SOLITUDE titeney telegrapics in maketter vertit

There is a charm in spored solitude. Bankyon A calm delight in depths of shady woods: Where human footsteps naver can introde, To mar the pleasures of a silent mood; Whether 'tis found in depths of woods embrace, Or seeks some lonelier spot in dvaert waste, Whether it climbs the rugged mountain side. Or to some island in the ocean glides, is the Whether it haunts the desert's trackless gloom, Or hovers o'er the still and peaceful tomb: However obscure. O. Bolitudet Liwop Thy charms, and would thy friendships fain purst Tired of the world and longing to be free, Forsaken refuge would I find with thee, Thus hear no more the wrath of kindled ire. Of burning rage nor incensed fond desire, Of pride, disdain, ambition's haughty brow, There allayes no more to sovereign power bow ; There all are free, and breathe the native air, That God, their maker, has given them to share, Enjoy with thee the stillness of retreat. Free from the cares that, on each moment hang, Of crime's remorse, of conscience bitter pangs, Where nature's charms grow never dull nor old, Nor misery clings the fond pursuit of gold ; No more embitter hours of quiet life, With thee to dwell, and in a peaceful mind

To leave the werld and milits holds behind, There sage reflection bent with hoary years, And conscious virtue void of threatening fears, The sacred stillness of night vigils keep. With brighteyed justice that can never sleep. Caim medifation there with ease reclines,
And haloyon peace will soothe the troubled mind;
Earth wrapped in garb of silent revery,
And nature dressed in beauteous modesty, Full health will glow upon the morning air, And truth its natural innocence will share. The power is lost of wily, flattering tongues, No sins delude though sung with syren song, And inspiration, nature's rarest child, Will seek the lone and solitary wild:

There is a rest, to toiling mortals, sweet, Where nature is hushed and quietly asleep, To spend the hours in lone and silent wood, And catch the charm of sacred solitude, There is a rest upon the quiet lawn. And cooling sweets that meet the peaceful morn; There pensively we treat the verdant vale The fragrant odor of the flower inhale. We bear the lark that's up to meet the morn, That aweetly sings his early morning song; Calm evening shades float on the passing breeze. The waking birds still carol 'mong the trees, Where nature sinks, the beast is in his lair, And ere we sink to rest upon the sad.

With thee, the fairest flowers still brighter bloc And sweetest odor- sweeter still perfume, Purer the murmuring water fountain flows, Lofter the breezes o'er the heather blow, Here liberal nature all her charms bestow, And manis free from every tide of wees, Here music's lay in milder echoes ring, And fond delights from milder passions spring. Man's natural home, beneath the azure skies. Forth beauties spring, and sweetest pleasures ris And ever there in loftier strains we sing, With grateful hearts still greater tribute bring. Safe in the hand of one eternal power, If sun or tempest rule the passing hour. Above we gaze with rapture, and adore The hand unseen of a creator's power. Adieu! oh, vain and transient world, adieu!

Thy fleeting joys no longer I pursue, With solitude we find a sweeter rest To still the tempest of the human breast Let those whom fate ordains still toil for gold. A gaudy trifle that too soon grows old; Let those for fame renounce their quiet ease, And seek ambition a paltry fate who please; For me a nobler work by far is given, Ere life be spent sigd friendship a bond be riven, Here in this lone and solitary shade, To know the purpose for which man was made. To still the waves of a tempestuous sea. And seek to solve life's hidden mystery; In humblest form to worship and adore With ransomed power the God of every hour, Shall gild the sun, my lay shall be begun; Nor shall it cease when his last setting beam In summer sun or angry winter's storm, In pleasing hope or when our hope is gone If cares deject the soul with anguish riven, A brighter ray to sweeter prospects given, While life shall last my lay to thee I'll raise, My latest breath shall only end my praise. Oh, sacred rest, that now with thee I find A balm to heal the weary troubled mind, No more to mourn or pine a life away, . . . When darkness hovers with the light of day; In secret shades alone with thee to dwall. And bid to social life a last farewell; With nature's charms to revel, and to roam Where sovereign will dictates shall be our home, Where calm delights still greater joys bestow, Suns radiant shine, and water sparkling flows, Supplied in great munificence the store, Enjoy the care of heaven, nor ask for more, For nature's works the ruling mind declare,

Then sinks to slumber neath the mossy sod, To waken in the image of thy God. FUCKAHOE, Aug. 1864. A Continent Covered with Ice. Prof. Agaseiz continues his scientific explorations. THE HAUNTED HOUSE.

It was a large three-story house with brick ends, a wood front and back. It about the house inside or out, that would ghosts would resort. It was the last place noises were heard in it. Sometimes it came excited. Some heard all sorts of stillness and darkness, the noise was the secrets lie concealed within those walls." Some were very sure that a murder had been committed there, and the dead one would seem to indicate, or whether it was dared to enter it. As I had occupied the house last, and as I had lost my infant hoy there, it was natural that I should hear of it And, though I believe no one actually accused me of murder, yet they shook their heads and arched their brows, and thought "the whole thing wonderfully strange." At first I paid no attention to it; but as the hints became louder and the whispers deeper, and the murmurs clearer, I saw it would injure the character of the house, and prevent Mr. Clark from renting it, the name of him who bled and died on calvary's reekeven if it did not injure me 1 must con- ing summit, that you might be redeemed." So sayhear any noises as I passed by in the and lead him to the city whose walls are of gasper evening, yet the testimony of so many and saphires, and whose streets are paved with gold staggered me. I determined, therefore, And where countless angels hover around the great to investigate it myself, and that very white throne, and where seraphs and and cherubims quietly. So I procured the key; and, strange to say, as I went towards the house and was seen to have the hardihood to enter it alone, the neighbors gathered around the front door in the street to watch the result. I said nothing but went in. A few moments satisfied me about the "little feet that pattered on the floor." There had been many such, for the rats had made the house their headquarters, gnawing the floor, tearing off the paper from the walls, scattering the plaster, and leaving their little foot-prints very abundantly.

But those groans. I could find nothing that cast any light on them. The house was silent as a tomb. The sunlight streamed in the windows, and I had but to think over the hours of joy and sorrow I had passed there. There I had had a happy home, had rejoiced over my first-born child, had there seen him breathe out his young spirit to God who gave it. From room to room I wandered, and all was silence, till I opened the door of the chamber in which my child died. Then instantly there was a sharp, deep groan.—What could it mean! The people about the door heard it, and what an awful feelof terror went through them! I was not frightened, but I was at a loss to account for it. It evidently had been called out by my opening the door. But the room was perfectly bare-not a thing in it.-Soon the groan was repeated. I now went to the chimney and tore away the fire-board and looked up, and there, just in the throat of the fire place, was-not a ghost, but a shingle, that had been blown into the chimney; and it had fallen down and been lodged in the throat, so that it could swing backwards and forwards, and when the wind was strong it would groan, sharp, shrill, or deep, according to the strengh of the wind. Thus it was that on the opening door, and letting the wind into the room, the shingle swung, nearly filled the throat, and the air rushed and groaned past it .-I took pains to call up the people, and I verily believe they wished they were at home rather than to go in. I put back the fire-board, and opened the door, made them hear the groans, took away the fireboard again, showed the shingle and how it rattled and groaned, then took it away, and put things back, and opened the door, and—there were no more groans. A little rat's bane scattered on the floor stopped "the pattering of little feet," and the house ceased to be haunted! And yet it was haunted! as really as any one

Laws of New Jersey, (BY AUTHORITY.)

An act for the relief of James N. Lawrence. Whereas, James M. Lawrence, of Bordentown, New Jersey, was convicted of petty larceny, in the court of oyer and terminer for the courty of Ocean, in May term of eighteen hundred and sixty-three, upon a charge of taking and carrying away rails to the value of seventeen dollars which were cut upon lands to which he claimed title; and whereas, the fine of ten dollars and costs imposed by said court have been paid by him; but, in consequence of said conviction, he is debarred from giving testimony in a case now pending in the court of chancery in his behalf; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the said James N. Lawrence shall, in all cases, in any of this state, be admitted as a competent witness, either in his own behalf or in behalf of others, the same as if no such conviction had been obtained.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.
Approved April 14, 1864.

An act to ascertain the rights of the State and of the Riparian owners in the lands lying under the waters of the Bay of New York and elsewhere in the state.

Vhereas it is represented to the legislature of the state that grants of rights to occupy land under the water of the bay of New York and Hudson river, and elsewhere within the state, have been made and are liable to be made without sufficient information of the rights of the state, and of the riparian owners in the same therefore with the view of obtaining the proper information to enable the legislature to protect the rights of the state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That a poard of commissioners be appointed to be nominated by the governor and confirmed by the Senate, to consist of six citizens of this state who shall have power, and whose duty it should ne to cause the necessary surveys and examinations to be made by competent surveyors, of the lands lying under the water of the bay of New York and of the Hudson river, and of the lands adjacent thereto, the Kill Von Kull, New-ork Bay, Arthur's Kill, and Raritan Bay, and the lands lying under the water of the Delaware river opposite to the county of Philadelphia, the right to reclaim which has not been granted by the state, and to obtain all needful information from other sources, in order to ascertain the present rights of the state in the same, and the value of said rights; and to fix and establish an exterior line in the said bays and rivers, beyond which no pier, wharf, bulkhead, erection or permanent obstruction of any kind shall be permitted to be made, to report to the next legislature, on or before the first day of February next, the result of the information thus obtained and the value of the said rights, together with the evidence upon which the same is founded: and second, that they shall recommend to the legislature such plans and provisions, for the improvement, use, renting or leasing of the said lands under water, as they shall deem necessary for and most conducive to the interest of the state, and to have prepared and submit with their report, maps of said land, exhibiting the exterior line, fixed and established by them in said bays and rivers, and the lines of the existing piers, wharves, and bulkheads, and also showing any grants of lands under the waters of said bays and rivshall deem necessary for a full exposition and understanding on the subject. 2. And be it enacted, That until such report is made, no further grant, lease or sale of any of said lands shall be made, and the said commissioners may apply to the chancellor for an order to restrain and stay all proceedings, erections and obstructions, until the further direction of the legislature; and if any permanent erection in or obstruction of the said waters within the said exterior line to be fixed or established by them, be commenced or continued after such order, the said chancellor may cause the said order to be enforced, and disobedience thereof to be punished by the court of chancery, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as in cases of injunction issued out of said court; and any permanent erection or obstruction made contrary to any such order, may be removed and abated by the order of the chancelor; provided however, that the said commissioners or the chancellor shall not interfere with any rights already granted or which have been or may be granted at the present session of the legislature.

2. And be it enacted. That the said commissioners shall take and file in the office of the secretary of state an oath well, truly and faithsecretary or state an oath wen, truly and faithfully to perform the duties of their appointment before entering upon said duties; and they shall not be, or become interested directly or indirectly, in any water rights, or rights to occupy lands under water in the said bays or rivers, nor in any real estate that can in any way be benefited or affected by the establishment of such exterior lines, or by any measures that they may recommend, and upon proof being made to the governor of any one of said commissioners being so interested, and upon a hearing of a party so charged, he may be removed from office by the governor.

4. And be it enacted, That any vacancies in the board of commissioners, caused by removal, resignation, refusal to serve or otherwise, shall be filed by appointment by the governor, of a citizen of this state not interested as afore-

REMOVAL.

The Pronzes Office has been removed to Albertson's New Building, opposite its former location. Entrance on Pearl Street.

Friend Newlin, of the Millville Republican, has a very nice way of getting out of a tight place when cornered. We reminded him. in a very pleasant way as we thought, of making use of our editorials without proper credit. The following is his reply.

"The heat, or something else, has been too hard on our Bridgeton cotemporary, and has soured his temper. We admit that it must be for "want of something more interesting" that would lead us to look for anything from that source. We have never copied an editorial from the Pioneer, and the article alluded to was a local item, which we directed not to be credited, as a gentle bint to the Pioneer that items copied from us had not been credited Call things by their right names, neighbor, and don't say "editorial" when you mean "local item." We should be at a loss to properly credit the Pioneer's editorials."

In the first place, there was nothing in our remarks which indicated a sour temper. The "heat or something else" has had no such ef fect upon us, and the charge is without any improvement of the mass of society reasonable grounds. He admits "that it must promotes the good of the whole.be for want of something more interesting that They know that this improvement is would lead him to look for anything from that incompatible with the long continusource." This is cool indeed, after copying ance of slavery. They know that without giving credit. We doubt whether the slavery is inimical to this improveweather ever has any effect upon such a har ment. dened-gentleman. The assertion that he never written by us, and appearing on the second page, leaded, is not an editorial, then we would like to know what is, and we should like friend Newlin to name a single item ever copied from the Republican without giving credit. We do not profess to write every line that appears in the editorial columns of the Pioneer, and a certain editor would come nearer telling the truth if he had never professed to write every article that appeared in his paper.

COAL-THE PROSPECT.

The price of coal in Bridgeton is now fifteen dollars per ton, and if prices continue to advance the deale s here will be compelled to advance still higher, as they are not making any larger profits than when coal was about six dollars per ton. The following sensible remarks are from the Salem Standard of this week:

"The price of coal has reached an exorbitant figure, with a tendency still upwards. Families with limited incomes will be compelled to practice rigid economy if a severe winter should follow the hot summer now drawing to a close. The reasons given for this high price are: the depreciation of the currency; the August, 1838. Thirdly, that in the ate on rebel prisoners by practising like make a safe and profitable investment of high price paid the miners, some $3000 to meantime, the slaves engaged in ag- means, I confess, General, I have very per day; the desire of railroad and canal com panies to make large dividends, increasing the in return for which they were to be the dealers. How far these measures for relief are desirable or practicable, each one must judge for himself. In the meantime, the legis lature of Pennsylvania is beloing to advance the price by passing a law by which the rail. roads and canals are allowed, whenever gold is above thirty per cent., to increase the rate of freight in proportion to the price of gold .-After the passage of such a precious law as this for the benefit of stock gamblers and gold speculators, we think Pennsylvanians, and especially the press of that State, should keep mum about Jersey monopolies and transit duties .-The most obnoxious acts of the monopoly don't come within gunshot of such swindling as this. Why don't these wiseacres pass a law that the farmers shall increase the prices of their produce according to the speculating prices of any loss which they might sustain gold?"

The day was splendyl for the occasion. The procession reached the grove before the heat became very oppressive The time was spent in plays and amusements of various kinds. The dinner was one of the grand features; everything good im aginable was partaken of with a hearty relish. Ice cream, watermellons, peaches, as other refreshments in abundance were supplied by the committee. Interesting and appropriate addresses were delivered by Rev's. J Tucker, R Thorn, W. B. Recently, Governor Brough of Ohio, a truly loyal Democrat, received a letter to use his influence to secure the parole or exchange of two Rebel prisoners now confined at Johnson's Island. These prisoners were nephews of the gentleman sponse will no doubt receive the thanks of more than one of our brave men who ury was the emancipation of the have left the horrors of Libby prison .-It is as follows:

"I cannot interfere with them if I would, and I cannot give an order to see or communicate with them, without the permission of Colonel Hoffman, Commissary General of prisoners, Washington City. I am glad it is so. Some four weeks ago I saw at Baltimore the arrival of a vessel loaded with our prisoners from barbarism, had been reduced by starvation to mere skeletons, for no other purpose than to incapacitate them for further service in the Union armies. Over one third were too far gone to be resuscitated, 1840; and all others on the first of their arrival! CLOSE COLD TO NOTICE.

Horrid Child Murder in Paterson. Great excitement has been caused in Paterson by the horrid murder of a small child by two other children, under the following circumstances: A little daughter of a Mr. Hurlbut, aged about two years, who was playing on the walk in front of his house, suddenly disappeared on Monday afternoon. After a fruitless search by the anxious mother, the services of a bell man were procured, but two day's search still failed to find the missing child. On Wednesday night, however, word was received that the lost child had been found in a well, and an investigation revealed the terrible fact that it had been lured away by two little beggar-girls, named Long, aged respectively nine and twelve years, stripped of its pretty dress, and then thrown into the well. The ju venile murderers confess the crime, and say that they brought the child to the house of their parents with no other covering than a shawl, and that the oldest girl, Fmma Jane, threw it into the well. After committing the deed, they ran into the house, but shortly afterward returned to the well, and looked into it. At that time the child was still alive and its struggles were plainly perceptible. The child cried bitterly when thrown in. The

No deductions for commissions must be made from the de posits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN. It is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U.S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating me dium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes and bends payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or perma nent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts. Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent, per annum, for the cur rent rate for 5-20 bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U.S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the pre sent market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation. But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the ave rage, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great in ducements to lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payments while the whole propert of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeals will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the peo ple. Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits. The party depositing must endorse upon the original certificate the denomination of notes re quired, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

Aug. 13. French Breakfast and Dinner COFFEE

Owing to the very high prices of Coffee, and the great difficulty in procuring a good, uniform, and reliable article our custome s have often expressed a wish that they could be supplied from first hands. It was the intention of THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY to do a strictly Tea busines, but as we have had some customers living at a distance that have relied upon us to supply them exclusively with Tea and Coffee, it being convenient for them to come to New York. THE GREAT TEA AND COFFEE EMPORIUM of this country—and as our Tea Taster was possessed of information and as our Tea Taster was possessed of information relating to a Coffee that could be furnished at a moderate price, and give universal satisfaction, and at the same time afford the retailer a handsome profit—we have been compeled to supply those parties.—THIS COFFEE H (S BECOME SO POPULAR with our customers and their sales have increased to such an extent that we have been compelled to make large additions to our machinery, which will enable us to supply a few more customers with it. We will therefore send it to those who may order.

It is Fast Supergeding all other Coffees. It is Fast Superseding all other Coffees.

This Coffee has been used for more than a century in Paris, and since its introduction into this country it has been in use by some of the leading French Restaurants here. The Parisians are said to be the best judges of coffee; and the great favor in which it is held by them is the best recommendation that can be produced for its fine flavor and healthy effects upon the human system. duced for its fine flavor and healthy effects upon the human system.

We put up but one grade of this Coffee, and that is of a quality that our customers have found from experience will give perfect satisfaction and meet all the demands of their trade. It is the lowest price that we can recommend.

We do all our business on the most extensive scale: buy by the cargo and sell at only two cents per pound profit profit

We put up this Coffee in Barrels only, of 125 Pounds each. This method of putting it up saves from 2 to 5 cents per pound to the consumer, and by its being in a large quantity it retains its fine flavor much longer in this form than in any other. We send with each barrel Show-Car is. Circulars and Posters, to as ist the dealer to introduce it to his customers. We hope our customers will take pains to have them well poster up and distributed, as it will be to their advantage to 40.50. do Ao.

This Coffee we warrant to give perfect satisfaction and if it does not please, the purchaser has the privilege of returning the whole or any part of it within 6 days, and having his money refinded together with all the expenses of transportation both ways.

We issue a Price Circular of our Teas and Coffees, which we are glac to send free to all who may wish it, Consumers of Coffee should enquire for the French BREAK-FAST AND DINNER COFFEE and be sure that it was purchased of the

HAWLEY'S SOLIDIFIED DENTAL CREAM, For Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the Teeth

For Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the Teeth
This article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent dental surgons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities
for Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the teeth;
it cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerased and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often very offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, conetnting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally. It is an excellent proparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as tts properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.

An Interesting History DR. SCHENCK'S OWN CASE,

WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION, And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills act on the System, in Curing that Disease, and the GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDING IT

The above is a correct likeness of Dr. Schenek taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption, by a course of his "Schenek's Pulmonie Syrup." The likeness, although it is does not represent him anything like as had as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the hale and vigorous looks of the portrait below, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits is so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons in and around Philadelphia, who will recognize hoth portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 107 pounds; at the present time his weight is 220 pounds.

Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmo city, ordered me to Moorestown, N.J., a distance of nine mins, which took me two days to get there.—
On my arrival I was put to bed, and I there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of consumption. Dr. Thornton, who attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my aftears. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system.

They soon ripered the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow CAPE MAY and MILLVILLE would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain, night sweats—all be man this with differently I could keep from eating too much. I soon gamed my strength, and I have been grawing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed unant strapted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the sesweed Tonic and Mandrake Prils, as I smoot a bilious temperament.
