Dash on! dash on! and swell, forever swell The chorus of thy wild and gushing song, That billowy anthem seems with joy to tell Of Him who made thy wondrous voice so strong. Man's boasted eloquence but feebly vies With the loud music of thy ceaseless hymn, And shining clouds from thy rough alters rise, Which make the light of earthly offerings dim Oh who would dare, while gazing upon thee,

There let the scoffer bend his stubborn knee And speak the prayer that trembles in his heart. I would not ask a holier spot to breathe My holiest thoughts, or bow me down to pray, Than where the laughing sunshine comes to

A crown of glory throug thy sparkling spray, I longed to speak but could not, and at last Bowed low my head in silent awe, and wept, Down, down, for countless centuries as now, That emerald torrent o'er the rock has noured And countless rainbows on thy misty brow,

And when stern winter clasps the cloudy veil That floats around thee with his icy hand, Making thy wondrous beauty sad and pale. As from thy forehead drops the glittering band, Lo! does the white foam surging at thy feet Build up to God a mighty monument, A frozen alter to His praise as meet

I'd love to see the angry tempest-king Do battle with the in thy strength and pride, And watch the whirlwind dip his ruffled wing With wasted strength in thy resistless tide-To see the dark ranks of the storm advance And hurtheir thunders at thy bristling crest,

But in the zenith of his boasted power He never yet has dared to cope with thee. Thou needest not the aid of wind and storm To make thee terrible-yet dost thou blend

Grand, beautiful, invisible thou art. But, ah! how vaguely human words can tell One atom of thy shining spray as well Forever changing, while thou art the same, Summer and winter, now and evermore,

Editor of the West Jersay Pioneer, vened-since last I communicated to your paper. During this interval many changes have taken place, as well upon the Atlantic and Pacific of our country, as among the empires of the Old World. Perhaps at no period of the Christian era, has the same number of years evolved as many and important novelties. It is true, when Rome held universal sway, less time than this decided the fate of nations. But then the world was circum scribed; and what was supposed its whole extent was but its minor part. Ambition ruled the destinies of men, and fickle fortune, seemingly in fear lest light should down upon the world, bestowed her favors where 'twere least befit. But now when reason has her throne and men are taught to think; the change that would affect a part, affects the whole. For the West Jersey Pioneer. A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

MESSRS. EDITORS:-I see by an advertisement in your paper of last week, that there is to be an excursion from Bridgeton to Cape Island on the 26th inst. I was present on the occasion of the excursion from Salem to Cape Island, on the 4th of July, and I confess that I never enjoyed myself more in the same leugth of time in my life. We left Salem at 64 o'clock, A. M., in the steamer Express, Capt. II. S. Bright, and in about 4 hours landed at the Island. We engaged a hack, and in a short time we halted in front of Congress Hall, one of the most spacious hotels on the Island. Soon after securing accommodations, we repaired to the splendid beach, where came rolling the billows with their caps plumed with foam. Having provided ourself with a bathing suit, we took a more so. We commend them for their devo. plunge into Neptune's pickle which we enjoyed beyond measure. Here are many sights to be seen and various ways for persons to amuse themselves at this celebrated watering place, too tedious to mention. A person who once visits Cape Island will not fail to do so

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the Express for the gallant manner in which she combatted the raging billows, and her conduct on the above occasion stamps her as one of the best of sea-boats. The excursionists are under obligations to Capt. Bright and his crew for their kind attention. We would advise all to go on the 26th that can money spent. It is the cheapest and most healthy recreation our friends could indulge in. It is very rarely so cheap and excellent an opportunity is afforded our citizens to visit Cape Island. CUMBERLAND. July 12th, 1855. DEAR PIONEER:-We arrived at this beautiful and picturesque spot last evening after a pleasant jaunt of three days. Leaving Bridgeton about half past 3 o'clock on Monday morning, we made our way to Salem, and thence by steambeat to Philadelphia, where we remained till 4 P. M., when we proceeded to Trenton, and thence to Newark, where we arrived a quarter before nine. Nothing of note occurred on the way, except that the colored man, whom we engaged to convey our baggage from the Reybold to the foot of Walnut St., depended upon the bar-tender at the Walnut St., House for his pay, in consequence of which we got nicely yankeed out of our umbrella. The bar-tender took charge of it as security for what he had paid the colored man, and when we called for it he was missing, and another fellow-churlish enoughwas serving in his place. He showed us the umbrella, but said he didn't know how much had been paid the negro, nor where the other bar-tender was. One thing however he did seem to understand, viz.: how to deal out "distilled damuation" to the numerous cus tomers who thronged the bar. The bour of starting being near at hand we had no time either to parley with him or to wait for the other tender; so we left the umbrella to pay for our porterage, but as it was an old affair. the contemptible gougers of the Walnut St., near the Delaware River. It has some twelve House made but little if anything off of v that time.

On Tuesday morning at 81 o'clock, we set off in the Morris and Essex cars for Hacketts town, the present terminus of the road, where we found excellent quarters at the house of an old friend and relative-P. Kemple, Esq In the afternoon of the same day we took ride over to Schooley's Mountain Springs, about three miles distant where we spent a few hours very agreeably. It is decidedly a pleasant spot. On descending the mountain we met the senior proprietor and editor of the Pioneer, who was on his way to the Heath House to pass the night. Returning from the Springs, we went to the only livery stable in Hacketistown to engage a team to con vey us the next morning to the Water Gap, a distance of about 24 miles. We soon found, however, that this could not be done quite as easily as we had supposed. From the livery stable we went to the principal hotel, and from thence to A. B. and C. but without the least success. The next morning we renewed the effort, but again failed. Although Hackettstown is an incorporated borough, having its Mayor and other city officers, and claims to be one of the first towns of Warren county, it is literally true that we could not obtain a carriage and horses in all the length and breadth of it "for love nor money." Its inhabitants have the reputation of being both jutelligent and hospitable, but until those of them who profess to accommodate the public with horses, get a few more of those precious animals, there is at least one company that will hereafter adopt some other route in going to the celebrated Water Gap.

West Jersey Railroad - This road has boen pecked at pretty considerably by the opponents of the Camden & Amboy Co., and the friends of the Air Line Road. The friends of the road, too, have not escaped their sneers and scuffs. Any expectation that the road would ever be built has been ridiculed. Well, as to that, those who live longest will see. For ourselves, we have never given up our belief that the road would be made all in good time. We were content that those who had given their money and obligations should control the matter. Railroad men and companies have been in great difficulties for several years, in every state in the Union, and their property sold from them. A clearer prospect may justify the West Jerev Company in pushing their road rapidly to completion. Of that they must be the judges. Who, however, looking at the existing state of financial matters, and the prospects of the Road, will say that it ought to be rushed through? We should be glad, for the general good of West Jersey, to see its early No. completion, and we look forward with confideuce that the time will not be far off.

But there is no doubt about the thing now. Seven thousand tons of iron rail have been lapped on the wharf at Camden; the work of laying them down has been commenced at that place, and is progressing rapidly towards Woodbury. The timber for the bridges is ready at the several points, where it is wanted, and their erection will occupy but little 14th of June.

A meeting of the Directars was held at Camden on Friday last, when it was resolved to locate the road between Woodbury and be established between St. Petersburgh and Cape Island, and put the grading, &c , under

This precaution very probably saved his life.

Dr. Read, of Mt. Holly, was soon upon the spot, and with the asistance of Drs. Coieman and Read, of Pemberton, amputation was performed, four inches above the ankie.

Mr. S. is a man of strong nerve, and having always enjoyed excellent health, he will undoubtedty recover quite rapidly. He is now doing very well.

It is very necessary that persons using hese machines, should be extremely cautious. No one should attempt to adjust the knives while the horses are hitched to it—the least movement must resull in the loss of fingers or hands. Neither should one be near it as it moves along. Any deviation from its regular course by striking a stump, or a sudden movement of the team, is likely to prove disastrous. The driver should also be seated firmly-if he is thrown down he may be cut

SAMUEL L. FITHIAN. AVING purchased the right of making, using and selling, Cyrus Buler's patent paint mixture; would hereby offer it for sale to the citimixture; would hereby offer it for sale to the citizens of Bridgeton and vicinity, having used and experimented with the mixture. I feel perfectly safe in saying, that it is decidedly to the advantage of any person having painting done to use it. The mixture being a new article to the Public, I do not expect or ask them to use it at their own risk; but am willing in every instance (where it is used according to direction) to warrant it; and if at the end of two years after the paint is put on, the person using it is not satisfied, I will repaint at my own expense, with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with either Pure Lead of Call and expense our sales with the control of the sales of the control of the control of the sales of the control paint at my own expense, with either Pore Lead or the best Zinc, at their own option. Now the advantages, to a person using it are as follows, viz:—First, they save 83 per cent on the first cost. Second, the paint mixture gives the paint a very beautiful gloss, consequently, they have a much handsomer job of work done by using it.— Third, it will last from two to three years longer than painting done in the old way of mixing.—

Barracliff & Wood. MEXICAN GUANO.

THE attention of Farmers is requested to the following Analysis and statements of this valuable manure. It is the richest Mexican Guano that has been brought to this country in Phosphates. Phosphoric Acid is the valuable element of all manures, and this Guano contains nearly 3 per cent., being much stronger than the Peruvian Guano. The peculiarities of this Guano, are: It is not injured by the sun, and is not washed out of the soil by the rains, in less than 30 years It will double the crop of Corn, if Phosphoric Acid is deficient in the soil.

It cheaper, more permanent, and more certain than Peruvian Guano. On land already surfeited by too frequent applications of ammonia in Peruvian Guano, the Mexican Guano, by its great abundance of Phosphates, will restore health and vigor. For sale by J. B. A. & S. BARBER'S New Jersey Combined Mowing and Reaping MACHINE!

THIS Machine is simple, of light draught and not liable to get out of order and will cat all kinds of Grain and Grass equally as well as any other Combined machine ever in this region. It is so constructed, that all side draught, (which is so great in most Machines as to require three, and some machines four herses to do the work of two) is entirely overcome and seldom, if ever requiring but two horses in any kind of grain or grass. An Extra Platform is so constructed, that the gavels can be laid at the side, eatirely clear, when the Machine comes around and obviates the necessity of binding after it: This Machine has been tested the last harvest, by a number of practical Farmers and quite suffioient to prove its complete adaptation to Mowing as well as Ranping. It is so constructed, that it can be changed in twenty minutes into a Mowing Machine, and then again altered back for Reaping, in the same time. It leaves the stubble from twelve to fourteen inches high. With this Machine you can mow an acre per hour, the whole day, though with but two horses, and with the same ease for the team, as plough-ing; is warranted to cut Salt Grass equally as well as Fresh, and work as well in the Salt Marsh as These Machines are Manufactured at Brigeton, by the subscriber, where all Repairs can be done at Short Notice. An extra knife, with each nachine.
