Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any lot, or part of a lot, or other real estate whatsoever, in the City of Washington, heretofore sold, or hereafter to be sold, for any tax due to the corporation of said city, or laid or assessed under the authority of the said corporation, pursuant to the powers vested in it by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement, or of any other act, passed, or to be passed, shall not be redeemed, so as effectually to reinstate and invest the proprietor, or his legal representatives, in and with all his former estate, as fully, and effectually as if such sale had never been made, upon payment, or tender of payment, being made, at any time within two years from the time of such sale, by such proprietor, or by his heirs, executors, or administrators, or by any other person, in his or their behalf, to the purchaser of such lot or part of a lot, or other real estate, his executors, or administrators, of the money actually paid by him for the same, with the addition of interest, at the rate of ten per centum per annum, to be computed from the time of the payment of the said money by such purchaser; and if such purchaser, his executors, or administrators, have known place of residence within the District of Columbia, or be not to be found at such place of residence, at the time such redemption is desired to be made, or if such proprietor, his heirs, executors, or administrators, or any other person in his behalf, shall offer to pay such money, with interest as aforesaid, and such purchaser, his executors, or administrators, shall refuse to accept the same, and give a sufficient receipt and acquittance in writing for the same, by way of redemption as aforesaid, then, and in every such case, it shall and may be lawful for such proprietor, his heirs, executors, or administrators, or other person in his or their behalf, to make the redemption aforesaid, as effectually, by paying the said money, with interest as aforesaid, to the clerk of the circuit court for the county of Washington; whose duty it shall be to make report of the same to the said court, immediately, if in session, otherwise on the first day of session then next ensuing, and to deposit the said money for safe keeping, and pay the same over to such purchaser, or his legal representatives, under the direction of the said court: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to effect the right of any persons now entitled, under any law heretofore enacted, to receive any higher or other premium than an interest of ten per centum per annum as aforesaid, upon the redemption of any real estate, other than vacant and unimproved lots heretofore sold for taxes, nor to affect the vested legal right of such person to hold such real estate, clear of such right of redemption, at any time less than two years from the time of the sale, such legal right being vested prior to the passing of this act; and that the said court may require such higher or other premium to be paid, by the person redeeming, to the purchaser, in any case wherein it shall appear to the said court that a vested legal right to such premium existed before the passing of this act.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the several collectors of the said taxes, or such other officer of the said corporation as shall be charged with the duty of selling any such real estate for taxes, shall, within ten days after every such sale, transmit to the clerk of the said court, an accurate report in writing, certified by the clerk or register of the said corporation, containing a particular description of the property sold, the amount of taxes for the raising of which it has been sold, the names and residence of the person or persons to whom such property belongs, or to whom such taxes have been assessed, and of the purchaser or purchasers, the amount of the purchase money, distinguishing how much has been actually paid, and the clear surplus, if any, coming to the proprietor, which report it shall be the duty of the clerk of the said court forthwith to record, among the land records of the said county, and the expense thereof shall be paid by the party who redeems the same.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following persons, viz: William Prout, William Marbury, Samuel N. Smallwood, Timothy Winn, and Adam Lindsay, for any three of them, be, and are hereby constituted a board of commissioners, with full power and authority to open or cause to be opened, books for receiving and entering subscriptions, for raising a capital stock, not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars, in shares of one hundred dollars each, for the purpose of erecting a bridge between Eleventh and Twelfth streets East, in the City of Washington, over the Eastern Branch, to the most convenient landing on the opposite shore, and making such other incidental works, and defraying such other incidental expenses, as shall be required by this act, and deemed necessary to expedite by the company, hereinafter named, the time, place, and manner, of receiving and entering such subscriptions, to be ascertained by the said board of commissioners, and duly advertised in such newspapers as they may deem expedient: Provided, That the time [to be fixed upon, by the said board of commissioners, for opening books for receiving said subscriptions, shall be on or before the second Monday in March next; and that no subscription shall be received, unless the sum of ten dollars be first paid in to the hands of the person authorized to receive the same, on each share subscribed for.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That whenever two hundred of the said shares shall be subscribed for, all persons who may then be, or hereafter may become, the actual holders or proprietors of shares in the said capital stock, either as subscribers for the same, or as legal representatives, successors, or assignees, of such subscribers, shall be, and they are hereby made and created a body politic and corporate, by the name and style of "The Navy Yard Bridge Company;" and by that name may sue and be sued, plead and be pleaded, and do and suffer all acts, matters, and things, which a body politic and corporate may lawfully do and suffer; and may have a common seal, and the same may break and alter at pleasure, and may make all by-laws, rules, and regulations, and ordinances, for the good government of said company, and for carrying into effect the objects of their institution, so that such by-laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances, be not repugnant to the laws of the United States in force within the District of Columbia.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That at all elections for directors and officers of said company, each and every member of the said company shall be entitled to as many votes as he or she may hold shares of the capital stock of said company, and may vote by proxy; executed under their hands and seals, in the presence of two witnesses; and that when two hundred of the said shares shall be subscribed for, as aforesaid, or as soon after as may be, the said board of commissioners shall call a meeting of the company, at some convenient place in the city of Washington, giving at least three weeks' notice thereof, by public advertisement, in one or more newspapers published in the District of Columbia; and the said company shall then and there elect, by ballot, five directors and a treasurer, and such other officers, agents, and servants, as the company may think fit to appoint; and as soon thereafter as a board of directors shall be formed, they shall elect one of their body to be president of the said board of directors; and all the powers, authority, and duties, whatsoever, by this act vested in the said board of commissioners, shall cease and determine, and thenceforward become vested in the president and directors for the time being of the said company; and the said board of commissioners shall account to the president and directors of the said company, at their first meeting; for all moneys received by them or their agents, on account of subscriptions, and shall immediately pay over the same to the treasurer of said company. And the said directors and treasurer shall hold their offices, until the first Tuesday in October next, and until a new election shall be made by the company. And there shall be holden on that day, and annually thereafter, on every first Tuesday in October, a meeting of the said company, for the purpose of electing five directors and a treasurer, and other officers and agents, as aforesaid.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the amount of each share shall be paid by instalments of ten dollars, at such time as the said company shall direct; and in case any instalment or instalments shall not be paid at the time appointed by the said company, or within ten days thereafter, the same may be recovered in the name of the said company, by warrant from a justice of the peace, if the amount due shall not exceed twenty dollars, and if the sum so due shall not exceed twenty dollars, the same may be recovered by motion in the name of the said company, on ten days' notice, in any court of record in the county or district where the debtor should be found; and in all such warrants or motions, the certificate of the clerk of the said company, authenticated by the president, under the common seal of the said company, shall be conclusive evidence of the defendant's being a member of the company, and prima facie evidence of the amount due on the shares held by such defendant; and if such instalment be not paid within sixty days after the time limited for the payment of the same, and advertisement for four weeks, successively, in one or more newspapers published in the District of Columbia, the president and directors of the said company may proceed to forfeit for the use of the company, the share or shares of the person or persons so failing to pay.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That the said company be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to erect and build, or cause to be erected and built, over the Eastern branch, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets East, in the City of Washington, and the land of William Marbury, on the opposite shore of the said Eastern Branch, a good and sufficient bridge, at least twenty-five feet wide, of sound and suitable materials, and in all respects adequate for the passage of travellers, horses, cattle, and carriages, with a secure railing on each side, at least four feet high.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That the said company shall cause to be built, and kept and maintained in good repair, a convenient and sufficient draw, or passage way, at least thirty feet wide, in the said bridge, over the main channel of the Branch, for the passing and repassing of vessels, by day and by night. And the said company shall, at their own cost, and without toll, cause the said draw or passage way to be hoisted, or removed, without delay, for the passage of all vessels with masts, that are unable to pass under the same; and if, through the unskillfulness or negligence of the person or persons employed by the said company, to hoist or remove the said draw, any vessel shall be unjustly or unreasonably hindered or delayed, or shall be damaged in her hull, spars, or rigging, in passing the said draw, the said company shall be liable to the master, or the owner or owners of such vessel, for damages, at the rate of six cents per ton of such vessel, for each and every hour such vessel shall be hindered or delayed, and for all damage in her hull, masts, and rigging, as aforesaid, to be ascertained and recovered, in a special action on the case, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That as soon as the said bridge shall be erected and built, and completed as required by this act, the said company shall be entitled to demand and receive, by their proper agents, servants, or officers, tolls at the following rates, viz: For each foot passenger, three cents; for each person and a horse, six and one quarter of a cent; for carriages, wagons, or carts, seven cents for each wheel, and three cents for each horse, mule, or ox, drawing the same; for every other horse or mule, three cents; for cattle, three cents per head; for hogs and sheep, two cents each: Provided, That no toll shall be exacted at the said bridge, for the passage of any wagon or carriage laden with the property of the United States, or for the drivers thereof; or for the passage of any troops of the United States, or the militia of any state, or of the District of Columbia, marching in a body, or any cannon, or military equipments, belonging to the United States: Provided also, That if the number of two hundred shares shall not be subscribed within one year from the time of opening subscription books by the commissioners, as hereinbefore directed; or if the said bridge be not erected and built, and finished and completed, by this act, within three years from and after the first day of October next; or if it should remain at any time thereafter, so out of repair, for two years, as to be unsafe for travelling; then, and in that case, all the powers, authority, privileges, emoluments, and immunities, whatsoever, by this act granted to the said company, shall cease and determine, and shall become absolutely forfeited.

AN ACT supplementary to the act, entitled "An act to provide for the prompt Settlement of Public Accounts."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the third day of March next, it shall be the duty of the second auditor of the Treasury, to receive all unsettled accounts arising out of India, in the exception of those appearing in the Indian trade, and examine the same, and thereafter certify the balance, and transmit the accounts, with the vouchers and certificates, to the second comptroller, for his decision thereon: Provided, That if, in the opinion of the United States, the public interest and convenience would be promoted by assigning all, or any part of the said accounts to the third auditor, he shall be, and hereby is, authorized to make such assignment accordingly.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the auditor charged with the examination of the accounts, as aforesaid, to keep all accounts of the receipts and expenditures of the public money in regard to them; to receive from the second comptroller the accounts which shall have been finally adjusted, and to preserve such accounts, with the vouchers and certificates. PROPOSALS

For Publishing by Subscription, a work ENTITLED,

A View of the Arguments For and against taking Life, in civil Society, for Murder,

WITH AN APPENDIX BY I. THOMSON.

THE object of this treatise is to exhibit the arguments which are adduced, on which the different opinions of men are formed. The author has endeavored to present all the arguments of both sides of the subject, in as concise a manner as could conveniently be done.

The Appendix is designed to illustrate the large consideration in the work, by showing wherein confinement for grand larceny has failed of producing the beneficial effect contemplated.

The price when bound and lettered in a neat duodecimo volume will be one dollar.

To this will be added the essays of the celebrated late Dr. Rush on the punishment of death for crimes and the effects of public punishment for grand larceny.

RECOMMENDATION.

I have read a manuscript treatise of Mr. A. Thomson, on the subject of capital punishments. The arguments are judicious and well arranged, and the deductions from them are, in my opinion, just. It is well calculated to disseminate correct principles on the subject, and I therefore recommend it as worthy of general perusal and patronage.

Dutchmen, or Switzers, or Hessians, Hanoverians, or any thing rather than Englishmen, who have done such deeds!—KILL men, guard, unresisting! Greivous God! WOMEN too, disfigured, maimed, cut down and trampled by DRAGOONS. Is this ENGLAND? This a CHRISTIAN LAND? LAND OF FREEDOM! Can such things be, and pass by us like a summer wind unheeded? Forbid it every drop of English blood, in every vein that does not claim its owner bastard. Will the gentlemen of England, support, or wink, at such proceedings? They have a great stake in their country. They hold great estates, and they are bound in duty and in honor, to consider them as retaining fees for the part of their country; for upholding its rights and liberties. Surely they will not lengthen awake! And find they have done to perform! They never can stand idly by, as lookers on, while bloody HOUNDS rip up their mother's womb! They must join the general voice, loudly demanding justice and redress; and public meetings throughout United Kingdom, to put a stop, in its commencement, to a reign of terror and of blood; to afford a consolation as far as it can be afforded, and legal redress to the widows and orphans mutilated victims of the unfeeling and barbarous outrage. For this purpose I promise that a meeting shall be called in Westminster, the gentlemen of the Committee will arrange, and whose summons I will hold myself in readiness to attend. Whether the penalty of four meetings will be DEATH, by military execution, I know not; but this I know, a man can die but once; and never better, than in vindicating the Laws and Liberty of his country.

Excuse this hasty address. I can scarcely tell what I have written. It may be a libel; or the Attorney General may call it just as he pleases. When the seven bishops were tried for a libel, the army of James the Second, then encamped on the Goslow Heath, for supporting arbitrary power, gave three cheers on hearing of their acquittal; the king, startled at the noise, asked, "what's that?" "Nothing," was the answer, "but the soldiers shouting at the acquittal of the seven bishops." "Do you call that nothing?" replied the nursing tyrant; and shortly after abdicated the government. 'Tis true, James could not inflict the torture on his soldiers; could not tare the living flesh from their bones with a cat-o-nine-tails; could not then slay them alive!—Be this as it may, our duty is to meet!—and England expects every man to do his duty! I am, gentlemen, most truly and faithfully, your most obedient servant

Commodore Roger's visit to the eastward, is understood to have objects of greater importance than the examination of candidates for promotion in the navy. We understand that this experienced and scientific officer left Washington for the purpose of making a complete inspection into the state of our naval preparations in the Atlantic ports north and east of the Metropolis; and that which cannot fail to have a highly beneficial effect upon those branches of the naval service which his tour will extend to the lakes. — Messenger.

The Brig James and Isabella, Bourne, from Martinique, has arrived at Kennebunk. Capt. B. writes as follows.

Wells, Oct. 17.
I arrived at Kennebunk yesterday, from Moran Bay, Martinique, from which I sailed on the 23d September. On the 26th I touched at St. Bartholomews, where I obtained a list of American vessels that went on shore during the hurricane of the 20th Sept. but unfortunately I left it on board; however, I can remember the names of all the northern vessels, viz. schrs. Harmony, (late Moulton, who died 26th Sept.) of Portland; Oscar, Barnes, of Castine; Teazer, Francis, Newburyport; brig Masou's Daughter, Motan, Providence; the remainder belonged to Baltimore, North Carolina Alexandria, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. At Morgan, the gale was not severe; but as I passed St. Pierre's, I saw 4 or 5 vessels on shore. At St. Barts, it must have been dreadful beyond the conception of any person who never saw the place, and since the gale it is said to have been the most destructive of any in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Every vessel in port, without a single exception, went on shore; most of which will be totally lost. A great many houses and stores are blown down, and a number of lives lost. So sudden and violent it came on, that a great many saved not any thing from their houses, and with difficulty escaped with their lives. The streets were filled with ruins of buildings, broken furniture, masts and spars of vessels driven ashore; hen coops, boats, &c. and so very impetuous was the wind, that it actually blew over one of the Keys, or Rocks, situated off the harbor which has been standing, perhaps ever since the creation of the world. St. Martin's has suffered equally with St. Barts; 6 buildings (sugar houses are all that were left standing, and it was said 117 lives were lost there, and a few at Auguilla, which suffered more in comparison than either St. Barts or St. Martin. St. Kitts received a great deal of damage. Antigua had not been heard from. I left at Moran, brig Charles, Gross, of Bath, to sail in 20 days. Spoke 28th, off Aanea a schr. from Baltimore for Porto Rico. Lat. 39. long. 74; schooner Hannah, of Portland, from St. Johns, for Frederickburg, South Shoal of Nantucket. By N. 7 leagues, brig Leopard from Boston for Philadelphia, off Dominica was boarded by the Patriot privateer Harriot, and treated politely.

We observe a mistake in the Baltimore Telegraph, which may spread further if it be not corrected, respecting the time of meeting of the Congress. It is to meet at the Constitutional period, the first Monday in December; and not on the third Monday in November, as stated.

The Farmer's Festival.
Scarcely a paper reaches us from the northern and western part of this state, that does not contain the proceedings of some agricultural society, which promises increased wealth to the country. It is impracticable to republish the particulars, or even cursorily to notice them all. In Oneida county, we perceive, a premium was awarded to Reuben Gridley, for raising 72 bushels each on two acres of wheat. And in Otsego, to Martin Hayden, for raising on one acre of Indian corn, 125 bushels and 26 quarts; and to David Taff, for producing, on one acre of potatoes, 600 bushels. Twenty one cows, of David Barton, of Oneida, produced up to the time the society held their meeting, 3107 pounds of butter. It shows an improvement in agriculture highly creditable to the country.

On Tuesday last the wife of Mr. Thomas Small, fisherman, at the lower end of the town, was safely delivered of FOUR LIVING CHILDREN!!! three boys and a girl. Copenhagen, Aug. 24.—An infant of 2 years of age looking out of the window let fall from its hand a piece of bread, and wishing to catch it pushed half of its body out of the window and fell. At this moment, a girl passing heard the child cry, and seeing its danger, placed herself under the window, spread out her apron and received her safe and sound. What makes this more singular is, that this is the third child of that family, which has since two years, fallen from windows, without receiving the least injury.

The Ventriloquist, Charles, lately visited a woman in Albany, who made a profession of telling fortunes. While in the act of telling his, with great mystery and circumstance, he caused a voice as if from the dead, to emanate from beneath her chair, warning her of her falsehood, which frightened her completely out of her prophetic faculties. She fled in dismay, while the ventriloquist and his friend walked leisurely away, enjoying the confusion and discomfiture of an impostor.

From the Catskill Recorder.
A Tale of other Times.
TIM FINNIX was a cooper wight,
From Aberdeen's fam'd city:
That place he left, because 'twas quite
A pity,
That he should work
Like any Turk,
And gain so little by it:
His appetite was really very good,
But then he seldom could
Get aught but Glasgow capons* to supply it.
He had heard travellers tell
That in New-England folks liv'd well,
On good fat pork and bacon hams,
On oysters, lobsters, crabs and clams,
Pumpkin pies, roast beef and mutton,
Enough to satisfy a glutton.
"If folks live there so well, why may not I Live there as well as they? By George I'll try."
So having said, from his native land he parted,
Nor did he bid "good bye," before he started:
This made some of his friends to fret,
And here I could
Assign a reason good,
'Tis simply this, he had got in their debt.
Well, safely o'er the sea he got,
And 'twas his lot
In ———— to arrive
When witches were going on full drive
Their wicked course,
And when the blue laws were in force.
Here did our traveller stop,
And hired a cooper's shop:
Put up, to put all competition down,
"TIM FINNIX, LATE FROM LONDON TOWN."
This got him soon the work of all the places,
While yankee coopers fell into disgrace;
A pack of sorry knives,
Scarce fit,
To split
Hoop-poles or staves;
But Mr. Finnik did his work so handy,
He was at butter Arkins quite the dandy.
Thus Tim was making money fast,
But pleasant weather cannot always last.
In enter'd Dean Samp one day
And said "friend Tim, I pray
That of this barrel on my cart
You'd make a tub."—"I'll make you two,"
Said Tim, and without more ado,
He with his saw the barrel cut apart,
And said, "Sir, there's a sample of my art."
"Your art! Black art!" said Deacon Samp,
"You sorcerer, you scamp!
There, o'er of one you've made a brace,
And to your face
I tell you plainly, such craft
Is neither more or less than witchcraft."
Poor Tim
Began to quake
And shake
In every limb;
And well he might
Be in a fright,
For in that place it never had been known,
That favor was to witches shown;
And though he was not of the female gender,
Some one might swear he was the witch of Endor.
Off bled the Deacon with the information,
Leaving poor Tim in tribulation.
Says he "no man of sense
Would stay
Sorto to be burnt, and in my own defence
I'll run away."
Northward he steer'd, to Quebec sae e did get,
There, his poster are coopers yet.
Nought further of the matter can I show,
For nothing further of it do I know.
