample relief be afforded, but, from the present cheapness of labour, the undertaking would be got accomplished at greatly less expense, than it probably can be done at a future period."

However praise worthy the motive may be, which actuated our more wealthy townsmen to take this step, it appears, from the document itself, that they fairly acknowledge their exertions to relieve the present distress to be wholly unavailing. And it appears very problematical, how far government, in the present distracted state of their finance, have the power,—or if they have, how far they would be justified in relieving one part of the kingdom in this manner, while so many other parts are equally entitled to relief, and have as strong claims to be relieved as this town and neighbourhood can have.

But to advert more particularly to our present business, it must on all hands be allowed that we are all deeply interested in the objects of this meeting. How far we who are met, are qualified to judge of the causes and remedies of the present distresses, or how far we have the right to do so, admits of more discussion. By a few minutes attention to these inquiries, we shall be enabled to develop the grounds and reasons upon which your committee entered into their present engagements. It is objected by those, who consider themselves exalted far above the vulgar, "that we know nothing about the affairs of government; that we have nothing to do with them; that we ought to mind our work, and leave these things to them whose business it is to attend to them." To this we reply, that we know as much, perhaps more, than they, whose contumacious censure would imply that they only, who have scraped together a little pelf, have understanding, and are gifted with the light of reason. We know that it is long since it was said to mechanics and labourers, "Ye are idle, go therefore, now, and work;" and to their leaders, "Ye hinder the people from their work; get you unto your burdens." But does not the religion established in our country teach, that God has made of one blood all nations that dwell upon the earth?—Why then talk ye so exceeding proudly?—There is no distinction of blood, and intellect belongs not to wealth or station. Though our situation in life, or rank in society, our wealth, or influence, be not so great; yet we can see, and think, and know, and judge, as well as they who have been, in some respects, more highly favoured. And if it be true, that every thing for the sustenance and comfort of man, comes from the earth and waters;—if it be true, that before any thing so received, can be prepared for, or applied to his wants and comforts, in meat, drink, clothing, furniture, houses, or whatever else necessary, luxury, or convenience, may require, a considerable labour is necessary and unavoidable;—if it be true, that the farmer, the labourer, the mechanic, the artisan, are the persons by whom this labour is furnished, and through it, all the requisites and conveniences of life; then it follows, that they, and they alone, are the pillars of society, the supports of the state, the men of real dignity and importance. Why then should they be treated with contempt by those whom their labour supports?—Nay, why should they acquire such treatment?

LATEST FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

The schooner Patriot, capt. Thompson, arrived here last evening, in 64 days from Buenos Ayres, with hides, specie, and copper. To the attention of a gentleman passenger in the Patriot, who has been some time resident in Buenos Ayres, we are indebted for the following interesting sketch.

He has also furnished us with complete files of the Buenos Ayrean "Censor", from the 4th of December to the 8th of January, inclusive—with Buenos Ayrean "Gazettes" from the 4th of October to the 17th of January, inclusive—with the Provisional Constitution of the S. American Congress; and sundry miscellaneous papers. They are in the hands of a translator.

I hand you a few numbers of the Censor and Gazette, of Buenos Ayres, down to the 23d of January last, in which, if you think there are any articles worth extracting for publication, be good enough to insert them in your paper. The details given in them relative to the operations of the armies, are in many respects but partially described.

The country was in a state of tranquility at the time of my leaving there. Some apprehensions existed a short time previous that a Spanish expedition, aided by a Russian auxiliary force, was coming out to restore Ferdinand's authority, but the alarm had entirely subsided.

Hostilities had commenced between the government of Buenos Ayres and the Patriots of the Banda Oriental, or east side of the River La Plate; and in consequence of representations made to the former, that part of the army under general Artega, had revolted from his command and solicited their assistance. A division of troops was sent over to co-operate with them in expelling him from the government; but owing to the vigor and promptitude of general Artega, on the occasion, report says, the expedition was entirely defeated, and nearly all either killed or made prisoners. Nothing further had been attempted by either side after this event. Several officers, however, who had deserted the cause of general Artega and joined the enemy, on being taken were immediately shot.

Talcahuano (the only town in possession of the Royalists in Chili) still held out for the Royalists. An attempt had recently been made by the Patriots to take it by storm—but after obtaining partial possession of the works, were compelled to retreat with considerable loss. It was stated that an additional reinforcement had lately arrived to the assistance of the besieged and intelligence had likewise been obtained that an expedition was preparing to sail from Lima, for the invasion of Chili—in consequence of which the most active preparations were making to repel the enemy in case he should attempt to land.

By letters from St. Jago, it was stated, that all the troops stationed in the capital had marched for the coast, under the command of gen. San Martin—who, by the last accounts, was encamped in the neighbourhood of Valparaiso, with five to 6000 men under him. The same letters mentioned that a very general spirit of patriotism prevailed among the people, attended by a firm resolution to maintain, at all hazards, the independence of their country. Measures, however, had been taken for the preservation of property both in the capital and on the coast, in case of invasion, by its removal to a greater distance into the interior.

The most amicable relations appeared to exist between the Portuguese and the government of Buenos Ayres, although the impression was general at one time that war would have been declared by the former, in consequence of the capture of the two Portuguese vessels by a Buenos Ayrean Privateer. They, however, have been restored, and since that time both parties appear to be on good understanding with each other.

The Portuguese are still at war with general Artega, and have blockaded Colonia; a port on the east side of the River La Plate.

This is the only event of consequence that has occurred between them for some time past.

The object of blockading Colonia, is to prevent the entrance into port of any prizes taken by Artega's commissions.

In other respects, the Portuguese have become very friendly to the Patriots on that side, and on all occasions treat them with considerable respect and confidence.

The result of this conduct towards them, is that the Patriots frequently come within the Portuguese lines at Monte Video, and enter the city without molestation.

The Portuguese at Monte Video, are now (or in December last) plentifully supplied with provisions of every kind from their enemies;

though at one time the greatest scarcity existed.

As the Portuguese are no doubt, aiming at the sovereignty of the country on the east side of the river, the policy of opening a friendly intercourse with the inhabitants, may be the means best calculated to attain their ends. Their hostilities are chiefly directed against Artega, whom they must vanquish before any change of government can be effected. This general rules despo-litical, and continues to maintain great influence over the people.

An act of the most unjustifiable nature was committed by the government of Buenos Ayres towards Mr. Halsey, our consul, a few days before the Patriot sailed. He unexpectedly received an order from the Director to quit Buenos Ayres and its dependencies in 24 hours.—Some causes were assigned for this procedure, but whether founded on truth or conjecture—it was thought by the Americans in Buenos Ayres to be a most arbitrary act. Mr. Halsey, however, was permitted to have an explanation with the government on the subject. In consequence of which, the order was recalled and no further step taken against him.

Business was rather dull at the time of leaving Buenos Ayres. The markets were supplied with almost every species of goods.

Powder and arms unsaleable. Vessels that arrived with these articles were compelled to seek another market for them.

About 60 or 70 sail of vessels were lying there; largest proportion of which were English, and a few American vessels, among which ship Manhattan, of Norfolk, not discharged—Augusta, of Baltimore, sailing uncertain—Woodrop Sims, of do, do.—Chr. Plattsburg, of do, to sail in a few weeks—and a number of others whose names I do not recollect.

The ship General Washington, capt. Yeardsly, of Philadelphia, had cleared from the Custom House, and would sail from Ensonada first fair wind.

The brig Nancy Ann, Osgood, of Salem, had sailed for Brazils with her outward cargo on board.

Two valuable American vessels, the one the ship Beaver of New York, the other of Salem, have been captured by the Royalist squadron blockading the coast of Chili; and sent into Conception. Two vessels (sloop Com. Decatur, and schr. Ann, captain Mix, both of New York) were wrecked on the coast of Patagonia in August last—the crews built a vessel from the materials of the wrecks, in which they arrived in Buenos Ayres on the 8th Jan. last.

The Musquito, British brig of war, arrived on 19th Dec. from St. Helena, at Buenos Ayres, in search of a convict ship which had been taken possession of by the convicts, and had not been heard of—she sailed again in a few days—three British vessels of war were lying in Buenos Ayres when the Patriot sailed.

The Ontario, captain Bidle, had not arrived in Chili as late as 28th Dec. last.

The ship Orris, captain Pease, of New York, was loading for the United States, and would sail in 20 days. The ship American, capt. Lord, arrived a few days before our sailing from Rio Janeiro. A number of Patriot Privateers were lying in Buenos Ayres. The brig Patriot, com. Taylor had just arrived.

The Patriot sailed on 23d Jan. and spoke on the passage brig Hunter, of Baltimore, 28 days from Bordeaux for New Orleans, and schr. Concord 10' days from Martinique for Duxbury—have experienced much boisterous weather on the coast.

The Patriot has on board despatches for the government.

I hand you likewise a copy of the Provisional Constitution promulgated in Buenos Ayres in December last.

Its features are good, but I am sorry to say that the authority of the law is too often suspended, and in its place arbitrary measures and despotic government adopted. But with all the objections that may be urged on this subject it ought to be the wish of every friend to freedom that the provinces of South America may go on in the career of Independence, till the period of its consummation, when not a spot remains where royalty has the least shadow of power.

Yours, &c.

A PASSENGER.

From the New York Evening Post, March 28.

Hostility of Spain.

Our readers will see, by the document published this evening, which was received by this morning's mail, by the way of Baltimore, and furnished us by the kindness of a friend, that the Spaniards have already struck the first blow.—The ship Beaver, own by John Jacob Astor, of this city, and laden with a very valuable cargo, and the brig Canton, of Salem, have been seized at Talcahuana, and their crews thrown into prison, for being engaged in a trade which the mother country had considered unlawful, but which the patriots, in possession, had declared free. For trading with these ports American vessels are seized and their crews imprisoned, while British vessels are permitted to trade unmolested.

Against such an act of hostility, the governor of Chili, very spiritedly has, as will be seen, entered his protest, as a breach of the law of nations, in doing violence to a neutral port.—The particulars are transmitted to congress, and will probably soon appear in an official form.

[Translated for the New York Evening Post.]

From the Buenos Ayres Gazette, of the 3d of January last, we have translated an account, published in the Chili Gazette of Saturday the 6th of December, 1817, from the territorial quarter of Conception on the 22d Nov. 1817.

Violation of the law of Nations.

By Mr. Francis Reeves, second supercargo of the American ship Beaver, which sailed from the port of New York, destined to the North West Coast, the Island of Japan, and Canton, who took refuge in this place the fifteenth instant, after having escaped with five other individuals from the prison Talcahuana, where they were confined, we have been informed, that having approached this port in search of water, wood and fresh provisions, after a voyage of 106 days, the above ship was surprised in the vicinity of the Island of Quinchinire, by an armed force, who took possession of her, and immediately began to search and plunder whatever they could lay their hands upon, without sparing the clothes, papers, and other necessaries, of the officers, of that ship; and after having committed the greatest excesses and insulted them in the grossest manner, carried her to Talcahuana, when having stripped the vessel of her sails, and whatever was necessary to enable her to continue her voyage, they landed her crew, and adopted against them every hostile measure which nations the most inimical use against one another; endangering, at the same time, the vessel and all her cargo, which according to the invoice price in the United States amounted to more than two hundred thousand dollars.

They behaved in the same manner to the American brig Canton, from Salem, treating in the like manner Mr. James Janison, and her supercargo, Mr. Coffin, who touched at the same port twenty days before the ship Beaver, as she was on her route to the North West Coast and China, which, with her cargo worth eighty thousand dollars in goods, was declared by the governor of Talcahuana a good and lawful prize—they also robbed him of eighty thousand hard dollars which he was conveying to China, and as Mr. Reeves thinks, they will take both vessels immediately to Puerto Callo.

Such proceedings show, in the clearest light, the perfidy and barbarity of our enemies, who, without paying the least respect to the individuals of a neutral nation, have violated, in the most scandalous manner, the rights, laws, and conduct hitherto respected by even the most uncivilized. I doubt not, when the government to which these injured persons belong, shall know and be informed of the injuries and insults heaped upon them, she will make them a subject of the best founded complaint, and will exercise her utmost energy and zeal to revenge such an insult, and obtain a satisfaction such as the case requires. I am also persuaded, that other nations, at the mere relation of such an event, will be struck with horror, and recognize the Spanish character, in these respects, as stimulated and actuated solely by a spirit of robbery, a contempt for her equals, and a thirst for pillage, without an idea of repairing the inconveniences and evils, a conduct so unheard of, and reprobate must occasion.

The above mentioned Mr. Reeves, influenced by the most just resentment, and this day placed amongst us in perfect liberty, communicates the occurrence related, as well to his government as to the owners of the property embargoed; and when an event of such a class is divulged, the whole world will acknowledge the just motives which have induced Chili to separate from and detest those Spaniards from whom, if even neutral nations deserve no respect, much less can we expect it, who are held up and stigmatized as rebels and traitors.—All which I communicate to your excellencies for your information and government.—God preserve your excellencies many years—Directorial quarter of Conception, Nov. 22d, 1817.

abilities and privileges of this great and sacred right of self defence, will the movements of our troops be strictly confined. Orders have been given to the General in command not to enter Florida, unless it be in pursuit of the enemy, and in that case to respect the Spanish authority wherever it is maintained; and he will be instructed to withdraw his forces from the province, as soon as he shall have reduced that tribe to order, and secured our fellow citizens in that quarter, by satisfactory arrangements, against its unprovoked and savage hostilities in future.

Leland on Revelation.

PROPOSALS have recently been issued by Anthony Finley, Bookseller of Philadelphia, for publishing "The Advantage and Necessity of Christian Revelation," shewn from the State of Religion in the ancient Heathen World; by John Leland, D. D. Author of the "View of the Domestic Writers, &c."—He engages to have the work handsomely executed, and in making this promise, he can refer with much satisfaction to the style of his former publications. The work is now in Press and will be published, and ready for delivery on the 20th of May next. The price to subscribers will be Five Dollars for the two volumes in boards, or Six Dollars handsomely bound. As the number of copies printed will be small, the price will be raised after publication. Subscriptions for the above work, will be received at this Office.

SUMMARY.

New Hampshire Election.—The recent election in this state has resulted in favor of Republicanism by an increased, and it may be added overwhelming majority. Governor Plumer is re-elected by a plurality of from six to eight thousand votes over all other candidates. It is expected that the Council board will consist wholly of republicans, and that only one of the twelve senators will be federal.

Indian War.—More than 1300 Creek Warriors have been mustered into the service of the United States, and are actually employed in the expedition against the hostile Seminole Indians.

Mission to Hayti.—The U. S. sloop Hornet, capt. Reed, sailed from New York on Tuesday last for St. Domingo, with com. Lewis Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Ervine, U. S. commissioners, the two first named to treat with Petion and Christopher.

Summary Justice.—Job Wheeler, (says a Boston paper) who was taken up for an indecent exposure of his person, we understand has been sentenced to the State Prison for 5 years, and 90 days solitary confinement.

Evile of Intemperance.—The report of a committee appointed in the city of New York for the prevention of pauperism, contains the following statement:

If each of the sixteen hundred of retailers in the city sell, upon an average, to the amount of $2,500 cts. per day, an estimate we presume all will consider within the truth, the aggregate amount for the year is ONE MILLION FOUR HUNDRED AND SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.—This enormous sum extorted from the sweat of labor, and the tears and groans of suffering wives and children, would be sufficient to build annually, fifty houses of worship at 20,000 dollars each, and leave a surplus that would be more than sufficient to erect school-houses, and amply provide for the education of every child in the city.

Buenos Ayres.—The last accounts from this place represent the country in a very disturbed state. The civil dissensions among the Patriots has arisen to such a height as probably to endanger the republic.—Late accounts state that the present government is severe, and rigid in the extreme, and its police and emissaries numerous and vigilant.—War has been declared by the Chief Artigas, of the Banda Oriental (eastern side); and the government of Buenos Ayres transported 1500 of its best troops to the other side, in expectation of a division among the troops of Artigas, but in this they were disappointed, and have been defeated, to what extent is only known to the government, who keep it from the public.

More Specie.—The British Frigate Cybelle arrived at New York on the 30th inst. from Jamaica, via Havanna and Charleston, with half a million of dollars for the United States Bank.

The President's Message.—This document is highly spoken of by the London papers;—one of them observes—"While the finances of all the governments of Europe are more or less disordered, and the subjects are everywhere ground down with heavy taxes—we find the head of his republican at the close of an expensive war, proposing the repeal of the internal taxes, &c."

Our affairs with Naples.—The National Intelligencer observes:—The documents respecting the Neapolitan mission, afford little comfort to our suffering merchants. It would appear that the poverty of the government is such as to forbid even a compliance with their own ideas of what is right.

Dr. Woodward, late surgeon's mate of the Constellation Frigate, died at Norfolk, and was buried there in the most respectful manner with masonic and military honors.

General Mina not dead!—The Federal Republican of the 27th inst. states, that on the authority of two letters received in Baltimore, one from the aid of general Mina dated 14 days since, the other from general Mina himself, dated only 20 days since, that they are justified in asserting that the account published of that officer being taken and shot, is without foundation, and that his affairs are now in a more prosperous situation than they have ever yet been.

Church Robbery.—Three instances of Church Robbery have occurred in Philadelphia within a short time, viz. St. James, Christ Church, and lately the New Jerusalem Temple, at the corner of George and Twelfth streets, which occurred on the night of the 25th inst. happily, however, in the latter instance, the robber was detected, and it is expected his apprehension will lead to the detection of the perpetrators of the other.

Distressing Shipwrecks.—Various accounts of shipwrecks have been given within a week; among which is the following.—The brig Clotilda, capt. Brotherton, sailed from New Orleans on the 14th of February, bound to Philadelphia.

On the 15th of March she sprung a leak, which was increased so much by a succession of gales, that it was necessary to attempt to make the first port. In endeavoring to weather Cape Henry, and to run in Lynnhaven Bay, the ebb tide drifted the brig out so fast, and the wind blew so violently, that it was judged best to run ashore, sensible that she could only be kept afloat a few hours longer. This was done at half past 1 o'clock.

The mate with 11 other of the crew, and passengers, immediately took to the long-boat, and endeavored to reach the shore, but the boat instantly filled and sunk, and every one on board perished.

Dey of Algiers.—The late advices from Cadiz and Gibraltar, it is said, confirm the news from Algiers, of the late outrage of the Dey towards the daughter of the Sardinian Vice-Consul. The new Dey is universally spoken of as one of the greatest tyrants that has ever reigned at Algiers.

Sir George McGregor.—This officer with whose name the public is familiar, arrived at Liverpool early in February in a vessel from Nassau, New Providence.

Servitude Abolished.—The Legislative Body of Frankfort pronounced on the 10th inst by acclamation, the abolition of the servitude of the inhabitants belonging to the territory as well as of all the services resulting from it.

Young Napoleon.—Letters from Vienna mention that an imperial ordinance will shortly appear conferring upon the son of the Ex-Empress Maria Louisa, the title of Highness, and the name of the Duke of Modlin. It is added, he will be assigned the first rank after the Princesses of the Imperial Family.

Value of Public Lands.—The Huntsville Republican says, that at a late sale of public lands in that Territory, some of the best of the land sold at 73 dollars per acre.—The Nashville Clarion also states, that the sale of lands for the two last weeks amounted to about three millions of dollars; that very little that was good went for less than thirty dollars an acre.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Extracts of letters to the editor, dated

Washington, March 30, 1818.

SOUTH AMERICAN PATRIOTS.

Mr. Clay's motion before stated was argued in committee of the whole, Tuesday until Saturday last, during which time six gentlemen spoke on each side, viz.

For the motion: Against it:

Messrs. Clay, Messrs. Forsythe,
Robertson, of Louisiana Lowndes,
Johnson, of Kentucky A. Smyth,
Floyd, Smith, of Md.
Holmes, of Mass. Hugh Nelson
Tucker, of Virginia Poindexter.

You will perceive that much talent was employed on both sides. The discussion took a very wide range, and was characterized by an earnestness not discovered in ordinary debates.—On the division there were 45 votes for, and 115 against, the proposition, and the bill was reported to the House.

To day upon taking up the bill and going through the amendments made in committee, Mr. Anderson, of Kentucky, made the same motion, which had been rejected in committee, whereupon Mr. Spencer delivered his sentiments in favor of it; after which the vote was taken by ayes and nays and resulted as follows:

For the Proposition 45.

Against it 115.

being exactly the same vote that was given in committee, a remarkable circumstance, that very likely would not happen again in ten years.

It ought perhaps to be remarked, that those who spoke against the propriety of now making an appropriation for a minister plenipotentiary to Buenos Ayres, declared their anxiety to see the Patriots in such condition as to authorize the measure; believing it now to be imprudent, with the limited information we have respecting their true condition: so that the whole difficulty among the Republicans at least has been to decide upon the proper time of doing what all wished, an expedient opportunity of effecting, and perhaps also a little difference as to the manner of bringing it about.

Northern Boundary—Convention of Ghent.

It was proposed in the appropriation bill, to set apart upwards of $70,000 for the purpose of covering expenses arising under certain articles of the treaty of Ghent, which created commissions for settling the boundary, and for determining to which of the two powers certain Islands near our northern boundary belonged.—This appropriation seeming large, with reference to the duties to be performed, an enquiry, on motion of Mr. Claiborne, has been instituted, and a committee appointed with ample powers of investigation, and who will make, it is expected, a special report on the subject.

Adjournment agreed on.

Senate have amended the resolution passed some time since by the House, relative to the time of closing the present Session, of Congress, by substituting the 20th for the 13th of April;—and the House have, by a large majority, agreed to the amendment, so that it is probable that the 20th of April, three weeks from this time will be the day, and it is ardently hoped that the remainder of the time will be employed in action and not consumed in debate, particularly on abstract questions.

Medals—Vote of Thanks.

A resolution was some days ago introduced in the Senate by Mr. Dickerson, concurring in Gov. Shelby and general Harrison, the thanks of Congress and appropriate medals, for their gallantry and good conduct in capturing the British army in Upper Canada under general Proctor.—This resolution has also been sanctioned by the House, without debate.

Washington, March 31, 1818.

A bill which passed the House of Representatives, authorizing the people of the Michigan Territory to send a delegate to Congress, has been in the Senate, on motion of Mr. Morrow, postponed to the first of July next, that is rejected.

The same fate has befallen a bill which also passed the House, authorizing one Vaccine agent, in each state, to be appointed by the states respectively to frank letters on the subject of vaccination.

The general appropriation bill has passed the House of Representatives.

Internal Improvement.

A considerable discussion has again been witnessed on this subject to day, in committee of the whole, on the bill making further appropriations for completing the great Cumberland Road.

This road is spoken of by those acquainted with it, as a master-piece of workmanship; Mr.

Clay declared that he had seen many turnpike roads in Europe and America, none of which anything like equalled this. The road commences at Fort Cumberland, on the Potomac, and terminates at Wheeling, on the Ohio, a distance of about 130 miles; of this distance, it is said 104 are contracted for, and it is calculated that with the requisite means, the remnant may be made in two, or at least, three years.

On this subject, the Constitutional difficulty is again brought in, and the question asked, whether the president will sign the bill if passed by Congress.—In the compact entered into by the United States, with the state of Ohio, two percent of the sales of public lands in that state, were pledged for the purpose of making this road.—The expenditures have, however, considerably exceeded the proceeds of those sales.

From this statement, you will be enabled to judge how far the question involved in this bill is at variance with the opinion of the president, on the general power of making roads and canals, which were made public in his message.—Mr. Madison took a distinction last winter, and justified to himself the course (apparently contradictory, if not really so) which he pursued in relation to the two subjects.

The bill was finally ordered to a third reading to-morrow, by a small majority.

The House then refused to go into a committee of the whole, on the subject of the organization of the militia, which decision renders it pretty certain, that it will not be acted on this Session.

From Buenos Ayres.—We have seen a letter from Buenos Ayres, written in Spanish, to a gentleman in this city, dated Jan. 13, which states, that a Spanish cruiser had taken an English brig bound to London, carried her into the bay of All Saints, unloaded her, and detained all that part of her cargo which was American. Such property as belonged to British subjects was released, the brig suffered to proceed on her voyage. This looks very much like hostility on the part of Spain.

N. Y. E. Post.

London, Feb. 11.

Great activity prevails at Cadiz, in equipping the South American expedition. It is said, that three ships of the line and two frigates of 40 guns each, are ready to take troops on board.

Intelligence from the Ionian Isles, states, that the long pending negotiations with the Pacha of Janina were drawing to a conclusion. His highness expresses his willingness to enter in the proposed arrangements, provided Fargabe is ceded to him agreeably to a solemn promise to that effect.

Letters from Austria, state that the Prince of Peace is shortly expected in that quarter from Italy and wherein he will be constrained to reside the remainder of his life. The Court of Madrid is said to be well pleased with this arrangement.

SALEM, (Mas.) March 10.

Drowned, during the late freshet, in Shawnee river, Andover, as they were attempting to pass the causeway in a chaise, Mr. Hebert Richardson, junr. of Lynfield, and Miss Charlotte Palmer of Londonderry. These lovers were in the bloom of youth, and were on the point of marriage. Their bodies have since been found, conveyed to Lynfield, and both interred in one grave.

RUNAWAY PATRONS.

The Bath paper gives notice to his patrons that he will publish the names of all such as run away without paying the Printer, and will procure the publication of cautionary notices in all other newspapers, to guard Printers from imposition. This plan was once recommended by the editor of the "Gleaner," and we believe acted on by him.—We approve highly of it, and should rejoice to see the practice generally adopted.—Albany Gaz.
