Selected for the West Jersey Pioneer. MEN-A NECESSARY EVIL. "Oh! men! you're all a fleeting show, For our amusement given; Your smiles and tears are false, we know,

Though at our will they shine and flow, We trust not one in seven. The seeming worth in which you plume, Fades like the hues of even; The mask of kindness you assume,

But faintly hides your real gloom, There's not one good in seven. Poor wanderers through life's changing day, From fair to fair your driven; Awhile we flirt the hours away, And when we're tired, 'tis but to say Good-bye, your chain is riven. Poor creatures when in our way, By accident you're driven, We light your darkness with a ray-A ray of hope-and kindly sav. Go wretches! you're forgiven. Cedarville, May 20.

WORK FOR CHILDREN.

There is no greater defect in educating children, than neglecting to accustom them to work. It is an evil that attaches mostly to large towns and cities. Children suffer to the child. Nothing is more uncertain than their future independance and comfort, much depends on being accustomed to work, ecustomed to provide for the thousand constantly recurring wants that nature entails

If this were not so, still it preserves them from bad habits; it secures their health, it who, at times, is not rash and inconsiderate attengthens both the mind and body; it out. Thus they grow up in known, they will naturally be avoided. But the world, without any knowledge of its toils it is not only in speech, or in our daily interum; they cannot appreciate the favors you but the importance of this quality cannot be bestow, as they do not know the toils they too highly appreciated in all the undertacost; their bodies and minds are enervated, and they are exposed to whatever vicious associations are within their reach:

A large portion of the human family, perhaps a majority, may be classed among the INCONSIDERATE. The cases are rare, in which individuals think sufficiently before speaking, or indeed, before acting. All are inconsiderate to some extent. There are few who calmly view the facts and circumstances, and then decide accordingly --Scarcely a day or an honr goes by, in which some act of indiscretion, calculated to lead to unpleasant consequences, is not perpetrated. BY LYDIA SIGOURNEY. It is the duty of mothers to sustain the everses of fortune. Frequent and sudden as they have been to our own country, it is important that young females should possess some employment by which they obtain a livelihood, in case they should be reduced to the necessity of supporting themselves .-When families are unexpectedly reduced from affinence to poverty, how pitifully contemptible it is to see the mother desponding or helpless, and permitting her daughters to embarrass those whom it is their duty to assist and cheer. "I have lost my whole fortune," said a merchant, as he returned one evening to his home: we can no longer keep our carriage.-We must leave this large house. The children can no longer go to expensive schools. Yesterday I was a rich man; to day there is nothing I can call my own."

"Dear husband," said the wife, "we are still rich in each other and our children .-Money may pass away, but God has given us a better treasure in those active hands and loving hearts."

"Dear father," said the children, "do not ook so sober. We will help you to get a

"What can you do, poor things?" said he. "You shall see, you shall see," answered several cheerful voices "It is a pity if we have been to school for nothing. How can the father of eight children be poor. We shall work and make you rich again."

"I shall help," said the youngest girl, hardly four years old. "I will not have any new thing; bought, and I shall sell my great doll."

The heart of the husband and father. which had sunk within his bosom like a ston was lifted up. The sweet enthusiasm of the scene cheered him, and his nightly prayer was like a song of praise.

They left this stately house. The sorvants were dismissed. Pictures and plate. rich carpets and furniture were soll, and she who had been so long the mistress of the mansion shed no tear. "Pay every debt." said she. "let no one suffer through us, and we may yet be happy."

He rented a neat cottage and a small piece of ground a few miles from the city. With the aid of his sons, he cultivated vogetables for the market. He viewed with delight and astonishment the oconomy of his wife, nurtured as she had been in wealth, and the efficiency which his daughters soon acquired under her training.

The eldest one assisted her in the work of the household, and also instructed the younger children. Busides, they executed various works, which they found could be disposed of to a lvantage.

They cultivated flowers, and seat bouquets to market in the cart that conveyed the vegetables; they platted straw, they printed maps, they executed plain needle-work. Every one was at her post, busy and cheerful. The cottage was like a bee-hive. "I never enjoyed such health before," said the father. "And I never was so happy before," said the mother.

SMOKING-CIGARS.

It is sometimes asserted that our extravac gauce costs more than our actual necessities. A late Philadelphia paper gives some statistics, strongly and suggestively illustrative of this, in an article upon the tobacco manufacture in that city. The writer states that there are in that single city, one thousand establishments for the manufacture of cigars, at which, four thousand hands are employed -The aggregate production of these, is estimated at three hundred and twelve million cigars per year. Estimating the population of the Union at thirty millions and these establishments in the city alone, would furnish to each individual, man, woman, and child, with ten cigars apiece. Assuming that the Philadelphia manufacture comprises one tenth of the entire amount of that branch of trade, which is probably far below the proper estimate, and we have a total of 3,120,000,000 eigars annually produced in the United States, being an average of one hundred and four eigars per year to each individual. As cigar smoking is confined principally, we wish we could say exclusively, to the males, upon them must rest whatever of odium is to be attached to this branch of extravagance. Deducting from the population seven tenths of the whole number for women and very small children, and we have an average of one eiger a day for every man and lad in the country. Suppose these gentlemen to form in rows six abreast, and to puff at the same instant each day, and we should daily have an artificial cloud of very delicious perfume, twelve feet wide, and fifty miles long. But instead of standing, still suppose each individual to be twenty minutes in smoking a cigar, and the company to be arrayed in files two deep, which would extend the line to one hundred and fifty miles in length, allowing two fect to each man, and at the moment of taking the first puff, each file to wheel respectively to the right and left and commence marching in opposite directions, and to march a mile in twenty minutes, and there would be an area of three hundred square miles, beautifully scented with the delicious perfumery of tobacco. Estimating the average cost of each cigar at one cent to the consumer, and there is daily expended in the Uni ted States, the sum of ninety thousand dollars for the gratification of this single, filthy, pernicious and unnecessary habit; being a total of more than thirty-two millions of dollars a year. Well may men, when they talk of extravagance, "look at home." But this is not the only, and unfortunately, not the worst feature arising from the indulgence of this habit. Physiologists assure us that tobacco is a poison, and in common with other narcotics, has the effect to shorten life. If this is

DOES ADVERTISING PAY. Our friend Capron, of the Chester County Times, expresses himself in the following

How few business men understand the real philosophy of advertising. Some will, by dint of much persussion on the part of their enterprising friends, insert a few lines, space, in order that the expense may be small, and but for one, two and three times. This kind of advertising most unquestionably procures its reward, but nothing like the continuous advertising the business man receives who keeps his name and his business constantly before the public. Advertising in a newspaper is like rolling a stone down a hill side, in one respect-the farther it goes the more motion it gets, and the more power it has to remove impediments in its way. The man who advertises for one week, in one paper, may get his pay, but if he advertises two weeks in two papers, he will increase the return in much greater proportion. If he goes at the matter systematically, and keeps up a constant advertising in the vicinity of his business, civilized world. But the questions are asked, who is it that is so desirous of running the township to such an unnecessary expense.? Is not the money worse than thrown away, when expended in the manner in which it has been done of late, orderly citizens, that had been long at the on the roads in Dividing Creek. the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our jewelry, and all our books, pappers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th iastant.

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fall subsequently into a heap of burning ruins where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of their valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire. to men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

A COMBINED MOWER AND REAPER OF MORE THAN ORDINARY VALUE. OF MORE THAN ORDINARY VALUE.

Is now being manufactured by the subscribers, at their Agricultural Works, Bristol, Fa., under the personal inspection of the patentee. A limited number of these machines were placed in operation last season, principally in Philadelphia and Bucks County, and the marked success, which, without exception, attended them, has induced the subscribers to embark in their manufacture and general introduction. All persons who contemplate purchasing Reapers and Mowers, are invited to examine the 6 wift Sure Harvester, which, it is confidently believed, combine several advantages not usually found in such machines; and in addition, the materials and workmanship are warranted to be of unusual excellence.

Hall and Winter Clothing!!

J. BATES, feels it due to his numerous patrons, to render them his thanks for their liberal patronage for the past year. Notwithstanding the extraordinary revulsions in the monetary affairs of the esuntry, our business has steadily progressed, showing that the style, price and kind of Clothing we manufacturd, is just what is needed, and that the course we have pursued for years of warranting all we sell to prove as represented, and freely exchanging garmonts that do not suit, has secured to us, we think the large patronage we have received. We shall endeavor to confine our business as mon to Cash as possible, at the same time we are willing to grant to those of our customers who have heretofore paid us promptly, the insual credit at Cash prices. CUSTOMER DEPARTMENT.

We have now on hand a very large and complete assortire in of Cloths, suitable for Overcoats, also fine goods for Under Coats, Bissiness Coats, &c. Also, a complete stock of Black and Fancy Cassimeres with our usual large assortment of funcy and plain vestings, the very choicest goods the market affords. Garments will at all, times he made at the shortest notice, and warranted to please. Ready Made Clothing.

Our Stock this Fail will be found to contain an unusually I argeind superior assortment of ne goods. We have been enabled to take advantage of the depressed tate of the market and secure a full and complete astate of the market and secure a full and complete astate of the market and secure a full and complete astate of the market and secure a full and complete as ortment at greatly reduced prices, we now think no house in the trade can offer greater inducements than we can to those who desire to purchase good and well made goods, for there is no economy in purchasing an inferior quality of Ready Made Clothing.

Boys' Clothing.

We keep a full assortment of Boys' Clothing, and we think our styles of Boys' Carments cannot fail to please. We can at all times fit Boys from six to sixteen years old. FURNISHING DEPARTMENT. Our assortment of all the various syles of shirts, collars undershirts, drawers suspenders, gloves, handkerether, stocks, ties, saches, &c., is most complete. We shad been happy at all times to show our goods, considering it no brouble, all ought to look before purchasing, and we are willing to help post them. HAT AND CAP DEPARTMENT. PICTURE & LOOKING GLASS LIGHTNING RODS. To all who intend protecting their property from lightning, a few facts may not be unwelcome. The Electric Mag. ct Lightning Rod has been before the public for 20 years, has been the means of faying a vnst deal of property and many, lives, and has never in a single instance falled to meet the highest expectations of its value.—Hundreds of our own citizens can testify from their own knowledge of its ability to protect property in safety; who have been eye wtinesses where buildings public and private, churches and school houses, have been saved from destruction—the rod receiving and carrying harmless to the ground, strokes which but for them, would have caused the totol ruin of the building, and all within it.

The superiority of these rods, over any others in use, has been testified to by men who have no superiors in general science or in this department. Recommendations to the number of six thousand, can be seen at the tactory.

The United States Patent office is protected by my Rods, having been selected from all others in use, as the best and most reliable. Considering the character and position of the men who have charge of that institution, no higher testimony could be desired.

Persons residing at a distance should be on their guard against a class of swindlers, who by false representations are to misland.

sentations of every description, seek to mislead Where my agents are not personally known as such, the only safe plan is to apply, by letter or on Monday next, the 14th of March, a large and otherwise, at the Factory.
