TAKE NOTICE:

THAT my wife LYDIA' did; on the 1st of May, 1817, leave me without any just cause. This is to forwarn all persons trusting her on my account, as I am determined not to pay any debts of her contracting.

EPHRAIM GARTON. June 23.—4t.

CAUTION.

WHEREAS the Subscriber, in the year 1814, was prevailed upon by a man by the name of Asa Douglass, to consent to endorge, two Notes, amounting to two hundred and sixty dollars, in order to enable said Douglass o draw the amount out of the Camden Bank;—and the Subscriber being unacquainted with the manner of doing business in Bank, and confiding in the ho-nesty of said Douglass, he become the Drawer in-stead of the Indorser—and said Notes have since been taken out of Bank by means of a new in-dorser, and said Douglass has assigned, or attempted to assign them away.

Therefore this is to forwarn all persons from taking an assignment on said Notes, the Sub-scriber never received any value on account of said Notes, and is determined never to pay the amount, nor any part of them, unless compelled gy due course of law.

The whole conduct of said Douglass, in this affair, is a complete fraud and deception, to which he is prone, as is evident by the frauds that he has since practised on other people of this neighbourhood.

AN ACT

Making provision for the location of the lands re-served by the first article of the treaty of the ainth of August, one thousand eight hundred and fonrteen, between the United States and the Creek nation, to certain chiefs and warriors of that nation, and for other purposes

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Reesentatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that the chiefs and war-riors of the Creek nation, who, by virtue of the first article of the treaty of the ninth of August, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, be tween the United States and that nation of In dians, are entitled to a reservation of land which shall include their improvements, shall be authorized to locate said reservation in the following manner viz:

Every such chief or starrior shall and may select such four quarter sections, or such number of quarter sections and fractional parts of sections, or exceeding six hundred and forty acres of land, as have been or may be surveyed, in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, and as shall include their respective improvements. And in case such chief or warrior shall have resided at one place, and cultivated a farm or plantation at another place; he may, at his option, select such quarter sections and fractional parts of sections, as shall include his said separate improvements: Provided; however, That the land , so selected, shall enure to such chief or warrior so long only as he shall continue to oc-cupy and cultivate the same; and in case he shall not have abandoned the possession shall, on his decease, descend to and vest in his heirs in fee simple, reserving to the widow of such chief or warrior, the use and occupation of one-third part of said lands during her natural life.

Sec. 2. And le it further enacted, That when any chief or warrior, so entitled to a reservation of land at the time of the signing of the treaty, shall have since died, and left a widow and child or children, who has or have continued to occupy and cultivate the said land, they 'shallhave the right of selection in the same manner as the original claimant would have, if he were living; and the title of the lands so selected, shall be a fee simple title in the child or children, beserving to the widow, if any, the use and occupation of me-third of the land during her life: Provided, however. That the said child or children shall not have the power to alienate the said lands, except by devise, until each and every one of them shall have arrived at the age of twenty-five years.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the descendant of any native Creek Indian, male or fe-male, who at the commencement of the late war with the hostile Creeks, occupied and cultivated a farm or plantation; who continued friendly to the United States during that war; and who after the termination of hostillities, returned to, and has continued to occupy and cultivate the said farm or plantation, shall be entitled to a reservation of two quarter sections of land, to be selected in the manner stated in the first section of this act; which lands shall enure to them so long as they shall continue to occurv and cultivate same; and, on their death, shall descend, in fee, to their children; and on failure of children, shall revert to the United States; reserving, however, to the husband or widow, as the case may be, the right to occupy and cultivate one-third part of the lands during their natural lives. Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the child or children of any chief or warrior of the Creek nation, who resided within the limits of the said ceded country at the commencement of the late Creek war, and who was killed or died in the ervice of the United State, during said war, or who has since ded of wounds received therein shall be entitled, without payment, to a reservation of so much land as such chief or warrior would have been entitled to, had he been living at the time said treaty was signed; which land shall be located in the manner prescribed by the first section of this act. Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act, the agent of the United States for the Creek nation shall immediately proceed to take such evidence as each and every person who may be entitled to lands under the provisions of it shall be able to adduce in support of such title The evidence shall, as far as practicable be taken by the agent on the land occupied by such clamant; and in all cases where he shall be of opinion that the claim is a valid one, the quarter sections, including the improvements, shall be designated, as provided for in the first section of this act and the agent shall return to the Secretary of the Treasury, the evidence taken in each case (reserving acopy thereof together with the names of the claimants, and the numbers of the quarter of the President, shall finally decide on the wall

dity of such claim. 🚟 📆 Sec. 6. Ind be it further enaced, That the back shall transmit, without delay, to the register of the land office for the district in which the dail may be, a statement of the names of the claims and, and the numbers of the quarter section. which have been reserved for each claimant, and the register of the land office shall not offer any such quarter section for sale, unless specially di-rected otherwise by the Secretary of the The

Sec. 72 And be it further enacted. That the gent of the United States shall be allowed in addition to his salary. the sum of three dollars per day, whilst occupied in performing the di-ties assigned to him by this act; and he shall be authorized to employ a surveyor in those cases. where it may be necessary, for the purpose of ascertaining the quarter sections of land to be at orted to each claimant.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That the opences which shall be incurred in carrying in effect that act, shall be paid out of any money in the treasury not other wise appropriated. H. CLAY,

Speaker of the House of Representatives in JOHN (CARLAND).

FROM THE SALEM REGISTER, JUNE 21

Interessing news from Oronoco. By the brig Augusta, Lee, which arrivd vesterday from Angostura,* which place she left on 20th May we have the fol-lowing interesting intelligence:—

Phat on the 10th of March, the royalists about 2000 strong, under Morales, who had proceeded from Angostura, to attack the patriots at a place called the Missions, 106 miles below Angostura, were totally defeated and cut to pieces, only six men scaped including Morales, and 2 other fficers. All who were not killed on the feld of battle were afterwards shot, and among them, Sheruty, formerly Governor of Angostura.

After the battle, the patriots, under Gen. Pial approached Angostura. where they threw up a breast work, upon which the guns of the fort could not be brought to bear, and immediately commenced firing upon the town within half musket shot, and the firing had been continued day and night. They had made several attacks ipon the place, but without great loss on either side, One of the officers had gone for cannon, more effectually to attack the

The Patriots had completely surrounded the place and the inhabitants and garrison were reduced to the most wretched and pitiable condition for want of proviflons. Great numbers had actually died distarvation. Horses, mules, jackasses, gs, &c. hal been consumed, and the Goernor himself, had actually paid S dollars for a Cat!

A great number of the inhabitants had Angostura, and fifteen hundred, prinmally women and children in the most pitiable condition, sailed the same day the Augusta left, in Spanish vessels. The men were not allowed to depart Our informant thinks it impossible that the place could have held out more than two or three days after he left, unless relieved in some unexpected manner.

Guayana was still in possession of the Royalists, it was strongly fortified, and no Probability of its being taken except by starvation.

Starvation.
Fitzgerald, the Governor of Angostura. who had been arrested and sent to Carracas on suspicion of treachery, had been ordered back, and was still in command of the place. The most sanguinary measures were adopted at Angostura in regard to suspected persons. Eight men were shot at one time about the first of May, on suspiscion of being frendly to the revolutionary

The forces of the patriots were estimated at from four to six thousand men, all mount-ted, and they had complete possession of the surrounding country.

The Tiger of this port was the only American vessel at Angostura; she carried out a small quantity of provisons, which were immediately taken possession of by the Government.

The magnanimous effort the people of Mexico are now making to establish their equal rank among the independent nations of the earth, justly excites the interest and adiniration of the lovers of liberty through out the universe; but the people of no nation can feel the same deep concern in the success of this revolution as the citizens of this fortunate republic. America being the only nation among those who have character and rank, that deny the European doc-trine of " Legitimacy," must view, with mingled emotions of joy and satisfaction, the successful-struggles of this people, our Mexico, situated as it were in the centre of the world, between its two great seas, great in extent of territory, possessing a soil and climate inferior to none, at present having a population of seven mil-lions of people, and having the ability to haintáin a population of more than twenty times that number, is not to be viewed without consideration by the world, much less by the United States, whose interest are more allied with her's by nature and reason, than those of any other nation. How then can we look on with indiffe rence at her exertions? The justice of her cause no friend of human rights can deny She has a thousand times stronger inducements to resist the Spanish monarchy than we had that of the English. It is unneces sary to state to any person of information t is abject condition in which the colonieof Spain have been held for more that three centuries: It is however known to all who have read, that the Africans transported to the West Indies have not end at ed greater oppression.

But if considerations of this characte will not operate upon us, others of a dif ferent one may if we refuse aid to M xico it is a fact known to the writer of this article, ascertained from a correct source, that another government, the inveterate enemy of ours, stands ready to detach her affection from us by rendering that assistince her imperious circumstances demand. This fact, it is believed, is also in possession of the American cabinet. But from a source entitled to the highest respect it is learned, however, that these struggling republicans are not without great intrinsic resources. From Doctor Robinson,* a native of our country, distinguished by the zeal and ability he has displayed in their cause, and who has just arrived from that country, we learn by conversation with him, the following to be the substantial condition of that new republic: The republican forces, eighteen thousand strong, well organized and disciplined, and under the direction of efficient leaders, occupy the heart of Mexico-covering an extent of territory which embraces a populatian of one million of souls this section of country is under the government of a general congress regularly selected by the inhabitants-that their military enterprises are mare successful than liereforore - and that a proper supply of arms done would give them complete success. The Dr. says, moreover, that they have taken the United States for their model-that they respect and admire the great Washington and the leaders of our Revolution as we ourselves do-and that nothing but dire necessity would induce them to allow any other than this nation to aid them.

* Lest some of our readers may not be acquainted with the character of that gentleman, it may be well to publish from the Journal of the lamented General in the following words:—"The Doctor marched alone to Santa Fe, and as it was uncertain whether this gentleman would ever join me again, I at that time committed the following testimonial of respect for his good qualities to paper, which I do not at this time feel any disposition to efface. He has had the benefit of a li-beral education, with having spent his time, as too many of our gentlemen do, in colleges, viz: in skimming on the surface of sciences without even endeavoring to make themselves masters of the solid foundation. But Robinson studied and reasoned; with these qualifications he possesses a liberality of mind too great ever to reject any hypothesis because it was not agreeable to the dogmas of the schools; or adopt it because it had all the eclat of novelty-his soul could conceive great actions, and his hand was ready to achieve them; in short, it may be truly said, that nothing was above his genius, nor nating so minute that he conceived it entirely unwofthy of consideration. As a gentleman and companion in dangers, difficulties and hardships, I imparticular, with the expedition generally, owe much to his exertions. Pike formul, p. 195.

It is believed that so early as the year 1812, this gentleman determined on embarking in the Mexican service and that there then was an un-

Mexican service, and that there then was an understanding between him and General Pike, that so Soon as the war with Great Britain closed, their destinies should be united in that service. tlas! the fortune of war has determined other-rise. Pake is no more—and Robinson continues o esert himself alone in that great cause. His etermination is inflexible—he never will aban. on it whilst there exists a ray of hope for its uccess—of which at present there is every prosect. He is on a visit to his family in the Misouri terri ory, whence he shortly returns to dexico, where may glory and success attend hie laudable efforts.

The brig Agenoria, which arrived on Wednesday, at quarantine in our harbor, left St. Salvador, May 8. Every thing re-mained quiet at that place, and no resistance had been made to the royal government, though there were symptoms of disaffection and jealousy between the govern-ment and the people. No disaffection however was shown openly. Nothing of any importance had been heard from Pernambuco; except that the blockading squadron were not very vigilant in performing their duty, and do not appear to have given much trouble to the republicans. No news had been received at St. Salvador of any revolution at Rio Janeiro; so that the report from Basseterre, Guadalope, May 15, said to be direct from St. Salvador, that the people had " risen and driven off the Prince Regent," cannot be true. Dreadful Occurrence.—A dreadful oc-currence took lace at Wighton on Sunday se'nnight.—Anne Graham, the wife of W. Graham, blacksmith, murdered two of her children by strangulation, left another for dead, and afterwards cut her own throat! The following particulars will clearly show that the wretched woman laboured under strong mental derangement. On the preceding day she dressed herself, and took her children for a walk, a circumstance with her very unusual on such a day. She went with them to a small stream of water, and looking into it remarked that "it was not deep enough, and they would come another time." On Sunday morning, sne strongly persuaded her husband to go to church; and when she laid out his Sunday clothes, she gave him a black silk handkerchief, instead of a white one; he inquired the reason, and asked her to let him have a white one. His wife immediately said to him in a singular tone-What would you not wear it if we all lay dead?" Graham took no particular notice of this wildness, and went to church, As soon as he was gone, she called the children into the house and locked the door. After washing them, she gave the eldest (a boy about nine years of age) at infant to hold, which was sucking at the breast, and then took one of the other chil. dren into "an adjoining room, put it to death by strangling it with her hands, and then laid it into a bed. She returned for another, which she strangled in the same manner. When she came for the third, the boy before mentioned inquired what she was doing, and, observed; he thought she was killing the children. She replied, that she would let him soon see what she was doing with them, arid went into the room with the third, which she also strangled. The boy being alarmed laid the infant on the floor, and got into the blacksmith's shop by a door which communicates with the dwelling-house, where he concealed himself under the large bellows. His mother followed him into the shop, and searched hut could not find him. After she return. ed into the dwelling-house, the boy escaped from the shop by drawing the bolts which secured the great door. He met his father as he was returning from church, and told him the dreadful tale; assistance was immediately procured, and on entering the house, the unhappy woman was found with her throat dreadfully cut, without any signs of life-the infant was lying on the floor unhurt; and the other three children were found in bed, two of them quite dead; the other showed symptoms of life, and by proper care has been much recovered.

Boston, June 12. By the brig George, which arrived at this port on Tuesday from Havre, we have received Paris papers to April 28. The king on the 27th, has defar recovered his health as to attend divine service at the chapel of his palace. This was the first time that he had gone abroad for some months.

A paragraph dated Naples, April 5th, mentions, that very interesting discoveries had lately been made at Pompei. Near the temple, a rectangular public edifice, of 260 palms in length and 120 in breasth, with a portico of 50 columns in the interior has: been discovered, and in it several remarkable pieces of statuary and other works of art. It is hoped that this enclosure may prove a productive mine of objects of art.

Castlebar, April 23.—A dreadful murder, which, (from every thing we have been able to collect of the former character and habits of the perpetrator,) we are: disposed to attribute rather to the unfortunate dominion of unrestrained passion than to any murderous intention or pre-conceived malice, was committed in Westport; at about one o'clock on the morning of Fri-day last. Bernard Duffy, a cooper by trade and a publican also, being in the act of beating his wife, his son a lad about seventeen or eighteen years of age, interfered to prevent her from receiving injury, when the infuriate and wretched father seized a knife, and plunged it into the boy's right breast, which immediately produced his death... The unseasonable hour in which the crime was committed favoured the offender's escape from the vigilant police of Westport, who have been since actively engaged in pursuit of him.

My dear Husband-You have left me, your dutiful and affectionate wife, and taken to your bo-som Mrs. Elizabeth Atkins, of Petersburg, (Va.) a woman less virtuous, less affectionate, less industrious, and less economical than myself.-When your reason has power to exercise itself, which I expect will succeed that glow of fascinated amour with which you have forsaken me, I hope you will return to your lawful wife. Your lavish presents to your harlot, Mrs. Akkins, and neglect of business by your attention to her, have incurred debts, that will exhaust all the property you have left behind But when I took you first, you were pennyless and I made you rich; you were comfortiess and I made you happy—Return and repent-That kind Providence, which festered our first exertions, I pray may continue, and we may be restored to happiness and plenty.

Under the denomination of Nervous Disorders, are included several diseases of the most dangerous kind, and are so various that a volume would hardly suffice to complete a description of them. It pervades, with its baleful influence, the whole nervous spstem, writhing the heart with inexpressible anguish, and exciting the most dreadful suggestions of horror and despair. To this demon have thousands fallen a sacrifice, in the direful transports of its rage.

The most common symptoms at its commencement are weakness, flatulence, palpitation, watchfulness, drowsiness after eating, timidity flashes of heat and cold, numbness, cramp, giddiness, pains in the head, back and loins, hickup, difficulty of respiration, and deglutition, anxiety, dry cough, &c.

The Vegetable Nervous Cordial is also a great antiscorbutic medicine, and is of infinite service for purifying the blood, and curing those foul disorders of the skin which commonly appear in the form of Scurvy, Surfeit, Red Blotches, Carbuncles, Ulcers, &c. &c. Adose of Dr. Dyott's high-ly esteemed Anti-Bilious Pills, taken occasionally with this medicine, proves of additional service in the last mentioned case.

DR ROBERTSON'S Patent Stomachic Bitters.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.

These celebrated Bitters are composed purely of vegetables, of the most innocent, yet specific virtues, and are particularly recommended for restoring weak constitutions, cleaning and strengthening the stomach, and increasing the appetite; they expel worms in all ages, but from their simplicity and safety, are a most natural and effectinal vermitige, when administered to children; they are gratefully warm, and pungently aroma-tic; they are extremely serviceable in all seasons, but particularly on the approach of warm weather, when bilious habits experience such total loss of appetite; they are also a certain preventive against those complaints so common in the spring and fall seasons, such as Intermittent Fevers and Agues, long autumnal Fevers, Dysente-

They possess, moreover, the property peculiar to themselves, of qualifying and ameliorating those inflammatory pernicious qualities inherent in ardent spirits, and so often fatal when taken on an empty stomach, and converts them into an wholesome, pleasant, and invigorating stomachic.

From their celebrity as an antidote against the scurvy, they are particularly calculated for seafaring persons, to whose attention they are particularly recommended; they are a very pleasant Cordial Bitter, and are recommended for the use of taverns, as well as private families.

DIRECTIONS

For taking Dr. Kobertson's Stomachic Bitters.

The dose for a grown person afflicted with the fever and ague, is three tea-spoonsful, to be taken in a glass of port or white wine, a little before the ague fit comes on, and regularly three times aday, morning, noon and night, half an hour before meals.

Persons afflicted with worms, loss of appetite.

weakness of the stomach, &c. &c. may take two tea-sponsful twice a-day in a glass of wine, in the morning before breakfast, and half an hour before dinner.

For children, subject to any of the above com plaints, the dose is one tea spoonful, to be given twice or three times a day, in a little wine or tea, sweetened with honey or sugar. For the Fever and Ague, a malady so prevalent throughout the Southern States, and so afflicting to families residing in all low countries, redun-dant with marshes, lakes, stagnated pools, rivers, &c. &c. these celebrated and universally esteemed Bitters, have surpassed any remedy ever administered; numberless instances of their efficacy have been testified; after the barks, and various other extolled prescriptions failed, they proved successful, to the admiration of those who experienced and witnessed their happy

These Pills, if timely administered, will remove the causes which commonly produce Intermittent, Remittent, Bilious and Yellow Fevers Bilious Cholic, Pleurisy, Dysentery, Worms, Bi-lious Vomiting, Flatulence, Indigestion, loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Epeliptic Fits, Hypochondria, and Hysterical affections, foul Stomach, Colds and Coughs, Asthma, Scurvy, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism and Gout.
They are sparticularly serviceable in Female

Disorders, and especially in the removal of those obstructions which are the great source of their complaints at certain periods; they possess this eminent advantage over most other purgatives that while they operate gently, they produce nei-ther costiveness, debility, nor too great excite-ment, whenever there is a predisposition to a disease arising from marsh effluvia, or a too co-pious use of ardent spirits, or a vitiated state of the bile, they are sure to relieve.

They are highly recommended to travellers by sea and land, as they may be made use of with the utmost safety without a change of diet, or exercise. They will be found peculiarly benefaial in the prevention of disorders incidental to hot climates, they deterge and cleanse viscid humours, open obstructions, promote the secretion of good bilk; operating as a cathartic, and powerful diuretic and diaphoretic.
