King Winter seeks his icy North, And Spring will wear her robe of green The lovers soon will leave the hearth To stroll beneath fair Luna's beam.

The forest tree, so cold and grim, The bush of every beauty bare, Will dangle soon some little bird Upon the lap of leaves they ll wear.

The mead will deck in caver hue. The vale and lawn will seem as new, And poets write on love and flowers.

The very horse will shed his coat, The carth will breathe a balmy air, And beaven wear a brighter sky.

E'en man will change his olden dress. And bow to Nature's code the while, The winter raiment now must yield To Spring, and all its varied style.

The civil war which, for two years past, has been dividing and ruining the United States, has its counter-blow in Europe. The cotton famine causes great suffering; the operatives of Rouen and Mulhausen are not less sorely tried than the spinners and weavers of Lancashire; entire populations are reduced to mendicancy, and to pass the Winter they have no other resource, no other hope, than private charity and the success of the State. Amid so cruel a crisis, amid sufferings so litt'e merited, it is quite natural that public opinion should grow restive in Europe and bitterly reproach the ambition of those who thus prolong a fratricidal war. Peace thing in the world now on hand, and selling in America, peace at any price, is the cry of thousands among us who are beset by hunger-innocent victims that they are of the passions and resentments that are steeping the United States in blood.

These complaints are but too well founded. THE PRESENT REBELLION. In years to come, when the careful student and patriot shall look back upon the present internecine warfare through the lens of impartial history, he will not full to become gratified and surprised. Gratified, because, amid the political degeneracy of the age, he will find the names of so many staunch and unflinehing patriots recorded, who were willing to sacrifice "their lives, their fortunes and their honor" for the maintenance of that Union which had, within the brief period of three quarters of a century, become the wender and admiration of the world. He will feel a no less greatful sence of pride swelling his bosom, on finding that these same patriots, although they had double opposition to contend with, in meeting assaults from political enemies in their midst, as well as from armed resistance, were still as true and Lyal as when their hearts were aroused to intensified indignation by the firing of the first gun on the walls of Fort Sumter from secession artillery. These facts will cause the future historian to think well of us. But he will find that, even among men professing loyalty, there was a class of people who took great pleasure in making political preferment a dominating principle in their conduct, and thus sought to embarrass the executive department of the Government, in its efforts to put down the rebellion. Such men, like professors of medical quackery, stand perfectly stolid and unmoved, while they look at the mighty throes and convulsions of our country to maintain its nationality, prescribing remedies for more dangerous than the disease itself, and laughing at the unfavorable turns which happen to occur in the propress of the terrible insurrection. In a crisis like this, when the very life and stability of the nation are at stake, when to be enlisted for the government, it is strange indeed, that any man should be found in the loyal states, disposed in any votion to the institutions of their country. The exigencies of the times require every man to be for or against the Government. When the war is over, and the Union is restored to its intended basis - when the North and the South are again placed on friendly terms-when the rights of every State and its people are carefully observed and respected then it will be time to quarrel and wrangle about politics and political organizapeople should be directed towards furnishing the "sinews of war," either by contributions in money, or their own personal influences in upholding and supporting the executive departments in their endeavors to save the Union from the horrors of dissolution. Already have we witnessed, in the two years which have passed since this war commenced, the boldest examples of treason, and the sternest determination on the part of the insurrectionists and their abettors, to overthrow the best government the world ever knew, and all for no just or reasonable cause. In fact. there could be no cause great enough to warrant such a wicked rebellion .-turing and mechanical people of the ple. The perjured traitors now wielding North. These facts they realized from the effects of the Elmer was enthusiastically applauded education which their own sons and daughters had received in our Northern schools on their return home, and they felt a danger was, in consequence, impending over their efforts to create an aristocracy, in which the wealthy should dominate over the poor. To check this advancement of civilization, was the legitimate cause of the present rebellion; and, when its truthful history is written, we shall find much to elate us concerning the triumph of our cause-for triumph it surely will.

UNION LEAGUE MEETING.

Pursuant to a call signed by some of our most respectable and influential citizens, the inhabitants of Bridgeton assembled on Saturday evening last, at Gross- throne and majesty of God. cup's Hall, for the purpose of forming a Union League. The large assemblage was called to order by Adrian Bateman, Esq., who nominated for President, Hon. John T. Nixon. The following addition-Vice Presidents, Adrian Bateman, Chas.

Mr. Nixon upon taking the chair, in a forcible speech, showed the object, the filery wine. Read it: necessity, and the advantage to be derived from such an association. All partisan objects were distinctly repudiated, and all, without distinction of party, were called upon to enroll themselves; the only qualification necessary to become a nember, being a heart sincerely and truly devoted to the preservation of the Union, the upholding of the Constitution, and the enforcement of the laws.

A committee, consisting of David Mc-Bride, Stephen G. Porch, Charles E. Elmer, Alphonso Woodruff and Adrian Bateman, was appointed to draft a conthe following, which was unanimously adopted by the members:

Section 1st, We pledge ourselves to an unconditional loyalty to the Government of the United States; to an unwavering support of its efforts to suppress the rebellion; and to spare no energy to maintain unimpaired the Natio... ty, both in principle and terri

During the absence of the committee. eloquent speeches were delivered by Mr. O. Van Derhoven, of Patterson, and Paul T. Jones, Esq., of Bridgeton; both gentlemen were londly applauded. Mr. Jones upon ascending the platform was tions. Until then every effort of the enthusiastically greeted. He commenced by remarking that this great outpouring of the loyal men of all parties, made him more hopeful. If men would only examine, read and study the history of their country, there would not be any difference in opinion among them as to their duty to the Government. He forcibly rebuked the doctrines of John C. Calhoun and his followers, and showed that the pernicious principles then taught, are through the instrumentality of his desciples, bringing forth "floods and whirlwinds of tempestuous fire," making our whole land a house of mourning.

Charles E. Elmer, Esq., next addressed the meeting. He advocated the forming of Union Leagues everywhere: the Political differences respecting the in- strengthening of the Government by evstitutions of slavery, have all been ani- ery means within our power, and making cably adjudicated heretofore-compro- clear and distinct the line between the mise after compromise has been made. loyal and disloyal, so that the sheep may law after law has been placed on our be distinguished from the goats. Progress of the War.

From Tennessee we learn that the action that history gives indubitable evidence love and admire; all who feel that con- at Milton, has resulted in a glorious Union success. The gallant Col. Hall, who was in command of our little handful of men -consisting of less than a brigade-was attacked by the rebels with great impetuosity, they were held in check by our artillery. The enemy then massed three Philadelphia Grain Market regiments and charged the battery with terrific yells, when a regiment who were lying concealed and waited till the enemy were within thirty yards, rose and opened a destructive fire, causing the rebels to recoil and finally to retreat in confusion, leaving behind them their dead and wounded, among whom were one colonel one captain, and three lieutenants. Our loss was seven killed and thirty-one wounded. The battle lasted about four hours.

An unauthenticated report has also reached Louisville that a portion of Stanley's force encountered John Moagan's cavalry of McMinnville, Tennessee, on the 20th and whipped them badly, driving them entirely away.

From Kentucky we have a despatch dapolicy and expediency of some of the ted Louisville, March 22d, which states that the rebel commander, Col. Cluke, surrounded Mount Sterling, Ky., at two o'clock on the morning of that day, and that our forces, amounting to two hundred, fought from the houses for four hours, but were finally compelied to surrender. The rebels then burned the town and it was thought that Col. Cluke intended to make an attack on the town of Paris that night.

From the Army of the Potomac we have the important news that the Rebel army on the Rappahannock is making preparations to fall back toward Richmond probably as far as the lines of fortifications constituting the defences of that city. The apprehension of the rebel Generals is that an attack is intended by way of James River, and this backward movement is considered necessary to thwart it. Refugees from Richmond confirm this theory, and add that Lee's force has been much reduced by the withdrawal of Longstreet, the two Hills, and other Rebel Generals with their commands, who have gone to other parts of the Con-be able to reduce all the rebel fortifications on the Yazoo. Our commissioner for the cexchange of prisoners, Col. Ludlow, confirms, the relarge storehouse containing millions of dollars worth of supplies was burned recently at Richmond, and the loss was so severe that no newspaper has dared to mention the occurrence. The village of Mount Sterling, Kentucky, is said to have been captured by Rebel force under Col. Clarke, on Saturday morning. There was a sharp but irregular fight for three or four hours, but the Union troops were compelled to surrender, and the place was burned.

The city of Jacksonville was taken by black soldiers on the 10th inst. The people were in great fear of an indiscriminate massacre; but the negroes behaved with propriety, and no one was harmed, On the 11th Col. Montflomery, of the 2d Colored Regiment, weet with about 200 men three miles out of town, and met about 200 Rebels, with whom he had a sharp skirmish. Baldwinsville, the junction of the railroad from Jacksonville to Tallahassee, and with that from Fernandina to Cedar Keys, is supposed to be the point aimed at by the expedition. Desertions from the Rebels continue quite frequent. Five sailors from the Rebel gunboat Savannah reached Fort Pulaski on the night of the 14th, bringing with them a Lieutenant as prisoner.

Death of Maj. Gen. E. V. Sumner. Major-General E. V. Sumner died at the residence of his son-in-law, Col. W. W. Teall, in Syracuse, on Saturday morning, of congestion of the lungs, after an illuess of five days. FORMS OF VERSE.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL

Doubtless, my readers think it strange. That I should take no wider range, Through different forms of verse to tell
Of themse my fancy leves so well.
Why not in Spenser's stanzas sing That Bennett's coats are "quite the thing?" Or, in Miltonie blank verse, show llis prices are extremely low? Why not, in Dryden's splendid linse, Where grace with energy combines, The strength of Bennett's pants declare, And prove his vests are good as fair?
As every mystery I detest.
The truth shall plainly be expressed: The verses of the classic age Are rather wide to suit the guage. Of public journals, on whose track I drive my Heliconian back; And lines, eight syllables in length Constructed with sufficient strength, (Like Scott's, for instance, have the power To sing the charms of Bennett's Tower, Or any subject, though as grand As human intellect has planned;

In conscious weakness, I despair. The largest assortment of Ready made Clothing in Philadelphia, of all qualities, styles and prices, on hand, and selling much below market rates, at TOWER HALL.

The great satisfaction this truly improved Super-Phosphate has given to the Agricultural community, gives great encouragement to the manufacturer to continue to improve, if possible, his article, but never, to fall back from its standard, and to maintain its well-merited celebrity. It has given entire satisfaction to those who have used it:

According to an alysis made by Dr. E. Pugh. President of the Agricultural College, of Pennsylvania, of all the principal Super-Phosphates, Moro Phillips' excepted.) manufactured in this and the States of New Jersey and New York, showingtheir agricultural value and published in the Country Gentlemax of March 27, 1862, Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphate contains more agricultural value than any other in the market. The Manufacturer is aware that he makes the seasortions to an intelligent agricultural community and to scientific analytical chemists, and also to infinential and long established manufacturers of Super-Phosphates; nevertheless he makes these broad declarations. So completely has the manufacturers ucceeded in makarticle of a uniform standard, that he gives a legal guarantee to wholesale dealers, that it shall always be the same standard as from the first.

Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphate is sold extensively by the principle dealers in Fertilizers in this city and State, and also in other States. Over 2000 tons were consumed by farmers layt season in this State and the States of Delaware and New Jersey.

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

A disinterested acknowledgement. Etward Webb, the proprietor and manufacturer of "Webb's Fertiliser," in the city of Wilmington, Del. says under det of Dec. 17, 1862, to the manufacturer of "More Phillips Super-Phosphate": "Your Phosphate is rapidly taking the place of all other Phosphates in this market, and if kept up to its present standard, there will be no limit to its sale."

Mr. Stokes, a practical farmer. President of the Farmers' and Mechanics Bank. Camden. N. J., says he has used Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphate, and it has given him entire satisfaction.

From my agent in Hariford, Conn... I have very good accounts, it does wonders for the culture of to baco.

Mr H. Neff, office of the Board of Health, Philadelphia, says under date of July 3d, 1862: "My tenant reports very favorably upon your Super-phosphate, and showed me his crops, which certainly proved that it is of great value upon wheat and corn crops, the oaly ones which he tried it on."

Mr. John Deal, of Prospect Hill farm, Lower Merion township, Montgomery county, says under date of Aug. 27, 1862: "I am happy to inform you that your vuper Phosphate has proved to be even more excellent then your representations. I used it on my crops of wheat last fall, and on corn last Spring." I had a most excellent crop of wheat, and the corn is a wonder to my neighbors; some of it is over 16 feet high, it could not possibly be better. I will want some of your Phosphate this fall, and no doubt you will have many easile from my neighbors. My son has the used year Super-Phosphate on his wheat last fall, and speaks in highest terms of it."

Hence his numerous customers keep him and all his employers too busy to write long advertisements, and the constant increase of business, has made it necessary to invest all his spare funds in sewing machines, and considering the low price at which he sells, it is no wonder that he has had no funds to invest in the less important article of Poetical Machinery.

ONE WORD TO THE INHABITANTS OF CUMBERLAND.

It has long been established beyond doubt that a man is apt to be judged by the clothes he wears as the company he keeps. Many a well meaning man loses the opportunity of doing good by example, merely because he does not happen to be dressed respectable. Such being the case it certainty becomes a duty we owe ourselves and others, to clothe our selves respectable. Here the question naturally arises where can we get such clothing at comparatively little cost, and that question we propose to answer.

This intents and the No. 427 Broome Street, 207ner of Crosby Street.

Having withdrawn his interest, stock and materials from the late firm of "Lighte & Bradburys," which firm was dissolved on the 31st January ult., and having purchased the entire stock of Piano-Fortes and Piano-Forte Material, owned by his brother, Edward G. Bradbury, in the said firm, he is now prepared to supply the increased demand for his celebrated Piano-Fortes. Employing the most skillful and experienced workinch, with a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and an abundance of capital, he has taken in hand the personal supervision of the whole business of manufacturing his instruments, and is enabled to turn out PianoFortes of unequalled tone and durableness.

Predbury's New Scale Piano-Forte.

In the arrangement of our new scale drawn and prepared with the utmost care expressly for our new instruments, we have added every improvement which can in any way tend to the perfection of the Piano-Forte, and we can confidently assert, that for delicacy of touch, volume, purity, brilliacy and sweetness of tone, combined with that strength and solidity of frame necessary to durability, these instruments are unequalied.

Published for the benefit and as a caution to young men, and others, who suffer from Nervous Debilty, Early Decay, and their kindred ailments—supplying the means of selfcute. By one who has cured himself after being a victim of misplaced confidence in medical humbug and quackery. I am prepared and will take BUTTER AND EGGS Jan. 4, 1862. LOOK AT THIS! Clerk.

The Menageric has just been to Bridgeton and exhibited both alternoon and evening, and a denso crowd of people went to see the animals. One of the elephants refused to cross one of the bridges at Elmer's pond, and consequently had to wade around, but not withstanding this, he came out all right.

Thompson is bound to come out right. The idea has gone out that Thompson sells goods a little higher than others. That idea must and shall be changed, if selling goods still cheaper will do it. I am bound to

YOUNG MEN who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the cars, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with itselancholy, may be cursed by the author's new Paris and London treatment.

We have, recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospitals, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many new and efficietious remedies which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assidinty, secrecy and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional practice for the past twenty-five years.

First France Pract.—Ladies who wish for Medicines, the efficacy of which has been tested in thousands of cases, and never failed to affect speedy cures without any bad results, will use none but Dr. DeLancy's Female Periodical Pills. The only precantion necessary to be observed is, ladies should not take them if they have reason to believe they are in certain situations (the particulars of which will be found on the wrapper accompanying each box.) though always safe and healthy, se gentle, yet so active are they.
