POETRY,

SELECTED FOR THE WHIG.

MISCHIEF.

[The following is a good imitation of the famous tale of Monsieur Toussou, which pleases readers of every description by its naive and expression.]

Among the wicked crew,
Whose lawless capers blight
The face of nature,
There are a few
Who make it still their study and delight
To worry and torment a fellow-creature.
Now such a one
Was Mr. Mack,
A favour'd votary of fun,
Call'd by his comrades witty Jack.
He us'd to say—the love of evil
Was for our happiness implanted in us.

Now beasts of pray (so learned people say)
Avoid the light,
Just so our wight
Kept planning mischief all the day
To perpetrate at night.
And once when winter did his very best
To give mankind a shiver,
And sent that coldest of cold wind—north-west
To make all quiver,
Muffled with a cap and leannought warm,
Which laugh'd the a gry elements to scorn,
Forth rush'd our Hero,
And careful sought (the night was pichy dark)
The house of one John Nutt—the butt
On whom this son of mischief set his mark.

With thundering racket
He hawk'd the man—who hurried on his jacket
And op'd the casement,
And star'd (twas very natural)
With great amazement.
Sir, quoth the fellow, can you tell
In which house Mr. Nutt doth dwell?
My name is Nutt, the man replied.
Indeed! the other cried
John Nutt's the man I mean.—
Well, my name's John,
So if you've any thing
I beg you will without delay go on.
Sir, quoth the rogue, with voice and look demure,
I would not keep you waiting—but
'Tis of importance that I should be arre
That you are certainly John Nutt.

Zounds, says the man, what do you mean,
I tell you once again
My names are Nutt and John,
And both together make John Nutt,
Which man I am;
But if this window is not quickly shut
I sha'n't be long.
Well then, resumed the other, very slow,
I—tell you—what's the matter—
You may—conclude—'tis nothing light
That brings me here—on such a night,
With such a clatter—
So rudely to attack you,
But if your name—is certainly—John Nutt,
Why then—good night t'you.

State of New-Jersey.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act entitled "An act against usury" passed the 8th of February, 1797.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Council and General Assembly of this State, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the 4th day of July next ensuing, no person shall upon any contract take, directly or indirectly for loan of any money, wares, merchandise, goods or chatties above the value of six dollars for the forbearance of one hundred dollars for a year and after that rate for a greater or less sum, or for a longer or shorter time.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That the several sections and provisions in the said act to which this is a supplement concerning the rate of interest therein mentioned and allowed shall be deemed and taken to be in force and apply after the 4th day of July, as aforesaid to the rate of interest herein mentioned and allowed, and as if six per centum and not seven per centum per annum was mentioned as the rate of interest in the said several sections and provisions, Provided always that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract made before the 4th day of July as aforesaid, for the loan of any money, wares, merchandise, goods or chatties, or the interest taken reserved due or growing due thereon; but as well any such contract of loan as any other contract made before the said 4th day of July and the interest reserved or to be allowed or taken thereupon, shall be and remain and continue as if this act had not been passed.

AN ACT to abolish imprisonment for debt in certain cases

WHEREAS the confinement of debtors in goal, who are arrested and intend to petition for the benefit of the insolvent laws of this state during the time required to obtain their discharge, is unnecessary to the ends of justice, tends to increase the distresses of those dependent on such debtors, and bring a charge on the public, and is often times productive of habits which destroy any future exertion for themselves, their families or creditors—THEREFORE,

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That any person or persons who may be arrested by any sheriff, constable, or other officer in any civil action, or mesne process, or process of execution, and who intends, or intend, to apply to the Judges of the court of common pleas of the county, in which such process is served, for the benefit of the acts made for the relief of insolvent debtors, shall be discharged from arrest by such officer—Provided, such person or persons so in custody, shall give bond to the plaintiff or plaintiffs, at whose suit he or they are arrested, with sufficient surety or sureties, being a freeholder or freeholders, and resident in the county, in double the sum for which he or they is or are arrested, or taken in execution, with a condition, that he or they will appear at the next court of common pleas, to be holden in the county, and petition the said court for the benefit of said acts, and will, in all things, proceed on said petition and application, as is required and directed in case of persons actually in goal at the time of application, and is required by said acts; and that he or they will appear in person at every subsequent court, or time and place to which his or their application may be adjourned, until he or they shall be duly discharged under the said acts, and if refused a discharge, surrender himself or themselves, immediately thereafter, to the sheriff or keeper of the goal of said county, there to remain until discharged by due course of law—and in case of a forfeiture of said bond, by breach of any condition therein, the said plaintiff or plaintiffs, his or their executors or administrators, may bring an action thereon, and recover the debt, damage and costs due from said debtor or debtors, and for which the arrest was made as aforesaid.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That any person or persons arrested as aforesaid, and having given such bond, shall be entitled to make application for his or their discharge, under the acts aforesaid, at the next court, as fully as if at the time of such application, he or they was or were, actually confined in the goal of said county.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That where the sheriff, constable or other officer has upon any mesne process, discharged the defendant or defendants, on giving bond as aforesaid, he shall so return on the process to the court; or justice issuing the same, and the plaintiff or plaintiffs may thereupon proceed to judgment and execution, as in other cases where the defendant is returned in custody; and where the sheriff or constable, or other officer, hath discharged any defendant or defendants on process of execution against the body or bodies as aforesaid, he shall so return to the court or justice, out of which the same issued which return in either case, shall exonerate him from any liability for escape.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the sheriff, constable or other officer taking such bond as aforesaid; shall be entitled to receive for such service, of the defendant or defendants, executing the same, the sum of fifty cents, which bond such officer shall deliver or cause to be delivered over to the plaintiff or plaintiffs, his or their executors or administrators to be sued on in case of any breach of the condition thereof.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That any conveyance, deed, mortgage, judgment, sale, transfer, assignment, or other disposition made, given, or executed by the said debtor or, for or upon, any of his estate real or personal, to any person, after the said arrest shall as against his creditors, or any assignee or assignees, to be appointed by the said court under the 5th section of the act to which this is a supplement, be void and of no effect; and such assignee or assignees, may recover the said estate, real and personal, or the value thereof in their own name or names, for the use of the said creditors in any proper action to be instituted therefor against any person who may have purchased, or in any manner come to the possession thereof after the giving of the said bond with costs of suit.

Passed December 11, 1823.

From the Georgian.

Remarkable Fact!—A lien was found in the centre of a hay stack, near Boston, where she had lain six months!—N. B. She was found defunct.

Barbarous!—A gentleman seized a poor Guinea negro by the throat for a trifling offence, and chok'd him till he was black in the face! Should not the abolition society look to this.

Stop the Runaway!—From Savannah, a negro fellow, with bow-legs and cucumber shins, perfectly black except the white of his eyes; which are red; he may be known by his teeth which are lost, and by his clothes, being stark naked &c.

Stolen!—A watch worth a hundred dollars; if the thief will return it he will be informed gratis, where he may steal one worth two of it, and no questions asked!

Useful Discoveries!—It is found that by mixing lard with butter, sand with sugar, water with milk, and bricksbats with cotton, they will weigh heavier and go much further.

Habit of swearing.—A gentleman of very plain understanding once asked the hen, Henry Erskine what was meant by that passage in scripture—'He is clothed with curses?' Nothing, said he, but that the man has got a habit of swearing.

A noble child.—While the U. States was drawing near the Macedonian, a child on board said to Decatur—"Commodore, I wish you would put my name on the muster-roll?" "What for?" "That I may get a share of the prize money." It was done. After the capture, the commodore said, "Well, Ned, she is ours, and your prize money will be about 200 dollars.—What will you do with it?" "I'll send a hundred to my mother, and the other shall send me to school." This boy is now a gallant midshipman.

Cheese.—Red Pepper, so called, is a complete antidote against flies impregnating cheese so as to produce maggots. Take one and put it into a delicate piece of linen, moisten it with a little fresh butter, and rub your cheese frequently. It not only gives a very fine color to your cheese, but it is so pungent that the fly will not touch it.

THE WHIG.

BRIDGETON,

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1823.

This number completes the THIRD VOLUME of the WHIG since our commencement. It gives us much pleasure to know, that in our progress, the number of our friends have gradually increased, and that as far as we can ascertain, our editorial course has received the approbation of our readers. To our patrons and friends, from whom we have received much kindness and indulgence, we return our sincerest thanks, and hope for a continuance of their favours.

As our subscribers in arrears will be called on in a short time for the respective amounts due us, we would be glad if they would be prepared to pay—this will save much time, trouble and expense.

The public documents forwarded us from Washington by the Hon. D. Garrison—for which he will please to accept our thanks—shall be made use of as soon as we can find leisure and room.

Greek Cause.—The citizens of the United States have at length begun to do something for the Greeks. New York has set the example. Philadelphia is following it up, and meetings have been called in various other places, to form societies, collect money &c. to aid them.

The President's Message.—This interesting document, which we gave in our last paper, we doubt not, has been perused by our patrons with great attention. Every one desirous of obtaining a clear knowledge of the situation of this country, both as respects its relation with foreign powers and its various domestic concerns, may here be fully gratified.

There is one topic of the message to which we would invite the most serious attention. We allude to the notice that is taken of the events in Spain and Portugal, and of the principles of the Holy Alliance. This is a subject of the deepest importance to the United States; and the president like a faithful sentinel warns us of our danger.

No doubt can be entertained that the despots of Europe view this country with a jealous eye. We are the great exemplar to the world of those free principles they have combined to eradicate. Our sister republics in South America, are not less obnoxious to them, and being weak, may fall an easy prey to their machinations or their arms. Their first efforts will doubtless be directed to crush liberty in its infancy there; it will be our turn next. In the words of the president; "It is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent, (of America,) without endangering our peace and happiness; nor can any one believe that our southern brethren if left to themselves, would adopt it of their own accord. It is equally impossible, therefore, that we should behold such interposition in any form with indifference."

Why has our chief magistrate alluded so pointedly to this subject? It was to warn us of our danger. Though it may appear distant, we are persuaded there is danger. Our late advices from Spain inform us that the affairs of South America will be left to the decision of another congress of sovereigns. What is to be expected from their interference it needs not the gift of prophecy to foresee.

The world has had experience enough of their friendly "designs for the good of the people." It is quite probable that the president is possessed of information on this subject, not yet made public. The United States have acknowledged the independence of the South American Colonies; our citizens are engaged in extensive and flourishing commerce with them, and any attempt to subjugate these new powers, independent of the dangerous principles upon which it must be made, will necessarily bring our interests and rights in direct conflict with the pretensions of the invaders. We now enjoy the blessings of peace. But appearances are to us strongly indicative of war. To our mind's eye, a dark cloud is gathering in the east, the precursor of a storm that may shake the civilized world to its centre. The president expresses his "thorough conviction that there never was a period since the establishment of our revolution, when regarding the condition of the civilized world and its bearing on us, there was greater necessity for devotion in the public servants to their respective duties, or for virtue, patriotism and union in their constituents."

COMMUNICATION.

Was drowned on Tuesday the 9th inst. by accidentally falling off a vessel while he was assisting to load at Dorchester. Mr. Robert H. Bell, son of Mr. Robert Bell, innkeeper. He was about 22 years of age. At the time he fell into the water no person was near him, and he could not swim; but his cries for assistance having been heard by the master of the vessel and others at a distance, they repaired to the vessel—saw his hat floating on the tide up the river, but the owner had sunk to rise no more. Every exertion to recover the body with hooks and nets were used, and after a few hours of unwearied search he was brought up near the spot where he fell in.

The distress of his aged parents on seeing their only son thus in a moment snatched from their beloved embrace, it is impossible in words to describe.—The sight was heart rending, and a sympathy was felt throughout the whole of his acquaintances, which was expressed by their tears, and gave a proof of the general estimation in which he was held by his companions and friends. His manners were amiable and conciliating, and his disposition mild and cheerful. He was looked upon as a pattern of morality by his associates and friends. He was to have spent the evening of the day on which he was lost among a party of young friends, and had been laying plans for promoting social enjoyment among them.—But he was summoned to join another company—his spirit, leaving its frail tenement to mingle with its kindred dust, winged its flight to the presence of Jehovah, there to render its account! while we are admonished by the suddenness of his call to "be also ready."

Huntsville. (Alab.) Nov. 21.
Murder.—On Friday morning last, (says the Athens Gazette) one of the most heinous acts perhaps recorded in the catalogue of crimes, was committed by Jack Jones, a young man of this county, upon the body of his brother Wm. Jones, who both resided in the house with their widowed mother. It appears that a dispute arose between them on the morning of this unfortunate transaction, the cause of which is too trivial to attract notice. The younger brother's passion being highly excited, and his feelings calling for revenge, he flew to a fork, which he succeeded in arresting from him; his next effort was a gun which proved empty, and was taken from him; he then seized a loaded gun, the contents of which he lodged in the body of his brother, who expired in a few minutes, and then he made his escape.

Died, on the morning of the 14th inst. RICHARD M. WOOD, of Greenwich, in the 22nd year of his age.
When blooming youth are snatch'd away
By death's resistless hand,
Our hearts the mournful tribute pay,
Which pity must demand—
While pity prompts the rising sigh,
Oh may this truth, impress'd
With awful power, "I too must die!"
Sink deep in ev'ry breast.

COMMUNICATION.

Died in Hopewell, on Sabbath morning, 6th inst. at 2 o'clock, Mrs. MERRIA WOOD, (consort of Mr. David Wood,) in the 45th year of her age, after a short but severe illness. She had been several years a respectable member of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church at Shiloh. And a woman of sincere unaffected piety. In her last hours, she expressed by her real devotions, in the exercise of her senses, a firm confidence in Christ her Saviour, with a calm resignation to him who hath said; "unto dust shalt thou return." She has left a kind husband and three children, to mourn the loss of an affectionate wife and mother. But with this consolation, that her exemplary walk, unwearied studies of the Scripture, and her christian experience, prove that their loss is her gain. On the ensuing day, her remains were interred in the church yard at Shiloh, when a funeral sermon on the occasion was delivered by Elder John Davis, V. D. M. from Rev. XIV. and 15. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, &c."

The following is a specimen of her own composition selected from amongst her numerous writings. It is entitled, "Thoughts before and after attending a yearly meeting at East Jersey, in the fall of 1818."
I have been in a straight 'tween the East and the West,
But hope in the end 'twill terminate for the best,
For out of the east that true light does arise,
Which dispels all the darkness and gloom from our eyes.

The east it appears attracted my mind,
And if I go forward I hope I shall find
Not only the darkness and gloom to depart;
But find that true light, which gives joy to the heart.

Through difficulties many to the east I have been,
And many things new to the eyes, I have seen

The meeting was opened, with what our hands find to do,
That, with all our might, we ought to pursue. (a)

Next day our attention, was called to view,
The prodigal Son, with his robe ever new,
The servants while before his father did stand,
Put shoes on his feet, and a ring on his hand. (b)

The afternoon service from—blessed be God,
For th' abundance of mercy and grace shed abroad, (c)

To a true living hope begotten again,
By the rising again of Christ Jesus the man;

"The head of the Church has prepared a feast,
Once rebels to God are now invited to taste,
Such love and such mercy on earth was ne'er known,
As God has shewn forth in the gift of his son.

Next day we were told that the word of the Lord,
Shall fulfill his design, and not return void;
In whatever place, or wherever it went,
Should accomplish the purpose, for which it was sent (d)

Then led to the river and fountain of love,
Descending in streams like the rain from above, (e)

Which makes the heart glad, and in God to rejoice,
To hear the sweet whisper of peace in his voice.

The prisoners of hope, were exhorted to turn,
Unto him the strong hold, who hears sinners mourn, (f)

He will pardon their sins, and grant a reprieve,
And double the joys they once thought to receive.

This morning we'r told, he that spared not his son,
But delivered him up, though beloved and his own, (g)

And why will he not then, most freely bestow,
All things we do need, in our journey below.

Now all this is done, we may truly exclaim,
"Lord, what is man that thou art mindful of him?"

A foe and a traitor, a rebel to God, (h)
Till washed and made clean in Jesus's blood.

And now that the Lord, his grace would impart,
To subdue all my sins, and brake my hard heart,

Incline me to praise, to adore and to love,
That I may behold him in mansions above."

J. Shin's Panacea.

The subscriber having discovered the composition of SWAIM'S celebrated Panacea, has now a supply on hand for sale—he has reduced the price from three dollars and fifty cents, to $2 50, or by the dozen twenty-four dollars.

All charitable institutions in the United States, and the poor, will be supplied gratis.

If the citizens of the principal cities and towns will appoint an agent to order and distribute this medicine to the poor, it will be supplied.

This medicine is celebrated for the cure of the following diseases: scrofula, or king's evil, ulcerated or putrid sore throat, long standing rheumatic affections, cutaneous diseases, white swellings and diseases of the bones, & all cases generally of an ulcerous character, and chronic diseases, generally arising in debilitated constitutions, but more especially from syphilis, or affections arising therefrom, ulcers in the larynx, nodes, &c. And that dreadful disease occasioned by a long and excessive use of mercury. It is also useful in diseases of the liver.

CERTIFICATES.

I have within the last two years had an opportunity of several cases of very inveterate ulcers, which having resisted previously the regular modes of treatment, were healed by the use of Mr Swaim's Panacea, and I do believe from what I have seen that it will prove an important remedy in scrofulous, venereal and mercurial diseases.

STACKHOUSE'S

Complete Body of Divinity,

PROPOSALS,
BY JOHN CLARKE—BRIDGETON, WEST N. JERSEY,
For publishing by subscription,
Stackhouse's Complete Body of Speculative and Practical Divinity.

ADDRESS TO THE PUBLIC.

The work now offered to the public is one with which the literary world in England and America have long been familiar. It is so well known, so generally admired, so universally sought, and so highly appreciated, that no particular recommendation in its favour has been accepted, preferring rather to depend on its established fame and intrinsic merits for success than to attach to our prospectus the best written eulogium which the brightest talents in our country could produce. STACKHOUSE, as an ingenious compiler, as a man of learning and research, and as a profound Theologian, ranked in his own day among those who gained the highest literary eminence—the lapse of time has contributed exceedingly to increase his well earned celebrity.

The BODY OF DIVINITY which is now proposed to be published, was originally compiled for the Episcopal Church of England. It first emanated from the Press in the early part of the eighteenth century. Since then, it has stood its ground and sustained a reputation beyond which cotemporary writers never did, and subsequent writers never have been able to pass. Several editions of it have been circulated in Great Britain, but it has never yet been published in the United States. Various compilations of systematic Theology have been repeatedly committed to the American Press, each of which has been adapted to the standard of faith of the respective denominations for whom it was published.—This work is professedly written on the Arminian Scheme; but notwithstanding this, its high character has caused it to be an object of anxious inquiry by every class of christians. It has heretofore been in the hands of few in the United States except Divines, and for these it has generally been imported by order, and at great an expense. The reason why it has never been re-printed in the United States is obvious. In matters of faith, monopolies have been sought with no less avidity, (perhaps not improperly,) than in the mart of the merchant; and those denominations of christians whose pretensions have not been supported by a widely extended and numerous fraternity have been compelled to coalesce, and reciprocate favours in the Book-market, in order to obtain from the publishers of books throughout our country that kind of spiritual nutriment which would enable them to grow up in the faith and opinions which they delighted to cherish as the foundation of their future hopes.—Where this advantage was not presented the student in divinity was compelled to wade through Tomes of ancient authors in the dead languages to satisfy his inquiries; or to collect those systems of opinions which are said to derive by theologians—as founded on, or deduced from the sacred records—from an endless variety of writers, many of whose sentiments they viewed both as absurd and inconsistent.

The design of the publisher in offering an edition of STACKHOUSE'S Body of Speculative and Practical Divinity to the public is twofold; namely, for their good and his own. While he wishes to supply a demand for it which he seems now to be particularly called for, he is desirous to obtain a subscription which will defray the expense, and compensate him for his labour. More than this is not expected—any other reason than this would not be the truth, and he hopes the public will appreciate his candour in this avowal. He believes the work eminently calculated to do good. Truth, and whatever tends to elucidate and confirm it, are, in the present age, objects of research & inquiry.—In this work, all the leading doctrines of the Holy Scriptures are amply discussed and explained. To the pious layman it will supercede the necessity of a great variety of works on divinity which he may be desirous to possess, but which he may not have the means to procure. By purchasing this work true economy may be consulted, as the necessity of procuring many fugitive works which obtrude themselves on the public will be obviated. There are a number of respectable and pious classes of christians and christian ministers throughout our country, who will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity now offered to obtain it upon reasonable terms by encouraging an American edition. Of the Author's style he will only say, that it is plain, but nervous, bold and eloquent.—The work in general evinces the profound scholar and the pious christian—but he does not wish to incur the charge of exaggerated commendation; such an imputation, he presumes, will not be offered by those who have read the work with impartial attention, and from those who have not given it a perusal it would be premature.

CONDITIONS.
This work will be put to Press as soon as the subscription will defray the expenses of the edition.
It will be printed in the best manner, with new type, and on superfine wove paper, extra medium size.
It will be published in three volumes, octavo, each averaging 350 pages; or in monthly numbers of about 138 pages each.
The price will be seven dollars and fifty cents, in boards, or in numbers, the latter covered in the usual manner of periodical works; and eight dollars, handsomely bound and lettered. [This is half the European price, and it is in a more portable size.]
Those who obtain eight subscribers, and become responsible, shall have a copy gratis, which copy shall be delivered in the same form as those ordered, or made equivalent thereto—and in proportion for a greater or less number.
All payments to be made when the work is delivered, whether in volumes or numbers—and all communications to be post-paid.
Agents to receive the work and deliver it to subscribers will be appointed in the principal cities and towns throughout the Union, the names of whom will be made public.
It is earnestly requested that the names of subscribers be forwarded to the publisher as soon as possible.

List of Acts of a public nature passed at the late session of the Legislature.

An act to incorporate the New-Jersey Manufacturing and Banking Company.

(This act establishes a Bank to be called the Manufacturers Bank at Hoboken opposite New York, with a capital of $150,000 for which they pay the state a bonus of $4000.)

A Supplement to an act entitled an act concerning Idiots and Lunatics passed Feb. 28th 1820.

(This act authorises the confinement of Idiots &c whose place of settlement is not known in the poor house or gaol at the expense of the county.)

An act respecting Trustees. (This act authorises the Orphans' Court to supply the place of trustees who may die or refuse to act.)

A further supplement to the act entitled an act to incorporate the medical society of New Jersey.

(This act imposes a penalty on quacks for selling medicine &c.)

A further supplement to an act entitled "an act for the more easy partition of lands held by co-parceners joint-tenants and tenants in common" and the act &c.

(This act provides for the case of commissioners appointed to divide lands and in case a division cannot take place to sell, who may die or refuse to act and authorises the Orphans Court to supply the vacancy.)

A supplement to the act entitled "an act to authorise and empower the trustees of Queens College in New-Jersey to erect a lottery for the purpose therein mentioned."

(This act gives the college three years to raise $25000 by way of lottery or lotteries. Of this sum the State is to receive $5000 before the drawing commences.)

A supplement to the act entitled "an act respecting the Brotherton Indians."

(This act appoints the Rev. John Dow a commissioner, who is to take a sum of money [about $25000] now in the Treasury, belonging to them, to their residence in the western part of the state of New York and see that it is applied in payment of a tract of land they have lately purchased or otherwise judiciously laid out for them. These Indians are a remnant of the Delaware tribe formerly resident in New Jersey.)

A supplement to an act entitled "an act against usury."

(This act reduces the interest of money after the 4th of July next to six per cent.)

A supplement to an act to incorporate the Salem Steam Mill and Banking Company in the county of Salem.

(This act gives the company until the first of January 1826 to build the Steam mill.)

A supplement to the act directing the appointment of Surrogates passed Nov. 28th 1822.

(This act confirms the proceedings of those Surrogates who continued to act after the law passed vesting the appointment in joint-meeting and before they were commissioned anew.)

An Act authorising Edward Clark and his associates to navigate the river Delaware.

(This act authorises E. Clarke and such persons as may associate with him to use a contrivance he has invented for towing boats up rapids above the falls at Trenton and imposes penalties on those who wilfully injure his works.)

An act to incorporate the Orange and Sussex Canal Company.

(This act incorporates a company to make a canal from the Delaware near Columbia through Sussex county in this state and the county of Orange in the state of New York to the Hudson river 50 or 60 miles above New York city. Capital $600,000 with liberty to increase it if necessary.)

An act to publish and distribute the documents of the contemplated canal to unite the waters of the Delaware near Easton with the tide waters of the Passaic.

(This act appropriates $200—for printing and distributing with the laws 500 copies of the report and documents respecting the canal contemplated from the Delaware river opposite Easton through the counties of Sussex Morris and Essex, to the Passaic river above Newark.)

An additional supplement to an act establishing a militia system.

(This act authorising the Brigade Board to set off uniform battalions and directs the Paymaster to pay the surplus fines collected on the respective uniform companies to the commanding officer of said companies for the use thereof.)

A further supplement to an act entitled "an act making lands liable to be sold for the payment of debts."

(This act requires an executor or administrator before he can obtain an order of the orphans' court to sell lands to give bond faithfully to apply and account for the proceeds. It goes into operation 1st July 1824.)

A supplement to the act respecting taxes.

(This act repeals the law requiring a duplicate to be laid before the Legislature and requires an abstract containing the ratesables &c. and a statement of the state county poor and road tax assessed in each township. It also requires an advertisement of 20 days before timber &c. can be sold for taxes and confines the purchaser to two months to take off what he has purchased. It authorises the assessors to commence assessing the 20th May.)

An act respecting the Delaware and Raritan canal.

(This act appoints Silas Condit, George Holcombe and Lucius Q. C. Eimer commissioners to examine and report to the next Legislature respecting the practicability of said canal, its expense and the revenue to be derived therefrom, also upon any arrangement that may be made with the United States in respect to said canal; upon the ways and means proper to be adopted for executing the same and generally on every other matter which in their opinion may be useful to be understood by the Legislature in the premises.)

An act to abolish imprisonment for debt in certain cases.

An act to reduce fees and costs of suit and for other purposes.

(This act reduces the fees and costs of the clerks in chancery sheriffs attorneys &c.)

An act directing the manner of appointing prosecutors of the pleas of the state in the several counties thereof.

(This act directs the appointment of prosecuting attorneys to be made in joint-meeting—for each county. Until new appointments are made the prosecutors heretofore appointed by the Justices are authorised to act.)

An act for arranging repairing and preserving the public arms and accoutrements.

Resolution to discharge the sureties of Peter Gordon from their bond to the state for $10,000 with interest since October 1822 upon their paying into the Treasury $9000.

Besides the above there were about forty acts and resolutions of a private and temporary nature. Among them were six divorces.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Extract of a letter to the editor, dated WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.

The House of Representatives has, since going into session, been principally engaged in collecting materials to act upon. The reports of committees and resolutions—the reading of petitions and counter petitions, &c. &c. occupy them daily. The public documents are coming in daily. This gives ample employment to the members, as every one for himself will examine, compare and calculate,—doubtless to discover whether any imperfection can be found by which they may put in their claims to superior sagacity & penetration. Nothing has yet been said about suppressed documents, as the treasury has not yet made its report. This however is soon expected.

There is more said at a distance than here on the caucus subject. It is doubtful whether any party will venture to take the lead in it. The practice is evidently becoming unpopular throughout the Union among men of sense of all parties. Demagogues and factionists who distrust their own strength—who doubt the soundness of their own political principles—who suspect their cause and their party to be on the decline, or who fear that without its aid their candidate for the presidency will be unsuccessful and wish to resort to it as a forlorn hope, are anxious for a caucus. The members are not yet quite as familiar as they may soon become—they are not all personally or politically acquainted. When they begin to unfurl their respective flags and arrange themselves under their banners, then they will begin to parly—negotiate—or battle, as they may be found resolute or doughfaced—firm to the interests of their constituents or disposed to make the loaves and fishes their chief good.

The Christmas and Newyear's-day holidays will give some relaxation from business for speculations on the next president, and other matters relating to it. Little is said as yet on it, but from that little it would seem as if Jackson was rising very fast in public estimation. Adams is in status quo. Crawford is fast sinking—Calhoun is on the increase—Clinton's moon has changed, and he is also beginning to enlarge in dimensions. Clay is considered as a candidate, but it is supposed that he has sagacity to discover his strength, and save his credit by a timely retreat. Whoever the public mind may fix upon, no one in existence is able now to conjecture. I suspect, if a caucus is got up this session, it will not soon again be attempted, as a just alarm is beginning to spread through all parts of the Union on the ultimate effects it will produce on the nation.

Among the most interesting Resolutions offered for some days past were—one by Mr. Kidder—that the committee on commerce be instructed to enquire into the expediency of imposing a specific duty on potatoes imported from Nova Scotia, Ireland, and other foreign countries;—by Mr. Breck, requiring the judiciary to be instructed to enquire into the expediency of providing by law an uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States;—by Mr. Hemphill, desiring the president to communicate to the house such parts of the correspondence, of the late minister of the United States at the court of France, with the French government, &c. relative to claims of citizens of the United States for spoliation upon our lawful commerce;—by Mr. Garrison, that the committee on commerce be directed to enquire into the expediency of erecting light-house near the extremity of Cape Henlopen; & another at the lower end of the Brandywine in the Bay of Delaware.—Also By Mr Parrot (in the senate)—that the committee on naval affairs be instructed to enquire into the expediency of authorizing an additional number of sloops of war to be built & equipped for the U. S. service. Mr. Pointsette made a singular motion the same day (the 15th) in the house naming 10 vessels. A resolution, similar to Mr. Kidder's potatoe thing, was offered by Mr Wayne, respecting the importation of wheat. Mr Hayne of S. C. in the senate, and Mr M'Duffie in the house have offered resolutions and plans, proposing an amendment to the constitution of the U. States, the object of which is to secure the election of the president and vice president by the electors, and to prevent those elections from devolving on the Senate or House of Representatives.* Nothing of interest has transpired—committees having not yet reported; until which, business will drag heavily.

*This resolution and plan will be given in our next.

FOREIGN.

From Gibraltar—Capt. Tear, of the brig Ruth arrived at Philadelphia from Gibraltar, states—that the U. S. ship Constitution, having on board our minister to Spain, Mr Forsyth, was expected to sail for Cadiz about the 3d of November. He also states that a French fleet sailed from Aigeiras on the 1st Nov. and proceeded up the Mediterranean.

The Gibraltar Chronicle of Oct 23d, states that intelligence had been received from Carthage by sea, that four days previous, that city was in treaty with the French, in consequence of the late surrender of Cadiz.

A letter from Cadiz of the 16th ult. says, that the manifesto of the 1st from Port St Mary, doing away so completely the one issued on the preceding day, at Cadiz, by the king of Spain, had produced general astonishment and displeasure, and induced many to depart, from a dread of the consequences. It further states, that on the 15th, the Royal French Guards had embarked on board several ships of war, according to some for Brest, but in the opinion of others bound to Catalonia.

Madrid Oct. 16—Camp-marshal Capape, in his report of the 9th inst. from Sarriena, gives the particulars of a rencounter, with the constitutional troops at Taramaced, in which the royalists were victorious; and observes, that among the prisoners taken by the latter, was the ex-minister San Miguel; and that, on his recommending to the general of the auxiliary column to keep him in close custody, the general had replied that the camp martial might make himself perfectly easy on that score, as the prisoner's wounds were so numerous and severe that he could not live long.

Paris, Oct. 3—According to letters from St Petersburg, of Aug. 29. the emperor Alexander has given orders for the garrison of Mittau to be augmented 2000 men, to prevent the introduction of English contraband goods.

In the course of 1822, Russia obtained from her mines 2967 lbs. of gold, & 49,000 lbs. of silver; making a total in gold and silver, of 8,735,552 roubles.

Letters of a recent date from Smyrna, state that a flotilla of nearly 150 vessels, was ready to sail from the port of Ipsara, but its destination unknown.

The following is from the Angsburg Gazette of the 27th ult.—We are assured that the interview between the emperor of Russia, and the emperor of Austria at Czernowitsch, is to determine definitely a new ultimatum, to be proposed to the party by the cabinet of St Petersburg, and in the first line of which will be a formal demand of the prompt revocation of the measures adopted against the navigation of the Black Sea. It is even asserted that a very short term will be given to the divan to reply in a categorical manner. An extraordinary courier has been despatched to Constantinople, with an invitation to lord Stragford, to go to Czernowitsch, to take part in the deliberations.

Christian Almanac.
 Just received and for sale, by S. Potter &
 Co. the Christian Almanac for the year 1824.
 In addition to the useful information generally found in Almanacs, it comprises in 52 pages a summary of Religious intelligence, especially that which pertains to the spread of the Gospel and the benevolent efforts of the day.
 This Almanac was first published by the American Tract Society, in Boston, and its value may in some measure, be estimated by the extensive sale, it met with there, near 40,000 copies having been sold the last year.
 As the profits resulting from the sale of this work will be appropriated for the advancement of Sunday Schools, it is hoped the public will encourage it.
 Editors of Country papers in Pennsylvania,
 New Jersey and Delaware, friendly to the object will please to give the above one or two insertions.

James Townsend,
 Commissioners.
 October 30, 1823—Nov. 8. 150 9t

Cape May Orphans' Court.
Term of October, 1823.
 Present.—Cresse Townsend, Israel
 Townsend, Jacob G. Smith and others, esquires, judges.
 Nathaniel Holmes and David Stites, executors of the last will of Benjamin Stites, deceased, having presented to this court, duly attested, a just and true account of the personal estate, and also of the debts of the said decedent, whereby it appears that the personal estate of said decedent is insufficient to pay his debts, and the said executors having set forth to the court that the said decedent died seized of real estate in the county of Cape May, and praying the aid of the court in the premises: It is THEREFORE ORDERED, that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and real estate of the said decedent, do appear before this court, at the court house in the Middle Township of the county aforesaid, on the Monday preceding the first Tuesday in February next, at ten o'clock in the morning, to shew cause, if any they have, why the real estate of said decedent should not be sold for the payment of the debts and expenses yet unpaid.

ORDERED, on application of Humphrey Hughes, administrator to the estate of Levi Eldredge, deceased, and Richard Edmunds, administrator to the estate of Jeremiah Wicks, decessed, that the creditors of the estates of the said decedents bring in their debts, demands and claims against the same,
 on or before the fourth Tuesday in October, 1824, or the said creditors shall be forever barred of an action therefor, against said administrators; the said administrators giving notice of this order by setting up copies thereof in five of the most public places in the county of Cape May for the space of two months, and also advertising the same for the like space of time in one of the newspapers in Bridgeton.
 From the minutes of said court.
