THE RIVER OF DEATH.

There's many a holy and rapturous strain To the weary who wait, like the ripened grain, For the touch of the Resper's breath. There are flashes of light on each lifted wave, As it glides from the further shore, To the shadowy border our tear-drops lave, In the lull of the water's roar

There are harp-strings, stirred by the perfumed air. And gushing with melody sweet, Like the whispered uotes of a child at prayer, In the hush of the twilight deep. They hear the low music so solemn and grand, And heed not the eddying tide, For they catch a gleam of the forms that stand By the stream on the other side.

And we see a light on the caim white brow, Like the glow of the crimson morn: But we see not the lips on the lids of snow, All the night we deem so long; And we only know when we hear no more. As we watch for the passing breath, That an angel is swiftly bearing them down The banks of the River of Death-Only know that their footsteps are pressing to the shore that their brightness laves; And ever their bosoms fresh garlan is we lay, And a lily we twine in their hair-Fit emblems of beouty, now blighted they say, Those garlands and lily buds are.

I call it not blighted—I deem them not dead Who thus pass away in their bloom; For they rest in their beauty where tears are not she O'er the darkness and blight of the tomb. And oft. as I sit at the casement alone. I list, if perchance I may hear; Through the stately pines as they sway and moan, Like a child at the shrouded bier, The flutter of sails and the rushing of waves, And the flash of a gilded oar, As the Reaper starts from his emerald caves To carry me down to the shore: And I wait for the swoop of an angel wing.

For the sound of a harp and the chant of a hymn, And the light of the glory-land. But alas! I listen and wait in vain; Yet I know that my weary feet Shall wander ere long from the valley of pain, To the river so solemn and sweet. I shall go with the Reaper, changeless and pale, And each woe that my heart has known,

Each agonized cry, each desolate wail; Fari fearf and pitcous moan, enall be washed away by the numerous waves, From my spirit so joyous and free, When I see the smile of the lovely who wall On the beautiful shore for me.

A CALIFORNIA TRIAL.

A fellow named Donks was lately tried at Lubagiavous or word aust, valued at eightyfour dollars. The testimony showed that he ad once been employed there, and knew on the night of October 18th he cut a slit in the tent, reaching in, took the bag, and Jim Bullet, the principal witness, testified that he saw the hole cut, saw the man reach in, and heard him run away. "I put f r him at once," continued the witness, "but when I coched him I didn't find Bill's bag; but it was found afterwards where he had throwed it." Counsel for the Prisoner.-How far did he get in when he took the dust?

Bulley --- Well. he was stoopin' overabout half in, I should say. Counsel - May it please your honor, the indictment isn't sustained, and I shall demand an acquittal on direction of the court. the prisoner is on trial for entering a dwelling in the night time with intent to steal .-The testimony is clear, that he made an opening, through which he protruded himself about half way, and, stretching out his arms, committed the theft. But the indictment charges that he actually entered the tent, or dwelling. Now your honor, can a man enter a house, when only one half of his body is in, and the other half out?

Judge. - I shall leave the whole matter to the jury. They must judge of the law and facts as proved.

The jury brought in a verdict of "guilty, as to one half of his body, from the waist up, and "not guilty," as to the other half.
The judge sentenced the guilty half to two year's imprisonment, leaving it to the prisoner's opinion to have the not guilty half cut off or take it along with him. A judgment, we think, worthy of Solomon.

Religious Depression and Consequent Morbid State of Mind.

The cause of that unhappy and morbid state of mind usually called Religious depression is in many, the want of an object for the mind to exhaust its energies upon, seem to suffer much if they have no occupation, though they do seem to suffer if they have one that is very exacting. There are lect in the pond during the night, or else they could not run the mill in the daytime. The brains of some people are in the same condition. JAMES B. FERGUSON, Editor. The unusual length of our New York correspondence, compels us descr an interesting communication from Mauricetown, and considerable other matter.

We are requested to say that there will be a Camp Meeting held near Porch's Mill, about a mile and a half from Franklinville. Gloucester Co., under the supervision of the Presiding Elder of Bridgeton District, commencing on Monday next, the 13th inst. and closing on the following Saturday.

By reference to advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Mr Richard Barker & Son are prepared to supply Soap and Candles from their manufactory, in Washington St. We would recommend them to the trade of this and adjoining counties, as worthy of liberal patronage.

The inhabitants of one of our country villages, not a hundred miles from Bridgeton, were agreeably surprised on Monday last, at the arrival of one of their most prominent men, in company with a noble specimen of New England's fair daughters. Having left word on his departure, a short time previous, that he was going to see the "Great Eastern," they did not dream that he would bring the fair Eastern home with him as his bride. The circumstance created no small amount of village gossip. We congratulate the widower on his good luck in winning such a "prize."

Such is Life!

There is still another love matter, nearer nome, about which people talk a good deal just now. One of the illustrated journals recently announced that our worthy Mayer, Fernando Wood, was about to be joined in Crean, sister to Mrs. James Gordon Bennett. Both of these ladies are celebrated in the social world as exceedingly accomplished and charming, and to receive invitations to their splendid receptions and tetes. is the ambition of many of the fairest and proudest of both sexes. It is whispered that the union of the Mayor with Miss Crean will be delayed for some time, but that when it does occur, it will be one of the most magnificent occasions of the kind that New York ever saw. The announcement of the coming festivity was copied by several of the daily journals, and afterward positively denied, as being destitute of the slightest foundation .-Whether true or false, a denial would be made, of course, so the report need not be considered false until some more definite and official refutation appears. In the meanwhile, from some little facts that have come to my personal knowledge, I should advise the beaux and belles who move in the same circles with the suppositious happy pair, to keep themselves in readiness for a grand time in the future. GOTHAMUS.

From the Newark Daily Advertiser. THE BRIDGE DECISION. Passaic and Hackensack Bridge Co. vs. Newark and Hoboken Railroad.

TRENTON, July 31st, 1860. The opinion read by Chancellor GREEN in this case yesterday was a very able examination o the various questions discussed on the argument The following abstract is intended only to give its substance and effect. After giving a succinc history of the enectments relating to ferries and bridges between Newark and New York prior to 1790, the Chancellor adverted specially to the provisions of the act of Nov., 1790, under which the complainants claim the right to prevent the erection of the bridge in question. The operative words of the act relied on by the complainants as giving them an exclusive right to con rivers below certain points, are found in the fifteenth section, as follows: "And he it enacted, &c., That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever, to erect or cause to be elected, any other bridge or bridges, over or across * * the said river Hackensack, at any place or places between the mouth of said river and the place where Kingsland creek empties into the same (with a similar clause relating to the Passaic, between the mouth thereof and Second River); Provided always, that if the said commissioners, or some person under them, shall refuse or neglect for the space of four years, to erect said-bridges, &c., it shall be lawful for the Legislature to repeal or alter this act, and to chact such other law touching the premises, as they shall think equitable and expedient."

struct bridges over the Passaic and Hackensack

The act of 1790 die not incorporate any comnany to build the bridges in nestion, but authorzed certain public commissioners named therein, either to build the bridges by means of donations, or to farm them out to private parties. to is built, as in their discretion they should see the Chancellor (Walworth) added: fit; and the act contained amongst other things the provision that the bridges to be built under it, should continue the property of the persons therein mentioned, their executors, administra- other, by an improvement which was entirely untors or assigns for the term of 99 years from the date of the act (Nov. 24, 1780.) The Commissioners not being able to exact the bridges by donation, in 1793 leased out their of erecting a toll-bridge across the river, this construction and use for the residue of the 99 schequent grant to the Railroad Company to years, to certain private parties, 37 in all. In cross the river with their railway from Schenee-1794 these parties procured an act to extend for six months the time for finishing the bridges; and in 1797 they were incorporated into a comthat time the bridge company have continued to the privileges conferred by such prior grant; as maintain the bridge and have been in the exclusection of the act of 1790, except where they first company. Grants of exclusive privileges have voluntarily consented to an erection of othroad and the plank road.

The Chancellor observed that it was somewhat singular that the question of the validity of

The complainants contend that the act 1790, together with the lease of 1798, and the act of incorporation of 1797, constituted a conthey should have the exclusive right to erect bridges over the Passaic and Hackensack, within the limits and during the period aforesaid.— The defendants deny this right, and also contend that, if it exists, nevertheless the bridge they are about to build is no infringement of of the right. The Chancellor then proceeded to onsider,

1. The several objections raised by the defendants to the existence of the contract claimed by the complainants. 1. The defendants contend that the Bridge Co. were no parties to the contract; that they were not incorporated by the act of 1790, which alone gives the exclusive right claimed; and that the mmissioners named in that act, were merely public trustees, who had no private rights whatever under the law, but acted as agents of the State, with a compensation for their services the exclusive franchise was claimed, was gene- es, the conclusion was also reached, that compen ral in its terms—and just as applicable to the lessees of the bridge as if they had been named ted, which would be infringed by the structure and incorporated by the act. It is immaterial in what form the public faith is pledged; the mportant question in all such cases is, has it Chancellor that the bill should be dismissed, with been pledged, and have parties acted upon the costs. faith of that pledge? In this case the lessees were clearly entitled to claim the benefits of the pledges given in the original act, unless they were expressly excluded therefrom. Hence the Chancellor deemed this objection invalid. 2. It was objected that the section itself bore none of the marks of a contract. It was a mere law, an enactment: "it shall not be lawful," &c., and being a mere law, the Legislature could repeal it whenever they saw fit. The answer to this objection is, that this is a common form in which the public faith is pledged. It was thus pledged in the case of the Trenton Delaware idge Company in 1801, the Delaware and Raritan Canal Company in 1830, and the Camden and Amboy Railroad Co. in 1831; and in all these cases it had always been held that the words, to a pledge of the public faith; and this the Chancellor thought was the true construction of the language in question. 2. It was objected that this contract for an exclusive franceise was not contained in the lease made by the Commissioners to the lessees. But the act of 1790 is general, pledging the public faith that no other bridge should be built took the lease on the faith of this pledge; and their lease does not expressly reserve this exclusive franchise it must be deemed to belong to the lessees.

4. It was objected that the lessees forfcited the State pledge by neglect to build the bridges within the four years. The Chancellor said it did not clearly appear from the case that the bridge was not built within the four years -But if it was not, yet the Legislature, before the expiration of that period, and therefore beore any forfeiture could have occurred, extendd the time for six months longer. Instead of aking advantage of any laches or forfeiture, he Legislature expressly gave more time. This

5. It was objected that the complainants had forfeited their exclusive right by consenting to the erection of other bridges, the New Jersey Railroad and Plankroad bridges But how a consent to erect one bridge should be construed into a consent to build others, or into the waver of a right to prevent the erection of others, the Chancellor said he could not conceive. It might as well be said that a farmer, by consenting that one man might cross his farm, opened it to the passage of all the neighborhood.

The Chancellor therefore came to the conclusion that a contract for an exclusive right does exist, and that the complainants are entitled to the benefit of it, and have not furfeited it by any acts or neglect of their's
II. The next question, therefore, is: Will the structure contemplated by the defendants interfere with this contract? Is it such a bridge as clearly comes within the prohibition of the act of

On this point it is proper to remark that the complainants have not strictly a monopoly of building bridges anywhere within the limits covered by their exclusive franchise. For they can erect only the one bridge on each river. No authority is given them to erect any but the one bridge, in the one place selected by the Commissioners. Therefore the mere building of a structure, and giving it the name of a bridge, cannot ant's franchise. The substantial grant to the complainants was the exclusive right to take tall for passing travelers, &c., over the rivers Passaic and Hackensack, by means of bridges within the limit-designated in the act. Now whether any particular structure will or will not amount to an nfringement of that franchise must be determined by examining the intent and object of the privileges thus granted, and the nature and object of the structure in question.

In 1790 the modern modes of locomotion were unknown. Railroad facilities, as now enjoyed by the public, were not dreamed of. The bridges which the complainants were authorized to erect had no reference to these improved modes of tayel, but to the ordinary modes of travel on foot, and with horses, cattle, carriages and other common vehicles. And the bridges which were prohibited were of the same character. The defendants do not contemplate the erection of a to: bridge or a free bridge for the passage of man or beast, but a viaduct, as a part of a line of railway, for the phonese of tranchise for taking tolls for the passage of locomotives and trains of railroad cars. Their bridges are only adapted to ordinary travel; they are not adapted to the passage of locomotives and cars. If converted to any such purpose, they would have to be abandoned for ordinary travel. The charter of the New Jersey Railroad Company, in authorizing that Company to purchase the turnpike roads and bridges along their route, expressly provides that the bridges over the rivers Hackensack, Pas-saic and Raritan, shall be preserved without obstruction as public roads. The bridges when built were to be opened and free for the passage of all persons offering the proper toll; but surely they are only free to such as travel in the ordinary mode; they are not public and free for locomotives and trains of cars. Hence, it was concluded, that the structure in question is no such bridge as was contemplated by the Legislature in granting to the complainants (he exclusive rights which they enjoy; and therefore, it will not be an infringment of rights. The substance of the complainant's franchise is the right to take tolls for crossing the river. The defendants have no right to take tolls. and no right to take persons or property free of toll, from one side of the river to the other.— They merely have a right to cross the river with their railroad—by a structure not within the meaning of the act of 1790.

We must remember that public grants are to be strictly construed in favor of the public; especially when, like the present, they narrow the powers or abridge the functions of the govern-

In support of these views, the Chancellor cited the cases of the Mohawk Bridge Co. vs. Utica and Schenectady R. R. Co., 6 Paige's R. 564. In that W. Wheat $1 35 ets. case the legislature had protected the Bridge R. Wheat 1 20 " Company in the enjoyment of an exclusive right | Old Corn, to carry passengers across the Mohawk river at | New Corn, Schenectady, to a certain extent, by prohibiting others from estrblishing a ferry within a certain distance; and the Court held that this did not prevent a future legislature from authorizing another bridge within the prescribed limits. But

"Much less is the Legislature deprived of the ower to provide for the conveyance of freight r passengers from one part of the State to anknown at the time when the grant to the Bridge Company was made. And if that grant had in terms given to the corporation the exclusive right tady to Utica, and to transport passengers thereon in the ordinary course of their business in the conveyance of travelers from one place to another, would not have been an infringement of the case of New Jersey Rail-the State or to its citizens generally, they must be construed strictly, and with reference to the intent and particular objects of the grant." This case was cited with approbation in the

this right had hever been seriously disputed in the Courts until the argument of the present | Harlem R. R. Co. 3 Sandford's Rep., 657, in which the Vice Chancellor held substantially the same views. And in the case of McRee v. The Wilmington R. R. Co., 2 Jones' Law Rep. (N Carr), 186, a case almost precisely like the now before the Court, a railroad bridge was held be no infringement of an exclusive franchise of erecting a toll-bridge granted in 1766.

It is material to add that in this case, the proposed bridge is not intended as an evasion or vic ation of the complainants' franchise; but mere y as a part of the structure of the railroad line be laid between Newark and Hoboken. The Chancellor, therefore, concluded that the bridge in question is no violation of the franchise of the complainants.

Tel. But the complainants contend that the legislature has frequently recognized their exclusive right as applicable to bridges of all kinds; and that in the Hoboken Company's act of 1860, authorizing the railroad for which the proposed bridge is to be erected, the legislature required that compensation should be given to the Bridge Company for the erection of bridges across the Passaic and Hackensack. He added, that whilst his own views were clear and decided, he could not shut his eyes to the fact that another tribunal, to which the parties had a right to resort, might differ in opinio from him: and therefore he deemed it proper t from his decision, he would, in order to give them an opportunity of so doing, award a temporary injunction, to continue until the end of the next Court of Errors, on condition that the complainants took their appeal at once, and stipulael to bring the case on for hearing at the next erm, and file security to pay to the defendants the damages they might sustain by the delay. In accordance with these views a-decree was igned, dismissing the bill with costs, and a seperate order made for the issuing of a temporar pjunction upon the terms indicated by the Chan llor; a bond the amount of $50,000 being re quired to be filed by the complainants as securi ty for the damages which the defendants may incur by the delay caused by the temporary injunc-

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

the Chancellor of New Jersey on Monday. 31st ensack Bridge Co., and the Hoboken Land and Improvement Co. It will be recollected that the egislature of N. J., last winter authorized the Hoboken Co. to construct a railaoad from Newark to Hoboken, with the necessary viaducts across Co applied to the Chancellor to enjoin the building of the viaducts, on the ground that it would be an infringement of their exclusive privileges granted by the law of 1790. The Hoboken Co., denied the existence of any exclusive privileges and further alleged that if any such did exist their contemplated structure would be no infringe ment, because they were to be railway viaducts merely, and not Toll bridges. The Chancellor on the first point decided in favor of the Bridge companies, sustaining their monopoly, and on he second point in favor of the Hoboken Company, that their proposed structure being via-ducts, and not Toll-bridges, were not within the conopoly grant of the complainants,

The opinion of the Chancellor is said to uphold forcibly the plighted faith of the State, and must have the effect to strengthen all exclusive rights now existing in New Jersey, and to confirm her long established policy in relation to public improvements .- N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

HEARING from various sources numerous reports in regard to my future continuance in the Dry Goods business, I deem it a duty I owe to my friends and the public generally, to correct the wrong impression that seems to be resting upon the minds of many, and in so doing I will say that it has never been my intention to renounce the business, as some of my would be friends have endeavered to leave the impression. I will say further that I shall carry on the Dry Goods business in all its branches, as heretofore, at the old stand of C. S. HO! FOR FORTESCUE.

This celebrated watering place, so famous

I for its delicious oysters and splendid bathing ground, is now open for the reception of visitors. No pains will be spared to render it all that it should be, for the comfort, convenience and enjoyment of all that may come.

The establishment is at all times supplied with Oysters and Fish of a superior quality, fresh from the water, as well as fresh garden vegetables.

Sportsmen will be furnished with the necessary apparatus for Gunning and Fishing at any time of the year.

There are attached a large is all room, and a first rate ten-pin alley, where visitors can enjoy themselves to their heart's content.

The bathing ground cannot be surpassed anywhere—It is easy of access, with a good road and pathway leading to it; a beautiful sand beach, without undertow, sting-rays or sharks as drawbacks. All, indeed, who have visited it long for a return for the bathing season that they may there again luxuriate.

Fortescue is located on the Delaware Bay, in Cumberland County, 15 miles below Bridgeton, accessible to visitors by stages from Philadelphia to Newport, where hacks will be ready to c. nvey them to the Island for 37% cents.

A liberal discount made to dealers.

In the preparation of this Valuable Manure, BONES ARE USED IN THEIR RAW STATE ONLY. They have never been boiled on Caleixed. They are taken as nature has made them, crushed with powerful machinery, and subjected to a process, by which, while all the virtue of the Bone is retained, a Fernizer is procured, furnishing in a concentrated and soluble form the two indispensable ingredients for the growth of Plants and enriching the soil, viz. prospinger acto AND AMMONIA. These two ingredients, by the use of "BAUGH'S RAW RONE SUPER PHOSPHATE," are given to the soil in all their original strength and purity. They assimilate at once with the soil, iturnish all the needful Ammonia for the growing crop, giving it ample luxuriance, and leave the land permanently, benefited so that its presence can be traced for years afterwards.

Card. The stendily increasing demand which has followed the Raw Bone Super-Phosphate of Lime Raw Bone Super-Phosphate of Lime is a marked proof that the Farmer and Planter are beginning to appreciate the value of such Fertilizers, as not only produce the first crop but also permanently improve the soil; and on this point we have abundant or idence from these who prefer its use to that of Peruvian Gauno. Since the introduction of our article we have continually desired to farnish a Manure combining ALL the unpurtant constituents of Raw Rones, and we have accommished this by a process originating with and used only partant constituents of Raw Rones, and we have accomplished this by a process originating with, and used only by, ourselves.

MOTICE FURNITURE.

H. F. HOOVER respectfully informs his customers of Bridgeton, and the people of Camberland county, in want of Furniture, that they will find it gicarly to their advantage to purchase at his Warehouse, where they will find a largo stock of the modern styles to select from. The subscriber begs to say that his facilities for manufacturing, and buying his materials for cash—and having no apprentices, but employing the best workmen—enables him to offer great inducements to those in want of really good Furniture at low paices, as he much prefers the "minble sixpense" to the "slow shilling." All goods bought at his Warchouse will be warranted, and if intended for the country, will be packed with care and dispatched.

CONSUMPTION has destroyed more of the human famility than any other disease, and the best physiciaus for many years have deepaired of furnishing a cure, or remarked that would heal the lungs; yet for more than two hundred years the whole medical world has been continued that there is a mysicrious power and efficacy in the Pine Tree Tar to heal the Lungs; therefore, they have recommended the use of tar water, which in many cases, had a good effect, but how to combine its medical properties so ax to heal the Lungs, has ever been a mystery, until it was discovered by L. Q. C. Wishart, the proprietor of Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, and has been put in bottles patented by the U. S. Government. We say to the slok it cleanses the blood of its gro-s impurities, touches every morre, and restores the whole system to health and vigor. Many have been cured in a short time, that have lingered for years without relief, and could you but stand at the counter of the store, No. 16 South Third-Street, for one week, and hear the afflicted tell of the wondrous and healing power of the Pine Tree Tar Cordial, you would be satisfied that it does all that is claimed for it. This Cordial will cure Consumption, Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Breach, Bronchitts, Dryspepsia, Liver Complaint, Weak Stomach, Asthma, Gravel, Disease of the Kidney, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Nervous Debility, Dropsy, Falpitation of the Heart, &c. The subscriber, having purchased E. Pancoast's interest in this line, is now sole proprietor, and intends to spare no pains in making this the best and most desirable line to Philadelphia.

I take pleasure in introducing Mr. GEO. SHAW to the traveling public, not only as a good driver and horseman, but as a good and reliable business man, and one whose pleasure will be to make his passengers comfortable.

If the traveling community will extend their patrosage to this line, they shall have the very best accommedations that can be had in the way of horses and coaches—
There will the four horse coaches run for the present, and if the business's warrants it they will be continued. It is now for the people to say, by their patronage, whether they will have a first-rate line or not.
