DIORAL. BEAUTIFUL OLD AGE.

The following beautiful sketch of one of the too often-belied race, exhibiting the "old age which crowns a noble life," is from a sermon on old age by Theodore Parker, recently

Miss Kindly is aunt to everybody, and has been so long that none remember to the contrary. The little children love her. She helped their grandmothers to bridal ornaments some three-score years ago. Nay, this boy's grandfather found the way to college through her pocket. Generations not her own rise up and call her blessed. To this man's father her patient toil gave the first start in life. -That great fortune-when it was a seed she carried it in her hand. That wide river of reputation ran out of the cup her bounty filled. Now she is old-very old. The little childien who cling about her with open mouth and great round eyes, wonder that anybody should ever be so old, or that Aunt Kindly ever had a mother to kiss her mouth. To them she is coeval with the sun, and, like that, an institution of the country. At Christmas, they think she is the wife of St. Nicholas himself; such an advent is there of blessings from her hand. She has helped lay a Messiah in many a poor man's crib. Her hands are thin; her voice feeble: her back is bent; she walks with a staff-the best limb of three. She wears a cap of antique pattern, yet of her own make. She has great round spectacles, and holds her book away off the other side of the caudle when she reads. For more than sixty years she has been a special providence to the family. How she used to go forth—the very charity of God to soothe and heat, and bless! How industrious are her hands! how thoughtful and witty that fertile mind! Her heart has gathered power to love in all the eighty-six years of a toilsome new lifting sub-soil plow may at least give life. When the birth angel came to a related house, she was there to be the mother's mother; ay, mother also to the new-born baby's soul. And when the wings of death flapped in the street, shook a neighbor's door, she smoothed down the pillow for the fainting where horse hoes could, with propriety be leads to a great deal of contention among the head, and soothed and cheered the spirit of the waiting man; opening the curtains of head where mowing machines would add ma. From the Working Farmor. Agricultural Implements.

In this age of progression, when everything is advancing both in quality and economy of production, we cannot but imagine that the Agricultural Implements, although materially inproved, have not met so great a share of attention from inventors as they deserve.

Mechanics' tools have been so materially improved within the last twenty years, that any parts of houses which were worked out aboriously at the bench, are now manufactured by tools moved by steam power. Sashes, mouldings, planing of boards, tongueing and groving, and even the making of doors, are no longer part of the occupation of the general builder, and the same differences exist in all the mechanic arts.

Cast-iron is now 1 lowed by machinery, and turned even in eccentric forms in lathes; whereas, formerly, it was laboriously modeled by the cold chisel and the file.

In every other branch of art, similar improvements have occurred, until the commonest house utensil now partakes of a graceful

Commerce has also been benefitted by new inventions, until the exact length of voyages can be foretold within a few hours, and the New York merchant leaves his house for his counting-room, anticipating the certain arri val of a European steamer, on a particular

Our larger manufactures, including the cotton and woolen fabrics, have been materially improved in quality and reduced in price. Nor have farming tools entirely been neglected, but the advance in these has not been so great as in those used by other classes of citizens. The reports of every fair where dynometers are used for testing plows, show material differences in the amount of power necessary to propel them at the same depths; but still this all-important instrument has received so little aid from the geometrical that we have no work which clearly and unequivocally explains the principle on which he true shape of the mould board may be ascertained. It is true that Mr. Knox and a few others have, apparently for their own use, solved in part the problem, but still the amount of animal force wasted, from the malconstruction of plows, is almost as great as that used for the true disturbance of the soil. And notwithstanding the well-ascertained necessity for sub-soil plowing, the sub-soil plows in general use are inefficient. We have eshints to more able inventors, who will produce an improved class of instruments, embracing this plow, so far as tenable, for avoiding useless friction and compacting of the soil.

Farmers are beginning to know cultivators may be used with advantage in place of har rows. The form of the harrow tooth being a wedge pointed downward, is continually active in compressing portions of the soil, while the tooth of the cultivator, having all its tendency of action upward, is always loosening the largest, fullest podded, and finest flavored the soil, and they should be preferred for the purposes of disintegration to the barrow.

The use of Digging-machines is now being agitated, and we find many English farmers advocating their use strenuously. We have made arrangements for trials of some of these machines, and hope at an early date to be able to place the results before our readers.

It is well known that when the price of labor is low in England, formers find it to their advantage to preserve spade-culture. The expectation of continued high prices seems to be based mainly or a brother; if not, a father and a mother; upon these two facts: first, that in Europe immense numbers will be withdrawn from agricultural pursuits on account of the warlike condition of nearly every country there; and secondly, that in this country there will be a sister, a tender sister, how dear the appellascarcity of help for farmers, and at the same tion: even those who were never blessed with time an increased demand for grain and other the refining influence of such an earthly anfarm products on account of the immense number of hands employed in building railroads. The advice of the Tribune, based upon these facts, is that their country friends speak the tender name with admiration, and should prepare for a great spring crop; that oft-times express a look of her softening influthey should sow all the oats they can get into the ground in good order and in proper scason; that they should then plant corn upon every acre they can spare and get ready for that her—heed her timely warnings for she has it if at all, with true dignity of character. erop; and that, later in the season, they should sow as much buckwheat; turnips, and corn and knows full well its snares. These are wise and seasonable suggestions. We wish to make one more, having the same object in view. We have noticed a good many nicces and patches of winter wheat which look very yellow and sickly this spring. We are confident from what we have seen of the effects of sowing plaster on wheat in the spring that these patches which look so pale and sickly, and which will yield but a very small erop, will be very generally restored to a good healthy green color by an early application of plaster. Even those fields or parts of fields which now look green and healthy would probably take on a healthier growth from the application of a little plaster. But we have epeatedly observed that pieces of wheat which seemed almost winter killed, which were very yellow and sickly looking in the spring, were soon restored to a healthy color and a rapid growth by the application of a bushel totalf a bushel of gypsum to the acre. Now, if by sowing about this amount of plaster on fields or patches of fields of wheat which look sickly, and which probably, would not yield as much as ten bushels to the acre, they can be revived and invigorated so as to be made to yield twenty or more bushels, the farmer who applies it will obviously receive very ample compensation for his outlay, time and trouble. A few bushels of wheat at present prices would reward him bountifully. While, then, the farmer gives all time and attention possible to spring crops, let him not neglect the wheat now in the ground. The plaster may be applied with the mos advantage when first we have warmth enough to cause wheat or grass to start a little. OBSERVER.

It begins to be asked with some considerable carnestness, what is the prospect of the manifested by large number of our citizens. think would be a preferable road; we have a false Standard bearer. thought it worth-while to inform ourselves of what is doing and what are the prospects of its being commenced and carried forward.

would have been commenced previous to this time, if the proper arrangements could have been made with the owners of the lands, to secure the right of way. It is necessary, to secure the company from imposition and from legel liabilities, that the right of way should be legally obtained, the road located, and properly entered so far as determined upon for the time, and that after that, no alteration in the route to avoid difficulties, or litigation, can be made without an act of the legislature. The Company then, very properly wish to go to work right and get themselves into no difficulty. Now although they have obtained the titles to nearly all the road as far as Woodbury, which will be made the first section, they have difficulty with a few individuals just at the commencement of the road at Camden, and after having waited with the they are now compelled to apply for the appointment of commissioners to settle the amount to be paid; this will take up some further time, and will delay the work somewhat longer. It is confidently asserted, by those who ought to know, that the work will be commenced in time to finish it as far as Woodbury during the present season; the right of way will be secured the rest of the way in the meantime, so that no detention may hereafter occur to the regular progress of the work. Any of us who recollect the vexatious difficulties which are sometimes experienced in opening some of our common roads, will at once perceive how easily an enterprise of this kind may be obstructed, and its progress delayed in spite of all the efforts of a company to carry out the work speedily and in good faith.

A charter has been granted for a Railroad from Camden through Marlton, Pemberton and New Egypt to Freehold, another charter is held, we believe by the Joint Companies, for a Railroad from Freehold to a point on Raritan Bay, at Key Port or any more eligible place. There is now a Road from Freehold to Jamesburg on the Camden and Amboy Road, which will make another Railroad route between Camden and New York. This road is about to be built, it will pass through the Agricultural districts of Burlington and Monmouth Counties, will have the support of the capitalists and farmers of those counties, the assistance of the Joint Companies, and will afford new facilities for the transportation of the produce taken upon the West Jersey Road to the New York market. But the building of this road, if we mistake not, will put a new phase on the Railroad interests and feelings, of some of the people of Salem who have professed so much zeal for the interest of Cumberland, and particularly for Greenwich. It is suggested, that a branch will be applied for, to start from Marlton. to run through Glassboro, and so on straight for Salem, or a point on Delaware Bay near Salem; and although we are not a Prophet or the Son of a Prophet, we venture to predict that, in spite of the immaculate purity of the Salem Standard, and its partizans, who speak with such holy horror of the doings of the Joint Companies, they will be found advocating this route, and that all their well feigned love for the good people of Cumberland, their zeal for the Air Line Road and opposition to the West Jersey Road, will pass away as the morning cloud and early dew, to make room for their devotion to their new love. We do not much wonder at the course of the Standard and others interested in Salem, for we can excuse the jealousy which a town, (which one of our builders who had mooved there and has since returned, quaintly observed, was finished, and that he had come back to Church opposite the Academy. On this oc- injured, three of whom are not expected to assist in the rapid and healthy growth of Bridgeton) may have of a sister town rapidly outstripping it in importance.

TRAILS Machine can be worked with two horses and at the usual ploughing gait and is inor lodged, wet or dry, and if the knives are not dullod by accident, no sharponing will be required during the Whoat Harvest, unless the field by unusually grassy, or the harvest a wet one; in such a case, as in mowing, the cutters should be ground when dull. Why this Machine is preferable to any other is, after you have cut your different kinds of Grain, fully as well as can be done with any other Machine, with not over fifteen minutes work, you can take the same Machine into your Grass field or Meadow and cut your grass at the rate of 10 to 15 acres per day, cutting closer and cleaner than can be done with a Scythe. With proper care this Machine will last fifteen or twenty years, with triffing repairs. Persons wishing Machines, will please or der them early, to insure their delivery in time for the coming harvest. Apply either personally or by Farmers are cautioned against being detion Medal. With regard to the premature award of that Medal the facts are these. The Medal was The surgical operations on the teeth, such as nwarded to McCormick without fair competition, his machine was managed by an experienced hand, sent from America, while mine was without any one to manage it except common laborers picked up in London in my absence; laborers who formance. knew nothing of its operation. My machine was wrongly adjusted for the work, and used in a most blundering manner, every man in the field were total strangers to it. It was on such a one-sided nd partial trial that the Medal was disposed of. It must be clear to every reflecting mind, that no fair trial could be made under such circumstances. On my arrival in England both machines were put into the hands of the Cleveland Agricultural ociety, in consequence of a challenge given by McCormick's party and accepted by me, that the two machines might be deliberately proved by the Farmers of England, instead of an Exhibition Jury, who had too much on their hands to allow them to make such an important trial in a proper man-

The Cleveland Agricultural Society, of which of twelve or the first farmers of the country, whose award was most decidedly in favor of my Machine; and no decision was ever more heartily concured in by the whole community. This is well known all over England and the Continent, and is confirmed by all Americans returning to this country informed of the facts.

My great victory in England is fully sustained by the testimonials of practical farmers in this country, who have had long experience with both Machines. OBED HUSSEY. Bridgeton, April 1, 1854. Baltimore, Md.

A Great and Important Change!

CHANGES of all kinds are of such very com-mon occurrence at the present day, that little or no notice is taken of them, unless they are of a very extraordinary nature. A change of this kind took place in this town a few days since, and the inhabitants of this place and vicinity, were surprised when they heard the intelligence, that .

Samuel R. Fithian, Had taken the Old Stand, at the N. Cumberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company. THE annual meeting of the members of the Cumberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held at the Hotel of E. Davis & Son, in Bridgeton, on Monday the 12th day of March 1854. LEONARD LAWRENCE, Esq., Chairman. Directors Reported as follows:
A continued accession of members and strength the Company during the past year, which the tenth since organization, and very favorable success, with but one loss paid, and they have now a better cash fund than at either of the two previous annual meetings. The increase of the Company during the year has been 246 Policies. Insuring amt. They have now outstanding 2,728 Policies. Insur-$2,845,981 ing the amount of Premium notes deposited Cash funds. Invested on bond 2,750 and mortgage 2,500 Endorsed notes

Cash in hands of agents 714 35 $5,964 35 The expenses of the year past have been $348. 71, of which a considerable part had been for blanks &c., enough to last for several years. The Interest money received has been $325-11
The only loss paid during the year was $1,692 and one small claim not yet adjusted. Since commencement of issuing of policies, there has been received Premiums $19,301 71 Interest money There has been paid for losses 15,150 86 Expenses The interest money having paid all expense and $1,820 more.

Assuming as heretofore, that a cash payment equal to the five per ct. up:n premium note, had been annually paid by the members, the amount saved by this Company, would now reach the sum of $86,400, and as the five per ct. paid is less than usual charges made for insurance upon similar property, by any responsible Stock Company, it may be fairly stated at the round sum of $100,000, which is increasing at the rate of nearly $18,000 As an evidence of strength existing in the Company, they would call attention to the fact that, if an assessment were made of but five per ct. upon the premium notes, an amount which would scarce ly be noticed by any one paying it, the funds of the Company would at once be raised to $24,000, and if ten per ct. were made, which would not be oppressive to any members, a fund of $42,000 ould be at their disposal to meet any losses for which it were needed. They cannot but feel a just pride, that an Institution so successful in its operations and of so es-sential benefit to the community, has thus far been under their direction, and would offer to extend its protection on terms as heretofere. Proceeded to Election of Directors, when the following named persons were chosen Benjamin Sheppard, Greenwich; Jacob Harris, Roadstown; Dr. Jacob W. Brewster, do.; D. A. F. Esq., Shiloh; Lewis McBride, Esq., Bridgeton

James Stiles, Esq., do. At a meeting of Directors, held after election the following officers were chosen: BENJAMIN SHEPPARD, President. HENRY B. LUPTON, Secretary.

Executive Committee.—David P. Elmer, Isaac A Sheppard, Jonathau Elmer, Lewis McBride.
The subject of renewal of Policies, which now are about to expire, was taken up, and it was leemed not advisable that any part of the present fund should be divided in such renewals. It was resolved, that inasmuch as those who were first nsured, had incurred greater hazard than was found after the second or third year, and as a rate of premium was charged upon the first issued policies, less than was found expedient afterward, that such new applications that might be made and new policies issued upon property heretofore insured, the risk to the property being the same, should be charged at the rates originally taken; and as almost every policy would at the end of the ten years, be found to have changed its form, or applicant might desire to make additions to or alce entirely closed. And as each new one issued would be free from assessment for one year from ts date, and a fund already on hand would pro-strengthen the Company and equitably dispose of he funds to all concerned. The Insurance to the first members has cost but about five cents per annum on the $100 insured on all common kinds of property. AGENTS AND SURVEYORS: Doct. James Loper, Millville. R. Willets, Port Elizabeth. Joseph Butcher, Mauricetown. Beanty, Health, and Cheapness. CAMUEL L. FITHIAN has on hand and for sale In large lot of Zine Paints as follows viz. Pure Zine White No. 1, 2 & 3, Brown Zine, Black Zine Zinc Dryer and Demar varnish. The Zinc Paints in their improved state have ow been in use for a number of years and fully tested side by side with the Best l'ure White Lead and has in every instance proved to be superior to White Lead both in Color, Durability, Beauty, and Cheapness. From experiments it has been found that 100 lbs best White Zine will cover when applied in three coats on new work as much surface as 1662-3 lbs White Lead Pure, and will cover as well which makes the Zine over 60perct cheaper than It is equally applicable to inside or outside work or for the bottom of vessels or in any other place where paint is necessary. The reasons above given, we think should satisfy any one of the Superiority of the Zinc paints but should any yet doubt, we should be pleased to have them give us a call and we think we can fully satisfy them of their superiority for Beauty, Durability, Health & Cheapness.
