From the National Magazine. THE RAIN AT NIGHT.

The rain comes softly, silently, While all is damp and chill; Life's pulses seem almost to cease. With everything so still. And sleepy, thirsty earth absorbs Kind nature's wholesome cheer. While weary minds are lulled to rest, And hushed each hope and fear.

'T is dropping, dropping, soothingly, Like music's softest chime; And dances on the shingled roof With merry, changing time; Sometimes it seems like sweet response To humble, carnest prayer; A breathing out of God's own love

And now with some soft gust of wind It tinkles on the pane: It seems as if love's whisper said, I'm with thee once again: I'll bear thee to Elysium's bower, To home beyond the sky,

To those who seek his care.

It must be that momentary happiness, person can enjoy is, that which results from doing right. It is deference to the intuitions of reason and attention to the monitions of conscience, that foreshadows the bliss of hap piness. Thoughts for the Twenty-Second of February.

Washington was a remarkable specimen of that true greatness which imparts greatness to little things, or, rather, sees greatness in things which little men call little. There is a spurious greatness which is great on the great scale, on the great stage of action and exhibition, but which, in the common relations, and what are called the small virtues. duties and graces of the day and the hour, is when weighed in the delicate balance ef conscientiousness, found wanting. How different from this pseudo greatness was that of Washington! Because his was moral greatness, manly greatness Christian greatness; it was a greatness not merely of style and scale, but of spirit and principle. There is a kind of so-called greatness—there is a class of socalled great men, that cannot stop, or stoop, to attend to little things; they let what they call small matters of morals and manners slip; they give small examples of conscience, humble, homely obligations, the go-by, with the understanding that they have great, general objects which preoccupy their attention and preclude the lesser matters of the law. Washington was not of this class; but of a very different one. He shows us that, if a man can be called great, who, in his devotion to gen- ped operations, because they can not compete eralities, overlooks particulars, there is one who is far greater, namely he who (humbly Belgium and Germany. The reason given imitating the great God himself) knows how, is, that American wool is excellent for warp, tal being who is happy while engaged in a with equal case, to rise to the general and to making a hard, strong woolen yarn for this descend to the minute; or rather, who feels that the smallest appearances may cover the that silky softness peculiar to German wool,

Remember those beautiful pages of and bigotry pass under the yoke in humble manuscript--(almost poetically beautiful, submission to the decrees of Jehovah; then if though the figures that cover them are only arithmetical ones)—I mean the volume called "The United States in account with George Washington," of which the fac-simile has long been published for the purpose of spreading before the eyes of American youth evidence to counteract the too common impression that great men must be expected to be carcless in the small matters of economy and business obligations. Let such examples go forth to shame all the little and great Swartwouts, and all who, in any degree, wink at our citizens-all our demagogues and public men, who extol so highly the name and character of the "great Washington" would take it home to themselves, what made him greatest! Would that the truthfulness, the fidelity, the strictness of moral principle, the care for little obligations, which so distinguished him, might awaken in their breasts a self-respell bound. The greatest happiness that a they do at this hour; then would the private example and personal character of public men no more counteract all the benefit of their political influence: tden would the delusive idea be no longer so prevalent that there is some sort of moral alchmy by which private vice can be converted into public virtue, or by which individual sin, sufficiently multiplied

WINTER BUTTER.

In many parts of our country the art of making good butter in winter is very imper-The plan of doing it is this: the cows should be stabled and fed on sweet hay and other warm place, it should be put in a cold one, and no matter how soon it freezes, because freezing it will separate the cream much more perfectly than it will rise without this atmospheric temperature, and it can then be taken off with less trouble. And when the cream is churned the churn should not be placed very near the fire, the ordinary heat of a kitchen would be sufficient. Too much warmth destroys both the complexion and the flavor of butter. In the winter, butter, it is evident, requires more time in churning than in summer, but when patience assists the laborer, the task is made no task at all.

Butter cured with half an ounce of salt. quarter ounce of saltpetre, quarter ounce of moist sugar pounded, used in the proportion of an ounce to each pound of butter, will be found to keep good a longer time, and have a more delicious flavor than when salted in the

We consider it the height of folly for a farmer to meddle with fancy stocks when he has any waste or unimproved land, or buildings, or fences that need repairing, with which to use his surplus money. This dabbling in stocks or interest money as always been the result of short-sightedness on the part of the farming community, especially when the money might be more usefully employed in hiring men to improve and put their lands in the highest possible state of cultivation, instead of half or quarter tilling them, as the vast majority of farmers do at present. Our agricultural friends need waking up on this point, and to be thoroughly aroused to the fact that it don't pay to work after the manner in which their grandfathers did before them, for "old fogyism" is as unprofitable to them as any other class of community .-Wake up, and see if it isn't sol

HOW SADLY TRUE!

The Syracuse Standard says: "When a rakish youth goes astray friends gather around him in order to restore him to the path of virtue. Gentleness and kindness are lavished upon him to win him buck again to innocence and peace. No one would suspect that he had ever sinned. But when a poor, confiding girl is betrayed, she receives the brand of society, and is henceforth driven from the ways of virtue. The betrayer is honored, respected; esteemed; but the ruined, heart-broken victim knows there is no peace for her this side of the grave. Society has no helping hand for her, no smile of peace, no voice of forgiveness. These are earthly moralities unknown to heaven. There is a deep wrong in them; and fearful are the consequences.

Weymouth Farm Company.-The Stockholders of this Company are pushing their improvements with great activity and enterprize. The erection of the new town of Colville can no longer be deemed chimerical, as it is actually taken place. They have pushed things with such a degree of energy as to make it a matter of curiosity. The town is now being laid off into spacious streets and avenues, whilst a fine hotel, capable of holding a hundred people, with ample stable accommodations, is in active course of construction. It will be finished by April. Notice to Agents and Advertisers. WE ARE PREPARED TO SHOW THAT

The West Jersey Pioneer Has a Circulation of at least 300 more than any other paper printed in Cumberland County. Its Circulation, (in the County,) is nearly doubl that of any other paper.

This notice is called for in self-defence. The that of the PIONEER.

Our friends, Wells, Keen, and Thomas will accent our thanks for the various documents, which we have received through their politeness.

Incorporation of our Town .- A meeting was held at the Court House on Saturday evening to take into consideration the subject of incorporating the town. There seemed however to be no concert of action, -no ar rangement for business and very few willing to take any part in the proceedings. An attempt was made to appoint a committee to procure information, and prepare for business to report at an adjourned meeting, but enough who were willing to serve could not be found to form a committee. It would seem that we are not prepared for taking our station amongst our sister towns as a borough or city yet-we are not of age and must be content to tarry in Tericho until our beards grow.

We were heartily glad to see a well written article in last week's Chronicle, in reply to the miscrable scrawl published in the previous number over the signature of "Q." Well might the Editor bestow upon it his highest commendation, as such articles in his columns are like angels' visits, "few, and far between." It contains a severe, but merited rebuke to "Q" for writing such a communication as he did, and to the Editor for publishing it. If "Q" attempts a reply, he will prove himself to be even more of a fool than we now take him to be. His only wisdom lies in maintaining a profound silence both as to his identity and his whereabouts.

. We learn that a considerable revival of religion has recently occurred in the Baptist Church at Dividing Creek, as a result of which some ten persons were baptized by immersion on last Sabbath week by Rev. Mr. Cauffman.

Ereditable - One of those comic concerts, which has become so common in the country, calculated to administer to the low and vulgar tastes of a community, was advertised to be held on Saturday evening at the Town Hall. We are gratified to learn that it provfeeling of our people kept them from countenancing it by their presence.

We love music, and approve of such exhibithe taste and lower the standard of moral purity we look upon as a nuisance and are therefore particularly gratified by the failure of this company.

THE BANKS .- The Bank question is now engrossing very much of the attention of our Legislature. The number of the old established Lanks in the State whose charters are about to expire, and which have made themselves friends in the various sections of the State by the correct and prudent management of their concerns, together with the new applications for charters, apparently called for by the rapidly increasing business prosperity of our State, gives to this subject an importance which very properly commends itself to the serious consideration of our legislators. The General Banking Law has proved so complete and signal a failure, that it is evident it cannot be trusted to; there would therefore appear to be no course left but to continue the old system: Whatever may be their faults, the results of experience in this State shows that upon the whole these banks have added greatly to the facilities of business and with little loss or inconvenience to the public.

PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW. -- We announced in our last number, that a Prohibitory Liquor Law had passed the Assembly by a very decided vote, our members both voting for it. We are not very confident of its passage in the Senate, but are not without strong liopes that it will receive the sanction of that body. They must be satisfied that there is so strong a determination on the part of the people to have such a law, that it will be impossible long to resist it, and that the proposition to take the sense of the people by a direct vote is so fair and reasonable, that it ought to be agreed to. Two years since this law received in the assembly but eight votes, last year twenty-two, and now it received thirty-five. The Scnate is not so easily changcd in its character but they ought to see, that sooner or later the same change which has already taken place in the Assembly must revolutionize the Senate also.

The visit of Bishop JANES to our town last Sabbath evening, was an occasion of much interest to many of our citizens. This County Agricultural Society.

The Cumberland Bank at Bridgeton, N. J. Will be sold at Public sale, on sixth-day the Will it be Re-Charterent Will be sold at Public sale, on sixth-day the will be sold at Pu was evinced by the large congregation present at the Commerce St. M. E. Church on that evening to hear him preach, notwithstanding one of the severest storms of the 24, 1855. season was raging at the time. His sermon was lucid, animated, and powerful, and will long be remembered by the rapt audience that listened to it. By the way, although the Bishop is a small man he certainly must be set down as one of the most energetic men of the age. The sermon just spoken of was the eighth discourse delivered by him during the previous eight days, and this is only a fair sample of his ordinary work, besides a large amount of correspondence, to accomplish which he is not unfrequently compelled to sit up whole nights. Surely his office is no sinecure. A better specimen of a true Christian bishop can scarcely be found. The only fear is, that he is living too fast. "Such a man," said a friend to us the other day, "ought to live a thousand years,"

AGRICULTURAL.—A meeting of delegates from Agricultural Societies of the Counties was held pursuant to previous notice in Tren-BRIDGETON CHRONICLE" falsely conveying the ton last week. A State Society was organizimpression, that its Circulation is larger than ed and appointments made for commencing a system of operations for the furtherance of the Agricultural interests of the State. A meeting is to be held in Trenton in February. Our County Society having held their annual meeting on the same day, it unfortunately happened that we were not represented; -we trust however that we shall not in future be behindhand with our sister counties in our efforts to promote this good work.

Congress.-We did Suppose that in the House of Representatives, at least, the Pacific Railroad Bill would be passed, and it did pass but was re-considered, sent to a select Committee, and is in all probability, buried for the present year. The French Spoiliation Bill, which has from year to year for near half a century engaged the attention of Congress, has again passed the house and it is thought will pass the Senate, receive the approval of the President and become a lawalthough many of these claims have probably passed from the original sufferers and are held by speculators, there are still many of the actual losers and their descendants, who will if this bill is finally passed obtain tardy justice. A few weeks only remain of the session and much is yet to be accomplished. In the Senate the bill for raising volunteers for fighting the Indians, has been for a time the most exeiting subject, a proposition in the bill for employing Indians to hunt and fight Indians, created a good deal of feeling, and an opposiwhen in the war of 1812 our Government of the Secretary for the use of the Society. was forced to employ the Indians, it was with great reluctance they did so, and not until the British had for a length of time employed them against us, and openly paid them for American scalps. He trusted that we should never again be compelled to resort to such a course. Gen. Sam Houston, who has been much with the Indians, and knows them well. said he believed that more could be done with them by Commissioners of the proper kind, than by fighting them with volunteers. The project of employing Indians was abandoned. The rage for the extension of territory and acquisition of new countries, seems to have ed a failure, - that the good sense, and moral | died away The enterprise to Central America is not a Government matter, but a private affair. > QUICK TRAVELLING .- A few weeks since, John W. Vansant, Esq., of Rock Island, Ill., started from that city (situated on the eastern bank of the Mississippi,) at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, and on Wednesday evening was in Absecom, having travelled the entire distance by railroad, with the trifling exception of an omnibus ride across the cities of Pittsburg and Philadelphia. And to show how much we need the W. Jersey Railroad, it need only be stated, that in coming from Newark to Bridgeton to visit his brother, Rov. N. Vansant, he was compelled to occupy nearly half as much time as was required to perform the whole journey from the Mississippi to the Atlantic, and to travel at least twenty times as far by the slow process of stage conveyance. Hurry up the railroad; we are getting impationt.

Bridgeton & Millville Turnpike Company. This company was organized yesterday and the following directors were elected:-Messrs. Jonathan Elmer, Chas. E. Elmer, David Potter and E. E. Sheppard of Bridgeton, and Messrs. Lewis Mulford, Edward Tatem, and Nathaniel Stratton of Millville. We learn that a sufficient amount of stock has not been subscribed to warrant the immediate commencement of the road, enough however has been subscribed to encourage the Directors tomake preparations for the work and exert themselves to secure increased subscriptions to the stock. If the importance of a good road between the two principal towns of the county was properly a eciated there could be no difficulty in securing the subscription of the stock. Miliville is en lly a manufacturing town rapid business, population and import. situated (from not being surrounded by an agricultural community) as to require large quantities of dam supplies of the necessaries and luxuri from Bridgeton and its surrounding it is of vast importance then to the interest of both places, that a first class road should constructed from one to the other, it would add we doubt not to the business and profit of both places and the increased intimacy and hand and we recommend it to our business intercourse between the people would tend to men in these times of bad money as a safe- their social pleasure and improvement. We confidently believe too that it would pay.

This Society was first organized Jan. 19, 1852, and four stated meetings and one spccial meeting were held during the year and 52 members names were entered on the books. The next year 1853, there were no meetings held nor any members added. The next meeting was held Jan. 25, 1854, which was small, there being but 14 members present, there appearing to have been a misunderstanding as to the time and place of meeting, it was resolved to hold an adjourned meeting at the Court House, Feb. 7th, which was well attended, and since which time the society has been in a flourishing condition. There being 34 life members and three hundred and eight annual members divided as follows:

Mr. EDITOR: - We are well aware, that to re-charter any one of the "Old" Banks, principles of ultra Democrats, and perhaps would crush one of the planks of their political platform, - but nevertheless, if the public wish should be, that any one, or all of them, more Democratic to attend to their wish, than to preserve the favoured principles of the few. The Cumberland Bank is quite an ancient institution. I am not enabled to say, how long it has been, since it commenced business, but remember quite well that the first Bank Note I ever saw, was upon this Bank, and from that day, up to the present, berland" was solvent, and I think she has always redeemed at her counter, her own issues with specie. She has been so long in business, that she has become perfectly conversant with the wants and wishes of the business community from Camden to Cape Island, and it is too well known, to be stated here that she has always manifested a desire to accommodate the business community, so far as she could do it, legitimately,—and Harrows, Two sets Stage Harness, set of single whilst the various financial gales, that have Harness, set of Brass Mounted Harness, Forks, passed over the country, have blown down | Rakes, Hoes, Shovers, dath a lot of Small Potatoes thousands of the banking institutions, of this and Cabbage and other States, Old Cumberland remains as impregnable as ever. In Cape May the Free Banking Law has been tested practically, and it has not come up to the expectations of its advocates, and indeed by some it is called a complete "humbug." Cape May C. H. has been "favoured" with four of those Democratic Institutions; -but they are all closing up their business, it being a very difficult thing, for a New York broker to conform to the Laws of New Jersey, and we find there are but very few of the citizens of New Jersey, that engage in this Banking business, under the Free Banking Law, We will then contend for a re-charter of this old confidential Bank, for several reasons, and first-Because the citizens of West Jersey are actually in want of a business doing and solvent Bank, at Bridgeton. Second, because actual experience has shown, that the Free Banks of the County have not satisfied the Public wish so fully as the Old Banks, who have done a legitimate business only .-Third, because the Banks under the New Law, give no security at all to "depositors," and at the same time are called in this Law Banks of discount and deposit." Fourthly and lastly, because it is generally believed that at least seven-eighths of the legal voters of West Jersey, anxiously desire, that the

This is a system which has worked admirably in New York, under Mayor Wood, and has obtained for him the commendation of the entire press of that city. It should be recollected that the ordinary complaints or prosecutions for larceny, assault and battery, breach of the peace, intoxication, &c., should be brought before the Police Magistrate of the ward in which the offence has been committed. Our citizens, by this agency, will be enabled to assist the Mayor in the discharge of his duties. There are many violations of law and ordinances which will never come to his knowledge unless the inhabitants in the particular locality where they exist, make the proper representations. It is thus made the duty of every citizen to aid in the suppression of nuisances, and if they do their duty we have every assurance in the past, ter, Rabit, and Bear Skins. that Mayor Courad will do his. It is a la-

has had to encounter, will yet be recognised, and conscientious men in all parties, will be forced to give him credit for admirable policy and untiring energy. When we reflect upon the disorderly elements that disgraced some of the integral districts which, by consolida-

FRENCH TRUSSES. WEIGHING LESS THAN 21 OUNCES. FOR THE CURE OF HERNIA OR RUPTURE. CKNOWLEDGED by the highest medical au-A thorities of Philadelphia, incomparably su-perior to any other in use. Sufferers will be gratified to learn that the occasion now offers to procure not only the lightest and most easy, but as lurable a Truss as any other, in lieu of the cumbrous and uncomfortable article usually sold. There is no difficulty attending the fitting, and when the pad is located, it will retain its position without change. Persons at a distance unable to call on the Subcriber can have the Truss sent to any address, by remitting Five Dollars for the single Truss, or Ten for the double-with measure round the hip and stating side affected. It will be exchanged to suit if not fitting, by returning it at once, unsoiled. For Sale only by the Importer. CALEB H. Philadelphia, June 24, 1854.-1y Ritter's Compound Syrup of Tar & Wild Cherry. TS the safest, cheapest, and best of all Cough Medicines now in use. Of this fact a single trial will convince the most skeptical. It contains no mineral or narcotic ingredients, and causes no inconvenience during its administration; is very palatable, will be taken freely by the youngest children, and will afford instant relief in croup and whooping cough, if given according to the directions. A few doses will allay the irritation of the bronchial tube, incident to cough and sore throat, and by removing the cause will in a short time produce the effect desired—a permanent cure.— One bottle, the price of which is 25 cents, will in nearly every instance cure a cough, however in veterate and of however long standing.

For sale by storekeepers generally in this and adjoining counties, and wholesale by the proprietor.
