Let me go-the day is breaking: Shadowy darkness dees away: Angels call, "Come weary spirit!" Let me go-I cannot stay!

From the Recorder and Register. To the Memory of a Deceased Sister.

There flits across my pathway,

A light of other days; I hear in sweetest murmurs The notes of tuneful lays, That breathe in softest accents,

In low and plaintive strains, Sweet thoughts of one departed, Where peace immortal reigns. The soft and gentle breezes.

That sigh along the vale; The flowrets bright with pearly dew, That deck the sunny dale, Are not so full of music,

Or clad in beauty rare. As the voice that hymned the choral song, And the check that bloomed so fair.

That voice, in kindly breathings, Oft raised a fervent prayer For kindred yet in darkness, And bound by Satan's snare;

Nor yet for kindred only Did curling incense rise, That bore a world in darkness

To Him who rules the skies. Thou art gone, my lovely sister; Thy voice no more I hear-

Thy smile, so bilthe and merry; My heart no more will cheer: But in a happier, sunnier crime, With saints and angels bright, Thou art chanting hallelujah's With ever fresh delight.

From the Recorder and Register. THE ROUGH JEWEL.

A rough jewel lay hid for many years among the common stones, in an open field. Many a time had the carcless foot of the traveller trod upon it, all unconscious of its value. At length a man came to that region, who was skilled in the knowledge of precious stones, and he found the jewel. He was greatly pleased when he saw the glittering points of the precious diamond shining three the crevices in the rough stone in which it was encased, and carried it carefully home concealed in his bosom. When he arrived at his home, he said to himself, "What shall I do to perfect and render valuable the jewel which now lies buried from sight beneath the rough coating of worthless rock? I will take away the course covering which hides its lustre, and let it shine without obstruction by its own light." But precious things can ouly be improved by contact with things as precious as themselves. So he polished the diamond dust, till it shone with incomparable splendor, and the fame of the rich jewel spread throughout all the country. this man said to himself, "What can be done with this precious gem, which shall be wer-thy of cf its richness." So he brought the jewel to the mighty Prince of the land, and suid, "I have found this noblest production of nature, covered over with an unsightly crust. I have removed all its roughness, and called forth its lustre, and now I offer it to the chief of the land, that it may adorn his crown -for it is worthy to be the richest ornament of royal diadems."-[Altered from Krum-

AGRICULTURE.

From the American Agriculturist. Plowing with the Elephant-Doctoring the Land-Dissolving Bones.

It is well known that many have occasionally "seen the Elephant" to their great cost and chagrin; but as to plowing with him, we believe Mr. Barnum is the first who has effectually made the experiment in this country. Being curious to know how this succeeded we wrote him a note of inquiry, to which we promptly received the following characteristic reply:-

Bridgeport, April 21, 1855. Dear Sir:-The Elephant has been at work on my farm a little over one week. He takes the subsoil plow and drives it down 16 to 21 inches, in a tight, hard sward, and moves so fast and easily, that it is hard to realize that he has anything attached to him. He walks nearly twice as fast as a horse, and plows as correctly as the best broken team in

His attendant sometimes rides him, and sometimes walks (fast) by his side, while auother man holds the plow. He also draws timber, picks up stones, and makes himself generally useful about the farm.

As for the profit of farming with elephants I have not taken that part into consideration, and probably shall not, though at a "rough guess," I should think, all things considered, oxen, horses, or mules would be quite as eco-I will leave the public to judge for itself, when the public to judge for itself, when Thou tra'llest like a Ship in the wide ocean, oats per day, and about 200 lbs. of hay. The one I use is as decile as a cow, yet this is not always the case.

In answer to your inquiry, I will say that my "salts doctoring" works well, and my wheat and grass already show that the physic has had a good effect.

I have dissolved several tuns of bones with oil of vitriol, and doubt not the result will be excellent.

Deep plowing, draining and fertilizers are the true investments of the farmer who loves to see large and rich crops. Every man should this year sow and plant all the land that is tillable. If this is not done, another drouth would give us a famine. P. T. BARNUM.

For the West Jersey Pioneer. NOTINGS, No. 4.

Yet New York with all its pollution and crime possesses many redeeming traits; it is the great centre of our principal publication offices, and from here their influence, like the rays of the Sun diverge all over the Union, but we are heartily tired of its noise, dust, confusion, benevolence and crime and gladly would we hasten away.

We followed the river to its source and found it to be quite an insignificant stream, almost unworthy to be compared with the noble Delaware, as it nears the Ocean. Maddened at this loss, and rendered ferocious at the long continued resistance of the garrison, the Hessians shed, the savage troops gathered the wounded, placed them in a cart, and rolled them down The Carthagenians appear to have excelled with them everything they could conveniently (the neice of the Colonel,) came to their relief, with water, wine and chocolate, to assuage their burning thirst, and with bandages for their wounds. Some had died from the effects of the brutal treatment they had received, but most of them recovered through the kindness and efficient nursing of their

JACK RINK AND THE YANKEE.

Few communities are more strongly imbued with a passion for horse racing than the good people of Natchez. In New York folks talk "soger" and "engine;" in Paris they talk opera; in Natchez they talk horse. They believe in quadrupeds and nothing else. To own the fastes horse in Natchez, is to enjoy the fee simple of an honor in comparison with which a member of congress sinks into nothingness. In October last, "fall meeting" took place, and led to more than the usual quality of excitement and brandy cocktails. The last race of the last day was a sort of "free light," open to every horse that had never won a race;

Jack saw his customer, and immediately measured him for an entertainment. After the usual fuss and palavar, the horses were brought out, saddled, and prepared for a single heat of two miles. There were eight competitors besides the Yankee. The latter's was a smart sorrel coalt. with a fine eye, and a lift of the leg that indicated speed and bottom.

"Bring up the horses," said the Judge.

The horses were brought up-the Yankee gathered up his reins and adjusted his stirrups .- While doing this, Mr. Rink went to the rear of "the sorrel coalt," and placed a chesnut burr under his tail. The next moment the order to "go" was given, and away went nine horses of all possible age and conditions. The Yankee's was ahead, and kept ing off fold after fold, there at last was the there. # FISH AS FOOD.

The cheapest article in almost all the markets of the large towns and villages throughout the Union, at the present time is fish .-Sir Humphrey Davy, the eminent English Professor of Chemistry, recommends fish for possessing certain properties necessary to perfect health, which animal flesh does not. He says he found in the sca-fish " substance which does not exist in the flesh of land animals, viz: iodine; a substance which may have prevent the production of scrofulous and tubucular disease—the latter in the form of pulmonary consumption, que of the most cru-el and fatal with which civilized society and the highly educated and refined are afficied. #### WEATHER.

Last week we were rejoicing at a visitation of rain, our rejoicing it would seem was premature; enough however was received to extinguish the remains of the fire in the woods. and prevent any further destruction of wood and young timber, but little was done towards watering the dry earth, or preparing it for the support and germination of the Spring crops. It is in fact excessively dry; go along our public highways where laborers are at work grading and mending the roads, and you find the earth destitute of moisture, dry as powder and nicely prepared for dusting your coat. Spite of all this, the wheat grows and looks green and flourishing, the grass though checked in its progress and arrested in its growth, looks green. Peas are in blossom and early potatoes and some other vegetables look as if we were not to be left entirely destitute of food. We have not examined any ecord of weather to learn the truth, and we very well know, that we are prone to think a present drought greater than those which live only in our memory, but we cannot avoid the conclusion that the last three months have been without their accustomed supply of early rains. It certainly is very uncommonly dry for the season of the year, and although not given to croaking or looking ahead for evils, we cannot help fearing that a few days longer continuance of such weather will be disastrous in its effects.

Last Sabbath, we were very much pleased the God of Providence, for a supply of moisture for the parched earth, we were, as if by magic, carried back to the days of our boyhood when we have listened with so much interest to the prayers of such men as the Rev. Jonathan Freeman, Father Osborn, and others, fervently pleading for the opening of the windows of Heaven, and the outpouring of the waters. We very well remember the solemnity of the congregations on such occasions; there was the palpable evidence of faith marked upon the countenances of the people, an evident uniting of the prayers of the flock with that of their Pastor and an expectation of being heard by Him who not only heareth but answereth the prayers of his faithful peoplc. We remember with how much confidence we looked for the expected signs of coming rain, and more, we remember that upon more than one occasion we have heard the muttering thunder, have witnessed the gathering of the black clouds, the moaning among the leaves and branches of the old oaks surrounding the Church, produced by the rising winds which were gathering together the small clouds, the pattering of the welcome rain drops and the hurry and skurry of the flock to reach their homes before they were wetted by the welcome visitor.

We fear much of that simple, humble trusting faith which characterized us as a people in bye-gone days has departed and given place to be found on the shelf of the apothccary. to a presumptuous dependence upon man's wisdom, man's power to effect whatever is necessary in the operation of the world. It is an age of progress; but let not that progress obliterate our sense of depenence on an overruling Providence. Allow us to suggest to all our preachers of every denomination to make it a special object of their prayers on the next Sabbath, that God would visit us with the needful rains of the seasons. Should we be blessed with this visitation of his goodness ere that, then it will be a fit time for special thanksgiving for his great goodness.

Baker, the Alleged Murderer of Poole.

The "Grape Shot," which it will be recollected, sailed from N. York in March last, in pursuit of Baker, the supposed murderer of Would our friend have arsenic sold promis-Poole, has returned with the fugitive as a prisoner. We suppose no murder ever caused greater excitement in New York or the country generally than this, and more effort and more interest was excited to procure his arrest than ever was exerted for the arrest of a fugitive before. Poole, a noted bully and ·political rowdy, became a Hero, and now we presume the same strange public who have so zealously followed his alleged murderer, will now turn round and immortalize Baker as a Martyr. New York began to need excitement to make the papers sell, people could not be sufficiently roused by the Hughes and wrinkled. They are said by Mr. N., to be Brooks contest.

The Old Tonnant Church .- We learn from the Monmouth Democrat that a move ment has been made to tear down the old Tennant Church and rebuild on the site a structure of modern date. We are sorry to say that such a project has been entertained This Church is probably the last remaining reliet left in the state of things as they exist-ed prior to the revolution. We have been accustomed to look upon this spot with feelings of veneration and awe. There the Church stands as it stood when the battle raged around its sacred walls, and the tenants of the churchyard sleep as soundly as they did when the foot of a foreign foe trampled upon the sod which covered their mortal remains. The bullet holes are still to be seen in the walls of the church, that were made in the din of that hard-fought struggle, and the interior of the for Cumberland County.

We have stood upon this spot and in imagination were carried back to ages gone by when the voice of the immortal Tennant proclaimed the word of God from that sacred desk, to his humble flock. We have looked upon the surrounding scenery and imagined it bore the same appearance which it did in the days when our fathers braved the anger of the despot and proclaimed to the world that they would be free.

We have visited the battle-fields of Prince ton and Trenton, but the spirit of improvement has long since obliterated the last vestige of the ancient landmarks. It is not yet so with the Lattle-field of Monmouth. There still remains the old church with its highbacked pews, surrounded by the churchyard, and the old parsonage, where it is said Wash ington quartered the night after the battle, standing as they stood the morning after the fight. And shall these ancient reliets now be destroyed to give place to a later style of buildings merely to gratify the pride of some of the congregation? If they must build another church, build it on a different site and let the sacred building remain where it has stood during the part century.

Ap. 28, 1855. FITHIAN WHITEKAR & Co. Dr. Morgridge's Family Medicines

THE success of the subscriber in the treatment of Discases of the Bowels, on botanic princi-ples, during the last twenty years, and especially in that of Cholera at Millville in 1849, where more than thirty cases were cured under his direction vithout a failure, has induced him to prepare a set of medicines from innocent vegetable substan for the cure of this class of diseases.

These medicines have become exceedingly popular in every section of country where they have been introduced. Within the last two years they have been placed in the hands of hundreds families for the purpose of having them thoroughly tested; and the result has been most satisfact. ry. I have called personally on hundreds of those families to ascertain the success of my mediciner and have found that wherever they have been fairly tried they have given entire satisfaction.

They seem to act as a specific in Dysentery as well as in all the family of Bowel Complaints. In my travels during the last two Summers, for the purpose of introducing and testing my medicines. I prescribed them in numerous cases of Dysentery with great success; many were cured, and I have not heard of a single failure where my medicine alone were used and persevered in according to

The articles principally relied on in the cure of Cholera Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoa, Dysentery, Bowel Consumption, Cholera Infantum, and the Summer Complaints of Children, are Dr. Mor-GRIDGE'S Anti-Dyspeptic Mixture, Cholcra Syrup, Cholcra Pills and Anti-Bilious Pills for adults, and his Bowel Corrector, Childrens Cordial and Aperient for Chil-Iren. These will be sufficient in ill ordinary cases, but there are some violent attacks of disease, and some critical cases in which Du. Monguidge's Emetic Syrup and Carminalite Tincture are employed. For further particular on this subject see bill of directions accompanying each set of the medicines. For the cure of sundry other forms of disease are the following compounds, viz:—

Dr. Maryridge's Cough Syrup and Pectoral Edge, for Coughs, and all affections of the throat, breas and lungs. Dr. Morgridge's Lidiment and Elixir, for Rhuma tism, Sprains, Tumors, &c. Dr. Margridge's Allerance Tills and Elixir, for effections of the neart, liver, kidneys, &c. Dr. Morgridge's Auti-Dyspeptic Mixture and Pille for Dyspepsia with all its distressing symptoms.

Lr. Margridge's Hyer Syrage, for Croup, Asthma

Hooping-wough, Ac . in children.

Dr. Morgradge's Carminatice Tineture. This expels wind, cures pains, Colles, Cramps, &c.
Dr. Morgridge's Auli-Sousmodie or Emetic Syrup for all violent attacks and critical cases of disease These as well as my Bowel Med cines have been tested for years, and have won for themselves eputation which will not easily be effaced. For sale, wholesale and retait, at my office in Commerce Street, next door east of the Cumber land Bank, Bridgeton N. J. Price 25 cents per bottle or box. A liberal discount will be given to wholesale dealers. Merchants would do well to lay in a stock of my Bowel Medicines early in the season, as individuals are already sending for their family supply for the Summer, from every direction there a knowledge of them has gone

All orders accompanying the cash will receive prompt attention RECOMMENDATIONS:

E the undersigned, having used Dr. Mor-GRIDGE'S "Family Medicines" more or less in our families within the last tew years, have found them exceedingly efficacious in the cure of the different forms of disease for which they are recommended, and decidedly the best we have er-er used. And believing as we do, that they are the best medicines now in use, and that their general use would prove a great telessing to the community, we cordially give the above testimonial for the benefit of our triends and the public.

BARBER'S New Jersey Combined Mowing and Reaping Beaching!

THAHIS Machine is simple, of light draught and not liable to get out of order and will cut all kinds of Grain and Grass equally as well as any other Combined muchine ever in this region. It is so constructed, that all side draught, (which is so great in most Machines as to require three, and some machines four horses to do the work of two) is entirely overcome and seldom, if ever requiring but two horses in any kind of grain or grass. An Extra Platform is so constructed, that the gavels can be laid at the side, eatirely clear, when the Machine comes around and obviates the necessity of binding after it.
This Machine has been tested the last harvest, by a number of practical Farmers and quite suffi-cient to prove its complete adaptation to Mowing Thibet do., as well as Reaping. It is so constructed, that it can be changed in twenty minutes into a Mowing Machine, and then again altered back for Reaping, in the same time. It leaves the stubble from twelve to fourteen inches high. With this Machine you can mow an acre per hour, the whole day, though with but two horses, and with the same ease for the team, as ploughing; is warranted to cut Salt Grass equally as well as Fresh, and work as well in the Salt Marsh as ou upland. ese Machines are Manufactured at Brigeton, by the subscriber, where all Repairs can be tone at Short Notice. An extra knife, with cach machine. Persons wishing to purchase, can apply to the subscriber, at Bridgeton, personally or by ROBERT BARBER. Bridgeton, March, 10, 1855 .- tf.

MATCHES! MATCHES! JOHN DONNELLY. Manufacturer and Inventor of Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Box Matches, No. 106 North Fourth St. (above Race), Philada. ATCHES having become an indispensable article in housekeeping, the subscriber, after a great sacrifice of time and money, is enabled to offer to the public an article at once combining Utility and Cheapness. The inventor knowing the danger apprehended on account of the flimsy manner in which Matches are generally packed in paper, has by the aid of new steam machinery of his own invention, succeeded in getting up a Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Box; this box is far preferrable, inasmuch that it occupies no more room than the old round wood box, and contains at least Two Hundred per cent more matches, which, to Shippers, is considerable advantage. It is entirely new, and secure against moisture and spontaneous combustion, and dispels all danger on transportation by means of railroad, steamboat or any other mode of conveyance. These matches are packed so that one gross or more may be shipped to any part of the world with perfect safety. They are the most desirable article for home consumption, and the Southern and Western markets, that have ever been invented. Dealers and Shippers will do well to call and exmine for themselves. For These Matches are WARRANTED to be superior to anything heretofore offered to the public.

Ritter's Compound Syrup of Tar & Wild Cherry. IS the safest, cheapest, and best of all Cough Medicines now in use. Of this fact a single trial will convince the most skeptical. It contains no mineral or narcotic ingredients, and causes no in convenience during its administration; is very palatable, will be taken freely by the youngest children, and will afford instant relief in croup and whooping cough, if given according to the direc-tions. A few doses will allay the irritation of the bronchial tube, incident to cough and sore throat, and by removing the cause will in a short time produce the effect desired—a permanent cure.— One bottle, the price of which is 25 cents, will in nearly every instance cure a cough, however in veterate and of however long standing.
