TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER.

WOULD call the attention of Farmers and others to my TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER, which has been throughly tested and proven to be, I tlink, a power that must supersede all Endless Chain power or the old Lever. It is of very Light Draught, and can be moved from place to place readily, it being fixed on wheels with tounge &c., complete, and can be placed in position for work in less time than any other kind of power. The exceeding cheapness of the machine is its greatest recommendation.

LETTER FROM A POOR MAN.

NEW YORK, Wednesday, July 15, 1863. his name."

I wish to thank you for the position you have taken with regard to the law for the draft and the present resistance to it. I am a poor man, entirely dependent upon my carnings for my living and that of my stead of every man to himself, his family, wife and two small children. And more, though never rich, or anything like it. I have been made as poor as I am partly by the bad conduct of a Government contractor. Yet if I am drafted I shall serve. and with heartiness and falthfulness, for two reasons. First, I have not $300 to give the Government in place of my personal service. Second, I feel that the Republic has a supreme claim upon the lives, the fortunes, nay the very happiness of all her sons in a time like this. If to preserve her I and mine must suffer, we must suffer. That is the sacrifice we owe our country. I kear many men around me complaining of the injustice of the draft, and saying that 'it is'nt a fair shake that rich men who wouldn't mind paying $300 should be exempt, and poor men who can-not pay it be forced to go." I know that most of these men have had this notion put into their heads by designing demagogues, who use them for their own pur peses. The law seems to be made for the benefit of men like me, by keeping the price of a substitute at the lowest possible figure. For if I had not a spark of patriotism and meant to shirk my duty to my country, or if my case was one of extreme hardship, I suppose that I might borrow $300 and so get off. But if this $300 clause had not been in the law, the price of substitutes would be put up by skulking rich men to such a figure that one would be utterly beyond my reach. Armies cannot be made without men; some one must go, and $300 is certainly the smallest sum which could be fixed as an equivalent for personal service. But right in itself, or wrong, politic or impolitic, this law is one passed by the representatives of the people. 1, by my agent or proxy, helped to make this law; JOHN CHEESMAN and while it exists I therefore must obey it. If this draft is to be suspended and discontinued lecause five or six thousand men in this City will otherwise burn and pillage houses, turn harmles negro children out into the night, and beat, hang and burn unoffending negro men, then it would be better to live in Prussia, in Polord or in Japan Whatever it might have been prudent for the government to do before these riots, now the very fact of their existence makes the continuation and com pletion of the draft absolutely necessary. Otherwise, arson and personal outrage will become parts of our system of (so-called) Government. As I have said, I shall serve if I am drafted; and I would as soon draw a trigger or drive a bayonet upon a man who resists the laws of my country north of the Potomac as upon one who does the same south of it. I send you my name. You know me, I believe as no Abolitionist or negro lover, or political partizan, or admirer of Abraham Lincoln, but as a loyal and faithful supporter of the Government of the United States by whomsoever it is constitutionally represented.

POOR MAN.

An Irishman who had lately opened restaurant, heard of a recipe for making lobster salid. Among the ingredients recommended was sweet oil. He went to the grocer's and inquired for it, and was told they had none.

"What kind of oil have ye?" said he. The grocer answered 'kerosene' "Thin faith I'll take that !"

Mr. Dayton remains on the best terms with the imperial family, and M. Drouyn stopped by Wast who hastily askedde Lhuys dined at his house the other day.

THE LAST DEFEAT OF THE REBELS. Reports from Richmond yesterday represented the capital of Mr. Davis to be extremely downcast by reason of the heavy East and West and Southwest of late.-When the rebel leaders learn that the insurrection in New York has been crushed they will be still more downcast. Plough Land in the Fall or Winter. Ploughing the land you intend to cultivate to spring crops, several months before planting, is a great benefit to the soil, and results in a greatly increased crop. The new land should be ploughed as long before it is wanted for use as possible, and then ploughed again. Our climate affords every facility for this process, as it can be ploughed any time during the winter. The effect of air and water upon new land is powerful; the oxygen renders the inorganic matter soluble, and corrects the sourness of the land, whilst the soil more thoroughly absorbs the ammonia from the rains; besides this the roots are killed and rotted before spring. We noticed a piece of land planted in potatoes, a part of which was ploughed the previous December, and the other portion not until spring; the entire lot was planted exactly the same; but upon the portion which had been ploughed several months before using, the yield was not less than one third greater-paying five times the expense of the extra plough-

A SAD INCIDENT. - One day last week a lady living in this county, a few miles from the city, brought a parcel to one of the express offices to forward to her husband in the army. It contained some articles that she had carefully prepared with her own hands. Her two little children were with her. The clerk looked at the name and address, and turned away to hide his emotion. That very morning one of those ominous boxes which crowd our trains from the south, had arrived with the name upon it which was upon the parcel. The remains of the husband and father were at the moment at the depot. The shock to the poor lady was terrible. How many thousand heart breaking scenes are enacting every day, similar in some respect to this .- Indianapolis Sentinel.

Which is the Better Plan?

The draft has been suspended in this State until the 16th inst , and a willingness expressed stend of drafted men. In Trentou, Jersey City. Salem, and some other places, the citizens | bor has devolved upon Mr. Whitaker. have held meetings and decided to offer liberal bounties to volunteers. Salem City offers a bounty of three hundred dollars to each of fifty men to fill her quota. There is a atrong probability, unless some counter-means are taken to prevent it, that this high bounty will draw volunteers from this county, the more especially, as opportunities are there offered to enlist in any of the old or the new regiments from the State. As with other matters, there is quite a difference of opinion respecting the mode that should be adopted. Many consider the draft the fairest, most equal, uniform, and just plan. In a letter to Gov. Seymour, of New York, the President intimates very clearly that the men are needed, and that no time should be lost. This invites the consideration of the question, whether the draft, as provided for in the conscription law, is more speedy in its operation than the plan of volunteering heretofore adopand imperative as that of the rebels, there would be no question about it. But its liberal exemptions makes its efficiency far short of theirs. In many localities, where the draft has taken place, the number of exempts are so large, that but few men have been obtained. An example, a rather rare one, it is true, is given by the Philadelphia papers of this week, where of forty-five drafted men, forty were exemoted, four of the remainder procurred substitutes, and but one of the drafted men was enlisted. In New York City the council have adopted the somewhat revolutionary policy of paying the money and exempting all the citizens. In other instances, drafted men have to be guarded closely to prevent desertion. Of course, in such instances, the government is benefitted but little by the draft. A year ago. more than 10,000 men were raised in the district, in a few days, by volunteering, and in two weeks thereafter, a portion of them were engaged in the bloody fight at Antietam. The easy capture and frequent desertion of large bodies of rebels, sometimes whole regiments. when compared with that of our volunteers, seems to prove very conclusively that conscripts are not so reliable in the army as vol-

The rapidity with which our volunteers were enlisted a year ago, and their reliability in the service, prove the readines with which volunteers can be obtained. A fact illustrating the point has occurred the present season. Hudson City offered a premium of $350 for volunteers, and in five days her whole quota, 158 men, was raised. No possible operation of the conscript law could equal this in the concurrent facts seem, therefore, to prove most bonclusively, that such an army as is needed bounties. The fact that of the thirty-on thousand gallant men raised by New Jersey, there is not to be found a single conscript, is felt by all true-hearted Jerseymen as reflecting the greatest honor on the State, and makes her name still dearer. But, it is contended that the enlistments are taken too much from one political party, and that it gives a preponderance t the other. Now it is not to he presumed that the government wants ten thousand Democrats more particularly than ten thousand Republicans, even could the somewhat preposterous supposition be proved that all the volunteers come exclusively from one of these political parties. What the government wants and needs is the most effective soldiers. And as volunteers have been shown to be so for no truth is better esablished than that what men do willingly and freely, they do much better and more earnestly than that what is done with reluctance, it seems clear that true patriotism would prefer such a force. But, candid v. is it really desirable that the disloyal, if we have such among us, should be drawn in the army! To us, it appears that we have had too many there, and in other prominent positions already, for our own good. Besides this, in the vagaries of the draft, how is it known. positively, that any of that description, which some persons so earnestly desire to have draft. ed, will be drawn. Let volunteers be raised, not because it takes the members of one party and excuses those of another, but because it furnishes the best, in the end the cheapest and the most effective force, for the accomplishment of what all earnestly desire, the speedy suppression of the rebellion. Cumberland county will be required to furnish about one seventh of her enrolled force, being 294 men. By the action of the board of freeholders, $30 are already appropriated as bounties to volunteers. Let meetings be held immediately in all the townships, and the popular vote taken, whether bounties corresponding to those of other places should not be raised for the families of volunteers. There are enough willing to go, who are waiting to see what is to be done. The idea of a draft is repulsive to most persons when applied to themselves. In Millville, it is proposed to raise $200 additional to the bounty offered by the freeholders.

RECRUITING .- Those desiring to enlist as volunteers are reminded that Lieut. Henry S. Spaulding, a member of the 24th N. J. V., has been authorized to open a recruiting office at Millville. By his uniformly kind and gentlemanly deportment, the Lieutanant won the respect and esteem of his associates, and became a general favorite in the Regiment. But about ten more days remain before the enforcement of the draft, and as volunteers prefer to enlist under a brave and experienced officer, no opportunity should be lost to enlist at once.

MR. EDITOR:-As the subject of vulunteering is now exciting the public mind. I venture an article on the subject for publication. Having had nine months experience in military service, I know something about the difference between the comforts and blessings of home and those in the army, and hope that what I shall say will have some influence in stimulating those who wish to remain at home to contribute of their means, in the way of bounies, for the compensation of those who can be outraged people - their conscience is like induced to go and the support of their families.

to all her quota with volunteers. I sincerely hope, for the honor of the state and the good of the cause, that this will be done.

Gratifying as it would be should New Jersey war with volunteers, still there are other and more cogent reasons why this should be done.

Men who volunteer make, or accept, a fair and honorable contract with the government to render certain services for a stipulated remuneration. They consequently feel in honor bound to be faithful; and, to a considerable extent I know this to be true, for there are honorable, high-minded patriots in the army. indeed, that is the place to go to find them, for cowards and traitors seldom volunteer. While you are sitting in perfect safety reading the newspaper which informayou that "the army is just ready to make a grand move and gain a glorious victory," the soldier is really engaged in the deadly strife. Of this I will only say that the five, ten, fifteen or twenty thousand killed and wounded at the close of the battle tell whether any bounty within your power to give will pay them too much for what they endure and suffer. Add to this the sad list of widows and orphans thus made, and then name the bounty that would induce you to go and endure all these trials and privations and dangers, and that would compensate your wives and children for your loss should you fall.

Now I appeal to every one who truly loves his country, to every one who has a true sense of justice to those who go to war, to every one who has true sympathy for the wives and children who spend the long and tedious hours. days and months in care, soxiety and suspense, to all who have any pity for the widows our state, to come up manfully to the work and for the officers to hear more than sixty give of your means to this just and worthy PROCLAMATION BY JEFF. DAVIS. To the Soldiers of the Confederate States.

After more than two years of a warfare scarcely equalled in the number, magnitude, and fearful carnage of its battlesa warfare in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your country, and attracted not only gratitude at home, but admiration abroad, your enemies continue a struggle in which our final triumph must be inevitable. Unduly elated with their recent successes, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit or shake your determination; and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion, in the vain hope that by a desperate effort success may at length be You know too well, my countrymen.

what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wifes and children They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties have stamped infumy on their Government. They design to meite servile insurrection and light the fires of incendiarism whenever they can reach your homes, and they debauch the inferior race hitherto docile and content, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions as the price of treachery. Conscious of their inability to prevail by legitimate warfare, not daring to make peace lest they should be hurled from their scats of power, the men who now rule in Washington refuse even to confer on the subject of putting an end to outrages which disgrace our age, or to listen to a suggestion for conducting the war according to the usages of civilization.

Fellow Citizens, no alternative is left you but victory, or subjugation, Slavery and the utter ruin of your elves, your families, and your country. The victory is within your reach, you need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this and ket. all that is necessary is that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart should promptly repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in tront of the foe, and thus to strengthen the armies of the Confederacy as to insure success. The men now absent from their posts, would, if present in the field, suffice to create numerical equality between our forces and that of the invaders-and when with any approach to such equality have we failed to be victori

I believe that but few of the e absent are actuated by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been so long separated; that others have left for temporary attention to their affairs, with the intention of returning, and then have shrunk from the consejuences of their violation of duty; that othrs again have left their posts from mere estlessness and desire of change, each nuieting the upbraidings of his conscience y persuading himself that his individual services cou'd have no influence on the general result.

These and other causes, although far less lisgraceful than the desire to avoid danger or to escape from the sacrifices required by patriotism, are nevertheless grievous faults, and place the cause of our beloved country, and of everything we hold dear, in imminent peril. I repeat that the men who now owo duty to their country, who have been called out and have not yet reported for duty, or who have absented in number to secure us victory in the struggle now impending.

I call on you, then, my countrymen, to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the dictates of honor and of duty, and summon those who have absented themselves without leave, who have remained absent heyond the period allowed by their furloughs, to repair without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy now absent without leave who shall, with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty, but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absentee may be at the date of the publication. This am nesty and pardon shall extend to all who have been accused or who have been convicted and are undergoing sentence for absence without leave or desertion, excepting only those who have been twice convicted of desertion Finally I conjure my countrywomen the wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of the Confederacy-to use their all powerful influence in aid of this call, to add one crowning sacrifice to those which their patriotism has so freely and constantly afforded on their country's altar, and to take care that none who owe service in the field shall be sheltered at home from the disgrace of having deserted their duty to their familes, to their country and to their Headquarters Volunteer RIFLE Corps of New Jersey Trenton, June 29th, 1863.

General Orders, No 1.

Having been charged by his Excellency Governor Parker, with the raising and organization of forty companies of Riffemen for the defence of this State, and the state of the companies of Riffemen for the defence of this State, and the state of the companies of Riffemen for the defence of this State, and the state of the companies of the state of the companies of the state Patker, with the raising and organization of forty companies of Rifemen for the defence of this State, in view of the great accessity of an immediate response of the people of Naw Jersey o the call of the Governor, I carnestly appeal to each and every citizen to take a personal interest in furthering the organization of this Corps.

It is proposed to organize these companies throtout the State under its militia laws. They will be entirely under State authority, and shall not be called upon by the Governor for service beyond the limits of the State. The companies shall be independent of Regimental organization, but shall be attached to the several Brigades. Certain days in the year shall be designated for rifle practice and drill. A rifle test or standard and regulations for the government of the Corps shall be made.

A State encampment shall take place annually, at which all the companies shall meet for inspection and practice, and where trial shooting shall be made for at least four prizes.

practice, and where trial shooting shall be made in least four prizes.

The first or champion company prize shall consist of some article durable in its nature, which shall be given to the company which shall produce the largest number of best off-hand rifle shots.

A second champion prize shall be given to the noncommissioned officer of private who shall make the best off-hand shooting at such distance as shall be Dest off-hand shooting at such distance as shall be prescribed.

A third prize shall be given to the next best rifle shot; non-commissioned officer or private.

A fourth prize shall be given to the company who shall show the best state of drill. A full report shall be made each year to the Adjutant General of the State, and by him transmitted to the Legislature, who are to be petitioned to appropriate each year a sum sufficient to pay for prizes, encampment, transportation, &c.

The Springfield or Enfield rifle shall be the only recognized arm of the corps, so that our men may become perfectly familiar with the use of the recognized arm of the U.S Army. Each company shall elect their own officers.

Persons desiring authority to raise companies in the State will apply personally or by letter to these Headquarters. Their application must be endorsed by one or more citizens of the town or county in which the applicant may reside.

BAUGE'S SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME

RAUGH & SONS, Sole MANUFACTURERS,
No. 20 South Delaware Avenue, PHILADELPHIA.

The superior merits of this article are now so well established that it is culty necessary in our regular ad-vertisements to remind Farmers and Dealers in Per-tilizers that a good supply is now on him I for the fall trade.

Every Farmer using a Fertilizer, may be assured that the Raw Bone Phospinate will still main tain its high chain ter for stren th and purity, the manufacturers preferring to make a small advance in the price per ton, rather than allow its medits to all below their former standar, under increased expenses in manufacturing.

Even It is prepared from Raw Bone, and warranted to contain all their original organic matter—no burn ed or calcined bones are used, and it is sold under a guaranty from the manufacturies that it is free from adulteration.

du teration The demand for Baugh's Raw Bone Su per-Phosphate last year gr atly exceed at that of any previous one, which is a substantial evidence of its high standard of popularity.

Price $47 50 per 2000 lbs.—Cash.

The above manure may be had of regular dealers, or of BAJGH'& SONS, No. 20 Jointh Delawaro Avenue, PHHLADELPHIA. State of New Jersey.

LOOK AT THIS!

The Menagerie has just been to Bridgeton and exhibited both afternoon and evening, and a dense crowd of people went to see the animals. One of the elephants refused to cross one of the bridges at Elmer's pond, and consequently had to wade around, but notwithstanding this, he came out all right. Thompson is bound to come out right. The idea has gone out that Thompson sells goods a little higher than others. That idea must and shall be chenged, if selling goods still cheaper will do it. I am bound to.

SELL AS CHEAP OR CHEAPER then others, for cash, and as I have just got in a nan others, for cash, and as I have just got in New and Beautiful Stock of Goods, just call and examine for yourselves, and if you don't say they are cheap I will not ask you to purchase.— My stock consists, in part, of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS. Suspenders, Neck-Ties, Shirt Collars, turndowns and chokers, from 1 to 15 cents. Also DEPOT FOR W. D. WOOD'S PRODUCE Hats and Caps of the very Latest Styles. My prices have always been uniform, justa fair living profit, taking from one man what I do from another, (which I have always thought was the golden rule), and not taking two profits from one, and a half profit from another.

AND ALL OTHER COUNTIES. WE say do not be humbugged by long and windy advertisements, but remember that C. C. Grosscup still keeps the largest, best selected, and cheapest stock of goods for men and loys' wear. in Cumberland county. Hence his nume ous customers keep him and all his employers too busy to write long advertisements, and the constant increase of business, has made it necessary to invest ail his appare funds in new in realistice and convents ail his appare CLOCKS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, SILVER, PLATED WARE, &c., &c. At prices that will defy competition, as he buys exclusively for Cash, it enables him to sell from ten to fifteen per cent cheaper than business, has made it necessary to invest all his apare funds in sewing machines, and considering the low price at which he sells, it is no wonder that he had no funds to invest in the less important article of Poetical Machinery. NOTICE NEW JERSEY LANDS FOR SALE, those who buy on time, he can sell cheaper than you can buy in Philadelphia, because his rent and other expenses are much lighter than they would be there.

I. F. HOOVER respectfully informs his friends and the public generally of West and South dersey, in want of FURNITURE, that they will find it greatly to their advantage to purchase at his Warehouse, where, they will find a large stock of the modern styles to select from.

The subseriber begs to say that his facilities for manificaturing, and buying his materials for cash-having no apprentices, but employing the best workmen—enables him to offer great inducements to those in want of really good Furniture at low prices, as he much prefers the "minible sixpence" to the "slow shilling."

All goods bought at his Warehouse will be warranted, and if intended for the country will be packed with care and dispatched.
