

The West Jersey Pioneer.

A Family Newspaper. Devoted to Political, Religious, Moral, Domestic, Economic, Literary, Commercial, Domestic and Foreign News, &c. Independent of Party or Sect.

$1.00 IN ADVANCE!

TERMS.
The WEST JERSEY PIONEER is published every SATURDAY Morning, at $1.00 per year, in ADVANCE, or $1.25 at the end of the year.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Will be inserted for 40 cents a folio of 100 words, for the first insertion; 20 cents for each subsequent insertion. A liberal deduction will be made upon all advertisements exceeding five folios in length, and which are inserted for a longer period than three months. No advertisement of a folio or less will be inserted for a single week, for less than 50 cents.

All letters and communications must be POST-PAID, and accompanied by the author's name, to insure attention.

Office—Brick Building, Corner of Commerce and Pearl Streets.

Choice Poetry.

From the New Jersey Farmer.
Thoughts in a Room of Sickness.

BY MRS. S. S. SCHWELL.

hear the rushing of the stream,
Through the long forest glade,
I see its sparkling waters gleam
Forth from the willow shade.
I hear the drowsy hum of wings,
Where sport the insects bright,
Daring in swiftly circling rings,
Quick glancing in the light,
I see the water-lilies gleam
In the clear under light,
Which quivers on the flowing stream,
Like wreaths of jewels bright.
I hear the wild bird's gushing song
Of rich sweet harmony,
Born in the summer air along,
In bursts of melody,
I feel the gentle, fragrant breeze,
Fanning my fevered brow,
And stinging through the crimson trees—
O could I there now!

O could I leave this bed of pain,
Even for a brief hours,
To wander mid these scenes again,
These lovely woodland bower,
And stand where the young willows wave
In the soft sunlight gleam,
These burning bands and forehead lace
In the cool rippling stream,
How now live my weak frame fill,
Now faint with yearning pain;
And Nature's joy my spirit thrill
With happiness again!

H O M E !

When evening flings her dusky shade
Over day's departing close;
When labour drops the pen or spade
For pleasure, or repose.

With hasty step, and gladness heart,
I seek my much lov'd home;
A cot that boasts no builder's art,
An unspringing dome.

Yet there the virtues with their train
Of social joys resort,

There health, and peace, and freedom reign,
Fair circles form a court.

When heard the scarpings of my foot,
What transports stir within!

Action pipes her welcome sweet,
A pleasing tuncful din.

My children by to share my kiss,
A little optics group!
There central is a mother's bliss,
And all a father's hope.

My loving partner, in her turn,
Anticipates desire;

And oft, as it would not burn,
She trimm'd the blazing fire.

Officially she now displays
The dish and cleanly platter;

And when excuse for ought she prays,

Contentment cries "no matter."

Thus round my soul entwined twins,

With stronger, sturdier hold;

Yes, Hymen's lamp still bright shineth,

And charms still new unfold.

As thus convivial pleasures rise,

To gild my dear abode,

To heaven I lift my grateful eyes,

And thank a bounteous God.

Points of Merit in a Cow.

She's long in her face, she's sin in her horn;

She'll quickly get fat without oil or corn;

Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

She's clean in her jaws, and full in her chin;

She's heavy in flank, and wide in her loins;

She's broad in her ribs, and good in her rump;

Her a straight and fat back, with never a hump;

Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

She's wide in her hips, and calm in her eyes;

She's fine in her shoulders, and thin in her thighs;

Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

She's light in her neck, and small in her belly;

She's fine in her bone, and gay in her skin;

She's a grazier's without, and a butcher's within;

Hurrah! hurrah for this beautiful cow!

The Immense Wheat Harvest.—The

turns from the wheat harvest of the United States are now complete, and it is settled that the crop is of most excellent quality, and not the largest ever gathered since the beginning of the country, as far back as avoids record.

and will yield a large surplus beyond the supply of our domestic wants.

It is estimated that the crop has produced

16 million bushels, and the probable export made from all sources will be 140 million bushels. Hence the export demand can be satisfied without causing any unusual demand, but prices will not be likely to very low.

NOTES.

From the Camden Democrat.

WOMAN.

Perhaps there is no subject within the range of human comprehension more interesting than that of Woman. There is magic in the name. It breaks upon the ear with a peculiar tone, attended with melodies of love and blushing of happiness. It is the fountain where the wily draughts of love originate—where the vital spark of beauty is warmed, and cherished, and nurtured into existence, and the human heart swells with approbation at the sound.

Although the secrets of the world have ever taken pleasure in passing eulogies on Woman, and however many persons may aver that everything has been said which was possible; yet the name of Woman will always be revered and admired, and eventually life itself into the ethereal atmosphere of immortality.

Man, launched into existence, naturally asks himself, "Whence comest thou?" He lists to the tender voice of a mother who will stand by and protect her son, to her utmost, from the incursions of the world, and the assaults of enemies. Then that the breath of heavenly love and the inspiration of a warm and glowing soul is poured forth in plaintive accents, and the bow of Innocence and Purity decked with laurels of loving kindness.

Woman, in whatever manner considered, in whatever way contemplated, presents to the eye of the mind a being of superior order, capable at any time, of exerting a powerful influence, and swaying the hearts of men by her all-absorbing love.

To contemplate this subject in a right and proper manner, it will be necessary to look with a scrutinizing eye and an inexperienced mind, into her various relations in society, and endeavor to bring to your view the light of truth, and to behold her as possessing an intellect of noble activity, and an influence, at least, equal to that of man.

And in conclusion, as a tribute to the genius and happy influence of Woman, let it be said:

"Yes, 'tis to lovely Woman given
To soothe our cares, our woes alay,
To heal the heart by misery riven,
Change earth into an embryo heaven,
And drive life's dullest care away."

WILL TANTRUM.

Bucks Point, July 22d, 1856.

On the Death of Children.

Those who have lost a child—who have seen the little one whose prattling joy had been the sweet music that cheered the sorrowing hour—go down with disease as pluckily as flowers wither before the scorching sun—it is sad to read the obituary notice even of a stranger child. The loss of a sweet and beloved child is a sorrow that none but those who have suffered can have the least realizing sense—it is unlike that of any other relation—it is not the tearing of simply of a limb, but mauling and breaking to pieces the little tendrils that have grown around the heart and become part of one's self. It is the opening of all the feeling and pouring sorrow in every pore.

It warms our fancy with enlivening fire,
Refines our genius, and our verse inspires;
From him theories, on Emma's plains,
Learned the wild sweetness of his Doric strains.

Virgil by him was the moving art.

From the first recognition of the child when it turns its infant eyes upon its parent's hope, expectation and joy, mingled with the dread of some unforeseen difficulty or sorrow, springs up in the soul and grows with its growth, and strengthens with its strength, until they become the leading feature of our reflection—What the little one will be, more than what he is, is what we love. What we hope for and what we expect, more than what we see and what we still all see, must be at sauthine or rather I should say death to death as soon as I sit down.

It is the greatest hand to do good unto all and to have swapped a dozen hoofs for one and to be a good master to a wild heifer we had for a sturdy one.

But goodness knows I said he was a swappon one.

He was a great case to sing—when I heard a great bell jingling as plain as could be.

Ab, yes, I'm getting fond of a good fire and cushioned chair these cold December evenings, and when I'd like to see my grandpa again, I'd go to him.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

Sometimes I had the biggest mind to do for him to bring that ever I had to do anything.

Every blessed night he'd turn up Bob and Harry.

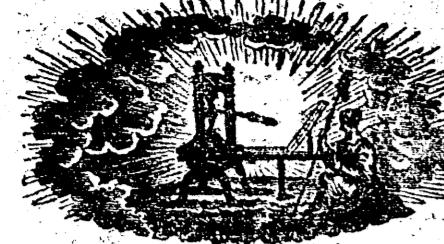

Every time I asked him about it he'd say he was trying to swap a wild heifer for a sturdy one.

At last I was determined to sift the whole affair; and I did, and pretty soon, too.

One night in March he started off on a walk.

I said nothing, but made up my mind to set up till he got back, and make him tell me what he had done.

The West Jersey Pioneer.

BRIDGE ON
Saturday Morning, October 25.

CIRCULATION 1450

Only $1.00 per Year!

JAMES B. FERGUSON.—Editor.

Tobacco, Smoking, Chewing &c.

This vile weed, so extensively used throughout the civilized world, and among the red men of the forest, has for years past, been increasing in price, until at present, none but the profligate and those willing to pay a good price for their tobacco, can afford to use the best quality. Cigars, that a few years since, sold at a cent a pair, have gone out of the market, and what are now termed half-Spanish, are made of about the same quality of tobacco as the old common used to be; the half-Spanish have taken the place of sixes, and the same quality that were formerly sold for sixes, now pass current for the best of Havanas, regalias and the higher priced cigars, on which upper-tendom and fast young men, formerly regaled themselves. The price of chewing tobacco has likewise increased, and those who use the article are compelled to pay a higher price than formerly, use a poorer quality, which is a bad policy indeed. It is evident either that less tobacco is chewed in this locality in proportion to the population, or those who chew it are a little more decent in the operation, and have more self-respect, or regard for others than was manifested but a few years ago. It has been but a short time since some of the Churches in this town dispensed with spittoons or boxes, which were kept by the dozen in the accommodation of those who had no more manners than to use them or spit their dirty saliva on the floor, until it would run in puddles where the congregation were requested to kneel in time of devotion. What practice more filthy and disgraceful to the house of God, than tobacco chewing, and yet persons who would feel themselves insulted to be clasped with despisers of the sanctuary, are guilty of this (say the least of it) dirty practice. As well might a rowdy with a common cigar in his mouth enter the house of God and commence smoking, while the minister is preaching, as for a member of the church to sit chewing tobacco and spitting it over the floor. As we said before, this practice has gone out of date in this town, and we know of no one who is guilty of such practice but less than five years since, it was too common in the town of Bridgeton.

Our attention was called to this subject by a friend who attended a Convention in this town a short time since, at which time several ladies, and others who could not endure the disagreeable and sickening tobacco smoke, left in disgust, while others were sickened by inhaling the injurious vapor. In some cities in the Union, smoking in the street is prohibited by law, and the offence finable, and we think that if that was the case in other places where the masses congregated, it would be well. Let him who is in the habit of puffing the obnoxious smoke in the face of his neighbor, remember that all taste are not as perversed as his own, and that common decency requires that he have enough respect for others, not to insult them in this pernicious and offensive manner.

Grocery and Provision Store.

Seldom of late, could our readers look into the advertising columns of the Pioneer, without finding an advertisement of two, from the Grocery Store of Mark Sheppard, in Commerce st., opposite the post office. His store has already become well established as one of the best in Bridgeton. This has been done by attention to business, judicious advertising, and selling goods on better terms than many of his rivals in the business. He may at all times be found at his post, ready to accommodate all who favor him with a call. By strict attention to business, always polite and accommodating, he has gained a large share of public patronage, and if personal and strict attention to business merits success, he will most certainly be favored with it.

Small Stores.

It is thought by some, that "Goods from small stores always sell at large profits";—The falsity of the above assertion can easily be demonstrated, by calling at the Dry Goods and Grocery Store of Ned Allen, in Glass town, and purchasing a bill of goods at his store. He does not pretend to keep the largest stock of goods in Bridgeton. His motto is "quick sales and small profits". Persons purchasing goods from his store, can have them delivered free of expense to any part of the town. The store is on the corner of Jefferson and Pearl streets, formerly occupied by Wilson Silvers. Mr. A. is a young man who desires the patronage of all, in his neighborhood and should be liberally patronized.

Schooner Launch.

Our readers will remember the launch that is to come off at Dorchester, on Thursday next, the 30th inst. If the day prove favorable, a large number of persons will be present to witness the interesting sight, and partake of the sumptuous dinner to be given at the hotel of Mrs. Lowry, of that village. Our thanks are due the builders of the vessel, for their pressing invitation given us to be present on that occasion. We fear a press of other business will prevent our partaking of their hospitality, we therefore invite all our readers in that section of the country to go and witness the launch.

Buffalo Robes, Harness, &c.

Passing along Commerce street a few days since, we noticed hanging from the second story window of the building occupied by Mr. Enoch Hawthorn, a large and beautiful Buffalo Robe, which reminded us that Mr. H. had removed his Harness establishment. This mode of advertising Buffalo Robes is much preferable to that of hanging them out upon the awning posts or where they are constantly flapping about in the faces of passers-by and frequently causing fractious horses to run away and endanger the lives of innocent individuals. Not only Buffalo Robes are hung out over the side walk in Bridgeton, which are an annoyance to passers by, but other articles, which, we trust, those who have heretofore put them out, will desist from in the future. The harness we were going to refer to in this notice, will be found advertised, with full particulars, in another column. Read and purchase for yourselves.

A Word to Young Men.

The following advice from the Orange Journal is so appropriate to other locations beside up Jersey, that we give it entire, for the benefit of that class of young men for which it was intended. A few hints of this character, thrown out from the pulpit, occasionally, would reach such ears more directly, and, perhaps, quite as effectually as through any other channel. We trust that if the "shoe fits" any of our readers of the stamp alluded to, they will put it on, and profit by it. There are other traits of character exhibited while attending the sanctuary, which it would be well to remind some readers of, but the Journal has been so explicit, we defer any further comments at present. In the advice to young men it says:—

"When you go to church on the Sabbath, don't be so puritanical as to enter the sacred building at once, but remain outside for fifteen or twenty minutes—at least, long enough to smoke a good cigar. It's a good plan, and exceedingly graceful, to perch yourself on the church fence, with your coat tail hanging over next the street, and your feet dangling on the other side. If that is inconvenient, take up the next most graceful position, which is to lean against the post of the church door. The advantages of this position are numerous. You can get a friend to stand on the opposite side of the door, and your conversation, which of course will be in a loud whisper, can be heard by those inside. You may also, in this way, have the pleasure of staring in the faces of all the young ladies as they go to the church. And another advantage is, that the congregation will enjoy the full benefit of your half-Spanish cigar."

The fragment we may puff into their faces as they enter, and puff after them when they have gone in. Be sure and talk politely while you stand here. It will be so gratifying to the congregation. It will be a good chance to prove that Buchanan is a filibuster, or Fillmore a disunionist, or Fremont a Catholic.

When you enter the church, which of course you will not do until the preacher is announcing his text, don't be so gross as to take a seat by the door, but steer directly for the opposite end of the church. Your boots, which ought to have nice soles, or, if thin soles, a great deal of squeak in them, will make considerable music, and attract the attention of the whole congregation. This, of course, will be gratifying to you, as there is nothing like making a noise in the world, and thereby exciting the attention of the people.

After you take your seat, if you see anything to laugh at, (and you always can, if you look for it) why, laugh. You may also amuse yourself by writing in the blank leaves of the hymn book, or whispering to your next neighbor. Be sure and have with you an extra paper of fine cut Cavendar, and don't fail to use it all up before you go. You can leave the paper on the floor of the pew, and you may relieve your mouth by spitting on the carpet in the aisle, or else making a puddle in your seat, in such a way that the lady at the other end of the seat will drag her long-sleeved dress directly through it.

As you will go in after the services commence, you will of course be expected to go out before they conclude. The best plan is to wait until the minister is about to pronounce the benediction. Then, when the people are all quiet, make a grand rush for the door. The thumping or squeaking of your boots will be in delightful harmony with the solemnity of the occasion, and cause some of the congregation to put you in the lottery.

When you reach the outside of the church, you may light another cigar, and stand with your arms folded until the congregation have retired. This will show them the respect you entertain for them, and also give you a further opportunity of extending your acquaintance among them. They will, no doubt, be able to appreciate you.

There's nothing in the world like independence. Didn't our fathers bleed and die in the resolution for it? Was it not a desire for independence which brought the Puritan Pilgrims to Plymouth Rock, which threw the Tea overboard in Boston harbor—which subdued the old Hessians, and chased the British out of the land, besides doing lots of other things too numerous to mention. And is there a better way of showing your independence than in doing those things which all decent people say, you ought not to do? Certainly not. Let it be your aim to show that the blood of Patriotic worthies would be but a meagre meal for fifty men, and so 240 such worthies would only feed 12,000 men. This furnishes a test of the liberality of the imperial foot. Luckily the bears subjects are most of them accustomed to vegetable diet, we suppose.—Newark Mercury.

Facts and Figures.—The Czar of all the Russias, as part of the ceremony of his coronation, gave a dinner at the gate of Moscow, to 200,000 peasants. The following was the bill of fare on the occasion:

"240 sheep, roasted whole, 490 turkeys, 28,800 litres of broth, 490 dishes of jelly, 7,200 fowls, 1,000 turkeys, 9,000 ducks, 24,000 loaves of white bread, 9,000 loaves of brown bread, 9,000 ham, 49,000 apples, 46,000 peart, 46,000 plums, 4,900 pails of beer, 4,000 pails of mead, 2,800 pails of white and red wine. At the head of every table there was a sheep roasted whole, the horns being cut off, and the meat tipped with silver. All the fruits were hung upon Christmas trees."

These are a few facts, but apply the arithmetic, and divide the food by the eaters, and it will be seen the plenty was all in the hands of the poor, while the State Prison is the only proper place for members of the "profession". Their establishments frequently are hot-houses for every species of crime, and other depots for stolen goods or ransomed for the evil and depraved. If our Grand Juries can exert their power to break up the lottery-politicians shops among us, certainly they should not forget to pay their respects, occasionally at least, to the fortune-tellers.—Newark Mercury.

People are prone to condemn in others what they practice in themselves without scruple. A parish tells of a wolf who, in the section west of this town, is already known, and the whole pack will be completed to New Haven, the point of confluence of the Wissahickon River, with the Schuylkill. The region already comprised of the latter, and is to the Pennsylvania, contains, and is laid with the wide gauge.—Newark Mer-

For the West Jersey Pioneer.

Anniversary of the Sunday School Union of the M. E. Church in Philadelphia.

Mr. Editor.—According to previous arrangement the Anniversary of the Sunday School Union of the M. E. Church, was celebrated in Philadelphia, on last Sabbath with much interest and devotion in all our churches. Several distinguished strangers filled our most prominent pulpits in the morning, after which, some of the friends of James W. Wells, met and nominated him for State Senate, upon which, we have no comments to make.

In the afternoon Mr. French S. Evans, of Washington City, addressed the Mass Meeting.

The Torch Light procession, in the evening, passed off to the satisfaction of all; and Mr. Evans, again addressed the Meeting.

AMERICAN CONVENTION.

The American Convention cast in Bridgeton, on Tuesday last, and selected the following candidates, viz.: Dr. State Senator, Dr. N. Newark, Assembly, 1st District, Providence Ludlam; 2d District, Elbridge G. McClung; Sheriff, Nathaniel T. Stratton; Clerks, E. B. Fithian, and Mr. Johnson.

The Convention sat in the morning at 10 o'clock, after which, some of the friends of James W. Wells, met and nominated him for State Senate, upon which, we have no comments to make.

In the afternoon Mr. French S. Evans, of Washington City, addressed the Mass Meeting.

The Torch Light procession, in the evening, passed off to the satisfaction of all; and Mr. Evans, again addressed the Meeting.

STATE COMMENCEMENT.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, at 12 o'clock, conditions at sale by ROBERT K. BISHOP.

Oct. 25. D. M. Woodbury, Auctioneer.

PUBLIC SALE OF

Real and personal property, will be sold at Auction on WEDNESDAY the 29th day of October inst., at the residence of the subscriber (Lower Hopewell Township) about 2 miles below Bridgeton, the following:

The subscriber, Mr. Joseph James Lee, Smith, Woods and others, is in well set in timber, and in good order, also, the undivided half part of 42 acres of salt marsh lying in the Roubidoux, a lot of Cedar Swamp, on Loper's Run, near the Roubidoux road, containing 114 square rods of the subscriber's, viz. one good work house, 4 good cows in milk, 2 young cattle, 2 fat hogs, farming utensils, plows, harrows, cultivators, lumber wagon, horse cart, 1 covered carriage for 1 or 2 horses, bay and black, 1 carriage for 2 or 3 horses, 1 carriage for 4 horses, sleds, sledges, sleds, tables, chairs, stand, cook stove and parlor do., tubs, pails, dishes, a lot of rug carpet, looking glass, wash-dog, pork barrels, wheelbarrow, grindstone, double and single harness, shovels, rakes, forks, &c., together with other articles not mentioned.

STATE COMMENCEMENT.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, at 12 o'clock, conditions at sale by ROBERT K. BISHOP.

Oct. 25. D. M. Woodbury, Auctioneer.

LADIES! LADIES!! LADIES!!!

LEASE read this advertisement and learn where to save your money by buying cheap, having just returned from the city, have brought with me a handfull of presents for you.

FURS!

Comprising, bags, victualling, muffins, &c., also, men's caps and cuffs of the latest style; having been sometime in the business as well as learning my stock of furs with care. I think I can compete with any in the market. An early call from the ladies is respectfully solicited by

WILLIAM B. STATION,

Hatter & Farmer.

Oct. 18.

New lot of fall hats just ready to sleep off, and for sale cheap at the new hat store of WM. B. STATION.

Oct. 18. East of the Bridge.

Valuable Farm and REAL ESTATE!!

Agreeable to the last will and testament of Ephraim Harris, deceased of Fairfield Township,

WILL be sold at public sale, on WEDNESDAY, the 10th day of December, 1856, on the premises, situated in Bayes' Neck, about one mile and a quarter from the Stone Church, Fairfield, adjoining Reuben Ware, Nathan Dusick & others, a valuable

And Meadow, the late residence of the deceased, No. 1, containing about 250 acres, 60 acres of tillable land, with a large orchard of good fruit, in a good state of cultivation. With a stream of water running through the tract, there is on the premises a dwelling house and kitchen, containing eight rooms. A large barn, wagon house and granary, and a good well of water at the door.

Sixty acres of salt marsh and 141 acres of wood land.

No. 2, Seven and a half acres of salt marsh, in the township of Fairfield, at West Point, adjoining marsh of Wm. Conover and others.

THE FARM:

Being under good fence, in a good state of cultivation, in a good neighborhood, near to schools, churches, mills and stores, is well worth the attention of Agricultural men. Terms will be made easy. The property will be shown by application to Reuben Ware, near the premises, or Lewis W. Thompson, Fairton.

Sale to commence at 2 o'clock, P. M., conditions at sale by

L. W. TOMLINSON,

A. HARRIS,

M. HALL,

Executor of E. Harris, dec'd.

D. M. Woodbury, Auctioneer.

Fairfield, Oct. 18.

FURS! FURS!! FURS!!!

JUST arrived at the store of Joseph

Burt, a large stock of furs, and the best assortment that I have ever offered to the public. Ladies, I would like to see some of your smiles at the old stand, sign of the Red Horse.

J. D. I have on hand the best mink, fox, sable, ringtail, and all of the latest fashions, also a good assortment of children's furs, and the ladies say that furs are sold at this place a little cheaper than in the city at

JOS. BURT.

Bridgeton, Oct. 18.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

STORE of Joseph Burt, a good assortment of

broadcloth plain and fancy cassimere and satin, to be sold by the yard or made up to order and warranted to fit or no sale, also a good assortment of mens and boys clothing on

order and various other articles.

Salmon Brook, Aroscootock Co., Me.

For sale by druggists and storekeepers everywhere.

WORLDS! FURS!! FURS!!!

JUST arrived at the store of Joseph

Burt, a large stock of furs, and the best assortment that I have ever offered to the public. Ladies, I would like to see some of your smiles at the old stand, sign of the Red Horse.

JOS. BURT.

Bridgeton, Oct. 18.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

STORE of Joseph Burt, a good assortment of

broadcloth plain and fancy cassimere and satin, to be sold by the yard or made up to order and warranted to fit or no sale, also a good assortment of mens and boys clothing on

order and various other articles.

Salmon Brook, Aroscootock Co., Me.

BRIDGING ROOM.

A new room is now opened, in the office of H. R. Mersilles, Bridgeton as the Head Quarters of the Fremont Party, where the friends and voters of Fremont & Dayton, can read papers and receive information relative to their Candidates. H. R. MERSELLES, Secy. of Association. Oct. 18.

BUCHANAN, FILLMORE & FREMONT FOR PRESIDENT, AND

Hanthorn for Harness.

HARNES! Harness! Yet the harnesses having a large assortment of Harness that will go.

Harness that I know is.

Feeling foolish for past favors, I take this opportunity of informing the public that I have removed my place of business three doors further up, directly opposite J. B. Potter & Co's Store, next to F. G. Brewster's Drug Store, which will be found a general assortment of

Ready Made Harness,

On as reasonable terms as can be had elsewhere in West Jersey.

Silver Mounted Double or Single.

Japanmed " " "

Stage " " "

Cart and wagon harness, horse collars of all sorts, sizes and prices, leather and switch

BUFFLOR RODDING, harness, trunks, valises, carpet bags, hats, matches at the lowest prices.

Ladies, gentlemen and boys riding saddle sides, also ladies' martingales, Ke., a general outfit, Horses, horses, curries, collars, and a superior quality of OULF for harness or shoes.

BUFLOR RODDING, for harness, trunks, valises, carpet bags, hats, matches, etc., at the lowest prices.

and a general assortment of my other articles, they are certain remedy for cold feet. Horse Blankets,

If you love your horses show it by getting them

each a good cover which I have a large assortment of. I have enlarged my stock and business continually increasing, and I am certain I can sell you at a very reasonable price.

Please call before purchasing elsewhere.

All orders punctually attended to and work waranted to give satisfaction by

ENOCH HANTHORN.

N. B. Will you please be kind enough to come and settle your bill, and make another.

Bridgeton, Oct. 18, 1856.

ESTRAYS!

LEFT the premises of the subscriber, on the 1st of September last, a red and red coat, about 5 years old, the ends of lew-bows saved off. A red no-horned heifer two years old, new spring, and a small black and white heifer coming two years old. Any person giving information of, or returning, will be rewarded. Please address E. H. MITCHELL,

Millville Post Office.

FALL & WINTER MILLINERY.

MRS. E. M. BANNISTER, No. 180 South

Second Street, above Phila. Philadelphia, has a splendid assortment of Millinery to suit every taste, and invites the attention of the Ladies. The stock will be found at all times well stocked, combining elegance of style, best quality of material's, at the lowest rates.

Misses' and children's bonnets and hats in great variety. A large assortment of mourning bonnets constantly on hand.

N. B. To trade supplied with velvets, satins, ribbons, flowers, &c.

E. M. BANNISTER,

186 South Second St.

Five doors above Phila. Phila.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18, 1856.

Farmers of this Neighborhood,

Growers of Wheat & Rye,

U. S. Leinart's Super Phosphate of Lime, if you want heavy crops, or Leinart's American Fertilizer. These values have been used for the past six years successfully for the growth of wheat, corn, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and the islands of Bermuda and Barbados. A barrel, (230 lbs) is sufficient for an acre of land. The above fertilizers are composed of reliable chemical elements, which largely increase the yield, and improve the soil and value of the land. Price per barrel Phosphate of Lime, is $10.00 a ton, $10.50 per 50 lb. the American Fertilizer $25 per ton, or $2.50 a barrel. $1.25 a kg; also, every variety of Guano, pure land plaster, pot ash, nitrate of soda, bone dust, powdered charcoal, &c. &c. GEO. A. LEINART, Proprietor, No. 10 South Front Street, Phila. Pa.

To wholesale dealers, a liberal discount.

Agents in the English and German languages, &c. Orders at a distance, will be accompanyed by draft, promptly attended to.

G. A. LEINART, Proprietor, No. 10 South Front Street, Phila. Pa.

N. B. Agents have been appointed from the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society, New York Crystal Palace Association, and New Jersey State Agricultural Society.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18, 1856.

R. DECOU & CO. Clothiers,

No. 141 CHESTNUT ST., ABOVE FOURTH, PHILADELPHIA.

Keep constantly on hand a splendid assortment of Ready-made Clothing.

Goods made to ORDER and WARRANTED
TO YOU.

STILL ONWARD.

SUCCESS UNPARALLELED!!

GD. B'D. 99

A Tale of the Great Diamond Scam!

By Harriet Beecher Stowe.

In two volumes, $1.50 each.

Certain persons interested in the support of the many noble causes which they have espoused, the vast majority have been decidedly favorable; most of them enthusiastic, and the sale thus far has exceeded that of any work of fiction ever published, the

SIXTY-EIGHTH THOUSAND

Set at two dollars each, being now in press.

The grand success has been even more wonderful. The press there, with but one or two exceptions acknowledge the genius and power of the author, and in terms of which any living writer might be proud. And during the twelve days preceding publication no fewer than

60,000 Copies

Any newspaper inserting this advertisement consulsomously three times and sending a copy to the publishers, will receive a copy of the work free of postage.

Boston, Oct. 18.

Bridgeton & Philadelphia.

TEN O'CLOCK LINE.

The subscriber will, on and after Monday, October 13th, 1856, Wednesday &

Friday mornings at 10 o'clock, and Bridgeton Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, until further notice. The subscriber having disposed of his interest in the Line will also in the opposite days on this route will give his entire attention to the Line and hope by keeping first-rate roads and bridges to receive a liberal share of the public patronage.

Passengers from Millville to Port Elizabeth will arrive in Bridgeton in time to take this Line, and pass also from Dividing Creek and Newport. Passengers will go directly through to and from Cedar City to Fairbank on the old route. All passengers will take the same as on the old routes. All businessthanfully attended to. This line will arrive in Philadelphia at or before 4 o'clock, and Bridgeton about the same time.

L. H. DOWNEY, Proprietor.

WANTED,

A GOOD HOUSE AND LOT.
FOR SALE at a reasonable price, the digest of my House and Lot, in Goldenville, on good terms both in price and purchasing advantages.

OLIVER ELMER, Clothing Store.

Bridgeton, Oct. 11, '56. Clothing Store.

NOTICE—NEW FIRM.

CHARLES L. WATSON will announce to his numerous customers that he has agreed to hand need apply, and to students, to employ and receive information relative to their Can-dicates. H. R. MERSELLES, Secy. of Association.

Bridgeton, Oct. 11, '56. Clothing Store.

POSITIVE SALE OF

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE!

THE subscriber will sell at Public Sale, on

THURSDAY the 6th day of NOVEMBER,

1856, at 2 o'clock, P. M., at the Hotel of E. Davis and Son, in Bridgeton, all that is contained in Particulars.

Advantages.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Greenwich, Sept. 9, 1856.

BOOKS! BOOKS!!

THIRTEEN years in the itinerary, by Rev.

A. Mansfield. This is a book of thrilling interest—price $1.

The Story of the House of David, or three years in Holy Land, in the days of Pontius Pilate, the whole story of the life and death of Jesus Christ.

Containing 131 and 80-100 acres!

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Greenwich, Sept. 9, 1856.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE subscriber offers for sale at a bargain,

the fancy articles, stock and fixtures of her

Dry Goods Store. Apply at the store on Commerce Street, directly opposite the Chronicle of Newark.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Bridgeton, Sept. 27, 1856.

CLOSING BUSINESS.

THE subscriber offers for sale at a bargain,

the fancy articles, stock and fixtures of her

Dry Goods Store. Apply at the store on Commerce Street, directly opposite the Chronicle of Newark.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Bridgeton, Oct. 27, 1856.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

MY friend's note is made to remove from the corner of North Eighth Street, (above Archway Side), Philadelphia.

A. N. T. will inform his friends and those of his new residence in Greenwich, Conn.

He will be pleased to receive visitors at his new residence.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Bridgeton, Oct. 27, 1856.

SEALLED PROPOSALS

WILL be received on the 1st Monday in November, at the office of the subscriber, for furnishing a large assortment of dry goods, for the use of his wife and family.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

Bridgeton, Oct. 27, 1856.

SEALLED PROPOSALS

WILL be received on the 1st Monday in November, at the office of the subscriber, for furnishing a large assortment of dry goods, for the use of his wife and family.

CHARLES L. WATSON.

