CRINOLINE-A PARODY.

BY HELEN MAR. You're monarch of all you surround, You're right there is none to dispute, For fashion has marked out you're bound, You're queen of the flirt and the dupe. O. Crinoline! great are the charms Which woman has seen in thy face, Better dwell in the midst of thy arms

Than walk with a true native grace. You're out of humanity's reach, Reformers must let you alone, Eugenie forbiddeth free speech, And ruleth BON TON with her own. The beasts which roam over the plain. Your form with astonishment see, They're so well acquainted with man, They wonder what monster you be Society, friendship and love, Divinely bestowed upon man, Would wilt like an empty kid glove, If fashion put you under ban! Our sorrows then none might assauge For fashion is stronger than truth, And crinoline ruleth the age, A marvel to manhood and youth!

Hooped-skirts! what a treasure untold Resides in that comforting word!
"More precious than silver and gold," If husband the bills can afford! But the sound of the church going BELLE Would dolefully ring on the ear, Should her brute of a husband compel Her to lessen her crinoline sphere The winds that have made you their sport,

While walking along the sea-shore, Would sigh at the startling report. That crinoline reigneth no more. My friends who do now and then send A visiting card after me, Would never more call their friend, Society's outlaw I'd be. O, Fashion! how strong dost thou bind, And hoodwink us all from the light, In vain is the effort to find One daring to question thy right. I blush for the foolery there-

That woman should give thee her hand "But the sea fowl has gone to her nest, The beast is laid down in his lair;" So much of creation is blest, For crinoline ruleth not there. "There's mercy in every place," Except where thy folly is taught, But woman has fallen from grace, And reconciled man to her lot!

BARBARISM IN KENTUCKY.

AN APPALLING NARRATIVE.-THE GOOD ANGEL.-Some weeks ago it was afflictions which he was compelled to ex-Kentucky, had pardoned the Rev. Calvin Fairbank out of the Penitentiary of that State, during the temporary absence of liamsburg, Mass., a young lady of rare
Gov. Bramlette. A correspondent of the personal attractions and mental developeannounced that Lieut. Gov. Jacobs, of perience? interview with Mr. Fairbank, gives the following interesting narrative:

In November, 1851, the Rev. Mr. Fairbank was in Louisville on business conand buggy.

Before daylight he got her, cold and benumbed, into the buggy, and that day (Nov. 8d) drove thirty-four miles into Indiana, placed her among friends, and himself returned with the horse and buggy, to Jeffersonville, where he remained about a week. On his way to church the following Sunday, he was assaulted and seized by Wm. Ronald, the Marshal of Louisille, Kentucky, pow Sheriff, and one Shortwell, and, thus kidnapped, he was taken by force from Indiana into Kentucky. He was thrown into prison in Louisville, where he lay about five months awaiting trial, bail being required in the sum of $5000, which he, of course; was unable to procure in that State.

On the 25th of February, 1852, Mr. Fairbank was arrainged. Although no direct evidence was offered, and nothing but the slightest circumstantial evidence given, such as his being seen in Louisvile on the same night the girl escaped, still, being determined to punish him under the laws, they convicted him under their stat-ute relating to enticing slaves, and he was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisons ment. During the time of his imprisonment, he was subjected to the most brutal, wicked, and inhuman treatment possible. When he first entered the prison, the profit arising from the labor of the prisoners were divided between the State and warden or prison contractor. Each prist oner was required to perform an allotted amount of work, which was equal to what a strong, well man could do at the utmost xertion of his strength and endurance Mr. Pairbank's strength and health soon failed him, and he was utterly incapable of performing his tasks. Then com-menced the horrible brutality to which he was subjected. He was put at the hardest, dirtiest work, and orders were given by Newton Craig, the then warden, to "kill him." The insulting language constantly addressed to him, the hatel

During the time he was imprisoned, he was brutally flogged more than one hundred times in Treasury notes, bearing interest at a because he had not fulfilled, through weakness and exhaustion, the task imposed upon him. On one occasion, during the last winter, a keeper named Whiteside, and the only humane man connected with the prison management, had directed Mr. Fairbank to cord up a lot of wood. While doing this, an under-keeper named Jeffries, came along and asked Mr Fairbank, roughly, what he was doing that for. Mr. Fairbank replied that he was doing it by order of Mr. Whiteside. Jeffries ordered him not to cord up any more wood, and Mr. Fairbank replied that he must do as directed by the officer highest in au thority. Jeffries, in a rage, seized a stick of wood and struck Mr. Fairbank over the temple a blow that cut to the skull, knocking him blind and senseless, and which placed him in the prison hospital for several weeks, and from which, owing to the shock to the brain, as in the case of the assault upon Senator Sumner by "Bully" Brooks, he has not yet fully recovered. How many times the heart of the poor

he prayed earnestly that death might end his sufferings; how he was kept alive, and was permitted to hope on, and live, is known only to his God. Yet it is a great wonder how the mind could have been preserved from utter wreck and ruin; how it was that insanity did not deprive him long since of all consciousness of the cruel wrongs he was obliged to suffer and endure. But have we not the explanation in the knowledge he surely possessed that there was a loving and devoted heart, made all the more loving, devoted, and constant, by his civil bondage and the horrors to ed, to prosperity, the system of free govwhich he was subjected? To the People of the United States. Treasury Department, July 25th, 1864.

By an act of Congress, approved June 30, 1864, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue an amount not exegeding two hundred millions of dollars rate not exceeding seven and three-tenths per centum, redeemable after three years from date, and to exchange the same for lawful money. The Secretary is further authorized to convert the same into bonds, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum, payable in coin. In pursuance of the authority thus conferred, I now offer to the people of the United States Treasury notes as described in my advertisement dated July 25, 1864.

The circumstances under which this loan is asked for, and your aid invoked, though differing widely from the existing state of affairs three years ago, are such as to afford equal encouragements and security. Time, while proving that the struggle for national unity was to exceed in duration and severity our worst anticipations, tested the national strength. and developed the national resources. to an extent alike unexpected and remarkable, exciting equal astonishment at home and abroad: Three years of war have burdened you with a debt, which, but three years since, would have seemed beyond your ability to meet. Yet the accumulated wealth and productive energies of the nation have proved to be so vast that it has been born with comparative ease, and a peaceful future would hardly feel its weight. As a price paid for na tional existence, and preservation of free institutions, it does not deserve a moment's consideration.

Slavery in the United States. Jefferson Davis says the South is not fighting for Slavery but Independence .--Alexander H. Stephens says they are fighting for Slavery, "the corner stone of the Confederacy." Northern copperheads assure us that "Slavery is the best possible condition of the negro," and that the war is prosecuted to lower that condition to one of freedom! Who are you to believe? We will take the evidences of our own senses in the conclusion that slavery, and nothing else, was the cause of the war. Our wonder is that it did not produce war long ago. Nothing short of war could have ever settled the question of its abolition. Terrible as the rem-

That slavery is the most deplorable condition to which human nature can be reduced, is too evident to require the labor of proof. By subjecting one human creature to the absolute control of another, it annihilates the most essential prerogative of a reasonable being, which consists in the power of determining his own actions the right improvement of this prerogative is the source of all the virtue and happiness of which the human race is susceptible? Slavery, of necessity, introduces the most dire confusion in society, since things. The interests of the slave being merged in those of the master, he becomes a mere appendage to the existence of that preserve the dignity which belongs to him as a reasonable and accountable being Knowledge is foreign to his very level with his condition.

Each man has an individual worth, significance, and responsibility, is bound to the work of self-improvement, and to labor in a sphere for which his capacity is adapted. To give up this individual liberty is to disqualify himself for fulfilling the great objects of his being. Hence, political societies which have made a considerable degree of advancement do not allow any one to great object of political institutions in civilized nations is to enable man to fulfill most perfectly the ends of his individual being. These two principles of mutual obligation, and the work of the individual, are at the basis of morals, politics, and religion. That the people of the South should oling to slavery is accounted for by the prejudices of birth and education. That any apology should be made for the system North is to us a marvel. In the largest stretch of charity we cannot accord such apologists sincerity in their professions. THE ENROLLMENT.

By the subjoined correspondence it will be seen that the Hon. John F. Starr has zont Marchal General. before the commencement of the draft, as practicable, an invitation is extended particularly benefitted, neither does it of the country, and the correction of the lists is of as much advantage to them as to individuals or neighborhoods. Of what advantage would it be to anybody to draft John Smith or Tom Brown, if they were unfit for military duty and legally exempt? Every citizen is interested in having the lists corrected, whether personally exempt or not. An army of invalids, even if compelled to go, could make but little head against the veteran troops of rebeldom. Sound mer are wanted and deputations of trustworthy citizens be sent from each township, to the Marshall's office, armed with full information respecting each citizen of his district of an age liable to draft.

CONCERNING THE ENROLLMENT CAMDEN N. J., ? Aug. 12TH, 1864.

Dear Sir: - In consequence of representations made by the Committees of many of the Townships, that the enroll ment was very inaccurate, and calculated to work much injustice to them, I have conferred with the Provost Marshal General, and attempted to have a new enrollment made. This, however, cannot be done, owing to the short period of time intervening between this and the fixed date for the Draft. But he desires that the attention of the people be directed to Circular No 24, issued from his office. and especially to that clause inviting civiofficers, clergymen and other prominent citizens, to appear before the Enrolling Board and point out errors in the lists, etc. The only causes for exemption from enrollment are stated in the Circular, and any other claims must be regularly passed upon after the draft shall have been made:

If the various Township Committees will give prompt attention to their alleged improper enrollments, and have the list corrected, so that the revised list may be sent to Washington in -time, a re-adjustment of the quota for the Congressional corrected enrollment list. If practicable, an entire revision and adjustment of the quota will be made, though that is scarcely possible, unless the date of the draft is postponed, and I am not disposed to believe any postpouement can be had. The Government needs the soldiers now, and oppressive as it may seem to be local hardships will have to be submitted to for result from a prompt supply of the reinforcements called for. You are also ino envollment and draft matters, from th officers in the Provost Marshal's Office, at Camden, and they are directed to give information as may properly be made public.

Much complaint has been made with eference to the drawing for men, to supby the places of those who have been drafted and failed to report themselves for Jersey City. examination. The call for men is made upon the people of districts, and in proportion to their ment list, and the government does not acknowledge that call complied with until these men are in their possession. The drafted man who fails to report, by the terms of the enrollment. Act becomes a criminal, and the punishment is pre scribed by the law, but it does not relieve the district from the duty of supplying the required number of men. If, otherwise. all the men in a district might relieve themselves in that way, and it would be an inducement to persons drafted to re-

The residents of the district should see. as far as practicable, that all the drafted men do report, or if they do not report should be active in aiding the officer to arrest them.

In this particular matter the Provost Marshal General is proceeding under the decision of the Judge Advocate General as to the meaning and intent of the law, and has no discretionary power in the premises.

I am well aware of the inconvenience and suffering that will arise from this as well as any other draft, and, in fact from all military duty in time of war, but it is incidental to the great struggle for the existence of the Government, and the stake is well worthy of the sacrifice -es, ecially as we can count with so much certainty upon success if we promptly extend the help called for.

My conference with the Department ives me great hope of a speedy ending of his dreadful struggle if we are prompt in the discharge of our duties.

Let us therefore act energetically and cheerfully, and so have the satisfaction of having saved our Government and perpetuated its blessings for all times.

I am yours truly, j truly, JOHN F. STARR.

Another Pirate Off the Coast. A new rebel: pirate, the Tallahassee, commanded by Capt. The rest were put on board the schooner Carroll. The Tallahassee is an iron steamer, and was built in London. She sailed recently from Wilmington, with a crew of one hundred and twenty men and three guns. When last seen yesterday evening she was steering southeast, taking the pilot-boat Fonk as a tender. The Adriatic left London on the 9th of July, with fall cargo, carrying on board also 168 passengers, about one third Irish, and the rest of various nationalities. All went well and the ship had a favorable voyage until nearing ort on Priday morning about 5 A. Captain Moore ac-cordingly went on board, and was at once informed by Taylor, the commander of the pirate, that he intended to burn his ship. tain Moore naturally expressed his hope that such a thing would not be done, stated that he such degree as to render the person not was part owner and wholly uninsured, and above all, that the ship had in all over two hundred passengers (emigrants) on, and that such an act would be most cruel and inhuman to wards them.

Taylor replied : "I can't help that, Captain want to bure, in order to bring this war to an end by destroying your commerce. That's an American vessel, and that's quite enough to determine its destruction." Although Capt. Moore had the bills of lading, they were not even looked at, and he was informed that he must return on board at once and prepare his passengers for removal. Seeing that all forther expostulation was useless, the captain returned and informed the passengers of the state of affairs, and that each passenger would be permitted to take as much of their baggage with My lines were only protected by logs and rails hastily thrown across in front of them.— The first onset was received and checked, and the battle commenced and lasted until 8 o'clock in the evening.

During that time six successive charges were made, which were six times gallantly repulsed each time. with fearful loss to the enemy. Later in the evening, my lines were severa times assaulted vigorously, but each time with like result.

The most of the fighting occurred on General Harrow and Smith's front, which formed the centre and right of the command. The troops could not have displayed more courage nor greater determination not to yield. Had they shown less, they would have been driven from their position Brig. Gens. Woods, Smith and Harrow, Division commanders, are entitled to equal credit for their gallant conduc and skill in repelling the assaults.

My thanks are due to Maj. Gens. Blair and Dodge, for sending the reinforcements at a time when they were much needed.

My losses were 50 killed, 439 wounded, and 73 missing—in the aggregate, 572 men.

The Division of General Harrow captured five battle-flags. There were about 1,500 or 2,000 muskets captured. 1,006 prisoners were captured, exclusive of 78 wounded, who have been removed to the hospital and are being cared for by our surgeons.
Five hundred and sixty-five rebels up to this time, have been buried and about 200 are supposed to be yet unburied A large number were undoubtedly carried way during the night, as the enemy did not withdraw until nearly daylight.

The enemy's loss could not have been less, in my judgement, than six or seven thousand. I am, very respectfully, your obedient ser-JOHN A. LOGAN. Major-Gen. Commanding 15th Army Cops. Lieutenant Colonel Wm T. Clark, Assistant

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL

I go not with the busy host
That now to "Springs" and sea shore throng;
A little room quite close and hot.
That can no look of comfort wear,
Must most of those now find their lot,
And 'its a lot I would not share.

And dis a lot I would not share.

Round them at every step will be
A staring, prying chattering crowd,
Who fright away tranquility,
With gossip, songs, and laughter loud.
Then let me keep my quiet home,
With pleasant garden, shaded door,
Abroad at morn and evening roam,
And visit oft sweet Schuylkill's shore. Nought could I more refreshing deem, Than what beside me here I find.

The ice cold draught, the gelid cream, And lucious fruits of every kind. Nor need I be of heat afraid, Which bids so many victims fall, For all my summer clothes are made In coolest style at Tower Hall. We are closing out summer stock at old prices

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN. It is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U.S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating me dium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes and bonds payable in govern ment paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or perma nent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

French Breakfast and Dinner COFFEE

Owing to the very high prices of Coffee, and the great difficulty in procuring a good, uniform, and reliable article our customers have often expressed a wish that they could be supplied from first hands. It was the intention of THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY to do a strictly Tea busines, but as we have had some customers living at a distance that have relied upon us to supply them exclusively with Tea and Coffee, it being convenient for them to come to New York, The Great Tea and Coffee Emporium of this country—and as our Tea Tuster was possessed of information and as our Tea Tuster was possessed of information relating to a Coffee that could be furnished at a moderate price, and give universal satisfaction, and at the same time afford the retailer a handsome profit—we have been compelied to supply those parties.—THIS COFFEE HAS BECOME SO POPULAR with our customers and their gales have increased to such an extent in the weak peen compelled to make large additions to our machinery, which will enable us to supply a few more customers with it. We will therefore send it to those who may order.

It is Fast Superseding all other Coffees. This Coffee has been used for more than a century in Paris, and since its introduction into this country it has been in use by some of the leading French Restaurants here. The Parisians are said to be the best judges of coffee and the great favor in which it is held by them is the best recommendation that can be produced for its flue flavor and healthy effects upon the human system.

ELA WLEY'S DENTAL CREAM, For Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the Teeth
This article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent dental surgons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities
for Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the teeth;
it cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerased and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often very offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the broath.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, conenting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

Philadelphia, April 16th, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally. It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as its properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.

TWO YEARS, And is giving universa SATISFACTION. Physicians using it pronounce it the most HEALTHFUL COFFEE

IN THE MARKET. Read the opinion of the Press. Read the opinion of the Press.

Scull's Continental Coffee.—The Housereeper's Friend.—The general complaint of every good house-keeper at present, is the ruinous prices asked for an inferior quality of coffee. Various remedies have been resorted to without avail. Chemists have here-tofore tried their arts in vain to produce a palatable, wholesome substitute for the national drink.—Housekeepers will rejoice to learn that the Continental Coffee prepared by Wm. S. Scull, and for sale at his depot, No. 132 Arch street, is an article of Coffee that is entirely free from injurious ingredients, and is highly recommended by eminent physicians. We have tried it, and found it to be the most delightful drink we have tasted since Coffee has become worth its weight in gold. Be sure to give this Coffee a trial—it is equal to the best Java. It is now being used by most of the hotels, and in thousands of private families.—Episcopal Recorder.

THE POPULAR BEVERAGE ONCE MORE.—No one has any cause to complain of unsatisfactory Coffee. That complain thas been remedied, and it is within the power of every one now to drink their favorite beverage without the dread of fearing that it is adulterated poison. The coffee to which we refer we have used, still use, and intend to use, and therefore we speak knowingly. We refer now to the celebrated Continental Coffee, manufactured by Scull, and fer sale everywhere. This Coffee is pleasant and palatable, is exhilarating, and leaves no depressing effects behind. It is used by our principal hotels, private boarding houses, and many of our most respectable families. We have had occasion to recommend it to a good number of our friends whilst travelling in the interior, and they, acting upon our advice, have tried it, and their verdiet agrees with our own. The central depot for the sale of this coffee is at No. 132 Arch street, but you can buy it of your family grocer. The price is much lower than that asked for other manufactures of not half its worth. Try the Continental.—Try it because it is the cheapest and the best, and when you fiare tried it you will not regret it. It comes in convenient packages, and may be sent by express to any part of the country. We mention this for the particular benefit of our readers at a distance.—Sunday Mercury. An Interesting History

DR. SCHENOK'S OWN CASE, WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION, And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills act on the System, in Curing that Disease, and the

The above is a correct likeness of Dr. Schenck taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption, by a course of his "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup." The likeness, although it is does not represent him anything like as bad as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the hale and vigorous looks of the portrait helow, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits is so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons in and around Philadelphia, who will recognize both portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 167 pounds; at the present time his weight is 220 pounds.

New York, Wednesday, March 30, 1864. TO THE PUBLIC. Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmo Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption, and riven up to die. I resided in Philadelphia, and Dr. Josedh Parrish, then of this city, ordered me to Moorestown, N. J., a distance of nine miles, which took me two days to get there.—On my arrival I was put to bed, and I there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of consumption. Dr. Thornton, who attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating in eemed to me that I could feel them penetrating to dies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system.

They soon ripered the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain, night sweats—all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great hat it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and I have been growing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed uninterrupted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the Ecaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, as I am of a bilious temperament. My weight is two hundred and twenty pounds. On my recovery people would send for me far and near, to see if their cases were like mine. For this purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities. The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these medicines, and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new lungs is impossible; but cavities in the lungs and chronic ulcerations of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Such cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills. I am now a lealthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower lobe very and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower lobe very much hepatized and comelete adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tole, ably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop chill, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions and eventually the patient dies. After I make a careful examination of the patient with the Respirometer, and find lungs enough left to cure, I direct the patient how to use the three remedies. Remove the cause and they will all stop of their swn accord. No one can be cured of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia, catarrh, canker, ulcerated throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy. In New England this canker, chronic catarrh, ulcerated throat, elongation of uvula, is more prevalent than in any other section of the country. This is frequently caused by a foul stomach. You may burn it out with caustic time and again, and all they will get is temporary relief. Correct the stomach and liver, and they will heal up themselves.

Good nutriton is the remedy. If you have any disease in any part of the body, it will remain there and decay more and more until you can get the stomach in the condition to digest food, and make new blood to take the place of the diseased matter. This is the only way to heal cavities in the lungs and ulcerated bronchial tubes. Correct the stomach and liver, and nature will do the healing. Many persons have an idea that certain medicines are great purifiers of the blood. When blood is once diseased it cannot be purified; it is diseased the same as the diseased matter in the system; but get the apparatus in order, the liver and stomach, and giveit plenty of nurshing food it w think will leave her before June. I should think it would be of great interest to some unprejudiced physician tovisit these cases, particularly Miss Scofield, or any of them who have been cured by my medicines. They are numerous in New York: but the above three all differ from each other; and if my medicines are doing what I represent they are, they should have the credit and the afflicted know where and how they be cured.
