TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER. I WUID call the attention of Farmers and others to my TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER, which has been throughly tested and proven to be. I think, a power that must supersede all Endless Chain power or the old Lever. It is of very Light Draught, and can be moved from place to place readily, it being fixed on wheels with tounge &c., complete, and can be placed in position for work in less time than any other kind of power. The exceeding cheapness of the machine is its greatest recommendation.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER. Up from the meadows rich with corn, Clear in the cool September morn, The clustered spires of Frederick stand Green-walled by the hills of Maryland. Round about them orchards sweep, Apple and peach-tree fruited deep, Fair as the garden of the Lord To the eyes of the famished rebel horde, On that pleasant morn of the early fall When Lee marched over the mountain wall-Over the mountain winding down, Horse and foot, into Frederick town. Forty flags with their silver stars, Forty flags with their crimson bars, Flapped in the morning wind: the sun Of noon looked down, and saw not one. Up rose old Barbara Frietchie then, Bowed with her fourscore years and ten; Bravest of all in Frederick town, She took up the flag the men hauled down In her attic-window the staff she set, To show that one heart was leyal yet. Up the street came the rebel tread, Stonewall Jackson riding ahead. Under his slouched hat left and right He glanced; the old flag met his sight,-"Halt !"-the dust-browned ranks stood fast; "Fire!"-out blazed the rifle-blast. It shivered the window, pane and sash; It rent the banner with seam and gash.

Quick, as it fell from the broken stuff, Dame Barbara snatched the silken scarf; She leaned far out on the window-sill, And shook it forth with a loyal will. "Shoot, if you must, this gray old head, But spare your country's fing," she said. A shade of sadness, a blush of shame, Over the face of the leader came; The noble nature within him stirred To life at that woman's deed and word; "Who touches a hair of you gray head Dies like a dog! March on!" he said All day long through Frederick street Sounded the trend of marching feet; All day long that free flag tossed Over the heads of the rebel host. Ever its torn folds rose and fell On the loyal winds that loved it well: And through the hill-gaps sunset light Shone over it with a warm good-night. Barbara Frietchie's work is o'er. And the rebel rides on his raids no more. Honor to her! and let a tear Fall, for her sake, on Stonewall's bier. Over Barbara Frietchie's grave Flag of Freedom and Union wave ! Peace and order and beauty draw Round thy symbol of light and law; And ever the stars above look down

One after another he saw his fellow passengers leap overboard. After a brief but terrible struggle head after head went down-sunk by the gold they had fought so hard to gain, and were so loth to lose. Slowly he was seen to unbuckle his belt. His hopes had been bound up in it. It was to buy him land, ease, and respect - the reward of long years of hard and weary exile. What hardships he had endured for it! CURRENCY-MONEY.

The currency of the world includes many kinds of money Gold, silver, copper, iron, in coins or by weight-stamped leather, stamped paper, wooden tallies-shells of various kinds-pieces of silk or strips of cotton cloth, of a fixed size and qualityare, or have been, all in use among manor negotiatiable forms or representatives of property. are safe, and comparatively independent. AN ECCENTRIC PHYSICIAN. - A friend celates for the Agricultural, the following anecd te of a skillful physician, Dr. -, who is still practising in Khode Island. He had a way of doing things all his own - no one could tell beforehand 'where he would come out." On one occasion he was called to perform a very important surgical operation on a young man living in the country. Arriving there, he found collected a large number of neighboring farmers and others, who had come from curiosity to withess the operation. He observed that the house was scantily furnished, and other evidences of the poverty of the family were apparent, and he inquired whether the mother, widow, was ready to pay the fifty dollars which he should charge. She replied that she could not at present, but would do so as soon as possible.

The doctor immediately informed the ystanders that he would do nothing until the money was paid, and asked them if they could not make up the amount .-This was soon done, but not without many condemnations of the hard-hearted doc or, who, however, paid no attention to the remarks, but immediately went on with his work, which he performed successfully. As soon as it was over, he stepped up to the mother and remarking The boy will need some things before he gets well," slipped the fifty dollars into her hand, and was off before he could hear her thanks, or the loud praises of those who had just been denouncing him as a grasping miser.

TALKING TO CHILDREN.—The Superinendent of a Sunday School was questionng his pupils concerning the addresses made them during the previous session. "Children, what did Mr. Phonny tell 700 this morning?"

No answer was made. "Can't any one tell what he said? Suia, can't you remember?" Susia, a bright-eyed little one of seven years, arose, and with one finger in her nouth, bashfully lisped out-"Pleathe, thir, he talked, and he talked, and thed how he loved uth, and he alked -and -we all thought he wath go-trouble; it is very good as it is." He went out and soon returned with the cream, and poured a little into the coffee, and then a little more, until it was "just right." He then sat down by her side, and I heard him say, in the same low tone of voice, that at first attracted my attention. "I am glad, mother, that I can do anything to make you comfortable, it is such a pleesure to me."

"I thank you my son," she replied, in the same spirit and tone of voice as that of her son. Beautiful, thought I, as I quietly watch ed them and saw manifested their mutual love and confidence. My mind went back to the time when this son, now in manhood's strength, was a little helpless infant, and I pictured that mother watching over him, caring for him with a solicitude such as mothers cap only feel. And through all the years of childhood youth, up to manhood, the watchful eye was ever over him, the guiding hand ever ready to lead, and a mother's love ever ready to restrain him from doing wrong. Now it is his turn, when life's meridian with her is past, and the infirmities of age are creepieg on, to repay, in some degree for all the labor bestowed on him; and faithfully and affectionately did he seem fulfilling his duty.

How many grown up sons there are who seem to feel it beneath them to show any tenderness for their mothers! It is feminine, they say. They will perform acts of kindness, but in a business kind of way, little dreaming that they are crushing the maternal spirit by such cold, heartless

A HUNDRED DOLLAR NOTE.

Old Mr. ...., a well-to-do farmer out in Illinois, had some marriageable daughters; and being one of that class of men who think their daughters should get married as soon as they are out of their short ness was still worse, and clung to his rod clothes, felt somewhat chagrined that his girls should remain on his hands so long Now there was a young fellow in the neighborhood who had been waiting on the V ___ girls for some time, and had gone the rounds from oldest to youngest; and the old man had been anxiously waiting for, and expecting young B - to ask yet had waited in vain. B ...., however, had proposed and had been accepted; but the old folks had not been made acquainted with the fact.

Now, in the meantime, young Bhad purchased a fine horse of the old gent and had given his note on six months time for one hundred dollars. INDOLENCE AND INDUSTRY. A little indolence, a brief vacuity of thought, may enervate the mind for the labor of a whole day. If you feel its popsomething, however trivial it may seem, and the insiduous languor will soon pass away. John Leech, in one of his sketches, has well illustrated the distinction between croaking idleness and self-contented activity. Two young men had gone out to spend their annual holiday in fishing. The rain began to pour down in torrents. One of them throws aside his rod, but the other continues to fish with stern determination. "Do come home," says the croaker. "Well," says the happy fellow, "I never see such a precious disagreeable old chap; you come out for a day's pleasure, and you are always for going home. Of course, the rain was far from pleasant, but he knew that a day of enforced idle-as a protection against ennui and discontent. He knew the value of the words of the wise man-"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might;" he had come out to fish, and fish he would, whether a waterspout should burst upon his head. We should all act on the same principle, and many of the clouds of his "consent" for some of the girls, but as life will be dissipated; the lion in the path will be found to be only a jackass; the mind once set in motion will find happiness in the play of its own faculties, and be proff against the corroding cares of life. One of these is General Grant, whom it has never deserted, and whom it sustained with an unfaltering trust, when so many others condemned him. This man has rendered such inestimable services to his country, that I have been tracing his easly and modest history here, with an interest I have rarely felt in any subject. "Six years ago, General Grant occupied a little farm to the southwest of St. Louis, whence he was in the habit of cutting the wood, and drawing it to Carondeet, and selling it in the market there .-Many of his wood purchasers are now calling to mind that they had a load of wood delivered in person by the great General Grant. When he came into the wood market, he was usually dressed in an old felt hat, with a blouse, and his pants tucked in the tops of his boots. In truth he bore the appearance of a sturdy and honest woodsman. This was his winter's work. In the summer he turned collector of debts, but for this he was not qualified.— He had a noble and truthful soul; so when he was fold that the debtor had no money, he believed him, and would not trouble him again. One of the leading merchants of St. Louis mentioned this to

Between five and six o'clock he said to his physician, Dr. Craik, "I feel myself going; you had better not take any more trouble about me, but let me go off quietly; I cannot last long." Shortly after, again he said, "Doctor, I die hard, but I am not afraid to go; I believed from my first attack I should not survive it; my breath cannot last long." About ten o'clock he made several attempts to speak to Mr. Lear, and at last said, "I am just going. have me decently buried, and do not let my body be but into the vault in less than two days after I am dead." Lear says, "I bowed assent. He looked at mengain and said, 'Do you understand me?' I replied, 'yes, sir.' 'Tis well,' said he." these were his last words. Just before he expired he felt his own pulse; his hand fell from his wrist, and George Washington was no more.

AN ANECDOTE. - A strong copperhead was denouncing in immeasurable terms, the United States Government and the war, when the company was joined by a neighbor, a strong Union man, and after listening for a time, he interrupted him with the remark: "You came honestly by your principles; you are a tory, naturally." "What do you mean?" says Copperhead. "You know," said Union, that during the war with Great Britain the British entered the harbor and burned the town of New London." "Well. what of that?" says C. "Why, somebody piloted them in, and when his diriv work was done, he came home with the British gold, and his neighbors, hearing of his presence, provided themselves with ropes, and made an evening call, when he made his escape by the back door, and fled to the Island of Bermuda, and died there." "Well," says C., "what has all this to do with it?" "Well," said Union, "that pilot was your grand-father."

A divorce case is now pending at New York, which was brought on by a dispute about a wash bowl. One morning, a lady refused to ablute in the common bowl -f the room, after it had been used by her husband, and rang for another. It came and her lord and master quietly smashed t. Tears and hard words proceeded from the lady, and her husband locked the door and insisted upon her using the unbroken bowl. She vowed no, and he swore yes, and finally he seized his wife and forcibly washed her face. He then went to his daily business and the wife went to a lawyer. The result of it all is

VOCAL MUSIC.

We desire to invite especial attention to pers in the city of Philadelphia, a few the author to write it are fully explained. The subject upon which it treats is one which directly appeals to every lover of musical science - to every one who would prepare himself or his children to render acceptable worship unto God in sacred song, either at the family altar, the social meeting for prayer, or in the great congrega tion, -to all who would learn to "sing with the spirit and with the understanding also, making melody in their hearts unto the Lord."

The most casual observer must know that the masses are most lamentably deficient in a knowledge of the elementary principles of the science of music. Indeed, facts will bear us out in the assertion that many who have been active members of church choirs for years, really know very little about the subject. How is this state of things to be remedied? We answer, by beginning at the beginning,-laying terly Meeting will be held in the Salem deep and broad and firm the foundation, by M. P. Church, Laurel Hill, Bridgeton, principles of the science, and no other way 71 o'clock; on Sabbath morning at 9 cess. A thorough knowledge of the art | ple are respectfully invited. by no means consists solely in the ability to learn tunes quickly by ear, or to follow readily after an instrument, or a leader's voice. Yet, how vast the majority who are satisfied with no greater attainments. How few are independent performers. It is true the ear must be cultivated in order to direct and criticize the voice, both in speech and song, but this is not all; nor is it the main part. The vocal organs must be trained and brought under the complete control of the will, so as to obev promptly and accurately the dictation of the ear. This can alone be accomplished by a vigorous persistent drill in vocal gymnastics, or thorough training of the vocal organs under the direction of a skillful and efficient instructor.

From what has already been said, it will be seen that it is thorough scientiffic instruction that is needed in these days in attainments. This desirable object is now placed within the reach of our citizens. Prof. Kindell is acknowledged by competent judges in this town, and elsewhere. where he is best known, to be eminently qualified for this work. The universal testimony of his former pupils is, "We had to learn, we could not help it." He has a happy tact in so relieving the monotony of the study of the dry details of the rudiments, as to keep the interest fresh and unabated; which is, doubtless, one of the secrets of his great popularity and success.

On Wednesday last Young's Cornet Band, of Young's heavy Artillery, Pittsburg, now stationed at Fort Delaware, visited Bridgeton and gave one of their popular entertainments in Grosscup's Hall. The concert was well attended and gave general satisfaction. The members of the band, sixteen in number, were very respectable fine looking chaps, several of whom called in our office.

An accident occurred while they were coming down Commerce street, from the depot, in Elwell & Son's large open wagon, drawn by four horses. One of the breast straps gave way and the horses became unmanageable, galloping through town at full speed. The boys jumped and tumbled out in rapid succession, until all but one escaped, he holding on to one line to assist the driver, who guided the team safely through the main street and over the bridge to the stable. But slight injury was sustained.

WAR MEETING.

Bridgeton and Cohansey Townships.

Pursuant to notice previously given, the citizens of Bridgeton and Cohansey townships met on Monday evening last, in Grosscup's Hall, for the purpose of devising measures for filling their quotas of volunteers under the several calls of the President, and thereby avoiding the draft.

LEWIS McBRIDE, Esq. was appointed Chairman, and John Cheesman, Jr. Secretary.

John S. Mitchell, Esq. after a few well-timed remarks offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the township committees of Bridgeton and Cohansey townships, are here-by requested and authorized to increase the township bounties to a sum sufficient to fill the quota of the township of Bridgeton and struction that is needed in these days in order to lay a permanent basis for higher Cohansey under the present call for troops. cessary to fill the above mentioned quota immediately.

Messrs, Jona, Elmer, C. C. Grosseup, R. D. Carll, S. G. Porch and George F. Nixon were appointed the committee. Resolved, That a committee composed of twelve persons beappointed to assist the town-ship committee in raising funds to pay the bounty appropriated.

Messrs. E. E. Sheppard, sen. Chas. D. Burroughs, J. R. Hoagland, E. M. Hood, I. W. Mulford, S. E. M'Gear, R. DuBois, James J. Reeves, Enoch Hauthorn, Wm. B. Adams, J. H. Elmer and Philip Fithian were appointed. Resolved. That it is the determination of this neeting that the calls upon these townships for troops must and shall be filled.

TO SOLDIERS AND POSTMASTERS.

Editors of newspapers throughout the Unied States will doubtless confer a favor on the soldiers in the field, as well as their friends at home, by giving publicity to the following: An Act to amend the law prescribing the articles to be admitted into the mails of the United States.

Be it enacted, &c., That articles of clothing, being manufactured of wool, cotton, or linen, and comprised in a package not exceeding two pounds in weight, addressed to any noncommissioned or private serving in the armies of the United States may be transmitted in the mails of the United States, at the rate of eight cents, to be in all cases prepaid, for every four ounces, or fraction thereof, subject to such regulations as the Postmaster General mav prescribe.

Approved, January 22d, 1864. POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, Jan. 25, 1864. The foregoing law is published for the information of the public, and especially for the guidance of postmasters, and is thought to be so full and plain that no one can mistake its meaning. Postmasters will, however, bear in mind that packages of clothing entitled to pass in the mails-four ounces for eight cents -must be manufactured from wool, cotton or linen, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, and must be addressed to a non-commissioned officer or private cerving in the armies of the United States. Army of the Potomac. RAPIDAN CROSSED ACAIN.

CULPEPPER, VA., February 7.-Yesterday commenced another epoch in the history of the war. The Army of the Potomac moved. Let the nation rejoice.

The order came the night before, although nearly one thousand wives of the officers and men were in camp. Notwith-Mayhew will please accept our thanks standing that, after two or three weeks of remarkably pleasant weather for the scason, the morning was foggy and cloudy, portending rain, never did troops make ready for a march with greater alacrity or trudge off through the mud in higher spirits than did the officers and men of the invincible Army of the Potomac. The whole movement was under the command of that gallant and popular soldier, Major-General John Sedgwick .-Whether the movement was devised or planned or advised by him, it is not in the power of your correspondent to state. Whether it was well or ill advised, at the present time it is not within his province to state. Time will determine, and history will record the verdict on these points.

In the morning, the roads in the open country were tolerably dry and good; but in the woods they were so wet that the artillery cut them up into mud a foot deep at least. Of course, in moving so large a force all the routes had to be tain addition to this, about noon a drizzling rain set in, which soon made the best of the roads anything but favorable to loco-

One division crossed the river with but little opposition. Batteries were planted on the heights, which opened furiously, to cover the crossing. This, however, elicited no reply from the "Johnies" until near night. As darkness and rain and a heavy fog enveloped the scene, a sharp artillery and musketry fire commenced, and continued for an hour or more. [SECOND DESPATCH.]

A detachment of the 2d New York Cavalry went up to Jacob's Ford, where they had learned there was a sergeant and nine men. They captured three of The Rebels then opened upon them with musketry from the right of the ford, where they had been concealed in another piece of woods. The night was dark, rainy and foggy, and the firing of each party was directed by the flash of the guns of their opponents.

During the night, after the firing had ceased, our men were ordered to return across the river, which they did without molestation.

The loss in killed, wor led and missing is reported at between one and two hundred, but this is not official, and caniot de rellea upon

Cavalry, which went to Barrett's Ford, toward Madison Court House, met some of Stuart's cavalry last evening, and skirmished with them this morning, the whole division, except those on picket, being on hand.

Our forces advanced and found the Rebel cavalry backed by infantry. Gen. Merritt pitched in and drove the whole force before him across Robertson's River to Madison Court House.

The command held the ford all day, and then, in obedience to orders, came eight or ten prisoners. Our troops were ready and eager for a fight with the enemy. They would have followed their leaders anywhere. Nothing but cheering could be heard all the way, both in the advance and the return, and the commander of the Army of the raise the Weehawken will prove a failure. duct of his troops. The 3d Division of the 2d Corps waded across Morton's Ford, although there was a corps of engineers ready to lay a in water to cross. Who can whip such men as those?—N. Y. Herald.

The Movement Across the Rapidan. The object of the late reconnoissance in force by the Army of the Potomac across the Rapidan, it is now revealed, was to ascertain the truth of the report that Lee's army had been greatly weakened by reinforcements sent to Longstreet and also to North Carolina, and to find out its precent position It has resulted in establishing the fact that the main body of Lee's army is between Gordonsvill and Orange Court House. Gen. Butler's Raid Towards Richmond. Tuesday morning last, brought the exciting news of a hold movement of the forces of Gen. Butler to within ten or twelve miles of Richmond, and also further news, dashing the high expectations that had been awakened, and bringing the account of the abandonment of an extedition which promised such important results -The first intelligence received of the movement was contained in the Richmond papers of Monday. Subsequently, despatches were received from Gen. Butler's command giving an account of the expedition and its failure to accomplish the object it had in view, through the treachery of one of our soldiers On Saturday morning last Gen. But'er's forces under command of Cen. Wistar left Yorktown by way of New Kent Bridge, and on Sunday morning at 21 o'clock reached Bottom's Bridge on the Chickahominy, only ten miles from Richmond, their object being to make a raid into Richmond and by a surprise effect the liberation of our proners there. Our forces consisted of cavalry supported by infantry; three regiments of the latter being colored; and it was expected that on their arrival at the bridge they would surprise the enemy's pickets there and thus conceal their movements. The enemy, however, had been apprised of the expedition, according to the Richmond Examiner of the 8th inst., through "a Yankee deserter, who gave information in Richmond of the intended movement." They therefore had time to fell allarge amount of timber so as to block up the roads and obstruct the fords, makeing it impossible for our cavalry to pass .-Our cavalry remained at the bridge till 12 clock on Sunday when they were joined by the infantry, but our plans having been destroyed and the hopes of a surprise frustrated, the object of the expedition was defeted and Gen. Wistar returned with his command to Williamsburg. On his march back to New Kent Court House his rear was attacked by the enemy, but they were repulsed without loss to us, and the force returned in 'safety, the infantry having marched over 80 miles in 56 hours, and the cavalry 100 miles in fifty hours.

The Attack on Newbern. Considerable solicitude has been felt for the safety of the comparatively small Union force now in charge of the post of Newthe enemy in superior numbers against them. On Monday Feb 1st, at 3 o'clock in the morning, the rebels numbering 15,-000 strong, made an attack on our outthe garrisons, driving them in, and causing a loss of about 100 in killed, wounded and missing. Among the officers who have not since been heard from is Lieut. Col. Fellows, of the 17th Mass. regiment. The same evening the rebels captured the gunboat Underwriter, with her officers and crew. She was lying near Fort Strong, and almost immediately after the capture, the fort began to shell her. The shells were thrown so accurately as to burst in the vessel, setting her on fire, and in about three hours she blew up. Later despatches from Newbern, dated Tuesday, Feb. 2d, state that the enemy had given over their attempt on the city, and had refined to Kingston. This intelligence is confirmed bern."

The gunboat Underwriter, destroyed by the rebels, was a sidewheel schooner rigged vessel of 341 tans. Her draft of water was ten feet and she had one deck; her material was oak. Her speed is rated at A1. She had an oscillating engine, the evlinder of which was 46 inches, and stroke of piston 42 feet. She was built in Philadelphia in 1854, and is a purchased vessel. Her dimensions are: length 185 feet; 24 feet beam, and 9 feet depth of hold. Her model was "medium" and well adapted for speed

By the arrival of the gunboat Flambeau. at New York, on Friday evening, we have advices from Charleston to February 1st. Affairs are quiet off Charleston. A slow but regular bombardment is carried on hy Gen Gillmore. Our firing averages three shells every five minutes. Fort Sumter, though a mass of ruins, is by no means untenable. It is ascertained that five guns have been mounted there, and the desperate rebels have been engaged in piling up sandbags and cutting ravines through the back to headquarters, having captured rubbish of brick and mortar. They report no damage of consequence to the fort. On Saturday, Jan. 30th, the city was shelled at the rate of one shot every ten minutes.

THE "AIR LINE" RAILROAD.—The efforts now being made at Washington to railroad from that city to New York, have brokers. While they will keep up the appearance of endeavoring to influence the Legislature of this State, their real endeavors are directed to have their road made a part of the projected "Air Line" by Congress, and thus override New Jersey Legislation altogether.

Vocal Music.

MASON KINDELL AS A TEACHER.

Singing Class, will take place in Grosscup's of the French and the almost total col spectfully and earnestly invited to attend .-"There still is room." For further information read the following communication: Luther said, "Music is one of the fairest and most glorious gifts of God, to which Satan is a bitter enemy; for it removes from the heart the weight of sorrows and the fascination of evil thoughts. Music is a kind and gentle sort of discipline; it refines the passions and improves the understanding. Those who love music are gentle and honest in their temers. I always loved music and would not for a great matter be without the little skill which I possess in the art." Those who have been careful and interested students of the art, and have improved this effect upon home circles in which it has been cultivated, recognize at once the force of Lu-ther's remarks and feel its truthfulness; and those who have never attended to it surely need no higher authority for its usefulness than the above. Yet how lamentable the fact, that its great importance is so much overlooked. Parents do not know how much future happiness they might secure for themselves and their children by having them taught the elements of vocal music. Indeed, the neglect seems almost criminal now that the cost of instruction, either in money or time, is so very trifling. But for this neglect, perhaps, the germ that is left to wither and perish might have been developed in many a musical genius, and shed brilliance and honor and happiness upon families now in obscurity, proverty and wretchedness. Though its great usefulness does not consist in making musical prodigies, a little of it is better than none at all; so that attention to it by parents, even to a very limited extent can by no possibility be productive of harm It is very gratifying to notice the increasing desire manifested for instruction in instrumen tal music. While this is right, it is really o secondary importance. It is too expensive to become universal, and consequently must benefit a comparative few. But the knowedge of vocal music may be obtained by the masses. It may make glad the hearts of millions, whe ther they have ever heard the sound of an in-strument or not. Its pure and elevating influences over the heart and moral perceptions may be felt in thousands of families who can masters of its elementary principles. But now allow me to say a word respecting the teacher whose name heads this article. I am impelled in this solely by the deep interest I feel in this very important subject. It is with me a sense of duty. It is not to disparage others that I write, for I would say to every teacher engaged in this laudable work, go not afford an instrumental education. An old

note book, accidentally dug up from household rubbish, can make almost a paradise of a home in a wilderness, when its inmates are on, and may your labors be crowned with the happiest results.

Mr. Kindell seems peculiarly adapted to the bern, N. C., owing to demonstrations by profession he has chosen. He has had much the enemy in superior numbers against experience, having devoted many years exclusively to teaching. He unites with a thorough knowledge of the subject, a faculty for imparting to child or adult a more clear and comprehensive view of its rudiments, in one or two posts. They were successful in dislodging quarters, than any other teacher that has come under my notice. He pays particular attention to the two most important, though generally most neglected, essential elements taste and time-and impresses them upon his pupils all through his terms with the most indefatigable persistence. He deems the work worth doing well, and seems conscientions about neglecting a single important point. He loves it, and enters into it with great spirit and energy. He advances step by step, care fully and cautiously, and as he progresses, the work is very thorough. A pupil with the least capacity must learn. There is no playing and laughing in his classes, except during intermission, when he mingles freely with his scholars and is as affable as any. His schools always close with prayer. One cannot sit and listen to his class without being struck with the difference between his schools and many we have all been familiar with. How often we hear it said, "I went by a despatch dated the 4th from Gen.

Palmer, who is in command of our forces,

We did nothing much but play." This is the to Gen. Butler, in which he says "that the great fault in all the schools I have ever visited. In Mr. Kindell's it is corrected. Play ing laughing or talking are instantly checked and emphatically and positively prohibited; and the consequence is seen and felt in the deep interest all soon manifest in the study.— I have never heard a scholar of his make use of the above excuse.

An attack has been made by a body of rebels 4,000 strong, under Gen. #### APROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

The quota of New Jersey, under the late call of the President for 500,000 men, is 16,759.— Upon this quota will be credited and deducted all volunteers from this state, who have been mustered into the United States service since the first day of June, 1863, and also all who shall be so mustered, prior to the 1st day of March, 1864. More than ten thousand (10,000) men have been already recruited on account of this quots.

The sub districts that have raised the quotas assigned them in the General Oorders issued from the office of the Adjutant General of this State, under my Proclamation of 27th July, 1863, and 22d October, 1863, are not liable t the draft ordered to be made on the 10th day of March next.

By referring to previous publications of quotas, the deficiency of the various sub-districts not vet exempt will be very nearly ascertained. The Adjutant General will announce the exact deficiency as soon as possible.

The Government bounty of $300 for new recruits and $400 for veterans will not be paid after the expiration of the present month. I earnestly call upon the people of those town-ships and wards, where deficiencies exist. to devote all their energies to filling their respective quoras, before the large Government bounties now offered are withdrawn.

Believing that the people of New Jersey desired to avoid a draft. I have labored to give them the opportunity to furnish volunteers -The greater part of the State is already exempt. There is yet time for each township and ward to fil its entire qua a if the peeple will be earnest in the effort. The advantage of such, especially to the laboring classes, have been more than once presented. I can add but little to the appeals already made. I leave the subject with the people, in confidence that their responce will be such as will gladden the heart of every Jerseyman. Given under my hand and privy seal, at

A WORD ABOUT AMERICAN WATCHES

AFTER A THOROUGH TRIAL OF MORE THAN TEN YEARS, the time-pieces manufactured by the American Watch Co., of Waltham, Mass, thave gained a firm hold upon the tayor of the public, and now, no less chan 75,000 of them are speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people. From a very insignificant beginning the business has increased until we are justified in staring that WE MAKE MORE THAN ONE HALF of all the watches sold in the United States. Repeated enlargement of our factory buildings, and the labor of 500 operatives, still find us unequal to supply the constantly increasing demandand we may here observe that notwithstanding the high price of labor and materials, we actually sell our products at less prices than those current five years ago.

We refer to these facts only for the purpose of properly introducing another subject relative to our manufacture of watches. Hitherto our chief object has been to make GOOD watches for the million at the lowest possible price—something to take the place of the make-believe watches called "Ancres," "Lepines," "English Patent Levers," &c., annually thrown upon this market, in countless numbers, by European workshops—watches which are the refuse of their factories, unsaleable at home, and perfectly worthless everywhere. worthless everywhere.
This object we have accomplished, and now we have to announce, that we have commenced the manufacture of watches of the very

HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY unequalled by anything hitherto made by ourselves and unsurpass of by anything made in the world—for this we have the amplest facilities. We have rected an addition to our main buildings expressly for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. Profiting by our long experience, we have remodelled the form of our watches, introducing such improvements as have been suggested and proved to be good from time to time-and have indicated new and severe tests of isochronism, adjustment and compensation. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consumate delicacy and exactuated, and the choicest and most approved materials only are used. Nothing in fact is wanting either in mechanical principles, Material or workmanship to ensure perfection in the result. HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY perfection in the result

A Watch for 50 Cents. HORSE AND HIS DISEASE, BY DR. MOTT.

An elegant assortment.

Dr. Mott has overcome the great difficulty of doctoring Horses successfully, by learning to locate a Horse disease or lameness as accurately as if the Horse desease or lameness as accurately as if the Horse could speak and tell you himself. This information will be found in this work; it is a plain common sense work, using no terms but what are intelligible to any person that can read; it treats on every disease or lameness the Horse is heir to, with their symptoms, remedies and cares.

I will mail the above Book on receipt of price to any address, which is the publisher's lowest retail price, with the following inducement to purchasers, with every Twenty Books sold I will give away a SPLENDID HUNTING-CASE SILVER WATCH, SPLENDID HUNTING-CASE SILVER WATCH,
In the following manner, commencing at one, and when the 20th book is sold the purchaser will receive a Watch. A club of twenty will be sure of a Watch, or any person sending me Fifty Cents, and it be the 20th book since the last watch was given, will receive a Watch and Book. I have distributed over 500 watches in this way the last year, and have a written certificate from every person receiving one. This is no gift enterprise or brass Jewelry humbug. The Watches will surely be given as above. The Book is more than worth the money to any person, and the chance of getting a beautiful Watch for notting.

I would refer to the undersigned parties who have received a Book and Watch for 50 cents:

DURYEAS' MAIZENA.

"Preparation for Food from Indian Corn' THAT received a medal and honorable mention from the Royal Commissioners the competition of all prominent manufacturers of "Corn Starch" and "Pre-pared Corn Flour" of this and other countries, not withstanding.

The food and Luxury of the age, without a single fault. One trial will convince the most skeptical. Makes Puddings, Cakes, Custuds, Blanc Mange, &c., without isinglass, with few or no eggs, at a cost astonishing the most economical. A slight addition to ordinary Wheat Flour greatly improves &c. adand Cake. It is also excellent for thickening sweetsauces, gravic for fish and meat soups, &c. For ice Cream nothing can compare with it. A little boiled in milk will produce rich cream for coffee, chocolate, tea, &c.

Put up in one pound packages, under the trade mark Maizena, with directions for use.

A most delicious article of food for children and invalids of all ages. For sale by Grocers and Druggists everywhere.
