LICENSE LAW.

BY REV. JOHN PIERPONT.

" For so much gold we license thee." So say our laws, "a draught to sell, That bows the strong, enslaves the free, And opens wide the gates of hell; For "public good" requires that some Should live, since many die, by rum."

Ye civil fathers! while the foes Of this destroyer seize their swords, And Heaven's own hail is in the blows They're dealing-will ye cut the cords That 'round the falling fiend they draw-And o'er him hold your shield of law?

And will ve give to man a bill Divorcing him from Heaven's high sway, And while God says "Thou shalt not kill," Say ye, for gold, "Ye may-ye may?" Compare the body with the soul! Compare the bullet with the bowl!

Are ye not fathers? when your sons Look to you for their daily bread, Dare ye in mockery, load with stones The table that for them ye spread? How can ye hope your souls will live, If ye for fish a serpent give? O, holy God! let light divine

Break forth more broadly from above, Till we conform our laws to thine, The perfect law of truth and love; For truth and love alone can save Thy children from the hopeless grave

Since writing the above, I have again seen the Hereditary Grand Duke, and I have examined him more nearly and leisurely. He had cast off his uniform, which appeared to fit him too closely, and gave to his person bloated appearance. In my opinion he looks best in undress. His general bearing is certainly pleasing; his carriage is lofty, yet without military stiffness. The kind of grace by which he is distinguished, reminds one of that peculiar charm of manner which seems to belong to the Sclavonic race. It is not the expression of the quick passions of southern climes, neither is it the imperturbable coolness of the people of the north; it is a combi-nation of simplicity, of southern mobility, and of Scandinavian melancholy. The Sclavonians are fair complexioned Arabs; the Grand Duke is more than half German, but in Mecklenberg and Holstein, as in some parts of Russia, there are Germans of Sclavonic extraction.

The countenance of this prince, notwithstanding his youth, presents fewer attractions than his figure. His complexion has already lost its freshness; one can observe that he is under the influence of some cause of grief; his eyelids are east down with a sadness that betrays the cares of riper age. His well formdd mouth is not without an expression of sweetness; his Grecian profile reminds me of an antique medal, or of the portraits of the Empress Catharine; but notwithstanding his expression of amiableness, (an expression which almost always imparts that also of beauty,) his youth, and yet more, his German blood, it is impossible to avoid observing in the lines of his face a power of dissimulation which one trembles to see in so young a man. This trait is doubtless the impress of destiny. It convinces me that the Grand Duke will be called to the throne. The tones of his voice are sweet, which is not commonly the case in bis family. It, they say, is a gift which he has inherited from his mother.

He shines among the young people of his suite without our discovering what it is that preserves the distance which may be easily entitled "An act respecting the court of observed to exist between them, unless it be chancery," approved April the sixteenth, the perfect gracefulness of his person. Graceone thousand eight hundred and forty-six. fulness always indicates an amiable mental endowment; it depicts mind upon the features, embodies it in the carriage and the attitudes, and pleases at the very time that it commands. Russian travellers had spoken of the beauty of the prince as quite a phnomenon. Withdelivered, or shall hereafter be directed and out this exaggeration, I should have been delivered, hath died or shall die, or hath or more struck with it; besides, I could not but recollect the romantic mind, the arch angelic form of his father, and his uncle the Grand removed or shall remove out of this state, and Duke Michael, who when in 1215, they visited Paris were called "northern lights," and I felt inclined to be severe, because I had been deceived; yet notwithstanding this, the Grand Duke of Russia appears to me as one of the finest models of a prince that I have ever met with.

> A Clergyman engaged to be Married to Eleven Ladies.

We heard vesterday of a series of villanies perpetrated recently by a wolf in sheep's clothing of a character to bring the reverend imposter, if caught to the penitentiary. His name is John Howard Wilson, and he has been preaching for some time past at Cheviot. Being endowed with a soft, oily tongue, and a sleek appearance he tried his killing accomplisments indiscriminately among the unmarried belles of that suburban village with such success that he engaged himself to be married to no less than eleven, some of whom he borrowed money from upon preto se of making all their clothing, watches, etc. All the the necessary arrangements towards housekeeping. Of one young lady he obtained $50 which he laid between the leaves of a Bible in her parlor, to be used the day previous to the wedding; but when, upon hearing of the pranks of the sanctimonious Lothario, she ook d in the hiding place, and the bank-bills were non est. The manner which Icd to the discovery of his multifarious engagements was, that a couple of the betrothed met, by accident, in a fashionable dry-goods establishment in this city. After mutual recognition, they proceeded to examine various fabrics, and make purchases. Singular enough their tastes assimilated so exactly that young lady No. 1 remarked to young lady No. 2 that she thought it was very strange. Hereupon young lady No. 2 replied that so it was; but if she (young lady No. 1) could keep a secret, she would tell her one. Number 1 promised (what femenine would not?) that her lips should be eternally sealed; when, blushing like a peony, her companion whispered in her ear that she was going to be married.

"To whom?" exclaimed the excited num ber one. Another promise of scoresy and the name of Rev. John Howard Wilson was softly breathed "Who?" exclamed number one, while he carnest gaze betoked her astonishment. The name was again repeated, and forthwith young lady number one became suddenly dizzy, and, but for the applicatin of sal volatile and cold water, a fainting exhibition in the mercer establishment would have ensued. After a while, when sufficently calm to A SUPPLEMENT to the act approved A explain, she informed young lady number two that she, too was under an engigement of marringe to the reverend deceiver, and she was then making purchases of her wedding gar-ments. > The Law of Libel .- Another beautiful illustration of the Law of Libel we inherit from England, (it not having been included in our Declaration of Independence,) was exhibited recently in a Philadelphia Court. When the Camden and Amboy cars ran into Rancocus Creek two years ago, the Superintendent of the Railroad issued a report censuring the bridge tender, who was also removed from his place. The Philadelphia Ledger copied a porion of it; whereupon the bridge tender sues, not those who removed him nor the Superintendent who made the report, but the newspaper that copied it! The Court has given him $2000 damge! If the public, therefore, are not informed in future of whatever "smashes" may occur on the Camdan and Amboy line, they must blame only thier own laws, which punish those who bring such facts to light, and re-ward those who "hush them up."

The Buffalo Republic rebukes the croaking about the scarcity of flour at present in this country, and states that it is in possession of information which fully warrants the expectation that the following quantities will arrive at that port this season: From Lake Michigan 650,000 barrels; from Detroit 123,. 000 barrels; from Toledo 100,000 barrels; from Cleveland 50,000 barrels-making a total of 925,000 barrels of flour to come forward before harvest, "exclusive of Canada." The Republic adds that it had no means of estimating the amount that will be received from Canada, but learns from a gentleman whose means of information are extensive. that it will not be less than a quarter of a million of barrels, and may be four times that amount.

Large quantities of produce and lumber from Canada are constantly arriving at Buffalo, showing the good effects of the Reciprocity Treaty. There has already arrived, since the opening of navigation, 60,000 barrels of flour, 110,000 bushels of wheat, and nearly 500,000 feet of lumber-all of which immense freighttrains are conveying forward as fast as possi-

The fire at the Eric R. R. Depot on Satur day at Jersey City was caused by some camphene coming in contact with the flames of a lamp held in the hands of one of the men named Adams. He attempted to carry the barrel of camphene out, when an explosion immediately took place, which broke the man's arms and scattered the fluid in every direction. Eight passenger and five freight cars valued at $25,000 were destroyed. Two of the cars were partially freighted with flour. grain, &c.,

There were five boxes of bonded goods consumed. They consisted of clothing and other articles, and were destined for Canada. The grain destroyed amounted to between two and three hundred bushels. About one hundred bales of fancy articles, consisting of laces, hosiery, fancy summer and winter clothing, grocerice, raisins, &c. &c., which were evidently destined for the western market, were destroy. ed, as also was a large lot of printing paper. While the fire was raging at the depot, a sloop, lying off the Paterson dock, caught fire in her rigging, causing considerable excitement among the firemen, who, by procuring boats, extinguished it with a few pails of wa-

Three young men, clerks of the company, were sleeping in the upper story of the station house, and barely escaped with their lives, by jumping out of the window: one of them was considerably injured. They lost books and papers of the company except those contained in two iron safes, were burned. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. The Erie Railrond Company had only an insur-ance upon the Depot for $5,000, in the Jersey City Insurance Company. There was no insurance upon the cars. The N. J. R. R. Company's loss will not exceed $200, which is covered by insurance.

The Trenton Gazette understands that several mills in the vicinity of the city are not in operation on account of the difficulties of procuring grain for grinding at reasonable prices. Wheat is held at $2 70 a bushel in New York. The price of grain and flour continues to increase, although the foreign de-mand has fallen off, one cause of the high prices being an estimated scarcity in the West.
A writer in the Rochester Advertiser says. that the whole Western region can supply only 1,500,000 bushels, equal to 300,000 bar-resl of flour. The Buffalo Republic makes a higher estimate, however, and states that it has knowledge of one and a half millions of barrels of flour yet to come forward.

Theological Students .- In the several Theological Seminaries connected with the Old School Presbyterian Church, there are 283 theological students at present, divided among the establishments thus: at Princeton, N. J., 115; at Alleghany, Pa., 51; at Union Seminary, Va., 29; Columbia, S. C., 32; New Albany, Ind., 19; Danville, Ky., 57. Besides these, there are known to be at least four others studying theology under private instruction, and probably from 12 to 15 more, thus making the total about 300, so that the annual supply of ministers for the next three years will be about 100. This the Home and Koreign Record thinks insufficient, as there is an annual increase of 90 in the number of churches, all to be supplied with ministers, in addition to the filling of about 40 vacancies occasioned by death every

FRANKLIN FERGUSON, } EDITORS. JAMES B. FERGUSON,

Notice to Agents and Advertisers. WE ARE PREPARED TO SHOW THAT

The West Jersey Pioneer Has a Circulation of at least 800 more than any other paper printed in Cumberland County. Its Circulation, (in the County,) is nearly double that of any other paper.

This notice is called for in self-defence. The "BRIDGETON CHRONICLE" falsely conveying the impression, that its Circulation is larger than that of the PIONEDR.

During the past week, business combined with pleasure, called us away from home, and as we passed through portions of our neighboripg counties, and cannot travel without having our attention called to the state of the country, its improvements and its business, we feel disposed to jot down for our own gratification, and as we trust for the benefit of our readers, some of the matters and things home the effects of Spring were just beginning to show themselves, the buds were swollen and the leaves of our most forward trees and shrubs were breaking forth from their wintry prisons, as we progressed towards our destination, the evidences of vegetation were less evident. It is a fact which has frequently been impressed upon us, in our time, that the commencement of vegetation in the Spring is with us, at least a week in advance of Camden and Burlington; the difference in latitude we should hardly expect to make that difference. Everywhere on our road we saw the evidenparing the soil, carting home and placing in wives. the fields the poudrette &c., and planting the corn was the chief business of the day; men, women and children were seen in many fields happily engaged in the good work. Whereup into the best Agricultural parts of Burlington county, the prospects of a good yield of Wheat was excellent, it is true that many causes may yet arise to destroy that prospect. but a good start in the spring gives an encouraging earnest of a plentiful harvest; the preparations for the summer crops were extensive, and as we have before observed were being made with a spirit which gave assurance that industry and attention on the part of the farmer would not be a cause of failure. And now we must indulge in a little boasting of our own county-nowhere have we seen as good we seen so much evidence of liberal invest-

We passed the last Sabbath in Philada. and Camden. Although prepared in a measure for witnessing a change brought about by the daily occurrence. praiseworthy efforts of Mayor Conrad, followed up by Mayor Scull of Camden, we have seldom been so forcibly struck with a change as we were with that we witnessed in the streets and alleys and wharves of these cities. The contrast which was presented, with the scenes with which we have been familiarized in years which are passed, when we resided in Philadelphia, and was called by our business through those streets where the grogshops abounded, was truly astonishing; formerly while going to church we were annoyed by open grog-shops and even in the morning pel. No one could witness the careful and crowds of noisy dirty looking objects, venting forth profanity and vulgarity, now those places were closed and still, everything quiet and orderly, Sabbath stillness and peaceful repose almost as perfect as in our quiet town. Struck by this contrast in our way to and from church in the morning, we determined to see whether this magic change had extended to the pressed with the idea that in doing so they principal haunts of intemperence, vice and degradation, we therefore in our way to Camden, at an hour too in the afternoon when we might expect to see the worst, wandered from near Kensington, along the wharves, through water street and where we had frequently passed in the pursuance of our duty, and where we had been shocked by the exhibition of poor fallen humanity in both sexes-in all our walk, a pretty extensive one, we saw no large collection of idlers, we saw no open grog shop, we saw no evidence of inebriety, we heard no profanity, no obscene jesting; we found two little places where what appeared to be root beer and sarsaparilla with cakes entirely unexpected to himself as well as to in this work we are assured that the reader and fruit were exhibited for sale. The news is not important. Trade was very dull and depressed, and money continued tight. Page, Bacon & Co. resumed business on

BARBER'S New Jersey Combined Mowing and Reaping Machine!

THIS Machine is simple, of light draught and not liable to get out of order and will cut all ainds of Grain and Grass equally as well as any other Combined machine ever in this region. It is so constructed, that all side draught, (which is so great in most Machines as to require three, and some machines four horses to do the work of two) s entirely overcome and seldom, if ever requiring but two horses in any kind of grain or grass. An Extra Platform is so constructed, that the gavels can be laid at the side, eatirely clesr, when the Machine comes around and obviates the ne-essity of binding after it. This Machine has been tested the last harvest, by a number of practical Farmers and quite sufficient to prove its complete adaptation to Mowing as well as Reaping. It is so constructed, that it can be changed in twenty minutes into a Mowing Machine, and then again altered back for Reaping, in the same time. It leaves the stubble from twelve to fourteen inches high. With this Machine you can mow an acre per hour, the whole day, though with but two horses, and with the same ease for the team, as ploughing; is warranted to cut Salt Grass equally as well on upland. These Machines are Manufactured at Brige-

Philadelphia July 8, '54: Ritter's Compound Syrup of Tar & Wild Cherry S the safest, cheapest, and best of all Cougl Medicines now in use. Of this fact a single trial will convince the most skeptical. It contains no mineral or narcotic ingredients, and causes no inconvenience during its administration; is very palatable, will be taken freely by the youngest children, and will afford instant relief in croup and vhooping cough, if given according to the directions. A few doses will allay the irritation of the bronchial tube, incident to cough and sore throat, and by removing the cause will in a short time produce the effect desired—a permanent cure— One bottle, the price of which is 25 cents, will in nearly every instance cure a cough, however in veterate and of however long standing.
