PULPIT GRAVITY.

A mini-ter was preaching to a large congregation in one of the Southern States, on the certainty of the fature judgment. In the galary sat a colored girl, with a white up and down with commendable effort, to make baby understand the proprieties of the place. The preacher was too much interested in his subject to notice the occasional noise of the infant; and at the right point in his discourse, threw himself into an interesting attitude, as though he had suddenly heard the first note of the trump of doom, and looking towards that part of the church where the girl with the boby in her arms was sitting, he asked, in a low, deep voice: "What is that I hear?"

Before he recovered from the cratorical colored girl responded, in a mortified tone of voice, but loud enough to eatch the ears of the online congregation:

"la n'no, sa l'srec' it is dis here chile: ut, indeed, sa. I has been doin' all I could to eep his tom sort in you."

For the West Jersey Pioneer. A SUNDAY IN NEW YORK.

The observance of this day varies very much in different sections of the city. In what are called the genteel portions, where the well-to-do citizens generally have their residences, there is much external propriety and decorum. Quietness and good order prevail. At the time for commencing and closing public worship the streets are crowded with well dressed pedestrians, and BETWEEN these hours there are few to be seen stirring abroad.

The churches are well filled with worshippers, and the pulpits are ably supplied with speakers. In no city of the world are there so many eloquent and learned ministers of the gospel as in New York at this time. Among so many it is difficult to discriminate and form an accurate judgment as to their comparative merits. But no one who visits the several churches can fail to this city wields a great power for good -There is an earnestness and vivacity, coupled with exalted genius and hard labor, brought to bear on the consciences of men that must be felt for good. Here are attracted what ever talent the country may contain. If any part of the land is blessed with a pulpit "star," they are soon obliged to part with it that this city may be irradiated with its light. A wandering star is now shining here, and although his glory has in a measure become dim, yet he still draws, and many rejoice in his light. Mr. Quinness, whose visit to this country a year or more ago attracted so much attention, has returned, - not now as then, the non-scotariau-

All these schemes of benevolence demand funds and brains, and working hands, and willing hearts, and resolute courage. That they are carried on from year to year with increasing vigor, proves that such appliances are not wanting. The several churches of this city send out streams of pious activity that pour gladness through all the ramifications of this great community. "There is but one solitary stumbling-block with her accumulated capital and established business, no power can arrest it. Let us look well to this matter in the future."

If this be true, the clamor raised by the press of Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, &c., about northern abolitionism was a mere cover to other things, and they were all the while seeking to dissolve the Union, in order to get rid of the overshadowing commercial supremacy of New York. Now that secession Does New York understand this? Not at all. Her newspapers attribute the stagnation of her foreign trade to the Morrill Turiff bill, and are clamoring for an extra session of Congress, to repeal it, thinking that thereby they will remedy the trouble New York is doomed. The Charleston people think they have taken a step which must perforce humble the haughty commercial metropolis, while the New Yorkers themselves repeat, day after day that the Morrill Tariff bill will do the same thing. We see no present reason to expect a change in cither of these matters. The seconded States are evidently bound to give their political and social theories a full trial, and the repeal of the Morrill tariff is impract c. blc. What is to Become of New York City? When the Gulf States seceded, New York City, true to the instincts of her democratic leaders, gravely proposed to follow suit, and set up for herself also as a free city, hoping thereby to secure the trade of the South .-But in the following paragraph the Charleston Mercury shows that among the aims of in the way of direct trade. A reconstruction of the slave States with any of the northern, free, importing States, will at once in our judgment, strike direct trade to th ground. New York has the track. She has the accumulated capital and she has the custom. Nor can any possible efforts at the South divert her trade from her, except through the operation of two distinct nationalities. This will do it, as we have shown, most effectually. And nothing else will. Any political connection with New York will again bind us, very vassals in commerce, at the wheels of her triumphal car. Her rod will again be over us; and CONSUMPTION has destroyed more of the human families than any other disease, and the best physicians for many years have deepnared of furnishing a cure, or remedy that woult heal the lungs: yet for more than two hundred years the whole medical world have been convinced that there is a mysterious power and efficacy in the Pine Tree Tar to heal the Lungs, therefore, they have recommended the use of ter water, which in many cases had a good effect, but how to combine its medical properties so as to heal the Lungs, has ever been a mystery, until it was discovered by L. Q. C. Wishart, the proprietor of Wishart's Fine Tree Tar Cordial, and has been put in bottles patented by the U. S. Government. We say to the sick it-deamses the blood of its great unputies, touches every nerve, and restores the whole system to health and vigor. Many have been cured in a short time, that here dingered for years without relief, and could you but stand at the counter of the store, No. 56 Sount Third Street, for one week, and hear the saffice to tell. If the wondrous and healing power of the Pine Tree Ter Cordial, you would be satisfied that it does all that is claimed for it. This Cordial will cure Consumption. Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, Sore Threat and Block, Bronchits, Dyspensia, Liver Committee, Wask Stounch, Asthma, Gravel, Diseases of the Kidney, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Nervous Pebility, Propsy, Palpitation of the Heart, 20.
