A BURNING MOUNTAIN.

Pittshorgia (tepp.) March 9. A brilliant spectacle has been for many months past presented ly opposite to the lower glass works. One of the large tritatrom which this establishment received a portion of its fuel, is on fire, and a short time back was vomiting forth flames with all the sublimity of Vesuvius. During the day it is not observable from town, but as soon as night approaches, it bursts upon the sight in all the steady blaze of the gas lights. How long it has been on fire we know not; it is only a few nights who had followed him into the room; ad-since our attention was called to his pistol exclaimed 'drop your sword, his pistol exclaimed 'drop your sword, or l'il fire instantiy?—upon which A. In the affair, one of the peace offithe Coal hill was on fire twenty years ago; the probability is that it has never been extinguished; it | gle ensued, in which many of the officers never, however, has been so distinctly seen until since it has communicated to the open coal pit; this now lisplays a wall and a roof of solid fire extending horizontally into the very bowels of the hill. An attempt we are told has been made to arrest the progress of this destructive conflagration, by stopping up the mouth of the pit, but the attempt failed, owing we-presume to the many fissuries which exists in the rocks through which air can enter. How it will termi nate it is impossible to say, but a most deplorable destruction of the Sergeant Legge rushed forward, and valuable article of coal must have whilst attempting to put aside the dealready taken place; how far the loss was extended cannot be ascertained. Owing to the height and steepness of the hill, the nit cannot be approached by any power sufficient to produce any effect, and we fear the only remedy we scure den, and in utter darknes. Incendiaries.

On Sunday evening, the 2d instant, the New Theatre in the city of Philpdelphia, together with the two buildings adjoining it on the West, side, occupied by Mrs. Neale and John Dupuy, were destroyed by fire.

The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incen diary. It was supposed at first to have originated in the Resolution Hose House, but on further examination and inquiry it was ascertained, that although the fire did not origi ate there, it was first discovered in the cellar through the apertures in the floor of that house. The Theatre was erected in the year 1792, and covered an area of 150 feet by 90. Its original cost was 135,000 dollars; the stock divided into 98 shares and held at present by about 40 individuals. The Philadelphia papers state that insurance to th amount of 25,000 dollars was effected on the Theatre with one of the offices in Baltimore.

On Wednesday night last an attempt was made to set fire to the Merchant's Coffee House in the Dickerson, Edwards, Elliot, Gaillard, Hunter, King of N. Y. Laman, Lowrie, Mellen, Otis, Parrott, Pinkney, Roberts, Sanford, Stokes, Tichenor, Trimble, Van Dyke, Williams of Miss.

This heavy vote against the bill is con-Aidered to have been induced by the adoption of Mr. Vandyke's amendment before poticed—subsequently an attempt was made to get a reconsideration of the vote which rejected the bill but failed by a majority of two votes. There are some that still believe that the bill might be so modi-Hed as to conciliate a majority of the Sen-ate in its favor; but I am now inclined to doubt it -whether the House will under the circumstances of the case, undertake to pass upon it, remains to be seen.

No one imagines that it will really take place sooner, and I believe the general o-pinion is it will be protracted a week or ten days longer than that time.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS.

The other day when the House were in Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union on the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Mr. Clay submitted the following resolutions which will probably be the subject of an animated debate.

1. Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States vests in Congress the power to dispose of the territory belong ing to them, and that no treaty, purpor ing to alleniate any portion thereof, is valid without the concurrence of Congress.

2. Resolved, That the equivalent pro posed to be given by Spain to the United States, in the treaty concluded between them, on the twenty second day of Feb ruary, 1819, for that part of Louisianaly ing west of the Sabine, was inadequate and that it would be inexpedient to make a transfer thereof to any foreign power, or to renew the aforesaid freaty.

The following resolution has been adopted on motion of Mr. Sawyer:

Resolved, That a committee he appoint ed to enquire into the expediency of a bolishing such offices of the customs as it may be proper to suppress in consequence of their unproductiveness, their inwillity, or from any other cause; and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

The following are the ayes and noes on the passage in the house of the hill to a-mend the Revolutionary Pension Law.

Ay s

MR. CLAY'S RESOLUTIONS:

The two last days have been principally employed in committee of the whole on he state of the Union, Mr. Taylor in the chair, on Mr. Clay's resolutions. The speakers in favor of the resolutions have been Messrs. Clay. Archer of Va. & Trimble, against them, Messrs. Lowndes, Anderson, Rhea and Brush

This morning a resolution was offered w Mr. Anderson and referred to a Committee of the whole, directing an equity into the expediency of authorising a sub scription of $100,000 to the Kentucky and Ohio Canal Company, recently organized for the purpose of Digging a canal round the falls of the river Ohio at Louisville.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONS.

The select committee to which the hill on this subject had been committed having reported it to the House, the follow ing proceedings took place yesterday as reported by the National Intelligencer. It is a subject which has excited no incon siderable interest here, and is moreover enveloped in difficulty. To correct an prevent luture abuses under the law seems desired by all, but how to modify it so as to effect the purpose is the difficulty.

The House then proceeded, on motion of Mr. Barbour, to the consideration of the amendment reported by a select committee to the bill to amend the Revolution. ary Pension Law.

Several amendments were proposed to the bill, and successively negatived, an indisposition appearing to any alteration of its present form. Mr. Williams, of North Carolina, then said, he was not able to discover any good reason for a distinction between the officers and soldiers of the Revolutionary war now reduced to poverty; and as put ting them on the same footing would save to the country annually a considerable sum of money, he moved to add the following as a new section to the bill:

"That no officer who now is, or may bereafter he, placed on the pension list, shall, after the payment of that part of his pendic which became due on the 4th day of March, 1820, be entitled to receive more than ten dollars per month, the same as received by all other persons on the

The Yeas and Navs being required by Mr. Cannon on agreeing to this motion were as follows.

For the motion Against it So the motion was negatived.

Other smendments of a verbal nature were proposed and passed upon.

Mr. Cannon, under the impression that the service of the Militia had been of as much importance, and their sacrifices as great at least as those of the continental soldiers, moved to amend the bill by ad ding a new section, the object of which was to embrace in the provisions of the pension law the officers and soldiers of the Militia who actually served for-during the Revolutionary war.

Mr. Hardin suggested that the proposi tion of the gentleman from Tennessee was ncomplete. He ought to have connected with it provisions for a direct tax or internal duties, which would be the necessary consequence of a measure that would add full five millions to the present amount of expenditures under the pension act. 🤸

Mr. Cannon said, he would tell the gen tleman, if Congress went on with their present enormous expenditures, he should ready, without this provision, for a di rect tax. He placed his motion, he said on the grounds of equality and justice. which appeared to him to sustain it.

Mr. Bloomfield said a few words agains the motion; when

The question was taken thereon and decided in the negative, five or six memhers rising in support of it.

Mr. Campbell moved an amendment, that no application for a pension should be received after the first day of June, 1820. Phismotion was supported by the mov er, and opposed by Messrs. McLean Livermore, Foot, Culpepper, Bloomfield and A. Smyth-and was decided in the negative, without a division.

Mr. Strother then moved to strike out the whole of the bill, except the enacting clause, and to insert in lieu of it a provision for the total repeal of the Revolutionary Pension Law.

After several other unsuccessful attempts to amend the bill, the question was taken on ordering the bill to be engrossed for a third reading and decided in the affirmative by a large majority.

To-day on reading the bill a third time spirited debate ensued on its merits, in which its passage was opposed by Messrs. tions of man, this interesting female has Adams, Strong of N. Y. Cross of N. A View of the Arguments

For and against taking Life, in civil Socies ty, for Murder, WITH AN APPENDIX:

BY I. THOMSON.

THE object of this treatise is to exhibit the arguments which are adduced, on which the different opinions of men are formed. The author has endeavored to present all the arguments on both sides of the subject is as concise a manner as could conveniently be done.

The Appendix is designed to illustrate the last consideration in the work, by shewing wherein confinement for grand larceny has failed of producing the beneficial effect contemplated.

The price when bound and lettered in a neat duodecimo volume, will be one dollar. To this will be added the essays of the celebrated late Dr. Rush on the punishment of death, praired late Dr. Rush on the punishment of death, for crunes and the effects of public punishment for grand larcency.

RECOMMENDATION.

I have read a manuscript treatise of Mr I Thomson, on the subject of capital punishments The arguments are judicious and well arranged and the deductions from them are, in my opinion inst. It is well calculated to disseminate correc principles on the sobject, and I tl erefore recom mend it as worthy of general per usal and patronage.
