For the West Jersey Pioneer. "I'M BLOOMING BUT TO DIE!"

They bade me sadly listen To the wild winds gentle swell, For they told me it had music Which my childhood loveth well;

But ah! 'twas vain to listen For the music of the sky, For something whispers to me-"Thou art blooming but to die!" I trod a lonely pathway, Strewn with flowers rich and rare-And perfume, and sweet music, Breathed through the ambient air; I gazed upon the flowerets. But a tear stood in my eye-For that same sad tone still whispered "Thou art blooming but to die."

I turned me from this pathway, And sought some gaver friends, For me-thought their milder music To cheerfulness oft tends; But 'twas vain to strive for cheerfulness, Because gay friends were by. For oh! that sad tone whispered yet, "Thou art blooming but to die."

Oh God! I murmered through my tears, Is not my home on high Yes, yes! that soft tone whispered 'Tis only flowers that die · At last methought I'd turn above-And gaze on you bright sky, And seek from it that light and love, "But 'twas happier far than I."

For the West Jersey Pioneer. The following lines were written in memory of little brothers who died in infancy.

My Six Little Angel Brothers.

The tender buds e're they could bloom By the frosts of death did wither, And one by one they followed on Till all had hastened hither, Hither where death can never more With icy fingers reach them. They died to sin, they died to care, And in heaven we hope to meet them. E'en now, methinks I see the angelic band Noiselessly gliding through the courts of heave Spreading their light pinions in the balmy air

Now see them hovering round the mercy seat, Hark; do I not hear their infant voices Swelling the chorus in the spirit land? Yes! they have joined in the anthem of praise, Their voices forever are blending In praise to the lamb who for sinners was sla And their song will be ever unending.

Ever filled with fragrance from the eternal

FLOWERS.

The opening of Spring and the genial influence of the Sun on all around us presses upon our attention the interesting subject of host. flowers. At the proper seasons all nature toems with flowers "the Desert blossoms as the rose" and the God of Nature implants in the bosoms of his reasonable creatures almost universally a love for these beautiful specimens of his power. In strictly rural districts where the eye ranges without obstruction over the beauties of nature as displayed in the fields and in the wood, the mind becomes to a great degree insensible to the beauties so lavishly spread around us, but let an individual be taken from the scenes of his country rambles and immured within the masses of brick walls of our cities and very soon will he find

The general cultivation and introduction of Flowers into our large cities has added much to the pleasure and happiness of their inmates. We have witnessed the pride and gratification with which a gentleman after being worn down with the vexations incident to the business of the day, has visited his little yard and there throwing aside the corrodlars and cents realized his connexion with the assail it. works of nature and of nature's God, looking through the beautiful creations springing into existence under his care and through his instrumentality, with pleasure and with profit. We have witnessed the gratification and pleasure with which the ladies so frequently exert themselves to adorn their dwellings and their vards with flowers, thus rendering home the source of pleasure and contentment to their husbands, their sons or their brothers. We have visited the room of the invalid and witnessed the interest she has manifested in the growth of a few choice flowers, emblems of that beautiful home to which she is looking for relief from the pains and discomforts of her earthly prison house. We have even seen this natural and beautiful trait of character exhibited in the gloomy prison where the criminal apparently lost to the better feelings of humanity has proved by his attention to a few plants within his reach, that there was the feelings of better and happier days.

It is said, that the great millionare Girard, who spent his life in accumulating riches and considered business and making money, the great objects of living, during the latter years of his life spent many hours at his farm below Philadelphia engaged in rearing flowers, shrubbery and ornamental trees as well as the more substantial and profitable productions for the market-and we recollect in the office of Jacob Ridgeway to have seen flowers growing in the windows, showing that business and the love of money had not shut out entirely from his heart the leve of nature and of beauty.

With these views of the importance of flowers and ornamental shrubbery and trees in influencing the character of a people and in bringing into action the better feelings of our nature we have been gratified by witnessing the growing interest manifesting itself in our town and the surrounding villages and country in the means used to beautify and ornament their homes with these cheap and uscful productions and we trust that the newly organized Agricultural Society will use its influence to excite the feeling where it is still dormant, encourage and promote it where it has commenced and reward it where it has exhibited its powers. The mere utilitarian may ask, for what good? Where are the substantial profits? Where the dollars and cents? Will it add anything to the substantial products of the country &c.? But man is not merely a brute, to be fed and fatted—he has a higher a holier nature that needs to be fos-

Cumberland County Medical Society. At the Annual Meeting of this Society, Dr. Ludlam was elected President; E. E. Bateman, Vice President; Potter, Secretary;

B. R. Bateman, Treasurer. The committee appointed to collect the scattered material, bearing on the History of Medicine &c. in the County, with a view to preservation, reported progress.

Dr. Buck addressed the Society on the subject, stating the difficulties which the committee had to encounter, in collecting from such various and distant sources; that they had found it a work of time; but nevertheless work was growing on their hands.

Dr. Newkirk, the chairman of the commitand Quackery, made an able report on that subject, which was placed upon file.

There have been no remarkable Epidemics during the past winter. The usual Catarrhal affections have prevailed, accompanied in Bridgeton, with an unusual tendency to the throat and ear.

In Fairfield, Whooping Cough prevailed Has a Circulation of at least 800 more than any extensively as an epidemic. And in Shiloh, Scarlet Fever was seen in 15 well marked tal shores to the climes of bliss, since the last Its Circulation, (in the County,) is nearly double cases. A few sporadic cases of this disease occurred in other parts of the county.

THE SALEM STANDARD.—The slight reference given in our last issue, to our neighbor of the Standard, although sufficiently pointed his innate though heretofore dormant taste to be understood by ordinary intellects, it apfor the beautiful as exhibited in flowers and pears is not comprehended, and he calls for Hughs, Martin Herr, T. The course always pursued by the PIONEER is too well understood by the public to be covered up by the clandestine ing anxiety produced by the struggle for dol- efforts of such a journalist as has seen at to CHANGE.—On Wednesday last the little shops, belonging to Isaac A. Sheppard, West of the bridge, through the aid of Mr. Rice and his assistants moved off their old location, to make room for an improvement more adapted to the wants of the day, and took up the line of march to its future location in Vine Street, back of the old Presbyterian Church. Its movement off of its old foundation was rapid and easy, as it considered that it was out of place there, and that a more retired situation would better compore with its humble appearance. Its progress up hill however, was slow and tedious, acting as if willing to give the inhabitants of our town time to wake up to the importance of securing while they might, the lot upon which it was to be placed, for a Cemetery. It tells badly for the public spirit and enterprise of still lingering within his bosom, remains of in connexion with the old Presbyterian burying ground, a beautiful open square for a Cemetery, to be not only a lasting convenience, but an ornament to our town, should thus be suffered to pass away. Our children will wonder, that we should have been so short sighted as to have let a few dollars stand in the way of so important an improvement. Our town is rapidly spreading itself in all directions, and in a few years, houses will be erected all around this location, and then, when too late to remedy the evil, will the people lament the apathy and want of spirit which permitted the loss of so beautiful and important an improvement. OUR COUNTY .- A Cumberland County man cannot fail to be gratified with the evidences of improvement which in every direction meets his eye, if he travels through the different sections of our county. Last night I and two other brethron took a view of a considerable portion of the City, by thoon light. New Brunswick is a very pleasantly situated and constructed City, containing about ten or twelve thousand inhabitants. It is the seat of justice for Middlesex County. It contains eleven Churches, and it is fast becoming an extensively manufacturing City.

For the West Jersey Pioneer. FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the Evening of the 5th of April 1854, at the mouth of Dividing Creek, while the Sloop J. Franklin was lying at anchor, Henry Dale and Henry Socwell was running up the Shrouds of said Sloop to masts head for sport, as is supposed, the moen shining, both of them young men, the former one H. Dalco fell on the deck and was killed immediately by the fall. The body of the deceased was brought up to the Dividing Creek wharf and by Daniel R. Moore, Justice, taken up into the village where there was an inquisition held over the body of the said Dale, by a jury who say that the said Henry Dale came to his death by falling from the mast-head of the Sloop J. Franklin. Justice Moore buried him in the E. P. Methodist burying yard. He was a member of the said Church, in good standing, he was about our citizens, that the opportunity of securing 21 years old, came to this place about siz years ago. His native residence was in the State of Maryland, where it is supposed he has brothers and sisters.

A few nights since, says the Woodbury Constitution, the family of Mr. John Wilkins residing near the County House were disturbed by an unusual commotion in the poultryyard. Upon seeking the cause, a negro man was seen busily engaged in the work of plun-der. Mr. Wilkins himself being enfeebled by protracted siekness sent to the County House for aid; when it was found that the marauder was a crazy inmate of that place, who had 'broken gaol.' Whilst handcuffed he managed to pull Mr. Wilken's carriage out from its usual shelter, load into it some potatoes, kill two fine shoats, and wring the necks of some thirty-five chickens, with which he seemed about ready to start for market .-Among the fowls were a number of very fine Shanghais. Prudence in Business Affairs Necessary. The Money article of the New York Express intimates that the foreign news lately received does not tend to soothe the commercial classes in regard to the impendencies that may spring out of the conflict of the great potentates of Europe. Commercial engagements are very large in this country, and are intimately blended with the important monetary interests on the other side of the water, and the shock disturbing those must necessarily be largely felt hero. Hence the anxious solicitude now felt in learning the changes in the price of the public funds of England and France as indicating the pulsations of the commercial and financial systems of those two they had made considerable progress, and the o'clock; in the first Methodist Church; Bishop | pretty certain that the aggregate wants of the great European nations. Mercantile engagements cannot move with the same facility of expansion when these counter currents meet them, and attended pathos and power, giving such evidence of with probabilities of sudden and violent contractions. Under these circumstances prudent men will reduce their engagements, and confine themselves exclusively to moderately legitimate operations. Indeed the existing

The public mind needs to be enlightened and interested in the cause. Mussey's Reaping & Mowing MACHINE! FOR THE HARVEST OF 1854. Mower and Reaper Combined.

INIIS Machine can be worked with two horses and at the usual ploughing gait and is in-tended to cut all kinds of Grain or Grass standing or lodgel, wet or dry, and if the knives are not dulled by accident, no sharpening will be required during the Wheat Harvest, unless the field be unusually grassy, or the harvest a wet one; in such a case, as in mowing, the cutters should be ground when dull.

Why this Machine is preferable to any other is, after you have cut your different kinds of Grain, fully as well as can be done with any other Machine, with not over fifteen minutes work, you can take the same Machine into your Grass field or Meadow and cut your grass at the rate of 10 to 15 acres per day, cutting closer and cleaner than can be done with a Scythe. With proper care this Machine will last fifteen or twenty years, with trifling repairs.

Persons wishing Machines, will please or der them early, to insure their delivery in time for the coming harvest. Apply either personally or by

Camberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company. FRIE annual meeting of the members of the Cumberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held at the Hotel of E. Davis & Son, in

Bridgeton, on Monday the 13th day of March 1854. LEONARD LAWRENCE, Esq., Chairman. Directors Reported as follows: A continued accession of members and strongth to the Company during the past year, which is the tenth since organization, and very favorable success, with but one loss paid, and they have now a better cash fund than at either of the two

The frequency received has been $325 11 The only loss paid during the year was $1,692 and one small claim not yet adjusted.

Since commencement of issuing of policies, there has been received Premiums $19,801-71 Interest money There has been paid for losses Expenses The interest money having paid all expenses and $1,820 more.

Assuming as heretofore, that a cash payment equal to the five per ct. upon premium note, had been annually paid by the members, the amount saved by this Company, would now reach the sum of $33,400, and as the five per ct. paid is less than usual charges made for insurance upon similar property, by any esponsible Stock Company, it may be fairly stated at the round sum of $100,000, which is increasing at the rate of nearly $18,000 a year, so long as no assessment has to be made. As an evidence of strength existing in the Company, they would call attention to the fact that, if an assessment were made of but five per ct. upon the premium notes, an amount which would scarcely be noticed by any one paying it, the funds of the Company would at once be raised to $24,000, and if ten per ct. were made, which would not be oppressive to any members, a fund of $12,000 could be at their disposal to meet any losses for which it were needed. They cannot but feel a just pride, that an Institution so successful in its operations and of so essential benefit to the community, has thus far been under their direction, and would offer to extend its protection on terms as heretofcre.

Proceeded to Election of Directors, when the following named persons were chosen: Benjamin Sheppard, Greenwich; Jacob Harris, Roadstown; Dr. Jacob W. Ludlam, Decriedd; Daniel L. Burt, Esq., Fairton; Dr. Leonard Lawrence, Cedarville; Dr. Wm. S. Bowen, Bridgeton; David P. Elmer, do.; Isaac A. Sheppard, do.; Nathan L. Stratton, do.; Francis G. Brewster, do. D. A. R. Stratton, do.; Francis G. Brewster, do.; D. A. F.

Randolph, do.; Jonathan Elmer, do.; Isaac West, Esq , Shiloh; Lewis McBrido, Esq., Bridgeton; James Stiles, Esq., do.
At a meeting of Directors, held after election the following officers were chosen: BENJAMIN SHEPPARD, President. HENRY B. LUPTON, Scoredary.

Executive Committee.—David P. Elmer, Isaac A. Sheppard, Jonathan Elmer, Lewis McBride.

The subject of renewal of Policies, which now are about to expire, was taken up, and it was deemed not advisable that any part of the present fund should be divided in such renewals. It was resolved, that inasmuch as those who were first insured, had incurred greater hazard than was found after the second or third year, and as a rate of premium was charged upon the first issued policies, less than was found expedient afterward, that such new applications that might be made and new policies issued upon property heretofore insured, the risk to the property being the same, should be charged at the rates originally taken, and as almost every policy would at the end of the true above the hore aboved its form on the control of 40 cents per load in the pit. of premium was charged upon the first issued polisuch new applications that might be made and new policies issued upon property heretofore insured, the risk to the property being the same, should be charged at the rates originally taken, and as almost every policy would at the end of the ten years, be found to have changed its form, or applicant might desire to make additions to or altered the statement of the charged its form. terations in his insurance, it was thought best for all parties, that each policy should at its expiration be entirely closed. And as each new one issued would be free from assessment for one year from its date, and a fund already on hand would probably prevent resort to assessment for years. They beleive such a course best calculated to strengthen the Company and equitably dispose of the funds to all concerned. The Insurance to the first members has cost but about five cents per annum on the $100 insured on all common kinds of property.
