Choire Poetry.

For the West Jersey Pioneer. Lines in answer to poetry in the Pioneer of March 19 "THE TIES AND JOYS OF EARTH."

BY ESTELLA MAURICE.

Say not this fair and blooming earth, With all its lovely thing, Is but a "heavy, downward weight, To clog the spirit's wings." Though earthly joys and hopes must fade, And earthly ties be riven, Though pain, and bitterness, and grief

To man are ever given. Still, pure affection's holy fire, Ambition's daring, high, Should elevate the spirits aim, And fit it for the sky.

The beauty of this glorious earth, Its bright and varied bloom, Should point us to the Eden home Which lies beyond the tomb.

The fleeting, changeful, morning cloud, The sunset's radiance bright. Seem like a faint and transient gleam. From the fair land of Light.

The withered leaves which autumn winds Bear earthward on their wings, The bright, and ever lovely nowers, Those frail and fleeting things, Have all a language, deep and true In their rich glowing bloom, Which autumn fades, and spring renews;

Of life beyond the tomb. Then mourn not that the ties and joys And lovely things of earth, Pass like a gushing burst of song, Or childhood's gladsome mirth. But see in every leaf and flower, In everything that's given, Some type of immortality, Or the fadeless bloom of heaven.

From the New-York Organ. SAD MEMORIALS. When death enters the family and removes the father or mother, the brother or sister, the wife or husband, what a strange interest at once invests the most trifling memorial of the book, with its pencil marks designating passages that affected the reader's mind, an articie of clothing, a letter written just" before the final sickness, any thing indeed, which belonged to the absent one, acquires a sanctity and a sort of sentient character, so that we almost fancy that it whispers to us some message from the lips that are now sealed in the grave. At any rate we find these memorials recal our lost one, even in the midst of trains of thought on entirely different subjects. The eye lights on a glove, a hat, or piece of writing that belonged to the departed one, and instantly we fancy the owner present. We see him as he looked when living, we hear his voice, we catch his smile, we recal old kindnesses and pleasant words spoken, and we are sad as we think that the grave will forever keep them from revisiting the home so lately

Mrs. Horbert kissed her darling boy again. and then went forth to make her morning round of calls. Eddy returned to the nursery, strong in his purpose, to be a good boy, as he had promised. "Such a dear little picture-book as mamma the door bell rung. "There's mamma! There's mamma!" ex-claimed the child clapping his hands; and, before nurse could restrain him, he had bounded from the room, and his little feet were heard pattering down the stairs. Slowly he came back, after a little while, and with a look of disappointment on his sweet young face, entered the nursery, saying, as he did so:

"It was only a man with brooms to sell."

"Your mamma won't be home for a long time yot, Eddy." said his nurse, "so it is of no use for you to expect her. Go and build cheerfully. "This trouble can soon be healed. Come, dear, and let us see what I can do for block houses again."
"I'm tired of block housee," replied the little boy, "and now that mamma has promised me a picture-book like cousin Edie's, I cannot think of anything else."

"Oh, well," said nurse, a little impatiently, "she'll be home in good time. Try and not think of the book. It won't do any good -it won't bring her home a minute sooner." "I cant help thinking of it," persisted the child, in whom the imaginative faculty was unusually strong for one of his age.

In a little while, however, something occurred to interest him, and a full hour elapsed before he again recurred to his mother and the expected picture book. As best she could. his nurse diverted his mind, and kept him, in a measure, occupied with what was around him. At length, it was full time for Mrs. Herbert to return. Eddy had ceased to find In harvest, a basket machine was placed interest in anything appertaining to the nur-on horseback for carrying home the grain; and sery. Not that she Ireland are still more ridiculous. Mr. was indifferent to the happiness of her child -nor that she was a heartlass mother. Far, very far from this. Purely and truly did she love this sweet boy. But, so much were her thoughts interested in other things, that she which was not righteously kept to the very did not, at the time, comprehend the earnestmind as soon as uttered. And yet, she had wishes of her child, for she was an indulgent mother, and rarely said "No," to any request that might reasonably be gratified. She had minds being so immersed in what is external and material, that they will not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors, who paid a round price for half that she would, some time or other, get one of strange machines, and upon the wonders have not believe until his neighbors. like it for Eddy. The child's request but seconded this thought. There was will, there very immaturity of thought struck one as beaufore, in her promise. She meant to do as she had said.

But things of more interest to Mrs. Herbert, than the simple wish of a child, so fully occupied her mind from the time she left her window. It was serious, and slightly impa-tient, as if he were wearied with watching ed to predominate over the earthly. vrongs. It was so in the present case. The happy countenance of her child did not bring joy to the mother's heart; for she knew that, with a word, she must dash to the ground all his buoyant anticipations. And she remembered, too, at the moment, how poorly he could have a distinct remembrance of the teethingbear disappointment.

"Eddy, dear," said Mrs. Herbert, taking her little boy by the hand, and advancing toward the parlor door with him, " Eddy, dear, let me tell you something."

Her grave tone and look caused a shiver to pass inward toward the heart of the child. He inderstood, but too well, that the mother, whose word he had trusted so implicitly, had peen faithless to her promise.

Poor child! even this advancing shadow of a coming disappointment, darkened his young appertaining to manhood. Now, if we are not exactly in a similar condition of topsy-turvy, Mrs. Herbert sat down on the nearest chair, as she entered the parlor, and drew Eddy to her side. She saw, from his sad face, that words were not required to make him aware ces of maturity than republican fathers and that they ought to be the natural outpourings that the promised book was not in her possession; and she knew, from former experience, that trouble was before her. Unhappily, she did not feel softened, but rather irritated, toward the child.

"Eddy," said she, firmly, yet with as much tenderness as she could assume, "Eddy, you know you promised me to be such a good boy." "And I have been good," eagerly answered the little fellow, lifting his swimming eyes to

Influenced by the his father's neck, Mrs. Herbert had left the nobleness of his nature, and the happy imtable, her countenance wore a sober aspect, and there were signs of tears about her eyes. much as it does in the relaxed system of parental discipline. We regret this "progressive" tendency, especially in children; and, since it is impossible to check it, our duty is to guide it in the right direction as much as possible. Fortunately manhood is to be but one brief step, it becomes us to set a good example to those who mimic our ways so early, and to exhibit, in our own persons, an abhorrence of those evils persons, who, from a close examination, judge it to contain a large quantity of iron mixed with other earthy and metalic substances.

LAW ANECDOTE.

In the year 1792, Timothy Oates, public crier of the Court in Wiltshire, presented the following petition: The petition of Timothy Oates humbly sheweth: That your petitioner is this day eighty-four years of age, and was a crier in this Court before either of your honours were born. That small as his perquisites are, his wants are still smaller. He, slas! can cry no longer but he may possibly live a little longer, and during that small period he implores to cry by Court House. Your petitioner begs that Jonathan may be accepted as his substitute, so that of your petitioner it may be said, when he's dead and gone, that although he cried

TREATMENT OF SCARLET FEVER. Dr. Aereford, of Washington, in a cmmunication which appears in the "Alexandria Gazette," thinks that too much physic has been an error in the management of scarlaused, the greater was his success in the treatment of this disease. He disclaims any motives of vanity or self interest in his statement. His treatment is described as follows:— "In conclusion I will say, my treatment of searlet fever is very simple. Open the bowels regularly every day with some mild water two or three times a day; while it is hotter than natural admit fresh air: live on a bland diet, such as a cupfull of arrowroot, several times a day; toast water for common drink. Gargles made of strong sage tea, honey and alum, or borax, may be used from the commencement; if the throat is affected.

One of the great benefits a young man may derive from women's society is, that he is bound to be respectful to them. The habit is of great good to your moral man, depend on it. Our education makes of us the most eminently selfish men in the world. We fight for ourselves, we push for ourselves; we cut the best slices out of the joint at club dinners for ourselves, we yawn for ourselves, and light our pipes, and say we won't go out; we prefer ourselves and our case: and the greatest good that comes to a man from women's society is that he has to think of somebody beside himself-somebody to whom he is bound to be constantly attentive and respect-

The writer further says he has been made acquainted with the details of these improvements, "which are so palpably correct in theory, and feasible in practice, that every civil engineer and railroad man will, on examination, at once recognize them as the desideratum, even to the extent of safety and speed above indicated." The next Congress, it is said is to be invited to secure its adoption; and give to the world the result of the first experment. - [Exchange.

[Let us know the plan and then we can form some opinion of its correctness. It may be good and may be perfectly futile. We would state that 100 miles per hour have been run by a locomotive already.

Express Facilities .- The N. O. Crescent, in an article noticing the facilities of the Express system extracts the following item from one of Harden's way bills:-"One young lady, as per telegraphic order charges $169 08, freight $80."

A STEAMBOAT.

As the season for business and travel approaches we frequently hear the question asked, Are we to have a Steamboat! running here during the present summer.

Notwithstanding all the inferences tha may be drawn from the past, we cannot re sist the conclusion that a good boat, properly managed could be made a paying concern Steamboat owners may however entertain somewhat different opinion.

Surely, if Salem with a population numerically smaller can sustain three boats, on an average price per passenger of from twelve be sustained.

Steamboat owners seem however to have arrived at a different conclusion, and to overcome this impression, or at least to give a feeling of perfect security to the proprietor of the boat that his labor and capital shall be properly compensated, we throw out a few hasty suggestions, directed more particularly to the farmers, as to them a very large proportion of the advantages must accrue. Let a number of them, the more the better, join together and give a written pledge to contribute a stipulated sum to meet the deficiency in the boats revenue, provided, a deficiency occurs. We do not believe the amount could be much, and distributed among many would scarcely be felt. The contemplated world's fair, at New York, will add much to the travel of the approaching season, whilst an unusual demand for farm produce will also be created. The inducements therefore for having a boat here are much stronger than have ever before existed. And if the farming community would share in the advantages possessed by their neighbors of Salem, they must be willing to run the very small amount of risk required by the course indicated. Our merchants and business men are also interested in the matter. Much custom that might be retained here, is taken to Salem from the western part of this county, by those who go thither to find an outlet for their surplus produce. We feel no disposition to envy the prosperity of our sister town, but we do think nevertheless, our citizens can by proper management find their money as well laid out a latle nearer home.

In conclusion we propose that a convention be called, to meet in this town as soon as practicable, to take the matter under consideration. We do not wish to anticipate but think no difficulty would be experienced in getting a good hoat.

The Cumberland County Circuit Court commenced its session on Tuesday morning. Judge Elmer presiding.

The Grand Jurors in attendance were: Belford M. Bonham, Francis Lee, Andrew Horner, Richard Lott, D. A. F. Randolph, Geo. F. Hannon, David Potter, George Fox, Alphonso Woodruff, F. L. Mulford, T. F. Sharp, John Garton, Franklin Devereux, Daniel R Moore, Adrian Bateman, J. M. Paulin, Jeremiah B. Davis, Lewis Bacon, Daniel Westcott.

James Ward, George Stratton, Harvey Orr, Howell Watson end John Ogden, were summoned but did not attend.

Judge Elmer delivered the charge to the Grand Jury.

The following cases were called up for trial: Jacob P. Bickley charged with an assault and battery upon William Beidleman, plead guilty-Fined five dollars and costs.

Lovisa Ann Blizzard, wife of Levi Blizzard, charged with committing adultery with Wil liam Waffle, who had employed her as housekeeper, convicted—sentenced to seven days in county jail and to give security in one hundred dollars to be of good behavior for one year. Fifteen years ago this Spring when the Conference met in this place before, the writer of this attended as a visiter. Great changes have come over the body since that time. Then, as near as can be recollected, about one terms. The Ladies are particularly invited t hundred Ministers were in attendance; now ioin the class. there are of young and old, over two hundred. Then fathers Ware, Walker, Vannest; Moore, Bartine and Fidler stood up in the body with their Silver Locks, as those whom the Younger members delighted to honor; now, they ger members delighted to honor; now, they goods on the very best terms—gets them cheap—all sleep in the silent grave, but though dead is willing to sell with a reasonable profit—as my they yet speak, and say to Ministers and members "follow us as we have followed Christ." Others have taken their places and among the venerable ones are now numbered Fathers Smith, Beehm, Neall, Stout, and Long, and as regards age, Elder Force is among the fathers, though his natural force is not at all abated; and G. Banghart also, though he still bangs heartily against the works of Sin and Satan. Fifteen years ago Bishop Hedding of precious Memory presided, and preached on Sabbath with more of Apostolic manner and unction than any one numbered with the blest in the brighter and she has just opened, with a new and varied assortthat I had ever seen before, but now he is better land. Abel Stevens, the boy preacher of former years, now the accomplished Editor of the National Magazine, and Tract department, renowned for his ripe Scholarship deep piety, and his great clearness, and power as a public speaker, was present last week, and labored industriously and effectually in stirring up a greater Zeal for the Tract and Temperance enterprizes. Dr. Durbin, the eloquent Missionary Secretary, Rev. Mr. Dashiel, the energetic representative of the liners from the City, I will at all times be able to Metropolitan Church at Washington and Dr. Collins, the efficient President of Dickerson College were all present, and added much to the shortest notice. the interest of the occasion. And last, though not least, Dr. T. E. Rond, the venerable Editor of the Christian Advocate of N. York and, as some are pleased to call him, the war horse of the denomination. He is still mighty with his pen, though his voice and physical force are evidently abating.

The Anniversaries of the Tract, Sunday School, and Missionary Societies were seasons of great interest, and the speakers acquitted themselves nobly both as to the matter, and spirit of their address; and the Missionary sermon by Rev. W. Corbit was full of good thoughts, though some thought it rather long. The Conference received eighteen more Ministers on trial the demand still being great for more laborers; but while the numbers are thus annually increased, what a vast amount of responsibility is upon them in regard to Hotel Cape Island Every Monday, Wednesday and morals and religion in the community. O! what an amount of good may two hundred Ministers do, if they are faithful in this work, or what an amount of evil if they for get their high and holy calling!

No doubt there is a considerable anxiety &c. felt by many in regard to Appointments be fore the final close but believing that, on the whole, this is the best mode of apppointing Ministers they wait with a good degree of patience the opening of the final seal.

The Major Reybold is the name of the new iron Steamer built at Wilmington by Messrs. Harlan & Hollinsworth for the Reybold Brothers and intended to take the place day, April 14th inst. The following officers of the "Express" on the line to Salem.

The Editors of the Salem Standard have just visited her, and after minutely describing her dimensions, say:-

The "Major Reybold" will excel in point of size, elegance of finish and accommodations any other ever on this route. It is expected she will be ready to make her trial trip about the 5th of May next, and to take the place B. Otis. assigned her about the middle of the month. The gentlemanly commander of the 'Express,' and who has won for himself the confidence of the entire community is to take charge of her. Mr. John Lloyd who is well known among us, is to be the pilot, and a certificate of the first class shows him to be fully qualified for that station. Mr. Bennett, the engineer has been in the employ of Messrs. Reybold for a number of years on board the Express, and the regularity with which that boat has plied between this place and Philadelphia, warrant these gentlemam in placing him in a higher position.

Death of Vice President King.

A telegraphic despatch from Mobile states that the Hon. William R. King, accompanied by his relatives who had been with him to Cuba, arrived at his residence at Cahawba, Ala., on Sunday, the 17th inst. Hisstrength had been gradually failing ever since his arrival at Mobile, and on Monday evening he expired, in the 66th year of his age. He was born in North Carolina, which State he represcrited in Congress three terms, from 1811 to 1816. He then removed to Alabama! and upon its admission as a State into the Union, he was selected to represent it in the United States Senate, and served uninterruptedly from 1819 till 1844, when he was selected by President Polk as minister to France .-Upon his return to this country he again was sent to the Senate, and served until his election as Vice President. From July, 1836, he has always been President pro tempore of the Senate when a member of that body, until increasing debility compelled his resignation this spring. By his demise, the Hon. David R. Atchinson is now acting Vice President by virtue of his office as President of the Senate, and will be voted the salary attached to

Mr. King is too well known to require eulogy at our hands. In public and private life he stood unsullied; his amiability of temper and suavity of manners made all his friends, while his dignity of deportment commanded the respect of all. . Death has robbed him of the honors bestowed upon him by the | injured by the falling walls. people, but he has gene to receive the reward of a well spent life, where, after a long and painful illness, he will rest from his labors. Sir John Franklin.-A letter which appears in the National Intelligencer, from a interesting case in which an American missionary on the coast of Syria named Bird, was befriended by the lost navigator. A serhis master's orchard, the missionary himself was accused of the offence, arrested, and most cruelly used by the rough soldiery. The American Consul interfered & demanded satisfaction of the Government, but the result was only protracted negotiation. Sir John Franklin, in command of a British frigate. having heard of the case, repaired to the oc ourrance and before saluting his own consul or his flag, received on board the American Consul, saluted the American flag, and demanded of the Government instant punishment of the soldiers. This was granted without delay, and carried into effect in the presence of Sir John and the Consul.

Lost Child -On Sunday last, a fond parent, residing in Covington, missed a little the fireman-spoke o' his wife and children, daughter, aged thirtoen years. Extensive | and all the ears much broken. search was made, but nothing positive elicited until yesterday, when she returned from an excursion up the river, bringing with her a husband!!

This was a peculiary fast operation, from the fact that the father of the girl, knowing her inclination to enter into matrimonial obligations, and having considered her a woman from the time she was four years of age, had consented that she might get married if she must, in the coming month of May. The blushing bride, on meeting her father, and introducing him to his son-in-law, stated that she and her lover had struggled to obey him in regard to postponing the marriage, but had found it impossible to get along a month longer without each other. A month looked to them like a condensed eternity, and if they had endeavored to pass it singly, they must have inevitably have died. It may be gratiifying to our readers to know that the husband is a first-rate boy, and that all parties are now reconciled and happy .- Cincinnati

Baltimore April 20 .- The garrison of Tampico had celebrated Santa Anna's return by a grand ball.

The Mexican paper, The Univers, says the Tehuantepec treaty will not be published until it is ratified by both parties.

The late President Lombardini, had issued a decree, which authorizes Santa Anna to wear any crosses or decorations he has ever received.

A frightful war of eastes was threatened in the district of Oajaca. A band of indians had made their appearance, crying death to the whites. Four thousand stand of arms had been distributed to the different departments. The greatest consternation prevail ed among the whites.

A forced loan of half a million of dollars had been levied of the Governer in Gunajuato. In Durango, the Governor had offered $200 for the head of every Indian produced. Senor Don Iturbide had arrived at New Orleans from Mexico, with the Tehuantepec treaty.

Fatal Accident upon the Delaware River. On Teusday last, as three colored men, named Henry Scott, Jacob Granger and George English, were sailing from Pennsville, N. J., to their fish cabin below that place, when opposite the mouth of Miles' Creek, the boat upset, drowning Granger and English. At the time of the accident, they were all in a state of intoxication.

Serious Accident to the Hon. Wm. A. Graham. -Mr. Graham was near being killed on the 12th inst., on his way from Raleigh to Hillsborough, North Carolina. He got out of his buggy to arrange some part of the harness, when his horse took fright and run off, throwing him down and drawing the wheel of the buggy over him. Fortunately this occured near the place where some hands were at work on the railroad, and one of them assisted him home, which he reached about ten o'clock at night. It was found that he was severely braised and cut upon the face and other parts of his body. He is improving, and we hope that he will soon entirely recover from the injury.

This Regiment originally mustered some eight hundred strong. War, and diseas;, and poverty have cut them a'l off save some fifty. and there are none of them likely to be long lived. One dies en an average every week.

New York, April 17. A most destructive fire commenced this morning, at 6 o'clock, in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and has been raging the whole day. It originated, it is supposed, from spontaneous combustion in the paint loft over the lumber house. This building was 300 feet in length, and was filled with timber, the whole of which was entirely consumed.

Among the stock of lumber consumed were the frames of a seventy-four, a frigate, a sloopof war of Southern pine, which had been stored for twelve years, and the frames of three othr vessels, besides a large amount of other Camberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

THE annual meeting of the members of the Cumberland Mutual Firs Insurance Company, was hold at the Hotel of E. Davis & Son, in Bridgoton, on Monday, the 14th of March, 1863.

JAKES COOMES, Esq., was called to the Chair.

The Directors Reported as follows:

They have continued adding members to the Company over the same district of sountry as heretofore, and have met with good success. No serious less having occurred. serious loss having occured. The increase during the year has been 188 policies. Insuring amount of $167,716

Premium Notes deposited The losses paid during the year $1,480 167 60 There is now outstanding 2482 policies $2,578.894 insuring the amount of Premium Notes deposited 814,610 56 Money invested at interest Cash in hands of Agents and Sco'y. 620 8

And no unsettled claim remaining.

The importance of the Company to the insured in an economical point of view, has not perhaps been fully appreciated, and having now been or ganized nearly nine years, a brief view of its succoss may thus be given.

Assuming that the 5 per cent upon premium notes, paid upon issuing of the Policy, were the amount to be paid to a Stock Company, as annual premium in advance, and which is less than would now be charged by any sound Institution, upon the same kind and amount of property.

Commoncing at March, 1846, nearly two years from date of first policies The amount paid would have been

The amount that has been paid is 64,974

To which add cash not expended Leaving amount saved to members $70,120 And so long as no assessment is needed, same amount of property is insured $16,780 each year will be saved to the members, at the rate asuned as before, which is about 20 per cent. less than the usual rates charged in Stock Companies. Since organization of Company there

$16,763 03 has been received for premiums Received for interest money 8.071 60 There has been paid for losses Expenses of all kinds It now offers a perfectly safe Insurance, in namer to which no reasonable objection can exist, every one who becomes a member, engaging to pay his proportion of any loss that may occur to any

To any who may wish to procure loans upon property, an additional security is had, to the aaount of Policy upon the property, which is often an important consideration After Report was read, proceeded to election of

Notice to the World.

Br. HOUCK'S PANACEA s the only medicine for which the Government of the United States has ever granted a patent because they considered it the greatest discovery in medicine ever made; and that it was destined to save the lives of millions of the human family. This decision alone should be sufficient to remove all doubt from the minds of every one as to its superlative excellence in conquering disease, and its transcendant power to heal.

only to recommend you to call at once upon the undersigned and order through him a sufficient lit cures Inflammation Indication Deceasing Sick Headache, Vomiting, Loss of Appetite, Fainting, Costiveness, Leoseness, Piles, &c By Strengthening the Digestive, and Regulating the Secretive Organs, It cures all Billious diseases, or Bilious or Intermittent Fevers, chills and fever, ague and fever, heartburn stranguary and other painful disorders of the kidneys and bladder.

t cures Neuralgia, Hysterics, Palsy, Epilepsy an all other Nervous diseases. It is also unrivalled in It works wonders in cases of Fluor Albus or whites, Falling of the womb, obstructed, suppressed, or painful Mensis, irregularity of the Menstrual Peri-ods and the like, and it is as effectual in curing all

By Quieting the Nervous System,

Kidney Disease and Liver Complaint. From the powerful alterative properties of this aedicine, it is well calculated for diseases of the Liver, which is the great centre of the bile, and is the seat of a variety of diseases peculiar to that or-gan, and when diseased or obstructed is the exciting cause of many ailments which are of frequent occurrence, such as jaundice, bilious disorders costiveness, piles, headache, drowsiness, pain in Healing & Soothing Properties to every part of the body.

The estimation entertained of it by medical men may be inferred from the extensive use they make of it in many diseases, for which they possessed no reliable remedy until it was found in DR. HOUCK'S PANACEA. Price Reduced. Dr. Houck, at the earnest solicitation of thousands, has determined to reduce the price of this great and good medicine to ONE DOLLAR PER BOT-TLE, thereby placing it within the reach of all. His only desire is that it may have a range as uni versal as it is competent to arrest the whole catalogue of diseases with which humanity is afflicted. He will then be content, because he will be sure of man receiving a benefit and enjoying a blessing to which it has heretofore been a stranger, and in that belief his philanthropy will be gratified and happiness complete. All letters on business, or orders from druggists, merchants, traders, agents and dealers in medicine must be addressed to Dr. F. Houck, N. York city.
