SPEECH OF J. H. C. APPLEGATE.

AT CENTRETON, N. J., Before Lodge No. 69, I. O. of O. F., Bat-

urday event ng, Peb. 15, 1862. GENTLEMEN: - It has been asserted that wisdom has its equivalent in conceit. thereby implying that a requisite of the latter will meet the requirements of the former. Without presuming to decide, upon you, gentlemen, as umpire, rests the decision. Society is, and always has been, divided into the several classes: Social, Political and Religious; and these again have their sub-divisions, in the multifarious form in which they everywhere exist. This state of being seems insenerable from our condition, and nowhere has its counterpart. From these more general elements it would seem both easy and natural for select combinations to be formed, embracing the conservative to the exclusion of all others, and from these we may infer secret organizations sembling, in many particulars, our own and contemporary orders. Others mainbowed to man, he replied: "Not to man Clubs, Jacobin Associations, Order of the Knights, Order of the Garter, Free Masons, &c., each have a history of re-A few days since it was announced that mote origin. That day has therefore come to book to have a land and with the contary, the members waiting upon him in large numbers to urge upon his attention subjects connected with the interests of their constituents and the public welfare. The occasion is generally one of great interest, and many incidents of an exciting and amusing nature take place. Last Saturday the Secretary's room was crowded with Senators and Representatives, most of whom are personally known to Mr. Stanton. Among other incidents the following are related:

Foremost in the room was the grey-haird patriot of Kentucky, J. J. Crittenden. He was warmly greeted by the Secretary, 000. and introduced to him a young man, whom, he said, he would like to have appointed in the Army. Mr Stauton took him by the hand and asked him his age, where born and raised, his occupation and of his family. He was the oldest boy, his father died some year or two ago, any of the right dimensions, and were while in the Navy, in the service of his country. "Ah," said Mr. Stanton, "I knew him; he was a brave man. What position would you like to have?" lioutenancy in an infantry regiment." "I will try and arrange it for you, and will

From the Cincinnati Gazette. MATTERS IN MEMPHIS.

A gentleman who formerly resided in this city, but has lived in the South for eighteen months past, arrived in town yesterday from Memphis, which place he left on Sunday, January 19th. In an interview with him we learned the following facts:-Business in Memphis is completely prostrated. Two-thirds of the business houses are closed altogether: the others keep open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon The streets are desolate, and not more than one-half of the dwellings occupied. Shortly after the breaking out of the war about two thousand men left for the North. Since then nine-tenths of the able-bodied men of the city have enlisted in the Southern army. The women are very zealous in the cause of Secession, and have formed more than twenty societies for the manufacture of wearing apparel for the soldiers. In Memphis flour sells from $9 to $12 per barrel; bacon brings 35 to 40 cents per pound. Fresh pork is sold at 10 cents per pound—the lowness of the price being accounted for by the fact that salt is so scarce as to command $11 per sack. Coffee is sold at from 60 to 75 cents per pound, and would be dearer still but for the plenitude of substitues, which are so freely used as to make the demand for the genuine article very small.

Unless the blockade be raised very soon the Dixianie provinces will be resolved into one grand state-a state of Egyptian darkness. Candles are in demand at $1,25 per pound, and these a very poor quality. that man's children, if he has any, are The scarcity of coal has compelled the manufacturers of gas to mix a great deal of rosin with the black diamonds. Soap is another scarce article. It sells as high as candles - not less than $1 per pound. all the neighbors for miles around. The Whiskey has gone up to $2.50 per gallon -hardly to be had even at that.

Clothing is very dear. Overcoats such as can be obtained here for $15, are sold in Memphis for $45 to $50. Pantaloons and other articles in proportion. Boots, such as are sold here for $7, command $20 there. In the way of "notions" there is a great dearth also. A paper of needles, worth ten cents here, cannot be had for less than SI 25 there. Confederate notes are taken at par for goods and debts. They constitute the principle circulating medium Southern bank notes are also taken at par. Shinplasters flood the whole country, and pass scarce, the former at a premium of 30 to 40 per cent.

The Southerners are confident that success will crown their efforts, and they have united to make a bold struggle. One thing that serves partly to keep up their spirits is the unflinching disposition to lie evinced by the Secession newspapers. In Memphis, they have heard of but one Union victory since the fall of Sumter-the battle of Rich Mountain. In all the other engagements the Unionists, according to the rebel journals, were routed and killed, in numbers ranging from 100 uto 10,-

There is a great scarcity of printing paper all through the South The pro rictors of the Memphis Appeal recently visited all the large cities of the Confederacy, to buy up what paper of large size they could find for sale. They failed to obtain obliged to curtail the "area" of their sheet in consequence. The Telegraph has not operated very well lately, for lack of the necessary battery supplies.

SIMPLE DIVISION. A Southern planter named P ----, pretty well to do in the world now, was, so ne twenty years ago, a poor boy on the Eastern Shore of Maryland One of the most marked traits of his character was an inordinate love of money. In the course of time, P- was of age, and thought it was about time to get married. He went to a neighboring village, and was introduced to the daughter of Judge

"Fine gal," said the embryo speculator to his friends, who were gaining him an entrance among the elite. "Very."

"How much might Judge be worth?" "About ten thousand dollars," was the

"And how many children has he he got?" continued P .-"Only three."

"Three into ten goes three times and a third over," mentally ciphered P-. Here was a chance, and he had improved it too. He made love to the beautiful and unsophisticated daughter of the Judge and all his possessions. Strange to say for he was as uncouth a looking cur as ever went unlicked, his suit prospered, and they were married. The honeymoon passed off as all honeymoons do, and they were happy. The bride was lively and chat y, and made allusions to her brothers and sisters. Startled at so many names he thought should not be in the catalogue of relations, one evening at tea he said: "My dear, I thought there were but three of you," "So there are, but pa's first wife had eight more."

"Eleven into ten, no times and none over," said the astonished P , who had jumped up and kicked over a chair. and groaned in perfect agony, "I'm sold!"

The Black List will appear in the Pioneer in a short time, with the names of some persons which have not vet been made known to the public as defaulters The name of no honest man will appear on it if he is really too poor to pay, but when a man's name appears it may be depended upon that he is a hard case, and should be published.

To make room for the glorious was news, which has during the past week thrilled the hears of millions of loyal freemen, who now behold the dawning of a brighter day in our country's history, our camp correspondence, and other interesting matter, we are compelled to defer until next week several camp correspondence, an editorial on Politicians, &c.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The necessity for economy in public expenditures has called the attention of our State Legislature to the draft upon the Treasury by the Normal School endowment. It is not to be denied that a large and influential class, not only of the members of the Legislature, but of the people of the State, honestly doubt the propriety of devoting one-sixth of the entire school fund of the State to that facturing Co.'s Poudrette. Indeed, there are many carnest friends of education in New Jersey who believe a spotless character, had won for him a short time in silence, he commenced to that the heavy State patronage of the Normal School, while it does not benefit the Thirty sixth Congress, after having to any appreciable extent the cause of lived a long life through which he had common schools, is a real injury to the cause of higher education in our community; not because it renders education ma- House of Representatives. The true policy of the State would be to encourage and develop individual enterprise in schools, as in other things. and not to crush it out by a great State as it had been carried out had been a failmonopoly. We should therefore deem it highly impolitic, even if the heavy amount of money drawn from the State treasury, in behalf of this school, were applied strictly to the benefit of the student, struggling to qualify himself for the business of teaching. But the cost of education to the student, at the Normal School is not materially cheaper than at Pennington, and other first-class Seminaries; and the reason which influences many to prefer the Normal school is not that is cheaper or better, but that in case their necessities should require them to Stanton, by direction of the President, situations, as it is understood that Nor- prisoners now held in military custody. mal students have always the preference when vacancies occur in our public schools.

Raising Cranberries.

The Ocean Emblem says, that three farmers of that county, raised three thousand bushels of cranberries last year, worth $9000. The cost of raising them was only $1500, leaving the handsome profit of $7500. Good cranberries are that comes to market, that is a more gene. ral favorite. The man, woman or child Only $1.00 per Year: that don't like cranberry sauce is not hardly a judge of what is good. We should not begin to put any of them on an agricultural committee by a jug full. There are thousands of acres of land in this county, now lying unproductive and comparatively worthless, that with a very little attention and expense, might be made to produce cranberries of the very best quality. Now, when business is prostrated, and so many out of employment, it would be a good time to make a beginning. In a few years a comparative independence could be secured.

In another column of this week's PIONEER, we give place to a communication from "A Bridgeton Democrat," who denounces the traitors of Friendship, in such termes as they justly merit. There are, no doubt, many honest union men who voted for Breckenridge, and we have not anything to say against them, but any man who will seriously cheer for the rebel Jeff. Davis, is in our opinion, a fool or a traitor.

Must we wait until the next Grand Jury meets before the traitors are punished? Why send our brave troops to Maryland and Virginia to destroy rebels when we have traitors at home?-Why not level the school house in which these miscreants cheered for their leader -Jeff Davis - to the ground? We have the boys that can and are auxious to do it. We can take it down in less than half the time it took "Secesh" to put it up, and treat the builder and his friends to a new coat at our own expense. We suppose that the District Attorney has the names of these miserable creatures, and no doubt justice will be done. But let the Clerk of the Court also have a list of these rebels, and if any one of them should accidentally be summoned as jurors or witnesses, let them be immediately ruled out of Court; for the men who will rebel, without a cause, against their country, will rebel against their God; will perjure themselves, and are EDITOR: -I see by the Pioneer that I have been fortunate enough to receive, that you are kept pretty well posted in regard to other regiments. That is what I love to see—a desire on the part of the brave volunteers to communicate with their friends through the columns of a widely circulated journal, and thus let the friends of the other soldiers in their regiment know their whereabouts, &c. In your last issue I also observed an able and interesting communication from the pen of "C. H. SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME. SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Little need be said to reconamend this article—its peculiar merits as a vigorous and besong manure having firmly established it in the popular favor.—We would state however, that uct only having a continued care to maintain its standard efficiency, we have sought to render it more immediate in its action, by the addition of a small quantity of best Peruvian. Guano. We do not claim that by this improvement, (which was made during the past year, and without publicly noting the fact,) our Super Phosphate is rendered any the more lasting in its effect, or in any way benefitted, except in ensuring a quicker action on application.

WARREN'S GEOGRAPHICAL SERIES!

WARREN'S PRIMARY GEOGRAPHY, WARREN'S

COMMON SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY, WARREN'S PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

The sethree books form a complete geographical coarse, adapted to all grades of schools. They have recently been thoroughly revised, and now contain all new political and territorial changes, with statistics from the census of 1869. The Maps and Engravings are of the very highest order of excellence; and in all the books the maps are in the same volume with the descriptive text. The series is now used in most of the principal cities and towns of the United States, and has given great satisfaction wherever it has been adopted.

All the difficulties in orthography are so arranged and classified in this manual, that they may be easily vercome by the pupil.

Teachers can obtain them, for introduction, on the most favorable terms.
