FOREIGN.

From the Boston Palladium, Nov. 6.

London dates to the 23d, and Gibraltar files to the 13th Sept. have come to hand since our last.

The Gibraltar papers contain some Turkish versions of recent war events in Greece Proper, and the Morea.—They confirm the statements before given, that notwithstanding the Greek accounts of their triumph at Thermopylae were fabrications, they have succeeded in a quarter remote from Thermopylae, in not only checking the Turkish army which had penetrated into the Morea, which had captured the Greek capital, had advanced to the Gulf of Napoli, and had threatened to overrun the whole Peninsula, but also compelling them to a hasty retreat towards Corinth, suffering great losses, and the deprivations usually attending an invading army in a depopulated country.—There are no accounts, however, that the Turks had been driven from the capital. Both sides continued to be charged with the perpetration of great enormities.

According to the Spanish accounts, he civil wars continued to rage in several of the provinces, and the bands of insurrection, though continually repressed by beating and fling, still continued apparently undiminished; nor did there appear to be any diminution of carnage and rapine.

MALTA, Aug. 9.—We have accounts from Arta and Livadia, in Greek Proper, and from the Morea.

The Sulist garrison of Kliapha, continued to hold out against the Turkish attacks.—A corps of 3000 Greeks! under command of Capt. Alonzo Bozzari, which marched to the relief of the Sulist garrison was attacked by the Turks, and after several sanguinary contests, was totally routed. On this occasion, a body of Germans, commanded by Gen. de Normann, (called Philhellensists) was totally destroyed; the ren. and a few followers, only escaped. Capt. Bozzari also escaped: and all those who fell into the hands of the Turks were executed at Arta, on the 8th July.

The Turkish Seraskier, Chnurschid Pacha, was assisted in overrunning Greece Proper, by the Greek Chief Ilysses, who being mortified, that the Congress had sent commissioners to take command in his corps, first put them to death, and then co-operated with Chnurschid Pacha.

The Turkish grand fleet which has arrived at Patras from the Archipelago, consisted of 84 sail, and had 15,000 Turks on board.

It appears by letters from Dr. Morrison, who was at Canton, in China, in January and February last, that he had been under the apprehension of being obliged to leave that place, in consequence of an unhappy dispute between the Chinese and the English. He had, indeed, actually embarked on board the Waterloo. But his last letter stated, that an accommodation had taken place, and he was then in expectation of returning to Canton. His acquaintance with the Chinese language was of considerable importance in the late affair—for the English were at that time deprived of all native assistance, and would have been liable to dangerous imposition from the verbal messages of the Hong Merchants, who are the medium of communication with the Chinese Government. Dr. Morrison was requested by the Capt. of the Tonpaz to translate some of his papers, and to attend when the Chinese officers were on board—which, though no part of his duty on behalf of the Hon. East India Company, he consented, for the public benefit, to do—and we have reason to believe was of essential service in the pacification which happily took place.

By some communications which Dr. Morrison has had with Ochostk, he begins to indulge a hope that a way may hereafter be opened for missionary efforts in Japan. Thoughts are also entertained of the practicability of making translations of the scriptures in the aboriginal languages of the Cochinchina and of the Siamese—undertakings of most important magnitude.

ance until a late hour, when he informed that body of a conspiracy which had been planned against the present Government, and which was to have been carried into execution that evening; but fortunately he had received timely intimation to prevent it, by ordering the arrest of Don Gregorio Tagle, (formerly Secretary under Puerdyun) with several others. He requested and obtained the appointment of a committee of investigation, and strongly urged the necessity of exemplary and capital punishment.—Our agent, John M. Forbes, Esq., had an interview the morning after with Rr. Rividavia; and in his dispatches which are brought by the Cutb & Mary, he has no doubt given he particulars to his government.

Philad. Gaz.

A useful hint—An article has found its way into some of the city papers in which it is stated, that on the evening of the day on which Lechler was executed, twenty-eight persons were committed to jail for divers offences at Lancaster, such as murder, larceny, assault and battery, &c. besides which, many gentlemen lost their pocket books, but the pick-pockets escaped, or the jail would have overflowed.

The Lancaster Journal corrects the statement, reduces the number of commitments on Friday night to fifteen, all as vagrants; and states that on the following day but seven persons were committed; one for murder, one for larceny, and the rest as vagrants. We have heard, continues the Journal, of but one pocket book being lost, and with the exception of the case of murder, we do not believe that the same number of people ever continued together the same length of time without the perpetration of more crimes.

Thomas Burns, who was stabbed by Wilson on Friday evening, died on the following Monday morning. Previously to committing this murder, Wilson had an affray with a man named Michael Bird, of Lampeter square, whom he wounded so severely that his life was despaired of.

Falling Bridges.—On the 19th inst, the Syngac Bridge, over the Passaic River, in the neighborhood of Patterson, N. J. fell down. It was a new bridge, and but just completed, a team or two only having crossed it. On the Wednesday following (23d inst.) the people of the town of Patterson were alarmed by a tremendous noise, which proved to be occasioned by the falling of the Bridge over the Passaic at that village. This was also a new structure, of one arch, which extended the whole width of the River, a distance of about 90 yards, and it was expected it would have been completed in a week.

The second session of the 19th congress of the U. S. commences on the first Monday of next month.

The legislature will probably be occupied (as the Trenton Federalist) two or three weeks longer before they bring the session to a close. Applications for three new banks are before him; the division of the county of Sussex is also a subject of importance, and that of making a canal through the state, at the public expense, is one that requires not only great deliberation, but also very serious consideration.

From the 7th to the 15 ult. one hundred and ninety-nine deaths occurred in New Orleans.

Thirty-seven of the crew of the Peacock, were sick on Craney Island on thursday week. Dr Samuel R. Trevelled died on Monday. The death of Capt. Searcy was announced some days ago.

Henry Hollingsworth has been appointed cashier of the bank of North America, in the place of Henry Druiser, deceased.

Rhode Island.—A committee, consisting of E. R. Potter, A. Robbins and the attorney general of the state, have been appointed in the general assembly of Rhode Island, to bring in a bill in amendment of the act relative to crimes and punishments, substituting whipping, cropping, airt branding, for the usual punishment of fine and imprisonment.

The steam-boat Virginia, which arrived at Norfolk on the 2d inst. spoke a schooner the day before her arrival, in 15 days from New Orleans, the captain of which stated that the Yellow Fever was raging at the latter place with great fury; that there was no appearance of its abatement; and that large numbers were daily consigned to the tomb.

N. Y. Com. Adv.

The treasurer of the trustees of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, acknowledges the receipt of $1289 during the month of October. Mr Matthews the comedian is making great sport in New York. There was good sleighing at Montreal on the 30th ult. Edward Johnson has been elected mayor of the city of Baltimore for the ensuing term of two years.

From the N. Y. Mercantile Advertiser, Nov. 1.

A dreadful shipwreck occurred on Long Island, in the gale on Sunday night. A gentleman arrived in town last evening from Babylon who states that parts of the wreck of an apparently old ship, came ashore near Fire Island Inlet on Monday morning, with parts of the cargo, such as pieces of crates and coal. The bodies of ten men habited as seamen, had also drifted ashore, and another dead body was seen in the surf. From the description we could obtain, it is much feared the above wreck was the Ship Savannah, captain Coles, which sailed from Liverpool for this port on the 18th of September, and was last seen on Sunday, by the British ship James, which arrived here on Wednesday.

The U. S. frigate Congress, capt. Biddle, still remains in Hampton Roads, waiting for sailing orders. Immediately on the receipt of which she will put to sea.

Elizabeth City, N. C. Oct. 29.

A rattlesnake was killed lately in this county, by a negro man belonging to Ambrose Knos, esq., measuring five feet two inches and a half in length, nine inches and a quarter in circumference, and having 19 rattles. This enormous reptile had crawled very near the door of the negro, (whose cabin was near the woods,) where his children were playing in the yard when they accidentally discovered him.

WESTCHESTER, (Pa.) Oct. 30.

Melancholy Accident.—On Saturday last, Mr. Jos. James, of West town, Chester county, was returning from Philadelphia with his team; a gun was fired near the road which frightened his horses. Mr James at the moment was on the shafts, the horses suddenly sprung round, threw Mr. James under the wheel, and he was instantly killed.

The Roman Catholics in Philadelphia are making arrangements to establish a paper for the promulgation of the doctrines of their church.

Vermont Products.—At the agricultural fair, for Windsor county, gen. Z. Curtis took the premium for corn, being 118 bushels and 31 quarts on an acre and five rods of land. Abel Barton, esq. raised 104 bushels 11 quarts on an acre. A cow of W. Johnson yielded 93 lbs. 10 oz. of butter between the 27th of April and 27th of September, averging 9 pound per week.

The Editor of the Newburgh Index has been presented with two potatoes, one weighing three and the other two pounds. They are of the kind called English whites. Two such potatoes we should say would be enough for the Editor's dinner.

A Vermont paper, says on the authority of a traveller from Canada, that the stage passed between St Johns and La Prairie, on the 31st of October, on runners. The snow was so deep, that loaded sleighs were passing to and from the aforesaid places with ease.

We received yesterday from a friend in Salem a present of a pear, which was one of six brought into that market, weighing 3 1/2 lbs. and which measures 13 inches in circumference. It grew in the orchard of Mr. Nathaniel Burnham, of Essex, on a young tree from which he gathered eleven bushels.—Boston D. Adver

THE WHIG.

BRIDGETON,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1822.

Our subscribers who are in arrears, are informed that in a few weeks the second volume of the Whig will be completed, & that as the week after next the Court of General Quarter Sessions will be held in this place, they may have an opportunity of sending the respective accounts due us by some of their neighbours, if they do not themselves come to town.—Several of our friends are in arrears for the Whig from our commencement—we hope they will not neglect to call on us.

The editors of this paper have received from Boston the North American Review for January, April and July 1822, and also a supply of the New Monthly Magazine, latest numbers.—Subscriptions for these works will be received at the office of the Whig. Of the New Monthly Magazine it is unnecessary to speak. It is well known and therefore requires no commendation. The North American Review is acknowledged by the literary world to beat the head of every American work of the kind, and in our opinion will not suffer by a comparison with the best London and Edinburgh periodical reviews. It is certainly deserving of patronage, and we would recommend it to such of our Fellow citizens as are desirous of acquiring a correct taste in reading, and wish to promote real merit, and American literature.

Singular—A lady in the vicinity of this place, who is about sixty years of age, the other evening while in bed felt a tickling in her throat. She raised herself up, and to obtain relief gave a very hard cough; when on doing so, a worm was ejected from her throat six inches in length. We do not recollect of ever hearing of a circumstance of the same kind with so aged a person.

In the proceedings of Monday, (Nov. 4.) an error of the compositor escaped our notice, which the reader will please correct. In place of "Mr. Sayre from council" read "Message from" &c.

Extract of a letter to the Editors of the Whig, dated,

TRENTON Nov. 13.

"You will observe that a joint meeting is to be held to-morrow. Mahlon Dickerson will probably be re-appointed Senator for six years, and Charles Pasker, Treasurer for one year. It is supposed we shall be ready to adjourn in about two weeks."

The Hon. WILLIAM LOWDES, has gone to Europe on account of his health. Previously to doing so he resigned his seat in Congress. His vacancy is to be supplied by a new election.

NUM. JOHN RANDOLPH of Roanoke, has returned from Europe.

The New York Advocate states, that a letter from a gentleman in Curacao dated Oct. 16, informs, that the Governor of that Island, by authority from the government of Spain, has opened its harbour, and that the Island is now free for the vessels of the independent provinces of South America and Columbia under their own respective flags. This is considered equivalent to a declaration of independence on the part of Spain in their favour.

The latest accounts from the Brazils state, that the Prince Regent, is to be crowned Emperor of Brazils on the 12th of Oct. and that great preparations were making for that purpose, Accounts from Mexico are unfavorable to Iturbide. It is thought his reign will be of short duration.

The expense for the last year is stated by the committee appointed to settle the accounts, at $6,442 45; being an average of $64 07 per annum for each convict. It is therefore apparent that the labor performed cannot be very profitable.

COMMUNICATION.

The committee, of which Lucius Q. C. Elmer was chairman, to whom was referred a petition from certain inhabitants of the county of Cumberland, praying the state to take measures for the better preservation of the oyster beds in Delaware Bay within the jurisdiction of the state, or to grant the right of using them to a company, respectfully report:

That it satisfactorily appears from the petition and otherwise, that the natural oyster beds situate in Maurice river cove, and the other coves and small bays of the Delaware bay within the limits of Cumberland county, are of great extent, and abound with oysters of a superior quality.

The demand for them in the markets of Philadelphia, and New York being very great, fleets of boats have been annually employed from both these places in gathering them. Of late years they generally make use of the dredge, an implement that destroys more than it catches, and soon breaks up the beds. Fully sensible of the necessity of remedying this evil, and securing at the same time to the citizens of the state a preference to the enjoyment of their natural privileges; the legislature, on the 9th day of June 1820, passed an act entitled, "an act for the preservation of clams and oysters." This act imposes penalties on all persons using dredges, and forfeits the boats of citizens of other states found catching oysters in our waters. Under its provisions the inhabitants of the township of Maurice river, in the county of Cumberland, took measures for preventing the further use of dredges, and made a seizure and prosecuted to condemnation, two boats owned in Philadelphia.—The owners and the oystermen employed in the business (and 1400 men are stated to gain their subsistence by it) aware of the advantage New Jersey would gain if they can be restrained in what they claim as their common right free from all legislative control, immediately formed an association, and commenced prosecutions in Philadelphia against every individual who aided in enforcing the law, and happened to be called by his business to the city.

Five suits were thus commenced, and are still pending. One has been tried, and a verdict rendered for the defendant, in conformity with the opinion of the learned judges who fully confirmed the rights of this state to protect those beds, and approved of the manner in which the law had been enforced.—The plaintiff excepted to this opinion, and has removed the cause into the supreme court of Pennsylvania, where it

...for a final adjudication. Another of the causes has been removed by the defendant, at the request of the township, into the circuit court of the United States, considering it an appropriate tribunal for the enlightened and impartial decision of the interesting questions involved in it.

In the prosecution of these cases the township has already expended considerable sums of money, and must necessarily expend more. The rights of sovereignty and territory of the state are at stake, and depend upon the proper enforcement of a public law in which all have an interest. Your committee therefore conclude that provision should be made for defraying it at the public charge.

A law was passed at the last session making an appropriation, which the governor is authorized to apply in part for the above purpose. But inasmuch as no precise sum is designated for the particular object presented by the petitioners, & as it seems proper that the legislature should form an opinion on the merits of their case, the committee respectfully offer the following resolution.

Resolved, that the committee be instructed to bring in a bill providing for the re-imbursement of the reasonable expense incurred and to be incurred by the township of Maurice River in defending the oyster beds in Delaware Bay.

The appearance of our wharves yesterday was truly gratifying. The arrivals of coasters with produce; ships getting their births for loading, with the hoisting of their jolly tars; vessels loading the immense quantity of goods in bales, boxes and casks stowed along the wharves, the great number of persons employed in various ways, the rattling of the carts, and the general confusion, gave life and spirit to the city, and evidence of the immense business that is transacted in this great commercial emporium.

THE PLAGUE IN TURKEY.

VIENNA, Sept. 5.

We mentioned yesterday the alarming progress which the plague was making lately in Turkish Albania. Letters which we have received to-day from the frontiers of Dalmatia contain the melancholy confirmation of this intelligence, and add that the contagion had spread also in Epirus and the Moesia. All the inhabitants of Joannina have left that city and dispersed themselves about the surrounding country. This has probably given rise to the report that all the inhabitants of that city had been swept away by the contagion. Two of the fugitives who came to Delvino, where they died the day after their arrival, brought the plague into that town. All the Ionian Islands are placed under a quarantine, with respect to Corfu. In all the ports of the Adriatic the quarantine regulations are enforced with the more rigor in proportion as the danger of infection is greater from the fugitives who crowd from all parts of the Greek Continent to the Ionian Islands, especially to Zante.

ZANTE, Aug. 7.

The combined Turkish fleet, consisting of line of battle ships, frigates, sloops and twigs in all about 60, sailed by this on the 2d inst. and are at Patras.

IRELAND.

We have an account of the trial of the "real captain Rock" for the murder of a young gentleman named Hoskins. The wretched man, wearied with blood, gave himself up to plead guilty. The murder he confessed was committed for hire, without enmity to the individual to be slain, and this account shows that, when the victim was on his knees begging for mercy, one of the party fired a pistol down through his body. The frequency of these things is appalling; and, if we could believe that the wretched state of the people was not produced by the tyranny and neglect of their government, we should say that Ireland was the best field for British missionaries in the world—but they wish to go further from home. The Irish are a noble, kind-hearted people—faithful to their friends; but indiscriminate in their resentments; easily won by kindness, and led by their feeling to the noblest or basest of deeds: the fittest of all people, perhaps, to be led from semi-barbarism to the light and benefits of the gospel, teaching forbearance and the performance of good offices, one to another. We speak of that class which is denominated the peasantry, who have no interest or lot in the welfare of the state, conditioned, as they are—kept down by physical force, and resisting it by all the means, and any means, within the scope of their intellectual powers or personal strength.

GREECE.

The struggle between the Greeks & Turks becomes every day more interesting. At the pass of Thermopylae, where Leonidas and his gallant band, in the brighter bays of Greece, immortalized themselves, have their descendants, taking their stand, doubly hallowed the spot by the achievement of a victory over the infidel oppressors of their country; and these first triumphs have been followed by others equally brilliant. Even though there should remain some apprehensions, as to the final emancipation of the Greeks, it cannot be denied, that they have evinced a patriotic and fearless devotion to the cause of freedom, which entitles them to the sympathy and admiration of mankind; while it fixes a deeper stigma of disgrace on those European potentates, who, with the power, have not had the generosity to shield so noble a people from the destruction meditated by their merciless and oppressive invaders.

LONDON, Sept. 28.

Accounts from Berlin of the 15th mention the rumor of a marriage between the king of Prussia and the divorced queen of Sweden, who was formerly the consort of Gustavus the Fourth; and it is added, in corroboration of this report, that his Prussian majesty, in his way to Verona, will pass through Carlshuise, the usual residence of the ex-queen and her son, and that he will be attended by M. de Witzleben and Al. Albrecht.

The family of General Moreau are about to raise, in the cemetery of Bordeaux, a vault, where are to be deposited the mortal remains of his lady, who died in that town, and the heart of the general, which has been brought into France. The monument will be covered with garlands of ivy and cypress.
