For the West Jersey Pioneer. A FAREWELL TO SUMMER.

BY SARAH 9. SOCWELL. Alas! for thee, O! Summer. Wita thy wealth of brilliant bloom; Thou art passing slowly, surely hence, In thy beauty to the tomb. We welcomed thee with gladness. O! Summer, bright and gay, And we pine for thee as for a friend Who hath journeyed far away. Where now are the bright roses With which the earth was wreathed; Whither have fled the gentle winds Which thou hast o'er us breathed? The alder shadowed brooklet Sings now a sadder tune. Than when twas fringed and crowned with In the glorious month of June. Thou art bearing hence, O! Summer,

The beauty of the year; Nought wilt thou leave of thy rich girts, Our lonely hearts to cheer. With thee hath fled the music Which filled thy hours with glee, The quivering thrill of whispering leaves, And birds sweet melody. And with thy fading beauty How many hopes have fied! How many houses are desolate O'er which thy bloom was shed! Many a voice of gladness Which greeted thee of vore

When music sang through the festal skies, Shall greet thee nevermore. O'er many a form of beauty The violets will bloom: In many a home, on thy coming back. Thou wilt find a shade of gloom. Alas! how frail, how fleeting, Are the levely things of earth!

Mingles with all our mirth. But we'll welcome thee with gladness, O! Summer, bright and gay, For we pine for thee as for a friend Who hath journeyed far away. Shiloh, N. J., Sept. 1855.

For the West Jersey Pioneer. THE LICENSE LAW.

The second reason for the repeal of the License Law is, that that law gives a degree of respectability to the immoral business of liquor selling and the ruinous habit of liquor drinking, which they could not have without the sanction of law. That this is the case, all who have carefully observed the workings of this law, know perfectly well. Men drink at the licensed tavern, who would consider themselves disgraced, were they to go to an unlicensed groggery and drink with the drunken loafers there; and as to purchasing liquor at such a place, and carrying it home to drink in the midst of their families; why, they would not for a single moment entertain the thought of doing such a thing; but business frequently calls them to the place where liquor is sold according to law, and drinking is therefore deemed respectable, consequently they drink to keep up their respectability, thereby creating the appetite for liquor, and they thoroughly reform. A little of this forming the habit of drinking it; which, when confirmed, usually lead to the low grog shop, and also to poverty, crime, disease, wretched ness, death and endless ruin. That hundreds of men, especially young men, and those too of greatest promise to their families and their country, are thus annually withered and blasted for time and eternity, no honest man can deny. I say those of greatest promise, because every one who has candidly considered this subject, is fully aware, that the close fisted, miserly souls who care only to make "Is it right? I contend therefore, in view of the facts; first, that the license law gives respectability to the outrageously wicked business of rum selling; and secondly which his followers are bound to maintain, as that this respectability of the trade tends to hopelessly ruin vast multitudes of those who would otherwise be good and useful members of the commonwealth, that this law should be repealed as soon as possible; and further, that the legislature which perpetuates, and the part of church sessions, when any of the the legal voters who quietly endure the longer continuance of this wicked law, the direct Many of our Synods and Presbyteries have tendency of which is to produce and increase "The sounds that fall on mortal ear, As dew-drops pure at even;-That soothe the breast, or start the tear. Are Mother, Home, and Heaven."

And who shall say which of the trio is sweetest? To the child whose thousand wants, and trials too, -whose infancy of years and ship; to the youth in need of kindly counsel that he fall not out by the way with that which is right and of good report; and to the when overtaken by the infirmities of the flesh and made the subjects of disease: there is none so precious as that of Mother! But there are those who have never enjoyed the delights of a good Home; nor can they experience the thrill of pleasure in the very sound of that word, known to the more fortunate whose "lines have indeed fallen in pleasant places." And why this is, it were perhaps not an easy matter always to determine; yet, for the most part, we are persuaded, it is due to no other cause than individual indiscretion. What the light of the Sun is to the growth the toil-worn, such is a Home to him who est gifts to mortals-domestic happiness.-Never did pen and ink trace truer words than these,-" There is no place like Home."-The theme has engaged the attention of thousands-the reality has found expression in the heart-beats of many, many more.

Nor can we avoid doubting a man's individual honesty of purpose and action, if our ears are saluted with an expression from his lips, by far too common. "I go from Home because it is no pleasure for me to be there;" and we feel almost certain that, if the wife or mother of the household, by habitually absenting herself acts out the same thing,there is a screw loose somewhere." Such people are not to be trusted, since this is perhaps the best and most available criterion to their character. Our advice - and we give it to the young especially, is to avoid them .-Call them not your bosom friends, unless leaven of unrighteousness might ruin the sum total of your happiness.

There is but one legacy to humanity more precious. And what is that but a home? "I go to prepare a place for you." floats in sweetest cadence round the happy hearthstone, and we, who even now, can in some measure appreciate its beauty, shall know it more fully with the advent of that grand "moving day" which is soon to locate our Home in Heaven! "Who can paint Like Nature?"

The next day after passing Louisville was pleasant; the scenery along the Ohio beautiful. About noon we passed a little village on the Kentucky side of the river, where two men were to be hung for violating the laws of our country; two o'clock was the hour for the execution of the dreadful sentence: already the people of the surrounding country began to assemble; hundreds were on the ground waiting impatiently for the moment when they should have the pleasure of seeing a fellow being ushered into eternity-before the bar of God; strange that man should take pleasure in such sights. Our company was very agreeable, and the time passed very pleasantly. The fourth day after leaving Memphis. we arrived at Cairo, a small town at the mouth of the Ohio; as we neared the mighty "Fa-ther of Waters," I could not avoid exclaim-

· Thou broad expanse of waters Thou gentle river; flow on till thy mild Ripples mingle with the waters

Of the mighty deep!" The water of this mighty river is turbid; while that in the Ohio is clear; a line is very distinctly seen some distance after meeting, waters with the former. The scenery along the Mississippi is wild, yet beautiful. The deep forests of cotton wood stretching away in the distance; the low shores, combine to render it peculiarly interesting. The eighth day from Cincinnati we arrived at Memphis, Tennessee. This is quite a flourishing place, containing between 17,000 and 18,000 inhabitants. We staid here but a short time being anxious to get to work as soon as possible. Our business was distributing knowledge over the wilds of Ar-

After crossing the river, as our fields were in different directions I parted with my last friend. The first five miles lay through a dismal swamp, the road was planked or rather it was slabbed. I passed several emigrant wagons-large sheet top wagons with from two to four yoke of oxen attached. These wagons are from Tennessee, Kentucky, North and South Carolina, they contain the movables of poor families on their way to the interior of Arkansas and the borders of Texas.-The older portion of the family waik while those who are too young are permitted to ride. Marion, county seat of Crittenden county .sequently interesting to me, as I was auxious to get into Poinsett county, the field of my labor I did not stop. Inquiring of some person that I met about the road, I was told to take the Batesville road which was nearer. I went according to directions, turned to the right, but what a "fix" I soon found myself in, innumerable roads were seen branching in every direction, (if a few wagon tracks winding in every imaginable direction, twisting to every point of the compass can be called roads). I took No. 1, found I was wrong, No. 2, ditto; No. 3, same result; No. 4, met an old man in a one horse open wagon, looking as though they had come from the regions beyond _____. I inquired if I was right? why lor, bless us you are not going to Batesville is you?" The road now became very lonely, nothing to vary the monotony of the scene save an occasional log cabin which only added to its gloomliness; of course there were better houses ahead, I should soon get out of this dismal swamp. As I rode along sweet memories of home crowded upon my mind, but I struggled to drive them away; my situation was horrible enough and I would not augment it by comparing the past with the present. The forest trees grow very luxuriantly, such as the oak, gum, cotton wood, cypress, which are the principal; the roads are mud; towards the close of the day I rode up to a log but, made some inquiries, " Wall sir, you are right, but you had better stop at the next house, they take in traveliers, if you pass that you will have to go seven miles before you meet up with another." My heart was lighter; bright visions of a neat frame house.

COMMERCE STREET, BRIDGETON,

Is now constantly receiving and opening a full and complete assortment of new and desirable goods for Spring and Summer wear, to which he would respectfully solicit the citizens of Bridgeton and surrounding country. And though I may regret I have said at; I am going to sell for cash, barter or short approved credit. Thus insuring my customers that they may always depend on what goods they buy of me shall be of the very lowest prices, knowing that persons who give long long credits must necessarily get higher prices for their goods besides losing a great deal by bad debts. (and as all trades must pay or there could be no trade.) good paying customers must pay for the losses by bad ones. Or in other words, if Mr. A. fails to pay his bill, you must charge Mr. B. increased prices for the goods he buys; so you see, Mr B. has to redouble his efforts to make up for the fraud of Mr. A., which are the evils of the long credit system.

These medicines have become exceedingly popular in every section of country where they have been introduced. Within the last two years they lave been placed in the hands of hundreds of families for the purpose of having them thoroughly tested; and the result has been most satisfactory. I have called personally on hundreds of those families to ascertain the success of my medicines, and have found that wherever they have been fairly tried they have given enters satisfaction.

They seem to act as a specific in Dysentery as well as in all the family of Bowel Complaints. In my travels during the last two Summers, for the purpose of introducing and testing my medicines, in that of Cholera at Millville in 1849, where more please, during the last twenty years, and especially in that of Cholera at Millville in 1849, where more with than thirty cases were cured under his direction without a failure, has induced him to prepare a set of medicines from innocent vegetable substances. These medicines at Millville in 1849, where more of the number of the number of the hunds of

The articles principally relied on in the cure of Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Bowel Consumption, Cholera Infantum, and the Summer Complaints of Children, are Dr. Mor-ORIDGE'S Anti-Dyspeptic Mixture, Cholera Syrup, Cholera Pilla and Anti-Bilious Pills for adults, and Lis Bowel Corrector, Childrens Cordial and Aperient for Children. These will be sufficient in all ordinary cases, but there are some violent attacks of discuse, and some critical cases in which DR. Morontone's Emetic Syrup and Carminative Tincture are employed. For further particulars on this subject see bill of directions accompanying each set of the medicines.

For the cure of sundry other forms of disease are the following compounds, viz:—

Dr. M. rgridge's Cough Syrup and Pectoral Elizis, for Coughs, and all affections of the throat, breast and lungs.

A liberal discount will be given to wholesale dealers. Merchants would do well to lay in a stock of my Bowel Medicines early in the season, as individuals are already sending for their family supply for the Summer, from every direction where a browledge of them has refer to the season. where a knowledge of them has gone.
All orders accompanying the cash will receive prompt attention RECOMMENDATIONS:

WE the undersigned, having used Dr. Mor-GRIDGE'S "Family Medicines" more or less in our families within the last few years, have found them exceedingly efficacious in the cure of the different forms of disease for which they are recommended, and decidedly the best we have ever used. And believing as we do, that they are the best medicines now in use, and that their general use would prove a great tlessing to the community, we cordially give the above testimonial for the benefit of our friends and the public.

SAMUEL L. FITHIAN, -TAVING purchased the right of making, using and selling, Cyrus Buler's patent paint mixture; would hereby offer it for sale to the citizens of Bridgeton and vicinity, having used and experimented with the mixture. I feel perfectly safe in saying, that it is decidedly to the advantage of any person having painting done to use it The mixture being a new article to the Public, I do not expect or ask them to use it at their own risk; but am willing in every instance (where it is used according to direction) to warrant it; and if at the end of two years after the paint is put or the best Zinc, at their own option. Now the ndvantages, to a person using it are as follows, viz:—First, they save 33 per cent on the first cost. Second, the paint mixture gives the paint a very beautiful gloss, consequently, they have a much handsomer job of work done by using it.—

Done at short notice, in the best manner of the Third, it will last from two to three years longer than painting done in the old way of mixing .-

Fourthly and last they run very little or no risk. All further necessary information will be given by calling at SAMUEL L. FITHIAN'S Drug & Chemical Store, sign of the Big Mortar, nearly opposite E. Sep 30, 1854. MATCHES! MATCHES!

JOHN DONNELLY. Manufacturer and Inventor of Safety Patent Squa Upright Wood Box Matches, No. 106 North Fourth St. (above Race). Philada. MATCHES having become an indispensable article in housekeeping, the subscriber, afa great sacrifice of time and money, is enabled to offer to the public an article at once combining Utility and Cheapness. The inventor knowing the danger apprehended on account of the flimsy manner in which Matches are generally packed in particular to the particular to th per, has by the aid of new steam machinery of his own invention, succeeded in getting up a Safety Patent Square Upright Wood Box; this box is far preferrable, inasmuch that it occupies no more room than the old round wood box, and contains at least Two Hundred per cent more matches, which, to Shippers, is considerable advantage. It is entirely new, and secure against moisture and spontaneous combustion, and dispels all danger on transportation by means of railroad, steamboat or any other mode of conveyance. These matches are packed so that one gress or more may be shipped to any part of the world with perfect safety. They are the most desirable article for home consumption, and the Southern and Western markets, that have ever been invented. Dealers and Shippers will do well to call and exmine for themselves. These Matches are WARRANTED to be superior to anything heretofore offered to the public.
