DRESSING FOR CHURCH.

Has anybody heard the bell! You have, dear me, I know full well I'll never dress in time. For mercy's sake, come help me, Jane; l make my toilet very plain, (This for the sake of rhyme.)

Here, lace this gaiter for me-do; "A hole," you say? plague take the shoe! Please, Janey, try and hide it. I know 'tis Sunday, but my soul, I cannot wear it with a hole! The men will surely spy it.

They're always peeping at my feet, Though to be sure they needn't peep, The way we hold our dresses. I'll disappoint them though to-day, "And cross myself! pray, did you say?

Don't laugh at my distresses. How beautifully this silk will rustle, Please hand my "self adjusting bastle," My corset and my hoop. There, now, I'll take five skirts or six: Do hurry, Jane, and help me fix-

You know I cannot stoop! "How shall I say my prayers, to day?" As if girls went to church to pray! How can you be so foolish? Here, damp this ribbon in cologne; "What for " to paint, you silly one-

Now, Janey, don't be mulish : It's no more harm that " lilly white"-(l'lease see if this cheek's painted right, And hand my box of chalk) Now, damp the towel, Janey dear,

Our readers who are acquainted with Mr. Alphonso Woodruff, of this town, will be gratified to learn that he has received his commission for Surrogate since the demise of Mr. H. R. Merseilles, being duly sworn into that office on Thursday evening last. Those who have husiness to transact with Mr. Woodruff, will find lim to be a very honorable and agreeable man, well qualified for the responsible position which has been conferred upon him.

Ross, aged about 78 years, an inmate of our County House, was found in the Shannon field, between this town and the County House, frozen to death, with a bottle of liquor by his side, one shoe off, and a cut on the forehead, as though he had been tossing about in a of the liquor traffic. Five deaths, only, have occurred at the Cumberland County Alms House during the past year. This speaks well for the kind attention paid the inmates. Our County Alms House is a model institution, and is kept in a manner unsurpassed by any in the State.

While referring to the subject, we are reminded that Mr. Henry Painter favored us with a lot of very handsome ones some time since, from his caloon, which we neglected, until now, to acknowledge the reception of. We would also remind our readers that the saloon lately occupied by Henry is now in the possession of Mr. S. R. He instructed the Grand Jury that the seizure of United States property and firing on the United States flag by persons owing allegiance to the United States, constituted high treason by levying war; that no State could absolve citizens from their allegiance to the General Government; and that neither South Carolina nor any other State could legally war against their Government; that not only those who, acting under authority of difterent States, have seized the forts, arsenals and other Federal property, are guilty of lent them assistance by the sale to them of arms and munitions of war, or vessels, knowing that the same were to be used in resistance to the authority of the United States Government. He instructed the Grand Jury to inquire into and to indict and present for trial all persons who had in any way assisted the South Carolinians, by supplying them with arms, ammunition or other material of war, or by otherwise giving them aid and comfort in their armed resistance to the Government of the United States. The Judge went even farther than this, and directed the Grand Jury to present for trial all persons who had been aware of the giving of any treasonable assistance, and had neglected to inform the proper authorities

ing age, is the project of supplying cities and towns with heat, in the same, manner that they are now supplied with water and gas. Expertments, it is asserted, are now being made in portions of New York city, to test the matter fully. As is usual with inventors, the projector of the scheme is very sanguine of success. The plan proposed is to diffuse heated air, by means of pipes under ground, to any dwelling within prescribed distance of the furnace. In this country, ingenuity has been extended almost exclusively, in the direction of the economical and labor saving, rather than towards the merely ornamental. Hence more of the conveniences and comforts of life are diffused among the masses of the community than in any other region. Whilst new invention, it will hardly do to pronounce it entirely visionary and impossible, in view of the many apparently more impossible things that have been successfully performed. Heated air, or any heated substance so rapfit during the night. First I will speak of the sad state of things in our land, which I think has been brought on us by our want of love for what was left us by those who are now gone. It was the force of love; our love for him who was at our head, and his love for us, which that of love. It was that which brought Christ to the earth. It was that which made which now gives us hope for rest in the world to come. It is that which holds, as with a bond, man and wife, and chick and child. The Report of the Committee of 33. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The majority of the Committee of Thirty-three, in their report made to-day, propose an amendment to the Constitution, providing that no amendment thereto, interfering with slavery shall originate in any other State than a slaveholding state, and, to be valid, shall be ratified by every State in the Union. They also submit an enabling bill for the admission of New Mexico as a State, on au equal footing with the original States, and a Sugitive Slave bill, which gives the right of a trial by jury to the slave claiming liberty in the State whence he escaped, and releases any citizen from assisting the U.S. Marshals in the capture or detection of the fugitive, except where force is employed or apprehended for the release of the fugitive. The committee submit a joint resolution deprecating personal liberty bills, (but not by that name,) and requesting the Northern States to cause their statutes to be revised. in order that all hindrances to the just execution of the laws may be removed. The President is requested to communicate this resolution to the several States. They also report a series of resolutions recognizing no authority on the part of the people of one State to interfere with the institutions of another, and discountenancing all mobs and hindrances to the rendition of the fugitive slaves. They recognize no such sufficient cause, from any source, for a dissolution of the government. They were not sent here to destroy, but to harmonise, the institutions of the country, and see that equal justice is done to all parts of the same, and finally to perpetuate its existence on terms of equality and justice to all the States, As no propositions for interference with slavery in the District of Columbia, the U. S. dockyards, arsenals, &c., have reached the committee, they have not deemed it necessary to take action on the subject.

COMMENDATIONS:
From Hon. Lewis D. Campbell. M. C., of Ohio.
My family and friends all concur in the opinion that the (Newell) Picture is more life like than any thing they ever saw. My likeness has been repeatedly taken by different Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had one which presents so true to nature, all the features and expressions of countenance as this. From E. Jor Morris, late Ministor to Italy.

The equisite finish, beauty and softness of your portraits, consolined with their durability of color and fath-finness as likenesses, rainot full to commend them to the attention and patronage of all who appreciate true

The great colebrity and increasing demand for this unequaled proparation, convinces the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandrum and other cutaneous diseases, causing the fair to grow huxuriantly, giving it a fich soft, glossy and flexible appearance, and also where the hair is bossening and thinning, it will give, strength and vigor to the roots and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hatr.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other pregarations had failed. L. M. has in his passession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning until the latest period of life; and meases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original line; giving it a dark glossy appearance? As a perfume for the toplet and a Hair Restoraive it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the bair, which when moist with the Invigorator, can be dressed in any required form so as to presse verificales, whether relative it is called form so as to have extended to the pressery its place, whether relative it calls hence the Biscuit, Dried Fruit. Endrous Business for one New York and there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality.—We do not untend to give air claborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive varchouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22. Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 10 and 21. Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases: the Brandy, some ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. Healso had three large cellars, filled with Brandy. Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House Key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps plast year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors, or medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the accommodation of email dealers in the country, ruts un assorted eas the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed tenminutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other fermont; which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the broad more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards sconomy, as it has been ascertained that a raving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using Concentrated Leaven this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Farmentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 lbs., which, by the common method, ordinarily makes about 200 lbs. of bread, gives by this process 200 lbs., thus effecting a very important as ving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactorily.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts. Assayer to the State of Massachusette.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven, manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough, and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. The article is skilfully compounded, from perfectly pure material. It raises the dough without consuming the engar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, pulatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook. of the pastry cook.

"The experiment made by me confirm the statements made by the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

"Reprodults

Respectfully.
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer,
"10 Royiston Street, Boston, September 25, 1860."

Breakfast and Tei Rolls.—Two or three teaspoonsful of Leaven, (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve: rub in a piece of butter half the size of an egg, and make the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately in a hot oven bake quickly.
