CIRCULATION 1300

Only $1 00 per Year!

FRANKLIN FERGUSON, Editor.

Notice to Agents and Advertisers.

WE ARE PREPARED TO SHOW THAT

The West-Jersey Pioneer

Has a Circulation of at least 800 more than any other paper printed in Cumberland County.

Its Circulation, (in the County), is nearly double that of any other paper.

This notice is called for in self-defense. The "Harmless Curiosity" lately conveying the impression, that its Circulation is larger than that of the PIONEER.

Want of Faith in the accomplishment of Public or Private Good.

We have often wondered at the disposition frequently manifested by mankind, to look with distrust, and sometimes with apparent bitterness and dislike, upon every proposition suggested, the object of which is, to increase the comforts of the community, enlarge its facilities for business, promote its means of receiving intelligence, or enhance the value of its property.

Such projects, such suggestions of enterprise, are very generally set down, as the visionary schemes of dreaming enthusiasts, and too commonly it happens, that they are only advocated by the men of small means and little capital; while the men of money stand aloof, without sufficient faith to induce them to render the assistance necessary to put them into successful operation.

Many great improvements and changes have taken place in our town, and throughout our county, within the last ten or twelve years, and people have been compelled to admit it, though almost reluctantly. True it is, these improvements have almost literally forced themselves upon us, they have steadily been met by a want of faith in the reality of their promises, or their permanency; failure has constantly been predicted for them. Probably no enterprise or improvement has been undertaken, that has not at once conjured up a host of skeptics to prophesy all manner of evil concerning it.

We very well recollect, that many years back; prudent, cautious, unbelieving and faithless men in our midst insisted that there was nothing to make a business for, or warrant an increase of our town; that it could never grow to any size, or become anything but an ordinary village; it has nevertheless gone on increasing more and more rapidly from year to year, and still its march is onward.

Stores, manufactories and mechanics shops, have multiplied and re-multiplied themselves, various branches of new business have been commenced, new streets have been opened, dwelling houses have sprung up in every direction; and still the cry is for more room. School houses, and Academies of the best order, have been put up; Churches built, remodelled or improved; our streets very much amended, and embellished with ornamental shade trees; our yards and houses ornamented with shrubbery and flowers; our houses and business places painted, and improved with fancy fronts. But through every stage of progress, these improvements have been met with the ominous shake of the head of the unbelieving, or at best been "damned with faint praise."

Now if all this has taken place, and it has, with the discouraging influence of the wise and prudent to contend against, what might not be accomplished with the hearty and cordial co-operation of the men of money and influence to be understood.

We would not be understood as placing all the men of influence and means in this class, for there are noble and praiseworthy exceptions.

Why this want of faith in the growth and business improvement of our town? It is beautifully and advantageously located at the head of a bold navigable stream; has large manufacturing establishments, carried on with spirit and energy; an industrious, orderly population; is surrounded by an excellent country, in a rapid course of improvement; with a soil which will richly repay, almost any outlay made to increase its productiveness, the means of enriching it easily obtained; a growing population of enterprising farmers occupying it, constantly adding to the aggregate wealth of the county; with comparatively good roads in every direction; numerous lines of stages connecting it with the business places around it, and to crown all, the speedy prospect of a Railroad to bring us in close contact with the great business marts of Philadelphia and New York; why? we repeat, refuse to believe the good things shadowed forth by all these accumulated facts, and go on indulging a croaking, unbelieving disposition, that will obstinately shut out the light, and surround itself with darkness.

We have several projects to present to our readers of this town, which we fear will be responded to with the customary and ominous shake of the head; but here they come, if they are well received, well, if not there is only a small waste of effort.

First, a Town Hall; it is a disgrace, and a serious inconvenience to our town, that we have no room for public meetings, lectures, exhibitions or other purposes; the fact, that we have to impose upon the good nature of the trustees of our churches, and not unfrequently wound the feelings of propriety, and religious sanctity, which people have a right to indulge, by the use we put these churches to, should induce us to feel the necessity of procuring a suitable room for miscellaneous assemblages. An opportunity is now offered for obtaining such a room, upon terms, which if suffered to pass unimproved, will probably never be repeated. Our former townman, Mr. DAVID REEVES, is about to improve and build up the lot of ground at the east end of the Bridge; we understand that he offers to furnish a room suitable for a Hall, in the second story of that building, upon advantageous terms. Let some spirited individuals take hold of this matter before it is too late.

We have a charter for a company, let that company be at once organized. This matter can be accomplished with but little outlay, the rent only being needed to be secured. Second, a Public Library. It is a burning shame, a deep disgrace, that a town of four thousand inhabitants, a town which justly prides itself upon the religious, moral and orderly character of its population; is well supplied with Churches and Schools; claims a reputation for taste and love for literature and science; looks upon with peculiar complacency upon the young men of talents, in the different professions, and in the business concerns of life, which she has sent forth to the world; should yet be destitute of a public library, where the young may supply themselves with such books as will be useful to them, and tend to save them from the contamination and evil influences of the trash which so much more easily falls into their way in their search for intellectual nourishment. In the building about to be erected by Mr. Reeves, a very suitable and pleasant room may be obtained for this purpose; an old library, of by gone days, which has been suffering for want of a place to bestow itself, may be procured at once, to form a nucleus around which a collection may be gathered, which cannot fail to be beneficial in its influences upon the community.

Perhaps we have suggested objects enough at this time, and had better be quiet for a time and see how these are received.

Shipwreck on the Jersey Coast.

The wreck and spring through which we have recently passed, have been seasons of unusual disaster upon the sea coasts, and especially upon the shore of New Jersey. The loss of human life has been terrible. Anguish and desolation have been brought to enough households—we should think, to move even the hearts of those gentlemen, called members of Congress; whose business it is, according to legal fiction, to provide some suitable means to remedy these disasters, but whose practice it is, to overlook such matters, and devote their precious time to political intrigues concerning the Presidency, or in quarreling over Nebraska and Cuba. By looking at the map of New Jersey, it will be perceived, that a narrow sand beach runs nearly the whole length of the state, which is disconnected from the main land by sounds and inlets, varying in width from one quarter of a mile to five miles. These beaches are generally uninhabited, and when a vessel is driven upon the shore by stress of weather, it is next to impossible to have human aid, unless some provision is made for the transportation of men to the beach. Year after year has this matter been urged upon Congress; and hitherto almost in vain. When the simple loss of life following the wreck of the Powhattan, a week or two since was telegraphed through the country, and the stoutest hearts trembled at the very thought of the catastrophe, a new appeal was made to Congress; yet when Dr. Skelton, of the New Jersey delegation, asked leave to introduce a Resolution, making some appropriation to remedy the evils of their past neglect, the usual objections were made to the introduction of the Resolution; and there perhaps the whole matter will rest until some fresh disasters and loss of lives will awake those gentlemen to a sense of their duty. We hope that the press will continue to speak out, as we are glad to perceive they are now doing; and perhaps an awakened public opinion will bring about what the simplest dictates of humanity has heretofore failed to accomplish and that in some efficient arrangements for the protection and safety of shipwrecked men, women and children.

Proceedings of the Meeting of the Cumberland Co. Agricultural Society April 26, 1854.

The Society met in the Court House the President in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Committees of ways and means from the several Townships made their reports.

Mr. Providence Ludlum reported the names of twenty additional life members obtained since the last meeting.

The Committee on premiums reported a schedule of premiums to be offered at the coming fair, which after some amendment was adopted.

Regulations relating to the management of the fair and awarding premiums were read and adopted.

The subject of the ploughing was postponed for consideration until the next meeting of the Society.

A committee of one from each township represented was appointed to select the judges for awarding premiums at the fair.

The committee of ten appointed at the last meeting was continued and authorized to make all the necessary arrangements for the exhibition and draw upon the Treasurer for the necessary funds.

On motion Resolved, That this Society has observed with pleasure the handsome manner in which the Salem Co. Agricultural Society notices our organization; that we cordially reciprocate their expressions of good feelings, and trust that our only rivalry will be that of doing good to the community and assisting in elevating the standing of the farmers of the lower counties of New Jersey.

The Society then adjourned to meet again on the fourth Wednesday of July.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY BIBLE SOCIETY.

This Society held its 38th Annual Meeting in the late Presbyterian Church, Bridgeton, on Tuesday, May 2d, 1854.

An able sermon was preached on the occasion by the Rev. N. VANSANT, of the Commerce St. M. E. Church, from Psalm cxix: 129. The Annual Report of the Board of Managers was then read by Dr. E. BUCK, adopted and on motion was ordered to be published in the W. J. Pioneer and B. Chronicle.

The Society elected the following Managers, for the ensuing year: Rev. E. Osborn, Dr. W. S. Bowen, S. B. Jones, D.D., Wm. Elmer, N. Vansant, John T. Nixon, Esq., J. Loudenslager, Mr. John Howell, Hon. L. Q. C. Elmer, Dr. E. F. Fithian, Mr. F. G. Weaver, E. B. Bateman, John Moore, B. B. Bateman, Mr. Daniel B. Thompson.

The Managers elected as Officers for the ensuing year, Rev. E. Osborn, President.—Rev. Dr. Jones, Dr. W. S. Bowen and Rev. N. Vansant, Vice Presidents.—F. G. Weaver, Treasurer; and J. T. Nixon, Secretary.

Annual Report.

The 38th Annual Report of the Board of Managers of the Cumberland County Bible Society for the year ending, May 2d, 1854.

The Managers respectfully report, that during the past year there has been received into the Treasury, from various sources $119,551, viz:

From the Annual Col. at Millville, $ 8 43

Members (annual collections) 18 00

Sale of Bibles and Testaments 78 12

Col. of the 2d Presbyterian Church, Bridgeton 15 00

Balance per last report 6119 56

There has been paid to the American Bible Soc. and for freight, &c. 170 48

Leaving a balance in the Treas'y. of $ 30 15

At the last annual meeting of the Society the stock of Bibles and Testaments—There are now remaining 168 Bibles and 126 Testaments. Number distributed by donation and sale during the year is 171 Bibles and 291 Testaments.—Whole number of Bibles and Testaments sold or donated by the Society since its organization 6029.

The different Methodist churches in the county, have contributed and paid directly to the American Bible Society during the past year $95.80. Although the actual amount of good accomplished, and the number of copies of God's word distributed in the county may be the same, still the operations of the Methodist churches do less towards magnifying the operations, and importance of our society, than they would if their collections passed through our hands in their transit to the parent Society; and the Bibles and Testaments they distribute were received from our depository. The amount of books they receive would be no less, and the expenses attending the operation would be decreased. It is however better that they should pursue their present course, than do as most of our churches have done, neglect to make collections altogether.

The 2d Presbyterian church of Bridgeton, is the only other church, which has responded to the recommendation of the Society at its last annual meeting, by sending up specific contributions for this important branch of Christian enterprise. We would earnestly recommend to the other churches, the plan adopted by that church; they have printed slips prepared, naming one after another, the various Christian enterprises which they think proper to commend to the patronage of their people, with blank spaces, opposite each or either of which the blank is filled by the individual, according to his own judgment, with a sum to be paid monthly, and signed with his or her name; every three months, the ladies of the congregation, call upon the subscribers, and collect the amounts for the various objects named. This plan has now been in operation for six months and one of the results is, that that church, although the congregation is small, has contributed and paid into our Society fifteen dollars, or at the rate of thirty dollars per annum.

The Board of Managers in their last report urged upon the Society, the necessity of increased efforts to enlarge their operations, to endeavor to increase their number of paying members, and invite renewed attention to the objects of their association. They regret that their recommendations have not been more successful in producing practical results and again, respectfully but earnestly renew their efforts to rouse the society and the public to the vast importance of the work in which they are engaged.

The importance of Bible distribution is not becoming any less urgent, in fact, it is becoming more and more important every year.—Other objects may be calculated to attract more the attention of the people, and we would not discourage them from giving, and giving liberally, to all the various means adopted for extending the influence of christianity, and thus promoting the spiritual and temporal welfare of man, but we merely ask what can any or all of these enterprises do to accomplish without the Bible? Let us then never forget the importance of distributing far and wide the chart by which the course of the christian is to be guided.

NOTE.—We learn that at the late meeting of Conference, a resolution was passed recommending the Methodist Preachers to pay their Bible collections to the Auxiliary Bible Societies and cooperate with them in their labors.

HEAVY FRO.—Our friend from Plainfield who sent us the following communication will please excuse us for the delay in publishing it. It was received about moving time and in consequence of the change in the editorial department was accidentally mislaid. We shall be pleased to hear from him again when we will try to be more prompt. Examples of such thrift and growth of pigs are rare, and affords gratifying evidence of the attention and skill of our citizens in the various departments of stock raising.

"Gentlemen, I raised a pig that was killed about the first of March, when it was 6 months old that weighed when dressed Two hundred and Twenty-five pounds. It had had no extra care at that.

Yours &c., with respect." W. S. D.

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of E. & J. Dubois, in another column. They continue to conduct that old Wool establishment at Elmer's mill, so favorably known to our community. Bundle up your wool and send it along.

PRIZES, with other interesting articles and advertisements, received at a late hour, will appear in our next.
