TO WORKERS IN WOOD.

A residence of considerable time on public works in this part of Indiana, viz: at Fort Wayne, leads me to bring the following facts to the notice of mechanics and manufacturers. In this part of the State is a region containing several counties abounding in many varieties of choice timber. Among these are white oak, black walnut, white walnut, cherry, white ash, white wood, colored poplar here, beech, and hard maple.

Fort Wayne—a place of 7,000 inhabitants is the chief market town for the district. It has at this present moment ready communication with the country north, by means of the canal and numerous plank roads. In months to come the Ohio and Indiana railway will open through to this, its terminus. This will give unbroken rail connection with every part of Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the East. In the course of next season, the Lake Erie, Wabash, and St. Louis railway will also be opened, giving a second trunk line route to the East. The W. and E. canal has been in use for many years.

An excellent chance, therefore exists for undertaking, at this point, the getting out, in a rough, but in a large measure, of the use of Eastern manufacturers. I would specify the following materials:—
Ship and boat keels and plank, wagon and carriage buff, oak, flooring, furniture stuffs in a very great variety and unlimited quantity. Any manufacturer can for himself add to this list many articles not named.

In brief, the raw material is plenty and easy to get, and the manufactured articles can be distributed to the various markets with ease and speed. I would not say that this is a new chance for the manufacture of articles of lumbering tools.

There are in operation here, one machine shop, and one large establishment for making cars and other railway furniture.

The Recent Elections.—It is needless to incumber our columns with the returns of the elections which occurred last Tuesday. The Administration is so thoroughly and completely overthrown in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and Louisiana, that they have no excuse, no plea, ready to meet the emergency. In Pennsylvania the returns from nearly the whole State, show the election of Judge Pollock for Governor, by over 30,000 majority over Gov. Bigler. For Congress there are only four Nebraskaes elected and 21 of an opposite character. The Senate with members holding over, will stand, Democrats 17, Whigs 16, and in the House there will be 59 opposition to 41 Administration members and universal.

In Ohio and Indiana the Administration has secured the election of a single member of Congress in either of these States, while the aggregate majority is enormous. In Ohio it is believed that it will reach 90,000, and in Indiana 120 to 150,000. This forebodes the result in Illinois and Michigan which will be equally crushing. The next Congress will have an overwhelming majority.

The unpopularity of the Nebraska bill at the North, it would be supposed by this time would stand confessed even by its most obstinate supporters. After the result of every State election, which has occurred at the north since the measure had existence—the almost unprecedented defeat of the Democracy in New Hampshire, the defeat of the Nebraska candidate for Governor in Connecticut by five thousand majority, in Rhode Island by two thousand five hundred in Vermont by eleven thousand, in Maine by twenty-five thousand, and in impregnable Iowa by three thousand—It would no longer be the least room for doubt, but in order to make assurance doubly sure, we now have in Pennsylvania an anti-Nebraska Governor elected by thirty thousand majority; in Ohio, anti-Nebraska Governor, elected by an aggregate majority of unity thousand, and in Louisiana by an aggregate majority of something like twelve thousand.

We presume that the Democratic press in this State will go on in their destruction, blinding, as far as possible, their own party to the real issues of the case.—Mercury.

The Crime Invasion.

The Crime Invasion.—The Baltic brings us stirring but confirmed reports of sanguinary battles in the Crimea, the bombardment, the signing and dispersal of the Russian fleet, and the final surrender of the Russian Prince Menschikoff, with his forces. After the English and French allied armies had effected a landing, according to the despatches of the General-in-chief, they, on the 20th September, stormed the Russian entrenchments to the south of the river Alma, and forced their way to the sea, losing about 1400, and the Russians 4 to 6000. The Russian army opposed is magnified to 50,000 men, which is more than previous estimates put down their entire strength in the Crimea. If the Prince could hazard such a battle, we cannot see why he did not resist the landing of the allies. The account of the subsequent storming of Sebastopol was received in London by telegraph, from Bucharest, dated September 28. If the battle took place on the 26th, the Tribune says the news could have reached Vienna in the night from the 26th to the 27th and could have been conveyed to Bucharest by noon on the 28th, the distance between Vienna and Bucharest being somewhat more than one hundred miles, and generally traversed by couriers in twenty-four hours. Per contra it is now understood that no courier arrived there before the 30th. The second news of the fall of Sebastopol was received by the Austrian government on the evening of Oct. 1, and communicated to the London Times, by the Turkish Minister at London on the 5th. It is not till about 10 o'clock, however, that the French Government by M de Baci who had commanded M de Hubner to congratulate the French Emperor, on the glorious success which had attended the French arms in the Crimea. The value of this intelligence entirely rests upon the verbal statement of the courier sent from Constantinople to Omar Pasha, which courier, not finding Omar Pasha at Bucharest started again for Silistria, where Omar Pasha then resided. The report is accordingly the statement of this courier, Sebastopol had been taken, 18,000 Russians killed, 22,000 made prisoners, Fort Constantine destroyed, the other forts with 800 guns, captured, six Russian ships of war sunk, and Prince Menschikoff retired to the head of the bay, with the remainder of the squadron, declaring that he would blow them up rather than make an unconditional surrender. The allies had allowed him six hours for consideration, but he refused to accept of the terms of the Crimea campaign will be resumed in a very few words. On the 14th and 16th the army landed at Old Eort with out meeting resistance; on the 19th it marched on the 20th it won the battle of the Alma, and on the 25th captured Sebastopol.

Philada. Sun.
Diplomacy with Switzerland.—It appears by recent advices from abroad that our Government is now to have a case on hand with the Swiss Republic for injuries done an American citizen, Mr. Phillips, who speedily returns to the United States to lay his case before Secretary Marcy. It seems that it became known to the Swiss police that Mazzini was travelling upon the continent with an American passport and under the name of J. Phillips. When, therefore, a gentleman Mr. Phillips with an American passport, presented himself at a Swiss frontier, he was arrested and conveyed before an officer of justice. He was then treated with great indignity, and was even told that he lied. After his examination he was placed in jail, where he was kept for seven days and nights, in solitary confinement, and fed upon bread and water. He did not know what his offence was, the police officer supposing that he knew himself to be a con-tributed Italian Jacobin. He asked to see the American consul, but the request was refused. He was finally released, receiving from the lips of the jailer his leave to depart. He was allowed to confer with no higher officer than the turkey. He came to Paris, had an interview with Mr. Mason, who advised him to go to Bern and ask for an explanation from the Central Government. He did so, successively asking for twenty five thousand franc damages, then the refunding of his actual expenses, and finally for an apology. All were refused, and Mr. Phillips, who has already proceeded home for the Federal interference.—Philada. Sun.

The Arrangement on the Stocks.—The reader is aware that of the six war steamers to be built by order of Congress, one at Boston, one at New York, one at Washington, and two at Norfolk. It is stated by the Washington Sentinel, that the Norfolk ship, the Monitor, is to be constructed under the direction of Mr. Steers the architect of the yacht America. The engine of the Boston steamer, the Merrimack, is to be made at the foundry of West Point, and will be formed on a plan offered by Mr. Ericsson, who was lately at Washington, for the purpose doubtless, of recommending it. The engine for the frigates is a steaming engine, to be built by Merrick & Sons of this city. The engines for the Norfolk ships are horizontal trunk engines. In the choice of the engines government shows a disposition to avail itself of the best principles and plans of constructing them, and thus make the means of war support the interests of maritime science. We hope Ericsson will turn out a good steaming war ship, and if so, we shall give him a little longer time to bring about the air engine. Each of the frigates is intended to carry 34 thirty-two pounders—Hill Niagara excepted. This ship it is said will carry about 20 guns. It has hull guns, weighing 15,000 pounds each—a tremendous projectile power. It is the opinion in Washington that all six will be ready to whiten the waves in eighteen months time.

Full charged with Yankee thunder.—
And plough the distant main.
By that time, in all probability, the brave journalists of the old continent will have lashed up the monarchies to a general coalition against us, and it will be convenient to have those wooden walls about us, in any difficulty.

The Blue Ridge R. R. of S. C.—We are pleased to learn from our Southern exchanges that the construction of this important work is progressing with satisfactory rapidity. When we consider that most of the chartered railroads uncompleted or incomplete, are yielding to the stringency of the times, the steady progress of this work, we must not only be astonished, but we must feel that it is the necessary result of a more liberal policy of the management, and that the liberality of the managers, and not the mere of the estimators, having the work in view. The Blue Ridge R. R. is intended to develop the fertile valleys of the Mississippi, and give to the products of the South Eastern States direct and easy access to the Atlantic sea. It will penetrate a country, where vast mineral and agricultural wealth which is now entirely unworked, and we have no doubt, that it will, in its progress, trade an impetus, the utility of which will be beneficial to the shipping of the Mississippi.
