SELECTED POETRY.

STANZAS.

There is a word that reaches the heart,
Which all have said, and all must say;
Which tears the bands of love apart,
And drives the dream of bliss away—
And e'en when youth all buoyant springs Fresh into life, and gaily sings Light as the wood-lark on the spray—That dreaded word may then be said, Sad as the requiem o'er the dead.

A word which makes us sadly own That all our dearest joys are vain—Which bids us trace our steps alone Along the flinty path of pain;
Which uttered by the parting breath, When the soul feels the chill of death,
And ne'er can glow with life again, Commands the tears of love to flow O'er what hath been its joy below.

A word that breaks the fond caress Of youthful hearts in happy hours—Which makes the world a wilderness Devoid of verdure—sun—and flowers—The faded leaves bestrew the ground, The deadly ivy creeping round Shadows the ruined bowers—Where once the rose and lilly grew,
And sparkled in the morning dew.

A word which severs every tie We fondly hoped would last for aye—Which dims the light of beauty's eye And chases all her smiles away;
That paints affliction on her brow,
And wrings with grief her breast of snow;
What is the word which all must say?
Oh! every heart and tongue can tell It is that fatal word—Farewell.

WOMAN.

WOMAN, what art thou? say who can!
Or art thou bliss or curse to man?
Woman what art thou? say who dare!
Art thou Heaven's guide or folly's snare.
When man was lone, he then was pure;
Had stainless joy for then no lure Of guilty passion bar'd his way To heaven and its felicity.

Then Woman came with angel air, We hop'd to guild our solitude, But ah! she only pois'd a snare To keep us from our rectitude.

Dazzling she came in Beauty's mould, Too heavenly thought for human;
Alas! the event was sadly told That she was only—woman.

There's not a groan of pale disease—There's not a shriek of pain—There's not a sigh that sorrow heaves, Or ought that doth complain—

For bitter penitential tear—The anguish of remorse—For the last agony of fear

And pain that ends our course, Of which fell woman's not the source.

—LOVE LADY

Miscellaneous Selections.

The only things in which we can be said to have any property, are our actions. Our thoughts may be bad, yet produce no poison; they may be good, yet produce no fruit. Our riches may be taken from us by misfortune, our reputation by malice, our spirits by calumny, our health by disease, our friends by death. But our actions must follow us beyond the grave; with respect to them alone, we cannot say that we shall carry nothing with us when we die, neither that we shall go naked out of the world. Our actions must clothe us with an immortality loathsome or glorious: these are the only titles of which we cannot be disinherited; they will have their full weight in the balance of eternity, when every thing else is nothing, and their value will be confirmed and established by these two sure and stateless destroyers of all other things—Time and Death.

In every country there will be more than a sufficient crop of ladies and gentlemen growing up like thistles among corn.

AN IRISH EMIGRANT.

We find in the Sheffield Iris, edited by the poet Montgomery, a file of which has been put into our hands by a friend, many interesting articles for our miscellaneous department. We present our readers with the following extract of a letter from an Irish emigrant, dated at St. Louis, Missouri, October 14, 1820, to a person in the county of Down, Ireland, who was about to emigrate to his country—M. Y. Columbian.

"In an excursion I lately made, I found many people comfortably situated, but much greater numbers just commencing new settlements in the woods, and for want of friends labouring under many difficulties. Amongst others I conversed with a compatriot, with whom I spent a night at his dwelling. In order to come to his sentiments, I praised his fine plantation, and failed not to remind him that he never could have had such a one in Ireland. I eulogised the laws of the U. States, &c. "Arrah in troth, said he, you know it better than me, and you tell the downright truth. May be I hav'n't now 200 acres of good land for two dollars the acre, and that while grass grows anti water runs without paying a farding's rent for it either, nor a half penny more of taxes than just two dollars every year. And for this tax the governor and the rest would take off their hats to me, to get the vote it entitles me to. And as I was saying, may be I hav'n't plenty of cows and hogs; I can drink my tay and coffee, and wear a good coat, and make my whisky, if I like, and no gauger to set his nose near it. Or if I don't like to make my whisky, I can buy it for three shillings the gallon. I can make the tobacco grow in my garden like kail or cabbage; and I can make my sugar of the sugar trees that grow wild on my land. Besides I can, while in the humour of shooting, take my gun (without a licence) and shoot wild geese and turkeys, and Geese, and rabbits, and squirrels, and boil them, and eat them. And then this is such a good country for fruit, that Adam had not better apples than I have, so that I can make cider of my own. But the best of all is I would not take off my hat to the Governor, nor Mr. Colonel, nor Mr. Captain neither, for I have no free land and am now an American, aye, and the best of them. But indeed to tell you the truth, I suffer a good deal in the beginning in cutting the trees down, and being unhappy and thinkin' on home and all that. For three years after I came to this country, when the hot summer sun was set in me a shakin' in the ages just like a quaker. Oh! often would I say, Musha the surra take him—no, but the Lord forgive him, for he needs, that made me come to this burnin' country among the ages and fever, the woods and the bears, and the pain tell Indians. Oh! it was't so at home. There I had a cow, and a pig, and a garden, and a day. Work was nothing to me, for after workin' hard from sunrise to sunset, I could then go home at night whistlin' like a lark, I could then go to a fair, a wake or a dance, or I could spend the winter nights in a neighbor's house crackin' the jokes by a turf fire. If I had there but a sore head, I would have my neighbor within every hundred yards of me that would run to see me. But here every one can get so much land, and generally has so much that they call their neighbors that live two or three miles—Oh! surra take such neighbors, would I say. And then I would sit down and cry and curse him that made me leave home. To be sure I am wiser and happier now, and can suffer much in the beginning, my state is now much better than ever it could have been in poor Ireland. But to tell you the naked truth, after all, I can hardly forgive the person that advised me to come here. I dream of nip little house and garden, and would sometimes almost change all I have for them again." You here see the nature of an Irishman's heart, the power of habit, and the strength of his earthly attachment."

BORROWING NEWSPAPERS.

Messrs. Editors—The practice of borrowing newspapers has always been a just cause for most serious complaint, both to editors and subscribers. The object, therefore, of this communication, is to request that you would either take upon yourselves to expose its meanness, or place in a conspicuous part of your paper the following instance of its indelicacy, so that the person for whom it is intended, may learn how unpleasant it is to be interrupted in the perusal of a paper by his importunate compliments to borrow it.

I have been for sometime a subscriber to your paper, during which I have scarcely been able to read three columns before my neighbor sends to me his compliments for the loan of it, and this too, not only before I can possibly have time to peruse it myself, but before one of my family has time to read a line. Nothing but an unwillingness to flatter refuse him, and thereby offend a family who are, with the exception of this offensive practice, in every respect agreeable, and the hope that others may improve by the hint, could induce me to make this communication.

A SUBSCRIBER.

[Our correspondent has imposed on us the duty of presenting his compliments to his neighbor, and requesting him to subscribe to our paper; to which we add a similar request of our own, and as many compliments as may be necessary to procure us a new subscriber, and protect our old one, from a repetition of the practice of which he so justly complains.]—Edit. Union.

A whimsical account how the famous Dr. Swift became Dean of St. Patrick's.

The Dean was at one time in as low circumstances, as any poor Poet who lived in a garret or cellar could be, but kept the first company occasionally, and was much admired for his classical knowledge.

It happened that a certain Lord paid his addresses to a young lady of rank, and fortune. This nobleman had for three years a young girl in keeping. The lady he courted said, "Sir, I cannot think of marrying you until you have got the lady you were familiarly connected with a husband. This nobleman who had the Deanery of St. Patrick in his gift found out Swift one morning, and told him nearly as follows: "Mr. Swift, I pay my addresses to a young lady of rank and fortune, and I expect to be married to her as soon as I can do away one circumstance, which is, I lived with a beautiful girl for nearly three years whom I seduced; she has poor relations, and the lady I could will marry me hearing that I had a mistress in keeping, until this girl is married and provided for; now I have to inform you that I have this deanery of St. Patrick's in Ireland at my disposal, which is worth nearly a thousand a year, which I will present you with as I believe you are not very rich, provided you will marry her.—The Dean said he would on condition that he should be first inducted into the deanery. The nobleman said, if you will give me your hand under a penalty, to marry this young lady. I will induct you; which was done immediately after, and the bond executed, and the Dean was by agreement, to marry the nobleman to the lady the same day.—The dean being inducted in the deanery appeared in his robes at the church on the day appointed, and married the nobleman, who said I am glad, Mr. Swift, to find you are very punctual: now we are married here is the lady you are to marry.—The dean replied he was ready, and said, where is the man I am to marry her to? the nobleman said, she is to be your wife. The dean said, look at the bond, I only bound myself officially, as a minister to marry her to any person—but I have not the least desire of making her my own wife—and so I wish your lordship a good morning, presuming you to have no further occasion for me.

Quare—Is it true.

A lawyer was applied to by an indigent neighbor, for his opinion on a question of law in which the interest of the latter was involved. The lawyer readily gave his advice, and charged the poor man three dollars for it.—"There is the money (said his client) it is all I have in the world, and my family have been a long time without pork."—"Thank God (replied the lawyer), my wife has never known the want of pork since we were married."—"Nor ever will (rejoined the country man) so long as she has so great a hog as you." The lawyer was so pleased with the repartee, that he forgave the poor fellow, and returned his money.

Mammoth.—A mammoth, in a state of perfect preservation, was lately found near Yakoutska, on the borders of the Frozen Ocean. Part of the flesh, the tusks, ears and tail had been cut off by the natives; but the skeleton has been carried to Petersburg, a distance of 6,875 miles. The head of which weighs 460 lb. the horns are 9 1/2 feet long, and weigh 400 lb; the height of the back is 10 1/2 feet, and the length sixteen and a half feet the bristles of the back were of a reddish colour, and many of them measured two feet four inches.

Three Seamen were taken into custody on Saturday morning last, by the Marshal, from on board the ship Orleans, captain Snell, from New-Orleans. They are charged with being a part of the crew of the ship William of New York which they plundered of a variety of articles in the port of Mobile, stole the ship's boat and sailed for New Orleans, whence they shipped as seamen in the Orleans. A part of the plunder has been found in their possession.

"A young man of 21 years of age and of an engaging appearance" has been convicted of Horse stealing in Upper Canada, sentenced to death and left for execution by the Hon. Chief Justice Powe, of whom it is said "a gentleman of more forbearance and humanity never filled the station."

THE WHIG.

BRIDGETON,

MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1821.

After our paper was nearly all in type, a number of subscriptions were received, which it was necessary we should insert, owing to which a quantity of selected and some original matter is deferred to next week.

A list of acts passed at the late sitting of the Legislature of this state, shall appear in our next.

In our next we shall give the appointments made by the late Legislature, for the different Counties throughout the State.

There were five acts of divorce passed during the late sitting of the legislature, four of which were granted on the application of wives praying to be divorced from their husbands.

The Legislature of this State rose on Tuesday last, after a sitting of five weeks.

Congress will meet on this day, and the Legislature of Pennsylvania tomorrow.

The editors of the "Union" state that the legal rate of interest has been reduced by an act of the Legislature of this State, from 7 to 6 per cent.— This is incorrect, as the Council did not concur with the lower house in the bill which passed that body reducing the rate of interest.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

In a subsequent conversation with one of the gentlemen referred to in our last, as affording the news from Vera Cruz, we learn that Russia and Great Britain are both in treaty with the King and Cortes, for the purchase of the kingdom of New Spain. Great Britain had offered fifteen millions sterling—there was nothing said of the Russian proposition. The deputies of New Spain had protested strongly against the whole procedure—not consenting to hear any proposition from either power. They had sent advices, giving this intelligence, to Vera Cruz, which must have reached there about the 16th ult. as on that day the steam schooner Mexican sailed for Tampico, and the news was bro't in her. Our informant received the intelligence from Ondazea, the owner of the schr. who further stated, that the news was universally believed, and had produced the greatest excitement and alarm, all parties being strongly opposed to any transfer of European government.

On Wednesday night, the boat of the mail coach from Philadelphia, was cut open between Bridgeton and Elphinstown, and a trunk belonging to a passenger, containing wearing apparel, was stolen. It is conjectured the object of the thief was to obtain the mail.—N. Y. Com. Ad.

The Legislature of Vermont have passed resolutions similar to those of Maryland, respecting the appropriation of the Public Lands to the purposes of education. We remark that Governor Clark, of Georgia, in his message of the 6th ult. to the Georgia Legislature, pronounces the Maryland resolutions to be "so sound in principle and so ably supported as to be entitled to particular attention."—Nat.

Report of the Joint-Committee on the Treasurer's accounts.

The Joint Committee of Council and Assembly appointed to settle the accounts of the Treasurer, having examined the same, find due the state the sum of fifty-two thousand eight hundred seventy-two dollars thirty-six and a half cents; including therein the sum of four thousand seven hundred sixty-seven dollars eighty five cents, belonging to the school fund account. The committee have also examined the accounts of the different banks, to which the Treasurer has made deposits, and find to his credit therein thirty-three thousand seven hundred and thirty-seven dollars and seventy cents; leaving to be otherwise accounted for, nineteen thousand one hundred and thirty-five dollars and twenty-nine cents. From this last mentioned sum, the Treasurer claims to have deducted two thousand seven hundred sixty-three dollars twenty-seven cents as having been advanced by him to officers of government for salaries, &c. for which no warrants have yet issued, and for sundry payments and disbursements made since his term of office expired. From the examination of receipts exhibited to the committee, advances appear to have been made by him to nearly that amount.
The balance, amounting to sixteen thousand three hundred seventy-two dollars and two cents appears to be deficient.

In addition to the amount due to the state from the Treasurer, the committee find from an examination of the books in his office, that there are several sums of money still due from the Sheriffs of different counties for fines and forfeitures, and from several county collectors, the sum of four hundred ninety-five dollars fifty two cents for militia exempt fines. There is also due from the Brunswick Bank, the sum of one thousand and seventy-eight dollars or upwards, being arrearages of tax.

There is also in the hands of the Treasurer, besides the stock belonging to the school-fund, a certificate of six per cent. U. S. stock, amounting to four thousand dollars, being the wreck-fund thus invested by order of the Legislature. Signed,

P. L. Stryker, James J. Wilson,

A Proclamation.

By Isaac H. Williamson, Governor of the State of New Jersey.

Whereas it is our solemn duty to acknowledge Almighty God in all the dispensations of his providence, and to unite in publicly expressing our most fervent gratitude to him, for the many blessings we derive from his infinite goodness and favor; and especially for divine revelation, and the atonement made for sinners by the death of his Son our Saviour and Judge—

I do therefore appoint, Thursday the thirteenth day of December next to be observed, throughout this State, as a day of Public Thanksgiving and prayer, and do hereby recommend to my fellow-citizens to assemble on that day at their respective places of public worship, and to unite in offering the homage of devout and grateful hearts to the Great Creator and preserver of the Universe, for his continued favors to our State and Nation; and, in particular, for the great blessings of peace, internal tranquility & general abun-dancy; for the prevailing influence of the pure precepts of his gospel, and the assurance afforded to all of a happy and immortal existence through faith, penitence and obedience; and, at the same time, to supplicate his divine protection and guidance in behalf of the President of these United States and all in authority; to implore his blessing upon our civil and religious privileges, and most earnestly to be-seach him, that the true interests of our highly favoured country may, to the latest posterity, be cherished, sustained and preserved by the piety, virtue and patriotism of the people.

In witness whereof I have here-unto subscribed my name, at the City of Trenton, this twenty-first day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

From Boston Papers

Yesterday afternoon arrived the last sailing ship Triton, capt. Bussey, in 80 days from Liverpool—and we have been favored with London papers to the evening of the 21st ult. and Liverpool to the 23d.

A negotiation for a continuance of peace between Russia and Turkey is said to be going on under the mediation of Austria and England.

England is said to have proposed to France to maintain the integrity of Turkey, except that Russia might have Moldavia and Wallachia—Russia according to certain Princes a part of Poland.

The Greeks continued successful in such warlike enterprises as they had attempted.

Accounts from Madrid are to Oct. 5.
That capital still continued agitated.
Several officers had recently been put in close confinement—and it was said Gen. Ballesteros, and the deputy Ramero Alpuenta, would be indicted—Riego has many active friends. Sir R. Wilson was expected at Madrid.

The King of England continued his tour on the Continent. The papers contain a long account of his reception in Hanover. He was expected at Vienna and Paris.

The last quarter of the British revenue exhibited an increase of 840,000l.

The Woollen Manufactories of Yorkshire are stated to be in an uncommonly flourishing condition.

From the returns of the population of Great Britain, as far as published under the new census, it appears that there has been an increase of about 15 per cent. This increase will make the present population of 14,000,000. Add 6,500,000, and the population of the United Kingdom amounts to 20 and a half millions.

Sir Robert Wilson has been discharged from the British army. His demand for trial by court martial was promptly refused.

The subscriptions for Sir Robert Wilson amount to 4000l. Among the subscribers are the Duke of Bedford, Earl Fitzwilliam, Earl Gray, Sir Francis Burdett, the Earl of Thanet, Lord Holland, Lord King and others.
London, Oct. 21.

It is now said that it is his majesty's intention to pay a visit to the King of France. His most Christian majesty has earnestly requested it, and the king will occupy the Palais Bourbon.

A letter from Constantinople, dated Sept. 19, says that 60 sail of Turkish, Egyptian and Algerine ships of war were united in that city, and about to proceed against the Greeks.

PARIS, Oct. 17.

The latest accounts from Constantinople, are of a nature to induce a belief that tranquility is not completely restored in that capital. Christians are insulted whenever it can be done with impunity, and other persons are abused. Disturbances take place every day.

A subscription has been opened in London, for the relief of a colony of Swiss, to the number of 2000 persons, who emigrated to the Brazils, from the Canton of Friburgh, in 1819, and are reduced to great distress.

The number of vessels that sailed from Liverpool Oct. 9, was estimated to be nearly 300.

LONDON, Oct. 20.

Advices from Genoa of the 8d October, state that by the latest accounts from Tuscany, the following news had been received at that place:—At Ce-ron; in the Morea, were four Turkish vessels, several frigates, corvettes, and gun boats, with stores and troops. On the 14th September, at the extremity of Cape Bon, there were eleven Algerine vessels proceeding towards the Levant. An Algerine Xebec bearing despatches from Smyrna, fell in with a large Greek polacca, which it captured with 90 men on board. Letters from Zante state, that the Turkish fleet had positive orders to destroy without leaving a vessel, if possible, Hydra, Spezia, and Ispara, ports which were the centre of the Greek flotilla and traders.

PARIS, Oct. 15.

The heads lately exposed on the gates of the Seraglio, were those of Veli Pacha, the son of Ali of Janina, and of his son Mehemed Pacha. Their death has been provoked by the intrigues of Ismael Pacha and of Bekir Pheokador. They have insinuated to the Divan, that Veli and his son had deposited a sum of 5,000,000l. at Santa Maura, of which they declared the English general, sir F. Adam, to be heir in case of their death. A negotiation to remove the money had been entered into with the Turkish chiefs whom we have named. They contended that a Pacha being a slave employed by his highness the Sultan, was not likely to make a will except in favor of the mosques, and in consequence they demanded the deposit. The reply was that Veli and others could not be divested of the property. A second demand was made, a reply was given, and the Divan, in order to cut the knot of the difficulty, ordered the heads of the two persons to be cut off who had been employed to refuse the treasure.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 28.

His Royal Highness the Crown Prince, has taken the chief command of the artillery since the death of Gen.
Cardell.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 2.

We have accounts from Iceland of the 18th of August. They state that the summer had been uncommonly warm, though a very large quantity of ice surrounded the north and west coasts. About thirty Dutch ships are said to be entangled in the ice, and several other ships to have been stranded.

Accounts from Norway, say that the night frosts had done much damage to the corn and potatoes.

VIENNA, Oct. 5.

The negotiations entered into with the Divan by the mediating ministers of Austria and England, for the prevention of a war between Russia and the Porte, continue without interruption.

New Jersey District, ss.

Whereas, a libel hath been filed in the District Court of the United States of America, for New Jersey District, on the 27th day of November, 1821, by Joseph McIlvaine, Attorney of the said United States, for said district, who prosecutes for and in behalf of the said United States—stating, amongst other things—

First. That James D. Westcott, Collector of the Customs of the said United States for the district of Bridget-town, in the state of New Jersey, on the 14th November, 1821, within the said district of Bridgetown, and within the jurisdiction of the said District Court, did seize as forfeited to the use of the said United States, a certain sloop or vessel, called the sloop Boxer, of Bridgetown, her tackle, apparel and furniture.

Second. That after the 30th September, 1820, to wit, the 25th October, 1821, at the Bermuda Islands, ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil were laden on board the said sloop, whereof Henry Shaw junior, was then master; that the said sloop sailed directly from the said Bermuda Islands to the said United States, having on board the said ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil; that afterwards, to wit, on the eighth day of November, 1821, the said sloop arrived at a place in the United States, to wit, at Newport, in the district of Bridgetown, having on board the same ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil, and that in the night time, between the setting of the sun on the eighth and the rising of the sun on the ninth day of November, 1821, the said Henry Shaw, then still being master of the said sloop, the said ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil, were attempted to be imported, and were imported into the said United States; to wit, at Newport aforesaid; that the said ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil were not truly and wholly of the growth, produce or manufacture of the said Bermuda Islands, and that the attempt to import the same, as well as the actual importation thereof into the said United States, is contrary to the laws of the said United States.

Thirdly. That the said ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil, having been brought to the United States as before mentioned, were not unladen from out of the said sloop in open day, between the rising and setting of the sun, but were unladen from the said sloop in the night time, to wit, between the setting of the sun on the eighth, and the rising of the sun on the ninth day of November 1821, at Newport, in the district of Bridgetown aforesaid—that the said Bermuda Islands is a foreign port or place, and that the paid ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil, according to the highest market price of the same at Newport, in the district of Bridgetown aforesaid, ac-mounted at the time of unloading the same to $400, and that the said ten hogsheads of rum and one barrel of oil were unladen as aforesaid without any special license or permit, or lawful authoritatively. That by reason of all the said premises, and by force of the statute of the United States, in such case made and provided, the said sloop, with her tackle, apparel and furniture, have become forfeited to the use of the said United States—and praying that such proceedings may be had against the said sloop, her tackle, &c. as by law are prescribed; and that the said sloop, her tackle, &c. for the causes aforesaid, and others appearing, may be condemned as forfeited to the use of the said United States.

Therefore in pursuance of an order of the said District Court, notice is hereby given to all persons claiming the said sloop or vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, or knowing, or having anything to say why the same should not be condemned as forfeited to the use of the said United States, that they be and appear before the said District Court at Newark, on the 21st day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to interpose a claim for the same, and to make their allegations in that behalf. Dated the 27th day of November, 1821.

Grandson of the late celebrated Dr. Robertson, of Edinburgh, AND FOR SALE AT PHILADELPHIA, ONLY, AT THE PROPRIETORS' WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUG AND FAMILY MEDICINE WARE-HOUSE, Nos. 137 and 139, North-East corner of Second and Race Streets, AND BY RETAIL OF HIS APPOINTED AGENTS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES.

DR. ROBERTSON'S CELEBRATED STOMACHIC ELIXIR OF HEALTH, Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents.

WHICH has proved by thousands, who have experienced its beneficial effects, to be the most valuable medicine ever offered to the public, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, the Hooping Cough, Asthma, pain in the breast, Cramp and Winds in the Stomach, removing costiveness, sickness at the stomach, head ache, loss of appetite, indigestion, &c. &c. For the Dysentery or Lax, Cholera Morbus, severe Gripings, and other diseases of the bowels, and the Summer Complaint in children, it has proved a certain remedy, and restored to perfect health from the greatest debility. Persons afflicted with Pulmonary complaints, or disorders of the Breast and Lungs, even in the most advanced state, will find immediate relief. Common Coughs and Colds, which are in general occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will be found to yield to its benign influence in a few hours. In Catarrhic or Consumptive Complaints, hoarseness, wheezing, shortness of breath, and the hooping cough, it will give immediate relief.

DR. ROBERTSON'S VEGETABLE NERVOUS CORDIAL, Or, Nature's Grand Restorative, Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents.

Is confidently recommended, as the most efficacious medicine, for the speedy relief and cure of all Nervous complaints, attended with morbid weakness, depression of the spirits, head ache, tremor, faintness, hysterical fits, debility, seminal weakness, gleet, and various complaints resulting from secret impropriety of youth and dissipated habits, residence in warm climates, the immoderate use of tea, the unskillful or excessive use of Mercury, so often destructive to the human frame, diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, Fulor Albus, barrenness, &c. &c. Under the denomination of Nervous Disorders, are included several diseases of the most dangerous kind, and are so various that a volume would hardly suffice to complete a description of them. It pervades, with deleterious influence, the whole nervous system, writhing the heart with inexpressible anguish, and exciting the most dreadful suggestions of horror and despair. To this demon, have thousands fallen a sacrifice, in the dreadful transports of its rage. The most common symptoms at its commencement are weakness, flatulence, watchfulness, drowsiness after eating, timidity, flashes of heat and cold, numbness, cramp, giddiness, pain in the head, back and loins, hiccup, difficulty of respiration, and deglutition, anxiety, dry cough, &c. The Vegetable Nervous Cordial is also a great antiscorbutic medicine, and is of infinite service for purifying the blood, and curing those foul disorders of the skin which commonly appear in the form of Scurvy, Scurf, Red Gitches, Carbuncles, Ulcers, &c. &c. A dose of Dr. Dyott's highly esteemed Anti-Bilious Pills, taken occasionally with this medicine, proves of additional service in the last mentioned cases.

The numerous known cures performed by these pills, has induced the inventor, at the solicitation of many respectable citizens, who have all experienced their beneficial and salutary effects, to make them public for the good of mankind in general. If timely administered, they will surely counteract the causes which commonly produce the Yellow or the Bilious Fever, the ague and fever, bilious cholera, pleurisy, dysentery, worms, bilious vomiting, sick and foul stomach, loss of appetite, flatulency, epileptic fits, hypochondria and hysterical complaints, indigestion, habitual costiveness, colds and coughs, asthma, strangury, gravel, rheumatism and gout. Also, an effectual cure for the scurvy, scurf, scurbitic blotches, and for carbuncles, and all impurities in the blood, yield to their happy effects, whether proceeding from constitutional ailment, or arising from indiscreet intemperance. This is an infallible medicine for female complaints generally, and especially for removing those obstructions which are the source of their ailments at certain periods: they possess the eminent advantage over most other purgatives, and while they operate gently, they produce neither costiveness, debility, or two great excitements. And whenever there is a predisposition to receive disease from marsh effluvia, or from a too copious use of ardent spirits, or from a vitiated state of the bile, these pills will assuredly counteract it. They are highly recommended to travellers by sea or land, and may be made use of with safety, without change of diet, and in situations where no exercise can be used. They will be found particularly valuable for preventing diseases incidental to hot climates; they deterge and cleanse viscid humours, open obstructions, and promote the secretion of good bile, operate as an easy cathartic, as a powerful diuretic, and as a diaphoretic.

DR. DYOTT here, under the strong conviction of the power of his pills to relieve the afflicted, when other medicines have failed, recommends the use of them, (at least once a fortnight) during the spring and summer months, in which he feels assured that those who attend to his advice will find the benefit they seek. A bill of directions accompany each box of pills, small boxes 25 cents, large boxes 50 cents. Liberal allowance made to those who purchase to sell again.
