TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER. WOULD call the attention of Farmers and others to my TWO-HORSE LEVER POWER, which has been throughly tested and proven to be. I think, a power that must supersede all Endless Chain power or the old Lever. It is of very Light Draught, and can be moved from place to place readily, it being fixed on wheels with tounge &c., complete, and can be placed in position for work in less time than any other kind of power. The exceeding cheapness of the machine is its greatest recommendation.

I would refer those in want of a good power to the following persons;

JEREMIAH DIBOIS—Ireland's Mill.

JEREMIAH OUBOIS-Ireland's Mill.

JEREMIAH DUBOIS—Ireland's Mill.
DAV.D YOUNG—Fairton road.
SCOTT WILLIAMS—Stoe Creek.
LEWIS B. WEN—Hepewell.
PERCIVAL NICHOLS—Bridgeton.
This is toce tifly that I was called upon by Mr. J.
DuBois, as a disinterested person, to feed a run of ten dozen of Oats, which I did in ten minutes time, and the result was ten bushel of grain. Turesher driven by H. Bisbing and L. Bowen.

Flora McFlimsey's Visit to Bridgeton.

lora McFlimsey, having "nothing to wear," nd finding her wardrobe was needing repair, o Gotham's gay city she bade an adieu, and the State of New Jersey passed rapidly three rriving in Camden, precisely at nine, he stepped in the cars of the West Jersey line. green.

fransported and pleased with the beautiful scene, the farms and the gardens were an exquisite sight,the party were social, the conductor polite. the declared, with a smile on her beautiful lip, hat she never had taken so pleasant a trip. arrived at the station, she went out the door, and stepped in the omnibus of Elwell or Moore. To their Livery Stables she said she would ride, Because in fine horses she took such a pride. Pheir harness and carriages much she admired, And thought them the finest she ever seen hired. To Robert Fithian & Son's, Flora now strayed, And viewed, with amazement, the bargains the made. Phat such elegant ginghams, and muslins so wide,-Tast such beautiful prints, and such jeans were sup plied, When the times are so hard, at low prices like these In exchange with the farmers for butter and cheese Vitin a smile and a bow she passed from the door, Fo examine, she said, the provisions of MOORE; Delightful, indeed, were the pepper and spice, The ginger and nutmegs, the coffee and rice. Molasses and sugar, and fine flavored tea. Now she would indulge in a cup of Bohea. Passing thence onward and across the wide draw, At Garrison & Son's more provisions she saw,—

He'd brooms and he'd baskets, and Yankee ma pails— Dried apples and peaches, and fish without scales, Fresh raisens and currapts, prunes, citrons and figs, And sugar-cured hams from the fattest of pigs. Rut she thought of what use is the finest of meat, Unless there are dishes from which we can eat, So to HARRIS' china store next she did go,

His dishes, she thought, were remarkably low; No "celestials" from China could surely surpass Those beautiful dishes of porcelain and glass. In every one's house how delightful 'twould be To have such loves of nice setts for dinner and tea. From HARRIS & DAVIS' large assortment of shoes, Any sensible lady could speedily choose. Those men, she was sure, were no better than brute Who denied to the ladies such exquisite boots The pair she most fancied were so pretty and neat That they handsomely set off her delicate feet In Elmen's cheap stove store she thought she would and view his selections of parlor and cook. For the kitchen, she found them with fixtures co

plete: While these for the parlor were handy and neat. And tin-ware he had that was shining and new .-I'in roofing and spouting she found he would do She thanked him so sweetly, and leaving the door, Next found herself seated in BECKHARDT's clieap store Where piles of warm clothing, of bangups and sacks The vests and the panties lay round in great stacks No person, she should think, need suffer from cold While thick garments like these so cheaply were sold. At ISAAC LANNING's the moments went pleasant and quick, All the clocks and the watches seemed racing on tick; His fine lot of jewelry, breast pins and rings, But what caused her surprise—her wonder most won Was to see how neatly his marking was done. At Mas A. LAKE's were superbly displayed. The neatest of bonnets for matron or maid, tich silks and soft velvets, plain casings and straw Bright flowers, fine feathers and ribbons she saw.the could make a nice hat, a cap or head dress, And take the old bonnets to whiten and press. It the ladies' cheap store of Benjanin Dare, the examined the stock for table and sear, and a smile of great joy illumined her face, at sight of those collars of exquisite lace The trimmings and undersleeves, the cloaking cloth

Were all, she averred, of the fashions most new.

Miss Flora esteemed it the greatest good luck, That MRS. A. RYNICK had succeeded to Tuck. instead of great piles of coarse clothing in view. duch beautiful riobons so brilliant in hue. Such fanceful hats to exhibit the curls, And charming nice bunnets for women and girls. at Mrs. Dane's store she passed a few hours, and much she admired her collection of flowers. the'd bonnets of rich si ks, soft velvets and plush. rimm'd with bright ribt one that made roses to blush she'd cans and head-dresses, bonnet frames too, and bleaching and pressing would reasonauly do. The caudies she found at the store of F. DARE, Were made, she averred, with the greatest of care. Of all known remedies for throat or for breast, Dare's cough candy she thought a little the best. His Hindoo stands "king of all remedies" known, For curing the spavin, the curb or ring bone. Attracted to GROSSCUP'S by crowds at the door, The piles of cheap clothing from ceiling to floor,-The foremost of cutters she found he employs, In cutting out garments for men and for boys. In a suit of his cloth-coat, panties and vest, Even Brummel himself would be handsomely dre From M'Gear and his brother's extensive supply, The best of all dress goods she found she could buy Most beautiful silks, cloaking cloths and delaine, Wool reps and mermoes both fancy and plain-Balmorals and hoop skirts, with shawls of each kine The cheapest she said she'd been able to find. At Sheppard & Garrison's she found in display, Dress goods of all colors for plain or for gay,-Wide muslins and calicoes selling so low,-Black merinces and crapes expressive of woe, such loves of fine silks, of red flannels and gray,— Long shawls of all kinds, of rich plaid and brocha. With Mr. J. M. LANING Miss Flora agreed. His large stock of watches was splendid indeed. He'd hunting case and levels of silver and gold,and clocks and good spectacles to favor the old; Fine jewelry, too, of all kinds that they wear, Large spoons and bread baskets, all plated with car Tamborines and accordeons, violins and strings, And banjoes and fifes, and such musical things. At DONAGHAY's store the provisions, she found, Were sold by the hundred weight, barrel or pound Molasses and sugars the whitest and best,-Fresh green or black teas by the quarter or chest. Roast coffee and butter, mould candles and dips,-

To rival the daylight or gas to eclipse. East of the clerk's office exactly one door. Where E. & R. Parvin had opened their store,-She found spices and frults, prime coffee and teas, And eggs without chickens, fish, butter and che With fresh beef and fat yeal, choice mutton and lamb Salt pork and potatoes, lard, sausage and ham. In passing the store-house of Firsian & Hoop, Their groceries she thought looked remarkably good Such excellent coffee and sugar and spice, Dried apples and peaches, molasses and rice,-The lard and the fish, eggs, butter and cheese, The people of Bridgeton most surely must please At G. W. Johnson's, 'twas so pleasant to find. So much of good reading to strengthen the mind. The journals of Harper, of Godey, and Hall, Ballou's and T. Arthur's, the Migntic and all The dailies and weeklies, steel pens and good ink. School books and primers to teach children to think At Mrs. M. Firman's she thought she would call,

And view her dress trimmings for winter and fall, Cashineres and merinoss, fine hosiery and braid, The cleaks and the coats in the fashion all made, The zephyrs and yarns such as ladies all use. The velvets and belts, and worked patterns for shoes With PEDRICK & CHEESMAN the people should deal, When they're buying a stock of bar iron or steel,-Of springs and of axles they keep a supply, And anvils and bellows that blacksmiths all buy,-And though they had vices she very well knew, For the cash or for trade they'd part with them too.

At A. STRAITON'S store were profusely displayed theap dress goods and groceries for cash or for trade Heavy jeans and neat prints, wide muslins and checks For suits for all sizes, all ages or sex.-The molasses and sugar, the coffee and rice, The queensware and dishes, she thought very nice Every man, she avowed, would own a nice clock. Who'd call upon Thompson and examine his stock. Gold levers and vest chains, and fine table ware, And spoons all of silver or plated with care,and beautiful rings, by the piece or the set, Not even in Gotham she so cheaply could get.

Robeson & Whitaker's beautiful toys

She thought would just suit both the girls and Phey'd dandelion coffee, the dyspeptic to suit And Bibles and school books, confectious and fruit. The choicest selection of drugs and of pills, Good paper for love-letters, for music or bills. At Brewster & Kennedy's Flora saw sold,

The best preparations for curing a cold.-They'd dye stuffs and chemicals, syrups and drops, The purest of essences sold in the shops,-They'd paints and they'd varnish and putty and glass To trade off for green-backs, or seed from the grass. At the "sign of the bay" Miss Fiora surveyed, The elegant harness that HANTHORN had made,-He'd all the kinds too that the people would need, From the heavy for ploughing to the lighter for speed Carpet bags and valices, and saddles to ride, With robes and lap covers of buffalo hide. With thirty years practice in working the trade, She thought Bishop 'd know how good harness

His stock it was large, of both plated and plain He'd elegant cart whips much cheaper than grain, The trunks and valices were many he sold. and robes and horse blankers to keep out the cold. Miss Flora declared that when cleaning was o'er, IOHN GRAHAM'S rich carpets should cover the floor; And people should know that 'twas here they cou

An Ingrain or Brussels, home-made or three ply, While door mats and oil cloths, for stairs or for hall, Were things that were needed by one and by all. To Pogue & Son's stove store a walk she then took, To get her an air-tight, a ten-plate and cook. His "Wellingtons" were fine to cook or to bake, Yet a "Niagara" was the choice she should make: He'd tin ware of all kinds and spouting he made, And sold them all cheaply for each or for trade. But stoves would not cook e'en the choicest of mea Unless there was fuel to give them so me heat. so at D. B. Thompson's the thought she would buy ome coal from the Schuylkill, Minchill or Lenigh And while he was busily plyingi his trade, She examined the coats and the pants that he'd made The bang-ups and the vests all looked very nice, And were offered for sale at a very low price. At SNEATHEN & POWELL's she thought she would try, To get a good piece for a roast or a fry.

The beef that hufig 'round had such a fresh look, That smiling she asked if they thought it would hoo He'd the finest of yeal, fat mutton and lamb, With lard and with sasuage, fresh cutlets and ham as Miss Flora thought that the fighting would cease.

In times of the war she'd prepare for a prace, When the war ended 'twixt the North and the Sout (A theme that was heard in every one's mouth.) Would go rushing in crowds to Jourson & SATER'S; The firm were making their best efforts to please, With elegant bureaus and handsome settees. And beautiful hedsteads, with posts low or high, Desiring some paper to cover the wall, At BENJAMIN T. WARE'S she thought she would call; beautiful display of patterns quite new. He soon had produced and brought out to her view, From his oil and his varnish and paints of all hues, The people could gel any color they choose. If brutes could but reason, she to herself said, How much they'd be flattered to know that when des Their skins would be taken by Burrand by WARE, And dressed for the ladies' with such elegant care, And the such a process their numbers much thinn Yet like sensible eels they'd want to be skinned. Besides the fine fors they offered in trade, She found that gent's clothing they ready had ma The neckties and collars, and drawers and shirts,

Made every man feel just like dealing at "Burts." At MULFORD & BROTHER'S she found a supply Of all kinds of lumber that builders will buy. They'd scantling of hemlock of oak and of pine, To exchange for the cash or good paper on time. lood siding and fencing and shingles and rails, And a lot of sound posts, lath, pickets and nails. At I. W. Mulrond's store she found were large stocks Of rolling pins and hatchets, of hinges and locks, Wood saws and good axes, rakes, pitchforks and flail Of knives and of forks, clothes wringers and pails, Ofwash boards and tubs, which if rightly applied, Would cure a sharp pain in the chest or the side. She thought McBeide & Firmian made a great hit, In keeping their wood ready sawed and split: Besides buying hay for the ready cash down, The best of good coal they'd deliver through town. What greater convenience could Biddy desire, Than such coal and such wood for making her fire. She thought working in marble a very fine art, That CLAYPOOLE had got most completely by heart. combs and monuments he raised o'er the dead. And made beautiful stones to place at their head,-With their names and their ages traced in a line, And door steps and mantles of graceful design. There once was a man, though he was siliv indeed, Who tried keeping his horse away from all feed;

The result was exactly what every one knew, The horse he soon died, and his owner looked blue While thus she was musing on nature's hard law, Abund Holme's feed store she exultingly saw; Where the best wheat flour, by the hundred or poun to cheaply he'd furnish to people around. Horse feed he kept as a nast of his plan. With cats and with corn, Indian meal and some bran Bowen & Paullin she found at the old stand, With a stock of choice lumber already on hand,-

They'd nice boards of hemlock, of cedar and pine; And railings and pickets that really were fine. lastering laths and shingles they kept in great hosts And all kinds of scantling for sills and for posts. Miss Flora was vexed that in walking so fast, HORACE SHOEMAKER'S new store she'd thoughtlessly passed. so now she would look at his beautiful prints,

His cloths and his flannels, his muslins and chintz,-His counters and shelves that were loaded so full, With cashmeres and silks, and delaines all of wool, With elegant shawls, alpacas and reps,— She really was glad the'd retaken her steps. To the Pioneer Office she thought she would go, Mr. Ferguson met her with a smile on his brow. And the jours and d-lall made their best bow; She had heard, she said, so much about "pi." That printers, she thought, must live very high : With his power presses and fixtures complete, She saw how it was he could print such a sheet, And at the low price of five "quarters" a vear. Furnish each of his patrons a weekly Pioneer. o keep up an acquaintance so nicely begun. To know in the town, what improvements were done, To keep weekly posted in all of the news,

That from such advertisements her goods she might choose, He must send her a paper, addressed with great care To Miss Flora McFlimsey, of Madison Square. Her visit being ended, her shooping all done, She stepped in the omnibus of Elwell & Son; Whence behind fast horses, with but a few jars, She soon was seated in the West Jersey Cars; The whistle then sounded, and while ringing the bel Miss Flora bid Bridgeton a final farewell

THE ANGEL'S TREASURE.

BY REV. JOHN TODD, D. D.

It was midnight when the angel of light sprang from the earth to go upward .-There were sobbings and groans as he left, for he came out of a half lighted chamber. Upward and upward he flew, and soon soared out of earth's night Then he saw And to fill up the thinned ranks the the sun before him. Onward and onward present Congress now has before it the he flew, leaving the planet Venus on the monstrous proposition to conscript all right hand, and then Mars, and Saturn, from sixteen to fifty five years of age, and and Jupiter, and the great sun himself were make them subject to military law, which left behind-far behind. Still upward he bent his flight, through the Milky Way into the vast regions of space, passing an orphan, and used to a gentle nature; the Richmond Examiner boldly denounward and onward. At length he met a er, my heart had yearned to him, for I too fellow angel on his way to a distant part of God's creation—so distant that it would take many thousands of our years to reach of which is controlled by members from it. The beautiful and noble beings paused to greet each other.

Whither bound, my friend?" "To the far-off world never yet pressed by angels' feet."

"How long have you been in the Pres ence since your last great work?" "About two thousand years, yet they than upon the people of New York or seem only a few hours. Time with us is New England. The chief cause of the hardly worth mentioning. I may now be absent many thousand years; but they are nothing-a mere drop out of eternity .-What have you there so carefully folded up and carried in your bosom so tenderly?" "A jewel from earth."

"Earth! Earth! Oh! how much I have heard of that little world since the Son, who is on the throne, went there to do his great work.

I never yet had the opportunity to visit it; but I know all its history, and have the promise that I shall go there some day before it is burned up and destroyed. Perhaps I may be sent on some errand of great mercy! I have seen multitudes who were none so loud or so sweet as theirs. They sing of redeeming love. How they sympathize with all that is done in their world! quire further as to your precious charge. Farewell!"

"Farewell, noble one! May every blessing attend you!"

So they separated. Then upward still darted the angel, straight towards the heavens. As he entered the golden gates all set their foot, to make and enforce odious made way for him for they saw he had laws on our people? Are we prepared to prought something very precious. CITY OF BRIDGETON.

The bill entitled "An Act to incorporate the city of Bridgeton," introduced in the Senate by Hon. Mr. Ludlam, is of considerable importance. It has not been hastily put through, but intentionally deopinion from our citizens. We have invited discussion on the subject through the columns of the Pioneer, and have had but one communication on the subject.-That the population of Bridgeton is large prise of our citizens generally would show to a better advantage. The city of Bridgeton would be familiar, where the town is scarcely known. Capitalists would more frequently visit it and invest their means here. The value of property would be our streets at night and the closing of the all papers on file, each 5 cents. Certifiworst dens of infamy would be another many young men and boys who are now being led to disgrace and ruin, would be checked in their wild career by a more efficient police organization. Mob fights and midnight carousals are of frequent occurrence in the streets of Bridgeton. There would be many advantages if the townships of Cohansey and Bridgeton were incorporated under the name of the "City of Bridgeton." We will stand by Senator Act," until we are convinced it is an unwise measure. The following is only a synopsis of the bill.

Sections 1 & 2 declares that all that part of the county of Cumberland, known as Bridge-ton and Cohansey townships, be incorporated into a city to be called "the City of Bridgeton," and provides that the said city shall be divided into three wards, viz: All that part of the township of Bridgeton lying north of Commerce street, running east to the township line, shall constitute the first ward; and all that part of said township lying south of Commerce street shall constitute the second ward; and Cohansey township shall constitute the third Section 3 provides for the election of a mayor and six common councilmen, who shall hold their offices for three years.

Section 4 says that there shall be elected in each ward, two councilmen, two chosen free holders, two trustees of public schools, two surveyors of the public highways, one commissioner of appeal, [three] judges of election, one or more pound-keepers, one constable and

Sections 5, 6, 7, 8 & 9 defines the time and regulates the manner in which the city election shall be held, (by ballot,) and provides for fillin the board of councilmen.

section 12 gives to the mayor all the power and authority of a justice of the peace shall have authority to take acknowledgment hibitions of any kind whatever shall be allowd in said city, without his consent and license being first obtained in writing. Sections 13, 14, 15 & 16 defines the duties of the assessors, collectors, marshal and jailor Section 17 rests in the mayor and council the exclusive right of granting license to innkeepers and retailers of spirituous liquors, in the same manner as is now done by the court of common pleas. Section 18 authorizes the councilmen to establish lamp, police and watch districts, the taxes for which shall be assessed only on property within such districts.

Section 19 provides that the mayor shall receive no compensation for his services other than the fees which appertain to his office, nor shall the members of council be paid any compensation for the performance of their of-The remaining sections defines the duties of

The following is a copy of the bill introduced in the Senate by Hon. P. Ludlam. We print the bill as originally introduced. On a second reading the bill was amended by inserting the word "employer" wherever the words "factory-man. or company," appear in the bill. The fourth section was also amended by striking out the latter portion, providing that the bill shall take effect immediately. As stead of the 21st, as previously announced. it now stands the bill will take effect on the fourth of July next. The counties of Morris, Sussex, Somerset and Manmouth are excepted from the operations of the bill. The second section was stricken out. An Act for the better securing of wages to

Depredations of the Alabama

> The mysterious circumstances attending the murder of Mr. Frank Converse, the Assistant Cashier of the Malden Bank, on the 15th of Dec. last, have at last been explained by the arrest of the murderer. Since the murder and the robbery were committed, officers of Malden and Charlestown have been "working up" the case, but it was left for the detectives > of our city to unravel the mystery.

> When the announcement was first made that a murder had been committed at the Bank, Detectives Heath and Jones, of this city, were specially detailed by the Chief of Police to ferret out the murderer. They worked early In their labors they were assisted by members of the Chief's office, and several prominent citizens of Malden. An autopsy of the head of young Convers was made by Drs. Bige-low and Steadman, of Boston, about three weeks ago, and the fact was then made known that two balls had been fired into his head, both of which were found in the head. The detectives looked in every quarter, but could discover no evidence against any party.

Finally suspicion settled upon Edward Green, the Postmaster of Malden, and, will be seen below, he is proved to be the murderer from his own confession. From the first Green manifested no feeling whatever in regard to the matter, never held conversation with any one in reference to it, norattended any of the meetings held by the cinzens where the subject of the murder was discussed. His singular course excited suspicion. Detective Calder, of Boston, was called into the case, and has been on Green's track for four weeks. He has been at his heels on the different visits the Postmaster would make to the city, and hardly a day passed but the officer discovered some new link in the chain of evidence.

It appears that the murderer was a person of irreproachable character, but was somewhat ed to about $700, and had run nearly 2 years. gations, they discovered that it had been paid bills on the Maldon Bank were found. Green stated that the balance of the stolen money was in the engine house of "Volunteer" pany, in the town, hid underneath the flooring of the attic. Detectives Heath and Jones searched this place and found $3,464, making in all $4,069. This, with the different amounts paid by Green in discharging his debts, accounts fot the money taken from the Bank. In regard to the murder, he says that he purchased the revolver at Mr. Reed's store in Boston, purchasing the ammunition at the same time. He loaded it, and two days be fore the murder put it in his pocket and car-

The revolver was found at his boarding house, on Pleasant street, Malden, loaded and capped, as he stated.

Shortly before midnight last night, Detectives Heath and Jones brought Green to this city and placed him in the Tombs. He is a man of shall stature, being about five feet high, and is 27 years of age.

He has a wife and infant child but three or four months old. The agony of his wife, upon becoming acquainted with the arrest of her husband for the murder, was of the most heart-rending description.

Being a Hunting or Open Face or Lady's or Gentle man's Watch combined, with Patent Self-Winding Improvement, a most Pleasing Novelty.

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST, MOST CONVENIENT, and decidedly the best and shearper time size. O and decidedly the best and cheapest time-piece for general and reliable use ever offered. It has within it and connected with its machinery, its own winding attachment, rendering a key entirely unneressary— The cases of this watch are composed of two metals the outer one being fine it carat gold. It has the un proved ruby action lever movement, and is warranted nn accurate time-piece. Price, superbly engraved, pe case of half dozen, $204. Sample Watches, in neating

SILVER WATCHES: First Class Hunting Time-Pieces for accuracy of movement, beauty of material, and above all, cheapness in price, these watches must insure universal approbation.

An imitation so faulttess that it can hardly be detected by the most experienced judges .-The material being of two metals, the outer one first quality Sterling Silver, while the inner one is German Silver, it cannot be recugnized by cutting or heavy engraving, making it, not on-ly in appearance, but in durability, the best resemblance of SOLID STERLING SILVER in existence. The Sale of these Watches in the Army is a sorce of enormous profit, retailing as they very readily do, at $25 and upwards. Many huudred dollars can be made in a single pay day by any one of ordinary business tact.

AT WHOLESALE ONLY! In heavy hunting cases, beautifully engraved, white enamel dial, and fancy out hands, in good run-ning order, by the balf dozen, $66. Sold only by the case of six!

Upon receipt of the dollars, as guarantee of good faith, we will and watches by express to any part of the loyal States, collecting balance of bill an delivery. This ensures buyers against fraud, giving them their watches before pay-

ALLEN & NEEDLES Are now prepared to furnish "MORO PHILLIP'S Genuine Improved

SUPER-PHOSPHATE OE LIME' the standard of which is guaranteed. In excellent of quality it is unapproached.

Packed in New Bags of 200 lbs each.

Price $54 per 2000 lbs.

ALLEN & NEEDLES' We offer this article to farmers with the assurance that it is what we say it is, vin: an excellent and reliable application for all crops requiring a stimulating and permanent manure. The demand for it during the past by years shows a steady and large increase in its consumption, taxing our ability to keep pace, with the orders during the planting season. We have been constantly engaged in manufacturing since last fall, and trust the supply will be equal to the demand—We suggest however, that orders be sent in with as little delay as possible.

It is packed in New Bags, 150 lbs. each. FERTILIZER.

P.ice $35 per 2000 lbs.

ICHABOE GUANO.

Cargoes of the "Golden Ear" and "Springhor."
This superior Guano is fully up to the standard of previous importations; it is very strong and dry, packed in good bags, and is fully equal to Peruvian in its effects on the soil. Price $50 per 2000 lbs.

PROPERTY OWNERS-Your careful attention is respectfully invited to the many benefits realized by having slate covering on your new or old buildings, in preference to others. n preference to others. Lis cheaper at first cost, even though not generally nown. Its durability for ages and its nealness is undenia s. It is painted by nature's own hand, and needs no ibrish.

Lis worked on lath, saving you two cents per foot on an extra outlay for boards to prepare for tin or gravel roofing; mark that.

It will ueither contract, expand, corrode, wash off, or ignits by a spark, as other roofs do.

It is thoroughly impervious to the elements, when rightly done. rightly done.
It may be removed at any remote period, [if so needed,] and will re-cover nearly the same space, and meeded, and will re-cover nearly the samespace, who he as good as new.

The rain falling off it is the best for domestic use, as it is not impregnated by paint or decomposed insects, and has no offensive taste or smell.

It is more cool in summer nights, as it quickly relaxes the heat; and warm in winter, as it absorbs no damp, and effectually resists the ingress of snow. All other roofs combined impart none of those advantages. Numerous references.

A WORD ABOUT AMERICAN WATCHES

AFTER A THOROUGH TRIAL OF MORE THAN TEN YEARS, the time-pieces manufactured by the America's Watch Co., of Waltham, Mass, have gained a firm hold upon the favor of the public, and now, no less chan 75,000 of them are speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people. From a very insignificant beginning the business has increased until we are justified in stating that WE MAKE MORE THAN ONE HALF of all the watches sold in the United States. Repeated enlargement of our factory buildings, and the labor of 500 operatives, still find us unequal to supply the constantly increasing demand—and we may here observe that notwithstanding the high price of labor and materials, we actually sell our products at less prices than those current five years ago.

products at less prices than those current five years ago.

We refer to these facts only for the purpose of properly introducing another subject relative to our manufacture of watches. Hitherto our chief object has been to make GOOD watches for the million at the lowest possible price—something to take the place of the make-believe watches cilled "Ancres," "Epines," "Er lis' Patent Levers," &c., annually thrown upon this market, in countless numbers, by European workshops—watches winch are the refuse of their factories, unsadeable at home, and perfectly worthless everywhere.

This object we have accomplished, and now we have to announce, that we have commenced the manufacture of watches of the very

HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY

HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY unequalled by anything histerto made by ourselves and unsurpass d by anything made in the world—for this we have the amplest facilities. We have erected an addition to our main buildings expressly for this unch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. Profiting by our long experience, we have remodelled the form of our watches, introducing such improvements as have been suggested and proved to be good from time to time and have instituted new and severe tests of isochronism, adjustment and compensation. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consumate delicacy and exactrude, and the choicest and most approved materials only are used. Nothing in fact is wanting either in medianical principles, Material or workmanship to ensure perfection in the result.

We continue to manufacture our other well known qualities under the following names

"WM. ELLERY."

The latter, the lowest priced watch we make, is a substantial, reliable time-piece, cased in sterling silver—hunting pattern, and is not liable to get out of order either in marching, riding, or righting. All the above described watches, including the threst, which is named "American Watch Company," are sold by watch dealers generally throghout the country. ratch dealers generally throghout the country ROBBINS & AEPPLTON. DESIRABLE FARM FORSA : The subscriber offers at Private all that desirable farm and premises, situated on the main road eading from Roadstown; also, on the Greenwich read—as the roads cross on the property—about one mile from Secley's Mill, two miles from Greenwich, 2½ from Roadstown, and near the county line of Salemand Cumberland—it being situated in the last named county. The farm contains SEVENTY-SIX ACRES! Mostly all arable land, with a never-failing stream of water running through the centre. The land'is in a good state of improvement—it has been lately limed all over, ane in some parts had two coats since the subscriber has been on the farm; also, been asned and marled. The improvements consist of a good

FRAME DWELLING With an excellent well of water under the shed, large TWO APPLE ORCHARDS on the place, one just coming into bearing of choice fruit from McLaen's Nurseries; also, a young Pea h Orchard. It is said to be the best part of the county for peach raising. There is an old orchard on the property that has not failed tor 10 or 12 years. Also property that has not tailed for 10 or 12 years. Also grapes and other fruit.

This property offers rare inducements to those wishing a home, or to capitalists, as the farm will rent to a good interest. The terms will be easy, and early possession given if required, as the subscriber intends to leave the place to go into other business. For further particulars apply to the subscriber residing on the premises.

$50 REWARD A Reward of Fifty Dollars is offered for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who set fire to the dwelling house of Mr. William Emme, in Decribeld township, on Monday night, the 21st inst, between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock.

By ROB'T J. CULVERWELL, M. D.

The important fact that the awful consequences oself abuse may be effectually removed without internal inedicines or the dangerous application of caustics, instruments, medicated bougles, and other empirical devices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the antirely new and highly successful treatment as adopted by the celebrated author, folly explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and as the teast possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any addressing the publishers,
