Where art thou, gem of the rich earth, City of far renown! The glory of proud Chaldee,
The green earth's ancient crown!
Where lies the lake, that gleaming wide, Gave back thy hundred towers

Where are thy gardens of delight?
Thy cedar shaded bowers?
Where, where—O where rolls rapidly Thine ever flashing river,
Past marbled gates and columned tower,
Guarding thy walls forever?

There is no voice of gladness here, No breath of song floats by;
I hearken, but the moaning wind
Is all that makes reply.
Solemn and lone the silent marsh Spreads endlessly around, And shapeless are the ruined heaps That strew the broken ground. Sadly, and above huge outlines dim, Sighs the lone willow bough— The last, last voice of Babylon,

Its only music now. Son of Mandane! by whose hand The doomed city fell; The swift feet of whose soldiery Climbed tower and citadel; Thou foundest revelry and mirth, Thou foundest dance and song.

Thou foundest many a banquet fair,
And many a joyous throng;
Like the death angel camest thou, When men were care bereft: And is this lone, waste wilderness

The all that thou hast left? O, glorious were her palaces, And shrines of fretted gold! There rose the fame of Merodach, The house of Belus old; And busy life was in her streets, Where countless nations thronged. Light footsteps glided through her homes, And mirth to her belonged

But prophet voices murmured, Even in her festal halls! And angel fingers wrote her doom Upon the palace walls. At midnight came the Persian, Mingling among the crowd; He heeded not the beautiful,

He staid not for the proud; False was her fated river, Heedless her gods of stone; He entered at the open gates, He passed, and she was gone Her place on earth abideth not; Memorial she has none, Darkness and ruin thou may'st find, But never Babylon!

THE MAIL-ROBBER; OR THE STAGE

DRIVER'S ADVENTURE. Four years ago, I drove from Littleton distance of forty-two miles, and as I had to wait the arrival of two or three coaches, did not start until after dinner; so I very ter of an hour getting my team all through often had a good distance to drive after the derifts. When I got into the sleigh dark. It was in the dead of winter, and again, I began to feel for the mail bag the season had been a tough one. A with my feet and found it where I had great deal of show had fallen and the left it; but, when I attempted to withby the contract, until one o'clock in the morning, but that winter the postmaster was very often obliged to sit up a little later than that for me.

'Pete,' said he, with an important, serious look, 'there's some pretty heavy money packages in that bag;' and he pointed to the bag as he spoke. He said the money was from Boston to some landwere going through to Littleton. 1 told him I did not know, but 'Suppose I havn't?' says I. 'Why,' said he, 'the agent of the lower route came in to-day, and he says that points. there have been two suspicious characters on the stage that came up last night; and he suspects that they have an eye upon this mail, so that it will stand you in hand to be a little careful.' He said that the agent had described one of them as a short thick set fellow, about forty years of age, with long hair, and a thick heavy clump of beard under the chin but none on the side of his face. He didn't know anything about the other. I told the old fellow I guessed there was not much danger. 'O, no, not if you you change horses.'

I answered that I should do so, and the office. I stowed the mail under my seat a little more carefully than usual, a track for wagons had been cleared with placing it so that I could keep my feet against it; but beyond this I did not feel any concern. It was past one when I seventeen it was too. The night was quite clear, but the wind was sharp and cold, the loose snow flying in all directions, while the drifts were deep and closely packed. It was slow, tedious work, and my horses soon became leg weary and restive. At the distance of six miles I came to a little settlement called Bull's asked if I was going through to Littleton. I told him I should go through if the thing could possibly be done. He said he was very anxious to go, and as he had no baggage, I told him to jump in and make himself as comfortable as possible. I was gathering up my lines when the hostler came up and asked me if I knew that one of my horses had out himself badly? I jumped out and went with him, and found that one of the animals had got a deep cut on the off fore foot. I ran my fingers over the edges of the opening and became assured that the stout leather had been cut with a knife. Here was a discovery. I began to wish I had taken a little more forethought beagents up near the Canada line. Then he asked if I'd got any passengers who making such wishes was only a waste of time, I quickly gave it up, and began to consider what I had best do under the existing circumstances. I wasn't long in making up my mind upon a few essential

First, the man behind me was a villain; second, he had cut open the mail bag and robbed it of some valuable matter. He must have known the money letters by their size and shape. Third, he meant to leave the stage on the first opportunity; and fourthly, he was prepared to shoot me if I attempted to arrest or detain him. I revolved these things over in my mind, and pretty soon I thought of a course to pursue. I knew to get my hands safely upon the rascal, I must take him unawares, and this I could not do have got any passengers through; but I while he was behind me-for his eyes only told you this so you might look out were upon me all the time, so I must refor your mail, and look out for it when sort to a stratagem. Their sole notion of conversation is to display themselves. They are ready to unveil their whole idiosynerasy to whoever will look and listen. Their loves, and hates, and prospects, are at anybody's service.— Their experiences, successes, every fine thing ever said to them or of them, are common property. The whole world is their confessor in the matter of their faults, temptations, whims, grievances, doubts and weaknesses. They expect to interest strangers by an avowal of their taste in meats, and drinks and clothes. They confide their diseases and their remedies, their personal habits, their affairs to any chance comer, never for a moment visited by the misgiving pressed upon them by the preacher-" Is it possible that it should never come into people's thoughts to suspect whether or not it be to their advantage to show so very much of themselves?" Society, or rather their own little world, is simply a tablet on which to subscribe self. When forced by some strong counter-will out of this indulgence, they are visibly at sea, vacant, feel for them as painfully out of their element, and are prone, in weak good nature, to help them into port again. Now, a good deal of this is mere ill-manners.-People who talk in this way are either underbred or incapable of nurture, or they suffer the want of certain wholesome restraints that keep the rest of the world in order. INCREASE OF THE REGULAR ARMY.

A Washington correspondent says that Congress, at an early period of the next session, will take into consideration the increase of the regular army. In 1808 the legal strength of the regular army was 9,991, which was increased early in the We learn that a person in this county was so enraged at the re-election of Mr. Lincoln that he declared he would sell year 1812, "for the defense of the Indian frontier," to 10,353. SINGULAR SUPERSTITION .- Rev. Henry H. Jessup, a missionary in Beirut, Syria, in a recent address before the Brooklyn Sabbath school Union, mentioned the following singular instance of the superstitious reverence generally entertained among the people for any printed paper in an unknown tongue: "A Syrian doctor once called upon him and regged him for some papers. He gave him several copies of the New York Tribune. He took them home and boiled them, and administered the contents to his patients with miraculous results! His gratitude for the papers was unbounded."

-It is stated that the Rebel General Marmaduke was captured by a little boy, belonging to one of the Kansas Regiments. He at first refused to surrender to an inferior officer," but was immediately persuaded to do so. The lad brought him to Gen. Curtis' head quarters, where he introduced himself, much for all men, and especially for those that to the surprise of all, but especially to the boy hero. Gen. Curtis asked the boy how long he had to serve before his term of enlistment would expire. The reply was "eight months." The General immediately wrote a furlough for that time, and presented him with the horse, revolvers, belt and sabre of the Rebel General.

The Diabolical spirit of Secession. An attempt was made on the night of the 26th ult. to set fire to the St. James Hotel, St. Nicholas Hotel, Lafarge House, Metropolitan Hotel, Lovejoy's Notel, Belmont House, Tammany Hotel, and Barnum's Museum, in the city of New York. The plan of operations seems to have been for the incendiary to pile together in some one of the upper rooms of a hotel, bed el thes and other combustible materials, and having soaked them with turpentine, or sprinkled them with phosphorous, to set them on fire; then having locked the door, to disappear taking the key with him. In each of the above mentioned houses the same means were resorted to for their destruction. A day or two previous to the election Secretary Seward telegraphed to Mayor Gunther that such a conspiracy was brewing. That patriotic functionary made light of it, and intimated that Mr. Seward had certain selfish purposes of his own to further. The signal has proved who was right. Governor Scymour, who was in New York last week, upon minute investigation of the plot, was perfectly satisfied that it was a bona fide Rebel plot, in accordance with a plan agreed upon by Jeff. Davis' emissaries in Canada. It is a significant circumstance that the New York Hotel, the head-quarters of the Secessionists and sympathizers in New York, escaped all harm. Hotels north, south, east west of it were fired, but the New York Hotel was unharmed!

We do not wonder that General Dix has issued a stringent order declaring it "to have been the work of Rebel emissaries and agents," and distinctly announcing that if any of them are detected, they will be regarded as spies, immediately brought before a court-martial or military commission, and if convicted "be executed without the delay of a single day." To which every loyal heart throughout the land will respond, Amen. No one act of Rebel barbarity during the war has so shocked us as this wholesale attempt at incendiarism. Had the scheme succeeded we shudder at the thought of the necessary loss of life of helpless womanhood and infancy entombed beneath the smouldering ruins. We head this article, the diabolical spirit of Secession. If ever the great Father of Evil had faithful emissarics in this sin-stricken world of ours, they are to be found in the ranks of the Rebel posse sed with seven devils; and the out, way to cast them out is in the use of the gallows, or powder and ball

SHERMAN'S MOVEMENT. When, in an article published not long since, we took occasion to remark, that "Sherman might take it into that long head of his to send Howard or Schofield to vex Macon a little," we really believed that something of the kind would be done. We were the more inclined to this opinion from the fact that Hood had left him an open way to the South. Poubtless, had this erratic general remained at Jonesboro' and Macon, this advance would not have been made so soon. But when he committed himself so far as to march his army four hundred miles out of the way. Sherman took advantage of the same; and now we hear of him, from time to time. away down in Dixie, sweeping on like a flood, leaving the rebels powerless to resist him. That versatile creole, P. G. T. Beauregard, from Corinth, hundreds of miles away, sends frantic appeals to the Georgians to "hold on! Harrass Sherman in front, flank and rear! Give him no rest night or day." All this sounds very pretty, but the ease with which a great army with its well appointed bodies of cavalry, brushes off such insects as these, is well known to all. Kilpatrick is there, Judson Kilpatrick, the invincible raider who has written his name high upon the list of the knights of the saddle. The hastily collected bands of militia, called out by the governors of Georgia and South Carolina, will be so many summer flies in his path. We shall enter into no guessing on his future course. He is there with an object, and it is undoubtedly one suited to the vast compass of his great mind. He may mean to rescue our prisoners; he may mean to capture Charleston or Savannah. He may mean all or one of these. But what he does mean we from their friends and the public, for do not know, so we say with the New York Evening Post, "that Sherman is going somewhere, and he will be there when the pastor of one of the churches of this he gets there."

STORES TO RENT.

It is rather surprising that large and handsome stores, located in a desirable part of the thriving city of Bridgeton, should stand idle a single month, and yet there are two handsome store rooms in Albertson's new Building, corner of Commerce and Pearl streets, which have been for rent for several months. The rent asked for them is not unreasonable.-They are desirably located for trade and very comfortable. Who will be the lucky one to occupy these stores, where a good trade could be done in almost any business? When they are rented there are no more such stores in this desirable nart of the town that can be had for love or money. The second of the Mark with

THE CASE OF THE FLORIDA.

We have an interesting til bit this week from this vessel, to the effect that the officers taken on her are or ore on board the Wauchusetts a thought that the governm.

cause Capt. Collins to put the Florida in the same position in the harbor of Bahia, that she held before. Seriously, the capture of the Florida was a breach of the neutrality of a friendly port. The Brazils have been a friendly power toward us; and they had only followed the precedent of other nations in allowing the pirate to coal and refit in her ports. No doubt it will be galling to Captain Collins and his brave officers to be forced to give up what is so fully in their grasp, but it is nevertheless the one course open to us. True. we have precedents enough of outrage committed in the ports of weak Powers by stronger ones. We remember our own Porter and the noble fight he made against his strong foes, in Valparaiso Bay. We remember Captain Sam Reed and the General Armstrong, in the harbor of Fayal. But because these were committed by strong powers they were not the less outrages against neutrality. The fact that Brazil is a weak Power makes it the more necessary for us to do right in this matter. Captain Collins undoubtedly meant well in the capture of the Florida; the capture was bravely designed and executed, but it was none the less a breach of neutrality. It will be a sad thing to hear of the Florida again upon the ocean, and driving our merchant-men form the sea, but at the same time it will be grand to know that the United States has done right in the matter. Twice before has the wise head of

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high one and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the hest features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trunner's Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscrilaneous reading such as ean not be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our uotice.—Boston Courier. SUBSCRIPTIONS.

January 25, 1358.

When evaporated through clean lines it left no oil or offensive matter. In every respect it is a pure spirituous liquor. The oil which gives to this brandy its flavor and aroma, is wholly unlike fusil or grain oil. Its odor partakes of both the fruit and oil of grapes. With acids, is produces ethers of a high fragrance. The substitution of this brandy for Cognac Brandy will do away with the manufacture of fictitious spirite, sold under this name both at home and abroad. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D.,

A. A. HAYFS, M. D., Assayer to State of Mass., 16 Boyleston Street. BY THE SAME IN 1864. BY THE SAME IN 1864.

I have analyzed "L. Lyons" Pure Catawba Brandy, with reference to its composition and character, being the same as that produced in past years. A sample taken from ten casks afforded the same results with regard to purity; a slightly increased amount of the principle on which its flavor depends was determined by comparison with former samples.

The indications of analysis show that this brandy is produced by the same process as most of the imported Brandy. Respectfully.

Jones' policy which has proved of such great sat isfaction both to his friends and the public, has demonstrated the fact, that ONE PRICE is the proper basis on which to do business. Many persons who are not able to judge of the value of any article, are glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing where they can secure what they want at the same price as their neighbors. Others, not liking to ask the dealers to take less, are often obliged to pay too much for an article. To meet this want Jones' one price Store has been established, and having worked well for fifteen yeavs, has gained many friends.

No. 38 S. Second St. Philad. With my present facilities for manufacturing, and a practical experience of thirteen years in the management of the lamp business for some of the largest houses in this country, I flatter myself that my experience and knowledge will enable me to offer to the public goods not equalled by any in regard to style and workmanship, and at prices competing with the lowest. I shall always endeavor to lead in offering to the public new and useful inventions in our line. I have also taken the wholesale agency for the sale of Geo. W. Brown & Co's Celebrated Metal Toys.

ALL REDUCED. THE SINGER SEWING MACHINES. Jur LETTER A FAMILY SEWING MACHINE'S fast gaming a world-wide reputation. It is beyond doubt thet best, cheapest, and mos beautiful of all Family Sewing Machines yet offered to the public.—No other Family Sewing Machine has so y useful appliances for Hemming, Binding, Embroidering, Cording &c. No other Family Sewing Machine has so much capacity for a great variety of work. It will sew all kinds of cloth, and with all kinds of thread. Great and recent improvements make our Family Sewing Machine most reliable, and most durable, and most certain in action at all rates of speed. It makes the Machine most reliable, and most durable, and most certain in action at all rates of spood. It makes the interlocked stitch, which is the best stitch known.—Any one, even of the most ordinary capacity, can see, at a glance, how to use the letter A Family Sewing Machine. Our Family Sewing Machines are finished in chaste and exquisite style.

The Folding Case of the Family Machine is a piece of cunning workmanship of the most useful kind. It protects the machine when not in use, and when about to be operated may be opened as a specious and substantial table to sustain the work. While some of the Cases, made out of the choicest woods, are finished in the simplest and chastest manner possible, others are adorned and embellished in the most costly and superb manner. perb manner.
It is absolutely necessary to see the Family Machine in operation, so as to judge of its great capacity and beauty.

It is fast occoming as popular for family sewing as our Manufacturing machines are for manufacturing purposes.

The Branch Offices are well supplied with silk, twist thread, needles, oil, &c., of the very best quality.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING! Now is the time to take advantage of the present decline in prices, as goods are sure to advance again. Grosscup's is the place to buy at the lowest figure. We are selling our goods at the lowest price, in accordance with the fall of gold, and if you have any gold or silver on nand, bring it along, and we will allow you the full premium as reported in the city papers, in exchange for clothing, and you will find that you can buy more goods than you could with the same money four years ago. For gold, I will sell a twenty dollar coat for nine or ten dollars, a pair of twelve dol lar pants for five or six, a fifty dollar coat for about twenty two, and all other goods in proportion. So come along, bring your gold or your greenbacks, all the same to me; would as soon have the greenbacks as the gold: the only difference is the price. But take my advice, and buy before goods advance again. Ail Cassinners and Satinetts for men and boys wear, by the yard, cheap. Ladies' Cloaking Cloths in great variety, very cheap, at GROSSCUP'S.

Freight for Stations

Where the compony have no agent, must be paid for in advance, or on delivery, otherwise it will not be delivered by the Freight Agent on the train, except at his discretion, and on the responsibility of the Consignee, or will be taken to the next station beyond at which the company have an agent.

Each article of freight must be distinctly marked with name of consignee and destination, otherwise agents of the company are strictly ferbidden to receive it. Freight must be at stations along the road in time to be weighed and Way-billed before the train is due, or it will not be taken: 30 minutes is the least practicable time.

Oysters, clams, fresh fish, fruit, vegetables and all perishable commoddities must be paid fer in advance or will be refused, unless a special agreement is made with the general freight agent or superintendent of the company. If packages are not sectively covered, agents are required to refuse them: canvass or muslin covers to bibs, boxes, &c. are not sufficient protection, and contents of such packages entirely at owner's risk.

Baggage must be accompanied by its owner: that for Philadelphia, Camden, and all other stations where the company have an agent, must be checked.

HAWLEY'S SOLIDIFIED

BOLIDIFIED

DENTAL CREAM,
For Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the Teeth
This article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent dental surgons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities for Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the teeth; it cleans them readily, rendering thom beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerated and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often very offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, conetnting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

Philadelphia, April 16th, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally. It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as its properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums and imparts a pleasautness to the breath.

An Interesting History

DR. SCHENCK'S OWN CASE, WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION, And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills act on the System, in Curing that Disease, and the

The above is a correct likeness of Pr. Schenck taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption, by a course of his "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup." The likeness, although it is does not represent him anything like as bad as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the hale and vigorous looks of the portrait below, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits is so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons in and around Philadelphia, who will recognize both portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 107 pounds; at the present time his weight is 220 pounds.

New York, Wednesday, March 30, 1864. TO THE PUBLIC. Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmo nary Consumption, and given up to die. I resided in Philadelphia, and Dr. Josedh Parrish, then of this city, ordered me to Moorestown, N. J., a distance of nine miles, which took me two days to get there.—On my arrival I was put to bed, and I there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of consumption. Dr. Thornton, who attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system. Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulm Rev Henry Upham, Rev P C Headly, Rev J W Olmstead, thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel tham penetrating my whole system.

They soon ripened the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain, night sweats—all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great hat it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and I have been growing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoved uninterrupted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the Seweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, as I am of a bilious temperament. My weight is two hundred and twenty pounds On my recovery people would send for me far and near, to see if their cases were like mine. For this purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities. The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these medicines, and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new lungs is impossible; but cavities in the lungs and chronic ulcerations of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Fuch cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenek's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills. I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower lobe very much bepatized and complete adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tolerably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop chill, to stop night sweats, heetic fever, and by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions and examination of the patient dist. After I make a careful examination of the patient with the Reepirement. So one can be cured of consumption, liver complaint days person, catarrh, canker, ulcerated throat, elo rifical; it is diseased the same as the diseased matter in the system; but get the apparatus in order, the liver and stomach, and give it pienty of nurshing food it will make new blood, which will take the place of the diseased.

Schenck's Pulmonic syrup is one of the best preparations of iron in use, it is a powerful tonic of itself, and when the Seaweed Tonic dissolves the mucus in the stomach, and it is carried off by the mid of the Mandrake Fills, the Pulmonic Syrup is made into blood. This is the only way to cure consumption.—
If I cannot get a good appetite, and food dees not digest, I cannot cure the patient. Never mind the cough; remove the cause and it will stop of itself.—
This is the most trouble I have with my patients in my room. They say, "Doctor, I feel stronger; I can eat; my night sweats are better, and I feel better every way, but my cough is so bad yet;" and they are astonished to hear me say that does not matter; remove the cause and the cough will stop of itself. Schenck's Seaweed creates a good appetite in about nine days, when there is no lung disease, unless the liver is so congested that the Mandrake Fills cannot unlock the ducts of the gall bladder in that short space of time, in order to allow the stale bile to pass out. Keep the liver and stomach healthy and there is less danger of consumption or any other disease. It is hard to take cold when those organs are healthy. Those that are billiors, low spirited, dreary, feeling stupid coated clongue, poor appetite, nervours, stomach full of wind, every thing that is eaten lies heavy, loss of memory, try one bottle of SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC and one box of SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC and one box of SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC and one box of SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC and makes a great change in the system. Any person that enjoys ordinary health, by usiny the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake pills occasionally, must get the digestive organs in such a healthy condition that they become fleshy. I can produce a number of my old consumption to be cured; but she and gave me a long certificate, certified to by the Kev. Dr. Dowling.

Mrs. Bartholomew, 83 West Forty-fifth street, came so my rooms with a tumor on her liver. She was low the process of the control o think will leave her before June. I should think it would be of great interest to some upprejudiced physician toy isit these cases, particularly Miss Scofield, or any of them who have been cured by my medicines. They are numerous in New York; but the above three all differ from each other; and if my medicines are doing what I represent they are, they should have the credit and the afflicted know where and how they be cured.

INVALIDS IRON IN THE BLOOD.

It is well known to the medical profession that Iron is the vital principal or life element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause whatever, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate he heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease.

The great value of Iron as a Medicine Is well known and acknowledged by all med ical men. The difficulty has been to obta .. such a preparation of it as will enter the circulation, and assimilate at once with the blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts Chemist, has been attained in the Peruvian Syrup, by combination in a way before

The Peruvian Syrup Is a protected solution of the Protoxide of A new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or life element-iron.

The Peruvian Syrup Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever and Ague, Loss of Energy, Low Spirits. The Peruvian Syrup Infuses strength, vigor and new life into the system, and builds up an "iron constitution." The Peruvian Syrup Cures nervous affections, female complaints, and all diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

The Peruvian Syrup Is a specific for all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by a debility or low state of the system.
