From the Will amsport Gazette, Dec. 6: HOMICIDE!

On Friday night last, a black man nam ed Tom Coleman was shot by another per son of color named Stephen Lee. The de tails of this horrid transaction are, as near as we have been able to ascertain as follows:-The deceased and Stephen had been engaged in the abominable practice of card-playing, drinking, &c. at the house of Jne Blaine, who has for some time acted as barber in this place. As is usual among gamblers, a quarrel arose, in which Joe and Stephen attempted to put the other out of the house, but not succeeding Stephen went away. In the mean time, a number of persons were attracted to the house by a noise, and whilst. Joe and the deceased were wrangling, (the house being pearly crowded with spectators) Stephen made his appearance before the door, with a gun pointed at Tom, fired, and immediately ran off. The shot and ward passed through the left side into the heart, and the victim expired without a groan. Stephen was apprehended the same night, and is now safely lodged in the goal of the county to await his trial.

At the formations of our Constitution, the slave. holding states were in the minority, and trembled lest they should be deprived of the right to hold their fellow matures in brndage, because they well knew that it was opposed fo the irst principles of the revolution. In he ardour of their struggle for the picervation of this privilege, so long enoved by them, they effected a compronise, by which they formed a bulwark tround this right, to prevent its invaion by the majority, who, it was alwas to be expected? would feel strong sensations in favour 4f universal emansipation. Thus protected, the Constiution went into operation; but it was dever anticipated that the old balance. so nicely adjusted, was to be distroyed never thought necessary.

But as new states, beyond the limits of the old United States' territorypeopled by fore gners and strangers to our laws and habits -are every year claiming admission, the danger becomes imminent that the slave-holding states will have ttie preponderance in our national councils, and open the door to those evils, against the increase of which it has been closed with so much care.

Inaugural Address DELIVERED BY

GEN. JOSEPH HEISTER, ON HIS INDUCTION TO THE GOVERNMENTAL CHAIR OF PENN-

To the Senate and House of Representa tives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylva-

RELLOW, CITIZENS-

The distinguished mark of confi dence with which I have been honored, in being called by the public voice to perform the functions of the executive department of this State, demands my varmest acknowledgments. The opto express to you, and through you, to the freemen of this common wealth, the lively sense of gratifude with which the public ulfrage in my favor has filled me. My conduct in that station in which the people have been pleased to place me, contrary to my own inclination and judgment, shall, I hope, prove the sincerny of the gratitude expres-

The solemn pledge which I have just given to perform the duties of my of-fice with fidelity, impresses me, with a deep sense of their importance, and I have reason to implore the assistance of Divine Providence in the arduous

The many difficulties a Chief Ma-gistrate of this State has to encounter, encreased probably at this time, bevond wat trey have been heretofore, and t agreat responsi bility attached re his office, reprier me seriously apprehen siv that my bes efforts will be inad equate to give satisfaction, even to the disinterested and patriotic part of the community. But I trust if any errors Bliall be committed, they will not be chargeable to intentions they will owe nature and the narrow limits of human foresight; they will not proceed from a wilful neglect of duty on my part, nor from any want of devotion to the best interests of our beloved country. Such errors, I may justly hope will meet with indulgence from a enlightened and liberal people. Where consure shall, upon a full and impartial view of matters, be merited, let it not be with-hold: It is the dury of freemen to exsome closely into the conduct of those to whom they have delegated their power, or the guardianship of their rights and interests, to consure the shuse of the que, or the neglect and mi management of the other.

In approaching the station to which Lhave been called, with a due sense of its difficulty and responsibility, pledge myself to pursue with sincerity and diligence that course which my best judgment shall direct to promote the public happiness, and believing that to cherish and to strengthen an attach ment to free government, to soften the rancour and allay the prejudices of party spirit, to unite the mass of the people as one republican family, will be among the means of encreasing to comforts of social life. I shall direct all my efforts to accomplish those pur pases. Considering myself as elected by the Reople of this Commonwealth and not by any particular denomina-tion of persons, I shall endeavor to de serve the name of Chief Magistrate o Pennsylvania, and to avoid the dis graceful appellation of Governor of : party. In appointments to office it wil be my duty to select, without distinc tion of party, such as I shall believe to be the most honest and capable; and i shall be successful in this respect, I frust that with the assistance of your wisdom and patriotic endeavors in matters of legislation, the prosperity of the Commonwealth may be promoted its relation with the general govern mont honorably upheld, and all its lawful rights maintained. In deliberating upon the concerns of the Commonwealth, gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives. you will find one of the most promiment topics to be the stagnation of tion, the almost total annihilation of confidence between man and man, and the distress of many individuals of the community. If any thing could be done to encourage and revive the activity of our citizens; if any means could be devised to restore confidence and to prevent the sacrifice of property, with doe attention to the rights of all parties, I should most heartily concur in any measures calculated to attain those de strable ends. Permit me to suggest to you, whether it would not be possible to devise some method of reducing the enormous power and patronage of the Governor, without impairing the other general features of our prosent excelsessions of our Legislature might not be shortened without detriment to the positic good-whether a reduction of salaries, of fees of office and compensation for public services, ought not at this time to take place, to correspond in some degree with the reduced pri ces of Agricultural produce. It also Meserves serious consideration whether the kingdom. public improvements might not at this time be advantageously made; and do-Minestic manufactures encouraged with souccess. Above all it appears an ima liberal system of education connectwith some general religious instruc-These are matters which will certainly engage your attention, and will probably be objects of your delibe rations, and if any adequate measures shall be proposed it would give me great pleasure to be instrumental in their promotion. Let us, fellow citizens, every one in his station (for we are all members of one family by whatver name we may be designated) unite in earnest laboring to promote the common good, and that Providence which has heretofore granted us abundant blessings, will, I humbly trost continue them, and so crown our la hors, that our posterity, in the enjoy ment of every desirable civil and reli gious privilege, may bless our memory when we are mouldering in the dus with those whose toil and blood acritev ed our Liberties."

New-York, Dan. 31. Arrived at this port last evening, the schooner Lady's Delight, Sribner, 20 days from Curraçoa. By this arrival, we have received, from our corres pondent, a file of the Currocoa Courant, to the 25th of Novem ber, inclusive.

The latest accounts of the contending armies on the Spanish Main will be found in the extracts from the Curracoa Courant.

On the 12th November, the brig Maria and and Jacoba ar rived at Curracoa, in 36 days from Amsterdam, having on board his Excellency Paulus Rocloff Canztlear, Knight of the Order of the Netherlands Lion, Rear Admiral in the Na y, &c. and his lady;

Advices have been received it Curracoa that lit was very sickly at Surriuam.

The schr. Hope sailed from Inreacca for the opposite coast with a cargo of dry goods, and having stopped at a place called Seradore, she was boarded by seven Spaniards, who cut the Captain in a most shocking manner, and threw him into the sea. The crew, to avoid similar treatment, jumped overthe people in a situation scarcely able to navigate the vessel | including Fello's division. she arrived at Currocoa the Friday following.

We learn from Caraecas, that, on the 9th inst. accounts hoard, leaving the Spaniards were received from the headin possession of the vessel quarters of General Morillo, After having plundered the at Tueyo, stating that his exry thing valuable on board, they following day, and would atpicked the people up, tied their tack the enemy in their position hands behind their backs and near Truxille on the 12th, oroconfined them in the hold, and vided he could bring them to eturned to the shore; leaving action. The forces of the general consist of 4 to 5000 men,

It seems now that the propositions made by olivar to Mo. rillo, jo enter into conferences in order to effect a reconcilia tion of their long existing differences, turns out to have been nothing more than a ruse de pleasant information, received suerre played off by the forfrom Cot Felto, the officer in ing the forces of Morillo tocharge of the division of the wards San Fernando de Apure, while Holivar, in his absence, it is supposed, was to make a dash upou Caraccas with the forces he had at Truxillo. Paez. in the mean time, had sent 6000 cattle across the Apure, for the use of his troops, who were shortly to follow, and thus keep Morillo in check, whilst Bolivar possessed himself of the capital. The project, however, miscarried, and Morilio, instead of proceeding to San Fernando, directed his forces against the Independents at Truxillo. where, as we have stated above, he intended to attack them on the 12th.

The Spanish commissioners had, notwithstanding, proceeded to the rendezvous appointed for them, to meet those of the Independents, if they were to be found.
