From the Baltimore Co. Advocate. A DIALOGUE.

It will be remembered, that at the late municipal election in New Orleans, a desperate fight occurred between the Irish Catholics and the Americans, in several wards, but in the Seventh particalarly. The former faction cudeavored to drive native voters from the polls, and resorted to the most desperate means to secure the election of Winter, their candidate. The result of such a move could not fail to create a terrible row; it did, and the foreign party were utterly routed,-Below we give a dialogue, supposed to have taken place between Pat, an Irish drayman, and his wife Bridget, on the return of the former from the Sevouth Ward polls. The O'Leary mentioned is chief of police, and took an active part in the row, not very pretty houses erected in our midst reas a protector of the peace, but as a brawler and

From the New Jersey Standard. FORGIVENESS.

One of the nablest of human virtues is the eye, a tooth for a tooth, was long regarded as slager, of the Methodist, and Rev. Mr. Tood, a correct standard of human conduct, and noted upon by Jews and Gentiles. Mere human philosogay knew no higher standardsought no higher. It remained for the true pattern of human virtues, to inculente the spirit of forgiveness. He said, "Leve your enemies; bless them that nurse you, do good to them that hate you, and pasy for them which despitefully use you and persecute you. If ye forgive men their trespuses, your bestenly Pather will also forgive your hat if 75 forgive not men their trespances neither will your heavenly Father forgres your beavenly

If Christ, the true pattern of human virtue, possessed the spirit of forgiveness, we should aim to be like him in this respect. We should forgive the injuries received, and not revenge them. It is not a human infirmity to forgive an enemy, but true greatness. Kallen humanity, however, finds it easier to revenge an injury than to forgive one.

In the exercise of a forgiving spirit we have the approval of our conscience; in revenging an injury we are condemned by our conscience. The exercise of this commendable soirit makes no enemies, but may secure us many friends; it may convert even enemies into friends.

Forgiveness is one of the cardinal virtues of Christianity. It enters largely into the formation of the christian character. It tinges the whole with a heavenly lustre.

CEDARVILLE, August 26, 1854. native village, I have returned again, to onjoy its quiet and seclusion; and feeling in a meditative mood this morning, I have thought like John Bunyan-the "Prince of Dreamers"-

"That which came from my own heart, so to my head Should thence into my fingers trickle."

But it is not my design to rob Mr. Bunyan of any of his well carned laurels, obtained in penning that inimitable Allegory, the " Pilgrim's Progress."

Well Cedarville is "levelling up" some just now in its improvements and nomenclatures. There have been quite a number of cently, of which, as yet, Mr. Enos S. Gandy's is the "lion." That indeed is a large, neat and tasteful mansion, built by the Messrs. Conover, of this village, the which is not only an ornament to the place, but reflects much credit on the Architects, whose motto is that of old David Crockett-" be sure you're right to develop the disease. and then go. ahead," or as "Phrenological Fowler" would say, their organs of "go-ahead-a tiveness" are largely developed. An "old maid" can be made, by them, to look five years and six months younger than she really is. We perceive too, that the custom is pretty generally obtaining-of painting and to some extent of shuttering the houses-of whitewashing trees, which adds much to the appearance of the place. The "old Button Factory" also, we understand has been purchased by several enterprising Jersey Yankees, who are converting it into a mill for the manufacture of paper. We advise all the women of Cumberland County to hunt up their old rags, and tear up their old clothes. that the mill may be abundantly supplied.

Now for the street and local names of this village. Well there is Broad street, Sugar Hill street, Main street, Commerce street, &c. Then there is Point Pleasant, Southwark, Nelly Bly's, Prosperity Row, Weldome Retreat, Happy Valley, Canaan, &c. This Canaan is not over Jordan, but this side.

These and other prophylactical precautions to a good extent kept off the unwelcome visitant. These two cases, and many others might be cited were it necessary, to prove that local things are often the exciting cause of that fearful epidemic which has scourged our beloved country almost from one end to the other. Now one step nearer home. The draining of a large body of water almost invariably produces sickness, either direct, or develops that disease, and renders it more malignant, to which the people who come under its influence are predisposed. It has been said that such a thing will affect the people for five miles in and a circumferance of some thirty miles, hence the ponds and lakes in Delaware or Maryland and perhaps in both are not allowed to be drained below a certain mark or point. There's a great deal in it. We don't pro tend to know how many cats there are in the city of Albany. Indeed, we never heard that they were included in the census. A Railroad to the Mining Regions-The present scarcity and high price of coal in our market, is attracting the attention of many of our citizens to the importance of a more direct and enlarged communication than now exists with the coal fields of Pennsylvania. It is felt the capacity of the Morris Canal however adequate it may have been years since is insufficient, now that our borders are largely increased and our population greatly augmented, to the transportation of that amount of coal required for consumption among our citizens; and hence it seems necessary that some new avenue of intercourse should be opened up.

The prevailing sentiment among intelligent men seems to be that the deficiency of accom-medation alluded to can only be supplied in one way, and that is by the construction of a railroad from Millstone, the present terminus of the New Jersey Company, to Lambertville and thence across the Delaware to Pottaville. This would bring the coal mines almost to our very doors, and while allowing facilities for continuous supplies, would also necessarily produce a material abatement of the usual rates—it being an catablished principle that the price of any article depends in a great measure upon the distance seperating the consumer from the producer. The advantages, however, neeruing from the construction of the road referred to, would not be confined to meuse trade with the interior of the Keystone State, and in time the outlet of a vast proportion of the business of the west, which in future years will undoubted seek new channels of intercourse with the Atlantic cities. Indeed, in whatever aspect regarded, the benefits sure to result from the opening of this avenue of transportation appear almost measure. less, and it should excite no surprise that with these things before them, our citizens should manifest a desire to see the enterprise undertaken at the earliest possible moment. For our own part, we consider the construction of this road as inevitable. The community recognize this as the only practical chauwhat period the important work shall be com-

SIGNS OF RAIN.

The drought with which we have been visited, has brought to our notice, the multitude of signs which the people have treasured up of the changes in weather. We find individuals who, spite of the constant succession of disappointed predictions which they experience, are always ready to give us reliable information about when, we may, or may not, expect the long wished for moistening of our parched earth, and cooling of our heated and oppressive atmosphere. But all signs fail in dry weather, is an old adage, and as true as any of the signs we hear of.

Most of our weather wise neighbors, lay great stress upon the situation and changes of the moon, and seem entirely satisfied, that her ladyship exercises supreme control over the rains, as well as the tides, and many other matters which have been placed by men, at different periods under her direction; if the moon, really has the control of these matters, we suspect, the man in the moon, who we may suppose is a sort of sentinel, or look out, to give notice to his mistress, of the state of our country, and its wants; is not a faithful watchman, but sometimes sleeps on his post,

We have been told with much confidence lately, that we could not have rain until after the full moon; the question at once arose in our mind, whether or no, it was the same moon which ruled here, that managed these matters some twelve or fifteen miles east of us; if the same pleasant, mild looking lady, extends her government so far, how is it that they should have had rain spite of the moon laws, while we have to wait the legitimate period for its visitation. There is a screw loose somewhere, in this moonology, and if her ladyship dont manage things better, we shall be tempted to look elsewhere for information upon which to found our prognostications, when we turn Seer.

There are a number of signs, not dependent upon the moon, which we have looked to with some respectful defference from our youth. For instance the outery of the Peacock, perched on the highest chimney, we have listened to this cry with pleasure, in a of Cumberland, made by the Board of Asdry and thirsty time; but we have no peaeocks around us, and if we have to wait to Court House of said County, September 4th, hear that ominous and welcome cry, before 1854. the rain comes, we fear there is hard times before us; and then, there is the tree toad, worth half a dozen moons, as a weather guage, but they are as silent as the grave, just now; whether their throats have not got so dried up, that they cant make a noise, or not, is a question, if we thought that was so, it might be advisable, could we find one, to moisten his wind-pipe a little and set his musical organs in motion, upon the same principle, that the man who had got tired of an easterly wind, climbed up to the vane on the steeple, turned it to another point of the compass.-But there are other signs in which we have more confidence, because they may be regarded as evidences, that a change is going on around us, calculated to produce rain upon natural and rational principles; of these the rise of springs, the swelling of rivulets. the moisture near the surface of the ground, the condensation of the atmosphere, so as to produce moisture on the outside of a tumbler of cold water &c, are the most prominent; we really have some considerable faith in these signs, and have been looking out for them, so far in vain; the tembler which was a minute since brought us filled with good iced water, stands before us; it is true there is moisture slowly gathering on the outside of it, but it is truly a little sign, no globules, apparently forcing themselves through the solid glass, | York was discovered on Thursday. A man as we have sometimes witnessed.

Well, we have the satisfaction of believing that we have a more sure and abiding source of confidence, that all things necessary will be provided in due time, than all the signs, and inventions of men can furnish us with .-The rain will come, and we shall have that which is necessary for us; we may as well drew the greater part of the amount out of then, take it as quietly and easily as we well the bank in $500 Chemical Bank notes. can, remembering, that to fret, and to fume, The loss falls on the Chemical Bank. country a little during the week and have satisfied ourself that there will not be such a failure of crops, with all the dry weather as to very seriously endanger our comforts. The the last month, but it is far from being a failure, there are many fields which will turn out what would some years back have been considered a good yield, and tre believe that generally the yeild will be better and more abundant than the ordinary yield TAS previous to the improved management of farms which is now becoming general, was introduced. Buckwheat we fear is a failure in the fullest sense of the term, we done like the idea of having our full supply of nice hot buckwheat cakes and butter next vinter out off, but a worse misfortune might overtake us and so we will endeavor to submit, besides good indian cakes will make a pretty tolerable substitute. The great crop from which we have expected so much, and which from present prospects so little vill be realized is the potato, there is however room for the growth of potatoes yet, we very well recollect that in 1838 which was a remarkably dry aummer, the drought extending until October, there was many very good potatoes which were entirely made after that time-potatoes grow very quick sometimes, and if plentiful rains come while the vines are green and oufficient warmth should continue for a few weeks new seto will put out and make good potatoes. It is true there is a goodly array of those terrible buts, and not a few iff's in the way-but never despair is the true motto.

We learn that the house, barn, and out buildings with their contents, and several stacks of hay belonging to Mr. Moore, of Salem Co., about one and a half miles above the Red Meeting House, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday last. It no doubt was the work of an incendiary.

Duty on Paper .- The New York Sun appeared on Thursday, printed on paper impor-ted from France. The paper looked very well, and was a great improvement on that ordinarily used in that establishment. The Sun speaking of it says: "The paper was im- of the State Society. ported from France, and excelled in quality that on which the Sun is ordinarily printed, yet after paying 80 per cent. duty, three per cent additional charges, cost of carriage, in surance, &c., it costs us no more than we pay here for the paper which we are now using. Were the duty on paper struck off, we could furnish our readers with a larger and handomer oheet for one cent. They can therefore form some idea of how the duty on paper operates against them as well as against us."

The Effect .- The New York Tribune anpeared yesterday ensmalled. It has stricken one column from each of its eight pages—ma king a difference of eight columns, or what is equivalent to nearly one-half of an ordinary sized paper. The Great State Fair at Philadelphia.

This exhibition will probably be the noblest and most interesting display ever made in Pennsylvania. It will combine the Agricultural, Horticultural and Mechanical interests, with the addition of ten thousand other articles of fancy, taste and elegance. The exhibition will open on the 26th day of September and continue four days. Premiums to the amount of $7000 will be distributed.

The Fair grounds comprise twenty-five acres, and are located in the 24th Ward of the City, upon the Powelton and Bingham estates, West Philadelphia. Large buildings will be completed for the reception and display of all articles designed for exhibition, and five hundred covered sheds for horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

A Course, one fourth of a mile in circumference, will be properly arranged for the trial of horses. Steam engines will be on the lion's worth a week, at auction, the imports ground for the running of machinery. The yet continue enormously large." STOVES, STOVES! Medal Awarded, by the Franklin Institute, of Philadelphia:

E the undersigned, would respectfully call the attention of the public to our superior stock of Stoves, Cauldrons, Forges, &c., &c. The superiority of our Stoves, above all others is so well known, that we deem it unnecessary to enter Our MacGregor Heating Stoves, deserve par-ticular notice; as Coal has advanced to a high rate, we would recommend this stove, as the most nomical one in use, as we warrant it to give more heat with one-fourth the fuel, than any other stove ever made; this stove received the Silver Medal, as also, on application at the Office a number of References.

Our COOK STOVES, consists of the Globe Cook, for Coal; Modern Troy, for Wood; Bucks Celebrated Wood Stove; Complete Cook; Yocom Cook; Lillydale, &c., &c. Our assortment of Cook and Parlor Stoves, are the best in the Market, and persons desiring to purchase will do well to favor us with a call before purchasing elsewhere.

Accompanying, you have submitted the official proceedings of the Share Holders in Mass Meeting, convened on the evening of the 27th inst., for the purpose of selecting a Committee, and taking into consideration other matters affecting the interests of all ticket holders in my Third Gift Enterprise. It will be seen that a committee have been ap-pointed, and instructions given them as to the course to be pursued up to a certain stage of progression in the enterprise. For the information of absent share holders, I here beg leave to state, that the number of tickets sold up to the present time is about 46,000. From this you will perceive that so soon as 34,000 more are sold, they will advise the whole body of share holders of the fact and ask of them, in general meeting assembled for the purpose, instructions as to the final disposition of

LADIES INSTITUTE Of the Penn Medical University of Philada. FINHE Fall term of this new Medical School for Ladies, will commence on the first Monday in October, 1854, and continue four months.

The System of Teaching, here pursued, is entirely new, and is more comprehensive, thorough, liberal and practical, than that of any other Medical School in the country. It is based, as far as possible, upon the positive Sciences, consequently, free from all sects and dogmas. The branches of study are divided according to their natural order of succession, and taught in four progressive courses of four months each; there are two courses in each year, thus enabling the students to pass successively through all four courses within two years. By this arrangement the study is rendered easy, and possessed of daily increasing interest. Ladies desiring a thoroughly scientific Medical Education, or any part particularly interesting them, have facilities here nowhere else to be found. Bridgeton, April 22, 1854. Brewster's Cholera Mixture. N a great majority of cases the cholera is preceded by Diarrhoen or looseness of of the bowels; which being neglected inder the false but toe common opinion, that it will work its own cure by a little abstinence, has resulted fafally in numerous cases. Thousands of persons in New Jersey and throughout the United States have borne testimony to the efficacy of Brewster's Cholera Mixture as a remedy for Diarrhoea, Bowel complaints and Cholera Morbus, the premonitory symptoms of Asiatic Cholera.

The proprietor is constantly receiving testimonials of cures performed by this mixture. During the last eight years it has been very extensively used, nearly two thousand bottles have been sold within a month past, we have no hesitation there-fore in recommending it as a safe and effectual remedy if administered in the early stages of the disease according to the directions on the bolds, every family and vessel, as well as travellers should have a bottle of it, to be ready for sudden attacks.

Prepared only by F. G. Brewster, Druggist, Bridgeton N. J. Price 25 cents per bottle, and sold by most all store keepers and Druggists. July 29, 1884. Clothing Store opposite the post office.

Ritter's Compound Syrup of Tar & Wild Cherry S the safest, chancest, and best of all Cough Medicines now in use. Of this fact a single trial will convince the most skeptical. It contains no mineral or narcotic ingredients, and causes no inconvenience during its administration; is very palatable, will be taken freely by the youngest children, and will afford instant relief in croup and whooping cough, if given according to the direc-tions. A few doses will allay the irritation of the bronchial tube, incident to cough and sore throat, and by removing the cause will in a short time produce the effect desired—a permanent cure.— One bottle, the price of which is 25 cents, will in nearly every instance cure a cough, however in veterate and of however long standing.

For sale by storekeepers generally in this and adjoining counties, and wholesale by the proprietor.
