FOR THE WASHINGMON WHIG

The following observations are ex tracted from Dr Blair's discourse on regulating the Passions. To all who properly appreciate them, they will be esteemed precious as "apples of gold in pictures of silver." But unhappily those who stand in most need of the admonitions, are generally, least in clined to yield them due attention, or to regulate their passions by the precepts they contain. "In the first place, study to acquire just views of the comparative importance of those objects which are most ready to attract desire.

"It is observed, that the young and theignorant are always the most violent in pursuit. The knowledge which is forced upon them by long acquaintance with the world, moderates their impetuosity. Study then to anticipate, by re flection, that knowledge which experience often purchases at too dear a rate. Inure yourself to freequent consideration of the emptiness of those pleasures which excite so much strife and commotion among mankind. Think how much more of true enjoyment is lost by the violence of passion, than by the want of those things which give occasion to that passion. Persuade yourselves that the favor of God and the possession of virtue form the chief happiness of the rational nature. Let a contented mind, and a peaceful life, hold the next place in your estimation. These are the conclusions which the wise and thinking part of mankind have have always formed. To these zonclusions, after having run the race of passion, you will probably come at the last. By forming them by times, you would make a seasonable escape from that tempestuous region; through which none can pass without suffering misery, and contracting guilt. Impress your minds deeply with this persuasion, that nothing is what it appears to be when you are under the power of any passion. Be assured. that no judgment which you then form can be in the least depended upon as sound or true. The fumes which arise from a heart boiling with violent passions, never fail to darken and trouble the understanding. When the gourd withered, under the shade of which the prophet Jonah reposed, his mind, already ruffled by the disappointment of his predictions, lost, on occasion of slight incident, all command of itself; and in the midst of his impatience, he wished to die rather than live. Instead of being calmed by that expostulating voice, Dost thou well. O Jonah! to be angry because of the gourd? He replied with great emo-tion, I do well to be angry even unto death. But did Jonah think so when his passion had abated? Do these sentiments bear the least resemblance to that numble and devout prayer, which, on another occasion, when in his calm mind, he put up to God? No two persons can differ more from each other. than the same person differs f oin himself, when agitated by passion, and when master of his reason. I do well to be angry, is the language of every man when his mind is inflamed. Every passion justifies itself-it brings in a thousand prefenses to its aid-it bor rows many a false color to hide its deformity--it possesses a sort of magic, by which it can magnify or diminish objects at pleasure, and transform the appearance of every thing within its Sphere.

Let the remembrance of this be ever at hand, to check the extravagant judgments which you are apt to pass in those moments of delusion-Listen to no suggestion which then arises-Form no conclusions on which you are to act-Assure yourselves that every thing is be and through a false medium. Have patience for a little, and, by the suggestions of divine grace, the illusion will vanish; the atmosphere will clear up around you, and objects re-turn to be viewed in their native colors and just dimentions."

Mr Francis S. Wiggins, of this city, has isseed proposals for publishings by subscription, a work written originally by the Rev. RICHARD STEELE, and revised by the Rev. Dr. Warrs, entitled "The Religious Tradesman; or, plain and serious hints of advice for the tradesman's prudent and plous conduct; from his entrance into business to his leaving it off: contained under the heads of, the nature of a life of business, and obligations to it-of choosing a calling-of prudence or discretion-of diligenceof justice-of truth, and of contentment, as they relate to trade-of religion— of leaving our callings."— These subjects are severally treated of in a plain and practical manner, suited to the comprehension of every capacity, and calculated to fix conviction on every mind. We trust the volume will be widely circulated, and attentively read; in which case we have no doubt it will be the means of benefit ing many individuals, and doing much good to society. FOREIGN.

From the New York Mercantile Advertiser, May 19.

Very Late from Europe.

By an arrival at New York, sixteen days latter than before received, we have been furnished with the very important Intelligence that WAR has been declared by France against Spain, and that hostilites had actually commenced.

The French army passed the Bidassoa or the 7th of April. On the preceeding day, a part of the French troops were, for the first time, engaged with a small corps of French and Italian refugees who had taken up arms in the cause of the Spaniards

The Duke d'Angouleme issued the followclamation and order of the day previous to the French army entering Spain:

" PROCLAMATION:

The Duke d'Augouleme, General in Chief of the army of the Pyrenees, to the Spaniards.

"The king of France, in recalling his am-bassador from Madrid, had hoped that the Spanish Government, warned of its dangers, would have returned to more moderate sentiments, and would cause to be deaf to the counsels of benevolence and reason. months and a half have elapsed, and his Majesty has waited, in vain, for the establishment, in Spain, of an order of things compatible with the safety of the neighbouring states.

"The French Government has supported two whole years, with unexampled patience, the most unmerited provocations. The revolutionary faction, which has destroyed in your country the royal authority, which holds your King captive, which demands his for-feiture, which menaces life and that of his family, has carried beyond your frontiers its guilty efforts. It has tried every means to corrupt the army of his Most Christian Majesty, and to excite troubles in France, in the same manner as it had succeeded by the contagion of its doctrines and its example to reduce the insurrection of Naples and Piedmont. Deceived in its hopes, it has invited traitors, comdemned by our tribunals, to consumate, under the protection of trium phant rebellion, the plots formed by them a gainst their country.

"It is time to put an end to the anarchy which tears Spain in pieces, which deprives her of the power of giving peace to her colo nies, which separates her from Europe which has interrupted all her relations with the august sovereigns whom the same intentions and the same wishes unite with his most Christian Majesty, and which compro mise the repose and the interests of France.

"Spaniards! France is not at war with "Spaniards! France is not at war with your country—spring from the same blood with your Kings, I can only desire your independence, your happiness, and your glory. I am about to cross the Pyrences at the head of a hundred shousand Frenchmen, but it is to support the Spaniards who are the friends of order and the laws; to aid them to liberate their captive King; to raise again the altar and the throne; to rescue the priesthood from proscription, men of property from spoilation, and the whole nation from the do-minion of a few ambitious persons, who, in proclaiming liberty, prepare only the slavery and ruin of Spain.

"Spannards! Every thing will be done for you and with you; the French are and will only be your auxiliaries. Your standard alone shall wave on your cities. The provinces traversed by our soldiers shall be admin-istered, in the name of Ferdinand, by Spanish authorities. The most severe discipline shall be observed. Whatever is required for the service of the army shall be paid for with the most religious exactness. We pretend not to impose laws on you, or to occupy your country. We wish nothing but your deliver-ence; when we shall have obtained it, we shall return to our country, happy in having preserved a generous people from the calamities generated by a revolution, and which experience has taught us but too well to apuniciate.

SPAIN.

The Bayonne papers acceived in England, to April 13, state that three battalions of the garrison of St. Sebastians, on the 9th advanced a considerable distance from the place when they met the French, and exchanged a few shot, but finding themselves greatly inferior in number, they fell back to the town; where a flag of truce soon appeared, and in the name of the Duke of Angouleme summoned the place to surrender for Ferdinand 7th. The governor replied he would not surrender the place without an order from Ferdinand. The flag retied, and a fire was commenced on the French troops—60 were killed or taken prisoners, and 500 wounded or taken prisoners. The French prisoners taken, were put on board a French brig in the port. The town was deserted by the inhabitants.

was much more serious than the official bulletin states. We cannot yet have Spanish accounts, but reports from the army make the loss of the French troops 300, instead of about 20."

The Royalists Junta has issued a proclamation, replete with all the common places of servility, and repeating, nearly in the same words, the memorable maxim of the French King's speech, that all popular privileges must emanate from the good pleasure of the King, as the source of popular rights.

"Yesterday his Royal Highness the Duke (PAngrulege, buring been to recognitive St.)

d'Angouleme, having been to reconnoitre St. Sebastian, and having distributed crosses of honor to the soldiers who had distinguished themselves in the first affair before that foress, his appearance was observed from the fort: a 24 pounder was immediately ordered forward: but the Spaniards were so slow in mounting it on the battery, that the 'rince had already set off on his return for Emani, when they fired it off. It was most fortunate when they fried it off. It was most fortunate that they were so slow, for the ball passed right through a house and struck a platoon stationed behind the building, precisely on the spot where his Royal Highness had been distributing the decorations; fifteen men were killed or wounded.

BRIDGETON,

SATURDAY, MAY 24, 1823.

AFFAIRS OF EUROPE,

The arrival of the Leeds from Liverpoo New York, has presented to the American public, most important intelligence-no less than an assurance which removes all doubt, that the terrible disasters which have for so many ages convulsed the world, are again about to be realized, and that HOSTILITIES HAD ACTUALLY TAKEN PLACE BEmind is now on the stretch of enquiry, every imagination is rioting in anticipated speculations on the probable issue of the storm Spain.

From the accounts received it will be was shed, took place between Frenchmen, and Frenchmen with a few Italians who had espoused the liberal and constitutional side. This is perhaps, ominous of future events. we believe a majority of the French nation is opposed to the present war and the legitimates of France. Should the invading French armies in Spain not meet with their expected success-not realize the glory of conquest which has always so much intoxicated her-upon which she now so much plumes herself, and which will only secure the fidelity of the French soldiers to the Bourbon cause, she will find the bayonets of her own soldiers turned against her-and the army which was destined to suppress liberty, will be the foundation of its throne, and the palladium of its duration

The world has, for a few years past, been blest with a greater degree of peace than has been recorded in the annals of the world since the advent of the Messiah. It is now again interrupted by an association of desto under the impieus title of the bely all ance. This triad of tyrants have laid their plans so as that they may be able to subdue, by piece-meal, the nations, and governments, and people who adopt or advocate liberty and the equal rights of man! To impede the march of liberty, seems to be the only design of their union. France, though not one of the party, is notwithstanding, identified with them, and acts in concert. Their plan appears to be to make every nation among the legitimates, regulate the concerns of its neighbour when they encroach on the ancient rights of kings, or attempt to substitute liberty for despotism. The remainder stand behind the scenes, to be ready with their aid, if such be required, that they may secure to a certainty, the operation of their projects. In the present invasion of Spain, they do not appear to regard Portugal as an object of concern. They wish to make that nation the object of a new congressional meeting of sovereigns, and a new war. They think one nation at a time quite sufficient, and when they restore Ferdinand to the despotic rule which he had before the adoption of the consitution, they will doubtless make him a party with themselves, hold a meeting in some of the Spanish cities, and oblige their cousin Ferdinand to take his neighbour of Portugal in hands, in order to br's g him to the standard of legitimacy.

At the present time, owing to the want of room we are compelled to be brief in our soon be able to give more attention, and find more space for this topic. We cannot, however, refrain from observing here, that in the present struggle for liberty, the salvation of Portugal, and Spain, and perhaps the preservation of liberty throughout the continent of were twice repulsed.—His Royal Highness wation of liberty throughout the continent of will, to-morrow, distribute on the spot the rewards due to the conduct of the most dis-union of those kingdoms, and their making common cause against their enemies. If they quarters of the army will be to morrow, the 10th, at Ernami, and on the 11th, at Telossa.

The Journal des Debats states, that on the to be the next victim of their policy, they will find themselves egregiously deceived. Liberty is a favorite plant with the people of all nations-it is a plant which perfumes the air, destroys the unhealthy vapours which emanate from despots, and makes the atmosphere where it grows, so pure that they cannot live in it. They will destroy it seed and root if they are able. The determined and energetic opposition of those two powers, for a short space, will secure them friends even in the purlieus of the tyrants that oppose them. We believe that Spain and Portugal, lately the weakest and poorest of all the European kingdoms, will, aided by Heaven and a good cause, arise in the greatness of her ancient strength, and prove that 'the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong," but that they are able with determined valor to command victory. The Spanish nation has given a new world to Europe—a new world where liberty has taken up a permanent abode. Perhaps she is desc tined also to give to her America, a new and regenerated Europe, disencumbered from the shackels of slavery, and displaying a blaze of light from the throne of Freedom, at which the inhabitants of the dark regions of the East will fire their torches, and illuminate the world.

> Lewistown Convention .- The Democratic Republican Delegates from 25 or 30 counties. of the state of Pennsylvania, who were dissatisfied with the Harrisburgh caucus in favor of Mr. Shulze, met at Lewistown, Mifflin county, on Thursday the 15th inst. and nominated ANDREW GREGS, of Centre county, as their candidate, to be supported at the ensuing election. The present governor, Mr. Heister, having declined.

Mr Gregg is a man of good republican principles, of excellent morals, and sterling integrity. It is said his greatest fault consists in his want of firmness and decision of character. This is a fault in any man, but a still greater one in a governor. The man who sits in the gubernatorial chair of Pennsylvania should have an unusual degree of in-TWEEN FRANCE AND SPAIN. Every dependency of mind and firmness of character. He has many queer chaps to deal with, over whom, if he does not keep a watchful eye and a heavy hand, they will govern him. which is now about to burst on devoted The governor of Pennsylvania has extensive authority, and there is an unusual degree of friendliness in the minds of its citizens to seen that the first skirmish in which blood help him out in sharing it and bearing its burthen. The late governors of that state have, perhaps too frequently, been the sport of their dependents Conscious of their mants, they allowed themselves to be guided by men, who, because they were not responsible, were the less careful of their own honor, and their superior dignity. This has lessened the importance of that dignified station-This has introduced intriguers and knaves into offices which men of principle only should hold. We hope Mr. Gregg may be elected, and after being so, may cleanse the Augean Stable of the accumu lated filth with which it is surcharged, retain in office men of virtue and good morals, discharge from it all who are unworthy, and regenerate and restore that flourishing state to that dignity and splendor from which it has greatly fallen, but of which it is highly susceptible, until it shall be held as a model, as it is now the centre arch of the Union.

> It would give us plea sure to be able to collect and forward to Mr. Wiggins of Trenton, a large subscription to the work he is about publishing, as may be seen in our columns. Such a work is valuable inasmuch as it is not only useful, but of a rare class. Publications of this description are too few. It is difficult to estimate their real worth.

We would also be willing to sell for Mr. Wiggins a quantity of his Three Discourses, of which we have also copied a notice. That on Slander, is invaluable. We have seen copious extracts from it in the Philadelphia National Gazette, with high eccomiums on it. It alone, is worth more than is asked for the whole, and may be of real benefit to every condition of society. It may be seen us our office.

We extract the following from an article published in the Trenton True American of of the 10th inst, over the signature " Nova Cosanea. Want of room only prevents our publishing the article from which it is extracted, entire; as it alludes to a gentleman of this state, (Mr. Southard,) of whose talents and virtues we have no less an opinion than Nova Cœsarea himself.

"It seems to be admitted on all lands, that New Jersey has no intention at present to offer any of her cititens for the first office in the nation. I to not pretend to know who will be the successful candidate; but the fact of two or three of the gentlemen held up for that station, appears to be so nearly balanced, that I conceive the! present to be a favorable moment for in Philadelphia, for breaking into & us to present our claims to our sister states. If urged with moderation and manimity, I think they can hardly fail to be recognized and allowed. With this view, I take the liberty of submitting the nan of a citizen of our state for the office of Vice-President : it is that of Gen. EBENEZER ELMER, of Comberland county. In the glorious ten m days of 776, he devoted the prime of lbs.! his youth to the service of his country in the tented field; and the second contest for independence found him amone the detenders of his country at the head of a brigade of citizen soldiers, at a time of life when most men are a verse to the bustle and turmoil of a camp, and sigh for the sweets of retirement and ease. General Elmer is a gentleman of learning and talents, of stern republican principles, and has filled within the last thirty years, a great variety of official stations in the government of the state and the union. Blessed originally with a sound constitution, a life of activity and temperance has preserved for him a degree of vigor, both mental and corporeal, uncommon for its years, and amply sufficient for the discharge of all the ordina ry duties of life.

Rich Neck Estate,

Late the property of William Frazer Require, deceased.

The subscriber offers for sale at New Castle, on Saturday the 7th day of June next,

At the house of Henry Steele, the above valuable property, to the farmer arid grazier, situate on the river Delaware, in Appoquinimink Hundred. New-Castle county, Delaware, commonly known to the public by the name of Morris Liston's or Rich Neck. It contains 300 acres of plough land, Of thereabout, of the best soil, and from 70 to 100 of woodland of the best quality, and about 200 acres of private em banked meadow adjoining the same well ditched and drained, and now becoming daily in fine order. Also with the above farm, 250 acres of prime Marsh, called Rob's Island, situate at the lower side of, and adjoining Black Bird Creek, at the mouth of the river Delaware, and other marsh of the sub scriber to tlie south. This Island is at tached, arid belonging to a body of marsh now nearly embanked, by the Black Bird Marsh Company. All of his marsh is calculated for any kind of grass, grain, flax or hemp. This prop. erty enjoys great advantages as a stock larm, for cattle, sheep and hogs. The late owner was well known as a cele story brick dwelling house, with kitchen, dairy house, smoke house, corn cribs, stables, hay house, barn, and a large yard boarded in, with gates, racks, troughs, &c. The situation of the house is the highest between New-Castle and the Capes, commanding an elegant view of the highlands of Chrisnana, and an unlimited view down the bay. There is Not a more healthy spot to be found any where; enjoying a pure air from the sea, and fine pure wholesome water. It is but 11 miles below fort Delaware, and but that distance from the contemplated route of the Chesapeake arid Delaware canal, 58 miles from Philadelphia by water! and 53 by land, 10 from Smyrna, and 7 from Cantwell's Bridge. It commands a fine market with the shipping, river eraft, and the two last mentioned towns. An abundance of 1sh and pine at all seasons. Mr. Newel, the gentleman who lives on the property, will show it to any person, desirous of seeing it. The terms are one half the purchase money in October next, & the residue in two pearly payments with interest.
