ON THE LOSS OF A CHILD.

Strong sorrows 'round thy heart entwine,

Parent, thy grief I know is keen,

Thy loss no earthly friend can feel;

No hearts can feel like thine.

They and their child must part.

A voice from heaven dispels the gloom;

Write from henceforth the dead are blest:

They from their toils and labors rest,

But in this dark, distressing hour,

And find a peaceful home.

Thy Mary's worth no tongue can tell.

HUMOROUS.

An Oily Letter from the Oily Springs.

As the Oil Springs, in Trumbull County, go down there last week, in order that we I will pass over the many haps and misaccount of the locality. We have received he following unctious letter:

I arrived here at a very late hour last night, on an oil train, and might as well have come on train oil, as we were sixteen hours behind time. All trains are behind time here, I learn, owing to the accumulation of oil on the track at this end of the road -The oil fries out of the ground, and lubricates the rails for a great distance. We shouldn't have arrived here at all if the passengers hadn't got out and sprinkled the track with eigar ashes.

I slipped out of bed, (nobody "arises" here; we all slip into bed, and slip out,) at an early hour this morning, and began investigations. I found a section embracing fourteen thousand acres of land, chuck full

HOW THE WOMEN FRY DOUGHNUTS. Drilling is unnecessary here, as the oil poils up in springs, sometimes to the height of twenty-five feet, and is caught in tin pails as it comes down. On a hot day, I am told, it is no unusual thing to see the women frying doughnuts in these jets of oil. The balls of dough are dropped into the jets, where they are allowed to toss about like corks in a fountain, until they are fried by the heat of the sun.

SLIPPERY ELM.

The only species of tree which abounds here is the slippery elm. These trees are them. Then it was that the dangers of the so slippery, that a squirrel can't climb them without dipping his paws in Spaldings Prepared Glue, a small bottle of whhich he always carries suspended about his neck .-There are a few maple trees here, but no sugar is made, as nothing but oil runs out when hey are tapped.

A RIVER OF OIL.

There is one considerable sized creek running through Trumbull County, which is all oil. It was discovered a short time ago in a singular manner. Three boys went in bathing, and when they came out were so greasy they couldn't stay in their clothes. As fast as they slipped them on they would slip off again, and oue of the lads, in a heedless moment, narrowly escaping slipping out of his skin. On reaching home their parents being exceeding y frugal, wrung them out, and extracted ab mt fourteen gullons of pure oil from their clothes. Fact. AMUSEMENTS.

The principal amusements here are climbing greased poles and catching oiled pigs, the necessary appliances being constantly on hand. Sliding down hill is popular among all classes during the summer months. This is effected without sleds, on a hill of solid tallow, just back of the tavern. They often left their families alone while hunting amid the mountains, as in the clearing no danger could be apprehended in the daytime from wild beasts. Their wives were always charged not to venture into the forest nor to allow the children to wander from their sight, because in the forest danger was imminent from the bears and panthers with which the forest abounded.

The sun was past the meridian, and Mrs. Garland, busy in her household duties, forgot for a time her children. Willie and Mary, as soon as they had eaten their dinners, went out to play beneath the shadows of a large tree near the cabin, after receiving strict injunctions not to stray from the tree. But in training congregations to sing even the plainest tunes, every one will not be able to learn them; as the experience of every teacher of music must show. There will be a few who are so destitute of a musical car, for want of early cultivation, that they will be unable to discriminate musical sounds, and cannot be made to without a long, continued course of instruction. Such cases are rare, but they are sufficiently numerous in almost every congregation as to mar the harmony, and to destroy the effect of the singing. It cannot be expected that instruction by rote would be of much benefit to such persons, especially to adults, yet they are often times the most anxious to sing .-Such persons as have no tune should be made to know better than to attempt to sing in public, to the great annoyance of everybody but themselves, and others like them. YES AND No. - We Christians ought to be well persuaded of what we teach, and to be able to say yes or no. To object to our affirming with full conviction what be believe, is to strip us of our faith itself .- Luther,

THE VICTORY .- Truth is more powerful than words. The victory will remain with him who with stammering lips shall teach the truth, and not to him who cloquently puts forward a lie.—Ibid.

NOTHING BUT JESUS .- When the apostle Paul showed himself determined to know nothing but Jesus, and to glory only in his cross, he was accounted by Jew and Gentile as the filth and off-scouring of all things; and thus it will hold universally. If, therefore, any who sincerly espouse the gospel meet with little disturbance or censure, it is not because the carnal mird is better reconciled to the truth than formerly in the apostle's days, but because our zeal, faith, and activity are so much inferior to theirs, and our conduct more conformable to the prevailing taste around us .- John Newton.

This is also the case in the adjoining counties, and if general throughout the country, will be sad news both to the peach growers and consumers.

Arrival of Strangers.

A number of our citizens were suprised early on Saturday morning of last week by the arrival of a number of live turkeys. Like the lecturer on Yankee peculiarities a few years since at Salem, no knows from "whence they came" or "whither they were going." Certain it is that their advent was unex pected and mysterious. Had they waited until Thanksgiving or Christmas and then come already fatted, there is no doubt but what their arrival would have been greeted with a much more cordial and hearty reception, as it was we regret to say that some of the boys treated them with great cruelty, maiming and killing some of them, in manner disgraceful to humanity.

Atlantic Monthly.

We have received the April number of this truly excellent magazine. No monthly published in the United States surpasses it in those qualities which render a magazine acceptable, if not almost indispensable to the general reader. It opens with a very good article on "The laws of beauty," followed by one headed "Found and Lost"-The continuation of "The pursuit of Knowledge under Difficulties" is very pleasing, but the article on "American Magasine-Literature of the Last Century" is one of that class, valuable for its information and always much prized by the reader, and fifty dollars, thus placing them on the same especially those who seek for intelligence footing with those who have no license, about the literature of our country, before There are several instances in this place it had been enriched by the genius of Irving, Prescott and Motley. There is some thing peculiarly attractive to us in the history of the literature of the times, when it first began to struggle for a permanent rec. having granted permission to these persons egnition in the world of letters, "Come Si Chiama?" is full of information of the earnestness with which the people appropriate the names of their political celebrities in paming towns, cities and counties. But we must hasten on, taking care to avoid "Bardie Symbols," to the fine periods, keen wit and overflowing humor of "The Professor's Story." Never have we read anything yet, written by Dr. Holmes but we feltmuch better in mind and body.

The reviews and literary notices of the Atlantic form one of its chief attractions, if not the very first. The unmistakable evidence of the ability with which this part of the magazine is conducted, leaves no doubt as to the mind which presides over its columns. Taking the April number "for all in all," it is worthy of any of its predecessors, which is saying a great deal.

THE HOMESTRAD BILL.

We know of no subject of equal imporance, that has been discussed in the present Congress with as little asperity and party feeling as this bill, now apparently to become a law. The concurrence of both parties in the matter at this juncture, leads us to the impression that it is designed by each for political effect at the next presidential election. Be that as it may, in the face of the very popular and pleasing idea that the govern-ment can, with an almost unexampled liberality, furnish free homes to all its landless subjects, there are very grave and serious objections urged against the principles of the bill. Old soldiers and "veterans" of the different wars, contend that it entirely nullifies the value of the land grants made to them in return for services rendered the government. If land is given away by the We learn from various quarters of this government to any one who chooses to apply promise of a quarter of section of land in addition when discharged, it would seem at ing the land is settlement and the obtaining of a home, giving the land to others does not injure them to any appreciable extent; on the contrary, it may materially enhance the value it. If they were always allowed a preference in the choice of location, much of their objection would be disposed of.

Another class contends that all the public land, whether acquired by treaty or purchase, is held by the government in trust for the benefit of all the people, and that holding it only in trust, they have no right to give away any portion of it. This is a valid and a very forcible argument. As a general and correct principle, a trustee has no right to alienate, without an equivalent value, any portion of his trust. This is an important and sound principle of action, which all persons will recognize. The leading questions that arise are, whether the public lands are held as such a trust, and if so held, does giv ing them or any part of them away, necessari ly imply that an equivalent value is not received. It may be a question whether a trustee has a right to part with a trust even for an equivalent value. In most cases in private practice, they unquestionably have no such right. The trust of the government in the public land, is of a different character in this respect. They are held specially for disposal for the benefit of the owners. The most important, if not the only question is, therefore, does giving away the public land to actual settlers injure the owners, or furnish, by increasing the settlement and resourmatter in what shape this value comes so or in added commercial and internal intercourse between and among the people. If any, or all of these advantages result to the government, or people, to a sufficient degree to pay for expense of procuring, surveying and protecting the land, then the government is justified in donating the public land. If they do not, they are not justified in so do-The territories, and newly settled states, cost the government a considerable in extinguish-

THE NEW LICENSE LAW. The license law, passed by the late legislature, and published in the Pioneer last week is attracting considerable attention. The provisions of the law are very stringent, and the license fee, fifty dollars per county, is pretty heavy tax on the business. The most obnoxious feature of the bill is the second clause, which vitiates all the licenses already granted, and requires an additional fee of where licenses had just been procured in accordance with the old law, but which are entirely worthless under the provisions of the new. We do not see how the State, after to follow their vocation for a year, and received their legal fee therefore, can so unceremoniously take from them the permission granted by these licenses, without violating one of the plainest provisions of the constitution, which says that no law shall be passed impairing the validity of contracts A license is nothing more nor less than a contract between the State and individual, by which, in consideration of a certain amount of money paid, the State agrees to allow the contractor to pursue a certain vocation for a year. We understand that measures are to be taken to test its constitution-ality. Another hard and unjustifiable feature of the new law is found in the third clause, which prohibits any person to send a

The Shoemakers' strike in Lynn is about over, says the Nantucket Inquirer. Most of the work men have gone to work at the advanced prices originally claimed. They stated that they are the the only manufacturers who have made paper from begassee, (the refuse of the Sugar Cane,) and that they will pay n almost any quantity delivered at their mills in Manayunk. If the firm can do as they say, there can be no question but what the Chinese Sugar Cane will rank among the most remunerative of our crops. Allowing from two to four tons per acre as an ordinary yield, and an additional gross receipt of from thirty to eighty dollars per acre would be added at a very small advance of cost. By taking the cane as it came from the rollers, but very little extra labor would be required to put it in bales ready for shipment. To transport it to market from any part of lower Jersey ought not to cost over two dollars per ton, leaving at the lowest estimate a nett grain of twelve dollars per ton. Some experienced cultivators claim that they can get three hundred galof it, by the rapid settlement of that around lons of molasses from the produce of an acre cents per gallon, equal to seventy-five dollars, twenty-five bushels of seed at forty cents per bushel equal to ten dollars, and the beassee at forty dollars per acre, and we have the total gross receipt from an acre of ground of one hundred and twenty-five dollars .crops that will yield such a return as this.-If there is any error in our arithmetic we hope some of our agricultural friends will take an early opportunity to correct it. If there is not, then every farmer would find it to his interest to plant a few acres of sugar cane. Molasses forms an important part of the domestic economy of every family. It affords a palatable and beautiful article of diet, to say nothing of the delicious sweetness invariably and liberally imparted the indulged and indulging juveniles, while esting its virtues. But one acre to each farm would bountifully supply the cultivator and all his hired help the entire season, while at the same time saving some of the heavy store bills. The sugar cane has not been cultivated about here enough yet to establish fairly what it will do. No plant can be brought to its highest perfection and development, without experience in its culture. A single season will not establish the positive value of any crop. A number of seasons in succession must be tried before we are competent to judge understandingly of their worth. If our readers wish to know farther of the value of the begassee, they can undoubtedly ascertain by addressing their inquiries to Messrs. Feinveer & in Philadelphia. CUMB. CO. MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The regular annual meeting of the Cumberland County Medical Society was held at Davis' Hotel on Tuesday last, and we understand there was an accession of several new members from those just entering upon their practice in this county-The transaction of their usual business was harmonious, and contributed to cement more closely that fellowship which naturally arises from pleasant associations, while the varied reports and debates were interesting to those who attended. The healthy and agreeable diet, provided with the usual taste and elegance which characterized

For the West Jersey Pioneer, NEWARK M. E. CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR:-The Newark Conference of the M. E. Church commenced its third annual session at Hackettstown, on Wednesday the 4th inst. Bishop Scott was present, and opened the session by the reading of the Scriptures and singing, followed with prayer by the venerable Rev. Henry Boehm and Dr. J. S. Porter. The sacrement of the Lord's Supper was then administered, both ministers and people partakings. The roll of the Conference was then called by the secretary of last year, nearly all the members being present and answering to their names. Not a single death has occurred during the year, which may be regarded as remarkable in a body numbering nearly one hundred and fifty. The old sceretary, Rev. M. E. Ellison, and his assistant, Rev. J. I. Morrow, were unanimously re-elected viva voce, after which, the usual standing committees were appointed. A somewhat spicy episode occurred; in the form of a resolution offered by Rev. J. O. Winner, and seconded by Rev. S. W. Hilliard, requesting the Bishops not to transfer brethern from other conferences to ours, without making corresponding transfers from ours to them. After a spirited, was adopted by a considerable majority.

The classes of the third and fourth years were reporten upon by their examining committee and Presiding Elders, all of whom were passed; the latter year being elected to Elders' orders.

The list of supernumeraries was also taken up, and several of them were represented and passed; but the hour of adjournment having arrived, the usual notices were given, and the session closed with prayer by Rev. J. P. Fort.

This evening the anniversary of the Conference Tract Society is to be held, when addresses are expected from Rev.'s J. S. Swaim. A. L. Brice, and H. A. Buttz.

Probable Sloop Tragedy.

Captain Webb, of schooner Thomas E. French, arrived in New York, Saturday morning, March 31, and states that on the 21st ins., four miles north of Barnegat, he picked up a yawl boat containing a Chinaman. The man was supplied with a compass, hatchet, and a few provisions, and stated that he had escaped from the sloop Spray, Captain Lerte, of Guildford, Cond., which had that day been in collision with the sloop Lucinda, of Rockaway. The Spray sunk in about fifteen minutes after the collision, and according to the statement of the Chinaman, carrying down with her the captain and his brother, who were the only persons on board beside himself. The French having to run but good natured discussion, the resolution into Little Egg Harbor, there saw the Lucinda in a disabled condition. The captain of the sloop stated that during the time the two ve-sels were together he saw no one aboard the Spray but the Chinaman, who refused to seek safety aboard his vessel.

The Chinaman, who goes by the name John Low, or Jackalow, as he is more frequently called, is well known in New York, and has sailed with Captain Lerte for the past four years. He is reported to be a very revengeful fellow, and, and, when excited stops at nothing, however desperate, in order to gratify his revenge. His stories concerning the manner of the captain's death are conflicting He first said that the captain was thrown overboard by being struck by the main sheet; then he said that the time of the collision the captain was standing on the bowsprit, and was knocked off by the concussion; and, finally, that he was in the cabin and unable to get on deck. When picked up he had on a coat belonging to Captain Lerte, in the pockets of which was found a memorandum book, upon the fly leaf of which was written in pencil, "J. F.

Lerte, Guildford, Ct." Jackalow manifested considerable uncasines while on board the French; when Captain Webb left his vessel in the harbor to go on shore, he jumped into the boat and insisted upon accompanying him, which he did As soon as a landing had been effected, he

THE MURDERER ARRESTED. The Chinaman, Jackalow, was arrested Monday afternoon at the Hackensack Railroad bridge, about four miles from Jersey City, to await further action of the authorities On his person was found a small sack and a stocking containing $396 80, of which $327 was in gold.

Ground has been broken in Chicago for the great wigwam for use during the Republican Convention. It is to completed within 30 days, and will contain room for 8,000 people.

NEW DRESS! APPROACH OF SPRING!! NEW DRESS! APPROACH OF SPRING!!

The approach of Spring is hailed with joy by everybody. Even mature is auxious to change her dormant state as quick as possible, and already the fields begin to wear their green aspects, in order to remind us to change our labits. To save time, is to save money; we therefore will say in a few well-meant words, for a decent suit of SPRING CLOTHING, go to Jacob Tuck's Union Clothing Store. He receives new goods every week; his prices are as low as any in the city, and no one need go in a shabby suit while there is an opportunity offered to buy a whole suit, made of fashionable materials, at a very low figure. Call at the store opposite the Post Office for coats, pants, vest, and Hats; there you are to get suited in quality, style and price.

PHILADELPHIA. Cash price $45 per 2,000 lbs. (21 cts. per lb.)

Cash price $45 per 2,000 lbs. (24-cts. per lb.)

In the preparation of this Valuable Manure, BONES ARE USED IN THEIR RAW STATE ONLY. They have never been nouted on calcines. They are taken as haure has made them, crushed with powerful Machinery, and subjected to a process, by which all the virtue of the bone is retained, a fertilizer is procured, furnishing in a concentrated and soluble form the two indispensable ingredients for the growth of Plants and enriching the soil, viz: phosphoric acid and ammonia. These two ingredients, by the use of "BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE," are given to the soil in all their original strength and purity. They assimilate at once with the soil, furnish all the needful Ammonia for the growing crop, giving it ample luxuriance, and leave the land permanently benefited so that its presence can be traced for years afterwards.
