For the West Jersey Pioneer. THE WRITING ON THE WALL

The sound of mirth and feasting Pealed from a palace fair, And joyous music floated out Upon the midnight air.

For Babylon's proud monarch Sat there in regal state. Surrounded by a thousand lords, The noble and the great.

And wilder rings the music, More freely flows the wine, Served in the consecrated gold, Those goblets deemed divide.

And king, and prince, and warrior, Extol their gods of stone, Above the holy name of Him, The great Eternal Onc.

Reigns in that crowded room As if o'er their devoted heads Hung a strange fearful doom. A shadowy hand is writing

Upon the palace wall, And every heart stands still with fear Within that lordly hall. "Thy roign, O! king, is ended,"

(Thus did the prophet read,) "Thy kingdom shall be rent in twain, For the Persian and the Mede!"

And swelling through the city Came the wild battle-cry, The ringing clash of sword and spear, Borne on the night-wind's sigh. And ere the morning lighted The heavens with amber glow, That haughty city and her king, Bowed to the conquering foe. Shiloh, N. J., 1855.

MORALE.

For the West Jersey Pioneer. THE HAND.

Messrs. Editors: - What a piece of workmanship is the hand! How well adapted to the various functions for which it was made! Surely, no Mechanic or Artist, could ever invent a machine so complicated, and yet perform all the uses for which it was designed, with such ease and ingenuity in obedience to the will, as this well adapted hand of ours. -Let a person only observe his own hand while he is writing; the number of muscles, which are brought to bear upon the pen; how the acute operation of several tendons is concerned in every stroke, how much so of five hundred should convince every person that there is a come to the rescue. great Contriver. The wonderful adaptation of the hand to all the mechanical offices of life, is one cause of man's superiority over the rest of creation. What is there in nature that man cannot turn his hand to, in some required. Families who live in the backwoods or in solitude, as it were, when at our cities and larger towns are surprised at the incessant improvement of their fellow creaprogressions, improvements and the workings of the people of my generation? Yes this is all the work and skill of the hand, in a bodily point of view. What more ingenious or convenient way could this hand have been made than its present form? It is true that it might have been made like an iron ball for weakflesh, but the present form of this well adapted hand of ours, should teach every individual that governs his own thoughts and actions by the rules of common sense, that this beautiful hand, or master piece of Divine wisdom was never made for such evil purposes.

I was seated alone on the margin of Great Egg Harbour River at Beesley's point, a beautiful, rural and retired spot, where some fishermen were hauling their nets to the shore; observing a lone fish hawk in his flight: "As he marked each loose struggler in the deep

A RELIGIOUS COURTSHIP.

A young gentleman happened to sit at church in a pew adjoining one in which sat a young lady, for whom he had conceived a sudden and violent passion, and was desirous of entering into courtship on the spot; but that place not suiting a formal declaration the exigency of the case suggested the following plan. He politely handed the fair lady the Bible open, with a pin stuck in the following text--2d Epistle of John, 5th-" And now I beseech thee, fair lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it pointing till the present time among the families that to Ruth ii., 10th-"Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground and said unto him, why have I found grace in thine eyes that thou should take knowledge of me seeited his taste for the beautiful, and you will ing I am a stranger?" MANUSCRIPT.—A few weeks since we received a manuscript from an old correspondent, directed to the "West Jersey Pioncer;" we of course broke the seal and commenced reading the document, which appeared to be an Essay on Education, consuring pretty severely a certain Institution of Learning, for its pernicious mode of instruction, &c. The writer after expatiating on different points, and revealing some things which we dare not make known to the public, went on to congratulate us on our success in the first attempt at preaching. Preaching! When? Where? This rather puzzled us for awhile, but we soon came to the conclusion that the letter was not intended as a communication for the "Pioneer," but to some friend of the author, who had been preaching with so much success. Was not this friend as much surprised to find a letter directed to him, containing simply a marriage notice of some unknown persons, with a request to publish it in his valuable paper. Persons should be very careful how they direct their private letters in mistake to Printers. Last week we received a piece of composition beautifully written on several small sheets of gilt-edged paper. As Printers are not in the habit of receiving gilt-edged paper so tastefully done up, we feared the writer, evidently a female, had made a mistake and sent us the wrong letter, -but our fears all vanished when we read the accompanying note from the composer of the article alluded to, stating that he had procured the services of a female friend who had kindly consented to transcribe his miserable penmanship, and thus save the Printer much trouble. This was very kind indeed, both on the part of the composer of the excellent article, and the friend who transcribed it in so perfect a style. This is not the first article we have received from our old friend, copied in so exquisite a manner by female friends, who write to perfection, and we trust it may not be the last. The enconium conferred upon the copiest, by the author, in his note to the editor, is, in our opinion, no exaggeration. While on the subject of manuscripts, we would say to our correspondents, that they would oblige us by writing only on one side of the sheet, when the paper is so thin as to permit the ink to strike through, and thus save the compositor much unnecessary labor.

After our horse had finished his bucket of oats, being desirous of returning home before impenetrable darkness enshrouded us, we started for Bridgeton, in what we were in formed, was the nearest road, but afterwards found to our discomfort, to be one of the farthest, winding through the woods and bushes in almost every direction and at last terminating at a set of bars opening into the main road; not wishing to rely too much on our own knowledge of the road, we crossed the street and inquired at a dwelling, if we were on the right track; being informed that we were, we also learned that we had called at the same house in the afternoon, that the gentleman who was away on our first visit, had returned and wished to pay his subscription for the Pioneer, and forthwith shelled out for two years. "It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good," thought we, as we stepped into our carriage, two dollars more in pocket than when we stepped out; never dreaming when we entered the house at night, that we had been there before, or that they were subscribers to our paper. We again started for home. Our friend who accompanied us during the day, being a regular Jehu, and having a horse On our arrival in Bridgeton we found our BRIDGETON CHRONICLE" falsely conveying the carriage well covered with mud, and no small sprinkling of sand. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, we were treated so well by all with whom we met, as to make our trip a very pleasant one.

WHO CAN WONDER AT IT! This exclamation was suggested by reading the account published in Monday's Ledger, of the accident which occurred last Saturday night, to the steamer Major McDonald, on her way from Philadelphia to Cape Island. It will be recollected, that for several days previous, a flaming advertisement had appeared in the Ledger-and no doubt in other papers also-calling attention to this contemplated trip to the Island. That advertise ment began thus:-"No interference with business hours"-printed in large capitals. It then went on to say, that the boat would start from Philadelphia at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, arrive at Cape May early Sunday morning, remain there during the day and return to the city before business hours on Monday morning. Now we hold, that such an advertisement was an insult to the whole Christian community, and a gross indignity to Heaven. Indeed, it looked like an attempt to defy Almighty God. One of the ancient prophet's inquires: "Will a man rob God?" Yes, men did it in his day and they do it now. But what black ingratitude does such robbing involve. This was once illustrated by a pious old man in the following forcible manner. In reasoning with a Sabbath breaker he said, "Suppose now, I had seven shillings, and suppose I meet a man ought to be thankful." "Well, but suppose freely given you six days to work and earn your bread, and the seventh he has kept for himself, and commands us to keep it holy; but you, not satisfied with the six days God and it is thought by this movement to put an has given, rob him of the seventh: what then do you deserve?" The reader need not be told that the man was silenced, and well he might be. Few sinks more strikingly reveal the deep wickedness of the human heart, or meet with more marked punishment in this world, than the sin of Sabbath breaking. Indeed, our observation has led us to the conclusion, that this one sin receives the mark of God's Our readers are aware, some of them at disapprobation more signally, in the present least, that on Monday of last week we were life, than any other species of wickedness out on a collecting tour. Furness of all the various kinds always on the road will begin as soon as the right of way is obtained. Our Trenton contemporary. thinks it probable that this road will next year be built from Cape Island to some point on the Camden and Atlantic Road, so as to form a railroad communication from C. Island to Phila, but scarcely hopes that it will ever be completed in all its length, as its location, and especially its southern terminus, must prevent it from ever becoming a link in the chain of roads from New York to Norfolk; and the fact that it will run, in all its route, nearly parallel with the Atlantic coast, and thro' the most barren portion of our State, must preclude it from any profit by way travel.

The Bloomfield Railroad .- The American Railroad Journal thus speaks of the road just projected between Newark and Bloomfield This will be a line of some four miles only; but one which we are satisfied will pay weil on a reasonable cost. Newark already contains a population of over 50,050. Bleomfield is well known to be one of the most nealthy and beautiful villages in N. Jersey, and is the seat of several manufactures. Most of its inhabitants do business in Newark and New York, passing back and forth daily, the distance from the latter place being only 12 miles. The back country is populous and productive. A large business in farm and garden products must immediately be thrown upon the line, particularly if it should be extended further into the country, as has been contemplated. We hope soon to be able to chronicle the progress and completion of this road .- We learn from the Chester County Press that of the whole portion of this road now under contract (being 36 miles) there now under contract (being 36 miles) there are graded 15½ miles; 4½ miles in Delaware WORKS, Evidgeton N. J. County, and II miles in Chester county .-From the advanced state of the work no doubt is said to be entertained that the grading and bridging may readily be completed from the line by the first of November next, but as according to the terms of subscription, the instalments are not all payable until some time next year, this can only be effected by voluntary payments of instalments by stockholders, of the Quaker City.

It is estimated that the amount of capital invested in this business in all parts of the United States is somewhere between 6 and $7,000,000.

Dr. Morgridge's Family Medicines.

THE success of the subscriber in the treatmen of Discases of the Bowels, on botanic principles, during the last twenty years, and especially in that of Cholera at Millville in 1849, where more than thirty cases were cured under his direction without a failure, has induced him to prepare a set of medicines from innocent vegetable substances, set of medicines from innocent vegetable substances, for the cure of this class of diseases.

These medicines have become exceedingly popular in every section of country where they have been introduced. Within the last two years they have been placed in the hands of hundreds of families for the purpose of having them thoroughly tested; and the result has been most satisfactory. families for the purpose of having them thoroughly tested; and the result has been most satisfactory. I have called personally on hundreds of those families to ascertain the success of my medicines. and have found that wherever they have been fairly tried they have given entire satisfaction. They seem to act as a specific in Dysentery as well as in all the family of Bowel Complaints. In my travels during the last two Summers, for the purpose of introducing and testing my medicines prescribed them in numerous cases of Dysentery with great success; many were cured, and I have not heard of a single failure where my medicines alone were used and persevered in according t

The articles principally relied on in the cure of Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bowel Consumption, Cholera Infantum, and the Summer Complaints of Children, are Dr. Mor-GRIDGE'S Anti-Dyspeptic Mixture, Cholera Syrup, Cholera Pills and Anti-Bilious Pills for adults, and his Bowel Corrector, Childrens Cordial and Aperient for Children. These will be sufficient in all ordinary cases, but there are some violent at tacks of disease, and some critical cases in which DR. MORGRIDGE'S Emetic Syrup and Carminativ Tincture are employed. For further particulars on this subject see bill of directions accompanying each set of the medicines.

For the cure of sundry other forms of disease are the following compounds, viz:—

Dr. Morgridge's Cough Syrup and Pectoral Elizir, for Coughs, and all affections of the throat, breast vored with. Looking Glasses, Plain and ornamentand lungs.

Dr. Morgridge's Liniment and Elixir, for Rhumatism, Sprains, Tumors, &c. Dr. Morgridge's Alterative Pills and Elixir, for affections of the heart, liver, kidneys, &c. Dr. Morgridge's Anti-Dyspeptic Mixture and Pills, for Dyspepsia with all its distressing symptoms.

Dr. Morgridge's Hyve Sgrup, for Croup, Asthma, Hooping-cough, &c., in children.

Dr. Morgridge's Carminative Tincture. This expels wind, cures pains, Colies, Cramps, &c.

Dr. Morgridge's Anti-Spasmodic or Emetic Syrup, for all violent attacks and critical cases of disease. These as well as my Bowel Medicines have been tested for years, and have won for themselves eputation which will not easily be effaced. For sale, wholesale and retail, at my office in Commerce Street, next door east of the Cumber-land Bank, Bridgeton N. J. Price 25 cents per bottle or box. A liberal discount will be given to wholesale dealers. Merchants would do well to lay in a stock of my Bowel Medicines early in the season, as individuals are already sending for their family supply for the Summer, from every direction where a knowledge of them has gone.

All orders accompanying the cash will receive prompt attention. RECOMMENDATIONS: E the undersigned, having used Dr. Mor-GRIDGE'S "Family Medicines" more or ess in our families within the last few years, have found them exceedingly efficacious in the cure of the different forms of disease for which they are recommended, and decidedly the best we have evr used. And believing as we do, that they are the best medicines now in use, and that their general use would prove a great blessing to the community, we cordially give the above testimonial for the benefit of our friends and the public. MEXICAN GUANO. THE attention of Farmers is requested to the following Analysis and statements of this waluable manure. It is the richest Mexican Guano that has been brought to this country in Phosphates. Phosphoric Acid is the valuable element of all manures, and this Guano contains nearly 34 per cent., being much stronger than the Peruvian Guano. The peculiarities of this Guano, are: It is not injured by the sun, and is not washed out of the soil by the rains, in less than 30 years.

Soft.

Warch 31, '55.-1y.-p. It will double the crop of Corn, if Phosphoric

Acid is deficient in the soil. It cheaper, more permanent, and more certain than Peruvian Guano. On land already surfeited by too frequent applications of ammonia in Peruvian Guano, the Mexican Guano, by its great abundance of Phosphates, will restore health and vigor. For sale by J. B. A. & S. Sep 30, 1854. MATCHES! MATCHES! JOHN DONNELLY,

Manufacturer and Inventor of Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Box Matches,
No. 106 North Fourth St. (above Race), Philada. ATCHES having become an indispensable article in housekeeping, the subscriber, after a great sacrifice of time and money, is enabled to offer to the public an article at once combining Utility and Cheapness. The inventor knowing the danger apprehended on account of the flimsy manner in which Matches are generally packed in pa-per, has by the aid of new steam machinery of his own invention, succeeded in getting up a Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Boz; this box is far preferrable, inasmuch that it occupies no more room than the old round wood box, and contains at least Two Hundred per cent more matches, which, to Shippers, is considerable advantage. It is entirely new, and secure against moisture and spontaneous combustion, and dispels all danger on transportation by means of railroad, steamboat or any other mode of conveyance. These matches are packed so that one gress or more may be shipped to any part of the world with perfect safety. They are the most desirable article for home consumption, and the Southern and Western markets, that have ever been invented. Dealers and Shippers will do well to call and examine for themselves.

These Matches are WARRANTED to be superior to anything heretofore offered to the public.
