Manufacturing Advantages of South We have often wondered at the slow progress of manufacturing interests in South Jersey, in view of the many facilities and natural advantages which we possess. No part of the country can present such excellent water power, or exceed us in the number of never-failing streams. The head waters of Egg Harbor, Mullicas, Rancocas, Cohansey and Maurice rivers, offer innumerable sites for mill and manufacturing purposes; yet only grist and saw mills exist on either side of these streams, with few exceptions, such as Millville. We might point to May's Landing, as a spot designed by nature as a great manufacturing town, but which has been almost entirely neglected by capitalists. Fork Bridge, near Malaga, also offers an excellent opportunity for men of enterprise | your readers. to invest on a never failing stream; and close proximity to the West Jersey Railof it. We might mention many smaller streams, all of which afford ample manufacturing facilities. In fact, in one or all of the six counties of this District, can be found inducements for profitable investments, which would not be neglected in other States. No reasoning of our own can reconcile us to this strange oversight when we look at the geopraphical position of New Jersey, and particularly this per-tion of the State. Flanked by sea and bay, the peninsula is watered by navigable rivers and creeks, and with numerous railroads connected with Philadelphia and New York, we are amazed at the apathy of our own people, as well as the indifference manifested by men of means in other States. The want of knowledge in regard to the facts we have stated, may be some excuses for others, but not for our people -many of whom go from home, and are to be found in other localities, where they commence a doubtful enterprise abroad, that would be rendered certain at home, with less of means and labor. The want of a market cannot deter them, for we have of unqualified submission by the rebels, immediate access to two of the best in the country by railroad and other communications. Land is cheap, the soil easily cultivated, the material for building, and that of the best description, grows upon, or adjacent to all the places we have named. Labor, too, is just as cheap, and help as plenty as elsewhere. Indeed we think it strange, in view of our agricultural success in many localities, that so much land susceptible of such profitable cultivation, should remain idle, when it can be obtained at a mere nominal cost. Egg Harbor City and Hammondton, on the Camden and Atlantic road, Vineland and other villages, now springing up like magic on the West Jersey and Cape Island Rail-roads—all afford evidence that, with a very moderate degree of enterprise, and very limited capital, our soil will abundantly reward the husbandman. In addition to all these, from the sea, the bay and rivers, we can draw luxuries that are denied to those who settle in the far West.

while we are scarcely behind any in the abundance and excellent quality of our game. Not the least inducements offered to the capitalist, however, is found in the fact, that our state is comparatively free from debt, our taxes are low, and the example of a frugal, industrious, moral and sober people, enhance all these advantages .- Camden Journal. A BRAVE ENGINEER.—A gentleman just returned from a trip to the West, informs us that while on a train some thirty miles from Chicago, the engineer, on approaching a bridge discovered a child struggling in the water. With most heroic courage he instantly gave the signal for stopping the train, then running at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, and jumped from the locomotive into the water. When the train had stopped, the brave fellow had rescued the child and was climbing up the bank of the river!

Judging from the translated extracts we have seen, the work is a very fair one. The authors do not seem to have looked upon the outside barbarians with the eyes of prejudice, nor to have listened to them with the ears of uncharitableness. Many less honest and truthful books have been written by English scribblers about America and its people Of all the women they saw, the Japs preferred the Dutch; next to them the French: and it has doubtless created an agreeable flutter in the breast of the Empress Eugenie to learn that they considered her a remarkably good looking person considering her color. PICKET TALKS AND INCIDENTS. A correspondent of the Tribune, with General Grant's army, furnishes the following interesting account of picket life and amusements:

The Special Income Tax.

Many persons seem to misapprehend

the purport and provisions of the special income tax passed during the last session of Congress for the year 1863. The first law passed for that year levied a tax of 3 over the last amount. This tax has in income was derived from interests and dividends on loans, stocks, &c., the amount was collected by the incorporated companies issuing them, who deducted the tax for the Government from the interest and dividends due. Where the income was derived from the profits of business, wages, salaries, rents, &c., the individual own er paid it directly himself to the collector. The special income tax law requires five per cent. to be added to the three per cent. already paid, and to the whole income, excepting the six hundred dollars allowance, rent actually paid, State and municipal taxes also allowed to be deducted .-As the incorporated companies cannot now deduct the additional tax from interest and dividends already paid to their owners, each individual is required to add to the amount thus due to government to his income return, so that it shall embrace all his income, whether derivable from stocks, loans, rents, profits of business, wages, salary, or from any source whatever. The meaning of the law is that he shall pay for 1863 at the rate of 8 per cent. on all income of over $600. An individual who had a clear income of $1, property in incorporated companies, paid

LOW-HEADED FRUIT TREES. There are some good hints in the following from the Maine Farmer. We do not go the whole length of it, but we have for July, in the "Sketches and Recollecno doubt, and never had any, that low-"There is more than usual sociability branched, carefully pruned fruit trees are by E. C. Stowe, of Hartford. Here is the most productive, the healthiest and longest lived.

In trimming fruit trees, we should always be careful to secure the trunk from tact with an opponent. An old wood-the rays of the summer sun. Solar heat, by being long permitted to come in con-tact with the bark, is said to scald the rival sect, was violently prejudiced against circulating fluids, and thus cause many of the Doctor, especially on account of his this climate. feet from the ground, are rarely attacked by "fire-blight," "froon-sap blight," black spots, or other diseases of the bark or limbs. There is also another advantage attending this practice. The soil is kept lighter, looser and more free from weeds, and there is no necessity of mulching. The high winds pass, also, almost harmless over the tree, and have no power to twist, rack and break the branches, or to detach the fruit, as they do where the branches aspire and are exposed. A writer on this subject says: "The trees will be much longer-lived, more prolific, beautiful and profitable. They are more easily rid of destructive insects, the fruit is much less damaged by falling, and the facilities for gathering it are much greater; there is less danger in climbing and less danger of breaking limbs. The trees require less | man without cravat and in his shirt sleeves pruning, scraping and washing-if the two latter are thought necessary, and the roots are protected from the scourge of the plow, which is too often allowed to fell to work with a right good will, and tear and umtilate them." The proper shape for fruit trees is that was no mean hand at the craft.' of an umbrella reserved. When this shape is communicated by pruning, the foliage house, W. sai is more freely exposed to the action of the solar rays, and to the air, which ought always to have free circulation among the foliage and fruit. By communicating a conical form to any tree, although it may be rather more graceful and elegant in its effect upon the landscape, we certainly injure it in many ways, if looked upon as an object of profit. The fruit of apple trees which grows on the interior limbs, where the surrounding foliage and branches prevent the sun's rays from penetrating, and where the direct influences of heat are never felt, is, to a certain extent, insipid; it does not mature thoroughly, and will not keep so long or so perfeetly as that which grows on the outside branches, exposed to the sun and wind. Was critically adjusted, and so he gave a It also varies so much in shape—and especially in color-that we have known two plates of apples, selected from the same Baldwin tree, one of which was pro-nounced by a skillful fruit-grower to be the Baldwin, and the other plate another variety!

The Commissioners of Appraisement for the State of Virginia, after consultaon a new schedule of prices, among which we observe the following:

Wheat, $30 per bushel; flour, $150a 168 per bbl; corn, $24 per bushel; corn the more intelligent of the soldiers on $5 per lb.; lard $5 per lb; peas and picket.

beans, $30 per bushel; Irish potatoes, While these pacific relations exist be- $10 per bushel; beef cattle, $10a50 per

> The Richmond Enquirer, commenting on this action of the Commissioners, says, "No government under the sun can carry on a war and pay such prices." For the government to agree to pay such rates, it adds, "is simply to confess its currency valueless. Corn and wheat are now like gold and silver in times of peace-the basis of all values. Last year wheat was $5 a bushel. Fix it at $30, and it is in fact saying that, notwithstanding the legislation of Congress and the reduction, of the amount out, the currency of the country is worth only one-fourth of what it was last year. THE ANT TRAP. As the reason is now at hand for these pests, the ants, housewifes and others, who are troubled with them, may probably use the following trap to advantage:-Procure a large sponge, wash it well, and press it dry, which will leave the cells quite open; then sprinkle over it some fine white sugar, and place it near where the auts are troublesome. They will soon collect upon the sponge and take up their abode in the cells. It is only necessary to dip the sponge in scalding water, which will wash them out dead by the tens of thousands. Put on more sugar and set the trap for a new haul. This process will soon clear the church, saying that he forgot to feed the house of every ant.

THE PICKLE BUSINESS IN MASSACHUS-ETTS.-Lincoln is one of the most famous towns in the state for raising pickles.-Many of the farmers have from one to five. and even ten acres devoted to this produce. This season is very favorable to the business. One man, from two and a half acres of vines, has gathered at two pickings 67,000 pickles. They pick about three times a week, in warm, fair weather. One man gathered from his five acres at one picking 80,000. This was regarded property in incorporated companies, paid as an extraordinary yield. Another has to the collector the amount due on $700 and which were $200 and the collector the amount due on $700 and the collector the collecto

REV. LYMAN BEECHER.

An agreeable little sequel to the autobiography of Rev. Lyman Beecher, is contained in the "Congregational Quarterly" tions of the Old Clergyman," contributed one of the anecdotes:

Beecher's simplicity, buoyancy, and imperturbable good humor, disarmed opposition when he came in personal conpreach. This man had a lot of wood to saw opposite the Doctor's house. The Doctor depended upon constant manual labor, to keep up his own health; and in Boston, where he could not enjoy the luxury of a garden to dig in, he was often puzzled to find means to keep himself in good working order. The consequence was that he sawed all the wood for his own large family, and often finding that too little, would beg the privilege of sawing at the wood-pile of his neighbor. He had fastidious care of his wood saw, having it always at hand in his study, half concealed among the minutes of councils, magazine articles and sermons, and the setting of his saw was often duly accomplished while he settled nice points of thelogy with his boys, or took counsel with his brother ministers. Looking out of his study window one day, when his own pile was reduced to a discouraging state of order, every stick sawed and split, he saw, with envy, the pile of old W-in the street. Forthwith he seized his saw, and soon he beheld a issuing from Dr. Beecher's house, who came briskly up and asked him if he wantsoon proved to his brother sawyer that he

"Yes." "What sort of an old man is he?" "Oh, pretty much like the rest of us. Good man enough to work for." "Tough old chap, ain't he?"

"Guess so, to them who try to chaw him up." So the conversation went on, till the wood went so fast with the new comer, that he exclaimed: "First-rate saw that of yourn." This touched the Doctor in a tender point. He had set the saw as carefully

Call at the house to-morrow, and I'll tell you." The next day the old man came up, and met the Doctor at the door, fresh from toral duty. W. gave a start of surprise. "Oh," said the doctor, "you're the man who wanted to buy my saw. Well, you shall have it for nothing, only let me have some of your wood to saw, when you work on my street." W. said that he then felt as if he want-"To speak confidentially, and with the understanding that things go no further, the case is this. If we only knew which way the war was going! If we were certain the glorious and almighty bird of freedom, that waves its alabaster wings in Washington, and smiles on all that is free and enlightened, would triumph over those savage, disloyal, ferocious rebels; those stealers and floggers of men and women; those ruffians, assassins and what not, we should know what to do. But if that resolute and gallant band of Confederate gentlemen, who have withdrawn from vulgar and tyrannical Yankees, and, aided by their colored vassals, have maintained so noble a resistance against the loafers, jobbers. miscreants, seum and spawn of the North—if these Southern patriots should establish their independence—why— Punch would do homage to them, of course.

FORGOT TO FEED THE PIG. - An amusing scene occurred recently in a church, which caused much smiling throughout the congregation. While the minister was in the midst of his sermon, a little boy about ten years of age, quietly left his seat, took his hat, walked up to the pulpit and asked permission of the minister to leave the pig. The request was granted, and the boy left, but returned in a few minutes, no doubt greatly relieved. It em-barrassed the minister for some time a crwards.

ACCOMMODATING.—A horticulturalist advertised that he would supply all kinds of tree and plants, especially 'pie plants of all kinds.' A gentleman sent him an order for "one package of custard pie seed and a dozen of mince pie plants." The gardener promptly filled the order by sending him four goose eggs and a small dog.

OUR FINANCES.

The deep and almost unfathomable sub ject of our national finances, from its great importance, should claim the earnest attention of every wel!-wisher of his country. The exigencies of the times this is the only exhibition of the kind to be have compelled the Government to adopt | held in South Jersey this year, and if the wea new measures and seek for means beyond those obtained from its usual source of revenue. The imperative demands of the army and navy could not be postponed. When the annual expenditure of the government was as in 1860-1, about $79,000,000, it required no great financial skill to devise the method of raising the sum; but to organize a system whereby an annual expenditure of 800,000,000 could be supplied, demanded more skill than Necker displayed, and only found its complete master in the late distin- hew. The buck took a first premium in Engguished Secretary of the Treasury, Salmon P. Chase. No man was ever placed in such a position before. In December of 1862, the Secretary was forced to ask Congress to provide beyond resources this county. then available under existing laws, for an additional amount of $904,300,700.-Then it was, under the pressure of necessity, that our present wonderful financial system was organized. To avoid the rocks of Scylla on the one side, and the whirl-pool of Charybdis on the cther, required a skillful pilot. To issue government paper and yet to keep it within reasonable limits by constant funding, and to support the whole by a proper system of taxation, was the chart boldly marked out by the Secretary Every interest was more or less affected by the measures adopted, State banks not among the least.

Here was a man compelled by the necessities by which he was surrounded, to uproot and destroy the institutions of a half century; remodel, we may almost say create, a financial system for the country. His giant strides were resisted by formidable opposition, but the path of M. Myers. wisdom and duty seemed clear, and fully | Wm Jones, col., insisted upon their adoption. A failure on his part was not like a reverse on the battle field which might be recovered the following day; but it would be the chilling blast of winter to the plant, it would paralyze armies and fleets, and might cov er with disaster the cause for which they were fighting.

The public debt now is about $1,900,-000,000. This indeed, is a formidable sum, but when compared with our resources; present and perspective, it is insignificant. The public debt of "merry England" is over $4,000,000,000, and yet | Winchester are on all tongues, and gladthe United States is thirty-two times as large as England, with greater mineral resources than all Europe, a greater in. land tonage, more capacious harbors and more water power than all Europe. We have more military railway and telegraph than all the rest of the world, and gold and silver mines yielding annually $100,-

The fertility of our immense landed domain, combining the productions of the tropics and temperate zones, is only beginning to be developed But "westward the star of empire takes its way," and in its train we count the evidences of increased prosperity, wealth and power -From 1850 to 1860, fifty milions of acres of land were brought into cultivation. over 22,000 miles of railroad were built, and our population increased 8,000,000. Let all take courage then knowing that all the assets are amply sufficient to carry on a war however long to restore the integrity

There is another point of peculiar en- | young man, about twenty one years of age .couragement to all loyal hearts, and that This calamity will be deeply felt by his relais, whereas our loans have never been equaled in amount, yet they have always been sold at par.

The largest loan ever made in England was made in depreciated Bank of Lugland paper when guineas were selling at 28 shillings, and the government was compelled to dispose of the loan at 50 per cent. discount in that depreciated currency. During our own troubles in 1814, the treasury became empty, indeed it was worse than empty, its credit was impaired. At the beginning of the war of 1812, John Jacob Astor, Stephen Girard, James Parrish, and others, had taken the loan of sixteen millions of dellars, authorized by Congress, at par; but in May, 1814, $9,000,000 was borrowed, at rates, varying from 85 to 88 cents on the dollar .-In August, of 1814, when money was imperatively demanded, and the government of Sherman and his gallant army. needs were sorest, and the disasters of Jone had spread a universal gloom, a loan of $6,000,000 was advertised for, but only Society, and J C. Hopewell, President of the 83.000,000 could be obtained, and that | Hunterdon Co. Agricultural Society, for com at a loss of from $20 to $25 on every $100. But now in sunshine and gloom the government loans stand firm. The large investments have been the free-will offering of a devoted people, whose love of their country is like the stars, eternal, and whose trust is in God.

When the history of this rebellion comes to be written, as it will be fifty years hence, the pen of the histor au will trace system.

GRANT: the harmowy which prevails are gratifying evyou could have given of your cordial support n the coming contest. In accepting the position of standard bearer of the Democratic party of this District, I know full well I accept a position of great responsibility. In conducting this campaign, I shall resort to no unfair or dishonorable means to secure success, but I shall bring into the field and press into the service all the appliances of honorable political warfare. In the event of my election, shall represent the issues of this District faithfully and fearlessly; neither threats of con-demnation or punishment, or promises of favor or reward, shall turn me aside from the path of duty. And, gentlemen, so far as I have the bility, I shall maintain the interests of New Jersey—shall use every possible means at my command to prevent a violation of the consti utional rights and liberty of her citizens -Upon all national questions, I shall vote for uch measures as may seem best calculated to promote the general welfare, and restore th union of the States. I spurn those detestable doctrines which lead to disunion, and which, n their practical results, are subversive of lib erty and oppressive to the people. This is no ime for corrupt political scheming. We have had enough of that. The terrible condition of the country demands something nobler, some thing better. The people have waited long and nationally for a change. The reckless waste o life and treasure for the past three years ha alarmed men of all parties, and the desire for a change is almost universal. Our brave soldiers tell us that this war has been most shame fully conducted; that thousands of valuable lives have been sacrificed, and millions of treasure wasted, by the removal of able and skillful Generals at a time when a change of comman ders was sure to result disastrously, and that these changes were made for political purposes These brave men desire a change. Those who mourn the noble dead thus sacrificed, desire ach nge. Every true patriot, as he looks back upon our happy and prospereus past, at the present, red with ghastly strife, and blightened rith ruin and death, and into the dark and uncertain future, earnestly desires and fer vently prays for a change. But let us patiently wait a little longer; change will surely come. Our chosen chief the great and good McClellan, will soon be Presi tent, and, directed by Him whose aid he has invoked, establish peace, restore the Union, and give to each State a full guarantee of all its constitutional rights. Let us not be deceived by those who would stir up strife and create divisions. There is but one issue before the people and this is clear and distinct. The Democratic party is in favor of a speedy eace, the condition of which is the restoration of the Union. This is clearly expressed in the Chicago Platform. Gen. McClellan, in his letter of acceptance, endorses this doctrine in the most emphatic language. Mr. Lincoln, in in his letter "to all whom it may concern, makes the abandonment of slavery the doctrine of peace. This is the issue before the people and there can and will be no other. If we tru umph, there will be peace; if we are defeated this war will still continue. Again thanking you for the honor done me renew my pledge to use all honorable means On motion the next convention was ordered to be held at Woodbury. After the convention had closed their busi ness, the Court House not being large enough to contain the people assembled, they adjourned to the yard, when M. R. Hamilton and C. P.

Sergeant F. S. Clarke, of the 91st Illinois Infantry, furnishes additional information conserning affairs on the Rio Grande. On the morning of the 6th, the French marchd out of Bagdad with a force estimated at 5000 and commenced the ascent of the Rio Grande. for the purpose of attacking Matamoras. The narch was uninterrupted until it reached a point opposite the White Ranche, where they net Cortinas with the Mexican force, prepared contest their approach.

A terrific artillery duel ensued, when the French were compelled to fall back in confusion, closely followed for three miles, when, coming to a chapperell, they made a stand. Cortinas opened on the Imperial force with hot and shell, and while engaged at this point, the rebel commander at Brownsville, Colone Ford, came down on the Texas side of the Ric Grande with a large drove of cattle for the French, and on seeing the Confederacy's friends engaged with Cortinas, he promptly espoused their cause, and opened on the Mexican rear. Seeing this, the Imporial army made an attempt to turn the tide of battle, and charged the Mexicans with the bayonet, with the de termination to conquer or die; but they were driven back in disorder under cover of chap-

Cortinas then brought two pieces of artillery to bear on Ford, forcing him to retire
About this time the 91st Illinois, at Brazos Santiago, hearing the firing on the Rio Grande were endered to march to the scene, and arriv ed there in time to witness the repulse of th rebels. The gallant "sucker" boys then pitchpike at the crossing of Opequan Creek and ed into Ford and drove him five miles, capturing his camp equipage and about thirty of arms. In the meantime Cortinas succeeded in put ting the Imperialists to flight, and drove then to Bayo del Rio, where he shelled them. As vy ordnance on shipboard, he withdrew his forces to White Ranche and crossed 500 men to Texas, where they lay on their arms during the night of the 6th, by the side of the Ameri can troops. No sooner had Cortinus crosse the Rio Grande than he lowered the flug of his country, white, red, and green, and holated the Stars and Stripes, which was greeted with enthusiastic cheers by the Mexican soldiers, as well as the Americans. On the 9th, Cortinus followed Ford to the old battle-field of Resuca de la Palma, where he recruited his troops for the night, while Ford fell back to Brownsville.

Cortinas, in the meantime, had despatched courier to Matamoras to order the force there to prepare to move immediately; an early on the morning of the 8th five hundred Mexicans moved up the Rio Grande, crossed the river, and came down on the Texas side attacking Brownsville simultaneously with

The struggle for Brownsville was brief, and resulted in the difeat of the Rebels, who were driven from the town, and Cortinas took pos ession. The Rebels retreated so hastily that they left their "rage" floating on the Court House and other public buildings, but they were soon torn down, and the Stars and Stripes hoisted amid the shouts of the sitizens and M:xican soldiers, who were almost as proud of he "starry banner" as our brave boys. CAIRD, September 18 -The War Eagle has despatch from New Orleans of the 10th, stating that a number of vessels which sailed from that port for Matamoras with a cargo intended for Cortinas or the general market, were seized by the French at the mouth of the Rio Grande.

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINES.

Jur LETTER A FAMILY SEWING MACHINE is fast gaining a world-wide reputation. It is beyond doubt that best, chearest, and mos beautiful of all Family Sewing Machines yet offered to the public.—No other Family Sewing Machine has so many useful appliances for Hemming, Binding, Folling, Tucking, Gathering, Guaging, Braiding, Embroidering, Cording &c. No other Family Sewing Machine has so much capacity for a great variety of work. It will sew all kinds of cloth, and with all kinds of thread. Great and recent improvements make our Family Sewing Machine most reliable, and most durable, and most certain in action at all rates of speed. It makes the in erlocked stitch, which is the best stitch known.—Any one, even of the most ordinary capacity, can see, at a glance, how to use the letter A Family Sewing Machine. Our Family Sewing Machines are finished in chaste and exquisite style.

The Folding Case of the Family Machine is a piece of cunning workmanship of the most useful kind. It protects the machine when not in use, and when about to be operated may be opened as a specious and substantial table to sustain the work. While some of the Cases, made out of the choicest woods, are finished in the simplest and chastest manner possible, others are adorned and embellished in the most costly and superb manner.

HAWLEY'S
SOLIDIFIED For Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the Teeth
This article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent dental surgons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities for Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the teeth;
it cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulceraced and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often very offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

PREPARED ONLY BY A. HAWLEY & CO., N. W. Corner 10th & Lombard streets, Philadelphia

And sold by all Druggists.
PRICE 38 CENTS. TESTIMONIALS.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, conetnting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

Philadelphia, April 16th, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally. It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as tts properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.

AT LOWEST MARKET PRICES. ALLEN & NEEDLES,

By our National Poet, Dr. George Allen Spangler. THE SPIRIT MAKES THE MAN. A youth, devoid of spirit bold.
None of life's beauties to unfold,
Is like a being chained to earth—
To friends or self of little worth.
Not only to himself a blank,
Left with the idle for to rank,
The boy with downcast look and hue.
The boy with downcast look and hue.

'Tis mostly caused in boyhood's hour, Which, in the bud, makes spirit cower, Attempts to sway by domineering— A vain attempt at children's rearing. Go, if you would advance your sons, Go rig them out at HENDERSON'S, Their downcast spirits he'll uplift, In Market street, first door from Fifth.

An Interesting History

DR. SCHENCK'S OWN CASE, WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION, And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills act on the System, in Curing that Disease, and the

The above is a correct likeness of Dr. Schenck taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption, by a course of his "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup." The likeness, although it is does not represent him anything like as bad as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the hale and vigorous looks of the portrait below, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons in and around Philadelphia, who will recognize both portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 10° pounds; at the present time his weight is 220

New York. Wednesday. March 30, 1964. TO THE PUBLIC. Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulm

Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption, and given up to die. I resuded in Philadelphia, and Dr. Josedh Parrish, then of this city, ordered me to Moorestown, N. J., a discance of nine miles, which took me two days to get there.—On my arrival I was put to bed, and I there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of consumption. Dr. Thornton, who attended my tather in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system.

They sool ripered the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow They sook ripered the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, tever, pain, night sweats—all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great hat it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and I have been growing in ficsh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed unintertupted good heatth, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the Eesweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, as I am of a bilious temperament. My weight is two hundred and twenty pounds. On my recovery people would send for me far and

On my recovery people would send for me far an near, to see if their cases were like mine. For thi purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these medicines, and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new large is impossible by The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these medicines, and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new lungs is impossible; but cavities in the lungs and chronic ulcerations of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Such cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Scaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills. I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower lobe very much hepatized and complete adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tolerably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop chill, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions and eventually the patient dies. After I make a careful examination of the patient with the Respirometer, and find lungs enough left to cure, I direct the patient how to use the three remedies. Remove the cause and they will all stop of their swn accord. No one can be cured of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia, catarrh, canker, ulcerated throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy. In New England this canker, chronic catarrh, ulcerated throat, elongation of uvula, is more prevalent than in any other section of the country. This is frequently caused by a foul stomach. You may burn it out with caustic time and again, and all they will get is temporary relief. Correct the stomach and liver, and they will heal up themselves.

Good nutriton is the romedy. If you have any discased in any part of the body, it will remain there and decay more and more until you can get the stomach in the condition to digest food, and make new blood to take the place of the diseased matter. This is the only way to heal cavities in the lungs and ulcerated broncinal tubes. Correct the stomach and liver, and nature will do th rified: it is diseased the same as the diseased matter in the system; but get the apparatus in order, the liver and stomach, and give it plenty of nurshing food it will make new blood, which will take the place of the diseased.

Schenck's Pulmonic syrup is one of the best preparations of iron in, use, it is a powerful tonic of itself, and when the Scawced Tonic dissolves the mucus in the stomach, and it is carried off by the aid of the Mandrake Pills, the Pulmonic Syrup is made into blood, This is the only way to cure consumption.—

If I cannot get a good appetite, and food does not digest, I cannot care the patient. Never mind the cough; remove the cause and it will stop of itself.—

This is the most trouble I have with my patients in my room. They say, "Doctor, I feel stronger; I can cai; my night sweats are better, and I teel better every way, but my cough is so bad yet;" and they are astonished to hear me say that does not matt.; remove the cause and the congh will stop of itself.—Steenek's Seawced creates a good appetite in about nine days, when there is no lung disease, unless the liver is so congested that the Mandrake Pills cannot unlock the ducts of the gail bladder in that short space of une, in order to allow the stale bile to pass off. Keep the liver and stomach acalthy and there is less danger of consumption or any other disease. It is hard to take cold when those organs are healthy. Those that are billiors, low spirited, dreary, feeling stupid coaled tongue, poor appetite, nervours, stomach full of wind, every thing that is eaten lies heavy, loss of memory, try one bottle of SCHENCK'S SEAWELL TONIC and one box of some stop of the search of the patients of the supplied of the patie think will leave her before June. I should think it would be of great interest to some unprejudiced physician tov isit these cases, particularly Miss Scofield, or any of them who have been cured by my medicines. They are numerous in New York; but the above three all differ from each other; and if my medicines are doing what I represent they are, they should have the credit and the afflicted know where and how they be cured.
