For the West Jersey Pioneer. TO A BUTTERFLY.

BY SARAR S. SOCWELL.

O! brilliant, glaucing butterfly, Thou blossom of the air; Thou lovely little harbinger Of Springtime mild and fair. A joyous, fleeting life is thine, Creature of air and light! For thee this earth is ever fair,

The skies are ever bright. Through the brief span of thy gay life No dreary winter reigns; No chilling storms of sleet and snow

Sweep over frezen plains. Thou comest with the balmy I reath, And radiant flowers of spring; When in the breezy woodland bowers The clear voiced songsters sing.

And when the piercing north-wind tells Thy airy form, bright butterfly, Decks our lone bowers no more. Thou'rt fluttering gaily o'er the fields,

And through the garden bowers; Where softly blows the balmy breeze, Among the fragrant flowers.

O! careless little butterfly, Sporting so joyously; Thou art a bright, a lovely type

Of immortality. Once, thou wast but a crawling worm, Devoid of every grace; A grovelling, unsightly thing,

On fair creation's face. But now, on radiant, glittering wings, On this sweet morn of May,

Thou'rt floating through the sunny air, A creature bright and gay. And thus, when this frail mortal frame Crumbles to earth away;

The Spirit, freed from sin shall dwell In the bright Land of Day. Shileh, May, 1855.

The much desired rain has fallen, the parched earth has been moistened, suffering vegetation has been relieved, and nature has put on its liveliest, brightest costume. How different the appearance of the country and how different its prospects from that of last week. How casy for the Omnipotent ruler of nature to produce a change and accomplish purposes, which man with all his boasted power and knowledge cannot pretend to. That heart must be cold indeed, must be dead to all the finer feelings of our nature which is not drawn out in gratitude and thankfulness to the God of Providence for his great good ness in securing to us our needful blessings.

The appearanse of our growing crops, the prospect of abundance for man and beast in our district of country, is only a repetition of the story which comes to us through the press from every section of our widely extended territory. We have been struggling along, those of us who are consumers, under the burden of famine prices, until we are particularly sensative to every indication of coming plenty. The producers too, when lower prices are produced by abundant crops, have reason to be thankful.

The prospect for fruit of all kinds, is very promising, in fact, we look for a year of luxuriant plenty of all the good things of the FIRE IN THE WOODS.—In another column will be found, copied from another paper, an account of a fire in the woods, near Malaga. We have heard several versions of the sad consequences of this fire, but not differing very materially, the boy burned to death, was the son of Moses McChesney, formerly of Millville; he was about 11 years old; his remains were brought to Millville for interment, the coffin was opened there and the body exposed to the view of the people. There have been an unusual number of fires in the woods; some of small extent, others quite destructive. It is said, that like many other of the casualties which produce so much destruction of life and property, two at least, of these fires, can be traced to the effects of that liquor which some of our wise legislators think it to the Ministry, and his views of Christian would be so wrong to take away from the dear

FOURTH OF JULY.-We think it well to remind our townsmen that the Anniversary of American Independence is close upon us, a few weeks and it will be here. We shall not suggest any method of celebrating that day ourself, but merely remind our readers that if anything is to be done creditably, it is time that some consultation and consideration upon the subject was had.

PAPER MILL AT CEDARVILLE.—We visited this establishment last week and intended to have given a history of the old factory and its numerous changes in this number but our head has been suffering and we are unfitted for mental exertion and shall have to defer it until next week, when we intend to trace its history and its present prospects.

NEW YORK PEOPLE'S ORGAN.-We have been looking for many long and tedious weeks to see the Organ, and listen once more to its melodious notes, but in vain, until this week, when we are again cheered with its presence The Organ is one of the most efficient instruments engaged in the Temperance Reform: it does not always "harp on one string," but when the chord of Prohibition is struck it the benediction by Elder Freas, and the vibrates well. The present week it gives the usual variety of tunes; interesting, instructive and beautiful. Although the Organ has no keys, by forwarding the small sum of one dollar to JAMES MACKEAN, No. 118 Nassau Street N. Y., a variety of notes will be returned weekly, more than compensating for the trouble and expense. The Pioneer has been pronounced, in very flattering terms, by the Organ to be genuine and we hope it may always pass current on their list.

LIFE ILLUSTRATED. - Frequently, whilst perusing our exchanges for the purpose of selecting copy for the Pioneer, we find articles of much interest, and would transfer them to our columns, but on examination we find one or more selections from that valuable sheet, already marked, or in type, and therefore pass them by. Some weeks ago, a young bachelor acquaintance of ours, who visits this town every year or two, called in our office to look over the exchange papers from different parts of the country, and spend an hour or so, as we supposed, in pleasant company. After sifting the wheat from a large pile of excellent papers, he chanced to pick up Life "This is a good paper," no response be- to receive and docket cases.

ing made, he resumed his reading and presently added, "this is a first-rate paper," to which we made no reply, in a short time he looked up and exclaimed with an earnestness and emphasis not to be disregarded: "Why this is an excellent paper." Yes! that was our opinion long ago, when the first number was published, and it has been rapidly improving ever since. We were gratified to hear so positive an assertion from one whose judgment in such matters is so highly esteemed. Persons in want of a good City News paper can be accommodated by addressing Messrs. Fowlers & Wells, No. 308 Broadway, N. Y. Price two dollars per year.

The following is from a late number of that invaluable paper:

"We occasionally receive letters in which the writers express an intention to stop their county or village paper, and take one of our publications instead. We always regret to receive such intimations. We think a man ought to support his own paper first, and then if he can afford to take a paper from a distance, let him do so, and we shall be happy to furnish him with "Life Illustrated." The country press, in our opinion, is the most important in its effect on the enlightenment of the nation. It conveys in ten thousand rills, intelligence to nearly every home in the country. The country press ought to receive a cordial support. Every place should try to people could be justly proud of it. To this end let them pay promptly, advertise liberally, recommend warmly, and in every way stand by their editor as long as they consientiously can."

MESSRS. EDITORS:-It was the Writer's privilege to be present and participate in the Centennial Anniversary of the First Baptist Church of Salem N. J., on Thursday and Friday of last week. A Council composed of the Pastors and delegates of several neighboring Churches, had also been called to meet with the Church on the 17th instant, at three 'clock, to examine, and if thought advisable, o ordain to the work of the Gospel Ministry Mr. Daniel J. Freas.

Religious services were commenced in the Meeting House, on the 17th inst., at half-Scriptures and prayer and singing, in which several ministering brethren from the neighboring Churches, engaged, the pastor, Rev. F. Perkins, D. D., preached the Centennial Sermon, in which he stated that the First Baptist Church of Salem, was constituted the 17th day of May, 1755. The number of constituents was nineteen. Besides those who have united with the Church by letter, seven hundred and ninety-six had, upon profession of their faith, been baptised and received to the fellowship of the Church. GARDEN CITY, Ill., May 19, 1855. Mesers. Editors:- I write to fill up a few eisure moments at this daylight-in of a day's work both to gratify myself, as also to fulfil my intent of troubling you frequently with a line from the "back woods"-if you please. And here you will allow me to say a word of the manifest improvement recently noted in your columns. To those especially who are away from home and yet desire to keep posted in the events and occurrences pertaining to Old Cumberland, the "Pioneer" is rendered the more interesting because of its extensive list of Correspondents whose pleasure it is to afford local items, general news, and individual contributions for the good of all. West Jersey can well support a good Paper, and you need not think your own as labor lost in striving to have the Pioneer a welcome and useful visitor to the home of its readers.

Spring has fairly dawned upon us, for you already know we are sometimes used to sunshine. All nature breathes in its new life, and May, "the mother of Roses," has donned the gay dress of her teens. The whole atmosphere about us is fragrant with the perfume of latent enjoyment. Even the Citysuch a City as ours, which is half prairie, and have its paper of such a character that the not all brick and mortar, looks the better for the change, though it be truly just great enough to prompt one heartily to misle himself right where everybody should be-by the beautiful groves and greens, the woods and waters of a Rural Home. Happily for those of us who are so apt to be annoyed by dust and drowth, this gentle, beautiful May is easily brought to tears; showers have been plenty and these, you know, bring flowery weather? Spring crops are said to be looking remarkably well, and good reports come up from all parts of the country, concerning the prospects for an abundant harvest. The grain market holds as usual to N. Y. rates, with the difference only of freight, but it is thought prices must come down.

I can report nothing new in our city within the past week or two, except to mention the meetings of the various Anniversaries of past ten o'clock. After the reading of the the Baptist Church which are now being held here. Delegates represent almost every portion of the Union, among whom we find several from New Jersey, though we must in so far regret not meeting with any member from Old Cumberland. The Delegation numbers twelve or thirteen hundred in all, and the meetings have been of a very interesting nature. Mr. Editor-A fire broke out in the pines about four miles from this place, on the afternoon of the 16th ult., which caused considerable damage to property through which it passed. They seem to act as a specific in Dysentery as well as in all the family of Bowel Complaints. In my travels during the last two Summers, for the purpose of introducing and testing my medicines, I prescribed them in numerous cases of Dysentery with great success; many were cured, and I have not heard of a single failure where my medicines alone were used and persevered in according to The articles principally relied on in the cure of These will be sufficient in all ordinary cases, but there are some violent attacks of disease, and some critical cases in which Dr. Mororioge's Emetic Syrup and Carminative Tincture are employed.
