SHADOWS.

BY S. ELLEN CLEMMER. See the shadows on the hill-tops. See them hover in the vales, See them swiftly onward coming. With their broad and ebon sails! How they seem like barks of evil, Sailing o'er a leaden sea, When the sunlight all has faded,

And the wind moans sullenly! I have watched these spectre shadows, Coming through the twilight gloom, Till my soul is full of sadness. And I sit as by a tomb. All the shrines along my pathway Now are mantled by a pall-Palls of more than nightly darkness

Cast their foldings o'er all! Bowed in fullnest of delight, While the wings of love's dcar angel Spread above it, pure and white, Shrines of Memory! ve were lovely Ere this chilling dimness fell-

Ere along the aisle ye border Flowed this dark, mysterious spell. Oft I met beside your altars, One who loved my childhood's hour, And who taught me, in lile's dawning, Of a more than earth-born power. And while gazing on the heaven-light

It seems that this kind of guano has been manufactured at Newark, N. J. in great quantities, and is scented with Peruvian guano for the purpose of deception respecting its real character. This guano is reported to be endosed with the names of scientific men, which, if the above analysis is correct, is anything but favorable to their reputation. It is stated to be made as follows:-Sugar house scum, pounded fine $7\frac{1}{2}$ bushels; Mexican guano, 15 bushels; $1\frac{1}{2}$ bushels of common salt; one bushel of plaster; 3 bushels of Peruvian guano, and half a bushel of lime. These ingredients are mixed together, placed in bags, watered and laid in a heap in layers, with genuine Peruvian laid between each. Those whose years have only been confined to the present century, and who have not earth and air battles, may be ready to conclude that great physical revolutions have never taken place suddenly, and that all the operations of nature are exceedingly slowical Geography of the Sea, that in 1780 a hurricane took place in the West Indies which produced denuding effects during the short period which it lasted, of far greater magnitude than would be due to the operations of common storms during centuries. The sea waves rose to a terrific height, and dashed down forts and castles, and flung huge rocks far inland. The wind swept down great forcets, and leveled thousands of houses with the earth and no less than twenty thousand persons lost their lives. We have no reason to conclude that such storms are hushed to sleep for ever; and yet, who knows but they are; it may be that nature is growing more uniform. and less violent in her operations. The carth affords evidence of its having undergone great changes in by-gone days. These changes may not have been so long in progress as the majority of geologists seem to suppose. A large dog owned near by, heard the splash, ran to to the spot and leaped into the stream. It was just dark and boy and dog disappeared before any help arrived; next day the bodies were taken from the water together, the dog grasping the boy's coat and vest collar in his mouth, and the arms of the boy clasped around the dog's body. So firmly were they united in the struggle of death that they were seperated with no little difficulty. The grasp of the boy around the body of the dog was such as to prevent him from using his legs, otherwise he doubt-less would have resoued the boy.

Our Town, Its Shubbery Trees, Etc. There are several things connected with our beautiful and romantic town which can hardly fail, we think, to strike with favor the minds of strangers visiting it. They are not our large and magnificent churches, for with only an exception or two, these are very plain, both externally and internally. Nor do the things referred to consist in the stately and gorgeous residences of our citizens. In erecting their dwellings they have evidently been governed far more by motives of convenience, comfort, and neatness, than by considerations of show and ostentation-to their praise be it said. Nor do we allude particularly to the wide streets, and hard, smooth walks with which our town is so bountifully blessed, though these are certainly calculated to elicit commendation. The chief objects of attraction just now, especially, are the spacious yards so profusely decorated with flowers and shrubbery, and the densely foliaged trees which ornament our streets. As one passes along, gazing at the gay and smiling yards on either hand, and inhaling the sweet perfumes that emanate from them, he seems to be wending his way through a very forest of roses, pinks, and lillies, and to be drinking in odors as rich as the spices that once flowed out from the garden of Solomon. And as he ascends some eminence and looks over the quiet, modest town, reposing in the vale beneath, he is led to exclaim as did a friend of ours the er day, "What a forest of trees!"

There is one circumstance connected with the trees of our town, that can hardly escape the notice of an observing person, viz: their great youthfulness. Whatever else Bridgepoplars, or stately enus. The trees which ornament her streets, and shade her walks, are evidently of recent growth. Many beside the oldest inhabitants can recollect when our town was almost as bare of trees as the vast sandy plains of Africa or Arabia. What a change has been wrought by the lapse of a few years! Now we need not fear a comparison in this respect with our most favored sis-

Of the general merits of the ornamental trees so richly abounding in our midst, it is not our purpose now to speak. We must, however, be allowed to utter an unqualified condemnation of that offensive and loathsome tree, called the Tallow Tree. We confess to an inveterate prejudice against it. So strong and disagreeable is the odor emitted from it that we have come to look upon its branches and leaves, even, as objects of disgust.

The Tallow tree is a native of China. From a remote period it has furnished the Chinese with the material out of which they make their candles. Would it had been kept in the land of its nativity! The odor of it is not only offensive but unhealthy; so it has been decided to be by the medical faculty, and we have been credibly informed that the authorities of Charleston, S. C., were led by this fact some three years ago to order every such tree in that city cut down. If the authorities of all our cities and towns would but imitate this example, they would confer a great blessing upon the people in respect both to comfort and health. May we not live to see

THE PORTLAND RIOT.

All the additional intelligence received concerning the late riot at Portland Maine. only confirms the views of it presented by us in our last issue. Neal Dew, the Mayor, has communicated a Message to the Board of Aldermen, giving a detailed account of the whole affair, which Message has been formally adopted by the Board "as a true history of the occurrences of the day and night of chre and lays bare the "dead men's bones" June 2." From this Message it appears, (we within. quote from the N. Y. Tribune) "that the mob was of a far more formidable character than has generally been supposed. It had for a disturbance. There was a settled determination that the new Liquor Law should not be executed. Some of the leading and most influential men in the city-to their shame be it said-were unceasing in their efforts to render it unpopular—to turn the tide

THE KNOW NOTHING CECESSION.

The days of Know-Nothingism as a scere political organization are doubtless numbered, at least so far as great national results were contemplated. The late Convention in Philadelphia was attended by the most spirited and carnest discussion of the Slavery question which has ever occurred in any political convention since the founding of our government. And what was the issue? Just what it should have been. The Council, having, despite the earnest protestations of the Northern members, adopted an ultra Prople in behalf of right principles. This they did in a brief address signed by the delegates present and ordered published to the Nation. The three great points contended for are, Spiritual freedom, a free Bible and free Schools," a platfom which the whole North will heartily endorse.

The probability now is, that the organization will cease to be a secret order, but will hereafter openly and without disguise advocate and seek to promote American principles. The Southern branch of the Council, it is said, will omit from its platform all opposition to Roman Catholics and the Pope, thus destroying its whole value as an American organization. The Northern branch will doubtless co-alesce with the Know-Somethings—a strong Anti-Slavery organization-and with other similar orders throughout the North opposed to the further aggressions of the slave ower. Thus the great contest at the next Presidential election, will not be between Nativism and Foreignism, so much as between Freedom and Slavery. That issue is yet to be settled in this country, and the sooner the decisive battle is fought the better.

"MURDER WILL OUT!" ast winter on the Prohibitory Liquor Bill .ive article in the National Standard .-Strange how men will bite the file! . In what way does the Hon, gentleman seek to relieve himself of the unenviable position in which he was thus unwillingly placed? He does it first, by showing that had the Prohibitory ed one to pass it, inasmuch as the Constitution requires a majority of all the members of the Senate to pass a bill, whereas, only nine of the twenty members voted for the Temperance bili. All right. Mr. Coombe was doubtless mistaken as to the constitutional requirement, he supposing that a majority of the members present was sufficient to pass the bill. But now mark what follows. The Hon. Mr. Smith says:-"Had it been necessary the only absentee, (Mr. Roberts,) would have been present, and two who voted in the affirmative, it was notorious would have cast in the negative," (had it been necessary!) Let the Temperance voters of New Jersey weigh well this statement. It was suspected that dodging and unfairness were practiced by the Senate on the Prohibitory uestion, but few, we presume, were prepared to believe that a plot so full of duplicity, doughfaceism, and hypocrisy as that now revealed by the Hon. Mr. Smith, was concocted to defeat it. The matter was all "cut and dried beforehand. It was understood that one member might be absent without endangering the rum interest. It was also undertood that two other members might vote for the bill, and so appear to favor the temperance cause, without exposing the passage of the bill. And of all this the Hon. Mr. Smith had full cognizance. He was in the secret. He knew the deep-laid plot to betray a cause as dear as life to thousands of New Jersey wives, widows, orphans, and citizens, and yet he uttered no word of protest against the dark iniqitous scheme. He thus became a particeps criminis: a partaker of the crime, an accomplice. "Silence gives consent!" But as one mistake often follows another, as the perpetrators of gross crimes very frequently take leave of their senses afterward, so in the present instance. The Hon. For the West Jersey Pioneer. MORNING MUSINGS-MUSIC.

"Is there a heart that Music cannot melt?" In the Pioneer of the 2d inst., we noticed beautifully written piece on Music, by Ida." The article does credit to the head and heart of any Lady, (we suppose the writer is a Lady) but we regret to notice that some of the quotations are sadly misplaced, or else our copy of Shakspeare is wrong. Now we have a peculiar love for literal quoations; as those old Fellows have gone to

to give none but true quotations. "Ida" says "We wonder not that Shakspeare said that 'he who loves not music has no soul, and is not fit to be trusted:" "or Luther when he said 'they who love not music and are not moved by the concord of sweet sounds, were fit for treason, murder and depravity of every species." Nearly every paper in the city has had word to say on behalf of the retention of the 'opera of the poor," the itinerant musical organs; the sympathy seems universal, especially with the "rising generation." Now if the Mayor would or could direct his orders against all political organs which grind out partizan discords, and arrest them; he would be entitled to a statue of gold, and an eternity of fame. We think the true solution of the myth of Pandora's box was the introduction of the political press, for it has been the cause of more discord than Ate herself-and she, it will be remembered, was turned out of Olympus by Old Jove, "of the sky lord Mayor;" and has been sowing commotion here ever sinco. - Sun.

Firemen for Europe. - It is stated that several members of the New York Fire Department are getting up an excursion to the Old World this Summer. They are accompanied by Dodworth's famous cornet band, and will take passage in one of Collin's steamer's to Liverpool. It is their intention to proceed to London, Manchester, and all the principal places in England, cross over to France, visit the Grand Exposition of 1855, pay their compliments to his majesty Louis Vapoleon III., by whom they will be reviewed, and return via. Vanderbilt's line of steamers from Havre. The firemen will take a first class engine with them, Concerts will be given by the band during their sojourn, towards defraying their expenses .- Sun.

As a Sabbath School Teacher, she was faithful, efficient and successful.

On the 7th day of last September, she was united in marriage with him who now, after a few short months, mourns her loss, but not as one without hope. Sixteen years of entire consecration to the service of Him who loved her and gave Himself for her, is the best evidence, that our loss is her gain, that while absent from the body she is present with the Lord.

"Blessed is the memory of the just." "Dearest sister, thou hast left us,

Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal.'

On day's notice required by mail or otherwise, in order to give me time to provide the best the market affords. AND Young people from Bridgeton and neighbor ing villages will find my place the very spot to enjoy themselves rationally, and in a respectable mannerand it is to be hoped they will all bring their cheerly-for order, says the poet Pope, I tolerate neither ram, riot, nor uncouth jests about my premises, and all who are fortunate enough to hate them, are invited to bring their sweethearts, wives and children, and have a frolic in a quiet way. To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN .- I desire my friends distinctly to know, that no person or persons, directly er indirectly, are in any way interested in my effort. I am determined to maintain the dignity of my businessa all hazords, and manage my own affairs. It is my ear est desire to be a good citizen and do my duty, and l have enough to do without attending to those who are vainly trying to blacken my character. My life and character has been, and is now, my desence.-Fiat justitia, ruat calum. CHARLES FITHIAN. Cottage Mount, June 12, 1855.

Economy Combined with beauty & Service SAMUEL L. FITHIAN,

AVING purchased the right of making, AVIAG purenased the right of managed using and selling, Cyrus Buler's patent paint mixture; would hereby offer it for sale to the citizens of Bridgeton and vicinity, having used and refer to the citizens of Bridgeton and vicinity, having used and perfectly experimented with the mixture. I feel perfectly safe in saying, that it is decidedly to the advantage of any person having painting done to use it. The mixture being a new article to the Public, I do not expect or ask them to use it at their own risk; but am willing in every instance (where it is used according to direction) to warrant it; and if at the end of two years after the paint is put on, the person using it is not satisfied, I will repaint at my own expense, with either Pure Lead or the best Zine, at their own option. Now the advantages, to a person using it are as follows, viz:-First, they save 33 per cent on the first cost. Second, the paint mixture gives the paint a very beautiful gloss, consequently, they have a much handsomer job of work done by using it.— Third, it will last from two to three years longer than painting done in the old way of mixing-Fourthly and last they run very little or no risk All further necessary information will be given by calling at SAMUEL L. FITHIAN'S Drug & Chemical Store, sign of the Big Mortar, nearly opposite E. of Diseases of the subscriber in the treatment of Diseases of the Bowels, on botanic principles, during the last twenty years, and especially in that of Cholera at Millville in 1849, where more than thirty cases were cured under his direction without a failure, has induced him to prepare a set of medicines from innocent vegetable substances, for the cure of this class of diseases. These medicines have become exceedingly popular in every section of country where they have been introduced. Within the last two years they have been placed in the hands of hundreds of families for the purpose of having them thoroughly tested; and the result has been most satisfactory. I have called personally on hundreds of those families to ascertain the success of my medicines, and have found that wherever they have been fairly tried they have given entire satisfaction. They seem to act as a specific in Dysentery a well as in all the family of Bowel Complaints. my travels during the last two Summers, for the surpose of introducing and testing my medicines, prescribed them in numerous cases of Dysenter vith great success; many were cured, and I have not heard of a single failure where my medicine alone were used and persevered in according to

BARBER'S New Jersey Combined Mowing and Reaping MACHINE!

THIS Machine is simple, of light draught an not liable to get out of order and will cut all tinds of Grain and Grass equally as well as any other Combined machine ever in this region. It is so constructed, that all side draught, (which is so great in most Machines as to require three, and some machines four horses to do the work of two) is entirely overcome and seldom, if ever requiring but two horses in any kind of grain or grass. An Extra Platform is so constructed, that the avels can be laid at the side, eatirely clesr, when the Machine comes around and obviates the ne-essity of binding after it. This Machine has been tested the last harvsst, by a number of practical Farmers and quite suffiient to prove its complete adaptation to Mowing as well as Reaping. It is so constructed, that it can be changed in twenty minutes into a Mowing Machine, and then again altered back for Reaping, in the same time. It leaves the stubble from twelve to fourteen inches high.

With this Machine you can mow an acre per hour, the whole day, though with but two horses, and with the same ease for the team, as ploughing; is warranted to cut Salt Grass equally as well as Fresh, and work as well in the Salt Marsh as These Machines are Manufactured at Brigeton, by the subscriber, where all Repairs can be done at Short Notice. An extra knife, with each

MATCHES! MATCHES! JOHN DONNELLY,

Sep 30, 1854.

Manufacturer and Inventor of Safety Patent Sque Upright Wood Box Matches, No. 106 North Fourth St. (above Race), Philada. MATCHES having become an indispensable article in housekeeping, the subscriber, afa great sacrifice of time and money, is enabled to offer to the public an article at once combining Utility and Cheapness. The inventor knowing the danger apprehended on account of the flimsy manner in which Matches are generally packed in paper, has by the aid of new steam machinery of his own invention, succeeded in getting up a Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Box; this box is far preferrable, inasmuch that it occupies no more notice and on the most reasonable terms room than the old round wood box, and contains at least Two Hundred per cent more matches, which, to Shippers, is considerable advantage. It is entirely new, and secure against moisture and spontaneous combustion, and dispels all danger on transportation by means of railroad, steamboat or any other mode of conveyance. These matches are packed so that one gress or more may be shipped to any part of the world with perfect safety. They are the most desirable ar icle for home consumption, and the Southern and Western markets, that have ever been invented. Dealers and Shippers will do well to call and ex amine for themselves.

These Matches are WARRANTED to I superior to anything heretofore offered to the public.
