A GOOD DIALOGUE.

[The scene of the following interesting dialogue is that of two farmers on opposite ides of a fence. Mr. Smith, who has beside him a basket of very small potatoes, is leaning on the fence looking wistfully over at Mr. Jones, who is digging a splendid crop of bg potatoes. A picture of the scene was prepared with the original dia-logue, and should be here, but we have not the engraving at hand. The dialogue is very fine large pictures, which are worth pleasing and instructive, and should be read by every one.)

!The Potatoes, they are small. Smith - How is it, neighbor Jones, that your potatoes are so large and fine, while just over the fence. on similar soil, mine are as small as pullets' eggs, and precious few at that?

Jones .- I manured this field with brains. Smith. - Pshaw! all the Cincinnatti hogtillers couldn't supply brains enough for his ten-acre field Jones.-I used human brains, of which here are plenty.

Jones. — Providence helps those who help themselves. I used my own brains on this Smith - So did I mine, and they are as good as anybody's. Jones -Ah! there's the trouble. You know it all yourself; I don't and so I get all the outside help I can. I've been collecting other men's brains for my land for twenty humbugs, telling how sharpers take the adyears, and you see one result in this crop.

Smith. - Yes, I see the result, but I don't understand it.

Jones. - Well, when we began here 20 cars ago, I thought myself a good farmer, but I believed others had good ideas, too. and I made it my business to get at their thoughts; some I found in agricultural books and papers, others I picked up at the County Fairs, by asking how the big things were raised, and often I've got a good hint

Jones-I'll give you my experience; it may aid you. About nineteen years ago I heard that some men who had been brought up on farms had clubbed together, and one of them was going to publish a paper, which should consist mainly of how different farmers cultivated various crops, and such like matters. I sent for the paper and have done so every year since, and now I have nineteen large volumes, every page of which I have read, a little at a time, and the whole has not cost the produce of a single acre. Why I am astonished when I climate, suit your wants? Jones-Why, no, not exactly perhaps .-But then, every thought I get from another, starts a new though in my own mind, and thus I am constantly improving my own many potatoes to dig, I cannot get the time. skill and practice. You see, I get all the My sister-in-law in lowa, got up a club last brains I can from other men's heads, and compost them well in my own head with a Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine; an old mixture of common sense, and then make the application to my fields. In that way, good farming implements, and a young ne-I have manured this crop of potatoes with phew of mine in Ohio got a beautiful copy plenty of brains. von will be more likely to read it. You ment. will find hundreds of plain talks about varions kinds of crops, during a single year. One hint gave five bushels of corn on each acre of a large field in a single year.

Smith-I can't afford to take it this year. Jones-You would think nothing of spending two cents a week for extra tobacco, or a cigar, or candy, and that's all the paper will How little a week it costs to supply yourself and family with a large amount of information through any good paper. Smith-What are the politics of that

Jones—It doesn't touch politics. It is devoted to such subjects as Field and Garden crops, Animals, etc., and has, beside, a good deal about Woman's Work, which, wife says, is worth more than ten times the few pounds of butter it costs to pay for the paper. Then there is also a department for the young folks containing many things which please the children-not mere trashy stuff, such as is too often printed for them. but information that will have a good influence on them. I would sell a dozen bushels of wheat to have my young people get the good reading in that paper, but the average price of one bushel will pay for it a year: My John says he can pay for it easy with the eggs from two or three hens. If I was a mechanic or merchant and had only a little garden. I should take the paper to tell me how to make the best use of the little plot; and if I hadn't a foot of land I should still want it for my wife and children. Smith-Does the editor know anything ibout farming? Jones-The editor who owns and pubishes the paper was brought up on a farm, where he learned to work. He has studied all the books on farming, and experimented for years in the laboratory, and has besides. traveled all over the country to see what was doing. Then he has several associates ed stream. At the summit of this you are -Farmers, Gardeners, and Housekeepers, who know what they write about, and among them all they do gather up a wonderful lot of information every year. The language, oo, is so plain, so like talking with you, that I enjoy reading it. Then, too, every paper has engravings, which show one exactly how animals and plants, and implements, and household furniture look, much Among these are plans of buildings, that one to plan others; and also man more than the cost of a whole volume. Smith-I suppose the e engravings and descriptions are partly to help the editor sell implements or fertilizers.

Jones - Not at all. The editor keeps nothing of the sort to sell, so that he may be perfectly free to praise or condemn any thing, according as it may be valuable or worthless to his readers. You would laugh to see how he comes down on poor inventions, patent manures, and all kinds of humbugs. Smith-Is the paper adapted to our part of the country? Jones—Exactly Soils and crops and climates differ, but the general principles Smith. Nonsense-now don't make fun of cultivation are the same everywhere, of me because I'm unlucky, and Providence and here is the benefit of a paper published for the whole country. Every reader gets new ideas by learning what is done somewhere else; and further. I find that the paper has letters from every part of the country, and one or more associate editors in lifferent section, so that we get information from many regions and our own too. One thing I must mention particularly. The edvantage of people. Why, I was just going to send a dollar for an article advertised in glowing colors, when I found it shown up as a humbug in this paper. But I can not stop to talk more now-I have such a lot of patatoes to harvest. Smith—I wish I had. I must try that paper a year and see what there is in it. I an manage to save two cents a week. Jones-Never fear. If you don't find it

Smith—What did you say the paper was called?

Jones - The American Agriculturist. It living in the country, finds he can publish it cheaper there, where printing, and paper, Smith—How shall I get it?

Jones-Simply enclose a dollar bill in a letter, giving your name, Post Office, County, and state plainly, and direct to ORANGE JUDD, 41 Park-Row, New York City.

Smith-When does a volume begin? Jones - The twentieth volume begins Jan. 1st, but all who send in the dollar now, get the remaining numbers of this year, in addition to the whole of next year's. OTTAWA CITY, Sept. 23. 1860. MR. EDITOR:-The falls in River du civre at Buckingham being clear from the forest, are open to the sun, and can be approached and viewed from any point. Rush ng down a regular descent, having an inclination of about forty-five degrees, the stream is dushed and broken by its uneven hed into infinite vivid particles constantly flung upwards, athwart and in curves, making fice cy swellings on the descending river, which appear like the crispation of a summer lit cloud. Very bright looked the beautiful earth to her then, and the future seemed opening with delightful prospects; for he, to whom she had given that boundless store of love, had, that morning, told her that she was dearer to him than aught of earth beside, and had asked her to share life's joys and sorrows with him; and while he had gone to consult her father, she had flown to her mo ther's side, to receive her blessing upon this newly found joy. Very calmly did the mother listen to the outpouring of that glad young heart, and a prayer went up, silently, to Him who holdeth the destinies of all his known. creatures, that He would keep her darling child from the temptations and ills of life. ## To Raise Good Onion Seed.

Many persons find a difficulty in raising onion seed of a good quality in this climate. Either the season does not seem long enough or else the hot weather comes on before the seed becomes sufficiently matured. To remedy this, set the onions out in the fall, in October. Select good onions and a light, mellow soil, and place them in drills or trenches about five inches deep. Then cover them up loosely with about four inches of dirt, upon which place a light coat of manure. They will come up earlier in the Spring while the seed will be of much better quality. This plan will cost but very little labor and is well worth a trial. Many of the seeds of all kinds procured at the seed stores are very uncertain about coming up. There seems to be a mixing of old and new seed by many dealers, which probably delence to the bereaved family, with a copy of the above Resolutions, and that they be published is the cause of uncertainty. Another cause is the change of seed from one latitude to another. Farmers would find it much to their advantage to raise more of their own seed carefully and then interchange with each other. It seems to be a law of nature that every plant and person must pass thro' a period of acclimation.

The Cumberland County Musical Association held its Seventh Annual Convention in this town on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday last, closing with a grand concert. Harmony prevailed throughout all the sessions which were well attended.

LECTURES. Are we to have a course of lectures, this winter, beside that of the Young Men's Christian Association? That course will, no doubt, be interesting. The object is a good one, and the clergymen who gratuitously furnish these lectures deserve much praise—yes, they deserve what is better, a full house. But we need other lectures than these. A town of the size of Bridgeton, with the literary taste and culture there is, or ought to be, should certainly sustain, and well sustain, a course of lectures given by some of the most noted men of the times. Don't let us have three or four lectures given by the Rev. A. A. Willits, each one "the best ever delivered in Bridgeton," but why not try to have one given by him, and others by some other men, perhaps equally as good as he. Why can't we, once in a while, have a lecture by such a man as Beecher. J. G. Holland (Timothy Titcombe), or David Paul Brown, or a poem by Park Benjamin? Isn't there money or interest enough in Bridgeton to support such a course? If the former article be wanting, we'll hush up and say no more about it. But if it be the interest that is lacking, why, then we are sorry for it, and yet feel like trying to see if we can't get up some. We expect if we had the faith that would move mountains we might succeed. Maybe we can anyhow.

Their labor was agricultural. In Prince George's County, Maryland, the demand was made for several thousand of them at twenty-five cents per head a month, with stipulation that they were to be returned in in the tobacco fields, in assisting the farmer to rid the plant of the numerous worms to which it is subject at certain seasons of the year. This worm they are very fond of, and hunt for it among the plants with great avidithe agriculturist. A flock of one hundred turkies, at this rate, would bring in quite a revenue to a small family. Seventy-five dollars for three months labor, besides the advantage of coming from their labor fat and healthy, to be prepared readily for market, has given him mere not oriety than any other one As a drawback to this, the same writer remarks that after the performance of their summer labor, "the turkies will be almost as good chewing as the tobacco." Truck Farm AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE subscriber offers at private sale the farm on which he now resides, situate in Millville Township, on the road leadir g from Millville to Mauricetown, 3½ miles from the thriving village of Millville, the terminus of the Millville and Glassboro' Railroad, now in operation, and which will be complete to Philadelphia by next Spring. It adjoins lands of Thomas S. Ferguson and William Hayley, and is commonly known as a part of the Craig Place, containing 77 acres, more or less, nearly one third of which is good bank meadow, adjoining Maurice River. There is a natural landing where lime or other fertilizers can be landed, or produce shipped. The upland is a light sandy loam, well suited for early truck. It is a well-known fact that truck can be raised a week or ten days earlier there than in the upper part of the state, and with a daily communication with Philadelphia. It is a very desirable property for one wishing to raise early truck. There is a good apple-orchard on the place, with the usual variety of other fruit and grapes. Glass sand is supposed to abound on the place, there is also an almost inexhaustible bed of fine clay, suitable for brick, tiles or earthenware. The buildings consist of a good frame Dwelling House, a barn, nearly new, wagon-house and other out buildings. There is a well of good water in front, and a never-failing spring of water at the back of the house.

The above farm will be sold at a low price, if applied for soon. Possession given as soon as the crops are gathered. Stock and Farming Utensils and the grain in the ground will be sold with the place if desired. Title good. Terms easy. For particulars call on the subscriber living thereon.

I beg bave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wises and Ligtons, imported by Udolpho Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this conner, for the purity of his eclebrated 8 medam Schnapps. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Legnors, says: I will stake my reputation as a man, my stabiling as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which. I bottle are pure as imported, and of the bost quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at Retail by all Abothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia.

George H. Ashton, No. 832 Market 81. Philadelphia.

Read the following from the New York Contier:

Enormous Brainess for eve New York Contier:

Enormous till the proper of the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality—we do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchants extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or clizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse. Nos. 18, 20 and 22. Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21. Marketticle's street. His stock of Schingpies on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases: the Brandy, some ten thousand cases of Madeira. Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Iring Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy. Wine ac. in casks, under Custom-House Key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sale of Schinapps last year announted to one hu arism seminaps as year amounted to one nundred an eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two cars he may be equally successful with his Brandie and Winos and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquots for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Welle, until every Anotherary in the land make up toeir minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Lionous. we understand Mr. Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of wind dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a maniand such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of op-ponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imita-tions, rainous alike to human health and happiness. THE subscribers would direct the attention of farmers and others to their increased facilities for manufacturing superior WOOLEN GOODS, such as Samens, Coths, Blankets, Horse Blankets, Flannels, Stocking and Carpet Yarn. We manufacture a durishle article, of the best quality, and at low prices. We guarantee our goods not only to be equal to the imported in texture, but to stand hard wear much better. Mechanics and laboring men generally would find it to their advantage to put chase of us, instead of weiging foreign goods which will do them no adequate service.

We will pay the highest market prices for WOOL, which can be sent to our Factory at Bridgeton, or Allowaystown, and there manufactured to order, or cash paid. Also, all wool left with Daniel Sheppard, agent at Greenwich, will be gromptly attended to.

We do not buy up this staple on speculation, and therefore, whilst paying fore, whilst paying Cash for Wool. at the highest rates, we insist that a preference should be freely extended to home manufacturers, and claim that, since no loss is incurred, we should have a priority among wool growers, or those who have wool to sell.

A Private Salc.

A Lichat certain Farm, situated in the Township of Downe. County of Cumberland N. J., on the road leading from Buckshutem to Shaw Millis, 3½ miles from Buckshutem, 5 miles from Millville, 6 from Newport, and known as a part of Mcklin property.

The farm contains 9½ arres—55 of improved land, and under fence in good repair, the balance in Sapling Timber. The land is of good quality, much adapted to the growth of grain and grass. It is divided into 5 fields.—There is about 30 acres of clover sord.

The building consists of 2 Dwelling Houses, one of them nearly new, well finished, a good cellar, an excellent well of water close by the door, 2 barns, one of them new, 30 by 48 feet, just finished, built of the best materials. The other is fixed for cattle, separate from the new one; also other necessary out-building all in good repair, a young apple and peach orehard, and other fruit trees, being carefully selected, and of the best kind.

The buildings being located in the central part of the farm, and the road running there through, makes it a very handsome situation. Terms easy.

For further information inquire of the subscriber, residing thereon.

Messrs. John Wilcox & Co.:—Your "Inpectine," or "Persian Fever Charm," has done wonders. I was wholly despondent and wretched when I spilled it, and in five hours the chills were removed and no fever has ensued. It is the simplest cure imaginable, and a wonder of nature or art. I would not be without this "Inpectine," a single hour. By constantly wearing it I seem to be "ague proof.

Yours Very Truly, E. M. STOUT.

CHESNUT GROVE WHISKEY. (The Purest Medicinal Agent ever known,) has furnish ed the community a Stimulant, Pure, Health il and In vigorating, at the same time a mild delicious beverage It is calculated to do away with the vile drugged stuff that is palmed off on the community, and which is injurious to body and mind. In addition to the certificates beneath, he has received a Diploma from the State Agricultural Society, and additional testimony from DR, JACK-SON, of Boston, who testifies under eath to its absolute purity.

Certificates. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9th. 1858.

We have carefully tested the sample of Chesnut Grove which you sent us, and find that it contains none of the Poisonous Substance known as Fusil Oil, which is the characteristic and intrins stic and injurious ing which is the characteristic and injurious ingredient of the whiskeys in general use.

BOOTH, GARRET & CAMAC,
Analytical Chemists.

New York, Sept. 3d. 1858.

I have analyzed a sample of Chesbut Grove Whiskey, received from Mr. Charles Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia, and having carefully tested it, I am pleased te state that it is entirely free from poisonous or deleterious substances. It is an unusually pure and fine flavored quality of whiskey.

Analytical Chemist, Bostos, March 7th, 1859.

I have made a chemical analysis of commercial samples of Chesnut Grove Whiskey, which proves to be free from the heavy Fusil Oils, and perfectly pure and unadulterated. The fine flavor of this Whiskey is derived from the Grain used in finantiscturing it. Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer, No. 16 Boylston Street.
