The foot and ankle are peculiarly vulnerable to colds, and uniformity in their clothing cannot be too carefully observed, -If a change of clothing from thick to thin, is to be made at any time during the day, let it be in the morning, when the system is most vigorous and best prepared to resist the ill effects of change. As to the quantity of clothing, no precise rules can be given. Age, temperament, custom, and the state of health all modify the quantity or clothing. As a general rule, however, the proper temperature of the body ought to be preserved by aliment and exercise, rather than by the quantity of clothing. The same under-dress should never be worn both day and night. Health and economy both require two full changes of the under-dress, one for the day and one for the night. Excess and deficiency of dress are both indicative of vulgarity and defective education. With regard to fashions.

THE FATHER OF WATERS. The vastness of the great Mississippi river is thus given by a newspaper correspondent who writes from Maiden Rock, Wis.: "While I look out upon the river, three miles wide at this point, my mind scems to take in at one grasp the magnitude of the stream. From the frozen regions of the North to the sunny South, it extends some three thousand one hundred miles in length; t would reach from New York across the Atand to the Caspian Sea. Its average depth from its source, in Lake Itasca, in Minneso. ta, to its delta in the Gulf of Mexico, is fifty that's width half a mile. The trapper per Mississ ppi can take the furs of than man.

The addition of the waters of the Danube would not swell it half a fathom; in one single reservoir, (Pepin) two thousand ive hundred miles from the sea, the navies might safely ride at anchor. It washes the shores of twelve powerful States, and between its arms lies space for twenty more."

The fear of the weather has sent multi tudes to the grave, who otherswise might have lived in belth many years longer.—

WEBSTER'S REPORTS.

One evning, not many years ago, while the Supreme Court was holding its session in Somerset county, down in the State of Maine, some of the legal brethren were warming their legs before a blazing fire in a rural tavern, and conversing upon various mattees pertainging to the profession. B. J. Bacon, whose long silence indicated that his mind was in travail with some great thought, broke out by asking if any of his brethren could relieve him fom his trouble. "I wish," said he, " to commence an action against a boy who was caught stealing apples.-I find no case of the kind in any of our Reports, and I am at a loss for a precedent." The landlord everheard the questi n, and informed the verdant that he knew a case just in point.

"Ah!" said Bacon, "in whose reports shall I find it?" "In Webster's," said the landlord,

"Webster's Reports!" replied Bacon. "Well now you speak of it, I think I do remember something like it there. Do you know the volume?"

"Yes, I do; I have a copy in the house, you would like to see it." "I would be greatly obliged to you for it, s I have left mine at home. The landlord stepped out, and soen returned with Webster's Spelling Book! and turning to the story, "An old man found a rude boy on one of his trees, stealing apples," passed the book to his legal friend, who of laughter, and speedily made his dis-

PIONEER WOMEN.

A. D. Richardson, Esq., formerly of Boston, but onw of Kansas, recently read a lecture on "Out West," before the Quindaro Literary Association. The following beautiful extract is a forcible tribute to the merits of pioneer women:

"It is a marked feature of "Out West." that it develops the best traits of female character. The shafts of ridicule are often aimed at the vanity and frivolity of woman. The great satirists, philophers and poets are lantic, and extend from France to Turkey, fond of dewelling on the foibles and weakness of the sex. But real life shows that the inconveniences of travel and the hardships often inseparable from founding a home in the new country are borne better by woman

Life has few scenes more touching and beautiful, than that of a young bride, leaving the banks below. "Wal, Gosh-all Jerewsnlem! what of it!" now yelled the down easter, getting his dander up, in turn; "yeou didn't think I took it for tard, did ye?" The discomfitted exquisite now reached over and helped himself; attributing that to "greenness" which was, and was intended to be, no doubt, a rebuke of his ill-manners and haughty, over-bearing tone. THE SPRING EMIGRATION.

"one easy lesson."

Although the winter is still upon us, he emigration peculiar to the spring season has set in, and takes two directions. The first is toward California, in consequence of the large reduction of the fare between New York and San Francisco. Probaby this may also be augmented by the Mormon war obstructing the passage of the overland route. The steamships from New York to the Isthmus are now runing crowded. The bayonets and cannon can keep the "Nephew other direction of the migratory multitudes is toward the States and territories of the army of 600,000 men now wish to go to war promise to be the main attractions this year. A funny story is teld of the Hon. John M. Botts who has been travelling through Europe with an expedition worthy of the age. Presenting himself at the Sistine will all the time be going out of the way. Chaple, at Rome, upon Christmas eve, as a You have a life-work to do; but if you begin candidate for admission, he found a dress it wrong, all your labor will be worse than coat and gloves were necessary preliminaries lost. Not only will you have to do it all over of an entrance.—Tucking up the tail of his forck coat, and thrusting his hands into his pockets, he saved the gloves, made the swallow tail and marched posthesaisle, frustrating the objections of one or two of the more fastidious guards, who still found neighbor, which, he concluded, was not in accordance plighted vows, &c. Two young officers were traveling in the Far West, when they stopped to take suppor construction for the horizon of the special contribution o

BOYS AND GIRLS.

Speaking of the plan of separating the sexes in school, Mr. Sowe, the celebrated Glasgow teacher, says:

"The sepraration has been found injurious. It is impossible to raise the girls as high, inclicetually without the boys as side, dressed in a very plain suit of home- with them—and it is impossible to raise boys morally as bigh without girls. The girls merally elevate the boys, and the boys intellectually elevate the girls.

"But more than this girls themselves are morally elevated by the presence of beys, "I see it is," said Jonathan; "it's pooty and the boys are intelluctually elevated by the presence of girls. Boys brought up with girls are made more positively intel-lectual by the softening influence of the female character."

> Ridiculous Reasons for Suppressing Newspapers. - Louis Napoleon, not satisfied with having crippled the press, is now fast crushing it out altogother Journal after journal is suppressed on pretenses which are absolutely ridiculous. One paper has been " warned" for stating that " the telegraph says that the Emperor's speech was applauded," instead of assuming the resposibility of the statement and usserting that "the Emperor's speech was applauded." Another has been suppressed for simply alluding to the historical fact that the Bourbons were seldom attacked in the streets. The most influential and able journals of France are restricted to theatricul crisicisius and scientfic disquisition; and the people of the Freuch citiesto whom political journalism is as decided a necessary of life as it is to us-are unceremoniously told to content themselves, instead. with reviews of new comedies, essays upon caloric, and mild romance. To crown the work fitly, Count de Morny proposes to abolish newspapers altogether. At this rate, it may soon be a law in Paris that two persens shall not be seen talking together without a policeman between them. Nothing but with England, to "revenge Waterloo."

A few miles below Poughkeepsie, New York, there now lives, and has lived for a sertain Sunday, about eight years ago, this elergyman was invited by the pastor of a church in that village to fill his pulpit for the congregation out of respect, kept their countenances, and, with over pious faces, seemed religiously anxious for the text. They were not obliged to wait long, for a nose and two little eyes suddenly appeared over the top of the pulpit, and a squeaking, tremulous voice proclaimed in usual tones the text: "Be of

BEGIN RIGHT.

If you are about a piece of work, you will be careful to begin right; otherwise you will have it in pieces, and do it over again. If you are going on a journey, you will be careful at first, to get in the right road; for, if you start wrong, you will be continually far-ther and farther out of the way.

Now, you are starting in life, and life is a journey. If you start wrong, as I said, you again, but to undo what you have done.

A theological student once asked the late Dr. Richards how many sermons a man could write in a week. "If." said the doctor in reply, "he is a first rate man, he will write oue; if about mediacrity in point of talent, he will write two; and that he had been acquainted with some men who could write half a dozen."

"Mother," said a little three-year old whose nose had been "put out of joint" by the recent arrival of a baby brother, Mother, if the baby should die, would it responded the parent. "Then I think Heaven is the best place for him." was the attentionate sister's conclusion .- Boston Post.

Those of our subscribers who intend moving on or about the 25th inst., by informing us of their change of residence can have the Pioneer sent wherever they desire. Those in Bridgeton who intend moving, by notify-

Hon. I. D. Clawson will please accept our thanks for a copy of the " Message and accompanying documents." We are also indebted to Hon. E. Nichols for another supply of Legislative Documents.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the Steamer Express will "land" here this (Saturday.)

The Legislature rescinded the resolution to adjourn on Friday of last week and adjourned on Thursday last, sine die.

By reference to the advertisement of Messrs. Messrs. Fowler and Wells, of New York, announce the forthcoming of a new series of "Hand-books for Home Improvements," by the author of "How to Write." "How to Behave," &c , which will be devoted to a popular exposition of the more important branches of rural economy and rural art, thus tending to promote a taste for rural life and industry. The titles of the works are, "The House," "The Garden," "The Farm," "Domestic Animals." Price 30 to 50 cts. or all four for $1, paper covers.

We were shown a few days since, a Mr. J. G. Keyser's Painting Establishment, a portrait of Washington, in full uniform,-The painting is on a wooden surface, about five by seven feet, including a battle scene and some lettering; the execution of which reflects much credit upon the artist. It will be put up as a sign in front of Carll's building.

SHAD. We notice shad among the items named in the Philadelphia markets, but ranging at a very high figure. As our hoarse, but pleasant songsters-the frogs--have made their usual spring salutation, we hope for a continuation of the pleasant fine weather, free from the disagreeable "cold snaps" which so disfigure the face of March, then we too can boast of fresh shad. During the warm weather in the winter, the Chesapeake fisheries were reported to be very successful. It would be an extremely pleasant task to record the same of the Delaware Bay fisheries. Our town affords a good market for fish, and usually at very remunerating prices.

The Weather.

For several days past the weather has been delightful. The last snow of the season, thus far, vanished beneath the genial rays of a March sun, almost as rapidly as it came. -Our streets have been thronged with all kinds of vehicles, while the side walks, alive with the fair sex, present a charming appearance.

Religious Intelligence.

The religious interest still continues pervade the entire country. In some parts of this county, it has somewhat subsided; the ingathering of souls having been more numerous, than for many years past, among the different denominations. About one hundred and thirty persons have professed conversion at the Fayette street M. E. Church, of this lown, one hundred and six of whom lave oined that charge on probation. Nearly a hundred have pressed a change of heart at the Commerce st. M. E. Church, seventy. three of whom have united with this Church. We have not learned the number which have lately experienced a change of heart among other denominations of this town, yet t is quite numerous. On Sauday morning last, Rev. J. S. Kennard, pastor of the Biptist Church of this place, baptized eight, in the presence of a very large concourse of peo ple. A powerful and extensive revival of the Seventh Day Baptist Church, of Shiloh, for some weeks past, -many souls having been awakened and converted under the faithful ministry of Rev. W. B. Gillette, pastor of the church at that place. At several of the villages in this County the work is still progressing. Below we give some extracts from our city exchanges, which shows that the glorious work is not confined to one locality. The following is a condensed account of its origin and progress: "It commenced in England among the

Seen the Established church began to move in the matter. News of what was going on among the people reached the ears of their lordships, the Bishops, dozing sleepily on their beach in the House of Lords, or buried in the seclusion of their Episcopal palaces. By and by these titled prelates, in their lawn sleeves, were found actively engaged in forwarding the movement. The whole High church party responded to the example of their ecclesiastical superiors, learned men, fond of their ease and their becks, quit the cloistered retirement of their colleges, and the rural seclusion of country parsonages to preach the Gospel to the peo-

Such is the present condition of the religious world in England. In this country the movement began in the city of New York, during the height of the late financial panie, in a daily prayer meeting held for business men, be tween the hours of twelve and one, in the session-rooms of the Dutch Reformed Church corner of William and Fulton streets. It gradually spread, until at the present time, according to the Herald, " there are new in the city of New York, twelve daily prayer meetings of all the evangelical denominations pesides the daily services of the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches." services," adds the Herald, " are attended by not less than ten or twelve thousand persons every day; the prayer meetings are ism, in obviotion philanthropy, their devotion crowded, and the attendance at the Lenton to the objects became a matter of mettled hurch services is greatly in excess of any Drevious Year."

We have now closed the history of another year's operations f the Public School and we are gratified in saying that its course is onward, and from authentic sources of information, it is se throughout the State .-Education, embracing in its nature and design, physical, intellectual and moral discipline, presents itself in the light of such magnitude as to make it one of the primary objects of pursuit and cultivation in the present life. Its dawn may be reckoned from the cradle of infancy. The beginning of this importaint task is committed to the mother, who has ushered a young being into a new state of existence, and which has everything to learn in its progress through life .-She is conscious of the dangers which beset the path of a creature so belpless and destitute of all knowledge of its relations to the present world; she knows that undue exposures may endanger its life; that fire will disaster and ruin through all its departments, burn it, the cold benumb it; a full from a and scatters its flying wheels in every direcheight, or a body in motion may put out the tion, making wreek of fortune, of credit and feeble spark; hence her first efforts are to of public confidence. For the want of accomplished, he resembles the planets which due consideration of the relations sustained move with regularity along the course of between the teacher and his charge, difficult their orbit; without it he is like the wanwhen necessary discipline is enforced, to the

Another object of the teacher is to impossess capacities susceptible of improvement, and a self-determining power for the prosecution of this object; that while he opens the way before them as an instructor, they must tax their faculties by voluntary effort and dilligent application, so important to success in acquiring knowledge. The silver tissue of moral and religious ruth has been well interwoven into the system of public instruction, so as to imbue the minds of youth, and supply the wants of their moral as well as intellectual nature.-What mere expansive to the mind, and elevating to the sentiments than lessons upon the constitution and course of Nature, leading to the contemplation of the Supreme Author of the whole system, and to the observance of a power clothed with intelligence and design, that is constantly developing its energies, from the feeble light of the glow worm by the way side, to the solar orb that rides in majesty and splendor through the heavens? One upon the rose and lily of the field unfolds the skill of the great invisible architect in the beauty and delicacy of his operations. An essay upon the system of Christianity impresses the mind with the need of its great and glorious provisions; and both of these harmonising together, answer the end of the incomprehensible designer.

Among the many advantages which arise from mental and moral discipline, is the formation of corresponding habits. Fatal mistake, and one we have reason to fear, shipwrecks its thousands on the sea of human life. The maxim is both true and important, "no excellency without labor." From good and useful habits is produced the fermation of

From Prof. McCLOSKEY, ormerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Frenate Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgory in the American Cellege of Medicine, &c.

Mr. Jessey E. Hoven:—A trial of your LiQUID HAIR DYE will convince the most skeptical that it is a safe, clegant, and efficacious preparation. Unlike many others, it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some cutaneous cruptions on the head, and I have no hesitation in commending it to those requiring such an application.

The Great-Electrocara Remedy.

In the hands of Science, Magneto-Electricity is robbing death of its thousand stings, and the grave of its terrible victims. This sublime and mysterious agent is part and parcel of the same Almighty power that sets the physical worlds in action, and gives vitality and vigor to every class of snimal organism. Magneto-Electricity, when artificially applied to a constitution vitally impaired or broken down by disease, will speedily tend to those organs that possess the least of it, and by restoring the properflow of the nervous fluid, or magnetic current through the nervous system, will predily remove all morbid obstructions, and restore the organs to sound and vigorous health. Among the numberous diseases in which magneto-Electricity may be applied with beneficial results and certainty of cure, a few only of the more formidable ones are usumed. Asphyxia, Apoplexy, Astima, Bronchitis, Rillions complaints. Fover and Ague, Dropsy; Chorea, or St. Vitus's Dance, Cantaphy, Constitution, Canteris, Cetarrh, Croup, Cholera, Consumption, general Debility, Deterium Tromens. Dyspepsia, Erysephilas, Electricity, Paralysis, Rhoumatism, Spinal complaints. Sprins, Ulcers, Tumors, Syphillis, all diseases of the Urinary and Sexual organs, and all other violations of Nature, whatever the name of the dibease, or how contracted and long standing.

Magnetic Electricity, when properly applied, is found of great value, bringing back or restoring any diseased organ to its normal condition. I find it applicable in nearly every form of disease, particularly in cases of Paralysis, Rheumatism, Nervous affections. &c. I would therefore recommend my friend, Mr. Thomas P. THE annual meeting of the members of the Cumber-land Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held at the Hotel of E. Davis & Son, in Bridgeton, on Monday, the 8th day of March, 1858.

The Directors reported a continued accession of members, and strength to the Company;—a very large proportion of the property insured during the past year having been of the safest kind, and the amount received for premiums has been more than at any previous year since the organization.

Endorsed notes, Cash in hands of Agents and Secretary,

Sin so organization of the Company, received for premiums, $3,310 $2.

Paid for losses, $3,277 6.

Received for Interest, $4,40 31.

Paid for expenses $4,40 31.

Paid for expenses $4,40 31.

The interest money having paid all of the expenses of the Company, and $10 50 more.

Assuming as heretofore, an annual payment of the 5 per cent, on premium notes to be made to a stock company, the saving to the members is now at the rate of $20 504 per year, so long as no assessment has to be made.

The true plan of a mutual Company offering perfect security to the insured at just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses, they believe to be accomplished, and while they cannot say that no assessment upon the premium notes will be needed, they can show to every member that the per centage will not be large.

HEAD QUARTERS, Cheapest Boot & Shoe Store in Bridgeton

Wholesale and RetailThrough the solicitation of numerous friends, I am induced and have made arrangements in combination with my own manufactured work to keep on hand Philadelphia, New York and Eastern manufactured Boots & Shoes, such as Ladies', Misses and Children. Also, Genthemen, Boys and Youth's Boots & Shoes of all grades, and at prices so low that no one will find fault with. As I am a practical boot and shoe maker, I have the advantage over a great many in selecting good work that will give satisfaction to all. I shall sell all of my city made work at a very limited small profit, so that it will be an inducement for the public to call and buy.

Ladies city made boots and shoes with heels or without, of all description, cheeper than can be bought elsewhere for the same money; Misses and Children's Boots and Shoes at very low prices. As I have commenced keeping Eastern made work in connection with my own manufactory, I shall sell cheaper than any other store in Bri Igeton, according to quality of work. Farmers, mechanics and working men in general will do well-to call on the subscriber, as I intend to keep on hand fine and coarse Boots and Shoes of all kinds. So they can be suited without much trouble. Wholesale and Retail.

Fairlie, March 21-tf. LOTTERIES

THE Lotteries of Samtiel Swam & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn countlisioners appointed to superinted their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the cubics fair opportunity for investment, the interests of the parties at a distance being as well projected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the chect that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of fearnus Iswam & Co.; are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every featuring throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place sthey the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are 10 dolleans; halves, 5, quarters, 250. No ticket samt unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are se simple that, none can fail to understand them: There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from 40 to 50, thousand dollars; every prize being diawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is smittled to, will be published after every drawing in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Democrat Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. BWAN & Co. Augusta, Georgia. Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotterles.
