TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER. I WOULD call the attention of Farmers and others to my TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER, which has been thrroughly tested and proven to be. I think, a power that must supersede all Endless Chain power or the old Lever. It is of very Light Draught, and can be moved from place to place readily, it being fixed on wheels with tounge &c., complete, and can be placed in position for work in less time than any other kind of power. The exceeding cheapness of the machine is its greatest recommendation.

I would refer those in want of a good power to the following persons:

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

That we have fallen on evil times I mournfully confess, For Fate's decrees and human crimes Bring trouble and distress. But not in murmurs and complaints

The good man's courage never faints, Whatever ills abound. The patriot's hope survives the shock; When stormy factions rave, And, like the light house on the rock, Resists the threatening wave. Our Ship of State, though tempest-tost, Beholds the beacon ray, And though imperill'd can't be lost While that directs her way.

The patriot's duty is the card By which our course we steer, And while its teachings we regard,

No breakers need we fear. So when we choose the proper course, And steer for Tower Hall,

No disappointment, or remorse, Or sorrow can befall. Our assortment of Summer Clothing is the largest and most complete in Philadelphia, our prices much below present values. TOWER HALL. No. 518 MARKET Street, Philadelphia. BENNETT & CO.

APPEARANCE OF VICKSBURG.

A correspondent writing from Vicksburg the full particulars of the siege and its surrender, says: THE CITY.

The appearance of the city after such an unparalleled bombardment, was naturally a point of much ouriesity. We exmortar bombs. The first sight is a disappointment. The place is not damaged as might have been expected. Nearly every house has been shot through, it is true, but a hole made by a cannon ball, is in comparison, but a small matter .-Here and there were buildings with a corner blown out, and some with a bulge in the walls. Huge craters were to be seen in the streets, where the 13-inch shells had burst, the pillows of house-porches split and shattered to splinters.

There is not, perhaps, a whole pane of class within five miles of the Court House. One church was riddled, while pital flags were stuck up on houses all

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

It was a disagreeable, stormy day out of doors, and in the village store were collected a dozen or more, of social spirits, engaged in drinking cider and talking politics. By and by they had talked the political field dry, and one of the number-Sam Shute by name-a red nosed, bleareyed man, opened upon the subject of do mestic government. He ventilated himself upon household affairs in general, and finally approached one of his hobbies as "I tell ye, my boys, a man's got to be master in his own house if he ever expects to be anybody. Just let your wife gain an inch, and she'll take an ell. Let her once take the the reins, and she'll be sure to keep 'em. Lord! what a thing a man must be to let his wife rule him.'

Thereupon Mr. Sam Shute finished his mug of eider, and then filled his mouth

"That's a fact," cried Tom Burnham, in a thick, foggy voice. "Egad, I'd like to see o woman rulin' me. I never had it in my family. No, sirs. I hold the reins myself. My wife moves when I tell her to. She's got her lesson, and she know jest what to depend on " Tom Burnham finished his mug of eider, and lighted his old black pipe.

"That's all," he gasped. And then he went away and fed the cattle, and got in his wood for morning.

What a cheerless evening it had been

On the following morning Job found the same sedate face at the breakfast table no smiles - no cheer - no social chatting. After breakfast he went out and fixed the the fire, not dering to raise them toward her; and when she saw that his teeth were his wit's end. What would he have given at that moment for a suggestion from his wife. By and by a lucky thought struck him. He could break the ice without lowering his own dignity. He went into the house with this purpose. "Sarah," he said, with his hands worknarrates the following story. "A case of mistaken identity has been brought to our notice, the results of which has created a thrill of joy to an afflicted mother, and at the same time shows how easily it is for one to be mistaken. In March last Mrs. Julia Esmond, Parma, Jackson County, in this State, received a letter from Captain Soule, of Co. I, Sixth Michigan Infantry, Infantry, annoucing the death of her son, "The Surgeon informs me he was buried in a beautiful spot by a kind old lady and her daughter, the grave covered with evergreens, and a nice head-board bearing his name, age and residence, together with the regiment and company.' "Young Esmond, the idedtical person alluded to in this letter as having been buried arrived in Detroit a few days ago and reported for duty at the barracks. "As soon as Mrs. Esmond received the letter announcing the death of her son, she sent it to Captain Robinson, commanding at the Barracks, with the solicitation that he should make the necessary inquiry into the case, and, if possible, aid her in obtaining his remains, &c. Captoin Robinson broke the seal, adjusted his spectacles, and read the letter .-While engaged in reading, a young man -apparently a stranger-walked up to him, and with hat in his hand awaited his leisure. As soon as he had completed reading the letter the young man accosted him with 'are you commander of this post?' 'I am,' said the captain. 'Then I wish to repoot for duty,' said the stranger. 'I am from the Sixth Michigan, and having just at this moment arrived from my regiment, I desire to be sent back as soon as you may have a fletachment of men ready to go there.' Upon being asked his name he told it. The and desired a pass to visit his mother.— into the ranks of our army. Such a fear is granted, and he started for his home.

COUNTY PAPER IN: THIS STATE. Only $1.25 per Year: in Advance:

JAMES B. FERGUSON, Editor.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY. A Proclamation.

A Proclamation.

It is right publicly to give thanks to Almighty God for the victories recently vouchsafed to the armies of the United States; and in the midst of thanksgiving to remember in prayer, those who have been bereaved through the essualities of war.

It is right for a Christian people to invoke the Holy Spirit to change the hearts of their enemies, and also to guide with wisdom the counsels of their own government, to the end that the Union of the States may be maintained, the Constitution preserved, and peace and prosperity speedily established:

Therefore, I recommend that the people of the State of New Jersey observe by THANKSGIVI. GAND PHAYER, in their usual places of public worship, the day designated for that purpose by the President of the United States, to wit: THURSDAY, the 6ru DAY of AUGUST, A. D. 1863.

Given under my hand Privy Seal at Trenton

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

To the people of New Jersey :-No draft has been outered in New Jersey. Every volunteer mustered in o the U. S. service for three years, within shirty days, will cause an abatement pro tanto of New Jersey's quota of the draft, should one be ordered. If $7.53 volunteers be raised in the State in this production of the state of the service of the servi one be ordered. If 8.783 volunteers be raised in the State in thirty days there will be no draft. There will, in no event, be a draft for any alleged previous deficincy. The quota of each township and ward towards the $.783 men will be published as soon as possible, by the Adjutant General of the State, and each township and ward will receive credit for the number of men furnished.

New Jersey has thus far furnished all men asked of her without drafting, and it would be a sourced pride and graftication should she continue to fill her quota of troops by volunteers.

The formation of an infantry regiment will be immediately commenced at Freehold, and another at Beverly, and a battery will be authorized in a few days at Trenton. A special effort will also be made to calist men for the old regiments. I carnestly call upon the critizens of this State to make every effort to raise these troops by the payment of additional bounties, through public meetings and personal exertion. Let the authorities of the cities and townships determine to raise their quotas, by this means in 1862, 11,000 men were raised in fifteen days. teen days.

It will be observed that no draft has been ordered in this State, and we learn that our Executive some weeks ago requested of the General Government the privilege of filling ably be supposed furnished food for these our quota by voluntary enlistments, backed by the opinion of well-informed citizens, that the number of men required would be furnished within a reasonable time. In reply the Governor was informed that the Government would not be ready to apply the draft in this State for thirty days, and if within that time the quota, 8,783, was filled there would be no draft in this State, or that any proportion that might be filled would be credited pro tano, to the sub-divisions furnishing them, which in this State are townships and wards. New Jersey amply testify to the industry and ravages is thus offered another opportunity of demonstrating her patriotism and valor and vindicating her historic fame by contributing her share of men voluntary for the defence of the Union. The call for volunteers therefore comes alacrity which has never before been witness ed. It appeals to every citizen with redoubled force, and every influence must be zealously used to fill up the number.

Super-Phosphate of Lime.

One of the principal reasons why farm land in South Jersey has so rapidly advanced in price of late years, is the additional value given to it by the liberal application of manures and fertilizers, which a few years since were not to be had. The price of guano has advanged to such an enormous extent, that farmers cannot afford to use it on any crop. Peruvian Guano contains an over-dose of ammonia, and brings forward the leaf and stalk of the plant at the expense of its grain-bearing properties while Super-Phosphate of Lime gives to the growing crop all the stimulus it needs, and no more, and does not exhaust the soil. The gu a 10 expends itself on the first crop, and leaves the soil exhausted, while the phosphate more than pays for itself on the first crop, and leaves of rich, luscious fruit may again reward the land permanently improved. The stalk is the producer. The production of pears, made firmer by the use of phosphate, and the grain much heavier and better filled.

Mono Phillips' genuine improved Super-Phosphate of Lime is a standard article. He makes but one kind, and that has been thoroughly and extensively tested for a number of years past, and proved to be the cheapest and best Fertilizer in the market.

Farmers and others in want of a genuine article should see that every barrel and bagthey purchase has Mono Phillips' brand on in it.

Several of the large buttonwood trees on the corner of Commerce and Pearl Streets. have been felled in order to remove the Session House of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. C. Albertson has purchased the lot, and intends erecting a three story building. The first floor is to be used for a grocery store. Another new grocery store wil also be opened, in a short time, by Robert & Edward Parvin, first door east of the County Clerk's office.

The increase in the number of farms, with the invariable practice of planting fruit trees, if not orchards, on them, would seem to be sufficient, at least, to prevent a decline in the amount produced. The census returns prove this not to have been the case. A long suc-

to some extent by insects, other and more powerful causes seem to be at work.—

Many varieties seem to have lost their

After an hour's severe fight our troops were compelled to fall back to the Kentucky river, badly cut up. The rebel force was estimated at 12,500 with six guns and were supposed to be the advance of Bragg's army. At the latest advices our troops had fallen back within five miles of Lexington with the enemy closely following. Martial law was proclaimed in Lexington, and all able bodied citizens between 18 and 45 were ordered to report for duty. Rebel citizens reported the rebel force over 15,000 strong moving in a northerly direction via Crab Orchard.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27, 1863. DEAR PIONEER :-- We are floundering about in a dead calm-no excitement-no amusement -no business-everything has gone to the "demnition bow-wows," and the people all gone to the Capes, Potomac, or some other seaport town, and the sun blazes away at us, as determined to make us run. As for shirt collars, they are nowhere-starch is a good thing in its place, but it sands no show in this climate, where the thermometer is so high that fears are entertained that it will never come down, and butter is sold by the quart.

The 'bloods' have introduced a style of steel collar-something new but does not appear to take. Our big brother says he likes the steat collar the best; and from the rapid diminution of our last dozen, we verily believe he is backing up his opinion at our expense.

The draft is progressing finely, with no disposition to outrage the majesty of the law, and we trust it will thus continue until we have Poor little fellows think that is the highest office in the gift of the people.-(so do we, -'over the left," and mean it as a great phia. His long experience, superior business conpliment. The ladies are the worst we have "We'll stand the storm it wont he long.

Nearly all the woman in our neighborhood, knowing our time for going down town, stand in their doors to see us pass, as we run the fatil plank, we catch it front, flank and rear,with "drafted !- served him right !- ought to go !--just the man !--nasty old bachelor !--no family !- no one miss him !" Now, this makes one feel badly and we have almost concluded to let the rebels come up. There is one among them who takes it to heart and cries 'muchly, at the elephantine prize we have drawn; she our total loss in killed, wounded and missing ammunition, 10,000 rounds of Enfield flatters herself that she has a claim on this tenement of clay, and has told all the women so, and of course they call us a 'brute!'

We loaned the aforesaid damsel our umbrel-, and she forgetting to return it, we took the 1 berty of calling on her twice. The first time she informed us that it was then in active service under the command of the next door neighbor, and the second time we surrounded i and bagged it, and now she reports that we have been paying attention to her. Egad !-She is right, so we have been, and that very particular and serious attention to see that she did not confiscate that umbrella, as it was the gift of a very particular friend, who borrowed five dollars and left that in its place, and of course we had an affection for it, in fact it was very dear to us.

Some people say that the draft was not conducted fairly, but on sifting the matter out we nade on Thursday last to throw the cars of | find the report originates with some fellow conscript, and they being an interested party who have escaped have found no fault, and as they are the majority, why, we guess they ought to know.

That he will be that of a habitual drunkard, and you would be surprised to see the number of conscripts who are going it wild on a 'high horse.' In fact, the same day that we were informed of our election to the high and honorable position of rolllng back and subduing the fearful tide of rebellion, and keeping Lee out of Jersey, on that day we thought everybody was drunk-that the lamp-posts were drunk-the curb-stones very drunk, and was perplexed, on reaching home, to find the boarding mistress had left the house standing out all night. We retired to bed awfully impressed with the responsibility that rested on us in restoring this 'best government' and reclaiming this fearfully demoralized people. In the morning we were found in bed with our boots and hat on, and on looking in the glass found that somebody else had been drunk, or else very sick, indeed, and pieces of artillery and seven hundred stand of would have thought the latter supposition the most reasonable had not some friend informed us since that we expressed a wish that we were married, to escape the draft; we, therefore, plead guilty to the first impeachment, and put in a plea of 'couldn't help it,' with a recommendation of mercy.

The various committees are making exertions to get up a suitable evation to our returning braves, and there is no doubt the management will spare no pains in making it worthy.

There is a large and thriving business done in the way of substitutes. Agencies where those who don't want to go, and where those who do want to go; -can both be suited, -are established numerously. There are a great number offering to go as 'subs'; the demand is large, but supply seems amply sufficient, and as the government has fixed a prize, of course they range in valuation from seventy-five to two hundred and fifty dollars. Many are coming from Canada; and as they are hardy, able men, and out of our lines they are an acquisition to our forces much desired. Parties are commencing proceedings in our Supreme Court, to test the constitutionality of Brilliant Achievements of Our Cavalry the draft, and should New York and our Courts go against it, there will be some delay in en forcing the matter.

It is pretty well understood that Pennsylva. nia will not submit to two drafts being made upon her people when other States have not stood any. Our Governor is so intensely federal that he not only ignores State Rights, but in a measure individual rights.

It is necessary to yield an implicit obedience to the law, yet is as imperative on the other hand that the law should be clearly understood and fairly administered, for if in our zeal we exact one tittle more we sink into despotism.

nal success. Further reliable advices from this quarter will be anxiously looked for. Positive information has been received that there was no assault made upon Fort Wagner by the Union forces on the 18th inst., as stated in the dispatch purporting to have been received in Richmond from Beauregard. The attack by our land batteries and gunboats was to be made on the 19th; but no assault was contemplated. Furthermore, it is known that all telegraphic communication between Charleston and Richmond on the 22d inst., had been destroyed by our troops at Turborough, and the whole story is regarded by the military authorities here as great canard, manufactured in Richmond.

The position of the gunboats prevents any possibility of throwing a large rebel force upon Morris Island to aid the garrison in Fort Wagner, and the position of Gen. Gillmore on the aland is believed to be even more impregnable than Fort Wagner itself On the 19th was ready to unmask a heavy battery, erected within a few hundred yards of the fort, and there is more probability that the fort was reduced than that any disaster has occurred to our forces there.

The Arago, on the 24th, captured the steamer Emma, of London, from Wilmington for Bermuda, with a cargo of turpentine, rosin and cotton, and towed her into this port. The steamer Pocahontas, from Port Royal on the 22d, arrived here to-day. She reports having heard heavy firing when off Charleston. The siege of Fort Wagner was progressing

THE ACTION AT MANASSAS GAP. Gallant Charge of the Excelsior Brigade

Rout of the Rebels, with a loss of Five

says, on Thursday last, while the third and ifth army corp's of Gen. Meade's army were ying at the mouth of Manassas Gap (this side,) nformation was received that General Longstreet was sending a brigade of his corps forward, in order to possess himself of the gap .-Gen. Spinola, commanding the Excelsior Brigade (800 muskets,) of that corps, was at once ordered forward.

The commanding general supposed the rebels were only in small force on and behind the crest of a bill, about one mile from the gap, between it and Front Ro, al, an l, therefore, supposed this brigade was sufficient to dislodge the enomy. About a quarter of a mile from the crest of the hill there was a stone wall, and behind that also there was a small rebel force. Gen. Spinola at once took an observation of he ground, and after pointing out to his regimental commanders the work they would have to perform, he ordered his gallant brigade for ward, and with fixed bayonets and a yell that betokened their determination to succeed, they rushed forward, and with fixed bayonets and a yell that betokened their determination to succeed, they rushed forward, when the rebels quickly fled from the hill and took refuge behind the stone wall. Up to this the brigade ushed also, when from behind it rose a whole brigade of Georgians and two regiments of North Carolina sharpshooters, all under the ommand of Gen. Anderson, but our troops needed them not, but amid a shower of rifle bullets and artillery in front and on the flank pushed forward, and with the bayonet drove the rebels from their protection, and sent them cattering over the field. The rebel loss was not less than 500 in killed wounded and missing.

We had no artillery, while the rebels had at least seventeen pieces. That night our soldiers bivouscked on the battle ground, and the next day marched into Front Royal. In this fight it is the opinion of military men that the rebels outnumbered us at least six to one, but they appeared to be completely fagged out, and after being disloged from the stone wall they could not move up a hill in an upright position, but crawled on their hands and knees. thus giving our men an opportunity to pour in an effective fire, of which they eagerly availed themselves. In this fight General Spinola received two very severe wounds, one in the right foot, which tore open the heel for two or three inches, and another through the fleshy part of the right side. The first mentioned is by far the most painful and serious, but he is doing as well as could be expected. The Gen. arrived here to day, having been in the meantime, since he received his wounds, in an am-

his home in New York.

General Spinola is loud in his praises of the manner in which his whole command, officers, privates and all, behaved. His Adjutant Goneral was the first to cross the stone wall. Gen pinola was himself wounded when but a few feet from it, and the wounds came in quick succession, scarcely a moment clapsed between was received from the Navy Department this morning: FLAG SHIP BLACK HAWK, ?

OFF VICKSBURG, July 18. SIR: I have the honor to inform you that the expedition I sent into the Red river region proved very successful. Ascending the Black and the Tensas rivers. running parallell with the Mississsippi, Lieut commander Seifridge made the head of pavagation, Tensas lake, and bayou Macon, thirty miles above Vicksburg and within five or six miles of the Mississippi

The enemy were taken completely by surprise, not expecting such a force in such quarter. The rebels that have ascended to that region will be obliged in move further back from the river, if not go away altogether. Lieut. Commander Selfridge divided his forces on finding that the transports which had been carrying stores to Walker's army had escaped up some of the narrow streams. He sent the Manitou and Rattler up the Little Red river-a small tributary of the Black. The night was dark and it was raining very hard The Maniton and Rattler succeeded in capturing the rebel steamer Louisville, one of the largest and perhaps the best steamer in the Western waters.

Up the Tensas, on one of its tributaries. the Forest Rose and Petrel captured the steamer Elmira loaded with stores, sugar and rum for the rebel army. Finding that the steamers which had conveyed General Walker's army had retreated up the Washita, the expedition started up that river and came suddenly upon two rebel steamers, but the rebels set them on fire, and they were consumed so rapidly that their escaped above the fort at Harrisonburg, which is a very strong work and unassail able with wooden gunboats. It is on an elevation over one hundred feet high, which elevation covers what water batteries of heavy guns there are.

Lieut. Commander Selfridge was fortunate enough, however, to hear of a large quantity of ammunition that had lately been hauled from Natchez and reported at or near Trinity, nearly due west of Natchez, and from whence stores, provisions, cattle, guns and ammunition are transported .-He captured 15,000 rounds of smooth bore rifle, and 234 rounds of fixed ammunition for guns, a rifled 30-pounder Parrott gun carriage, 52 hoghsheads of sugar, 10 puncheons of rum, 9 barrels of flour, and 40 barrels of salt-all belonging to the Confederate Government. At the same time they heard of a large amount of ammunition that had started from Natchez for Trinity, and was lying in wagons on the road half way across .-He despatched a beat around to inform me of it, but Gen. Ransom who had landed a few days before at Natchez hearing of it also, sent a detachment of cavalry and captured the whole. Thus Walker's army is left almost without ammunition. The officers and men have shown real energy in this expedition and have met with no mishap. They produced a good deal of information by which future movements will be regulated. The people in the whole of that section are very hostile to the Government-rank

Official Report of the Late Cavalry Raid. WASHINGTON, July 20 .- The following official report has been received at the headquarters of the army:

NEWBERN, N. C., 24, VIA FORTRESS MONROE. Maj. Geu. H. W. Halleck, Gen-in-Chlef U. S A. GENERAL: I have the honor to report that the cavalry raid, having for its object the destruction of the railroad bridge at Rocky Mount, has returned, completely successful. pedition consisted of the 8d Regiment of New York (cavalry) and a squadron of the 12th and Mix's men, (c.valry,) and one company of North Carolina c.valry, and was under the command of Brigadier General Edward E. Potter, chief of staff. The bridge over the Tar river at Rocky Mount, a station on the Wilmington and Wellon Rullroad, between Goldsboro' and Weldon, was completely destroyed. The bridge was three hundred and fifty feet long, with a trestle work of four hundred feet more. A cotton mill (filled,) a flouring mill (containing one thousand barrels of flour and large quantities of hard bread.) and a machine shop (containing shells, gunpowder, and every munition of war,) a large depot, offices, &c., an engine and train of cars, a wagon train of 25 wagons (filled with stores and munitions of an army) and a machine shop, with the machinery and materials, and eight hundred oales of cotton, were all destroyed.

At Tarboro two steamboats and one large and fine iron clad, in process of construction a saw-mill, a train of curs, one hundred pales of cotton, large quantities of subsistence and ordnance stores were destroyed. The bridge over the Tarriver, a: this point, was also burnt likewise the bridges at Umille and Sparata were destroyed. A out one hundred prisoners were taken, and some three hundred animals, orses and mules. Som three hundred con trabands followed the expedition into Newbern. The forces had con tant fighting with the en emy, who made great endeavors to intercept their return, but in every case the enemy's position was either turned, or they were compelled to retire. Our loss in killed, wounded, and missing will not exceed twenty-five men. I have the honor to be, Very respectfully, your obed't serv't, J. G. FOSTER, Physiological View of Marriage.

250 PAGES AND 130 ENGRAVINGS.—Price only 25 cents. Sent free of postage to all parks of the Union. On the infirmities of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret follies of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervousness, degression of spirits, palpitation of the heart, suicidal imaginings, involuntary emissions, blushings, defective momory, indigestion and lassitude, with confessions of thrilling interest of a Boarding School Miss, a College Student and a young Married Lady, &c. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and priviledges to which every human being is entitled.

YOUNG MEN who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's new Paris and London treatment.

We have, recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospitals, availing oursolves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many new and efficacious remedies which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, seavery-and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional practice for the past twenty-live years.

LOOK AT THIS! The Menngerie has just been to Bridgeton and The menagerie has just been to Bridgeton and exhibited both aiternoon and evening, and a dense crowd of people went to see the animals. One or the elephants refused to cross one of the bridges at Elmer's pond, and consequently had to wade around, but notwithstanding this, he came out all right.

Thempson is bound to come out right. The idea has gone out that Thompson sells goods a little higher than others. That idea must and shall be changed, if selling goods still cheaper will do it. I am bound to SELL AS CHEAP OR CHEAPER than others, for cash, and as I have just got in New and Beautiful Stock of Goods, just call and examine for yourselves, and if you don't say they are cheap I will not ask you to purchase.— My stock consists, in part, of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS, Suspenders, Nock-Ties, Shirt Collars, turndowns and chokers, from 1 to 15 cents. Also Hats and Caps of the very Latest Styles. My prices have always been uniform, just a fair living profit, taking from one man what I do from another. (which I have always thought was the golden rule) and not taking two profits from one, and a-half prof from another.
