TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER. TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER.

I WOULD call the attention of Farmers and others to my TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER, which has been thrroughly tosted and proven to be. I think, a power that must supersede all Endless Chain power or the old Lever. It is of very Light Draught, and can be myred from place to place readily, it being fixed on whoels with todings &c., complete, and can be placed in position for work in less time than any other kind of power. The exceeding cheapness of the machine is its greatest recommendation.

I would refer those in want of a good power to the following persons;

JEREMIAH DIBOIS—Ireland's Mill.

DAVID YOUNG—Fairton road.

SCOTT WILLIAMS—Stoe Creek.

LEWIS BOWEN—Hopewell.

PERGIVAL NICHOLS—Bridgeton.

To my happy chlidhood's home. Now her skillful pencil traces Alt the cherished old-time places— All the dear familiar faces-Sights 'twould joy my heart to see. Mother's tones my ears are greeting; Father's simles my glance is meeting; Brothers, sisters stand repeating, · Kindest welcomes unto me;

Now, a joyous group up-springing, All the air around is ringing With sweet childish voices singing-Eagerly I list to hear; Mark each well remembered action: Fondly note each young attraction; Heads of gold and brown and flaxen. Quick at fancy's touch appear.

All are there-each bright face smiling, Fancy, willful and beguiling. Bids me own not death's despoiling-All to weakly I obey; Headless that one form revoses-Lying low with June's sweet roses, Faded with the fair young postes. of the early summer day. New Jersey's Heroes.

It is a fact of historical importance that New Jersey's soil and New Jersey's brave heroes in the revolutionary war, were the place and the spirits that gave a favorable turn to the cause of the colonists, and secure peace and independence to our nation. Disaster and defeat at the South-treachery everywhere to be found-want and hunger-suffering and cold, had reduced the Army of Washington to almost despair and insubordination; but on the soil of New Jersey, inspired by the bravery and heroism of New Jersey's unconquerable sons, the cause of the colonists received a new and more daring impetus. Lord Cornwallis, with his victorious hosts, had occupied Philadelphia, New York, and many other important cities, and was essaying an expedition over New Jersey. when he met with his disastrous defeats him; and above all, he should look on the at Trenton, Red Bank, Princton and Mon-bright side of things. THE BRIGHT SIDE.

Look on the bright side. It is the right The times may be hard, but it will side make them no easier to wear a gloomy and sad countenance. It is the sunshine and not the cloud that makes the flower. There is always before or around us that which should cheer and fill the heart with warmth. The sky is blue ten times where it is black once. You have troubles, it may be. So have others. None are free from them. Perhaps it is as well that none should be-They give sinew and tone to life-fortitude and courage to man. That would be a dull sea, and the sailor would never get skill, where there was nothing to disturb the surface of the ocean. It is the duty of every one to extract all the happiness and enjoyment he can, without and within will turn, and the night will end in broad day. In the long run, the great balance rights itself. What is ill becomes wellwhat is wrong, right. Men are not made to hang down either head or lips; and those who do, only show that they are departing from the paths of true common sense and rights. BUYING CHEAPLY.

You say "May not a man buy things cheaply, below their average value in the community, below tme cost of their production, and desire to be a Christian man?"

Certainly he may. A man may buy that which cost a thousand cents for one cent, and be a good man under certain circumstances. For insuance, when you have presented to you property that in no way represents any man's feelings or interest, that is in the market standing simply and purely as property on its own basis, to command what it will fetch, then you have a right if you choose to pay the price asked and take it, though pay ten times less than it cost to produce it. But if property is in the hands of the original holders and it represents their welfare and stand over against them and you see that they are going down steadily and you wait till they are obliged to part with it at great sacrifice, and then take it, thus depriving them of their meas of support, then the case is dif-

Take an example. There are certain laces where second hand pianos are kept for sale. You go to one of these places as you have a right to do if the dealer is respectable man, and inquire the price of a piano. He says:

"I will sell it to you for one hundred nd fifty dollars." You are surprised that he should offer t so low; but being a dealer he knows the value of his own ware. You buy it without asking any further questions, and take it home; and there is nothing wronng in the transaction. But perhaps you would not like to know the history of that

When she to whom it belonged was married, it was a gift from her father. He was the joy of her eyes that she married. None could have prospects better than would have been hers, had it not been for the virus of which she knew nothing Time passed by till on a certain night she sat waiting for him, with er child of two or three years, her only companion, upon her lap. The clock struck twelve, then one, and then two and three, and yet he came not. Her heart twenty thousand dollars in the lottery; but | til after the proper time. Five or ten minutes | was heavy. She thought to herself, "what discovered this in the desperation of love, she said, "I must support him and my child." Then came a struggle more heroic than any campaign on any continent -that of a right valiant and noble-hearted woman, bearing up against poverty and sorrow, with diligence unmeasured through day and night, literally coining her life drops to support one that was unworthy of support.

One thing after another went, and at last the piano had to be given up. It was sold; and that is the one you bought. -It cost five hundred dollars. You bought it for one hundred and fifty at a fair bargain, of a respectable dealer. You did not buy that story with it.

But suppose you had seen the struggle. Suppose you had watched the instrument, and said, "It won't be long before she will be obliged to part with it; she holds out bravely but she will soon have to give it up; I will not buy here or there, but will wait till that instrument is sold, and I can get it for less than half what it is worth." And suppose when it passed out of her hands you had gone and taken it under the seat. A SECOND ULYSSES.

An old man, of very acute physiognomy. answering to the name of Jacob Wilmot, was brought before the police court. His clothes looked as if they might have been bought-secand handed, in his youthful prime, for they had suffered more from the rubs of the world than the proprietor himself.

"What business do you follow, Wilmot ?" "Business? None; I'm a traveler."
"A vagabond, perhaps." "You are not far wrong; travelers and vagabonds are about the same thing. The difference is that the latter travel without money, and the former without brains."

"Where have you traveled?" "All over the continent."

"For what purpose?" "Observation." "What have you observed ?" "A little to commend, much to censure, and ery much to laugh at.

"Umph! and what do you commend?" "A handsome woman that will stay at home, n eloquent preacher that will preach a short sermon, a good writer that will not write too such, and a fool who has sense enough to hold his tongue." "What do you censure?"

"A man who marries a girl for her fine clothing, a youth who studies law or medicine while he has the use of his hands, and people vho elect a drunkard or blockhead to office.' "What do you laugh at?"

"I laugh at a man who expects his position o command that respect which his personal qualities and qualifications do not merit." He was dismissed.

THE GRAVE OF STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS. -A letter from a Boston gentleman in Chicago, says:

"I went out of the city limits, the other day, and saw the grave of Stephen A. Douglas. He is buried upon the lake shore, in a beautifui spot. There is no monument erected over him, with name or history; a simple mound, with a wooden sence around it, tells where Douglas lies. The city of Chicago is spreading its limits every day. In a comparatively short time the grave of Douglas will be covered by houses of business, and the man who in his day of pride and honor, was a dictator in their boots to whip children, so they go recruit squalling in his arms. COUNTY PAPER IN

THIS STATE.

We are indebted to Mr. Thomas H. Miller for a large jug of molasses, or syrup from sorghum, manufactured at his establishment in this county. This is decidedly the best syrup we have ever tasted -it is very clear and of a delicious flavor.

There are a number of establishments in this county where several hundred gallons of this article are made daily. The farmers bring the cane a distance of from one to eight miles to have it made into syrup for home consumption, and many barrels of it finds its way into the mar ket. The price is about 45 cents per gallon. Mr. Miller will please accept our thanks for this sweet present. It came just in good time, as our molasses jug was about empty. The next time we are reminded of it we will give to our readers the process of cultivating the cane. the amount of yield, and the process of manufacturing it into syrup. Any facts from our friends engaged in the business will be thankfully received.

Mr. Isaac A. Sheppard, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, died suddenly on Monday last, about 1 o'elock in his office, west of the creek. He had been about the town during the morning apparently as well as ever, and was looked for to dinner by his family, when the intelligence reached them of his decease .-His death was caused by a disease of the heart. This sad intelligence cast a gloom not only over his own happy household, but many friends were made to mourn over the irretrievable loss.

The Mansylvania and Ohió Elections.

The returns of the elections held in Pennsylvania and Ohio on Tuesday last. ire necessarily incomplete as yet, but they unmistakabty indicate the success of the Union ticket by immense majorities. In Pennsylvania, the returns thus far show a steady gain for Curtin over his majority in 1860, when he was elected by more than 32,000 majority; and the probability is that he will beat Woodward by from 15,000 to 20,000 votes .-In Ohio, Vallandigham seems to have peen literally "no where." Cincinnati which usually gives a handsome Democratic majority, now gives 5,000 majority for Brough, and the returns from nearly every part of the State are all one way, in the same direction. Vallandigham is overwhelmingly beaten, and Brough is elected by an unprecedented majority of about 50,000, which will probably be swelled by the vote of the solliers to 100,000.

The Raptists on the State of the Country At the Philadelphia Baptist Associaion, which adjourned on Thursday evening, of last week, the following resolutions, respecting the state of the country, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this association, comorising within its bounds nearly fifteen thousand members of the adult population of the loyal State of Pennsylvania, hereby reaffirm its previous declaration of ovality to the Government and Constitution of the United States.

Resolved, That in view of the exigencies of the republic, on account of the gigantic rebellion of a portion of its citizens against the integrity of the nationallife, it is the duty of all loyal citizens to display a readiness to make any and every sacrifice, of all fortune, of party predilections, and of life itself, upon the altar of our country's good. Resolved, That the development of events during the progress of this rebellion has confirmed all our previous convictions, that it has its mainspring and origin in the necessities and demands of the slave power that has, for so many years, controlled the affairs of the nation.

Resolved, That we are still further convinced that the providence of God is teaching us that the institution of slavery in this nation, is an ulcer in the body politic, and that since the great object of the Government, in its resort to arms, is the perpetuity and glory of our national being, it is a necessity forced upon the Government to conduct the war with a view to the evadiction of this evil from every form of the national life.

Resolved. That in our judge nent the the present waning proportions of the rebellion are practical endorsements of God have use for dyes of any colors. For sale upon those measures which the Government has already adopted for the suppression of the rebellion.

IONA SEEDANGS.

I aso offer two new years, which originated from seed with me, and have been thoroughly tested during the past six seasons in bearing.

One, named IONA, beard a large bunch, with large berries; is of a very peculiar wine color, with few and very small seeds, and is of uniform consistency throughout its flesh, from outside to center, and more nearly resembles the Red Frontingman in appearance and quality than any other grape. It is trunsparent, deshy, and tender, I ke the Frontiguan, and is even more spirited and vinoas in its flavor, and makes more spirited rates. It does not decay, but may be kept all Winier on the shelves in the fruitzoom, adhering firmly to the bunch, and drying readily to raisins.

It is a Six per cent. Loan, the Interest and Principal Payable in Coin, thus yielding about Eight per cent. per annum at the present rate of premutation coin.

The Government requires all duties on imports to be paid in Coin; these duties have for a long time past amounted to over a Quarter of a Middon of Dollars, daily, a sum nearly three times greater than that required in the payment of the interest on all the 5-20's and other permanent Loans—So that it is hoped the the surplus of Coin in the Treasury, at no die tant day and other permanent nonner go and a is neper the the surplus of Coin in the Treasury, at no distant day will enable the United states to resume specie payments upon all liabilities.

The Loan is called 5-20 from the fact that whilst the Bonds may run for 20 years yet the Government has the right to pay them off in Gold, at par, at any time the right to pay after 5 years.

The Interest is paid inff-yearly, viz: on The interest is paid anni-yearry, viz: on the first days of November and May.

Subscribers can have Coupon Bonds which are payable to bearer, and are of $50 $100, $500, and $1000; or Registered Bonds of same denominations, and in addition $5,000, and $10,000. For banking purposes and for investments of Trust-monies the Registered Bonds are preferable.

dition $5,000, and $10,000. For Banking purposes and for investments of Trust-monies the Registered Bonds are preferable.

These 5-20's cannot be taxed by states, cities, towns, or countries, and the Government tax on them is only one and a half per cent., on the amount of meome of the holder exceeds Six Hundred dollars per annum: all other investments, such as income from Mortgages, Rail Road Stock and Bonds, etc., must pay from three to five per cent. tax, on the income.

Banks and Bankers throughout the Country will continue to dispose of the Bonds' and all orders by mail, or otherwise promptly attend to.

The Treasury Department having perfected arrangements for the prompt delivery of Bonds; Subscribers will be enabled to receive them at the time of Subscription, or at furthest in FOUR days. This arrangement will be gratifying to parties who Want the Bonds on payment of the movey, and; it is hoped, will increase the sales.

Physiological View of Marriage.

250 PAGES AND 130 ENGRAVINGS.—Price only 25 cents. Sent free of postage to all parts of the Union. On the infirmities of youth and majority, disclosing the secret follies of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervousness, depression of spirits, palpitation of the heart, suicidal maginings, involuntary emissions, blushings, defective memory, indigestion and lassitude, with confessions of thrilling interest of a Boarding School Miss, a College 8-tudent and a young Married Lady, &c. It is a truthful adviser to the inarried and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and priviledges to which every human being is entitled.

Young MEN who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringong in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's new Paris and London treatment.

We have, recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospituls, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many new and efficacious remedies which we are enabled to introduce mto our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, secreey and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional practice for the past twenty-five years.
