CAMP OF THE 7TH REG'T, N. J. V., NEAR FALMOUTH, VA.,
March 26th, 1863. MR. EDITOR: -- As I have a few min utes of spare time this beautiful Sabbath afternoon, I thought of trying to write you a few lines-knowing that you are a good Union man, and a lover of your country and glorious constitution. In commencing, let me say that the health of our regiment is excellent. We are situated near Falmouth, and the location of the camp is a pleasant one. We have plenty to eat, such as fresh bread, potatocs, onions and many other luxuries to tedious to mention. The next thing I have to say is attention traitors and peace men of New Jersey-you who are making public speechand will not fight - you who are trying to put it into the minds of the soldiers that they are not fighting for the Union, not fighting for to maintain the Government, but for the niggers; you are cowards and traitors-yes, you are traitors, and would to Ged that you might meet a traitor's doom, and that would be for you to be dangling in the air. I simply ask you why don't you go South, why stay at the North, and be protected by her laws.-Join the rebel ranks, and we would be glad to meet you upon the field of battle. But no, you are too big cowards for that. Can you turn your backs upon your country? Who will not fight for such a courtry as this - a country which has in times past flourished in spite of traitors, and the time is yet coming when right will prevail. The army was never in a better condition than at the present day and it is not demoralized as has been stated; but it is those who are seeking the everlasting destruction of our country. Lately I have seen statements of such a character that is calculated to make the weak-mind. ed soldier believe that he is in an unjust cause, and I have had letters from some who deem themselves my friends, speaking, I thought, unbecoming for any Union person. Such letters I do not care to receive from any one. I am in the Union army, fighting for to put down rebellion. and if the President thinks that by setting the slaves free he will weaken their cause, I am with him. Slavery has long been a curse to our country. Perhaps I have said enough, and will simply add t at a move is now looked for soon, and hope for success. The troops put great

March 29th, 1863. MR. EDITOR :- Thinking that some of the readers of your valuable paper would like to know of some of the proceedings in this part of "Dixie," I will endeavor to amuse them by a slight description of

Since my last letter, things have been comparatively quiet with us, with the exception of the firing on our pickets, which has been carried on almost every night for the last six weeks by a few of Gen. Wise's natriotic followers. The sport has been carried on so long without any fatal consequinces, that our boys have got used to it.

As I have before stated, this regiment is the only one on the Peninsula, the spiritual; and the people not unfreabove Yorktown, you may well suppose that we have our hands full. The ten emaciated companies now in camp do picket duty by squadrons, or two companies at a time, two days on each turn; one Company on post 24 hours-the other acting as a reserve.

On the morning of Thursday last. 26th inst., our squadron, companies A. and G., went to Williamsburg for picket duty. Company G. was posted at 9 A. M.: at 91 A. M. the pickets on the Richmond road was forced back about two hundred yards, by musketry from the woods; by dismounted rebel cavalry, about thirty in number, but who were quickly routed by our reserve coming up, who pursued the rebels over two miles, when it was thought best to return. At 11 A. M. a flag of truce came to the same es about peace resolutions, and saying that post to procure the body of a captain, the soldiers in the field are demoralized, who fell in the battle of Williamsburg. in May last; but we are inclined to think that they had another object in view :--At daybreak this morning, about two hundred rebel infantry succeeded in entering the town by a flank movement, and took a position on the main street. Immediately after a column of about five dollars out of this growd before one of low and almost hid by flowers. The birds the said justice of the peace, or other magnificant the said justice of the peace of the pe hundred cavalry charged on our pickets. Our boys nobly the table, and counted the amount. cut their way through, their sabres proving more than a match for the rebel bayonets. The rebel bullets, however, at this juncture proved of some effect. for they killed two of our men, wounded five, and killed nine of our horses. Our wounded succeeded in getting away. The object of the rebels-was to capture Fort Magruder, but they did not succeed in getting below the twon. A few well time. directed shells from the Fort, backed by companies E. and B., charging through the town, soon cleared it of the unwel-

Company C. sustains the heaviest loss. It has fifteen Jerseymen in it, out of which number, a goodly portion are noncommissioned officers, one of them being the regimental color bearer. The casualties, as far as heard from up to this evening, are as follows:

Killed-Co. C., Edward Steine, Jacob W ber, both of Philadelphia. Wounded -Co. C., Lieut. Wenzel, through the s'toulder: Hiram Twist, of Hamilton, N. J., in the foot : Ed. Taylor. of Atlantic City, N. J., in the thigh; Ed. Wilson. seriously, in the side. Ten men of Co. C. are still missing, also, three of Co. G., who were of the Provost guard. Among the prisoners taken is Jos. Allen, of Gloucoster City, N. J.,

The rebel loss was as follows: Fifteen killed and thirty wounded, all of them, however, were conveyed away, they having brought some wagons with them. We captured seven prisoners .-

Everything is now quiet, and with extra pickets on, and it now being after tattoo, I will bid you good night. Yours truly,

I'm going to the Post Office, Bill; shall I inquire for you?" Well, yes, if you have a mind to, but I do

TAKING UP A COLLECTION.

Rarely have we had a better story, or better told story, than this, from a Reverend gentleman in Missouri:

The life of a preacher in a new country, from a secular point of view, is hardly as smooth and free from difficulty as a position in many cultivated and populous communities usually appears to be The people are thinly scattered here and there, eligaged in different pursuits, though chiefly agricultural. Being collected from all parts of the older States, and gathered from every class of society, they meet upon the same common ground upon terms of easy familiarity, and restrained by no irksome conventionalities. People in a new country generally have a pretty hard time of it. They live a sort of "rough-and-tumble" life, wearing out their best efforts in a struggle for existence. Under these circumstances the material sometimes absorbs completely quently "get so far behind" with the preacher that they have frequently to bo 'stirred up" from the pulpit.

On one occasion we had a visit from the presiding elder of our district at one of our quarterly meetings. We had not paid our preacher "ary dime," as the boys say, and we expected a scoring from Well, we were not disappointed. The elder preached us a moving discourse rom the text "Owe no man any thing." At the close of his sermon, he came at once to the "subject in hand."

"Brethren," said he, "have you paid Brother - any thing this year? Nothing at all, I understand. Well, now, your preacher can't live on the air, and you must pay up—pay up that's the idea. Ho needs twenty-five dollars now, and must have it! Steward, we'll take up a and full as hard to get over; and when at Here some of the audience near

MRS. PARTINCTON AGAIN.

What makes the gas light so vaccingting?' said Mrs. Partington endeavoring to thread her needle as the gas light rose and fell now springing up to a brilliant flame, and now almost going out. It became steady at last, when Ike emerged from the cellar. "Where have you been?" looking around at him "Been to try the metre wrench," he replied. 'What!" she exclaimed, in a tone that raised the cap off her head, "meet a wench!" you disgraceful boy, how dare you say such a thing? I am almost tempered to take corrosive measures, and punish you within an inch of your skin. Such fragrant outrage I never knew in one so young. Boys that show such a mortal turpontine never come to any good end." She ceased suddenly, like a horse car brought up by a drawbridge, and rocked back and forth much excited. "I didn't do nothingf" said Ike, only tried this long thing on the gas the man gave me," and he held out to her a small wrench used to turn the gas off with, which he had been trying in the cellar. Mrs. Partington blushed just like a maple tree in October; and patting the boy on the head, she sent him out with a three cent piece, that he had been for an hour teasing for

TRUE HEART.

Hearts are of several kinds and of widely different natures. First, there are walled up heart and these are of two kinds, about one the wall is high and strong, and to surmount it is a work of extreme difficulty; but if you get inside you have entered Eden, Fragrant, and sweet, and fair, as the vision seen in dreams, is that enclosed garden; and it is last, with torn flesh and dislocated joints, you have scaled it, inside but rocks and the elder. "Steward, lock that door and | ble to distinguish the one from the other | the peace or other magistrate, that he has reafetch me the key!" he continued, com- until you have almost worn yourself out son to believe, and does believe, that any of "Now, steward," said he, "go round But there is another kind of heart, - a rare with the hat. Spirits of love and beauty beckon length deposited on the elder's table. - the sad and lonely ones to the feast of souls; and a charmed light and glary hover on the whole joyous air. This is the true type of heart.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

A Western soldier, in Grant's army writes home a spirited letter against the Copperheads. He closes thus:

We don't propose to give up the contest, whatever may be the action of the cravens at home. If the Government don't want to fight it out, we will take the job off its hands and do it up alone, for to live under a divided and constantly divided, patched up, and pusillanimous system, we will not! We were not born of such stuff as those weak kneed gentry, and we will give them such an exhibition of an outraged host of freedom loving patriots. as will make thom see stars, all the stars of all the States free forever, with a central power so strong, that all the powers the table swelled toward the requisite of darkness can never draw one bright orb away from the glorious constellation.

We are fighting for the freedom of man. that old, old cause of justice and order, for which the grand old heroes of all ages have fought and gone down like grand stars, leaving on the mountain tops of death a light which makes them lovely .-We emulate their virtues, their examples before us, and their blood shall not have been shed in vain.

We know the cost and will pay the price. Let treasure be expended without stint, let blood flow like, till the rebel host on their knees shall sue for peace, or the horrid crew be swept in confusion from this goodly heritage, no more to tread with traitorous feet this promised land of Fathers, brothers at home, give us your blessing, backed with an honest patriotism that will knock the breath out of every craven that mutters peace. Mothers, daughters, sisters, wives! Give us your prayers and your sympathies, practical sympathies, that will point with the finger of scorn and contempt at every rebel conciliator or crompromiser, and if there is no true manhood, no honest virtue left in the men, let the women of the North. that noble Spartan race, who love the heroes of our battles, create a public opinion in which no traitor can breathe. Do this. and not long will you wait to clasp, once more to your heart of hearts your soldier husband, brother, lover, friend.

Through the thick gloom of the pres ent, the day is breaking, and the full orbed sun of a victorious peace will soon rise over a new born nation-born in the full light and blessings of universal freedom, purified and ennobled by the terri-CINCINNATI, March 21.—There has dom, purified and ennobled by the terribeen a speck of war in Rush county, Inrious career, fulfilling the hopes of humanity, the wonder and admiration of the

THE CONSTITUTION SUPREME.

For the last few years we have heard all kinds of arguments and dissertations respecting the right of States to seperate from allegiance to the Constitution of our country, and we propose a brief examination of the subject for the benefit of our numerous and intelligent readers. The laws passed in pursuance of the Constitution do not depend on the State governments for enforcement, but act directly on the people, and, as the Federal laws do not depend on state instru mentality for their execution, it is put out of the power of a State to render them practically void by mere inaction. It follows, therefore, that the Constitution and laws of the United States can be rendered inoperative in any State on ly by active and intentional exertions to thwart their execution. The framers of the Constitution took good care to give it practical supremacy within the limits of every State, by binding the consci ence of all officers of each of the State governments by a solemn oath to support it. The provision is in these words: "The Senators and Representatives before mention ed, and the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and the several states, shall be bound by oath, or affirmation, to support this Constitution."

· Therefore, as long as State officers are men of honor, who regard the obligation of an oath, the Constitution must receive the support of the state governments, and can be resisted, if at-all, only by the people of the states acting through some other agency than their governments. But if the people, ing through such different organization, offer resistance to the Federal government, the Constitution provides that the United States shall protect each State against domestic violence, "on application of the legislature, or of the executive, when the legislature cannot be convened." It will thus be seen that the Constitution undertook to hold the states to their allegiance, in binding by a sole nn oath the officers of every department of the State governments, and furnish them assistance if the people should act in disregard of their authority. The founders of the Constitution did not, however, trust entirely to the oath by which they bound the consciences of State officers, but took raasonable pre- vided for the State Society at Jersey City, clads were so near to the city of Charlescautions against the consequinces of its possible violation. One State, acting preparation, those which semi-annually alone, could oppose but feeble resistance to the Federal government, and the Constitution prohibits a state from entering into "any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power." But, even a single state might, by determined rebellion, as has been seen by the conduct of South Carolina, in the present attempt to violate the Constitution, occasion considerable expense and bloodshed. To meet such a contingency the Constitution has accordingly still fur- prices as reasonable as any in the city. They ther protected itself by witholding from the states the power to "keep troops or ships of war in times of peace." The following is the provision:

"Ne State shall, without the consent of Congress. lay any duty on tonage, keep troops or ships of war, in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such im minent danger as will not admit of delay."

The provisions we have quoted make it evident that the tramers of the Constitution intended to guard effectually against the authority of the general government being cast off by state action. All state officers must swear allegiance -if they violate their oath, they are without troops or ships of war, or the strength that might be gained by compact with other governments, either state Their warehouse is near Chestnut Street, and or foreign. a state may be bound without its consent than the article relating to amendments. Three-fourths of the states may make amendments to the Constitution, which bind the other states, whether they concur in such amendments or not. Only one restriction is put on the power of three-fourths of the states to change the fundamental law, in any manner

This F. Westcott, of Bridgeton. single exception proves that in all other cases, states may be bound without their consent. This power of amendment even enables a minority of the people of the states to control the majority without their consent, which we will illustrate. Amendments to the Constitution may be carried in opposition to the eight largest states. By the last census it appears that the free population of these eight states is expressed thus:

New York 3,851,563 Indisna P nasylyania 2,916,018 Illinois 2,377,917 Virginia Ohie Massachusetts 1,231,494 Missouri which shows that the constitution puts in the power of eleven millions of people of the United States to bind the other fifteen millions without their consent A Constitution which thus strips individual states, however populous, of the power of seperate action, most assuredly did not intend to countenance the right of discontented states to break up the government at their pleasure. What stronger arguments are wanting?

THE MEDICAL MEETING.

Every year we see the friendly gathering of the regular physicians of our county, at the meetings of the Medical Society, and are pleased with the cheerful harmony which thus characterizes the profession. Last Tuesday they convened at Davis' Hotel, as usual, to listen to addresses and participate in discussions respecting the diseases falling under their notice. These regular meetings have been so well attended for a few years past, that the Society now stands among the most prominent in the State, and its delegates are cordially welcomed in the annual mee ings of the Parent Sociery. We rejoice in seeing Cumberland county thus distinguished, and trust that every practitioner will redouble his efforts to keep pace with the rapid growth of that science to which Le has devoted his life, and from

BATTLE AT CHARLESTON.

The highly exciting news from Charleston, instalments of which reached us through rebel sources during the closing days of the past week, is the absorbing subject of discussion and conversation among all classes of our people, and renders the consideration of almost all other topics insipid and uninteresting.

We have accounts of the action of Tuesday from several sources, presenting some differences of detail but agreeing in the main facts. The first of these accounts is derived from the steamer George Peabedy, which arrived at New York last evening from Hilton Head and Charleston bar on the 9th inst. She reports that the attack of the iron-clads commenced on the afternoon of Tuesday, the 7th inst., when a portion of the squadron went up as an advance to feel the way, and that at two o'clock all of der weigh and approached within 1,200 yards them were engaged in a terrific combat of Fort Sumter, when she once more became with Forts Sumter and Moultrie, and the unmanageable and was again obliged to drop batteries on Sullivan's Island. The remainder of the fleet, consisting of the Monitor about five o'clock, when the tide falling they withdrew out of range of the enemy's guns. During the engagement the Naant was struck, it is said, five hundred times, with no greater damage than can perpendicularly in the water by weights,be repaired in forty-eight hours. She was taken to Port Royal, where she arrived on the morning of the 9th. The other vessels also stood the terrible fire to which they were exposed, without any material injury and are again ready for service. The accounts by the Peabody also state that during the action the iron clads were so near to the city of Charles-ton that their two hundred pounder Par-rott guns could with ease have landed Parapsco had her 200 pour der Parrot gun disshells into it: but as the movement was only intended as a preliminary one to the grand attack, Admiral Dupont would not permit the city to be shelled at that time. The rebel iron clads Palmetto State and Chicora were in sight, and tried the range of their guns, but did not attempt to make use of their hossted powers as to make use of their boasted powers as she could not bring her broadsides to bear unrams; and it was not until our iron-clads retired that they came out fairly from nity to deliver her fire at Fort Moultrie. This was the only offensive demonstration made by behind the walls of Sumter. The fieet of wooden vessels were not engaged in these preliminary operations, as it was not thought best to expose them before a behind her to pass ahead and go to the supgeneral attack was made. Our officers and men were in high spirits, and our plans and operations were working equal to their anticipations.

The second account of this terrible engagement is derived from the steamer Mary Sanford, which arrived at Morehead City on Friday, and her news is telegraphed to us from Fortress Monroe.—

Nothing was done during the remainder of the 6th. On the morning of the 7th the fog was still thick, but by 9 o'clock it had nearly cleared away, and there was no further cause for delay of the attack. Up to 12 o'clock preparations for the conflict were continued on all the iron clads. At 1 P. M., the pilot of the flag ship at last declared himself ready to move. "Van Dorn made his promised attack to-day at 1 o'clock, directly in front and on the town. The infantry regiments on guard in the town, with the cavalry pickets, held him at bay until their ammunition was exhausted. The dense smoke and atmosphere fuvored their operations, enabling them to approach very near without our being able to observe them Our siege guns and our light batteries opened upon them with murderous effect, literally strewing the ground with men and horses. I had halted Gen Stanley four miles out on the Murfreesboro road. "He at once crossed his forces over at Height's Mills, vigorously attacking Forest's divisions, moving down on the Lewisburg pike, capturing six pieces of artillery and some 200 prisoneas, but owing to the unfavorable nature of the country, was un able to hold them, being attacked by greatly superior numbers, outflanked and nearly surrounded. Our loss in killed, wounded and prisoners, is less than 100, while the enemy's cannot be less than three times that number. They were well. repulsed on all sides and driven until darkness prevented the pursuit.

"Capt. McIntyre of the 4th Regulars, took the battery and prisoners, bringing off thirty odd of the latter,

LANDRETE'S AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. AND SEED WAREHOUSE

PHILADELPHIA, David Landreth and Son, Proprietor of Bloomadale, which contain nearly four hundred acres, in high lith, devoted to the production of Garden Seeds

Are now prepared to supply Country Merchants, Druggists, and all others who deal in Seeds, with large or small quantities, by the pound or bushel, and also in papers made ready for retailing. The Establishment, represented by David Landreth & Son, has been founded nearly % of a Century

The wide spread popularity, and the demand, increasing from year to year, for

ANDRETHS LANDEN SEEDS s evidence of the high value entertained for them by the public

Lundreth's Garden Seeds are not only favorably throughout the Union, but are shipped to many forsign ports. Indeed, it may be stated with national pride that they come into active competition with English Seed on British Soil.

David Landreth & Son invite all who are not already purclessare of their Garden Seeds, to make a trial of them—assured that they will be found fully equal to their high reputation.

David Landreth & Son, Publish the Rural Righter and Almanack that for 1863, is now ready, and inay be had free of charge, on application by mail. Address DAVID LANDRETH & SON.

> ONE WORD TO THE INHABITANTS OF CUMBERLAND. INHABITANTS OF CUMBERIAND.
> It has long been established beyond doubt that a man is apt to be judged by the clothes he wears as the company he keeps. Many a well meaning man loses the opportunity of doing good by example, merely because he does not happen to be dressed respectable. Such being the case it certainty because a duty we owe curselves and others, to clothe ourselves respectable. He re the question naturally arises where can we got such clothing at comparatively little cost, and that question we propose to answer.

THE THOROUGH BRED HORSE PLOW BOY,

OR AS HE IS GENERALLY CALLED PEOPLE'S FAVORITE Will be around for service, commencing April 1st—PLOW BOY is a beautiful dark sorrel; 16 hands high, with heavy main tail, For beauty, style, action, and bottom, it is hard to find his equal. As regards his Pedigree he was sired in Buck's county, Pennsylvania. (For Pedigree see ou large bills.) His coits has proved him to be the best horse that has been in the State for a long time, as his colts sell for higher prices than those sired by horses which stood in the same stables with him, and for which farmers paid as high as $40, when they might have had better for $10.

A lecture on the Nature, Treatment & Radical Cure of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Emissions, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally, Nervousness, Consumption. Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self-Abuse, &c.—By ROBT, J. CULVERWELLA, M. D., Author of the Green Book, &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Aug. 2 LOOK AT THIS!

The Menagerie has just been to Bridgeton and exhibited both afternoon and evening, and a dense crowd of people went to see the animals. One of the elephants refused to cross one of the bridges at Elmer's pond, and consequently had to wade around, but not withstanding this, he came out all right.

Thompson is bound to come out right. The idea has gone out that Thompson sells goods a little higher than others. That idea must and shall be changed, it selling goods still cheaper will do it. I am bound to SELL AS CHEAP OR CHEAPER han others, for cash, and as I have just got in New and Beautiful Stock of Goods, just call and examine for yourselves, and if you don't say they are cheap I will not ask you to purchase.—My stock consists, in part, of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS Suspenders, Neck-Ties, Shirt Collers, turndowns and thokers, from 1 to 15 cents. Also Hats and Caps of the very Latest Styles. My prices have always been uniform, justa fair living profit, taking from one men what. I do from another, (which I have always thought was the golden rule), and not taking two profits from one; and shalf profit from another.

MORO PHILLIPS' GENUINE IMPRO-VED SUPER PHOSPHATE OF THE STANDARD GUARANTEED.
Prepared at his Chemical Works, Camden, N. Jand for sale at Manafacturer's Depot, N. 7 NO. 27 NOBTH FRONT STREET, PHILADELPHIA. No. 27 North Front Street, Philadelphia.

The great satisfaction this traly improved SuperPhosphate has given to the Agricultural community, gives great encouragement to the manufacturer to continue to improve, if possible, his article, but never to fall back from its standard, and to maintain its to fall back from its standard, and to maintain its well-merited celebrity. It has given entire satisfaction of those who have used it.

This Super-Bhosphate contains less moisture than any other in the market, as indicated by the weight of the packages, which are heavier than any other manufacturers of the same size. The ingredients of this Super-Phosphate are Bone Phosphate. Sulphuric Acid, and Ammonia, which have a greater density than water, must necessarily produce a heavier article.

According to malysis made by Dr. E. Pugh, President of the Agricultural College, of Pennsylvania. of an the principal Super-Phosphates, Moro Phillips' excepted.) manufactured in this and the States of New Jersey and New York, showingtheir agricultural value and published in the Country Genilsman of March 27, 1862, Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphat contains more agricultural value than any other in the market. The Manufacturer is aware that he makes these assertions to might be proposed to see an intellment agricultural community and to scient Manufacturer is aware that he makes the seassertions to an intelligent agricultural community and to scientific analytical chemists, and also to influential and long established manufacturers of Super-Phosphates; novertheless he makes these broad declarations. So completely has the manufacturer succeeded in makarticle of a uniform standard, that he gires a legal guarantee to wholesale dealers, that it shall always be the same standard as from the first.

Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphate is sold extensively by the principle dealers in Fertilizers in this city and State, and also in other States. Over 2000 tons were consumed by farmers last season in this State and the States of Delaware and New Jersey.

Change in price from $45 to $47.50 per ton, 2000 lbs. No charge for packages. A liberal discount to dealers.

N. B.—Observe that my name and place of manufacture is on each and every package, none other being genuine.

A disinterested acknowledgement. Edward Webb, the proprietor and manufacturer of "Webb's Fertiliser," in the city of Wilmington, Del., says under date of Dec. 17, 1862, to the manufacturer of "Moro Phillips Super-Phosphate": "Your Phosphate is rapidly taking the place of all other Phosphates in this market, and if kept up to its present standard, there will be no limit to its sale."

Mr. Stokes, a practical farmer, President of the Farmers' and Mechanics Bank. Camden, N. J., says he has used Moro Phillips Super-Phosphate, and it has given him entire satisfaction.

Culbert & Bro., the largest dealers in Fertilizers in the city of Wilmington, Del., acknowledged to the manufacturer, that all Moro Phillips' Super-Phosphate which was sol 'by them last fail, was to parties whocalled for that article and would Pave nothing else:

Mr H.-W. Neif, office of the Board of Health, Philadelphia, says under date of July 3d, 1862: "My tonant reports very favorably upon your Super-phosphate, and showed me his crops, which certainly proved that it is of great value upon wheat and corn crops, the only ones which he tried it on."

Mr. John Deal. of Prospect Hill farm, Lower Merion township, Montgomery county, says under date of Aug. 27, 1862: "I am happy to inform you that your super-Phosphate has proved to be even more excellent than your representations. I used it on my crops of wheat last fall, and on corn last Spring I had a most excellent crop of wheat, and the corn is a wonder to my neighbors; some of it is over 16 feet high, it could not possibly be better. I will want some of your Phosphate this fall, and no doubt you will have many calls from my neighbors. My son has ylso used your Super-Phosphate on his wheat last fall, and speaks in highest terms of it."
