

The West Jersey Pioneer.

A Family Newspaper: Devoted to Morality, Education, Science, Arts, Amusements, Mechanics, Agriculture, Commerce, Domestic and Foreign News, &c.—Independent of Party or Sect.

$1.00 IN ADVANCE!

BRIDGETON N. J. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1859.

VOL. XI—NO. 603

CHOICE POETRY.

For the West Jersey Pioneer.

A MEMORIAL.

Written on the death of Mary Hall, aged 19.

To thy memory, dearest Mary, I would trace a few brief lines.

To-day I'm sitting watching the sun as it declines,

And a thrilling spell is o'er me, and a something speaks to me,

That is like the low sweet music in thy voice that used to be.

Thou'rt very dear, my Mary, and I love thy memory yet,

Thy gentle smile and sweet dark eyes, I never can forget,

And the hours we've spent together, ere death kissed thy weary brow.

I am dreaming of those happy hours, sweet Mary, even now.

I heard that thou wast dead, and I went to see thy form Ere they placed it in the grave to rest from life's dark storm.

I placed a fragrant rose-bud in thy dainty hand—to me,

"Was not to say it was the last bright flower I'd give to thee."

I'm so sad! I dreamt by I heard thy funeral bell— So mournfully ring out its solemn, deep-toned knell,

And when they bore thy coffin with its wreath of roses white.

Laid on the lid, my tears gushed out for the rose that death did blight.

But in the dream even, when the pale stars one by one Came out in dreamy loveliness after a day was done, I looked out on the sky; and the calm, glad thought was given:

That thou want gone beyond the stars—was dwelling now in heaven.

In peace I pressed my pillow, though with tears my eyes were dim,

And with holy trust and confidence, I'll still look up to him.

What this sinful world hath that pure spirit taken.

With others gone before she will one day awaken.

New Castle, Sept. 13, 1859. MARY MYRTLE.

EXTRACTS OF SPEECH BY REV. S. R. HOWLETT,

Of the Baptist Church, New Brunswick,
Made at the Sunday School gathering in Mount Holly, on the 8th inst.

"Let us look at the happy effects of Sabbath Schools upon different classes of people; and first, let us see their good effects upon the children connected with them. The primary object of the Sabbath School is to take care of the children; it had at first an eye single to the good of the children. A story occurs to me which, I think, may well illustrate the object of the Sabbath School in thus caring for the young. One beautiful day, some little children were amusing themselves in a boat which was moored to the shore. During the afternoon, there came along a boy with more mischief than goodness in his heart, who loosed that little boat from its mooring, and it drifted out to sea. Towards night the parents, residing in the village, became intensely anxious for their children. They traced their little footstep to the beach; and it was ascertained that at a certain hour of the day they were seen sitting in the boat which was fastened to the shore; it was also ascertained that that boat was nowhere to be found; and it flushed upon the minds of the parents that their little ones had been borne, by the tide and the winds, far out upon the bosom of the deep. During all that night there were many sleepless eyes in the village; parents were unable to rest, because their loved ones were far away on the waters of the sea. Early in the morning, all the people of the villages had assembled upon the beach. There were anxious parents, who, with eyes strained into the distance, endeavored to discover some speck upon the surface of the sea, which they might recognize as the little boat. They watched for many an hour, until at length they saw, in the distance, a black spot. Presently, it increased in size, and as they discovered an approaching ship. The sail first appeared, then the hull of the vessel; and the people gazed with great anxiety as they saw that it was directing its course to their own port. As they watched its onward movement, they saw that it was fastened to the ship, a little boat; then their interest became intense. Presently, by the aid of a powerful telescope, they read the name of the little boat, and saw that it was the very one upon whom the previous day had been loosed from its moorings, and in which their children had been borne away. The ship came nearer and nearer to the shore, until at length she swung round into their harbor, as the anchor was cast. Still there was no sign of the children; but when the vessel was stayed, the passengers stood upon the deck, and lifted up their voices and sang: "The children are all safe! the children are all safe!" Then there was such a scene upon that beach, as no language can describe. Parents wept for joy, and danced with delight upon the shore.

Now, I have thought, children, that the Sabbath School is the great ship that is sailing over the sea of existence, in search of the little children. They are all cast out upon the great ocean of life, like little barks on the waters of the sea. It is the object of this good ship, marked "S. R."—the Sabbath School—to go out and pick up the little children. Many hands are busy on this ship. There are Presbyterians at work; there are Methodists at work; there are Baptists at work; there are Episcopalians at work; all manning the good ship, the Sabbath School, as they search for the little ones who are exposed to destruction. And oh! we anticipate that there is a day coming when this good ship shall have served its end; when the Master shall take it apart, that he may, perchance, reconstruct it anew, where in one endless Sabbath, at the feet of Jesus, the children and their teachers, and all who love the Lord, shall learn forever the mysteries of redemption and of grace.—And oh! what joy it will be to parents and Sabbath School teachers; to Sabbath School friends who have gone before, at the consummation of all things, they shall hear it said upon the heavenly hills, "The children are all safe! the children are all safe! Not one from my class, not one from our school, not one from the ranks of the Sabbath School is lost!" And although we cannot anticipate the Sabbath School will finally be lost, yet it is the object of the schools to save them all; and the first object is to reach and benefit the little children.

Do you hear, you cross-grained, lazy dyspeptic? take exercise. We firmly believe that many a case of chronic ugliness might be cured through the means of this invaluable agent. Your blood is stagnant, and do you want to know how this affects you? Take a microscope and look over to yonder pool. Day after day, week after week, it has been standing there. What do you see? green scum, yellow scum, worms, tadpoles, spiders and creeping things, innumerable; while the smell—but we won't mention that. Now come on this side; here is running water. Beneath the sand is clean and bright; no insects infest it—no sooty breeds disease upon it. See it sparkles in the sun and lights its depths. How fresh and clear and beautiful it is! inspiring life, cleanliness and health. But you, O, apathetic grumbler and long-faced sensualist, you are the standing pool, full of corruption. Get up and shake off your sloth. Send that dead, black blood, through the channels of your body; let it come up to your sallow cheeks in red waves; let it tingle in your temples, smoothing out the wrinkles there.

Take exercise, you silly girl, lounging about with the headache and the neuralgia, and the heart disease. See how your face glows at the mention of a ball! with what alacrity you go to the dressmaker! How fresh you are for shopping! but these things over, and the stupid loll, the fretful sigh, the eternal complaining goes its round again—Do you know how much enjoyment you lose? Hear Betty singing in the kitchen. Coarse, ungrateful, ignoble as she is, God looks upon her with more favor than upon you. She is filling up the measure of her life; you are wasting yours. She is living for something; doing good to somebody; you are ruining yourself, soul and body, and living to the injury of those around you. Yes, you injure them by your ungracious words, your repinings, your moodily frowns; you live not only to do no good but to do positive injury. What is heaven to you? What are the blue, glad skies, the green trees, the wild, dancing gulls, the fragrant flowers to such as you? Your mind is a blank—your society a vacuum. Take exercise. Exercise not only your own limbs, but the affections and the principles God has given you. Set yourself to work to make the household happy. Take a portion of care from somebody. Do some office that will don't scruple to put aside some darling plan to accommodate others. Don't come down to your death bed to feel that you are going before all heaven to be called an unhappy steward. Happiness, like every other good, must be sought for. Some people, to be sure, are born like the visits of the angels, few and far between, and always monopolized. Emulate them; they are sent for图案，and with some effort you can pull as many flowers and catch as many subeams as they.

Did you ever spring upon the back of a fleet steed, just as the day sent its rosy flush over the brow of the hills? If so, you know the delight, the keen enjoyment such exercise affords. The lungs take their fill of the pure morning air, and rise and fall with the chest, the cheeks glow, the lips part, and echoing peals of laughter ring from the rosy portals. And so a walk at the same hour, though not quite as exhilarating, is quite as full of a similar pleasure. The winds play more gently, the pulses are quiter; there is more room for meditation, the laugh is changed to a smile, the glow of the blood is more equal; but the wonders of nature come more immediately under observation. Here is a gentle violet, there a crimson tuft of grass or moss; here some object claims sympathy; there another admiration. The still dwellings afford a chance for speculation; you wonder if there, where the blinds are shut and the curtain is down, death reigns or sickness abides. You ask yourself whether the sweet face that you meet is bride or maiden. You come to some old homestead and wonder how many years have stolen over its venerable front, how many coffins have been carried from its antique parlors. During the walk, the mind is busy, and the limbs are not idle. One lags in a fresh stock of air and sunlight and happiness, and returns home not to mope, to murmur and distress the household generally.

Hail ye dull repining mortals; come ye to the resolution that you will give your blood a quicker circulation—your heart will be sooner purified and made meet for the joys, and strong for the trials of life.

"Mass Tom! Mass Tom! Oh, Mass Tom! howe I givne to go down dis ladder?"

"Come down the same way you went up, you blockhead!" replied the master, running up to see what was the matter.

"De same way as I come up, Mass Tom!"

"Yes, confound you and don't bother me any more."

"Well, if I must, I must!" and down came the little darkey head foremost.

From Harper's Magazine.

A POLITICAL ANECDOTE.

Old Jersey turns up again with the following very entertaining incidents which will be relished by the parties as well as the reader:

"They tell a capital story here about the present Governor of this State, Dr. Newell, and Colonel James W. Wall, who ran for Congress in 1856 in the Second District.

In order to initiate your readers into the human of the story, they must be reminded that Governor Newell, who was then before the people as the American and Republican candidate, was a very industrious operator in his own behalf, attending to all places where opportunities of meeting the people were afforded, and making himself agreeable to the voters.

Take Exercise.

Do you hear, you cross-grained, lazy dyspeptic? take exercise. We firmly believe that many a case of chronic ugliness might be cured through the means of this invaluable agent. Your blood is stagnant, and do you want to know how this affects you?

Take a microscope and look over to yonder pool. Day after day, week after week, it has been standing there. What do you see?

green scum, yellow scum, worms, tadpoles, spiders and creeping things, innumerable;

while the smell—but we won't mention that.

Now come on this side; here is running water. Beneath the sand is clean and bright;

no insects infest it—it no sooty breeds disease upon it. See it sparkles in the sun and lights its depths. How fresh and clear and beautiful it is! inspiring life, cleanliness and health. But you, O, apathetic grumbler and long-faced sensualist, you are the standing pool, full of corruption. Get up and shake off your sloth. Send that dead, black blood, through the channels of your body; let it come up to your sallow cheeks in red waves; let it tingle in your temples, smoothing out the wrinkles there.

Take exercise, you silly girl, lounging about with the headache and the neuralgia, and the heart disease. See how your face glows at the mention of a ball! with what alacrity you go to the dressmaker! How fresh you are for shopping! but these things over, and the stupid loll, the fretful sigh, the eternal complaining goes its round again—Do you know how much enjoyment you lose?

Hear Betty singing in the kitchen. Coarse, ungrateful, ignoble as she is, God looks upon her with more favor than upon you. She is filling up the measure of her life; you are wasting yours. She is living for something; doing good to somebody; you are ruining yourself, soul and body, and living to the injury of those around you. Yes, you injure them by your ungracious words, your repinings, your moodily frowns; you live not only to do no good but to do positive injury. What is heaven to you? What are the blue, glad skies, the green trees, the wild, dancing gulls, the fragrant flowers to such as you? Your mind is a blank—your society a vacuum. Take exercise. Exercise not only your own limbs, but the affections and the principles God has given you. Set yourself to work to make the household happy. Take a portion of care from somebody. Do some office that will don't scruple to put aside some darling plan to accommodate others. Don't come down to your death bed to feel that you are going before all heaven to be called an unhappy steward. Happiness, like every other good, must be sought for. Some people, to be sure, are born like the visits of the angels, few and far between, and always monopolized. Emulate them; they are sent for图案，and with some effort you can pull as many flowers and catch as many subeams as they.

Did you ever spring upon the back of a fleet steed, just as the day sent its rosy flush over the brow of the hills? If so, you know the delight, the keen enjoyment such exercise affords. The lungs take their fill of the pure morning air, and rise and fall with the chest, the cheeks glow, the lips part, and echoing peals of laughter ring from the rosy portals. And so a walk at the same hour, though not quite as exhilarating, is quite as full of a similar pleasure. The winds play more gently, the pulses are quiter; there is more room for meditation, the laugh is changed to a smile, the glow of the blood is more equal; but the wonders of nature come more immediately under observation. Here is a gentle violet, there a crimson tuft of grass or moss; here some object claims sympathy; there another admiration. The still dwellings afford a chance for speculation; you wonder if there, where the blinds are shut and the curtain is down, death reigns or sickness abides. You ask yourself whether the sweet face that you meet is bride or maiden. You come to some old homestead and wonder how many years have stolen over its venerable front, how many coffins have been carried from its antique parlors. During the walk, the mind is busy, and the limbs are not idle. One lags in a fresh stock of air and sunlight and happiness, and returns home not to mope, to murmur and distress the household generally.

Hail ye dull repining mortals; come ye to the resolution that you will give your blood a quicker circulation—your heart will be sooner purified and made meet for the joys, and strong for the trials of life.

"QUESTION FOR FINANCIAL MEN.

How is it possible for several persons to be at the same time, and for the same sum of money, at once debtor and creditor to each other?

ILLUSTRATION.

Mr. Danderly had a son and son-in-law.

The son-in-law was very curious to know whether his parent-in-law was altogether easy in his circumstances, and whether his extreme economy arose from avarice or necessity.

In order to discover the truth, he requested from Mr. Danderly the loan of fifty dollars. Mr. Danderly, who really was extreemly short of money, but not at all inclined to let his son-in-law discover it, replied to his request, that that first he must have pleasure, that at that first he must change a larger sum, as he had not so much at hand; and if his son-in-law would wait an hour, he would bring him the money.

Off hurried Mr. Danderly, and in order to obey to the request of his son-in-law, ap-piled to his son the loan of the fifty dollars, but without saying a word of the circumstances.

The subject of impression at first sight was being talked over at the supper table,

when the lady who presided "over the tea-

COMMISSIONERS' SALE

OF REAL ESTATE.

Pursuant to an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Cumberland, will be sold at public sale on Monday the 10th day of October, 1859, at the hotel of Carolina Brandif, in Millville, all the

REAL ESTATE

Of the late Josiah Shaw, dec'd.
No. 1 is a dwelling house and lot, situated in Millville, on the west side of Maurice River, containing the residence of the late Josiah Shaw, consisting of about one acre.

No. 2 is about 150 acres of

LEWIS LAND,
situate in Millville township, near the junction of Chatwood and Lebanon branch.

No. 3 is a farm of about 106 acres, on the north side of Black Water in said township. The improvements are a new two story

FRAME DWELLING HOUSE,
Large barn, crib house, &c. This farm is a desirable one, the Millville and Glassboro Railroad will pass through or near it.

No. 4 is the individual two thirds of about 21 acres of

BUSH OR TIMBER LAND:

On the east side of the Malaga road adjoining lands of R. D. Wood, C. E. Elmer, Theodore Higbee, and Charles Garrison, and lie within one mile of Millville.

Sale to commence at 2 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when conditions will be made known by

NATHANIEL STRATTON,
ABDOTT & CO.,
SAMUEL WILSON,
Sept. 10-4t.

Commissioners.

J. H. LANING & BRO.

WOULD call the attention of purchasers to their large stock of goods being assured of their ability to compete with any other establish West Jersey.

GOLD & SILVER LEVER WATCHES,
Five Gold Jewelry, Camo, Coral, Garnet, Lava, Rings and Pins, Stock, Silver Buttons, Gold Pencils, Medallions, Gold Chain, Hooks and Keys &c., the goods are all warranted. Repairing done at the shortest notice in a neat and workmanlike manner.

MUSICAL DEPOT.

Violins, Fifes, Accordions, Tambourines, Banjos, Violin Trimmings of all kinds for sale very cheap.

Sign of the big Fiddle No. 4 West of the Bridge, Bridgeton, N. J.

Sept. 10-tf

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court of the County of Cumberland, to me directed, will be exposed to sale, at public sale, on Saturday the eighth day of October, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the hotel of E. Davis and Son, at Bridgeton, all the right, title, and interest of the defendant to the following described property: To wit:

REAL ESTATE

Of the late Josiah Shaw, dec'd.

No. 1 is a dwelling house and lot, situated in Millville, on the west side of Maurice River, containing the residence of the late Josiah Shaw, consisting of about one acre.

No. 2 is about 150 acres of

LEWIS LAND,
situate in Millville township, near the junction of Chatwood and Lebanon branch.

No. 3 is a farm of about 106 acres, on the north side of Black Water in said township. The improvements are a new two story

FRAME DWELLING HOUSE,
Large barn, crib house, &c. This farm is a desirable one, the Millville and Glassboro Railroad will pass through or near it.

No. 4 is the individual two thirds of about 21 acres of

BUSH OR TIMBER LAND:

On the east side of the Malaga road adjoining lands of R. D. Wood, C. E. Elmer, Theodore Higbee, and Charles Garrison, and lie within one mile of Millville.

Sale to commence at 2 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when conditions will be made known by

NATHANIEL STRATTON,
ABDOTT & CO.,
SAMUEL WILSON,
Sept. 10-4t.

ADJOURNMENT.

The above sale stands adjourned for four weeks at the same hour and place.

J. FITTHIAN, Sheriff.

Miss Fannie Tibbittan, TEACHER OF
PIANO MUSIC.

Church Street, nearly opposite the new Baptists Church, Bridgeton, Aug. 13, 1859-4t.

TO FARMERS.

The subscriber is now manufacturing the most approved Potato Digger or Plow, at the low price of $10 each, with a liberal discount to dealers.

By the use of this Plow the labor in hands is saved.

No. 111, Market St. Philadelphia.

WEST JERSEY R. & CO.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

ON Saturday, August 18th, 1859, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 1 P.M., at the West Jersey Building, No. 10 Broad Street, (with leave daily), (summers excepted as follows):

LEAVE PHILADELPHIA,

Walnut street Wharf, at 8 and 11½ A. M. and 2½ and 4 o'clock, P. M.

LEAVE WOODBURY,

7 and 8½ A. M. and 1 and 4½ P. M.

Leave Philadelphia and Woodbury, April 18th.

HENRY NEFF,
SURGEON DENTIST.

COMMERCE St., a few doors east of the Presbyterian Session Room and directly opposite the new Baptist Church, still continues to practice Dentistry in its various departments.

I have succeeded in extracting teeth, and it does really prevent the fear of an extraction operation in all cases. I have extracted the teeth with the most care.

Bridgeton, June 27, '57.

D. H. SMOCK,
Attorney at Law and Solicitor in Chancery, BRIDGETON, N. J.

Office in the brick building S. W. corner of Commerce and Pearl sts.

Appt. 10-4t.

PEDRICK & CHEESEMAN, DEALERS IN

IRON, STEEL, &
COPPER,

AND

BLACKSMITH COAL,
Bridgeton, N. J.

SPRINGS, AXLES,
ANVILS, VICES,
BELLOWS, &c.

ISAAC PEDRICK, JOHN CHEESEMAN, Jr.

THOMAS P. WILLIAMS,
BRIDGETON, N. J.

ELECTROPATHIC PHYSICIAN,
Commerce Street, West of the Bridge.

J. R. HOAGLAND,
Attorney at Law,

Solicitor, Master & Examiner in Chancery, BRIDGETON, N. J.

Office on Commerce St., over the Chronicon Office.

BECK & LAWTON,
MUSIC PUBLISHERS,

and

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF MUSICAL MERCHANDISE,

No. 632 CHESTNUT STREET,
(corner of Market),

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

BAILY & BROTHER,
IMPORTERS OF

CARPETINGS,
NO. 920 CHESTNUT STREET,

PHILADELPHIA.

Are now opening their Fall Stock of

VELVET,
TAPESTRY AND BRUSSELS.

Also.

A Large Assortment of

THREE PLYS AND INGRAINS,

AND AN UNUSUAL DISPLAY OF

FLOOR OIL CLOTHS.

Sept. 10-4t.

Did You Hear the News?

If so, then the TIME

To buy Goods cheap for cash at

C. S. MILLER & CO.'S.

NOTICE IN PARTITION.

To the Devises of John Hanhorn, dec'd.

Take notice that application will be made to the Orphans' Court of the County of Cumberland, at the Court House in Bridgeton, on Monday the 10th day of October next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the appointment of commissioners to divide the real estate, whereof he died seized.

DAVID HANHORN.

Bridgeton Sept. 10, 26-4t.

Keep your Feet Dry and Head Cool.
An old maxim which I adhered to would be many valuable lives and much health. In order to keep the feet dry necessary to have good boots. These can be procured by calling on us. We have a large department of home made work warranted not to run counter to part with for cash or short credit to good men.

Men's Heavy Course Boots,

" Heavy Kid Boots, lined,

" Fine Heavy Course Boots,

" Boys' Heavy Course Boots,

" Ladies' Heavy Course Boots,

" Women's Morocco Boots,

" Kid Boots,

" Cal'f. Boots,

" Men's and Children's Undressed Morocco Boots,

" Morocco Boots,

" REEVES, DAVIS & CO.,

Bridgeton, Sept. 17. 10 Carl's Building, near the Bridge.

BLACKSMITHS, TAKE NOTICE!

To Sell or Rent,

A blacksmith shop, tools, and stock, situated in Millville on Main street, near the bridge, and opposite F. L. Mulford's store. Apply soon, and secure a good stand, of

A. D. WILSON.

Sept. 17. 10 Carl's Building, near the Bridge.

PLATFORM SCALES.

For every description, suitable for Railroads, &c., for weighing hay, coal, ore and merchandise generally. Purchasers run no risk; every scale is guaranteed correct, and if after trial, found satisfactory, may be returned without charge.

The factory at the old stand, established for more than thirty five years, ABDOTT & CO., Corner of Ninth and Molton Streets, Philadelphia.

Sept. 10-4t.

PERFECT WATCHES,

MARSHALL & CO., WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,

221 & 222 SOUTH SECOND ST.,

Below Dock.

Philadelphia.

JOHNING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

May 21, 1859-4t.

Co-partnership.

The Subscribers have this day formed themselves into a partnership for the purpose of carrying on the business of LUMBER and HARDWARE, at the old stand, where they are prepared to sell more lumber than ever.

DAYTON B. WHITEKAR,

Bridgeton, June 23, '59.

DRUGS, MEDICINES, PAINTS, &c.

WEATHERILL & BRO.

REMOVED TO THEIR NEW STORES,

47 and 49, North Second Street,

Where, with increased facilities, they will be happy to accommodate the public generally at shorter notice.

A. D. WILSON.

Sept. 10-3t.

REAL ESTATE.

At the old stand, for the purpose of carrying on the business of LUMBER and HARDWARE, at the old stand, where they are prepared to sell more lumber than ever.

DAYTON B. WHITEKAR,

Bridgeton, June 23, '59.

NOTICE.

THE Subscribers having removed to the new stand, Franklin above Broad street, will be happy to accommodate the public generally at shorter notice.

A. D. WILSON.

Sept. 10-3t.

BLACKSMITHS, TAKE NOTICE!

To Sell or Rent,

A blacksmith shop, tools, and stock, situated in Millville on Main street, near the bridge, and opposite F. L. Mulford's store. Apply soon, and secure a good stand, of

A. D. WILSON.

Sept. 10-3t.

REAL ESTATE.

At the old stand, for the purpose of carrying on the business of LUMBER and HARDWARE, at the old stand, where they are prepared to sell more lumber than ever.

DAYTON B. WHITEKAR,

Bridgeton, June 2

