MIRTH A MEDICINE.

I know of nothing equal to a cheerful and even mirthful conversation for restoring the tone of mind and body, when both have been overdone. Some great and good men, on whom very heavy cares and toils have been laid, manifest a constitutional tendency to relax into mirth when their work is over. -Narrow minds denounce the incongruity; large hearts own God's goodness in the fact, and rejoice in the wise provision made for prolonging useful lives. Mirth after exhaustive toil, is one of nature's instinctive efforts to heal the part which has been racked or bruised. You cannot too sternly reprobate a frivolous life; but if the life be earnest for God or man, with here and there a layer of mirthfulness protruding, a soft bedding to receive heavy cares which otherwise would crush the spirit, to snarl against the spurts of mirth, may be the easy and useless occupation of a small man, who cannot take in at. one view the whole circumference of a large

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE.

A starving man who steals a loaf of bread worth three cents is a thisf, and goes to prison, but he who squanders the heritage of the widow, the patrimony of the orphan, and the hard earnings of those who supposed him honest, he is a gentleman, and goes to Europe. The difference, is, the starving man is poor, and takes only; that which is necessary to support life, but the fact of his being poor and unable to defend himself is sufficient of itself to condemn him. TAKING THE STARCH OUT.

A lot of idlers stood upon the end of a pier which ran out into the Hudson River, in one of the small towns near Albany N. Y., a tew days ago, amusing themselves with throwing stones into the broad stream, each vicing with the other in the endeavor to pitch the missile at the farthest distance from the shore, when a tall, rugged-built V. monter, direct from the Green Hills, suddenry made his appearance in their midst, and for a while remained a quiet observer of their movements.

He was a brauny, good-looking Yankee, and was very decently clad. The efforts of the little party had been exhibited over and over again, when the attanger quietly picked up half a brick which lay near him, and givit g it a jerk, it fell into the water a long way beyond the line which had as yet been reached by the foremost of the crowd. At conclusion of this feat a loud brave went up from half a dozen voices around him. It was a clear day in October, and the men, determined not to be outdone, renewed their attempts; but the Vermonter, without saying a syllable to any one, continued to pitch the pebbles far into the stream. which seemed to annoy one of them, in a green jacket, the apparent leader of the gang, who declared he wouldn't be beaten by a " feller right straight out o' the woods, no how," and sidling up to the stranger, h determined to make his acquaintance. "Where do you come from, neighbor? nquired the other. "Me? Wal, I hails from Vermont, just ow. friend!'

"You havn't been in these parts long, I eckon ?" "Wal, no. Not edzactly yers-but up and down, sorter." "Yes- so I 'spose."

"Yaus," continued the green 'un, care essly ;serzing a big biller of wood, he whirl ed it over his head, and lauded it severa rods from the shore into the water. "You've a little strength in your arms, neighbor?" "Some punkins in them flippers, stranger. Up in aour town, more'n a munth ago, I driv them are knuckles rite strutthru a board mor'n a niush 'half thick!'

"Haw, haw!" shouted his hearers, the nan in the green jacket laughing the loud-

"May be you don't b'lieve it."

"Not much," answered the crowd. "We ain't very green down here it York -we ain't," said he in the green jacket,

"Like a duck," said green jacket; and wite out further partey the Normonter seized the neck and the seat of the pants, j rked bim from his foothold, and with an almost superhuman effort dashed the bully heels over head from the dock, some ten yards in to the Hudson.

A terrible shout ran through the crowl as he flounder into the water, and amid the icers and screams of his companions, the ducked bully put back to to the shore and scrambled up the bank, half frozen by this sudden and involuntary bath.

"I'll take that ten spot, if you please. said the shivering loafer, advancing rapidly to the stake-holders "You took us for greeneorus, eh? We'll show you how to do things down here in York," and the fellow claimed the twenty dollars.

"Wal. I reck'n yeou wunt take no tenspots jis yit, cap't."

"Why yo've lost the bet." "Not edzactly. I didn't kalkilate on deu n it the first time, but I tell you I kin deu it;" and in spite of the loafer's utmost efforts to escape him, he seized him by the scruff and the seat of his overalls and pitched bim three yards farther into the river than upon the first trial !

Again the bully returned, amid the shouts his mates, who enjoyed the sport immenselv.

"Third time never fails," said the Yankee, stripping off his coat, "I kin deu it, I

"Hald on !" said the almost petrified vic-"And I will deu it, if I try till to morrow mornin'." "I give it up!" shouted the sufferer be

The Vermonter very coolly pocketed the ten spot, and "s he turned away remarked : "We, ain't much acquainted with your smart folks daouw here in York, but we somtimes take the starch out on 'em up sour way; and p'raps yeou wunt try it on tu-strangers agin. BULWER On the Destruction of Jerusalem.

A few weeks ago, Sir E, Bulwer Lytton From the last Annual Geological Report of delivered a lecture in Lincoln, which city he has for a number of years represented in Parliament, on the early history of Eastern nations. He gave an outline of the history of the Babylonian Assyrian, Persian, Egyptian, Greek and Jewish nations, and closed. with the following powerful and dramatic description of the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus:

"Six years after the birth of our Lord, Judea and Samaria became a Roman province, under subordinate governors, the most famous of whom was Pontius Pilate. These governors became so oppressive that the Jews broke out into rebellion; and seventy years after Christ, Jerusalem was finally beseiged by Tytus, afterwards Emperor of Rome. No tragedy on the stage has the same scenes of appalling terror as are to be found in the history of this siege. The city itself was rent by factions at the deadliest war with each other-all the clements of civil hatred had broke loose-the streets were slippery with the blood of citizensbrother slew brother—the granaries were set on fire-famine wasted those whom the sword did not slay. In the midst of these civil massacres, the Roman armies appeared before the walls of Jerusalem. Then for a short time the rival factions united against the common foe; they were against the gallant countrymen of David and Joshua-they sallied forth and scattered the eagles of Rome. But this triumph was brief; the ferocity of the ill-fated Jews soon again wasted itself on each other. And Titus marched on—encamped his armies close by the walls-and from the heighth the Roman general gazed with awe on the strength and splendor of the city of Jehovah. "Let us here pause-and take ourselves, a mornful glance at Jerusa om, as it then was The city was fortified by a triple wall, except on one side, where it was protected by leep and impassable ravines These walls, of the most solid masonery, were guarded by strong towers; opposite to the loftiest of these towers Titus had encamped. From the height of that tower the sentinel might have seen stretched below, the whole of that fair territory of Judea, about to pass from the countrymen of David. Within these walls was the palace of the kings-its roof and vessels of gold and silver. Groves and a precipitous rock, rose the temple, fortified and adorned by Solomon. This temple was adorned than a palace. On entering you. behald porticoes of numberless columns of porphyry, murble and alabaster; gates adorned with gold and silver, among which was the wonderful gate called the Beautiful. "Further ou, through a vast arch, was the acred portal which admitted into the interior of the temple itself-all sheeted over with gold, and overhing by a vine tree of gold, the branches of which were as large as man. The roof of the temple, even on the outside, was set over with golden snikes to prevent the birds settling there and defiling the holy dome. At a distance the whole temple looked like a mount of snow, fretted with golden pinnac as. But alas, the veil of that temple had been already rent asonder by inexptable crime, and the Lord! of Hosts did not fight with Israel. But the enemy is thundering at the wall All from wheen Titus poured down mighty tragmen's of rock, and showers of fire. The walls gave way - the city was entered, the temple itself was stormed. "Famine in the meanwhile had made such havon that the beseiged were more like spectres than living men; they devoured the belts to their swords, the sandats to their feet. Even nature itself so perished away, that a mother devoured her own infant : fulfilling the awful words of the prophet who had first led the Jews towards the land of promise—'The tender and delicate woman among you, who would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness-her eye shall be evil towards her young one and the children that she shall bear, for she shall eat, them for want of all things secretly in the siege and straitness wherewith thine enemy shall encompass thee in thy gates."

"Still, as if the foe and famine were not scourge enough, citizens smote and murdered each other as they met in the way—false prophets ran nowling through the streets every image of despair completes the ghastly picture of the full of Jerusalem. And now the temple was set on fire, the Jews rushing through the flames to perish amid its ruins. "It was a calm summer night—the 10th of August-the whole hill on which stood the-temple, was one gigantic blaze of firethe roots of cedar crashed -the goldon pinnucles of the dome were like spikes of crimson flame. Through the lund atmosphere all was carnage and slaughter; the echoes of shricks and yells rang back from the hill of Zion and the Mount of Olives. Amongst the smoking ruins, and over piles of the dead, Titus planted the standard of Rome.

AN EXTENSIVE FARMER.

Jacob Carroll, of Texas, is the largest farmer in the United States. He owns 250,000 acres of land. His home plantation contains about 8,000 acres. Col. Carroll has on his immense ranges of passare lands about 1000 horses and saids, worth $50,000; 1000 head of cattle, worth $7,000; 600 hogs, worth $2,000; 800 Spanish mares, worth 15,000; 50 junies, worth $2,000; 15 jacks, worth $9,000; and 5 stallions. A German Almanac remarks that a young girl is a fishing rod—the eyes are that hook, To jacks, worth $9,000; and o scanner, the smile is the bait, the lover is the gudg; worth $2,500. In live a stock there is no great difference kept in all the States above mentioned.

New Jersey occupies a location for mar ets unequalee by any other State in the Union. Lying between the great commercial centres of our country-New York and Philadelphia—and having within her own borders much wechanical and manufacturing industry, a ready market for all ber products is ever open; almost surrounded by navigable water penetrated at numerous points by rivers and creeks, and crossed by several railroads and canals, she possesses great facilities for quick and cheap granapartation; so that for bulky, heavy perishable articles she might have almost a monopoly of the markets.

s, porhaps, the best evidence that can be adduced of our agricultural advantages. It has been shown from the census tables, that. our product per acre, where the whole area of the State is taken into account, is considerably greater than in any of the adjoining States. If the separate crops are taken, the average for corn, oats and potatoes, is higher than in the States adjacent. The premium crops of wheat, in all the counties where there are agricultural exhibitions, have been above thirty bushels an acre; in some of the counties they have been above forty oushels an acre for several years in around the city arose immense machines, succession; and there are instances in which crops of lifty bushels, or upwards, per acre, have been harvestd. The practice is much more common in this State than in any others, of sowing wheat and rye in corn, or af ter corn or potatoes. A diminished crop of grain is the necessary consequence of this mode of culti vation, though the produce of the field and the profits for the year are increased thereby. The returns for an acre of strawberries are from one hundred dollars and upwards .-The Burlington County Agricultural Socie ty, in 1855, awarded the premium for the most profitably cultivated crop in the county, to one of strawberries. It yielded at the rate of twelve hundred and twenty-two dollars an acre, clear profit Cranberry fields are known, which annually yield to their owners three hundred dollars an sore. -Large profits are also obtained from the cultivation of other small fruits. The State is noted for the production of apples and peaches, and fortunes have been made in their ultivation. Murket gardening pays well to those who engage in it. Early potatoes, which yield one hundred dollars an acre, are common, and those yielding three times that sum are not unknown. Equal profits can be obtained from the cultivation of sweet po-

In regard to one of our staple crops, the potato, the cences reports furnish some important facts. The general result of a large increase in the yearly product of New Jerware, and a diminution in that of Connecticut, New York and Pennsylvania, has been mentioned.

Of the States in which there was no greatly increased population, New Jersey and Delaware were the only one in which there was not a diminution of the crop of Irish potatoes, between 1840 and 1850. The value of this crop makes a large item in the whole agricultural product of the State. In ad artiple in the New Jersey Firmer, for Decomber, the potato crop in Monmouth county, for the present year, is estimated at athirty-three per cent. more than that of 1850 or in round numbers, at one million and fitty thousand bushel, and the average price is ver seventy-five cents a bushel. Atuthat rice the whole grop would be worth seven undred eighty seven thousand five hundred dollars. At this moment the shrill whistle of the cars was again heard. A close abserver might also have observed an effort on the part of said Jerry, to dodge a broomstick which came in rather close preximity to his ears to be agreeable, ander certain circumstances. Passing on, ie was soon lost in the crowd. If he should find his way back to the wagon, you will hear more in my next.

The complection of our company now took change, many faces that had become half familiar, left us, and their places were supplied by others, our friend of the beaver, nowever, was not one to leave, immediately after the halt of the cars, he left his place and come and seated himself beside usvery dry weather he remarked familiarly .-Yes very dry, I replied, everything suffering from drought. May I be allowed to enquire your destination? he interrogated. The exact locality is undetermined, I purpose visiting Macomb, Poora, Springfield, Chicago, and maybe Rock Island, and Narvoo, in my travels. I shall go farther South than thar, he said, I intend going to Cairo. Let me arther ask where you bail from? I come from Wag Town, Salem Co., N. J.

"Ah, from Wag Town, are you acquainted with Senator Hall?

Very intimately, I replied, a very precauious young man, and one destined to make his wark in the world. He has hosts of friends, and is in every respect a gentleman. He nodded affirmatively. But there is one there, he interrupted, and here he lowered his voice and spoke it in a sorrowful tone, I am fearful that Samuel yet will become one of the innumerable victims of strong drink, Oh, how my heart bleeds when I see the youth of those of respectability and standing barter their present and eternal happiness for the demon alchohol -and there's his parthis reformation, oh! what a pity!" and the old man buried his face in his hands and sat for a few momentg silent; at length he resumed-"av you make a profession, sir," "yes," I replied, "I am a communicant of the M. E. Church, of Wagtown." "Let me ask you one more question, my dear young friend," he continued with much feeling, and it is these which much more intimately concerns us than any profession we may make. "have you a possession of that spirit which casteth out all fear and gives us a fast hold on eternal things, and an assurance of a blissful immortality ?" "I humbly trust my dear futher, that I have an evidence of that divine favor which identifies me as his child, and that my election and calling is sure." "Thenindeed, you are free," he said, "for the spirit has made you free-by the by, as we might Dad I won't saive with Mr. Boyle any as well become acquainted, I would just say I am a colportuer sent out by the Presbyterian board, and my future field is to be the south of Illinois; my name is Owen, and my home is also in N. "No sir," I replied, "no farther than Camden " Then you know but little of the best of your State," he remarked with some pleasantry. "I am very imperfectly acquainted with the history of our State, as regards her resources and internal improvements, but I purpose at some time to be booked up in that respect," I said. JAMES B. FERGUSON,-Korton.

The "PIONEER" is always on hand early on FRIDAY mornings, ready for distribution in any part of the County. Our patrons residing at a distance may look for their papers early, and find them punctually.

A Trip to Keyport, via. Phila. and N. Y. Having some business engagements connected with the publication of the Pioneer. which required our presence in Keyport, on the 8th inst., we took the liberty to run off for a few days, after making the necessary arrangements in the office-supplying all hands with copy, requesting our "responsibilities" to be good boys, and have the Pioneer well advanced when we returned, which by the way, was so faithfully performed as to leave no room for this or any other editorial beside what was on hand at the time of our departure from home.

At 8 o'clock on Monday morning we left the beautiful town of our nativity, in the steamer Express, and was soon gliding rap- Love. idly over the waters of the Cohansey; passing meadows and farm houses, such as are only seen along this meandering stream.

The rural scenery at this season of the year is most magnificent-the orchards and meadows, and the neat farm houses present a scene to the eye which almost makes the denizen of town or city, envy the farmer his happy lot, and long to breathe the pure air of heaven, free from the walls which encompass him. We will not dwell on the beauties of nature, but simply note down a few of the incidents which came under our observation on the trip to Keyport.

Hark! there is a magic sound which we will note as we journey along; 'tis that of music, the consoler of man in his deepest sorrow, and loftiest joys. From whence does it eminate? Adjoining the ladies saloon sits a poor wayfaring man, with violin in hand, playing and singing some familiar airs which drive dull care away, charming all within sound of the harmonious notes as they fill the air with richest melody. The Captain of the steamer, who by the way is at all times polite and entertaining, draws near, manifesting his approbation and pleasure while listening to the "man of song."

Our trip to the city was a very pleasant one, the boat arriving in good season.

It does not require long in transacting business in the city, for one to discover that trade in general has not regained its former briskness. The deleterious effects of the panic are still felt to a greater extent than was anticipated by many, a few months since, notwithstanding money was never more plenty than at present.

One of the most attractive entertainments of the week, in Philadelphia, was the Straw upon his dear constitutents. Of the numberry Festival, or Floral Fair, in Dr. Jayne's ber sent out it may be safely estimated that Hall, for the benefit of the "Northern Home not more than one tenth of them are ever Friendless Children." The hall being one read, and not more than one half taken from of the largest and handsomest in the city, ted with evergreens, wreaths of roses, handaloft, and an excellent band discoursing sweet music, lent a charm to the occasion truly grand in its influence. Strawberries and cream vanished before the animated dew. Prominent amidst the attractions of Rev. A. A. Willits, near by that of Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, whose sudden demise caused such universal lamentation. The former still lives to bless humanity with his labor of love in the cause of the Redeemer, and were he to be called away, none could be found to fill his sphere of usefulness as acceptably and profitably as it is now filled .-After feasting ourself on the rich dainties until a late hour in the evening, we retired, highly pleased with the entertainment.

At 10 o'clock, on Tuesday morning, we left the city of Brotherly Love, via Jersey City, and about 1 past 2 P. M., arrived in the great commercial port of New York, where all kinds of business is done up with a rush, (the rush at present, however, not being quite so extensive as usual at this season of the year.)

Four o'clock being the hour for the steamer to leave for Keyport, the time arrived before we were ready for it, -and it was only by a fast run, and a long one too, that we elections we should be glad to see every reached in ime to jump on board after the boat had pushed from the wharf. A sudden a sudden check to perspiration,—the chilling ing privilege to the extent to which it is offered on the 5th of July for all who desire tion as wholly incorreble, that they rarely cooling in the fresh breeze from the bay, gave of postage and the reservation of the frankand stiffening effects of which still linger

The large edition of Standards being put through to our enough for Printers. satisfaction, and other matters discussed, we retired to the Pavillion Hotel, and in the morning had a view of the town, a description of which, space forbids in this article. The population of Keyport is about 2,000, being one of the principal towns in Monmouth County, the principal part of the town being of but a few years growth. Prominent among the churches of the place is a commodious brick building, lately erected under the of Illinois, and is built on the triangular supervision of Rev. R. S. Harris, now pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church, of Bridgeton. At 7 o'clock, A. M., we left in the steamer for New York, highly pleased with our visit to Keyport. If our young friend, Conrow, of the Stand. ard, ever suffers himself to be numbered among that unhappy class of mortals, known as "old bachelors," then he will indeed deserve to "suffer." Such a good-looking, clever-hearted fellow as he, to be satisfied with no other "responsibilities" than are connected with the publication of a newspaper! The idea is preposterous! We advise Bro. Conrow to leave the "state" -soon as possible!

Judging from the freight on board the steamer, we should say that Keyport, or Monmouth County, was a "great country" for Strawberries, and the adjacent bays and sounds some in producing oysters. Spring chickens and other "charming products," for the stock of Monmouth County.

In about two hours the boat arrived Gotham, one of the most notorious cities in the Union, for rascality. A visit to Barnum's Museum, and the transaction of some business in the city, occupied our time until the boat left for Amboy, where we took the cars, and proceeded homeward, via Burlington, and had the pleasure, while halting a moment in that beautiful city, of shaking hands and passing compliments with the editor of the "Dollar readers are intimately acquainted. Raising the rates of Postage. The concluding part of the last session of amend the Post Office laws. For several years the revenue of the department has been insufficient to meet its expenditures, and an annual appropriation has been required to supply the deficiency. Under one of the fits of economy to which Congress is occasionally subject when their own prospects are not concerned, a proposition was made and carried in one house to raise the rates of letter postage from three cents to five .-While at the same time they persisted in retaining the franking privilege by which the department is saddled with an enormous ex-

Much of the proceedings of some boquets, the stars and stripes waving Congress are of but little general interest. All that interests the public is furnished by the newspapers, not only free of charge, but also offering a return to the department .-The plea that the privilege is made to keep throng of life and beauty, like the morning the people informed of the doings of government is therefore false. It is not so needed the evening, we noticed a life-like picture of It appears to us to be only a veil, and a very transparent one at that, behind which the members seek to increase the popularity of themselves, or the influence of their party. If anything should possibly turn up in Congress, and the mass of dry and uninteresting detail with which their proceedings are always encumbered, of special interest to individuals we presume they would feel no objections to writing to Washington enclosing postage stamps to pay the postage as they would in any other business transactions. It does not seem to us morally right that the business and correspondence of the country should be annually taxed millions of dollars for the sake of allowing members of Congress the privilege of loading down the mails with cart loads of empty and worthless speeches. The subject of low postage is of vastly more importance to the people of the whole Union, than many of the subjects which engross nearly the whole attention of entire sessions of Congress. A SUBMERGED CITY.

By the western papers we learn that a crevasse was opened in the banks of the Misaissippi river, opposite the city of Cairo, by which nearly all the houses in the city have been destroyed. The water was two feet deep in the second story of one of the hotels. Cairo is situated in the southern part deed, it is a fact beyond all dispute, that piece of land formed by the junction of the Ohio with the Mississippi. The situation of the city is very low so that it has to be defended from the river by an artificial embankment. We believe the land upon which the city was built was obtained several years ago by a company of speculators, who from its very favorable geographical position, designed it to be one of the first commercial cities in the Union. Upwards of a million of dollars have been expended in the effort to make a stable foundation for the city, in wharves and embankments, with what success is shown by the late rise of the Mississippi. Capital requires a safe basis to attract its permanent investment. Hence notwithstanding Cairo possesses one of the best commercial positions in North America for the internal traffic of the country, and notwithstanding great exertions have been made to give it the importance its geographical posiwhich we noticed on the steamer, speak well tion demands, the local disadvantages are so great as to keep it of very modern proportions. LETTERS TO INVALIDS its ravages,

20. 1. · BY DOCTOR CAPE

Such is the want of knowledge, and such the of the laws of life and health, that "Letters, to Invalide" may embrace the larger portions of community in any civilized country. Inhealthy people are the exception instead of the rule. Go where we will, we find this to be the case. Ask your friend in the street, how his health is. The answer is " pretty well except," and he will always, or in nine cases out of ten, have some exception to his being " pretty well." This want of health is not altogether confined to cities and large towns. It is in the rural districts also .-Disease and premature death is found on the farm and in the cottage, as well as in the crowded masts of trade and commerce.

Ignorance of the laws of health, and a onstant violation of the laws of God, which he has ordained for the proper government of all organized beings, is the true secret of disease and premature death. It is no more a "natural death" for man, woman, or child When the poor drunkard has gradually des- 5 feet 9 inches high." troyed himself by his constant use of Alcoholic stimulants, all agree in saying he has are the result of these sins against organic the knee. law, and they indeed, are visited upon the children, to the third and fourth generation.

Generation after generation of physical transgression has been persisted in until we find mankind a race of invalids. As disease has increased, medical sicence has slowly advanced, and thousands of martyrs to medical experiments attest the cost of human life, which has served to increase the knowledge and experience of the present age and growth of the healing art, with its multitudes of pathies and endless quantities quack nostrums and cure alls, which adorn the shelves of the apothecary and the country store.

Not only are the leper aches and pains universal, but many diseases of the more formidable character, make terrible ravages amnog all classes of society. In these letters we propose to glance very briefly at some of the more prominent of these destroying cure, as well as more recent discoveries which are threwing light upon the heretofore obscure branch of medical science. First in the list, we notice our great national bare CONSUMPTION .- (Phthisis Pulmonalis.)

We place this first in the list, because it has long been looked upon as the most formidable. Indeed, when we consider that its victims number seventy thousand annually, in the United States, we may well give it the most prominent place among the agents of the grim king of terrors. MAGNITISTRS or Electricians, should exercise the greatast caution in the use of the Magnetic Battery for the drones of the medical protession—the old Ladies, in breeches are lying in wait with their curs trained to pounce upon you the moment an accident happens of any importance in the use of this instrument. It would be ofto use to plead an accident, and the great importance of the instrument to the community for they would drown your voice in a moment with the voice of their hounds.

Again in nearly all of the cases of disease there are periods of rejoses which are invariably followed by periods of excitement, or they are more or less intermittent and the intermissions mere or less complete.

Now these facts are well known to the medical profession, and physicians whose principles are as loose as abishor's sleeve, never fail to take advantage of that knowledge. Let the treatment of a case be as good as possible and the progress of the case never so prosperous the moment their attention happens to be directed to it in the period of exostement in the absence of the attending physician they never ful to condemn the treatment—to see clearly that it is all wrong, or to advise a different treatment, and they will always continue to practice such impositions upon the novice, the weak and the ignorant.

Magnetisers should therefore, never fail to direct the attention of their patients to their changes in their sensations in the periods of excitement and repose to guard them against these impositions. All emment yound practical, unbiassed physicians know that no harm can arise from electricity when properly or scientifically applied.

ATTENTION FARMERS! Manny's Improved PREMIUM COMBINED MOWER AND REAPER, Built expressly for the State of New Jersey. THE Subscriber having assumed the Agency of Manny's Improved Mower and Reaper, is now prepared to receive orders for them, the coming season. The attention of Farmers is invited to the superiority of this Machine over all others, as it is of light draft, easily adjusted, and managed, has a reel, can be worked by either horses or exch, of great durability, free from side draft, no clogging of knives, and can be changed in one minute from Reaper to Mower.

It is supported on two wheels, which allows of its being of a Cart.

Has a Lever at: the side of the driver, by which with one hand the Knife Bar can be instantly raised in tur ing or backing, to clear the mown grass or to pass obstructions. This is a valuable feature, and would of itself give the "Manny" Machine the preference over all others. It is a safe Machine, the seat being back of the Knives, and not directly over them as in most Mowers. Works well on any ground free from stones- or stumps, and in any kind of grass, course or fine, wet or dry. With the recent improvements it is the most perfect Machine ever constructed for Mowing and Resping. and Dealers.

of Pennsylvania, and Inte Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27th, 1857.

Mr. Jeseph E. Hover — A trial of your LIQUID HAIR DYE will convince the most skeptical that it is a safe, elegant, and efficacious preparation. Unlike many others, it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some cutaneous cruptions on the head, and I have no hesitation in commending it to those requiring such an application.

Very respectfully.

The Hindoo Ointment Is recommended as effectual for the removal of SPAVIN, RING-BONE, Curb, Windgalls, Thorough ins and Callous, most of which complaints horsemen have here generally given up as incurable, except by blistering or burning which are cruel and troublesome operations, and blemish the horse for life. This ointment will cause a discharge of matter a few hours, and will remove even bony deposites in a short time, without breaking the skin or bringing off the hair. No horse owner should be without it, as, used according to directions, no one need despair of effecting a permanent cure.
