From the Ohio State Journal. Where Is My Boy To-Night.

O, where is my boy to night? The boy who was bravest of all: He went to the battle of Right, And said that he feared not to fall! O, proud was his step when he went; And deen was the gleam of his eve: And I knew what his young heart meant. When he, faltering, said "Good bys."

O, where is my boy to-night? For I know that the strife has begun; That many have fallen in fight. And a glorious victory's won! Does he sleep 'neath the sod of the plain'. Has his proud form given its breath? O, God! is my boy with the slain,

Who would only yield to death? Be it thus, I've no fears that he sought To shelter himself from the lead: For he'd spring where 'twas falling most he To rescue the dying and dead. I feel-but I cannot tell why-That fallen he has in the fight; That God has promoted my boy,

Also the names of forty-four additions to the fleet, mounting two hundred and forty-four guns .-These vessels are being rapidly fitted for service, and most of them will be at their posts by the first of September, so that on that date we should have nearly eight hundred and fifty guns affoat. By the By the middle of October the new gunboats will begin to be put in commission. Of these, there are twenty-three, each carrying thirteen guns, so that by this fleet we have an addition of two hundred and ninety-nine guns. And there are also eight first-class gun-boats, carrying four-teen guns, which will be ready for sea by the latter part of October, making one hundred and twelve more additional guns. This will give a grand total of one thousand two hundred and thirty-six guns

REVIVAL OF BUSINESS.

Our merchants are experiencing a glad enrorise in the rapid review of business. The city is filling with dealers from all parts of the North and West, who are here for the purpose of buying goods. There is an almost complete destruction, however, of the credit system, our jubbers generally refusing to sell on longer time than from ten to thirty days. What a blessed thing it would be for the country if this foolish system should never be revived. It has been the cause of more social misery to the favored classes of our people than all other causes combined. Carefully collected and reliat to the fervor of that loyalty. (Cheers.) - | ble statistics reveal the astounding facthat out of every hundred men who enof avarice, or graven under the discour- gage in mercantile pursuits in this country, ninety-seven become bankrupt at some period of their lives. What a wretch ed life do these people lead! A brief per ied of wild extravagance, followed by long vears of bitter humiliation. And this is the lot of almost all of our whole margantile class. How much wiser and happier is the life of that three in the hundred who do not fail! These people commence by close economy, and, not being impelled by enormous expenses to make great nominal profits, they do a snug business within their means. As their capital increases they cularge their business and their style of living; always keeping both, however, within moderate bounds; and thus their life is one of steadily advancing prosperity. This happy life would fall to the lot of all of our merchants if trade was universally done on a cash system. If this great reform cannot be universally pursued, we hope to see a large num, ber of our dealers adhere to it. All the burden of the change has now been borne holdly, but use them successfully; for, and it is only necessary to continue the cash system that is now in practical operation. The Stores in Bridgeton will all be closed on Thursday next, the day set apart by the President for Fasting and

We advise our subscribers in the country, to read the advertisements of our Bridgeton merchants, in the Pioneer, this week, and give them a call on Exhibition day, or any other time, when in Bridge-

The facilities for rapid printing afforded by our new cylinder press, which works four times as fast as any newspaper press south of Trenton, enables us to defer printing the Pioneer until the arrival of the cars Friday noon, and have the entire edition, approximating to two thousand, printed by 3 o'clock, and scattered thro'out the town and county in a few hours. Last week we gave the latest war news, of another Victory in Western Virginia, an official despath from General Fremont, in Missouri, and other important news, which was several days ahead of any other paper printed in this part of the State.

Messrs. Fithian & Hood, Grocers of this town, will please accept our thanks for a lot of superior Segars. Our friends, who are good judges, pronounce them A No. 1. If they were not they would be the first inferior article we ever heard of, coming from that establishment.

The attention of housekeepers and others is called to the new advertisement of Mr. E. R. Elmer, who has lately purchased the entire stock and fixtures of the tin and stove store lately occupied by Mr. Enos Westcott. Mr. Elmer, like his pre decessor in business, is a very clever fellow, and will doubtless give entire satisfaction to all who may favor him with their patronage.

A few days since, while at Mill ville, we had occasion to call at the store of Messrs. Mulford and Westcott, and were surprised to find such a handsome goods. But few, if any, of the kind in South Jersey equal it. With their superior business qualifications, and the assistance oi such an agreeable and competent clerk as Mr. H. F. Chew, late of Bridgeton, they cannot fail to succeed admirably. All they want to make a complete thing of it, and to do a rushing business, is to advertise in the Pioneer, which has a very large circulation in that part of South Jersey.

Storekeepers in this and adjoining Counties are reminded that E. M. Wright, Esq., a very clever and reliable "Jersev Yankee," will be around among them with a good assortment of Spices, &c., from the mills of Arthur Colburn, 103 Bread Street. #### Railroad Accident.

On Thursday evening last a slight acc i dent occurred on the West Jersey Railroad . between this town and Husted's station, killing a cow and throwing the locomotive and baggage car off the track. The cow was literally torn to pieces, and the engine somewhat damaged in front. The train was detained over an hour. Persons owning cows should try and keep them off the track.

Wm. Emme, of Deerfield, says that he is bound to sell as cheap and cheaper than any other man in New Jersey, anything in his line, from a pair of children's shoes to the largest ditching boots. Give him a call and satisfy yourselves.

MILITARY.

The State authorities received a despatch on Saturday from the War Department, requesting the sending forward of the additional New Jersey regiments, at the earliest possible moment. The 7th Regiment, Col. Revere, will therefore probably leave this week, on Thursday or Friday. Six companies numbering 430 men are now in camp at Trenton, and the other four are now recruiting in the upper part of the State, and hearly ready to leave.— The 8th Regiment, Col. Johnson, is also filling up its ranks without much difficulty. We learn that Gov. Olden has determined to raise a rifle regiment in this State, additional to those already in course of formation. A full company recently raised by Lieut. Alfred B. Beach, in Sussex county, has been accepted and will be attached to the new regiment. It is expeoted that the regiment, which will have one or two companies of sharp shooters, will be ready to march in about three weeks. This will make the ninth regi ment from this State. An effort will be made to secure as colonel an army officer of distinguished service.

A COLLECTING TRIP.

As an illustration of how we fare when out on a collecting expedition (?) we will give a few incidents of a trip towards Mauriceton, last week. After waiting all day Monday in suspense, rain threatening but not falling, on Tuesday morning we started for Mauricetown, via Millville, arriving at the latter place about 8 o'clock. During the morning we called at several places in that flourishing town. The first item of news that attracted our attention was the change in the Post Office. It had been removed from its former location to short distance further east on the same street. The late Post Master, Mr. P. G. Ludlam, who has had the office for several years past, enjoyed the confidence and respect of the entire community. Always polite, obliging and strictly attentive to the duties of the office, he won many friends. who will always respect him for his many good qualities of head and heart, but as it has been customary, for many years past, to change the incumbents of such offices, when their political views do not accord with the Administration, Mr. Ludlam has been succeeded by Mr. G. H. Leeds. gentleman well and favorably known in South Jersey, and one in whom any amount of confidence may safely be reposed. He has fitted up the office in good style, and is assisted by his amiable wife, who is a real help-meet. We wish the late worthy P. M. much success in his present prosperous business, and our friend Leeds also, in his new position. A visit to the Millville Bank impressed us with what we were convinced of before, that the officers were men of the right stamp for their positions. We were shown a number of the new Treasury notes, of various denominations, and were informed that a considerable amount of them have already reached Millville. This Bank takes two thousand dollars of the Government Loan, and deserves much credit for its loyalty and patriotism.

By request of the pastor of the 2d M. E. Church, with whom we accidentally met, we took a glance at the interior of that edifice, and found it presented a much better appearance than the external. This charge has only been in existence about six years, and now numbers in membership over two hundred, with a Sabbath School, which averages about 175 in attendance. Being no other places of amusement handy, ve called on the Dentist, Mr. Chas. E. Edwards, who was being assisted at the time by Dr. Wm. Newell, in administering Ether to a very interesting subject. The extensive and successful practice of extracting by this method, which they have had for several years past, should insure confidence, yet we should have doubted the propriety and safety of trusting such a subject in the Dr.'s hands ten years ago. In the afternoon, we left Millville for Mauricetown. The first farm we stopped at on the way proved to be a lucky one; the tenant. Mr. John H. Bitters, subscribed for the Pioneer, paid a year in advance, and as we were about leaving presented us with a mammoth melon, which resembled a watermelon as much as anything else well could, but it was a pie melon, and we have since had some excellent pies made from it, which taste so much like green apple pies that no one could tell the difference. This is a new variety of fruit for this section of the dountry, and our farmer friends would do well to procure seed and cultivate it .-On the next farm below we found our old friend, James Maines, who not only paid in advance for his Pioneer, but opened a couple of watermelons and some cantelopes for our especial benefit. It is hardly necessary to add that they "vanished" in a very short time. The farm on which Mr. Maines is residing is a very large and valuable one, containing several hundred acres, and is owned by a wealthy gentleman of Philadelphia. Those who depreciate Jersey Sand will be astonished, perhans, when informed that not less than thirty tuousand dollars worth of sand has been taken from less than five acres of this farm, and that there is more than thirty thousand more in the same locality. Much of this sand is shipped East, and manufactured into glass. It is washed on the premises by a very simple and rapid process. Several other farms in that neighborhood have an abundance of the same quality of sand, and facilities for getting it ready for use. Under the skillful management of Mr. Maines, this farm is being rapidly improved in fertility, and in a short time will not look like the same place. In a short time we came to the resi dence of Hon. John L. Sharp at Buckshutem. It is a very neat place, and what forcibly impressed itself on our attention was the excellent road in front, extending a considerable distance beyond it, in front of his brothers residence and others. We learned that it was an individual enterprise. It would be a great blessing if such "individual enterprises" were more numerous. Where gravel is handy, it would pay farmers well to make good roads in front of their property, if the township would not attend to it.- is consequently advancing in value.

The rain descending quite rapidly, Pioneer, who do not wish to have a visit | the only place called at was a new buildfrom us, to call as soon as convenient, and | ing just erected for Mr. Ezekiel Mayhew; "square up." It affords us much pleasure which will make a very comfortable home to call on our patrons, residing in the for some one when it is finished. One of our patrons, Mr. Samuel Shinn, of Mauricetown, was doing the carpenter work on the building, and assured us a dollar for which would save us considerable time and his paper in advance if we would call while at Mauricetown, but before reaching there the storm compelled us to bring up under shelter at Capt. Jonathan Sutton's. The old gentleman being at home. we had a very interesting conversation about "matters and things in general."-The Captain kindly invited us to take some porter, have our horse taken off, and stay and feed, but as the clouds were threatening rain, and his opinion, after looking "lceward," being that it looked rather dubious, we concluded to steer homeward soon as possible. The Captain has our drstination, but this may have arisen from thanks for his pressing invitation to stop and feed if we ever get in his neighborhood again. We suppose the term "feed" means porter included. After a long probable place was the Chain Bridge, drive through sand and rain we arrived at where the rebels had concentrated the Millville with less than ten dollars collected in a day and a half. This is the dark to attack the Government troops; but so side of the picture; but in less than an far they have thought best not to do so hour, after calling on a few such men as If they should be so unwise as to do so, F. > Our readers will see that unless each one indebted pays up when called on, our pression gains ground that the rebels are and then advancing under its cover on the collecting trips will not only prove unpleasant but unprofitable. We shall make these parts. Yesterday our cavalry took another effort some of these days to reach Mauricetown, and hope our patrons there will be as prompt in paying up, and as clever as they have been to us in the past.

MILLVILLE, Sept. 16, 1861. MR. EDITOR:-I find in your paper, daed August 17th, a Poem called, the "Two Angels, by Mrs. J. E. A.," of Millville. You must certainly think your readers very ignerant, to try and palm off one of Longfellow's Poems under these initials, and I sincerely hope you will correct your mistake in your next issue, in justice to yourself, and the ladies of Millville, who, I assure you, feel quite indignant.

But, dear sir, you are aware that I have told you it was not, and have also explained to you the very peculiar and afflictive circumstances under which it was copied. Very recently I received a note, giving me to understand that it had been copied from a certain Author. But, sir, I have forgotten to say that it has occurred for the first time in my life, nor do I care for the charge, only the contemptible manner in which this note was written, which bears the signature, the "Voice of Many," and it is to following lines:

He is convalencing very fast.

There has been no decided move made since I last wrote, but the work of defence goes bravely on. It is thought that one hundred artillers guns are now brought to bear on every point by which Washington can be approached. For several days past we have been kept in suspense by orders from Head Quarters to be in readiness for a light march. Many have been the surmises and rumprs in consequence; some have thought that Cape Hatteras was our the rumor that has been in camp for two weeks past, that Gen. The business of taking contrabands has been pretty flush for a day or two. The Mozart Regiment reports 40 vesterday and 20 to-day.

It will be remembered by some that on the 10th day of July last, Joseph B. Sheppard, of Fairfield, was shot in the ankle by an accidental pistol-shot, by some one unknown. Jefferson City, Sept. 18 -Two couriers have just arrived from Lexington, with the following intelligence, which is believed by the commanding officer here to be in the main reliable: Gen. Price commenced the attack on the entrenchments at Lexington, on Mon-

L. B. Wales presided. Hon. John fined those whom he considered traitors to the country, and then said that he erners at Washington, that they depend ed upon three things when they entered into this contest. The first was that they had all the arms of the Government in their possession, while the North were entirely unarmed and unprepared for the surances from abroad that they would be immediately recognized by England, France, and other foreign governments. The third and most powerful inducement ed, consisting of of all was that they would only have to contend with a divided North. That Northern Democrats would fight for them, and that it was only the Republican party, and not the government, that they were contending against. He adverted to Mr Holt's address in New York, in a very able manner.

COMMENDATIONS:

From Hon, Lewis D. Camparll, M. C., of Ohio.

My family and friends all concur in the opinion that the Newell Picture is more life like than any thing they ever saw. My likeness has been repeatedly taken by different Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had one which presents so true to use have never yet had one which presents so true to ne ture, all the features and expressions of countenance as this.

From E. Jer Morais, late Minister to Italy.

The exquisite finish, beauty and softness of your portraits, componed with their durability of color and faithfuness as likenesses, cannot fail to commend them to the attention and patronage of all who ap-them to the attention and patronage of an who appreciate true art.

Having occasion for a portrait, I procured one from Mr. Robert Newell, of the city of Philadelphia, a ministure in Oil Colors, under the new process discovered by him, and take great pleasure in expressing the satisfaction given me, not only by the accuracy of the likeness, but its artistic finish in all respects, and recommend him to the patronage of those disposed to encourage the beautiful art.

"ELECTRIC OIL." I propose to cure almost instantaneously, individuals afflicted with Headache, Neuraigts, Rheuma tism, and all Bronchial affections.

I propose to check and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish neater and more perfect equisibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system than can be effected by any other or all other methods of modical aid in the same space of time, the masses themselves being judges.

I do not propose to cure averat devase, but all such as are curable by any combination of medical appliances. My Electric Cil operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable to the cure or natural restoration of any organic derangement, arising from an improper circulation of Nervovital fluid.

Cures Rheumatism often in a dey. Cures Deafners one to ten days.
