ON WITH THE FIGHT.

Tis true that our army has suffered, While meeting a fiend in his deu; Tis true that the tears of a nation Are flowing for bravest of men; But we have seen beautiful mornings Emerge from the blackest of night, Our cause is the glory of heaven,

So let us go on with the fight. They fought; but the infamous traitors Were hid by the mud and the stone, Our lads, with an unequalled valor, Still rallied while columns were mown; But soon as the soldiers are rested, As sure as the sun giveth light, We'll whip them, and hang all the leaders, So let us go on with the fight.

We pray we may have no more widows, Or orphans, because of the war; We hope that the family circle Will never have sorrow in store: We pray for our army and navv.

> "Now, boys, when I ask you a quesout and answer me. When you look around and see all these houses, farms, and cattle, do you ever think who owns them all now? Your fathers own them do they not?"

"Yes, sir!" shouted a hundred voices "Well where will your fathers be twenty years from now?" "Dead!" shouted the boys,

"That's right. And who will own all this property then?"
"Us boys!" shouted the urchins.

Right. Now, tell me did you ever in going along the streets, notice the drunkards lounging around the saloon doors waiting for somebody to treat them. Yes, sir; lots of them!'

MR EDITOR:-You must not think we have entirely forgotten you, our time has been occupied in attending to our duty, as soldiers of our country that we could not possibly find time to write any sooner, but it is better late than never.

To resume our narrative, and form the chain complete, we must commence with the tenth of November; early in the morning, while eating our breakfast, a shell from a rebel battery came tearing and crashing through the woods in which we had bivoucked for the night previous; the camp was all bustle and confusion in a moment, and in a short time we were engaged with the enemy-returning shot stopped for a moment, then came rushing destination, don't you say afterwards how wildly on again. perof the Country Gentle man, Mr. S. E Todd makes this reference to the renovation of fruit tree:-"Apple trees, as well as many other kinds of fruit trees, need to have the soil s ance as will not only promote the growth of the tress, but will increase the sise of the fruit. For this purpose, perhaps there is nothing cheaper and better than a liberal top-dressing of good soil. Good stable manure, or the manure of the piggery, is good for this purpose; but most farmers want such manure for their crops of grain or grass.

"After a tree has produced fruit for a number of years in succession, the soil be comes exhausted of those substances which produce fine or delicious friut, very much as soil becomes exhausted of the grains producing substances, after a long succession of exhausting crops has been grown abundance of those substances that will not only make fine fruit, but will promote the healthy growth of the entire tree .-And more than this, the expense of hauling it, and spreading it around fruit trees is very small.

"A gentleman of the city of Auburn when grading the street, last fall, hauled n number of wagon loads of the soil from where they were gradeing, and spread two loads around each apple tree. The to a small tailor's shop on the outskirts of result was, that the trees made a fine growth during the past season, and the the door he found a lad sitting cross legfruit was unusually large; fair and abun- ged upon the tailor's bench mending a dant; let the leisure days of this month be rent in an old pair of pantalcons. The Secretary and the Soldier.

It is about twenty years since one of the members of the present Cabinet was a member of Corgress from a distant west. ern state. He had the usual right of designating a single candidate for admission to the West Point Milit ry Acidemy .-The applications made to him for a vacancy which then existed were not many, but among them was a letaer from a boy of sixteen or seventcen years of age, who without any accompanying recommendations or references, asked the appointment for himself. The member dismissed the appeal from his mind, with perhans a passing thought of the forwardness on it. Now, in good soil, there is an and impudence of the stripling who could aspire to such a place on no other grounds than his own desire to get a good education at the public expense.

But happening a short time afterwards to be in the little village whence the letter was mailed, the incident was recalled to his memory, and he thought he would beguile the few hours of leisure that he had by looking up the ambitious youth -He mace his way, by dint of much inquiry, the town, and when he was admitted at bl ck of wood, rested a book of abstruse science, to which he turned his eyes whenever they could be transfered from the work in his hands. The member accested him by the name given in the letter, and the lad replied, "I am the person.' You wish, then; to be appointed a cadet at West Point?" "I do," he rejoined. · Why?" asked the Congressman, " Because," answered the tailor youth. "I felt that I was born for something better than mending old clothes." The member talked further with him, and was so pleased with his frankness, his spirit, and the rare intelligence he evinced, that he procured him the appointment.

The member is now Secretary Smith, of Indiana, and the youth Gen. Burnside, Commander-in-Chief of the army of the Potomac. We should not be surprised if that boy-an excellent specimen of our northern mudsills - were destined to hoist the American flag to its old place on the Capitol at Richmond.

Meantime such disposition has been made of the army of Kentucky as to prevent the smooth

From Tennessee we learn that the two armies are closely approaching each other and frequent skirmishers take place, with varying success. In some quarters it is alleged that the rebel army is within six miles of Nashville, but there is no evidence that such is the case beyond small parties of their advance. We are also informed that the rebel army of Eastern Mississippi had evacuated Oklona

Two Union gunboats went up the Mississippi, above Vicksburg, on the 15th. and another on the 16th. Eight Union transports had also captured Carson's Landing, Miss., with $75,000 in cash and a large lot of provisions and clothing.

From N. C. we learn that the rebel forces have been largely reinforced, their ccessions of strength, however, being fulcounterbalanced by the junction of eck's column with the victorious army of command of the latter about forty thousand. The rebels profess to feel sanguine of success in driving our troops back to Newbern, but they adduce no reasons for any such results, confining themselves o mere bravodo.

Two squadrons of the Banks Expedition are reported to have passed Key West -one of six steamers, on the 9th inst., and the other of seven steamers on the 10th-all loaded with troops.

The rebel accounts of the battle of Fredericksburg have at length reached us. They claim a decided victory, but accord the merit of unbroken courage and gallantry to our troops. They admit that they had greatly the advantage of position and say the Federals were compelled to advance in the face of a raking fire up an inclined plane only to meet the death dealing fire which our men so surely and steadily poured upon them. Their total loss is estimated at 2,500 killed wounded and missing. From the West we have news that one of our gunboats on the Yazoo river was blown up by a torpendo. No lives were lost. There is nothing of importance from the army of the Potomac. The rebels acknowledge a loss of 4000 at the battle of Fredericksburg. Nothing further from Bank's expedition. Acommittee has been sent to Falmouth to investigate matters concerning the recent fight and repulse. Heintzleman is to take the field again, at the head of a new army.

Repot of Committe on Conduct of the War.

This was the fatal omiss- das fighting was 160 killed and wounded; ion that saved the rebel army and their capital. It gave them a delay of ten days; Sumper waited for pontoons to come up. They came at last, but in the meantime the enemy had recovered from their panic and were throwing their whole army in his front. They were fortifying the heights opposite.

The plan for the attack on the rebel lines at Fredericksburg, originated with Gen. Burnside, and was approved by the leading with the exception of Hooker, and was endorsed by Gen. Halleck.

VICTORY IN NORTH CAROLINA gave the enemy twenty four hours more

Herole Wallanter of the 9th Rew Jersey The despatch from Gen Evans, claiming a victory over Gen. Roster at Kingston, North Carolina, proves to have been fabrication; and instead of having been defeated the Union forces schieved a splendid triumph. From the accounts of he engagement that have reached us we have the satisfaction of knowing that our gallant Ninth New Jersey Rogiment acted with all its customary courage and effi-ciency, and by their valor again reflect molested, without the loss of men or The expedition left Newbern on the norning of December 11th, the troops oushing forward along the Trent river by land, while the gunboats made a diversion by way of the Neuse. The enemy's pickets were driven in before dark, but as he road, which ran across a swamp, had been obstructed by felled trees, our forces were obliged to halt for the night about 7 miles west of Newbern, with the exception of our New Jersey Ninth, which, during the night pushed on through the swamp, and after successfully engaging the enemy took a position within three miles of Trenton. The whole of the 12th was taken up with skirmish between our cavalry and that of the rebels. On the 13th the battle was renewed at a place called Southeast Creek, the enemy resisting obstinately until ten o'clock, when the Ninth New Jersey and Morrison's N. Y. battery came into action and the enemy were driyen from their position' As soon as the rebel battery ceased firing the Ninth forded the creek, the bridge over which, had been destroyed by the enemy, entered the battery and planted the stars and stripes upon it. They then pushed forward and again engaging the enemy captured some prisoners and a Rodman gun, which they brought away as a trophy. Afterwards being supported by Morrison's New York battery and a company of New York cavalry, Col Heckman once more advanced upon two regiments of rebel infantry with two pieces of artillery, posted on a ri-e of ground behind a dense woods, forcing them from their position and silencing their fire. The total loss of the Ninth in this brilliant day's work, was only one man wounded and one taken prisoner.

On the next morning, Dec. 14th, the principal engagement took place about 7 niles from Kinston, where the enemy had entrenched themselves behind a creek -Their fortification was 178 feet long, thoroughly commanding all the approaches to the bridge. After the battle had raged for some time without results, the New Jersey Ninth advanced under a terrific fire and obtained a position close to the bridge where they were supported by the 17th Massachusetts From here a gall ing fire of artillery and tifles was poured upon the enemy, their artilley silenced and the bridge secured. The latter had been fired in three places but the Ninth and a few members of the other regiments extinguished the fire and immediately crossed, the Ninth being deployed as skir mishers. The enemy at once retired. pursued by our gallant troops, till nightfall. The result of this day's engagement was the thorough defeat of the enemy posted in a chosen position, and the capture of 500 prisoners, 11 pieces of artillery, 1,000 rounds of heavy ammuni tion, 500 stand of arms and 12 gun carriages, besides a large amount of stores.

On Sunday the battle was renewed within three miles of Kinston, commencing at daybreak and continuing till one It states that the change of base from o'clock, when the rebels were forced to re- Nathaniel Westcott, slightly near the hip. Jersey to the bridge which they set on fire, but which was extinguished by Col. Heckman's veterans, when the pursuit was renewed, the rel els retreating a portion towards Goldsboro and a portion to wards Weldoh Here a considerable num ber of prisoners, muskets, &c., fell into our hands. Our total loss in the three that of the rebels is thought to be less, as they were under cover At the last accounts Gen. Eoster, after having occupied Kinston, was again on the march, determined to follow up his advantage. The advance of Gen. Foster to Kinston places him within 25 miles of Goldsboro, where the line of railway to Wilmington and Charleston can be cut. It was doubtless intended to be simultaneous with the advance of Gen. Burnside, and to prevent the rebels from receiving reinforcements and supplies from the South.

The splendid behavior of the New Jersey Ninth is the theme of universal commendation among their brother soldiers .-Three times they charged upon the enemy, storming the rebel entrenchments, and capturing their batteries; and when their ammunition failed them, relied upon their trusty bayonets to carry them successfully through. They saved two bridges from destruction by their prompt pur suit and indomitable exertions, thus facilitating the advance of our entire army; and they brought away as their own especial trophies a Rodman gun, and the regimental flag of South Carolina regiment. It is said that Gen. Foster will recommend Col Heckman for a Brigadiership in reward for his admirable conduct ann conspicuous courage.-N. Daily.

The Cabinet Troubles. The public were not a little surprised

on Saturday by the rumors of the total disruption of the Cabinet of President Lincoln. It seems that the Republican Senators had held two or more meetings at which it was determined that, "a partial reconstruction of the Cabinet would increase the confidence of the country."-Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, and Mr. Blair, Post Master General, were the persons specially struck at. In the discussion Senator Sumner attacked Seward's foreign diplomacy. Speeches were also made by Sherman, Trumbull, Wade and others. A committee of nine was appointed to wait upon the President and lay the matter before him. The President defended Mr. Seward warmly, and denied that he had actively interfered with military movements or that his policy has been detrimental to the conduct of the war. He expressed the utmost confidence in Secretaries Staunton, Wells and Chase. Mr. Seward at once sent in his resignation Mr. Chase also resigned.

NATURE'S BOUNTIES.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

Nature is a kind old dame. Every creature, wild and tame, Is her pensioner; and she Feeds them all with bounty free, Food and clothing both she gives To each earthly thing that lives. Birds with plumage she supplies, Radiant with a thousand dyes; ()cean's denizeus she mails In a panoply of scales; Tawny lions, bristly boors. Have their garments from her stores: Alligators she provides With impenetrable hides; (Raiment, that, which does good dury, Though, not remarkable for heauty:) All the more pacific brutes She arrays in proper suits. All are furnished, by her aid, With good garments ready made: Man excepted-he-poor elf!-Nature dooms to dress himself; But with reason she provides him. Which to BENETT's Tower guides him; There, what nature has denied,

We have on hard the fullest assortment in Philadelphia of Ready-made Clothing, to supp'y, in the best and most acceptable style of modern art, the emission of dame Nature above referred to, which is calculated to both protect and adorn the masculine "human torm divine." Buying and selling for cash only, our prices are much below market rates. Tower Hall, No. 518 Market street. Phila-BENNETT & Co.

SAVE YOUR PAPERS AND RAGS. We are told by many of the largest paper manufactuers that the question is not merely as to price, but whether at any price the quantity of paper required can be suppled, so limited has become the supply of stock.

This should call the attention of the community to the saving of rags and pawasted. Paper such as the Traveller is printed upon has risen from,10 1-2 to 15, 16 and even 17 cents a pound, and cannot be manufactured at the present price of stock for less than 20 cents a pound.

Old papers answers for mixing largely with rags, and if this is generally saved, instead of being wasted or destroyed, it will afford much relief. Old paper, the waste and sweepings of our stores and houses, now commands six cents a pound and when it is taken into view that the newspapers circulating in the community average about fifteen to the pound. rather more than an onnce each, every one will see that a large amount of wastage is made here which may easily be Fragments of paper equal in quality to one printed newspaper sheet, will sell for three-eights of a cent by the pound, and old worn-out newspapers are in demand for wrapping paper and other purposes, at 50 to 61 cents a hundred. In these times every piece of paper as large as a bank bill, as well as rags of the smallest size, should be saved. In many houses and shops a great deal of paper is wasted in various ways.

Doubtless many families waste enough by burning in kindling fires, in the course of a year, sufficient to pay for supplying themselves with a weekly, and perhaps even a daily newspaper. - Ex-

SAVE YOUR RAGS .- The price of paper has of late advanced greatly - fifty per cent at least. It therefore behooves all housekeepers to use more than customary care in saving their rags Doub'e the quantity can be saved than is usually the case, with giving the matter a little attention. Each family should be its own rag picker. A dollar saved is more than two dollars earned.

WANTED 500 CORDS OF WOOD,

The Menageric has just been to Bridgeton and exhibited both afternoon and evening, and a dense crowd of people went to see the animals. One of the elephants refused to cross one of the bridges at Elmer's pond, and consequently had to wade around, but notwithstanding this, he came out all right.

Thompson is bound to come out right. The deals were out that Thompson sells goods a little idea has gone out that Thompson sells goods a little higher than others. That idea must and shall be changed, it selling goods still cheaper will do it Lum bound to SELL AS CHEAP OR CHEAPER than others, for cash, and as I have just got in just call and examine for yourselves, and if you don't say they are cheap I will not ask you to purchase.— My stock consists, in part, of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS, Suspenders, Neck-Ties, Shirt Collars, turndowns and chokers, from 1 to 15 cents. Also Hats and Caps of the very Latest Styles My prices have always been uniform justs fair living profit, taking from one man what I do from another, (which I have always thought, was the golden rule), and not taking two profits from one, and a-half profit from another.

A lecture on the Nature, Treatment & Radical Cure of Spermatorrhoan or Seminasi Weakness, Involuntary Emissions. Sexual Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally, Nervousness. Consumption. Epilepsy and Fite; Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self-Abuse. &c.—By ROBT. J. CULVER-WELL. M. D. Author of the Green Book, &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials pointing out a mode of cure at once certais and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

DR. LA CROIX'S PRIVATE MEDICAL TREATISE

Physiological View of Marriage.

250 PAGEL AND 130 ENGRAVINGS.—Price only 25 cents. Sent free of pessage to sell parts of the Union. On the infirmities of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret felles of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervoluness, depression of spirits, palp tation of the heart, suicidal imaginings, involuntary emissions, blushings, defective memory, indigestion and lassitude, with confessions of thrilling interest of a Boarding School Miss, a College Ettadent and a young Married Lady, &c. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and priviledges to which every human being is entitled.

YOUNG MEN who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pams, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's new Paris and London treatment.

We have, recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospitals, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many new and efficacious remedies which we are embled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, secrecy and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional practice for the past twenty-five years.

FENCH FEMALE PILLS.—Ladies who wish for Medicines, the efficacy of which has been tested in thousands of cases, and never fulled to affect speedy cores without any bad results, will use none but br.
