For the West Jersey Proncer. THE OLD MAN'S SOLILOQUY.

BY C. A. BROWN.

He sat beneath the ample shade, Of an old, yet stately tree. One hand upon his staff he laid, The other resting on his knee.

My life has been a scene of change, From its dawn to approaching close, My thoughts in quick succession range, From pleasure, strife and then repose.

In infancy a gentle hand, Would soothe my mind, my sobs suppress; But when in error-would command, Me ne'er from duty to digress.

In youth I was a wayward lad, And fond of frolic, mirth and joy; My mother's countenance was sad, When wild rude passions would annoy.

At school ambition lent her aid, And made me feel a swelling pride; My fellow playmates would upbraid, My deeds, and thus my patience tried. And yet while young in manhood's prime,

I loved to frequent pleasure's hall,

And in the giddy dance keep time, To enchanting music's sprightly call. Beneath the blazened glaring lights, I have watched gay thoughtless creatures, And thought those forms becharming sights,

With steps so light and pleasant features. I took from out the happy throng, One who would share life's joys with me, One who would join the merry song,

With cheerful laughter loving glee.

Brimful of music washer soul, Her mind from heavy burdens free, But long before she reached the goal, Her life was like the ruffled sea.

Within the sphere of our abode And darke t shades of gloom covere O'er all, our bliss so corode. Patiently she bore the trials,

Adversity's bleak winds hovered,

Which vacant misfortune records. Well I know that those denials, Would loosen all her vital cords. She left me in the prime of life,

To grovel through the wilderness; Much of sorrow grief and strife. Has filled my heart with woefulness. I'm weary of this mundane globe,

And fain would join her whom I love. That I may wear a shining robe. With spirits of the world above.

But the people of Canada may be proud of the nesition of her banks, inasmuch as they almost stand alone on the Northern Continent, in baving continued to meet, without shrinking, their obligation to pay in specie. Fatal Effects of Fire.

On Thursday afternoon of last week, as Mr. Charles Eldridge, residing near Davis' Mill, in this County, was burning brush in a field about thirty rods from his dwelling, a little girl of his, three or four years old, in company with her brother aged about six years, went where the brush was burning while the father was out of sight, the dress of the little girl took fire and before the alarm could be given, she was burned in a most shocking manner, causing her death in a few hours.

Feb. 22d 1858.

Fellow Citizens! We have assembled here

apon this spot to-day, to erect the emblem of our Glorious Republic. May success crown the enterprise. May the glerious Emblem

we are about to crect, long stand as a monument of our Patriotism. May it ever bring to remembrance, the patriotism of our forefathers, when they, so daringly avowed themselves free from all allegiance to the British Crown, and freely spilt their blood, to maintain the glorious cause which they espoused;

the cause of Liberty, which they prised above all earthly riches or honors, and held (next to their Religious) the most sacred, of all earthly privileges. May it ever bring in remembrance, their self-devotedness for the good of their country, and for the welfare of succeeding generations, and should ever danger of a similar character threaten us again, as a nation, may we, by our patriotism, and our devotedness to the sacred cause, prove fathers. Should tyranny ever again attempt usurpation, let us rise in masses to crush the hydra headed monster, and may the stroke demon like head, to strike terror to the hearts of the people. May the Star Spangled Ban-mer long float above us, fanned by the gentle zephyrs of Heaven, proclaiming Liberty, Liberty, to the ends of the earth. May the Eagle, which ence led the mighty hosts of Rome on to conquer, now the chosen bird of the free, long wave his golden wings o'er us,

long may he be borne along by the children of Liberty, and upon his golden plumage

may the first beams of the oriental sun, be seon to play, and may the last rays of expiring day be seen gilding his golden crest,

before taking its leave for other climes .-

Long may Liberty reign over us, may we never be bewed under the galling yoke of servitude. But may we live long and hap-lican Government was the only one destined by Heaven, to rule our Glorious Contry.

The Great Electrical Remedy.

In the hands of Science, Magneto-Electricity is robbing death of its thousand stings, and the grave of its terrible victims. This sublime and mysterious agent is part and parcel of the same Almighty power that sets the physical worlds in action, and gives vitality and vigor to every class of animal organism. Magneto-Electricity, when artificially applied to a constitution vitally impaired or broken down by disease, will speedily tend to those organs that possess the least of it, and by restoring the proper flow of the nervous fluid, or magnetic current through the nervous system, will speedily remove all morbid obstructions, and restore the organs to sound and vigorous health. Among the numerous diseases in which magneto-Electricity may be applied with beneficial results and certainty of cure, a few only of the more formidable ones are named. Asobyxia, Apoplexy, Asthma, Bronchitis, Bilious complaints. Fever and Ague. Dropsy, Chorea, or St. Vitus's Darce, Catalepsy, Constipation, Cancers, Catarrh, Croup, Cholera, Consumption, general Debility, Delerium Tromens, Dyspeleyn. ORMITICATE DE DR. HATES.

The specifications of Dr. Hare and J. Odam. having been submitted to me. I have found the composition of inster on which they are founded to be highly mitrogenous and formentable compound, containing the essentials of a fertilizer of the highest character, and also the food for suttaining crops to the time of their maturing. I regard this enterprise of manufacturing a guano instead of importing it, a practical and important undertaking, favorably affecting the interests of our common country.

Respectfully, A. A. HAYFS, M. D.,

Assayer to State of Massachusetts.

CERTIFICATE OF PROFESSOR BOSTIL.

Upon examing the composition of the best Peruvian guanos, I can perceive no ground for assuming it to be the best that can be made. On the contrary, there is always prosent more or less of superfluous matter, sometimes in large quantity. The composition proposed by Odam & Hare's Patent, is, in my estimation, superior to that of the best guanos, or to any other artificial manure of which I have heard, and I think myself the more entitled to give this positive opinion, from the unlowded for results of the action of sulphuric acid on animal matter, which I obtained in experiment, but which were anticipated by the Patent in question.

Respectfully yours.

JAMES C. BOOTH.

CERTIFICATE OF PROFESSOR PRAKER. At the request of parties interested. I have no hesitation in stating my opinion, that the mode of preparing an artificial manure, by acting upon animal matters by sulphures acid, as detailed in Dr Hare's Patent, and mixing the resulting substance with animal, charcoal and phosphate of lime, is correct in theory, and although I have had no upportunity of testing the manure thus formed practically. I have no doubt that a manure formed by the mixture of these ingracions in proper propertions, would be found. November 22, 1856.

that a limb may be simputated without the slightest pain; inhaling the ordinary burning gas will destroy life in a few hours.

The inhalation of a ammonia will rouse the system when tainting or apparently dead. The cofo of many of the medicines is perceptible in the skin a few minutes after being minsted, and may be immediately detected in the blood. A convincing proof of the constitutional effects of inhalation, is the fact that sickness is always produced by breathing foul sir. Is not this positive evidence that proper remedies, carefully prepared and judiciously administered through the lungs, should produce the most happy results? During eighteen years practice, many thousands, suffering from diseases of the lungs and throat, have been under my care, and I have effected many remarkable cures, even after the sufferers had been pronounced in the last stages which fully satisfies me that consumtion is no longer a fatal disease. My treatment of consumption is organia, and founded on long experience and thorough investigation. My perfect acquaintance with the nature of tubercles &c. onables me to distinguish, readily, the various forms of disease that simulate consumption, and apply the proper remedies rarely being mistaken even in a single case. This familiarity in connection with certain pathological and microscopic discoveries, enables me to relieve the lungs from the effects of contracted chests; to enlarge the chest, purify the blood, import to it renewed vitality, giving energy and tone to the entire system.

Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States and Canadas by patients communicating their symptoms by lotter. But the cure would be more creaming the patient would give me an opportunity to examine the lungs and enable one to prescribe with much greater certainty, and then the cure could be effected without my seeing the patient again.
